1. IF the Wife bring a Writ of Dower, of Endowment ad oſtium Eccleſiæ, there muſt be theſe words in the Writ, viz. unde talis vir meus me dotavit ad oſtium Eccleſiæ; for if they be omitted ſhe ſhall not recover her Dower, and ſo it is if ſhe had not Dower aſſigned her ad oſtium Eccleſiæ; or if ſhe be not eſpouſed ad oſtium Eccleſiæ, ſhe ſhall loſe her Dower; And the Writ to try the ſame ſhall be directed to the Sheriff, and to the Cuſtos of the Plea of the Crown, and not to the ſpiritual Court where the Eſpouſals were; But if the Eſpouſals be ad oſtium Eccleſiæ, at a lawful, or at a prohibited time, it is not material, and when the Husband nameth the Dower ad oſtium Eccleſiæ, it muſt be certain & nominata, and not uncertain & non nominata, for that it cannot be encreaſed or diminiſhed; and ſuch Dower ſhall be demanded by the words, unde dotata fuit ad oſtium Eccleſiæ. And the Writ to the Sheriff muſt be certain of what Lands the Husband endowed the Wife, whether of ſuch a Mannor as ſhe claimeth, or of the third part of all his Lands whereof the Husband was ſeiſed before the Marriage; and it muſt be done openly, to be enjoyed diſtinctly by it ſelf, and not in Common. See Bracton 304, & 305. Cook 1 Part, Inſtitut. 34. acc.

2. Note, The Husband cannot aſſign more Dower to his Wife ad oſtium Eccleſiæ, than of a third part of his Lands, and if he doth aſſign more, the Wife ſhall be admeaſured. Fitzh. Nat. Brev. 150.

3. In all Caſes where the Demand of Dower is certain, as in Caſe of Dower ad oſtium Eccleſiæ, or ex aſſenſu Patris, there the Wife, after the death of her Husband, may enter, but where the Demand is uncertain, as in Writs of Dower at the Common Law, there although the thing it ſelf be certain, yet ſhe ſhall not take it without Aſſignment, as if a Woman brings a Writ of Dower of 3 s. Rent, although ſhe ought to be endowed of one ſhilling, yet ſhe cannot after Judgment diſtrein for 12. before Aſſignment, becauſe the Demand was uncertain. Cook 1 Part, Inſtitut. 34. acc.

4. Dower ad oſtium Eccleſiæ ought to be without a Deed, becauſe a man cannot make a Deed to his Wife, and alſo it ought to be after Marriage becauſe before Marriage ſhe is not entituled to have Dower. Cook 4 Part, in Vernon's Caſe. 40 E. 3. 41. acc.

5. If an Enfant, of the age of 8. years, endow his Wife ad oſtium Eccleſiæ, ſuch Endowment is not good, unleſs it be by Deed, notwithſtanding that the Wife agreeth to ſuch Endowment after the Husband accompliſheth his Age of 14. years; and the reaſon is, becauſe a thing which in it ſelf is void cannot afterwards be made good by any conſent or agreement of the Wife afterwards; for although the Marriage may ſtand good by ſuch agreement, yet ſuch Aſſignment of Dower by the Husband is void, and therefore by ſuch Aſſignment of Dower the Inheritance of the Husband is not bound. Perkins 85. acc.

6. In an Ejectment of Ward, brought in the County of N, The Plaintiff set forth the Tenure, the Defendant said, That her Husband was seised as Tenant of the Plaintiff, and that her Husband assigned Dower of the said Tenements to her at the Door of the Church of H. in the County of H. which was another County, in the presence of A. and so she held the said Tenements, &c. The Opinion of the Court was, That the Assignment in another County might be without Deed, because he was seised &c. and it was holden in that Case, That if Issue be joyned upon the Assignment, it should be tried in the County where the Assignment was; Like the Case of a Surrender of Land, or the tender of Homage, in another County than where the Land is: But in that Case It was holden, That an Assignment ad ostium Ecclesiæ cannot be until after the Marriage solemnized, and if it be before the Marriage, such Assignment is void; and upon such Dower the Wife after the death of the Husband may enter, and have an Assize if shee be put out. 40 Edw. 3. 43. See Bracton 306. acc.

7. Constitutio Dotis ex assensu Patris consistit ex nominatione Filii & Patris consensu, quorum unus non potest esse sine altero, quia si filius nominet, & Pater non consentit, nenter valent, sed instrumentum quod unus nominat, & alter consensit, validum est; and in the Demand of Dower, the Writ shall say, Quod vir suus eam dotavit per assensum Patris, & consensus non potest esse sine scripto. Bracton 305.

8. A man seised of Borough English Land hath Issue two Sons, the Eldest endoweth his Wife ex assensu Patris, and it was holden good; for the Land is Fee, and he is Heir apparant to his Father, and it is not requisite that he be Heir apparant to the same Land, because that the Priviledge goeth to the Person, and not to the Land; for it is in consideration of the Person: And the Father shall have all Priviledge, scil. That the King shall not have the Wardship of him, living the Father, and therefore the Father shall have the Marriage of him; and if any one taketh him out of his Custody, Trespass lyeth against him, Quare Filium & Hæredem rapuit, which doth extend but to the Heir general, (and not to the special Heir,) and upon a Warranty shall discend; and therefore the Eldest Son may endow his Wife ex assensu Patris, and not the younger Son; for he ought to be Heir apparant who in Judgment of Law shall continue Heir apparant, and not an Heir who by accident may be Heir apparant, and by accident not Heir apparant. Cook 3 Part, 38. in Ratcliff's Case. See Plow. Com. 348. acc.

9. Tenant for life of a Carve of Land, the Reversion to the Father in Fee, the Son and Heir apparant endoweth his Wife of this Carve by the Assent of the Father, the Tenant for life dyeth; the Husband dyeth, in this Case the Reversion was a Tenement in the Father, and yet this Endowment was no good Endowment ex assensu Patris, because the Father at the time of the Assent had but a Reversion expectant upon a Freehold, whereof he could not have endowed his own Wife; and albeit the Tenant for life dyed, living the Husband, yet, Quod ab initio non valet, tractu temporis non convalescet. Cook 1. Part, Institut. 35. acc.

10. If a man be seised of 40 Acres of Land, (20 holden by Knight's Service, and 20 other by Soccage,) and he dyeth thereof seised, his Heir being under the Age of 14 years, his Wife shall be endowed De la pluis beale, out of the Soccage Land, and not out of the Knight's Service Land; for that the Common Law gives this Priviledge to Knight's Service Land, that it shall not be dismembred, and the reason is, for that Knight's Service Land is for the defence of the Realm, which is pro bono publico, and therefore the Dower onely shall be of the Soccage Land. Cook 1. Part, Institut. 395.

11. A Woman being Guardian in Soccage brought a Writ of Dower against the Heir in Ward, It was holden by the Court, That it was no Plea for the Heir to say, That she might endow herself de la pluis beale of the Soccage Land; but is a good Plea for Guardian in Knight's Service, if Dower be brought against him, to plead such Plea, thereby to save the Interest of the Guardian in Knight's Service. 45 E. 3. 6. by Finchden.

12. If all the Lands of the Husband be holden in Soccage, and the Guardian in Soccage is entituled to have Dower de la pluis beale part. In that Case she shall not be endowed of the third part of the Land, but of the third part of the profits upon Accompt, and she cannot endow herself, for then she should be her own Judge; but when the Heir cometh of full Age, she shall have a Writ of Dower against him, and she shall be endowed against the Heir. 22 Ed. 4. Fitz. to Dower. 16.

13. A. the Wife of J. S. brought a Writ of Dower, to be endowed of a third part of a Messuage and to Carves of Land; the Tenant pleaded, that J. S. the Husband of the Demandant by Deed granted to her and the Heir with Warranty, and further shewed that the Demandant by reason of the Nonage of her Son held Tenements in ward to the value of the Land in demand, and prayed that she might endow herself de la pluis beale of the said Lands: In that Case, although it was said, That that Plea lyeth onely for Guardian in Knight's Service, to save his Tenancy, because he cannot vouch; and the Tenant in this Case might vouch the Heir, yet the Opinion of the Court was, That it was a good

good Plea for the Woman who was the Tenant, although it doth not appear by the Book that the Lands were in her hands as Guardians in Knight's Service; and the Judgment was entred thus, Quod querens capiat de terris dicti hæredis in Custodiâ suâ existentis, ad valentiam dictæ tertiæ partis, nomine Dotis, pro perdict. tertiâ parte petitâ. 21. Ed. 3. 38.

3. Where, and by what, and by whose means, and by what and whose Act, a Woman shall lose her Dower; and where, and by what, not.

1. IF the King's Tenant who holdeth of him in Capite, or by Knight's Service, dyeth seised, and his Heir dyeth before he entreth, or after his full Age before he sueth his Livery, his Wife shall be endowed; But if the Heir entreth and intrudeth upon the Possession of the King, or he entreth into the Land before he hath done his Homage, and sued his Livery out of the King's hands. Then by the Statute of Prærogativa Regis, Nullum ei accrescit Tenementum, and if in such Case he dyeth seised, uxor ejus non habebit Dotem de Tenemento illo. See Stat. de Prærogativâ Regis Cap. 13. and See 1 H. 7. 17. and 4 H. 7. 1. acc.

2. If Tenant in Tail doth discontinue the Lands in Fee, and afterwards taketh a Wife, and doth disseise the Discontinuance, or Discontinuee doth enfeoffe the Tenant in Tail and his Heirs, and afterwards the Tenant in Tail dyeth seised; now his Wife shall lose her Dower, because the Heir is now in of another Estate, and is remitted to the Estate Tail, and the Estate of which the Husband was seised during the Marriage, is now determined, Fitz. N. B. 149. acc. So See 10 E. 3. Fitz. to Avowry, 159. If a man give Lands in Tail reserving Rent to him and his Heirs, and afterwards the Donee taketh a Wife and dyeth, and the Tenant in Tail dyeth without Issue: In that Case, The Wife of the Donor shall not be endowed of the Rent, because the Rent is extinct being reserved upon an Estate Tail which is determined; but yet in such Case the Wife shall be endowed of the Land, because the Land continueth, and is not gone, as the Rent is.

3. In Dower the Issue was, Ne unq; seisi que Dower; It was given in Evidence for the Demandant, That a Feoffment was made to the Husband and Wife in Fee; To which it was said, That before the Feoffment the Husband was seised to him and his first Wife in special Tail, and that after the Husband discontinued the Land, and took back an Estate to him in Fee by the Feoffment aforesaid, and of such Estate he dyed seised, for which the Heir who is Tenant in Tail was remitted, and then the second Wife was not dowable: The Plaintiff would have Demurred upon it; but the Opinion of the Court was, That the Jury was to find for the Demandant, because their charge was only upon the seisin, scil. If the Husband was seised of such an Estate of which the Wife was dowable, and they were not to have any regard to the Remitter; But the Court was of Opinion, That if the special matter had been pleaded, the Demandant had been barred of her Action, but now they were not to take any regard of that upon the Issue which was given in Charge to the Jury. Pasch. 30 H. 8. Dyer. 41.

4. The Dutchess of Somerset had divers Manors and Lands assured unto her and her Husband the Duke, and to the Heirs Males of the said Duke between him and his Wife lawfully begotten, and she was a Joynt-Purchaser with the Duke in diverse other Mannors of like Estate, before the Statute of 32 H. 8. Afterwards the Duke was attainted of Treason and executed; In 5 E. 6. the last part of the said Act was repealed with a Proviso, That the said Act of Repeal should not be prejudicial to any Woman for any Dower or Joynture to which she was lawfully entituled before the said Act of Repeal, and thereupon the Dutchess was a Petitioner to the Queen, for all her Joynture, as also for her Dower of the Rent of the Lands of the Duke her late Husband, because the Attainder of her Husband did not now barr her of her Dower, by the Statute of 1 E. 6. cap. 12. It was Resolved in that Case, That she should not have her Joynture and Dower also; for that such was not the Intent of the Statute. Pasc. 1. Ma. Dyer. 97.

5. In a Writ of Dower brought, The Defendant pleaded the Attainder of the Husband of the Demandant for Treason. The Demandant said, that long time before the Attainder, and the committing of the Treason, and after her Marriage, her Husband was seised of the Lands in Fee, and made a Feoffment thereof to J. S. whose Estate the Defendant hath; Upon which Plea it was demurred: It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Demandant was barred of her Dower: See Stat. 5 & 6 E. 6. cap. 11. viz. That the Wife of any man attainted of any manner of Treason whatever, shall in no wise be received to ask or demand Dower, or have Dower of any of her Husband's Lands during the force to the Attainder; and some were of Opinion, That the same did extend also to Petit-Treason. H. 4. Ma. Dyer. 142.

6. If

6. If a man be Attainted of Felony, and afterwards hath his Pardon, the Wife ſhall not be Endowed of the Land which he had before the Attainder, but of Lands purchaſed after, ſhe ſhall be Endowed, Plow. Com. 75. So, if the Husband Allien the Land after Coverture, and after is Attainted of Felony; the Wife ſhall be endowed againſt the Feoffee. But if the Land Eſcheat to the King or other Lord, ſhe ſhall not have Dower. See Litt. 11. and Tit. Dower, 80.

7. At the Common-Law, If the Husband were Attainted of Felony, &c. the Wife ſhould not be endowed. 8 E. 3. 20. Stamford 194. But ſee now by the Statutes of 1 E. 6. cap. 13. 6 E. 6. cap. 11. and 13 Eliz. cap. 1. The Wife of a perſon Attainted of Miſpriſion of Treaſon, Murder, or Felony, is Dowable.

8. In Dower after default made by the Tenant, a Termor to ſave his Term according to the Statute of Glouceſter, Pleaded, That the Husband of the Demandant was Attainted of Felony by Parliament; And a Commiſſion Iſſued out of the Court of Augmentation, which Aſſigned the third part of the Lands of the Husband to the Wife in Dower; ſo as the Rent reſerved upon the Term, was Aſſigned to her, which ſhe accepted. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the ſaid matter was not good to ſave his Term, becauſe this Aſſignment of the Dower in the Augmentation Court, was void; For the Aſſignment ſhould have been in the Chancery. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. 9 Eliz. Dyer, 263.

9. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, holden in Socage, and of Lands in Tail, holden in Knights-Service in Capite, he deviſed the third part of all his Lands and Tenements to his Wife, in recompence of her Dower, and dyed. It was a Quære, If the Wife ſhould have her third part of all out of the Fee-ſimple Lands. But becauſe ſhe entred into the third part of the Fee-ſimple-Land, before ſhe brought her Writ of Dower; ſhe was barred of Dower of the reſt. Hill. 5 Eliz. Dyer, 220. Baſhes Caſe.

4. Where, and by what, and by whoſe Act, done by herſelf, or by others, a Woman ſhall be barred of her Dower; And what ſhall be ſaid ſuch a ſufficient Barr, what not.

1. IN Dower brought by the Lady Powes of a Manner and Lands of her Husband, The Defendant pleaded in Barr, That the ſaid Lady ſponte apud Bednal Green reliquit virum ſuum, & ab eo abiit cum quodam J. S. ut ſq; parochiam St. Clement. Danes in Comit. Midd. & ibidem cum prediſt. J. S. moram traxit continuam totâ vitâ of her Husband, abſq; hoc, Quod ipſa in vitâ &c. reconciliata fuit: The Demandant ſaid, That poſt prædict. deceſſum, her Husband in vitâ ſuâ ipſam ſponte & abſq; coërcione apud L. &c. reconciliavit & ſecum cohabitare permiſit; And it was given in Evidence to prove the Reconcilement, that after the ſaid ſeparation they diverſe nights, and in diverſe places, demeaned themſelves as Husband and Wife; It was holden in that Caſe, That the ſame was a ſufficient Reconcilement, and that by the Elopement the Wife ſhould not loſe her Dower: But if ſhe did Elope after, then ſhe ſhould be barred of Dower. Mich. 1 & 2 Ma. Dyer. 106. tho Lady Powes Caſe.

2. In Dower, the Tenant ſaid, That the Wife eloped from her Husband, and continued in Adultery without being reconciled to her Husband; The Plaintiff ſaid, That he himſelf raviſhed her with Force and Arms againſt her Will, without that that ſhe did elope, and the Elopement was ſuppoſed to be in another County: It was holden by the Court, That the Plea was not good; for although it was by force, yet ſhe did not deny but that ſhe lived with the Adulterer with a good Will, without being reconciled; Wherefore the Plaintiff ſaid, That he raviſhed her againſt her Will, and wounded her Husband, ſo as he dyed the ſecond day after the Raviſhment, and betwixt the place where the Raviſhment was ſuppoſed to be, and the place where ſhe lived in Adultery, was 40 miles; and ſhe ſhewed, That after the death of Husband ſhe ſued an Appeal againſt the Raviſher, till he was Outlawed, ſo as ſhe did not remain with him of her good Will; and to enforce her Plea ſhe ſaid, That the fourth day after the Raviſhment, at the Houſe ſhe found her Husband dead; and becauſe the Statute is in the Copulative, ſcil. That if the Wife Wife eloped and continued all the life of her Husband with the Adulterer, without being reconciled, and that the Elopement is here traverſed, and that he ravished her againſt her Will &c. and ſhe came back the fourth day: It was holden by the Court, That that time which ſhe was with the Adulterer, ſhould be adjudged Impriſonment, and becauſe ſhe Out-lawed him who ravished her, It was adjudged, That ſhe ſhould have her Dower. 43 E. 3. 19, 20. Book Entries, 124. acc.

3. A Scire facias was brought to execute a Recovery in a Writ of Dower; The Defendant pleaded that the Plaintiff had accepted a Rent after the Judgment in ſatisfaction &c. It was the Opinion of the Court, That if the Rent were iſſuing out of the ſame Land of which the Dower is demanded, it was a good Barr of her Dower, otherwiſe not; and there it was holden, That the acceptance of other Land, which is not in Demand is not Barr of Dower. M. 1. Ma. Dyer. 91.

4. In a Writ of Dower, The Defendant pleaded in Barr an Aſſignment of a Rent to the Demandant, out of the Land of which ſhe demanded Dower for the Term of the life of the Demandant, but becauſe the Defendant did not plead and ſhew, That he was ſeiſed of the Land at the time of the Aſſignment of the Rent: It was adjudged againſt the Defendant, and that the Demandant ſhould recover her Dower. H. 20 Eliz. Dyer. 361.

5. Note, By the Statute of 27 H. 8. cap. 10. Where a man maketh his Wife a Joynt-purchaſer with him, after the Marriage, of any Eſtate of Free-hold; if it be not in Fee-ſimple to them both, the Wife ſhall be barred thereby of her Dower, if ſhe agree to the Joynture after the death of her Husband; but contrary it is of a Purchaſe Joynt in Fee-ſimple, for ſuch a Joynture is not ſpoken of in the Statute; And a Deviſe of Lands, by the Husband to the Wife by Will, is no Barr of her Dower, for that it is but a Benevolence, and not a Joynture, 5 E. 6. Br. Dower. 69.

6. If a Joynture be made to a Woman before Marriage, after the Death of her Husband ſhe cannot wayve it and recover her Dower, as ſhe may of a Joyture made during the Coverture; But if Lands be conveyed to a Woman before Marriage for part of her Joynture, and after Marriage other Land is conveyed to her for her full Joyneture, and in ſatisfaction of her Dower; If the Woman wayve the Land conveyed after Marriage, ſhe may after the death of her Husband reteine the Land conveyed before Marriage, and have her Dower alſo, becauſe the Land conveyed in part of her Joynture is no Barr for the incertainty of it. Cook 4 Part, 1, & 2. in Vernon's Caſe, Aſhton's Caſe. ibid.

7. Of a Joynt-Eſtate, a Woman ſhall not be endowed; But if Land be given to Husband and Wife, and the Heirs of the Husband, or the Heirs of their two bodies, or to their Heirs, and afterwards the Husband dyeth; The Wife, if ſhe will wayve and refuſe the Joynt-Eſtate, ſhe may bring her Writ of Dower; and thereby, by Judgment in Law, the Husband ſhall be ſaid to be ſeiſed ab initio, otherwiſe the Wife cannot be endowed; and yet the Husband and Wife were Joynt-Tenants during the Coverture, but now the Refuſal ſhall have relation, That the Husband ſhall be ſole ſeiſed ab initio. See 11 E. 3. Tit. Dower, 163. The Caſe was, Lord and Tenant of a Houſe holden by Homage and 10. s. Rent; The Tenant enfeoffed W. The Lord granted the Seigniory to Husband and Wife in Tail; W. attorned, the Husband dyed, the Lord ſurvived the Wife, brought a Writ of Dower, in Barr of which the Lord pleaded acceptance of Homage; whereby it appeared, That by any act or conveyance made, the Wife was not barred of her Dower, but that the Writ of Dower did well lye. Cook 3. Part, 27. in Butler and Baker's Caſe. acc.

8. Note, It is ſaid in Plow. Com. 514. in Trivilian's Caſe, That in Common Recoveries the Uſage and Intent of the parties is to be reſpected; and therefore, If a common Recovery be had againſt Husband and Wife, it ſhall barr the Wife of her Dower, and yet the Wife ſhall not have any Recompence in value; and although in ſtrictneſs of reaſon it is hard to maintain it, yet it being the common Uſage and the Intent of the parties, it ſhall be a Barr of her Dower. Cook 2. Part, 74. in the Lord Cromwell's Caſe. 78. ibid. acc.

9. If Husband and Wife levy a Fine, the Wife is barred of her Dower. Firſt, Becauſe the Inter-Marriage and Seiſin are the fundamental Cauſes of Dower, and the death of the Husband is but an Execution thereof: And ſecondly, Becauſe all thoſe who have Eſtate, or Title, or Claim in the Land do joyn; and therefore, If the Husband and Wife have granted a Rent-charge by Fine out of the Land, or have made a Leaſe for years rendring Rent to the Husband and his Heirs; and afterwards the Wife duth recover her Dower, ſhe ſhall hold the Land charged with the Rent, and with the Term; And therefore the Books of 6 E. 2. Dower, and 9 E. 2. Dower, 165. Where as a Writ of Dower brought by Husband and Wife, It was ſaid, That a Fine levyed by the Husband and Wife was no Barr, becauſe, before the death of the Husband, the Wife had neither Right nor Action; were not at this day holden to be Law. Cook 10. Part, 49 in Lampit's Caſe.

10. If a Woman releaſeth all her Right to him in the Reverſion, thereby her Dower is gone & extinct; for when the Right which is the principal is releaſed, the Conſequent, the Action to recover it, is releaſed: And therefore, If ſhe bring a Writ of Dower, to be endowed of the Land, ſhe ſhall be barred by her Releaſe. Cook 8. Part, 151.

11. In Dower brought by the Wife againſt the Heir, to be endowed of divers Mannors and Lands which were late her Husbands: the Heir pleaded Detainment of Charters by the Demandant: And in that Caſe, concerning detainment of Charters, which ſhould be a barr of Dower, theſe Points were Reſolved: 1. That if the Heir pleads Detainment of Charters, That the Charters ought to concern the Land of which Dower is demanded: And the reaſon wherefore the Heir ſhall plead Detainment of Charters, is, becauſe if he had the Charters, he might plead ſome plea in barr of her Dower. And if the Heir plead, That he alwayes was, and yet is ready to render Dower, if he had the Charters, the ſame is a Confeſſion of the Action, if the Demandant deliver the Charters; and after the delivery of them, the Demandant ſhall have Judgment preſently. 2. That he who pleads Detainment of Charters, ought to ſhew the Certainty of the Charters: whereupon an Iſſue may be joyned. 3. That no ſtranger, although he be Tenant of the Land, and hath the Charters conveyed unto him, can plead detainment of Charters, becauſe that Plea is in privity for the Heir of the Husband onely: And in 5. Caſes, the Heir ſhall be as a ſtranger, 1. If the Heir hath the Land by purchaſe. 2. If the Heir hath delivered the Charters to the wife, becauſe it is his own Act. 3. If the Heir be not immediately vouched, but be vouched by the Vouchee. 4. If the Heir comes in as vouchee, having no Lands in the County where the Dower is demanded. And, 5. Where the Heir comes in as Tenant by Reſceit. 3. Reſolved, That in Dower againſt Guardian in Knights Service, he cannot plead detainment of Charters; for he cannot plead, That if the Demandant will deliver him the Charters, that he is alwayes ready, &c. becauſe the Charters do concern the Inheritance, and ſhall not be delivered to the Guardian, but he may plead a detainment of the Heir; and that he is alwayes ready to render Dower, if the Heir be delivered to him. Cook 9. Part, Anne Bedingfield's Caſe.

12. In Dower brought againſt the Heir, he pleaded, That the Demandant detained Charters concerning his Free-hold, and if ſhe will deliver them, he is ready to render Dower; The Caſe was, That the Father had by Deed Leaſed the Lands to the heir; which Deed the Wife kept: And although it was no Plea unleſs it was for Charters, which concerned the Land diſcended; yet becauſe the Deed did belong to the Son, by reaſon of the Reverſion which diſcended to him, the Plea was holden to be good although the ſon were a purchaſor for life. 22 H. 6. 16, 17. acc.

13. See more, where Detainment of Charters ſhall be a Barr in Dower, in Title Charters, before. And ſee Dyer 37. and 230.

14. Husband and Wife brought a Writ of Dower of the Endowment of the Wives firſt Husband: The Defendant pleaded in barr, That an Annuity was granted to her firſt Husband and her ſelf in recompence of her Dower, which ſhe after his death accepted. Anderſon, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, That if ſhe diſagree to it in pais, although not in a Court of Record, it is a good diſagreement and refuſal; and if ſhe once diſagree to it, ſhe can never after agree to have the Annuity: And therefore this acceptance and agreement cannot barr her of her Dower. Paſch. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Aſcoughs Caſe. Goldeſbr. 4.

15. In Dower brought, it was ſhewed, That the Husband of the Demandant had given to her certain Lands in lieu of her Joynture, upon Condition, That ſhe ſhould make her Election within 3. moneths after his death: and ſhe made Election to have the Joynture; and notwithſtanding ſhe hath now brought Dower againſt the Heir by Covin; and he hath confeſſed the Action, to the intent that J. S. who had a Leaſe for years of the Land from the firſt Husband, ſhould loſe his Term. But in regard it appeared to the Court, That that which was given to her, was but a Leaſe for years; and a Leaſe for years can be no Joynture: Therefore, the Opinion of the Court was, That the ſame ſhould not barr her of her Dower. Trin. 28 Eliz. in C.B. Goldesbr. 27.

16. Dower was brought by Husband and Wife for the third part of Land in Wolwich: The Defendant pleaded, That the Lands are Gavel-kind; and that the Cuſtome of Gavel-kind within the County of Kent, is, That the Wife ſhall have the moyety during her Widowhood, and not any third part according to the Common-Law: upon which Plea it was demurred in Law. Two Queſtions were: 1. If this Preſcription in the Negative, be good with the Affirmative? The Court held the Preſcription good. 2. If the Wife might waive her Dower by the Cuſtome, and take it according to the Common-Law. It was ſaid by the Court, That this Cuſtome ſhall bind the heir and his Inheritance; and by the ſame reaſon it ſhall bind the Wife and her Dower. All the Court held, That as this Cuſtome is alledged, it ſhould barr the Wife of her Dower: but if the pleading had been in the Affirmative onely, without the Negative; then the ſecond poynt had come in Queſtion. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Hunts Caſe. Goldesbr. 109.

5. Aſſignment of Dower, by whom, and what, and where it ſhall be good; Where not.

1. A Man ſeiſed, of a Mannor where the Cuſtome of the Mannor was, That the Cuſtomary Land was to be let by the Lord of the Mannor, or by his Surveyor, or Deputy of the Surveyor; by his Will gave power to certain perſons, to make Leaſes according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor, to raiſe moneys for the payment of his debts, and dyed: They held a Court in their own names, and granted Copies in Reverſion: Afterwards the Wife of the Lord, upon a Recovery of a third part of the Mannor in Dower, had one of the Copyholds aſſigned to her by the Sheriff. It was holden, That the Aſſignment was good, and that the Wife ſhould avoid the grants made by the other perſons. Hill. 8 Eliz. Dyer. 251.

2. Upon a Recovery in Dower, an Habere facias ſeiſinam, was directed to the Sheriff, to put the woman in Seiſin: The Sheriff made his Retorn, that he proffered Seiſin to the Demandant, of the third part of the Land by metes and bounds, which ſhe refuſed. It was holden by the Juſtices, That notwithſtanding this refuſal of the woman, that her entry after was lawful, for that now the certainty of the Land is known; and another Habere facias ſeiſinam cannot be granted. Mich 11 Eliz. Dyer 278.

3. Husband and Wife made a Feoffment to the uſe of himſelf and his wife for life, the remainder over: The Husband ſowed the Land and dyed. It was holden, That the Wife ſhould have the Crop, and not the Executors of the Husband. And in that caſe it was agreed, That if the Husband ſoweth the Land, and dyeth; and afterwards his Heir aſſigns Dower to the Wife, That ſuch Aſſignment of Dower by the Heir, is good, and the Wife ſhall have the Cropp. Mich. 15 Eliz. Dyer. 316.

4. If a man be ſeiſed of 3. Acres of Lands in 3. ſeveral Towns, A, B, and C, in one County; and enfeoffeth a ſtranger with Warranty of one Acre, and dyeth; the Heir may aſſign to the Wife one Acre, as well in ſatisfaction of her Dower in the Acre of which the ſtranger is enfeoffed, as of the other Acre diſcended to the Heir; for by courſe of Law ſhe ſhall have Dower againſt the Heir in diſcharge of all the Tenancy, as well that which he ought to warrant, as that which is diſcended to him in the ſame County; for which cauſe, the Heir may agree with the Wife as well out of Court, as in Court: for that which by the Law he is bound to do, and being vouched by the Feoffee in a Writ of Dower, he ſhall plead the ſame in barr. 33 E. 3. Fitz. to Judgment, 154. Cook 9. Part, in Beddingfields Caſe, 18.

5. In Dower, Habere facias ſeiſinam was awarded to the Sheriff, to enquire of the value, and to give Seiſin: The Sheriff retorned, Quod habere fecit ſeiſinam of the third part of Land, and divers Lands, et de tertia parte Advocationis de D: It was ſaid, That the Retorn was not good for the incertainty of it: But all the Juſtices held the Aſſignment good enough, becauſe it is but the Retorn of the Sheriff, and needs not ſuch preciſe certainty, as in Counts and Endictments. Mich. 18 Jac. in B. R. Sir Charles Howard and Cavendiſhes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 621.

6. In Dower, the demand was of the third part of a Carve of Land: It was holden to be no Plea, That the demandant was ſeiſed of the third part, without ſhewing of whoſe Aſſignment, or that ſhe recovered the ſame; for if it were by diſſeiſin, ſhe ſhall have her Dower of the two parts: for which cauſe the Defendant was driven to anſwer to the two parts. 34 E. 3. 17.

7. If a woman hath Cauſe to be endowed of certain Lands, and a certain Rent is aſſigned to her for the ſame out of the ſame Land, though it be without Deed, if ſhe be diſſeiſed, ſhe ſhall have an Aſſiſe; but if it be aſſigned out of other Lands, of which ſhe ought to be endowed, ſhe ſhall not have Aſſiſe of the Rent, becauſe ſhe was never Dowable of the Land. 33 H. 6. 2. Vouch. Cook 4. Part, 3. & 4. in Vernons Caſe.

8. In a Quare Impedit, the Plaintiff declared, That ſhe ſued a Writ of Dower of divers Mannors and Tenements, and recovered; and that a Writ iſſued to the Sheriff to extend the Lands: and that the Sheriff did aſſign unto her a Mannor, and the Advowſon of that Church for her Dower; and the Church became void, and ſo ſhe had right to preſent. It was holden in that Caſe, That the Aſſignment of the Sheriff was well made, as to the third Preſentment; and as well as if the Heir had aſſigned the ſame. And in that caſe it was agreed, That the Sheriff ſhall not be compelled to aſſign her the third part of every Acre, for that ſhould be opus infinitum; but if ſhe hath had one Acre, or one Mannor for all, it is good by Law. But Quære, if there be Meadow, Paſture, and Wood, If the Sheriff may aſſign all the Meadow, or all the Wood. But it was agreed, That the Sheriff cannot aſſign a Rent out of Land of which ſhe is dowable; but the Heir may ſo do. Paſch 12 E. 4. 2.

9. In an Aſſiſe for Rent, the Plaintiff made Title, That her Husband was ſeiſed and held of the King, and dyed; and that the Lands were ſeiſed into the Kings hands for the Non-age of the Heir, with other Lands: and that the Plaintiff prayed her Dower in Chancery, and a Writ went out directed to the Eſcheator, to deliver 10 marks of Land and Rent; and that the Eſcheator thereupon did deliver her five marks in Land, and five marks in Rent, which is the Rent now in demand. It was holden by the Court, That the Aſſignment made by the Eſcheator was good, for that the Writ is his Warrant; And although the Husband was not ſeiſed of the Rent, but of the Land; yet the Aſſignment was as good, & as well as where an Heir Aſſigns a Rent unto the Wife out of Land of which the Husband dyeth ſeiſed. See 26. Aſſ. 41. acc.

10. If the Guardian do Aſſign more to the Demandant in Dower then ſhe ought to have, the Heir ſhall have an Admeaſurement of Dower: And if the Heir within age, before entry of the Guardian, doth Aſſign overplus in Dower, the Guardian ſhall have an Admeaſurement. But Quære, If the Heir himſelf upon ſuch Aſſignment made by him, ſhall have a Writ of Admeaſurement. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 149, 150.

11. In all Caſes where the Dower is certain, there the Wife may enter after the death of her Husband, without Aſſignment of any one, but where the demand in the Writ of Dower is uncertain, there ſhe cannot enter before an Aſſignment be made unto her. 40 E. 3. 22. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 37.

12. Note, to a perfect Aſſignment of Dower, theſe are to be obſerved. 1. The Aſſignment ought to be certain. 2. It ought to be of Land of which ſhe is Dowable, or of a Rent out of the ſame, and not of other Land. 3. It ought to be abſolute, and not conditionall. 4. It ought to be made by him who is Tenant of the Land. 5. That if the Woman be of Covin with him, who Aſſigns to her Dower, the Aſſignment is void, becauſe the Covin doth avoid her Right. 6. Dower Aſſigned by a Diſſeiſor, or by an Abator, is good, if it be without Covin. 7. It ought to be by him who is onely Tenant of the Freehold, and therefore Guardian in Socage cannot Aſſign Dower; But Guardian in Knights Service may, becauſe a Writ of Dower lyeth againſt him. 8. The Heir within age, before Entry of the Guardian, may Aſſign Dower. 9. The Sheriff, Eſcheator by Writ, and authority of Law, may Aſſign Dower: All which points you may ſee by the Caſes before: And Note, That no Livery of Seiſin, or Writing is neceſſary to an Aſſignment of Dower, becauſe the ſame is due of Common-Right. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 35, acc.

13. In Dower brought, the Tenant pleaded the Entry of the Demandant into parcell of the Land, after the Darrein Continuance, and that without Aſſignment: It was holden by the Court, That that Tortious Entry did abate her Writ, Wherefore the Demandant ſaid, That ſhe entred for a Quarentine; and in ſuch Caſe, it was holden, That ſhe ought to ſhew the death of her Husband in certainty, and the time of the 40 dayes. 6 E. 6. Dyer, 76.

6. To whom the Wife ſhall be Attendant, and for what Services.

1. NOte, Where the Husband gives or makes a Feoffment in Fee of the Land, ſhe ſhall hold of the Feoffee by fealty. But before the Statute of Quia Emptores terrarum; If the Husband had enfeoffed a ſtranger of part of the Lands, then ſhe ſhould be Attendant to the Heir for the Seignory; but if the Husband had made a gift in Tail of the whole Land, and dyed, ſhe ſhall be Attendant to the Donee, becauſe that the Heir had but a Seignory in Groſſe. Fitzh. Nat. Br. Dower. 8. acc.

2. Tenant in Dower ſhall not be Attendant to the Lord Paramount, but to the Heir, and therefore ſhe ſhall be endowed of a Seiſin in Law; but a man ſhall not be Tenant by the Curteſy of a Seiſin in Law; becauſe he ſhould be Attendant to the Lord Paramount, which he cannot be, becauſe the Wife dyed before ſhe was actually ſeiſed. Cook 8. Part, 36. in Paynes Caſe.

3. If the Lord ſeiſe the Wardſhip of the Land of his Tenant by Knights Service, the Seignory is ſuſpended; but if the Guardian endoweth the Wife of the Tenant, of the third part of the Tenancy, the third part of the Seignory is revived, and the Tenant in Dower ſhall be Attendant to the Guardian for the third part of the Services, becauſe the Tenant in Dower is in by Act of Law; and for the ſame reaſon, If a man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, taketh a Wife and enfeoffeth another, and the Husband dyeth, the Wife is endowed of the third part of the Land, out of which the Rent is Iſſuing; the third part of the Rent, in ſuch Caſe, which the Wife hath for life, is extinct; and the two parts of the Rent remain in him, iſſuing out of the other two parts. Cook 8. Part, 135. in Aſcough's Caſe.

4. If Tenant in tail maketh a Leaſe for 30 or 40 years, rendring Rent, and afterwards taketh a

Wife

Wife, and dyeth without Iſſue, his Wife young with child; and afterwards the Wife recovereth her Dower of the ſame Land, ſhe before the Sons death, ſhall not avoid the Leaſe, for her Eſtate is quodam modo, a continuance of part of the Eſtate tail, for ſhe ſhall be Attendant for the third part of the Services which the Tenant in tail did; which ſhe ſhould not be, if the Eſtate tail were to all intents extinct, and Tenant in Dower is in the Per by her Husband, and in of his Eſtate. Cook 7. Part, 9. in the Earl of Bedford's Caſe.

5. Lord, Meſne, and Tenant, the Tenant holdeth of the Meſne by 1 d. and the Meſne by 20 d. the Meſne doth releaſe to the Tenant all the right which he hath to the Land, the Tenant dyeth, the Wife ſhall be endowed, and ſhall be Attendant to the Heir for the third part of the 1 d. and not for the third part of the 20 d. for that ſhe ſhall be endowed of the beſt poſſeſſion of her Husband. 22 E. 3. Fitz. Tit. Dower. 131.

7. Where a Woman ſhall not be Endowed; or have her Dower out of another Dower; And where and in what Caſe ſhe ſhall be Endowed in the Chancery; And what ſhall be ſaid a forfeiture of her Dower, and by whom.

1. GRandfather, Father, and Son: the Grandfather is ſeiſed of three Acres of Lands in Fee, and taketh a Wife, and dyeth, and the Land Diſcendeth to the Father, who dyeth, either before or after Entry; now is the Wife of the Father Dowable; yet ſhe ſhall have but the 3d part of the two Acres onely, and the Wife of the Grandfather ſhall have her Dower of the other Acre intirely, becauſe the Dower of the Wife of the Grandfather is Paramount the Title of the Fathers Wife; and the Seiſin of the Father which diſcended to him (be it in Law, or actually) is defeated, and now upon the matter, the Father had but a Reverſion expectant upon a Freehold, and in that Caſe Dos de Dote peti non poteſt, although the Grandmother dye, living the Fathers Wife. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 32.

2. If a man maketh a Feoffment in Fee with Warranty, and dyeth, and the Wife of the Feoffor brings a Writ of Dower againſt the Wife of the Feoffee, and ſhe voucheth the Heir of the Feoffor, and, depending the Action, the Wife of the Feoffee brings a Writ of Dower of the whole Lands, and not of two parts, ſhe cannot recover Dower untill the firſt be determined, and then after the death of the firſt Wife, ſhe ſhall have Dower of the whole third part, by the Aſſignment of the Heir. See Fitz. Tit. Dower. 80.

3. Grandfather, Father, and Son; the Grandfather dyeth; the Father enters, and Aſſigns Dower to the Grandmother; the Grandmother ſurrendreth to the Father, paying 10 l. per annum the Father dyeth, and his Wife brings a Writ of Dower againſt the Son, by reaſon of the poſſeſſion of her Husband, of the third part of the whole Land, and recovereth; the recovery was holden good, becauſe the Father had the Fee and Free-hold, conjoyned in the life time of the Grandmother by the ſurrender: And in that Caſe, It was holden, That if the Father were within age, he ſhould be in Ward; And in a Writ of Entry, his Entry ſhall be adjudged and ſuppoſed to be by the Auncеſtor, and not by the Grandmother; and he ſhall deraigne the Warranty againſt the Feoffor of the Grandfather, but he ſhall not have in value till after the death of his Wife. Mich. 45 E. 3. 13.

4. A. held Lands in Socage, and other in Knights-Service of F. as of his Mannor of S. and F. held over in Capite; F. dyed, his Heir within age, and in Ward to the King. A. alſo dyed, and his Heir alſo within age: the Heir of F. ſued his Livery; and by Office, it was found, That the Heir of A. was of full age. It was a Queſtion, If he ſhould ſue Livery, or an Ouſter le Mayne, and if aſwell for the Socage-Land, as for the Knight-Service-Land. The Court inclined to Opinion, That the Socage-Land ſhould not be in Ward by the Prerogative, becauſe the Tenant held not immediately of the King; And in that Caſe it was holden, That when the Wife of A. hath her Dower Aſſigned to her in the Chancery, That ſhe ſhould not be ſworn the Kings Widdow. Mich. 3. Ma. Dyer, 123.

5. See before, where Dower Aſſigned by a Commiſſion out of the Court of Augmentation, though it was under the Great Seal, was not good, for that the Dower ſhould have bin Aſſigned in the Chancery. Trin. 9 Eliz. Dyer, 263. See before placito. Sect.

6. A. Wife of E. B. Son and Heir of H. B. brought Dower againſt T. B. ſon and Heir of E. B. to be Endowed of the Mannor of O. N. and other Mannors. T. B. purchaſed a Writ out of the Chancery, called Circumſpecte agatis, ſetting forth, That whereas E. B. was ſeiſed of the Mannor of N. in Fee, and held the ſame of the King in Chief by Knight Service, and dyed thereof ſeiſed, the ſaid T. B. of full age, as by Office is found by reaſon whereof the King was ſeiſed, as well of the ſaid Mannor, as of the other Mannors, and becauſe cauſe the Queen was bound to reſtore the ſaid Manners tam integrè as they came to her hands; therefore it was commanded to the Judges to ſurceaſe Domina Regina conſulta. In this Caſe, theſe points (amongſt others) were Reſolved. 1. That the Writ de Circumſpectè agatis, which is in the nature of an Aid-prayer of the King, did not extend to any Mannors not found in the Office, becauſe the King cannot ſeiſe more Mannors then are compriſed in the Office. 2. Reſolved, That when the Heir is within age, and in Ward to the King, and the King commits him over, and he is impleaded, or comes in as Vouchee in a Writ of Dower, there aid of the King ſhall not be Granted, as appears by the Statute de Bigamis, cap. 3. 3. Reſolved, That when the King is Tenant by Primer-Seiſin capiendo exitus for a year, he could not at the Common-Law endow the Wife, becauſe he was not then Guardian; and none who hath but a Chattell can endow a Woman of a Freehold, nor doth a Writ of Dower lye againſt him. 5. Reſolved, That although that the Statute de Prerogativa Regis, gives power to the King to endow the Wife, although the Heir were of full age; yet the Statute leaves the ſame at the Election of the Wife, to be endowed, either by the King in Chancery, or by the Heir: And therefore, If a Woman brings her Writ of Dower againſt the Heir, being of full age, that in that Caſe, he ſhould not have Aid of the King. Hill. 28 Eliz. Cook 9. Part, 16, 17. Ann Bedingfields Caſe.

7. If the King make Livery to the Heir at his full age, ſaving to the Wife her Dower, to be Aſſigned by the King; in that Caſe, If the Wife will demand Dower, ſhe ought to ſue for the ſame in the Chancery; And if ſhe do demand her Dower there, a ſpeciall Writ ſhall Iſſue forth to the Eſcheator, to warn the Heir to be in the Chancery at a certain day; and the Wife ſhall have the ſame day to receive her Dower. But if the King maketh Livery to the Heir, and by his Writ commands the Sheriff to give him Seiſin of all his Lands, ſaving the right of every man; and there is not in the Writ, ſaving E. which was the Wife of, &c. her Dower of her Lands, to be by us Aſſigned, there, in that Caſe, the Wife may ſue her Writ of Dower againſt the Heir, without any reſervation of Dower to be Aſſigned to her by the King in Chancery. See Fitz. Nat. in his Writ de Dat. aſſignand. 263, 264.

8. If a Woman be Aſſigned her Dower in Chancery, and after it is ſurmiſed by the Heir or other, for the King, That the Land Aſſigned is not extended to the very value, but is much more in value, then it is extended at. If it be found upon a Scire facies Retorned, That the Land Aſſigned to her, is of greater value, and ſhe be warned upon the Scire facias, and makes default; ſhe ſhall be endowed de novo, and part of the Land aſſigned to her, ſhall be taken from her; And ſo if the Land Aſſigned to her be evicted; ſhe ſhall have a Scire facias, to re-ſeize the Land, and ſhall be endowed the Novo, as the Book in 43. Aſſ. 32. br. Dower, 65. is.

9. If a Woman cauſeth another to Diſſeiſe the Tenant of the Land againſt whom ſhe bringeth a Writ of Dower, and recovereth; ſhe ſhall loſe her Dower, although ſhe hath Right to have Dower of the Land: But if the Wife be of Covin to do a Lawfull Act; As if the Wife cauſe the Guardian in Droit to enter upon the Guardian by wrong, to the intent to recover her Dower, that is good, and Lawfull. Trin. 19 H. 8. 13.

10. If a Woman brings a Writ of Dower againſt a Diſſeiſor, upon whom the Diſſeiſee entreth by Covin, between the Diſſeiſor and the Diſſeiſee, to abate the Writ, there, becauſe the entry was by good Title, and the Covin not materiall, the Writ ſhall abate: But if a Woman cauſe a Diſſeiſor to enter, to the intent, to recover againſt him her Dower: in ſuch Caſe, the Diſſeiſee may recover the Land againſt the Woman by Aſſiſe. Mich. 15 E. 4. 2. acc.

8. Of Dower by Cuſtome, and what part of the Lands ſhe ſhall have, what not; At what age a Woman may be Endowed at the Common-Law, or by Cuſtome; and where Dower doth lye againſt the Committee of the King, or the Guardian, where not.

1. THe moyety of the Land was demanded by a Writ of Dower, and becauſe the Tenements were holden in Socage; and alſo, becauſe all the Women of all the Lands, of which their Husbands were Tenants by Socage Tenure, were by Cuſtome of the County Dowable of the moyety of the Lands, time out of mind; the Writ of Dower was admitted to be good. Book Entries. 226. p. 12.

2. In Dower, the Defendant pleaded, That if the Husband did Allien and ſell his Lands; and did imploy the mony which he received to the Common profit of them; that the Wife ſhould be barred of her Dower, and it was admitted to be a good uſage, and the Demandant was put to anſwer to it: wherefore ſhe ſaid, That the monies did not come to their Common profit. 20 E. 3. Preſcription. 30.

3. In

3. In Dower brought of the moyety of the profits of a Marsh; It was said by the Councell of the Tenant, That the Marsh was holden in Socage, and that the usage of the Countrey is, That of Lands and Tenements in Socage, the usage was, That the Wife should be endowed of the Moyety of the Land it self; Wherefore she was enforced to make a demand accordingly, which she did; and the Tenant rendred Dower unto her. 12 E. 3. Fitz. Dower, 157. See 11 E. 3. Dower, 35. where the Wife recovered Dower of the moyety of a Stallage of a Fair.

4. By the Custome of Kent, the Wife shall have the moyety of the Lands of her Husband for her Dower Dum sola vixit, and she be not found with Child by fornication; And by the same Custome, she shall have Dower onely of the Lands and Tenements of which the Husband was seised and vested in possession; and not of a Possession in Law. 18 H. 3. Tit. Prescription. 60. See 44 E. 3. 31. acc.

5. Note, A Woman shall have Dower of the Moyety according to the Custome of Kent; And she in Dower, made her Demand of 23 Acres of Land, because terra est of the nature of Gavelkind secundum consuetudinem ab antiquo usitatam quod de medietate dotari debet; but she did not say time out of mind, &c. and yet it was holden by the Court, That her Demand was good, because the Course is such: And note, that it was said, she must say, That she was sole. Mich. 2 E. 4. 77.

6. A Custome was alledged to be of the County of Hereford, That the Wife which takes a second Husband, shall lose her Dower which she hath by her first Husband. 8 H. 3. Customs, 55. And Bracton 309. p. 1. sayes, That there is a Custome in Lincoln, That if a man doth sell his Inheritance for need, that his Wife shall not have Dower of the Land, but otherwise if he Mortgage it, or maketh a Lease thereof for need.

7. In a Writ of Dower brought by a Woman of the third part of Lands; the Tenant pleaded, That the Lands of which Dower is demanded, is of the nature of Gavelkind, and that the Custome of such Land is, That Dower ought to be demanded of the moyety of it, and not of the third part, upon which it was demurred. It was the Opinion of Anderson and Windham Justices, That such a Woman of such Lands might at her pleasure demand her Dower, either according to the Custome, or according to the Common-Law, for that the Common-Law was before the Custome. And by Windham, If the Demandant here recover her Dower, according to the Common-Law, yet if she taketh another Husband, she shall lose her Dower, as if she had bin endowed according to the Custome. It was said by some at the Bar, and so affirmed by the Prothonotaries, That the Woman ought to be endowed according to the Custome, and not otherwise; and so it was said to have bin adjudged. Mich. 16 Eliz. in Gellibrand and Hunt's Case. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Leon. 62. See Hunt and Gellybrand's Case. Leon. 133.

8. If the Husband Allieneth his Land, and then the Wife is Attainted of Felony, now she is disabled to have Dower, but if she be pardoned before the death of the Husband, she shall be endowed: And if the Son endoweth his Wife at the age of seven years ex assensu patris, if she before the death of her Husband, attain to the age of 9 years, the Dower is good. Cook 1. Part, Institutes 33. acc.

9. See 9 H. 6. 11. by Strange, If the Wife be of the age of nine years, it is sufficient, and she shall have Dower of what age soever the Husband be. See 12 R. 2. Dower, 54. If the Husband dyeth before the Wife accomplisheth the age of nine years, she shall not have Dower.

10. Note, If a man marries a Wife, and afterwards sells his Lands, and afterwards she cometh of the age of nine years, and the Husband dyeth, the Wife shall have Dower of the Land, although the Husband had not possession of it after she came of the age of nine years, For if a Woman Elopeth, and afterwards the Husband purchaseth Lands, and allieneth the same, and afterwards the Wife is reconciled, and the Husband dyeth, she shall have Dower, 4 E. 3. acc. And to prove the first Case, See Litt. 8. which is, That the Wife shall be endowed of such Lands which were her Husbands at any time during the Coverture, so as she passe the age of nine years at the time of the death of her Husband. Litt. 8. Part, 36.

11. See, if a Woman be of the age of 10. years, she shall have Dower, but if she be but of the age of eight years, she shall not have Dower. 2 H. 4. 1.

12. See, If the Husband be dead before the age of seven years, she shall not have Dower: Old. Nat. Br. 7. and see 12 R. 2. Dower, 54. The Husband was of the age of 11 years, and the Wife was of the age of ten years, and she had Dower by the Award of the Court.

13. Note, It was holden 16 Eliz. in C. B. That the Marriage of the Husband before the age of seven years, was void, where the Issue was joyned upon Ne unques accouple en loyall Matrimonie. Quære of that, because 12 R. 2. is contrary. 7 H. 6. 11. It is holden, That the Marriage is not void, but voidable, but 47 E. 3. Action upon the Statute 17. that it is void, because there ought to be words of Consent, which cannot be at such age.

See

See 22 Eliz. Dyer, 369. A marriage, infra annos Nubiles is perfect Quoad dotem, and quoad other purposes, it is but inchoatum, et imperfectum, Cook 6. Part, 40. in Sir Anthony Mildmayes Case.

14. Note, It was holden by the Court, That Dower may be brought, as well against the Heir himself, as against the Committee of the Ward: But if an Enfant be in Ward to the Lord in Knights service, the Writ of Dower shall be brought against the Guardian in Knights-Service: And if Dower be brought against one who is not Tenant of the Free-hold, the Tenant before Judgment shall be received, and upon default of the Tenant after Judgment, he may falsify the Recovery. Mich. 6 Jac. in C. B. Goldesbr. 127.

15. A Writ of Dower at the Common-Law, lay against Gardian in Knights Service, but then in the Writ, he must be named Guardian, and a Writ of Dower brought against the Heir within age, shall abate, for it ought to be brought against the Guardian. See 8 E. 3. Dower lyeth against the Guardian within age, and against the Heir at full age, and it doth not lye against any one in respect of any Possession if he be not Guardian; And that appears by 8 E. 3. 15. A Woman brought a Writ of Dower against A. as Guardian in Knights-Service, who pleaded, That he had nothing of the Lease for six years of the Lease of J. S. who was Guardian of the Lands: It was holden in that Case, That the Writ did not lye against him, in respect of the Possession, and the Demandant was forced to maintain that he was Guardian. Cook 9. Part, 17. vouched in Bedingfield's Case.

16. Dower was brought against the Committee of the King, during the Non-age of the Heir; The Defendant shewed, That it was found by Office, That the Father of the Husband of the Demandant was seised of Lands holden of the King, and dyed, his Heir within age; and that the King seised the Ward, and committed him unto him; and demanded Judgment of the Action: In that Case, It was holden and adjudged, That the Action well lay against the Committee; And wherefore, after in the Case, he was upon another Cause, ousted of the Aid proper. 4 H. 7. 1. Cook 9. Part, in Bedingfeild's Case.

17. In Dower, the Case was, Land was given to the Father for life, the remainder to his Son and Heir for life, the remainder to the right Heirs of the body of the Father; The Father and Son joyned in a Deed to the Father's Brother, Uncle of the Son in Fee; The Uncle took Wife, the Father dyed, his Son being his Heir in Tail; the Uncle dyed without Issue, so as the Land did discend to the Son as Heir to the Uncle, against whom the Wife of the Uncle brought Dower. It was moved, If the Son being Heir in Tail to his Father, & Heir also to his Uncle for the Land was remitted, for if there be a Remitter, then no Dower accrueth to the Wife of the Uncle, because the Estate, of which she claims Dower, is gone; but if the Livery in which the Son joyned with the Father be the Livery of the Son, then the same doth prevent the Remitter during his life, and he shall be adjudged seised in Fee, by discent from Uncle. The Court doubted of the Case, and gave no Opinion in it. Quare and vide Dyer. 339. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Partridge and Partridges Case. Leon. 37.

18. Error was brought upon a Judgment in a Writ of Dower by Nihil dicit, because a Writ of Enquirie of Damages was awarded, by which it was found, That the Land in which shee ought to have Dower was of the value of 8. l. per annum, and that 8. years elapserunt post mortem viri sui ante Inquisitionem, and they assessed Damages; and it appeared upon the Record, That after the Judgment the Demandant had Execution upon Habere facias seisinam, so as it appeared upon the whole Record put together, that Damages were assessed for 8. years, whereas the Demandant had been seised for part of the years; and the Damages were assessed to the time of the Inquisition, whereas they ought to have been but to the time of the Judgment: It was holden by the Court, that the Damages were not rightly assessed, and therefore the Execution for them, and the Judgment, was erroneous; And the Judgment was reversed. Pasch. 29 Eliz. in Com. B. Walder and Nevil's Case. Leon. 56.

19. Dower was brought de tertiâ parte Rectoriæ de D. and upon the Grand Cape issued, scil. Cape in manum nostram tertiam partem Rectoriæ; the Sheriff, by colour of that Writ, took the Tythes severed from the 9. parts, and carried them away with him: It was agreed by the Justices, That that was not such a Seisure as was intended by the Writ; for the Sheriff upon the Writ ought generally to seize onely, and leave the Tythes where he found them: Wherefore the Court were of Opinion to commit the Sheriff for such his Misdemeanors. M. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Mitchell and Hyde's Case. Leon. 92.

20. The Case was, A. seised in Fee of Lands, in consideration of 100. l. bargains and sells to the Husband, in consideration that he should redemise it to him and his Wife for their lives, rendring a Pepper-Corn, and if he paid the 100. l. at the end of 20. years, the bargain and sale should be void; he redemised it accordingly and dyed; his Wife brought Dower: And whether the party should be relieved in Equity, against this Title of Dower, was referred to some of the Justices: And although the said Justices conceived, That this was but in the nature nature of the Mortgage, and upon a Mortgage, if the Land be redeemed, the Wife of the Mortgagee ſhall not be endowed, no more than the Wife of the Conuſee of a Fine, upon a Grant and Render, for that it is in him and out of him in an Inſtant, quaſi non ſtatu; yet they were of Opinion in this Caſe, That the Wife ſhould have Dower: for by the bargain and ſale the Land is veſted in the Husband, and thereby his Wife entituled to Dower, and when he redemiſeth it upon the former Agreement, yet the Leſſees are to hold it ſubject to Dower, and when a Woman is dowable by Act in Law, a Court of Equity cannot barr her to claim her Dower. Paſch. 6 Car. in B. R. Naſh and Preſton's Caſe. Cook 1. Part, 138.

21. Error was brought to reverſe a Judgment in Dower, of the Endowment of W. S. her late Husband, where the Defendant pleaded, Ne unq; accouple en loyall Matrimony; whereupon a Writ was awarded to the Biſhop to certify, who certified, That ſhe was accoupled in vero Matrimonio, & quod W. & E. Thori & Menſæ participatione mutuò cohabitaverunt uſq; ad mortem prædict. W. Amongſt other Errors aſſigned and diſallowed, It was ſaid, That the Certificate was not good, for that it doth not anſwer to the words of the Iſſue which are, Quod ne unq; accouple en loyall Matrimonie; and he ought to have anſwered Quod fuit copulata in legitimo Matrimonio; and Law anſwers Quod vero Matrimonio, ſed Clandeſtino copulati fuerunt: But the Error was diſallowed alſo by the Court, for vero Matrimonio, although Clandeſtino copulati fuerunt, is as good as Legitimo Matrimonio, for they are all one by Intendment, and though it be Clandeſtino, yet it doth not vitiate the Marriage; and when it is added, That Thori & Menſæ participatione duxerunt vitâ W. cohabitaverunt, that proves they continued Husband & Wife during his life; The Judgment was affirmed. M. 8 Car. in B.R. Wickham and Enfield's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 256.

22. Error was brought and aſſigned upon a Judgment in Dower, becauſe the Tenant was an Enfant, and Judgment was given againſt him by default; It was the Opinion of the Court, It was not Error; For Dower is demandable againſt an Enfant, and he ſhall not have his Age, and his default ſhall prejudice himſelf and not the Plaintiff, otherwiſe the Wife ſhould never be endowed during his minority, and Dower is favoured in Law; The Judgment was affirmed. Hil. 3 Jac. in B.R. Smith & Smith's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 111. See 35 Eliz. Williams and Williams Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 393. acc.

23. Error brought to reverſe a Fine levyed by Husband and Wife; The Error aſſigned was, That the Dedimus poteſtatem bare Date before the Writ of Covenant, and had a ſcire facias to warn the Heir and Terr-Tenant; T. B. was warned, and returned to be Terr-Tenant, and he appeared and pleaded that W. B. the Conuſee his Father dyed ſeiſed, and that the Land diſcended to him as Heir, and that he was Tenant, and within Age, and prayed that the Plea might demurr; The Plaintiff counterpleaded the Age, That ſhe was entituled to have Dower before the Fine levyed, and now ſhe is barred of her Dower by this Fine, wherefore ſhe ſues to be reſtored to her Writ of Dower; Whereupon it was demurred, Whether it was a good Counter-Plea to ouſte him of his Age. It was Reſolved, That it was no Counter-Plea to ouſte him of his Age; For it is a Rule, The Heir being within Age, and in by diſcent, (ſo as he is Heir and Terr-Tenant) ſhall have his Age in a Writ of Error; And although that in Dower Age is not allowable for the miſchief, ſhe may dye and loſe her Eſtate; yet for as much as an Enfant by Intendment hath no Conuſans to plead in defence of his Title, and might have diverſe Pleas to avoid that Writ of Error; and the Plaintiff herſelf by her Fine hath given from her ſelf her Right of Dower by her own Act, as long as the Fine ſtands unreverſed; therefore the Law ſhall more favour the Enfant, than the Wife to reverſe her own Fine: and alſo for that Counter-Plea ſhall not be, but where it appears that he is not Heir, as a Baſtard, or one who is not as Heir but by Purchaſe, or in caſe of inevitable neceſſity; Wherefore it was adjudged, That it was no good Counter-plea; but the parol ſhould demurr for the Nonage of the Enfant. Trin. 10 Jac. in B. R. Herbert and Binion's Caſe. Cro. 2 Part, 392, 393.

24. Dower: The Writ was, Precipe A. quod reddat E. F. rationabilem dotem ſuam of the Lands dudum B. F. quondam viri ſui: The Court was of Opinion, That the Writ was not good, for that the words in the Writ B. F. quondam viri ſui, &c. be not ſufficient: for ſhe ought to be named Uxor of her husband, for that is the name by which ſhe claims Dower, and ſhe ought to be his lawful Wife; otherwiſe ſhe may not claim Dower. Hill. 6 Jac. in C. B. Fullam and Harris Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 217.

25. Tenant of the King by Knights Service, bargained and ſold his Land to J. S. and his heirs; the Bargainee dyed his Heir within age, and then the Deed was enrolled: The Queſtion was in this Caſe, if the King ſhould have primer Seiſin? It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That the Heir ſhould be in ward, and pay primer Seiſin if he were of full age; for when the Deed is enrolled, the Land paſſeth ab initio, and then the bargainee ſhall be Tenant ab initio. But it was agreed by all the Juſtices, That the Wife of the Bargainee ſhould not be endowed; and that the Rent paid to the Bargainor at the day encurred after the bargain, is good; and the bargainee hath no remedy for it, becauſe it is a thing executed. Paſch. 5 Jac. in the Court of Wards. Sir Henry Dimmocks Caſe. Owen. 149, 150.

26. Note: It was agreed by the Court in a Writ of Dower, That if the Tenant plead, Ne unq; Seiſi que Dower, and in truth, the Husband of the Demandant had an Eſtate, but that was by Diſſeiſin, which is avoided by the entry of the Diſſeiſee, who had a Title Paramount; that this is no title by which ſhe may have Dower, although they are at Iſſue, upon the Plea, Ne unq; ſeiſi, &c. And in this caſe it was alſo agreed by them, That if a man had a good Eſtate by bargain and ſale from him who had right to alien it; and yet after he accepts a Fine ſur Conuſans de Droit come ceo, &c. from the other party, though in this caſe this be a Concluſion between the parties to whom the Fine is; yet it is not any concluſion to the Jurours to find the verity of the matter in fact. Paſch. 22 Jac. in C.B. The Counteſs of Berkſhire and Sir Peter Van Lores Caſe. Winch. 77.

27. In Dower brought by A. S. againſt the Tenant of the Land; he pleaded a Fine with Proclamations levied by her Husband, 14 Jac. in which year the husband dyed, and the Wife had not made claim within the Statute of 4 H. 7. The Demandant replyed, That 15 Jac. ſhe brought a Writ of Dower againſt the now Tenants, and againſt two others, and that the Writ abated by the death of the two others; and that ſhe brought this Writ by Journeys Accompts. The Defendant replyed, That the others were not Tenants but one J. D: It was ſaid, That this Rejoynder was not good, for they confeſſed that they themſelves are Tenants, by which the Writ is good againſt them: Hobart Chief Juſtice, If ſhe brought the Writ againſt one who was not Tenant, It is not any Claim within the Statute, but if ſhe brought her Writ againſt 4. who were Tenants, and two of them dye, and ſhe brings a Writ againſt the others by Journeys Accompts, the ſame is a good Claim within the Statute, though the ſecond Writ were after the time limited by the Statute. Paſch. 21 Jac. in C. B. Summer's Caſe. Winch. 66.

28. A. and her ſecond Husband brought Dower againſt T. and demanded Dower of the Endowment of J. S. her firſt Husband: It was agreed by the Court, That this Tryal ought to be by Witneſſes, according to Dyer. 155. Wherefore, It was awarded by the Court, That the Council of either ſide ſhould draw up Interrogatories, and put their names to them, then to be delivered to the Pregnothory, in whoſe Office the Cauſe is entred; and he ſhall have the Examination of the Witneſſes on both ſides, and then ſeal up the Interrogatories and Depoſitions, to be delivered over to the Court, and then Qui melius probat, habet melius, &c. Paſch. 22 Jac. in C. B. Slater and Tacker's Caſe. Winch. 82.

29. Dower againſt an Enfant who appeared by his Guardian and ſaid, That his Father, who was the Husband of the Demandant, was ſeiſed of a Meſſuage and Lands in Soccage, and deviſed them to the Demandant for her Joynture, and ſhewed that after the death of his Father the Demandant did enter into the ſaid Meſſuage and Land, and was ſeiſed by vertue of the Deviſe, ſaid and confeſſed the Seiſin of her Husband and her own Entry, but ſaid that the Enfant who was the Tenant was within the age of 14. years, and that ſhe entred as Guardian in Soccage to the Enfant, and diſagreed to accept of the Land by the Deviſe, and traverſed the Agreement; It was holden by the Court, That this was a good Barr; though it had been more pregnant to have alledged, that ſhe entred virtute Legationis prædict. and was ſo ſeiſed: and alſo it was ſaid, That the Replication was good without a Traverſe. M. 22 Jac. in C. B. Baker and Baker's Caſe. Winch. 100.

30. E. G. the Wife of her late Husband C. G. brought Dower againſt J. S. to be endowed of the third part of the Mannor of D. and he vouched to Warranty the Son of G. who appeared and entred into Warranty, and pleaded that he had nothing by diſcent from C. G. his Father, and the Demandant had Judgment againſt the Tenant to recover with a Ceſſet Executio, until the Voucher be determined; and after that, and before the day of the Niſi prius, the Son dyed; and then at the day the Tenant may revouch the Heir of the Heir; for it is not poſſible that the Vouchee ſhould loſe by default, becauſe he was dead; and where it is ſaid upon the back of the Record of Poſtea, that the Tenant loſt by default, It was conceived that was meant of the Vouchee, and not of the Tenant to the Writ of Dower; But it was Anſwered, that he might revouch; for there was a Judgment given againſt him with a Ceſſet Executio till the Voucher is determined, and that is determined by his death; and when Judgment is once given, he hath no day in Court: But the Court ſaid, It ſhall be intended, that the Record ſhall be meant that the Tenant in the Writ made default, and then it is not poſſible he ſhould ever recover, but they ſaid It had been more Queſtionable if the Tenant had appeared at the day of the Niſi prius, and had pleaded the death of the Vouchee, after the Darrein Continuance, and had prayed the advantage of his Warranty. 2. It was moved, That the Judgment given againſt the Tenant was not good, for that it was abſolute with a Ceſſet Executio, where it ought to have been Conditional: In that it was ſaid, it might be either way, and that was no prejudice to the Warranty. Pasch. 19 Jac. in B. R. Goldingham and Sir John Strouds Case. Winch. 81. See Cro. 2. Part, 288. The same Case.

It

31. Note, In a Court Baron the Damages ought not to exceed 40. s. Yet in a Copyhold Manor where the Custom is, That the Wife shall be endowed; If she recover Dower with Damages in the Lord's Court, although those Damages exceed 40. s. yet are they recoverable in the same Court, for otherwise she should be without Remedy, because they are not recoverable by the Common Law, but onely in the Court of the Lord by Levari facias. Cook 4 Part, 30. Shaw and Thompson's Case.

32. A man made a Lease for life by Deed and Covenanted for him and his Heirs, That he would save him harmless from all claiming by, from, or under him; the Lessor dyed, and his Wife brought a Writ of Dower against the Lessee, and recovered; Whereupon he brought a Writ of Covenant against the Heir of his Lessor; It was adjudged, The Action would lye; for that the Wife claimed under the Husband, scil. The Lessor, But if it had been the Mother of the Lessor that had demanded Dower, There the Action would not have layen against the Heir, because she doth not claim by, from, or under the Lessor, and so it was adjudged. Trin. 21. Jac. 1. in B. R.

33. Note, By the Common Law, If the Husband had levyed a Fine de terrâ propriâ, & in jure propriâ in fraudem vel odium mulieris, vel propter Lucrum, yet the Wife in such Case should have recovered her Dower of the Land; But if it were res aliena, or jus alienum, and the Land had discended to the Son, who had levyed a Fine to him who had right, there the Wife of the Heir should not have had Dower of it; for if he who had right had recovered against her Husband, the Wife could not have been endowed against him that recovered: But if a Fine had been levyed to a stranger, It should then have been otherwise, for there the Wife should have had Dower; And if he had aliened by Fine, and received back the Land again from him who had Right, there the Wife should have been endowed of so much as he had received back by the Fine, but of no more; and if a Fine had been levyed of a thing doubtful, or uncertain to whom the Right of it did belong; In such Case the Wife should not have had Dower of it. See Bracton. 310. acc.

Doves and Dove-Cotes.

1. A Dove-Cote is an Inheritance whereof a Precipe quod reddat lyeth, and it shall be demanded next to a House: Also an Assize lyeth of a Dove-Cote; and of a Dove-Cote a Woman shall be endowed. Fitzh. 4. 15 E. 3. 22. & 1 H. 5. 1.

2. There are many Statutes which take notice of Dove-Cotes, and Doves. By the Statute of 18 E. 2. Title Leet, The Destruction of Doves is inquirable in Leets. The Statute of 4 Jac. None shall shoot within a Hundred paces of any Dove-House.

3. Trespas Vi & Armis was brought because he broke the Plaintiff's Dove-House, and 200 Pigeons of the price of 40. s. cepit, per quod volatum Columbarum totaliter amisit. The Defendant pleaded, That the place where the Dove-House was, was holden of the Mannor of D. which was Ancient Demesne, and pleaded to the Jurisdiction; It was holden by the Court, That it was no Plea in that Action: wherefore the Defendant was forced to make Title. M. 43. E. 3. 23.

4. The Case was, That a Free-holder erected a Dove-House upon his own Free-hold, where there was not any before, and stored it with Pigeons: This was presented at the Leet, and a pain assessed to amove it by such a day; and for not amoving it the party was amerced; and for the Amercement, a Distress taken by the Lord of the Leet: There were two Questions in the Case, 1. Whether the erecting of a Dove-Cote by the Free-holder, and storing it with Doves, be a Nusans and an Offence of Law? 2. Whether the Lord might distrein without a speciall Custom for an Amercement in a Leet: For the first Point, Cook Chief Justice held, That it was a Common Nusance and inquirable in the Leet; But the other Justices doubted of it: For the second Point, It was holden, That he might distrein or have an Action of Debt: The Presentant was, that he had erected a Dove Cote, and stored it with Pigeons; but he doth not say in the Presentant, that it was ad Communem Hominum; and for that Cause it was holden by the Court to be insufficient. Hill. 11 Jac. in B. R. Pratt and Stern's Case. Cro. 2. Part. 381.

5. Note, It was Reſolved, 1. That if a man makes Cony-boroughs in his own Land, which ſo encreaſe with Coneys, that they deſtroy the Land of his Neighbour which is next adjoyning to it, That an Action upon the Caſe will not lye againſt him that makes the Cony-boroughs; for preſently when the Conies come upon the Land of his Neighbour, he may kill them becauſe they are feræ naturæ. 2. It was Reſolved, That none may erect a Dove-Cote but the Lord of the Mannor, and if any doth ſo, he ſhall be puniſhed in the Leet; but an Action upon the Caſe lyeth not for the Infinitement of Actions which might be. M. 4 Eliz. in C. B. Boulſtor's Caſe. Cook 5. Part.

6. The Earl of Northumberland was ſeiſed of the Mannor of Iſlewerth Syon wherein he had a Leet: H. D. being a Free-holder within the Mannor erected a Dove-Cote upon his own Land within the Precinct of the Leet, which was preſented at the Leet for a Common Nuſans, for which he was amerced 40. s. and commanded to amove it upon pain of 10 l. Which he not doing, a Diſtreſs was taken by the Bayliff of the Earl; whereupon H. D. brought a Replevin, and the Defendant juſtified as Bayliff, and preſcribed, they uſed to make By-Laws to redreſs Common-Nuſances, and preſcribed to diſtrein for them. The only Queſtion was, Whether the new erecting of a Dove-Cote by a Freeholder upon his Land, and ſtoring it with Pigeons, were a Common-Nuſance puniſhable in the Leet: It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That it was not a Common-Nuſans either puniſhable or enquirable in a Leet; and in that Caſe, It was Reſolved, That a man had Jus proprietatis & privilegii in Doves, and that Treſpaſs lyeth, Quare fregit Columbare, & Columbas cepit, and Treſpaſs doth not lye; becauſe the Doves do no Treſpaſs nor is there Remedy for the killing of them, and therefore they are no Common-Nuſans. 2. It was Reſolved, That a man may have a Dove-Cote by preſcription, which could not be if it were a Nuſans; And it is lawful for a man to kill Doves upon his own Lands, but then they muſt take care that they do it not contrary to the Statute by which Doves are preſerved. 3. As a man cannot preſcribe to do a Nuſans, ſo a man cannot licence one to do it. Judgment was given for the Plaintiff in the Replevin for the Dove-Cote: And in this Caſe, It was Reſolved, and denyed that Cook 5 Part, Boulſtor's Caſe, was not Law. Trin. 17 Jac. in B. Droit, Right, or Writ of Right.

1. The Nature of Writs of Right; and to whom they ſhall be directed; and the Form of the Writ.

1. WRits of Right are either open, or enclоſed in Wax; called Writs of Droit Patent, or Writ of Droit Cloſe; and it is nothing elſe but a Commiſſion to the Lord or his Bayliff, that they do Right to the parties. A Precipe in Capite although it be of as high a Nature as a Writ of Right, yet the ſame is enclоſed in Wax, and is directed to the Sheriff or other Officer to return the ſame in the Common Pleas. Fitz. N. B. 21. acc.

2. The Writ of Right Patent remains alwayes in the hands of the Demandant, becauſe that if the Lord or Sheriff will not do right to the party, he may remove the Cauſe into the Court of Common Pleas; and therefore there is this Clauſe put in the Writ, & niſi feceris, talis vir Comes faciat, which is not put in other Writs; and when the Writ of Pone comes to the Sheriff, the Writ runs thus, Quod habeas Summon. & hoc breve, & non aliud Breve, becauſe that the original Writ of Right remains alwayes with the Demandant, and not with the Sheriff as other Originals do. Fitz. N. B. 4. & 6.

3. The Form of the Writ of Right directed to the Lord of the Mannor, runs thus, Precipimus tibi, Quod plenum rectum teneas A. B. de uno Meſſuagio; The Writ of Right's Caſe runs thus, Rex Vicecom. S. ſalutem. Precipimus tibi, Quod ſecundum conſuetudinem Manerii &c. plenum rectum teneas &c. de uno Meſſuagio, &c. The Writ of Juſticies runs thus, Rex, &c. Precipimus tibi, Quod Juſticiet A, quod juſtè & ſine dilatione reddat B. 2d. Cook 6. Part, 11. Gentleman's Caſe.

4. In a Writ of Right, the Tenure ſhall be expreſſed, If the Lands be holden in Socage, then thus, Per Liberum Servitium unius denarii per annum pro omni ſervitio: Or, per Liberum Servitium ad faciendum Sectam ad Curiam Domini Honoris de H: Or, per Liberum Servitium ad inveniendum nobis, quinq; Naves ad tranſitum noſtrum, ad mandatum pro omni Servitio. 39 E. 3. 20. Brafton.

ſection 318. Alſo Note, That the Writ of Right Patent to the Lord is, Quod rectum teneat. without Commandment of the Tenant to render the the Land. But in a Precipe in Capite, and all other Writs, which are directed to the Sheriff, it is, That he Command the Tenant that he render the Land.

5. If a Mannor or an Honour which is holden of the King in Capite, do come to the King by Eſcheat for Treaſon; yet they continue a Mannor and an Honour as they were before; and the Services are ſuch onely as they were before: for if they ſhould hold them in groſſe, the Mannor ſhould be deſtroyed: And it is there ſaid, That if a man be to bring a Writ of Right; for Lands holden of the King in Chief, the Writ ſhall be directed to the Sheriff: but if they be holden of the King as of an Honour, or Mannor, the Writ ſhall be directed to the Bayliff. Mich. 31 H. 8. Dyer. 44. acc.

6. If the Lands be holden of another than of the King, or Queen, then the Writ ſhall be directed to the Lord himſelf, of whom the Lands are holden, if ſo be the Lord be not out of the Realm; for then upon a Certificate made by the Chancellor, the Writ ſhall be directed to the Lords Bayliffs: And where a Biſhop is elect, the Writ ſhall be directed to the Bayliffs of the Biſhop elect, and not to the Biſhop himſelf: and in caſe of a Committee of a Ward of a Mannor, the Writ ſhall be to the Bayliff, of the Committee. But if a man be Guardian in his own Right, then the Writ ſhall be directed to the Guardian himſelf. And where the Heir in Ward cannot hold a Court, for the meanneſs of his Land, that it is but of ſmall value, Then it ſhall be directed to his Lord Paramount. Fitzh. Na. Br. 1. 2. & 3. acc.

2. For whom a Writ of Right lyeth; for whom not: And of what it lyeth, and for what Eſtate; what not. And the ſeverall forms of Writs of Right.

1. NOne ſhall have a Writ of right Patent, but thoſe who have an Eſtate in Fee-ſimple; or as Tenant in Fee-ſimple: An Abbot, Prior, Biſhop, Maſter of an Hoſpital. Alſo, Corporations or bodies Politique; as Mayor and Comminalty, Bayliff and Comminalty, may have, and maintain Writs of Right for their poſſeſſions: But Parſons, Vicars, Chauntry Prieſts, Prebendaries, &c. who have a Patron or Ordinary over them, ſhall not have or maintain Writs of Right Patents. Bracton 285.

2. He who hath a Colledg or Common Seal, ſhall not have Aide, no more then an Abbot, Dean, &c. who may implead, and ſhall be impleaded, and ſhall have a Writ of Right of his poſſeſſions. But it is otherwiſe of a Parſon; for he ſhall not have a Writ of Right: but the higheſt Writ in its Nature which he can have, is a Juris utrum. 44 E. 3. 11.

3. A Prior who is preſentable by the Founder, If he be Impleaded, he ſhall not have Aide of his Patron, becauſe that the Right is in him and his houſe; and he may have a Writ of Right: And if he alieneth without the aſſent of the Chapter, the Succeſſour ſhall have a Writ ſine Aſſenſu Capituli: and if he alieneth with the aſſent of the Chapter, The Writ of Contra formam Collationis lyeth. But a Parſon hath not the meer right in him, and therefore he ſhall not have a Writ of Right, but a Juris utrum. Trin. 11 H. 4. 68.

4. In a Writ of Right Patent, it is a good Plea, That the Demandant hath nothing but in tail. 5 E. 4. 2.

5. In a Quo Jure, which lyeth for Tenant in Fee, where another claimeth Common in his Land, a man ſhall have the View, becauſe it is a Writ of Right; but Tenant in tail ſhall not have this Writ, nor a Writ of Ne injuſte vexes, becauſe they are Writs of Right. 5 E. 4. 2.

6. A Writ of Right of Advowſon lyeth onely for him who claimeth Fee in the Advowſon. Fitz. Na. Br. 30. And if Tenant in tail of an Advowſon recovereth by a Writ of Right, yet he ſhall hold but in tail: And although he cannot have a Writ of Right of an Advowſon in tail; yet he ſhall have and maintain a Quare Impedit. See Fitz. Tit. Judgment, 137.

7. A Writ of Right Patent in London lyeth for none but for him who hath a Fee-ſimple: and ſo it is of a Writ de Rationabili parte betwixt Privies in blood, It lyeth only of a Fee-ſimple. See Fitzh. Na. Br. 19. acc.

3. What ſhall be a good Barr in a Writ of Right; What not.

1. NOte, That in a Writ of Formedon, and in all other Writs (except a Writ of Right) where the Point of the Writ is traverſed, a man may have a new Writ, for that he is at large to other Writs, and barred but to that Action, if not that his Title be found againſt him: But if a man be once barred in a Writ of Right, where the Miſe is joyned upon the meer Right, it is a perpetual barr: and Judgment final ſhall be given. Cro. 6. Part, in Ferrers Caſe.

2. A Quod ei Deforceat in the Nature of a Writ of Right, was brought in Wales: The Tenant joyned the Miſe upon the meer Right: and upon that, a Jury by Venire facias was returned, and 12. appeared, and before Judgment, the Demandant was Nonſuit; upon which, final Judgment was given. In that Caſe, It was Reſolved, Although the Statute of Rutland made 12 E. 6. provided, That Tryal in Wales in a Writ of Right ſhould be by Common Jurours, and by 12; Yet Judgment final ſhould be given there; for although the manner and dignity of the Tryal be altered, yet the ſame Judgment remains as was before. 2. Reſolved, If Judgment final be given in a Writ of Right, where it ought not to be, the ſame ſhall be a barr and conclude the party, untill it be reverſed. 3. It was Reſolved, That if the Tenant after the Miſe joyned, maketh default, That Judgment final ſhall not be given, but a Petit Cape ſhall iſſue out, becauſe peradventure he may ſave his default. Trin. 38 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, 85. Penrys Caſe.

3. If the Demandant in an Aſſiſe of Mortdaunceſter brought againſt him, as in a Writ of Entry ſur Diſſeiſin, or the like, be barred by Action tryed; yet he may have and maintain a Writ of Right, and if the Land be holden of the King in Chief, he may have and maintain a Precipe in Capite. Cook, 4. Part, 43. Nat. Br. 5. acc.

4. In a Plaint, in Treſpaſſe entred in a Court Baron, If the Plaintiff do declare of his Freehold in the nature of a Mortdaunceſtor, or any other reall Action, and the Tenant pleads to the Juriſdiction of the Court, and Judgment is given againſt him for not anſwering, there the Recovery is good, as alſo for the damages thereupon, untill it be reverſed by a Writ of falſe Judgment, becauſe the Lord hath Juriſdiction over the Tenant, and for that the Freehold is holden of him. But if Covenant, Contract, or Treſpaſſe, be done out of the Juriſdiction, or in Land not holden of the Lord, there, and in ſuch Caſe, If Judgment be given, the party againſt whom it is given may have Treſpaſſe, or an Aſſiſe; But Quære, If the Defendant doth admit of the Juriſdiction, and in ſuch Caſe, pleads in Chief, if he ſhall not be barred, or ſhall after avoid the ſaid recovery. 22. Aſſ. 64. See Cook, 6. Part, 7. and 8. Ferrer's Caſe.

3. What perſons may joyn the Miſe in a Writ of Right, what not; And where Judgment finall given upon it, ſhall bind, Where not; And what perſons may joyn in the Writ, What not.

1. IF two Joynt-Tenants be of Land, to them, and to the Heirs of one of them, they ſhall not joyn in a Writ of Right: But if two Joynt-Tenants, and the Heirs of one of them be of an Advowſon; they ſhall joyn in a Writ of Right of Advowſon: and the reaſon of the difference is, becauſe, that in the firſt caſe, they have ſeverall wayes of Remedies, but not in the other Caſe. If the Tenant for life ſhall not joyn with him who hath the Fee, neither the one, nor the other ſhould have remedy, and therefore for neceſſity they ſhall joyn, ex neceſſitas vincit legem. Cook 5. Part, 40. in Dorrel's Caſe.

2. A. ſeiſed of the Mannor of D. in Fee, Covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed thereof to the uſe of himſelf, and B. whom he intended to marry, for the Term of their lives, without Impeachment of Waſte, and after their deceaſe, to the uſe of their firſt Iſſue male, and the Heirs Males of ſuch Iſſue Male, and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to the uſe of the Heirs Males of the body of the ſaid A. and B. lawfully begotten; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to the uſe of C. in Tail, with divers Remainders over; they entermarryed, and had Iſſue D. Afterwards A. dyed without any other Iſſue of the body of B. but the ſaid D; B. enters. In this Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved. 1. That untill Iſſue had, A. and B. were ſeiſed of an Eſtate tail, executed ſub modo, untill the birth of the Iſſue Male, and then they become Tenants for Term of life, the Remainder to the Iſſue Male in tail, the Reverſion to the Heirs Males of A. and B. for the Eſtate for their lives, was not drowned abſolutely, untill they had Iſſue. 2. Reſolved, That B. in this Caſe was

Tenant

Tenant in Tail after poſſibility of Iſſue extinct. 3. That Tenant in tail after poſſibility of Iſſue extinct, had Priviledges: of which, amongſt many others, this was one, That ſhe might joyn the Miſe in a Writ of Right in a ſpecial manner. Cook 11. Part, 80. Lewes Bowles Caſe.

3. Note; That where a Recovery is againſt Tenant in tail in a Writ of Right, upon the Miſe joyned, there the Iſſue in tail ſhall not avoid the Recovery in the ſame point, without any Attaint: and if he do bring in Attaint, and be barred in it, he is without all remedy; as the Book is, 13 E. 4. 4. 3.

4. Cheny Levies a Fine of Lands, and afterwards brought a Writ of Errour to reverſe it; and aſſigned for Errour, That he was within age: Whereupon he had a Scire facias againſt the Conuſee; and upon two Nihils returned, the Court proceeded, and by Witneſſes and inſpection, they reverſed the Fine: Cheny ſold the Lands to others, upon which the firſt Conuſee entred, the Vendees brought a Writ of Entry ſur Diſſeiſin, and againſt the Judgment, before an Exemplification of examination of Witneſſes was given in the Chancery, were given in Evidence, proving him to be of full age: and although the Opinion of the Court ſeemed to be, that the ſame was not available againſt the firſt Judgment; yet the Verdict paſſed according to thoſe Witneſſes: Afterward upon that Judgment, an Attaint was brought: in which alſo the Vendees of Cheny were barred, they affirming the ſaid Verdict, and Judgment upon it. Afterwards they brought a Writ of Right, and the Tenant joyned the Miſe, and choſe tryall by battail; and the Battail being awarded, and the Champions, the Plaintiff in the Writ of Right being demanded, was Nonſuit; ſo final Judgment was given againſt him. Trin. 3 Eliz. Dyer 201. and Trin. 13 Eliz. Dyer 301. Chenys Caſe.

5. A Writ of Right was brought by Two againſt husband and wife, who joyned the Miſe in the Right of the wife; and afterwards the husband made default, the Wife upon Examination was received, and joyned the Miſe upon the meer right; and afterwards made default. It was adjudged, That the Demandant ſhould recover in Common againſt them both in Fee, quit of the Husband and Wife. 44 E. 3. 28. 9 E. 4. 16. Quære if it ſhall bind the husband.

6. In a Writ of Right, the Tenant joyns the Miſe by Grand Aſſiſe; the Proceſs continues untill Niſi Prius; at which time the Tenant maketh default. It was ſaid in ſuch caſe, Judgment finall ſhould not be given, but a Petit Cape ſhould Iſſue, becauſe he might excuſe his default by Impriſonment, or otherwiſe, that he could not come at the day of Niſi Prius: But if at the Petit Cape he doth not appear and ſave his default, then Judgment final ſhall be. And where the King dyeth after the Miſe joyned, and afterwards the Demandant ſues a ſpecial Reſummons, and the Defendant maketh default; The Demandant upon the whole matter ſhall not have Judgment final, but a Grand Cape. If Tenant maketh default after default, after he hath taken day of Imparlance, from one day to another the ſame Term, Judgment final ſhall be given; for when he hath taken day to anſwer in the ſame Term, and maketh default, the ſame is a departure in deſpight of Court. And ſo if the Tenant joyneth the Miſe by his Champion, and he appeareth, and his Champion is not ſeen with him; Judgment final ſhall be given againſt him, becauſe he hath taken upon him to do the thing by his Champion. See Mich. 12 H. 7. 10. See 13 Eliz. Dyer 301. acc.

7. The Lord Windſor brought a Writ of Right againſt Husband and Wife, at the Petit Capias returned, the Wife was Received; and prayed, That becauſe the Demandant offered not himſelf at the firſt, ſcil. the day of Eſſoine, that he might be Nonſuit. But the Opinion of the Court was, That he needs not to do where the Tenant makes default, and a difference was taken where the Iſſue is joyned by Battail or Grand Aſſiſe, and this caſe; for in the caſe of Battail, the Demandant ought to appear, and offer himſelf the firſt day; and his appearance and offer of his Champion ought to be entred in the Roll, but not in this caſe, becauſe the Tenant before had made default: afterwards the Wife was received, and then vouched to Warranty; and afterwards ſhe waived the Voucher, and joyned the Miſe upon the Grand Aſſiſe; and 4. Knights appeared, and one of them was challenged, becauſe he had married the daughter of the Demandant: and the ſame was holden a good Challenge, and he was drawn out; and a Summons awarded to ſummon another. Mich. 2 Mar. Dyer 103. The Lord Windſors Caſe.

4. Of the Election of the Grand Aſſiſe; and of the 4. Knights: in what manner arrayed. And where the Tryall may be without 4. Knights: And of the Triall by Battail.

1. IN a Writ of Right, the parties put themſelves upon the Grand Aſſiſe; and proceſs iſſued to the Sheriff, to ſummon 4. Knights to chooſe the Grand Aſſiſe; who returned 2. Knights, and 2. Serjeants, and that there were not more Knights within the County, who were not of Affinity to the one, or to the other. It was holden, That the Retorn was ſufficient, and it was not traverſable whether they were Knights or not: For the Writ, although it be Quatuor Milites; yet if the Retorn be generoſos, it is good. And afterwards they choſe 16. de ſeipſis girt with Swords, all within the County. By which it appeareth, That the Grand-Aſſiſe muſt be of the Number of 16 at the leaſt. And it was ſaid, That if any of the Four Knights be Challenged, the Challenge ſhall be tryed by the other Knights. 39 E. 3. 3. Book Entries, 103. that the Retorn is good. But Quære if there need to be 16. of the Grand-Aſſiſe; For that the form of the Writ to the 4. Knights, is, Ad eligendumex ſeipſis et aliis, Duodecim &c. 1 Ma. Dyer 98.

2. In a Writ of Right, the 4. Knights retorned the Pannel of the Grand-Aſſiſe, which were 16. by name. It was moved for a Queſtion, If a Venire facias, or a Habeas Corpora, ſhould iſſue to the Sheriff? It was holden, That a Venire facias ſhould iſſue: but that is in the nature of a Habeas Corpora, becauſe the Names of the Jurours are put in the Venire facias to the Sheriff: and if they do appear upon that Writ, they ſhall be taken. Hill. 30 Eliz. Dyer 270.

3. In a Writ of Right, the Miſe was joyned upon the Grand-Aſſiſe, and the Jury and the four Knights Eſſiors appeared the day of the Eſſoine (come oportet) and they being 16. in Number, an Oath was given to them præciſè dicere veritatem; and by the direction of the Court, the Tenant firſt gave his Evidence, becauſe the Miſe was firſt joyned and prayed by him; and the Verdict was found for the Tenant, Hill. 8 Eliz. Dyer, 247.

4. A man brought a Writ of Right-Cloſe in Ancient Demeſne, and made Proteſtation to ſue in the Nature of a Writ of Right at the Common-Law: and the Tenant joyned the Miſe upon the meer right, and thereupon removed the Record by an Accedas ad Curiam. But becauſe that was holden no good Cauſe, a Procedendo was awarded to the Bayliffs. And Note, It is there ſaid, That there is a Writ in the Regiſter, de Jurat. loco Magn. Aſſiſe. eligend. 1 H. 7. 29. Hill. 2 Ma. Dyer 111.

5. Where a Right cannot be given to a ſtranger, who hath nothing in the Land; And where it ſhall remain, notwithſtanding a Releaſe of Actions.

1. THE Caſe was this, Tenant for life, the Remainder in Fee; Tenant for life made a Leaſe for years: The Leſſee entred; Tenant for life Granted the Tenements aforeſaid to C. To have from Michaelmas following, for life, the Leſſee Attorned; C. entred, and made a Leaſe at Will, to whom Tenant for life levyed a Fine, he in the Remainder entred. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved, (amongſt other points) 1. That when C. entred by vertue of the ſaid void Grant, that he was a Diſſeiſor. 2. Reſolved, That if the Fine had bin levyed to the Diſſeiſor, that he who had right unto the Remainder, might enter for the forfeiture, for that the right of a particular Eſtate might be forfeited, and entry given thereby to him who had but a Right in Remainder. 3. It was Reſolved, That if a man be Diſſeiſed, and the Diſſeiſee levyeth a Fine to a ſtranger, the Diſſeiſor ſhould detain the Land for ever, becauſe the Diſſeiſee againſt his own Fine cannot claim the Land, and the Conuſee cannot enter, for that the Right which the Conuſor had, cannot be transferred by the Fine, but by the Fine, the Right is extinct, of which the Diſſeiſor ſhall take advantage. Cook 2. Part, Buckler's Caſe. 55, 56.

2. A man made a Leaſe for years, to begin after the end of a former Leaſe for years then in being: the firſt Leaſe determined, the ſecond Leſſee did not enter; but he in the Reverſion entred, and made a Feoffment, and levyed a Fine with Proclamations, and five years paſſed after the Proclamations, without Entry or claim made by the ſecond Leſſee for years. In this Caſe it was Reſolved. 1. That the ſecond Leſſee was barred by the Fine and Proclamations paſſed, for although he had not an Eſtate, that he could levy a Fine, yet he he had ſuch an Intereſt as was within the Statute, which was barred by the Fine; And it was Reſolved, That he who hath but a naked Right, or Title to an Inheritance, cannot levy a Fine to a ſtranger; but yet he might be barred by a Fine levyed by the Tenant of the Land. 2. Reſolved, That by the ſaid Feoffment, the ſecond Leſſee had but a Right, and when his future Intereſt began, then he had an Eſtate in the Land, which he might re-veſt by his re-Entry; And it was ſaid, That this Caſe did differ from Saunders Caſe. 21 Eliz. where it was adjudged, That a Leaſe for years, was not within the Statute of 4 H. 7. for that then at the time of the Fine levyed, the Leſſee had not a power to enter and take the profits, but onely a future Intereſt; which (if it were deveſted) he had not any means to reveſt it. Cook, Paſc. 3 Jac. in C. B. Sattin's Caſe. 124.

3. If there be Tenant in Tail, the Reverſion in Fee, and he in the Reverſion Diſſeiſeth the Donee, and maketh a Feoffment in Fee, and the Donee re-entreth, he leaveth the Reverſion in the Feoffee. But if the Donee be Diſſeiſed, and the Donor diſſeiſeth the Diſſeiſor, and maketh a Feoffment in Fee, and the Donee doth make regreſſe, the Feoffee ſhall not have the Reverſion, but the Diſſeiſor; for there is a difference betwixt an Eſtate, and a Right; An Eſtate may well paſſe to the Feoffee by the Feoffment, as where he in the Reverſion Diſſeiſeth the Donee, or the Leſſee for life, but where the Donee, or Leſſee is diſſeiſed; now he in the Reverſion hath but a Right, which he cannot paſſe to another, and therefore, when he Diſſeiſeth the Diſſeiſor, and maketh a Feoffment, it paſſeth the Eſtate which he hath gained by the Diſſeiſin, and extinguiſheth the Ancient Right, which he could not transfer to another; And then the firſt Diſſeiſor hath the firſt poſſeſſion, and better right then the Feoffee of him in the Reverſion, for he cometh in under him who diſſeiſed the firſt Diſſeiſor, and the Ancient Right is extinct. See Cook 6. Part, in Sir Moile Finches Caſe. 70. in fine.

4. If a man Diſſeiſeth me of my Land, or diſpoſſeſſeth me of my goods; And I do releaſe to him all Actions, yet I may enter into my Lands, or take my goods, for that the diſcharge of my Action is no bar of my Right. See Cook 4. Part, 63. Litt. 115. acc. And ſee Cook 8. Part, 152. in Althams Caſe. That when a man hath divers means to come to his Right; he may releaſe one of them ſpecially; and yet take benefit of the other: but when a man hath not any means to come to his Lands but by way of Action, there by a Releaſe of all Actions, by that, in Husband, his Right in Judgment of Law to his Land is gone; like the Caſe of 9 E. 4. 49. where a Releaſe of all advantages upon an accompt, is a good bar in an Action of Debt upon an Accompt.

5. A man did releaſe to his Tenant for life, all his right to the Land, for the life of the ſaid Tenant for life, and that he and his Heirs would claim no right in the ſaid Land, for the life of the ſaid Tenant for life, and dyed; The Tenant for life afterwards committed Waſte in the Land; the Heir brought an Action of Waſte againſt him, and he pleaded the Releaſe in bar. In that Caſe, It was adjudged no bar, becauſe that nothing was extinct by the releaſe, but that which was in Action at the time of the Releaſe made; and that was not the Waſte. 44 E. 3. 33. acc.

6. A man Covenanted by Indenture, to pay 40 l. per annum, for 21 years; afterwards the Covenantee did releaſe all manner of Actions: It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Arrerages onely were diſcharged; and that the future Covenant was not Releaſed, for if the Annuity did after encur, he might have an Action of Covenant for it, if it were not paid. Mich. 24 Eliz. in C. B. adjudged acc.

7. A. had an Eſtate in certain Lands for Term of life, without impeachment of Waſte; the Inheritance expectant in B. A. cut down divers Timber-Trees growing upon the Land. The Queſtion was, Whether he in the Reverſion might take the Timber-Trees, or that they did belong to A. In this Caſe, It was Reſolved. 1. That if the Eſtate had bin made for life, without any ſuch clauſe, that then, without Queſtion, he in the Reverſion ſhould have the Trees, becauſe they were parcell of his Inheritance, and what Intereſt the Tenant for life had in the Trees, was by the ſeverance of them from the Lands determined, becauſe he had them annexed to the Land. 2. That the ſaid clauſe without Impeachment, gave not any greater Intereſt in the Trees to the Tenant then ſhe had before, but ſhall onely ſerve, that ſhe ſhall not be impeached in any Action of Waſte; either to recover the place Waſted, or Damages; but the property or Intereſt, or the Right of him in the Reverſion to the Trees, is not given to the Tenant for life; by the words of that Clauſe. The Lady Finch and Sir Moyle Finches Caſe. vouched in Cook, 4. Part, 63. Herlakenden's Caſe.

Dum fuit infra Ætatem.

1. THis is a Writ which lyeth where an Enfant within age Allieneth his Lands which he hath in Fee-simple, or for Term of life; for then, when he cometh of full age, he may either enter into the Land, or bring this Writ if he pleaseth; and so may his Issue do upon the Allienation of his Father; but before they come of full age, they cannot have this Writ, because the words of the Writ are, Qui plenæ ætatis esse ut dicitur. See 39 H. 6. 42. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 192. acc.

2. If an Enfant maketh a Lease for years of his Lands; and after releaseth to the Lessee and his Heirs; Quære, if in that Case, he can have Dum fuit infra ætatem, See Old Natura Brevium: that he cannot have this Writ, but if the Lessee entreth he may have an Assise, because the Entry of the Lessee, and continuance of the Seisin of the Land afterwards, is a Disseisin to the Enfant. Quære also, if the Release be to him and his Heirs, upon a Lease for life; for in that Case, the book seems to be, That this Writ will lye.

3. If two Joynt-Tenants be in Fee within age, and one of them maketh a Feoffment in Fee of his Moyety, and dyeth, the survivor cannot enter by reason of the Enfancy of his companion, for by his Feoffment, the joynture was severed so long as it doth remain in force; and therefore in such Case, the Heir of the Feoffor shall have Dum fuit infra ætatem, or shall enter into the Moyety: But if two Joynt-Tenants be within age, and they Joyn in a Feoffment, in such Case, a joynt Right doth remain in them, and therefore, if one dyeth, the Right shall survive, and the survivor shall have the Land, as from the first Feoffor; for otherwise this mischief will follow, That the heir of the Feoffor who dyeth, could not enter, because that the Right doth survive, nor shall the survivor enter, because he shall not take the benefit of the Enfancy of his Companion, but that the survivor shall be driven to his Writ of Right, which without doubt he may have, because that after the Feoffment, the Joynt-Tenants might have joyned in it. Cook 8. Part, 43. in Wittingham's Case.

4. If there be Husband and Wife, and the Husband be seised of Lands in the Right of his Wife, and during the Non-age of them both, the Husband doth make a Feoffment in Fee of the Lands, or otherwise Allieneth the Lands, and dyeth, the Wife after the death of the Husband, when she is of full age, may have a Dum fuit infra ætatem, and avoid the Feoffment of her Husband, or she may have a Writ of Cui in vita: But if the Husband be of full age, and the Wife within age, and they Allien the Lands of the Wife, and afterwards the Husband dyeth: It hath bin a Question, if the Wife should have Dum fuit infra ætatem: But I conceive the better Opinion hath alwayes been, That she might have Dum fuit infra ætatem, or Cui in vita at her pleasure, for when they joyn in a Feoffment of the Lands of the Wife, it shall be said the Feoffment of the Wife untill she doth disagree; For if the Husband and Wife make a Gift in Tail, or a Lease for life of the Lands of the Wife, rendring Rent; If the Husband dyeth, the Reversion is onely in the Wife, and she may accept the Rent, and that shall bind her and her Heirs; but then if she will not accept the Rent, but bring her Writ of Dum fuit infra ætatem, the same will lye, for by that Writ, she affirmeth the Feoffment, and then it shall not be said the Feoffment of the Husband alone, but the Feoffment of the Wife alone, after the death of the Husband; and, being her Feoffment within age, she at full age may have and maintain Dum fuit infra ætatem. See 34 H. 6. 31. 19 H. 6. 45. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 192. acc.

5. Note, If the Husband within age, maketh a Feoffment in Fee of the Land, which he is seised in the Right of his Wife, and dyeth, the Heir of the Husband cannot enter, and avoid the Feoffment, because that nothing discendeth to him from the Husband, for the Law doth not respect what Estate the Auncestor giveth, but what Estate he hath before the Gift, and what Right or Title the Ancestor doth leave to Discend to the Heir: But the Wife in such Case, when the Husband within age, maketh a Feoffment in Fee, may enter in her own Right, in whose Right her Husband might have entred: But if the Husband within age had taken a Wife, Tenement in tail, and had made a gift in Tail to another, by which he gained a new Reversion in Fee, there the Entry is given to the Wife, for that the Husband might have entred in her Right, but if he doth not enter and defeat the Estate Tail by the Husband Enfant, the new Reversion by the Act of Law, doth vanish, and the Wife by operation of Law, shall be presently seised of her Antient Estate. See 4 H. 6. 2. Cook 8. Part, in Whittingham's Case.

6. See, where Dum fuit infra ætatem was brought of a Rent, and yet by some, the Grant it self was void, but by others, the delivery of the Deed is not void. 46 E. 3. 34.

7. A Formedon in the Remainder was brought by an Enfant, of a Remainder limitted to his Father: It was adjudged, That the Tenant without a Plea pleaded, could not pray that the Paroll might Demur for the Non-age of the Demandant; And in that Case it was Resolved, That in all Actions reall, which an Enfant bringeth of his own Possession; although he hath the Lands by Discent, and although the Tenant plead the Deed, or Warranty of his Ancestor, the paroll shall not demur for his Non-age, for when the Ancestor dyeth seised, and the Lands Discend to an Enfant, and he entreth, and taketh the profits, it should be a prejudice to the Enfant, that he should lose his Possession which he had, and should be thereof delayed, untill his full age, and the granting that the paroll shall demur, shall be by the intendment of the Law, in favour of the Enfant; But when a naked Right discendeth to him, there the Enfant is not at such prejudice, and therefore the Plea shall demur for his Non-age. 2. In all Actions, when a naked Right in Fee-simple discends from one Ancestor (who was once in possession) to an Enfant, there in an Action Aunceſtrel brought by him, the Tenant without any Plea pleaded, may pray that the paroll demur; as in a Writ of Right, Formedon in the Reverter, brought by an Enfant as Heir, and he layes the expleas in his Ancestor. But in a Formedon in the Discender, although he demandeth a Fee-simple, yet because his Ancestor, whose Heir he is, was never seised, nor took any expleas, for that Cause, the Tenant without a Plea, cannot Plead, That the paroll do demur, because that the Remainder was never in the Possession of any of his Aunceſtors, and the Demandant himself shall be the first, in which it shall vest if he have Seisin of the Land. 3. In all Actions, Aunceſtrell Possessory, as Cosinage Aeil, &c. the Tenant cannot, without a Plea plead, pray that the paroll demur for Non-age of the Demandant: But at the Common-Law, If the Tenant had pleaded a Feoffment, or other out of his Ancestor in Bar; by which it appeared, that either nothing, or that but a naked right at most descended; then the Tenant upon such Plea pleaded, might pray that the paroll might demur. Cook 6. Part, 6. Markalls Case. See 4. Ma. Dyer, 137. Bassett's Case. acc.

Dum Non fuit Compos Mentis. Ideot, and Lunatique.

1. THe Writ of Dum Non fuit Compos Mentis, is a Writ which lyeth; where a man that is out of his Wit, scil. Mad, or Frantick, Alieneth his Lands which he hath in Fee-simple, and afterwards dyeth: In such Case, his Heir after his decease, shall have and maintain this Writ to recover the Land again; but he himself shall not have this Writ, because a man shall not be received for to stultify and disable himself; and so it is if he Allien in Tail, for life, or years. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 202.

2. A man who was Non Compos Mentis, made a Feoffment in Fee, and afterwards took back an Estate for his own life. It was adjudged in that Case, he was remitted: Whereupon Issue was taken, Whether he were Non Compos Mentis at the time, or not. 25. Ass. acc.

3. If a man who is of good and perfect memory, maketh his Will, and afterwards by the visitation of God, he becomes of unsound Memory, (as every man for the most part, before his death is) this Act of God shall not be a revocation of his Will, which he made when he was of good and perfect memory. Cook 4. Part, 61. in Forse and Hemblings Case.

4. A. bound himself in a Bond of 1000 l. to B. and this Bond being sued against him, he exhibited a Bill to be relieved against the same, and set forth in his Bill, that at the time of the entring the said Bond, he was not Compos Mentis; and whether in this Case, a Prohibition should be Awarded, was the Question: And in this Case it was Resolved, 1. That every Deed, Gift, or Feoffment made by Non Compos Mentis, is avoidable, but not by himself, because he shall not be received to stultify and disable himself. 2. That it being against a Maxime in Law, That a man shall not be received to disable himself; he shall not for that have relief in any Court of Equity; for that should be the overthrowing of a Principle and Ground in Law. Cook 4. Part, 124. Beverlyes Case.

5. If a man who is Non Compos Mentis, do levy a Fine, and doth declare the use thereof, this Declaration ſhall bind him as long as the Fine remaineth in force, foraſmuch as he hath bin admitted as a man of ſound memory to levy the Fine, the Law, as long as the Fine remaineth in force, admitteth him to declare the uſe thereof. Cook 2. Part, 58. in Beckwith's Caſe.

6. Note, That privies in bloud, as the Heir, or privies in repreſentation, ſhall avoid Acts done by one who is Non Compos mentis: But if one who is Non Compos mentis, levyeth a Fine, or ſuffereth a Covin, Recovery, or acknowledgeth the Statute, in ſuch Caſe, neither his Heir nor Executor ſhall avoid the ſame, becauſe that thoſe are matters of Record; which by no ſuch Averment, that the party was not Compos mentis, ſhall be avoided; and alſo ſuch Averment ſhould be againſt the Office and dignity of the Judge, for that he cannot by Law take a Recognizance, or a Fine, or a Conuſance from one who is Non Compos Mentis. Cook 4. Part, 125. in Berkeyes Caſe. But Privies in Tenure, or in Law, as the Lord by Eſcheat, ſhall not have benefit of the Enfancy of a man, or of the Coverture of a Woman, or that the party was Non Compos mentis, as was Reſolved in Cook 3. Part, 44. in Whittingham's Caſe.

7. If a man who is Non Compos Mentis, maketh a Feoffment in Fee in his own proper perſon, and dyeth, his Heir within age, he ſhall not be in Ward; but if he maketh a Feoffment in Fee by an Attorney, and dyeth, his Heir within age, there the Heir ſhall be in Ward; Or if he dyeth without Heir, the Land ſhall Eſcheat: And ſo it is in the Caſe of an Enfant, if he maketh a Feoffment in his proper perſon, and dyeth without Heir; but otherwiſe it is if he maketh a Feoffment by Letter of Attorney. 7 H. 4, 5. & 12. acc.

8. If a man levyeth a Fine of Lands with Proclamations, and at the time of the Fine levyed, he who hath right to the Land is Non Compos Mentis; and afterwards he recovereth his memory, he ought to make, and purſue his claim within five years after his Recovery; But it is otherwiſe of a meer Ideot, becauſe his Heir may enter, or bring his Action for the Land. Cook, 4. Part, 125.

9. He who is Non Compos Mentis ſhall not loſe his life for Felony, or Murder, becauſe he cannot be an example to other men; and ſo it is if he do commit Petit Treaſon; But he who is Non Compos Mentis, may commit High Treaſon, as if he offer to kill the King, &c. for that the King is Caput et ſalus Reipublicæ. See Fitz. Nat. Br. 202. Nor ſhall he forfeit his Lands or goods for Felony or Petit Treaſon, becauſe it appeareth that he had not diſcretion. Plow. Com. 19. acc.

10. The Marqueſſe of Winchester, as was ſuppoſed, by his Will in Writing, deviſed divers Mannors to his reputed ſons, and further deviſed, That divers Mannors ſhould be ſold by them, and bequeathed divers Legacies, and Plate to them; and the Will was endeavoured to be proved in the Prerogative Court: It was Reſolved by the Court, becauſe it appeared by Circumſtances, That the ſaid Marqueſſe was not of ſana Memoria at the time of making the ſaid ſuppoſed Will; a Prohibition was Awarded, and the reaſon given was, becauſe the Will concerning the Lands, and the goods, were both mixt together, and if they ſhould proceed concerning the goods, the ſame would prevent the tryall at Common-Law, which did concern the Lands. 2. In that Caſe, It was Reſolved, That it is not ſufficient, that the Teſtator be of a memory, when he makes his Will to give an Anſwer to familiar Queſtions, but he ought to be of a diſpoſing memory, ſo as he be able to make a diſpoſition of his Lands with reaſon and underſtanding, and that is ſuch a Memory which the Law underſtands by ſana Memoria. Cook 6. Part, 23. the Marqueſſe of Winchesters Caſe.

11. If a man who is Non Compos Mentis, or an Enfant, or a Biſhop, Prebend, Parſon, &c. do make a voluntary Grant upon an Eſcheat, or upon a forfeiture of a Copyhold ſuch a Grant is good, and ſhall bind for ever, for the Cuſtome is, That the Tenements are Demiſed and Demiſeable per Dominum Manerii, &c. pro tempore exiſtent. But if a Diſſeiſor, or the Feoffee of a Diſſeiſor, or any other who hath but a tortious, or deforceable eſtate, ſubject to an Action or Entry, holdeth a Court, and Grameth Copy-Eſtates, ſuch voluntary Grants made by him, ſhall not bind him who hath Right when he hath re-continued the Mannor by Action, or Entry. But if one who hath ſuch defeaſible Eſtate, doth admit one upon a ſurrender, or doth admit the Heir upon a Diſcent, ſuch admittances are good, and within the Cuſtome. Trin. 26 Eliz. in B. R. Clark and Penſather's Caſe. Cook 4. Part, 23.

12. In Criminall cauſes, as Felony, &c. the Act and wrong of a man Non Compos Mentis, ſhall not be reputed unto him for theſe cauſes Actus non facit reum, niſi mens ſit rea, and he is ſaid to be amens ſcil. ſine mente; and therefore his madneſs being the cauſe thereof, and not his intention, is is excuſable. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 247.

13. Of an Ideot or Fool naturall, the Cuſtody of him is given to the King by the Law as his Tutor and Governour; and his Lands are given to the King by the Statute of Prerogativa Regis, and the uſe of them is in the King, becauſe the Freehold of them is in the Ideot: and the King ſhall have have the Cuſtody of his body, Goods, and Chattells, as well as of his Lands, and other Inheritances which he hath, either by Purchaſe, or as Heir at the Common-Law: And if an Ideot à Nativitate, do Allien his Lands at full age, the King ſhall have a Scire facias againſt the Allience, and reſeize the Lands into the Kings hands; and the Inheritance of the Lands ſhall be veſted in the Ideot. See Fitzh. Nat. Br. 232. Regiſter, in the Writ de Idiota inquirendo. 17 E. 3. 11. 18 E. 3. Tit. Scire facias, 10. But the King ſhall not have the Cuſtody of the Lands which the Ideot holdeth by Copy of Court-Roll, becauſe the ſame is but an Eſtate at Will by the Common-Law, and if the King ſhould have the Cuſtody of the ſame, the ſame ſhould be a prejudice to the Lord of the Manor; But yet the Alienation of an Ideot of his Copyhold Land, after Office found, ſhall be Avoided. 13 Eliz. Dyer, 302. And all Alienations, or Gifts made by an Ideot before Office found, ſhall be Avoided after Office found; but if the Ideot dyeth before Office found, after his death no Office can be found to Entitle the King to his Land: And Non Compos Mentis, after Office found is in the like Caſe as an Ideot; And the Writ de Idiota Inquirenda in the Regiſter, extends aſwell to Non Compos Mentis, as to a Fool Naturall, and are in the ſame Caſe, as to their Alienation of their Lands and goods. Cook, 5. Part, 125. acc.

14. In an Action of Treſpaſſe brought, the Defendant pleaded, That it was found by Office, that the Plaintiff was a Lunatique; and that the King ſeiſed his Lands, and by his Letters Patents granted the Rule and Government of the Plaintiff, and of his Lands to the Defendant quam diu, as the perſon was a Lunatique to take the profits to his own uſe, and ſo juſtified, and prayed in Aid of the King. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That he ſhould not have Aid, becauſe the King is bound to keep the Lunatique, his Wife, Children, and Houſhold, with the profits of his Lands without taking any thing to his own uſe; and the King after Office found, hath onely proviſion, and hath not the Cuſtody of the body, and of the Lands of a Non Compos Mentis, as he hath of an Ideot; And he hath nothing to Grant over; And in that Caſe, It was Reſolved, That if a man of his own wrong takes ſo much upon him, he ſhall be but as Bayliff, and accomptable as Bayliff to him, who is Non Compos Mentis, or to his Executors or Adminiſtrators. 28 H. 8. in C. B. rott. 401. Fraunces Caſe.

15. A. ſeiſed of divers Mannors holden of the Queen in Capite, dyed ſeiſed, the ſame Diſcended to B. his Son: It was found by Office, That B. was a Lunatique, and ſo had been long before the death of his Father: The Queen Granted the Cuſtody of him and his Lands to F. after which there was another Office found in the County of Y. of the Seiſin of A. his death, and that B. was his Heir, and of full age. In that Caſe, It was Reſolved, That the King was not to have any meanrates in this Caſe for default of Livery ſued, or tendred becauſe no Lacheſſe could be imputed to the Heir before, and ever ſince the death of his Anceſtor; and the Lacheſſe of his friends ſhall not hurt him; Otherwiſe if he had bin, if at any time he had bin ſanæ Memoria, ſince the death of his Anceſtor. Paſc. 15 Jac. Butcher's Caſe. Hob. 137. and ſo it was adjudged. Mich. 10 Jac. in the Court of Wards, in one Vaughans Caſe.

16. A man Deviſed a houſe in L. to B. his Wife for life, and after her death, made Feoffees of the ſaid houſe to keep it in reparations, and to beſtow the reſt of the profits upon the reparation of the High-wayes there: A. and his Wife being dead; The houſe deſcended to C. an Enfant: It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That this Deviſe was within the Statute of 43 Eliz. of Charitable Uſes, to have relief; for although the Deviſe were utterly void, yet it was within the words (limitted and appointed to Charitable uſes) Otherwiſe it had bin, if he were an Enfant Non Compos Mentis, Lunatique, or the like that gave it; or that one appointed that which was not his own to Charitable Uſes. Paſc. 15 Jac. in Coliſon's Caſe. Hob. 136.

17. In Treſpaſſe of Trover and Converſion of Beans, the Caſe was, That the Lands upon which the Beans grew, were the Lands of a Lunatique, and his Copyhold, and the Lord of the Manor had granted unto one the Cuſtody of the Land, by whoſe Heir and Aſſent, the party did ſow the Lands. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Action in this Caſe, was to be brought in the name of the Lunatique, for that there was no Intereſt gained in his Land by the Commitment; And the Lord hath not power over the Lunatiques Land, without a Cuſtome; For the imitation of the Kings power over his Free-hold, makes no conſequence, for the Lord of the Manner, for Copyhold; and although in the Kings Caſe, the Statute is but an affirmation of the Common-Law; yet the collaterall incidents of Eſtates, as Dower, Tenancy by the Curteſy, Wardſhips, &c. are not without ſpeciall Cuſtome. Hill. 15 Jac. in B. R. Rott. 519. Cooks and Dawſon's Caſe. Hob. 215. See Poph. 141. the ſame Caſe.

18. A. ſeiſed of a Mannor for life, where were many Copyholds, Tenements Grantable by Copy of Court-Roll for life, in poſſeſſion, and for another.

ther in Reverſion, Granted the Stewardſhip by Deed under his hand and Seal to J. S. for life, with a Fee for executing thereof; and afterwards he became a Lunatique, and Non Compos Mentis, and ſo was found by Inquiſition, who was Committed to J. D. under the Seal of the Court of Wards: The Queſtion was, Whether the Steward by the conſent of the Committees, or the Committee himſelf, by their Steward, might Grant Copyhold Eſtates according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor. It was Reſolved by Hobart Chief Juſtice, and Tanfeild Chief Baron, That the ſaid Committees could not Grant any Copyhold Eſtates for that they themſelves by Law, had no Eſtate in the Mannor, nor are Lords thereof for the time being: But that the ſaid Lunatique by his Steward might Grant Copyhold Eſtates, according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor. J.P.
Sc.

To the Right Honourable,

Sir ROBERT FOSTER, Knight, Lord Chief Juſtice of His Majeſties Court of Kings-Bench;

Sir ORLANDO BRIDGMAN, Knight and Baronet, Lord Chief Juſtice of His Majeſties Court of Common-Pleas; MATTHEVV HALE, Lord Chief Baron of His Majeſties Court of Exchequer.

And the reſt of the Honourable Juſtices of the ſaid ſeverall COURTS.

My Lords,

WHen I publiſhed the First Part of this Work, Your Lordſhips were not ſettled in thoſe Honourable Places of Judicature, which you now hold, which was the Cauſe, Wherefore in That Part, your Lordſhips were not named by your particular Names and Titles: But it was my full Deſire and Reſolution then, That not onely that Part, but the whole enſuing Work (when perfected) ſhould lye under the Cenſure of your Gravities, for the Allowance and Approbation of it: I then engaged my ſelf by Promiſe, That (if God did give me life) in a ſhort time to finiſh the whole Work; Which now (with much Labour and Pains) I have brought to paſſe; Dividing the Whole, into Three Volumes, the Laſt of them being now in the Preſs.

For the Work it ſelf, I ſhall ſay no more, then what I ſaid in my firſt Epiſtle Dedicatory; Only this I ſhall add, That as in the Tender of ſeverall Baggs of Money, wherein are many Pieces of Gold and Silver, ſome few Pieces may unwittingly ſlip in; which although for the matter of them, they are pure, good, and of value; yet becauſe they have not a Lawfull Inſcription and Stamp ſet upon them, they may be refuſed, in point of payment, as current Money: So in this Grand Work, ſome Caſes may happen to be found, which (although for the matter of them, they may be Law, yet) becauſe they have not had and received an approved Allowance, may lye under a Cenſure, not to be ſo; And therefore, becauſe I ſhall not preſume to ſay, That all the Caſes vouched and abridged in this Whole Work, are Current Law at this day, I do ſubmit them to your Lordſhips Profound Learning and Judgments; And conclude with ſuch my humble Petition to Your Lordſhips, as I made in the Epiſtle to the Firſt Part, That your Lordſhips would be pleaſed to Accept of theſe my weak Endeavours and Pains, for the Propagating of ſo Neceſſary and Uſefull a Work; and to honour the Whole, with Your Lordſhips Allowance and Protections.

From my Study in Grayes-Inne, the 23. of January, 1661.

Your Lordſhips in all Duty and Service,

William Hughes.

To

TO

The Honourable Society of Grayes-Inne; the Readers, Barresters, and Students of the said Society.

Gentlemen,

THE First Part of this Work, which I publiſhed a Year and a half ſince, having found good Acceptance with many Eminent Lawyers, as a Work Neceſſary, and Uſefull, for all Practizers and Students of the Common-Law: And I having now Finiſhed the Whole Work, which I have divided into Three Volumes; The Laſt of which, is now in the Preſſe: I did not think upon any Perſons (next to the Honourable Judges of the Courts of Common-Law) to whom I might preſent the Whole Work, then to this Honourable Society, of which I have been a Member Fifty Five Years and upwards. To which Honourable Society, I have ever given ſo great Reſpect, That I could never think, That any thing which I could do, could equall the Love which I bare to It, and the Gentlemen the Members of the ſame; And therefore it hath been my only aym and end, in my ſetting forth of ſome Tracts of Law, and Reports of Caſes, That they might Contribute ſomething to the furtherance, and regulating of their Studies of the Law, and in their Practice of the ſame.

I am now, as it were, confectus ſenio, and not in a Condition to take in hand any further matter of this Nature, or Kind; Wherefore, tanquam Syngraphàm Amoris, I preſent theſe my laſt intended Labours to You of this Honourable Society, hoping, that you will accept of the ſame, with the like Love, and Affection, as I have tendred it. It may, peradventure, be expected by ſome of You, That I ſhould (as all other Reporters of Caſes and Tracts of Law have accuſtomed to do) have ſaid ſomething in this my Dedication, of the Antiquity, Excellency, and Precedency of the Common-Law of England, above all other humane Lawes: But, ſo much hath been written by others, in their ſeverall Epiſtles to their Works, That I can add little thereunto, and therefore I have been ſilent thereof herein: Yet, If you pleaſe to look into the Work it ſelf, you ſhall therein find ſome mention to be made of the ſame.

Some Books of REPORTS, coming forth very lately, when I had almoſt finiſhed the Third Volume, I conceived, That I might be ſtreimed in time, for the finiſhing thereof, Wherefore I was enforced, (becauſe I was deſirous that the whole Work might be compleated by my ſelf) to lay out my whole time about the ſame. And as it is mentioned by Virgil in his 8th Book Æneid. of the Carefull Houſe-wife,

——— Cùm fœmina primùm
Cui tolerare colo vitam, tenuique Minerva,
Impoſitum cinerem, et ſopitos ſuſcitat ignes,
Noctem addens operi, famulaſque, ad lumina, longo
Exercet penſo; Caſtum ut ſervare cubile
Conjugis, et poſſit, parvos educere gnatos:

So, I may truly ſay, I was driven, Night and Day, Early and Late, to ariſe, ſit up, and ſpend my whole time, in the Collection of this Work, (not ſo much for my own Advantage; as) that I might (during my life-time) perfect it, and ſo leave it for your Uſes; and as a Remembrance of the Love, which I bear to this Honourable Society. Wherefore, here I commit it to your Favourable Acceptance: And if you ſhall find any Errours either in the matter, as miſ-collected by me, or in the Printing of it; My Requeſt is, That you would be pleaſed lightly to paſſe them over, or Correct them, if need ſhall require it. And ſo wiſhing, That theſe my Labours and Endeavours, may add ſomething to your Studies and Practices, I humbly Leave it to due Conſideration.

Eccleſiaſtical

Ecclesiastical Persons, Courts, and Causes.

1. Of Bishops, their Election, Creation, and Investure, and Jurisdiction: And of other Ecclesiastical Persons; and of Acts done by them, or to them.

THE Arch-Bishopricks, and all the Bishopricks of the Realm of England, were of King's Foundation, and they were the Founders of them all: At the first, they were donative, per traditionem bachuli et pastoralis annuli. But King John by his Charter, Anno 17. of his Reign, de communi consensu Baronum, granted, that they should be eligible, and after that time came in Congé de Elire. Cook 5. Part, 14. in Bancroft's Case.

2. They held the Possessions of their Bishopricks per Baroniam, as appeareth 22 Ass. Pat. Anno 18. Ken. 3. Member. 17. Mandatum est omnibus Episcopis, qui convenerunt sunt apud Glocestriam, die Sabbat. Cruc. Sanctæ Katherinæ firmiter inhibendo, Quod sicut Baroniam suam quas de Rege tenent diligunt, nullo modo præsumant Consilium tenere de aliquibus quæ ad Coronam Regis pertinent, in quæ personam Regis, vel Statum suum, vel Statum Consilii sui contingunt: Sciunt pro certo, quod si fecerint, Rex inde se capiat ad Baronias suas. And they sit in Parliaments by reason of their Baronies and temporal Possessions. See Rott. Pat. Anno 18. Hen. 3. Cook 5. Part, in Cawdries Case. 7 H. 4. in Kellaway, 184. in Dr. Standish's Case.

3. First, To the Creation of every Bishop were required two things: 1. Election. 2 Confirmation, Consecration, and Investure: The Election was by a Licence under the great Seal of England, which was in the Nature of a Letter missive to the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedrall Church, to elect such a Person as the King shall nominate unto them by his Letters Patents, to the Bishoprick being void: For the form and manner of the Election, and within what time it is to be done. See the Statute of 25 H. 8. cap. 20.

4. By Election the party is not absolute Bishop in all intents and purposes; He is a Bishop nominè only non re: Non habet totalem Jurisdictionem, nec Ordinis. By such Election he is called only elect, Fitz. Na. Br. 1. And if he were before Parson or Vicar of any Church, or a Dean of a Cathedral, or held any other Dignity Ecclesiastical in the Church, such his Election to the Bishoprick did not make his first Benefice or Dignity ipso facto to be void: For it hath been adjudged, That a Commendam retinere such Benefice or Dignity which he had before his Election, comes time enough. Trin. 11. Jac. in C. B. in Colt and the Bishop of Coventry and Litch field's Case. See Hob. 140.

5. Secondly, To the Creation of a Bishop, Confirmation, Consecration, and Investure are requisite: This was, before the Statute of 25 H. 8, done by Bulls or Breves from the Bishop of Rome; But, since the said Statute, is done by the Arch-Bishop or Metropolitan of the Province in manner as prescribed by the Statute: But note, that before a Bishop be confirmed, consecrated, or invested, he must take the Oath of Fealty onely to the King; which being done, the King under the Great Seal doth signify the Election of the party to be Bishop, to the Arch-Bishop, and some other Bishops, who after was to consecrate and invest him in the Bishoprick, and to use such Ceremonies therein as are requisite. See Stat. 25 H. 8. cap. 20.

6. After Consecration he is compleat Bishop to all intents and purposes, aswell to Temporalties as to the Spiritualties; for then he hath plenam potestatem Jurisdictionis et Ordinis, 41 E. 3. Quare impedit, 128. For after Consecration he may certify an Excommengment which is point of Jurisdiction: When he is confirmed, he may admit any Clark to his Benefice, which see 22 E. 3. 18. A Writ to admit a Clark, directed Episcopo electo et confirmato, was good and allowed: And see 18 Eliz. Dyer, 352. When he is confirmed, the Power of the Guardian of the Spiritualties doth cease. When he is consecrated he may conferr Orders upon others, and may consecrate Churches and Chappels which he could not do before his Consecration: For although by Confirmation Conjugium contrahitur spirituale, yet by Consecration consummatur, as is said by Dodd Justice, in his Book of Advowsons.

7. After he is confirmed, the King may by his Letters grant to him the Temporalties, but such Grant is potius de Gratia quàm de Jure: But after he is consecrated and estated in the Bishoprick, he is fully enabled to sue for the Temporalties out of the King's hands, by a Writ de Reſtitutione Temporalium directed to the Eſcheator, and ſo he ſhall enjoy the actuall Poſſeſſion of them: But yet the Temporalties are not de Jure to be delivered to him until the Metropolitan hath certified the time of his Conſecration, although that the Free-hold of the Temporalties be in him by his very Conſecration. See 41 E. 3. 6. 46 E. 3. 32. 38 E. 3. 30.

8. In Error here of a Judgment in the King's Bench in Ireland, in an Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was, The Land was parcell of the Biſhoprick of Oſſory, and King Ed. 6. Anno 6. of his Reign, by Letters Patents under his Privy Signet, directed to A. Lord Deputy of Ireland, B. his Chancellour, and others of his Council, there ſignified, that he elected and appointed I. S. to be Biſhop of Oſſory, requiring them to take ſuch order for the inſtalling of him, as by the Laws of Ireland was neceſſary: The Deputy was removed, the Chancellor and two others made Juſtices awarded a Commiſſion under the great Seal of Ireland to the Arch-Biſhop of D. in Ireland, in hæc formâ; Sciatis quod nos conſiderantes, Epiſcopatum Oſſory to be void, I. S. juxta tenorem quarundam Literarum aſſignavimus, & per preſentes in Epiſcopatum Oſſory eligimus, creamus, & conſtituimus; vobiſq; præcipimus quatenus premiſſa conſi metis, ipſumq; Epiſcopum Oſſory inveſtiri & conſecrari faciatis. He was conſecrated accordingly, and 7 E. 6. the King accepted of his Fealty, and the Temporalties were delivered to him: Afterwards, during the life of I. S. Queen Mary, under the great Seal of Ireland to the Dean and Chapter of K. ſignified, She had appointed and elected to that Biſhoprick I. N. and appointed them to elect him Biſhop; who was elected, and had a Patent to be conſecrated, and all things done for his Conſecration to make him perfect Biſhop; who afterwards entred into the Lands in the life of I. S, and made a Leaſe of the Land to W. for 101. years, which was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter. I. S. 9 Eliz. dyed; Afterwards I. N. dyed. C. was elected Biſhop, who entred upon the Aſſignee of W. and Leſſor to the Plaintiff, upon whom C. re-entred, and Judgment was there given for the Plaintiff; and thereupon Error brought here: Divers Queſtions were in the Caſe, Firſt, If I. S. was well created Biſhop? Secondly, Whether I. N. being Biſhop de facto and not de jure, in the life of I. S. who was never deprived, his Leaſe being confirmed by the Dean and Chapter was good? It was objected, That I. S. was never well created Biſhop, becauſe the Letter was not executed by the Deputy, and the Deputy being the principal being removed, all was determined. Secondly, Becauſe the direction was, that they ſhould take order for his Creation according to the Lawes of Ireland, which ought to be by Writ de Conge de Eſtier, which was not in this Caſe. But it was Reſolved, That the King here, before the Statute of 2 Eliz. and alſo in Ireland, might create a Biſhop, by his Letters Patents, without any Writ of Conge de Eſtier, which was but a Form or Ceremony: And although there was not any Patent ſhewed of the Creation, but only a Commiſſion to the Arch Biſhop of D. to conſecrate him, yet the ſame was a ſufficient Patent of Creation, without any other; for there are the words Eligimus, Creamus, & Conſtituimus. Thirdly, It was Reſolved, That I. N. not being lawful Biſhop, the Leaſe made by him to charge the Poſſeſſions of the Biſhoprick was void, although all Judicial Acts made by I. N. as Admiſſions, Inſtitutions, Certificates, &c. whilſt he was Biſhop de facto, were good and lawful: The Judgment was affirmed. Mich. 17 Jac. in B. R. Revan o Brian and Knaton's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 353, 354.

9. It was thought fit in Chriſtian policy: For as much as Schiſms, Sects, and Hereſies might ariſe in the Church, not to lay the whole burthen of the Church, and the Eccleſiaſtical Government, upon the Perſon of the Biſhop only; and therefore it was thought neceſſary, that every Biſhop within his Dioceſs ſhould be aſſiſted with a Council, to conſult with in matters of difficulty concerning Religion, and the ordering of the Eccleſiaſtical Government, as alſo for the diſpoſing of things of the Church, as alſo to give their aſſents to ſuch Eſtates as the Biſhop ſhould make of the Lands and Temporalties of the Biſhop, and for the further ordering of the Eccleſiaſtical Government: And therefore there was a Dean and a Chapter conſiſting of Prebends, Canons conſiſting of Spiritual and Eccleſiaſtical Perſons annexed to every Cathedral Church, which Dean and Chapter were ſubordinate to the Biſhop. Cook 3. Part, in the Caſe of the Dean and Chapter of Norwich.

10. Now there are four ſorts of Deans, The firſt is a Dean, who hath a Chapter, ſuch is the Deanery of Paul's, Canterbury, and the like, who is ſet forth to be an Eccleſiaſtial Perſon, and Governour ſecular over the Prebends and Canons in the Cathedral Church, and the Patronage of all ſuch Deaneries is in the Crown, and doth not belong to any ſubject. The ancient Deans of Chapter came in as Biſhops did, by a Conge de Eſtier: But ſuch Deaneries as were tranſlated from Priories and Covents, and ſuch as by King Henry the 8. after the Statutes of Diſſolutions of Abbies and Monaſteries, are now Donative, and by the King's Letters Patents they were inſtalled. Cook 1. Part, Inſtit. 99. acc.

11. The ſecond Dean, is a Dean which hath no Chapter, but is preſentable, and hath a Peculiar and and a Court wherein he holdeth Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction, but is not ſubject to the viſitation of the Biſhop. Such a one is the Dean of Battell in the County of Suſſex, which was founded by William the Conqueror, who hath Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction within the Liberty of Battell, and comes in by Inſtitution and Induction of the Biſhop of Chicheſter, though not ſubject to his viſitation. And the Patronage of ſuch a Deanery may be in a Subject, as the Patronage of the Dean of Battell is at this day in the Lord Viſcount Mountacute.

12. The third Dean is Eccleſiaſtical alſo, but the Deanery is not preſentative but donative: He hath alſo a Court, and a Peculiar, wherein he holdeth Plea and Juriſdiction of all matters and things Eccleſiaſtical, which ariſe within his Peculiar, which oftentimes extends over many Pariſhes, ſuch Dean is conſtituted by Commiſſion of the Metropolitan: and of ſuch ſort is the Dean of the Arches, the Dean of Bocking, and many more.

13. The fourth Dean is called the Rural Dean: He hath not any abſolute Judicial Power of himſelf, but is only to order and prepare the Eccleſiaſtical Affairs within his Deanery, and is the Biſhop's ſubſtitute in many Caſes, as in granting of Letters of Adminiſtration, Probate of Wills, &c. His Juriſdiction was great at the firſt upon the diviſion of Dioceſſes: For every Dioceſſe of every Biſhop was divided into Arch-Deaneries and Deaneries, which were theſe Rural Deanries: But the Power which theſe Rural Deans had at the firſt is now loſt and extinguiſhed, or ſwallowed up in the Office of Arch-Deacon and Biſhop's Chancellor, who execute their Power and Authority for the moſt part throughout all the Dioceſſes of the Biſhops within the Kingdom of England, although the Juriſdiction of theſe rurall Deans in ſome Countreys is yet in force. See Hughes Parſons Law, 14,15.

14. All Arch-Biſhops, Biſhops, Arch-Deacons, Deans, Prebendaries, Parſons, Vicars, are ſecular Perſons, and are not now religious, although they be men of the Church: (For no Perſons are ſaid to be religious Perſons, but ſuch as have vowed three things, ſcil. true Obedience to the Soveraign of their Houſe and Order, perpetual Chaſtity, and wilful Poverty, and which are profeſſed in ſome Religious Order, as Auguſtine, Franciſcan Monks, and the like): Yet may all ſuch Eccleſiaſtical perſons ſecular, hold Lands in Frankalmoigne, and Lands at this day may be given to them and their Succeſſors to hold in Frankalmoigne, with the conſent of the King, and of the Lords mediate and immediate, notwithſtanding the Statute of Mortmain: And if they do conſiſt of a ſole Corporation or Body politick, as Biſhop, Prebendary, Parſon, &c. a Feoffment may be made to them of Lands in libera Eleemoſyna, either by deed or without deed, and the Fee-ſimple ſhall paſs to them without the word (Succeſſors): But if any ſuch Feoffment be made to a Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical Corporation aggregate of many Perſons, as to Dean and Chapter, &c. there to paſs the Inheritance, the word (Succeſſors) muſt be in the Habendum, and the Feoffment muſt be the deed, otherwiſe it is not good. Cook 2 Part, in the Arch-Biſhop of Canterburies Caſe. See 29 E. 3. 14. 21 H. 7. 39. acc.

15. There is a great difference in this to be done by Eccleſiaſtical Perſons and Corporations ſole, and thoſe which are aggregate of many Perſons: If a Biſhop, Prebendary, Parſon, &c. make a Feoffment in Fee, with a Letter of Attorney to make Livery and Seiſin; the Livery muſt be made in the life of the Biſhop, Prebendary, Parſon, &c. But if a Dean and Chapter, or other Corporation Eccleſiaſtical aggregate, make a deed of Feoffment of Lands, with a Letter of Attorney to make Livery, Livery made by the Attorney after the Death of the Dean is good in Law. Cook 1. Part, Inſtit. 52. Secondly, A ſole Eccleſiaſtical Corporation, as a Biſhop ſeiſed of Lands in the right of his Biſhoprick, ſhall do Homage; but a Parſon, Vicar, &c. who gave but a qualified Fee in them, ſhall neither do Homage, nor receive Homage. A Dean and Chapter ſhall not do Homage, becauſe they cannot do it in Perſon; and Homage being a thing entire and inſeparable muſt always be done in Perſon. Cook 7. Part, 10. Cook 10. Part, 31. acc. A Biſhop ſhall not do Eſcuage in Perſon, but he may find an able man to do the Service; For it is a Rule, That Nemo militans Deo, implicat ſe negotiis ſecularibus: And the Homage which a Biſhop, or other man of the Church doth, is rather Fealty than Homage. Yet ſee by Cook Chief Juſtice, It is Homage, becauſe therein he ſaith, [I do you Homage.] Cook 1. Part, Inſtit. 65.

2. Of the Biſhop of the Dioceſſe, as he is Ordinary, and what Acts and things are to be done by him as Ordinary, what not; and where ſuch Acts ſhall be good, where not.

1. THE Statute of 21 H. 8. cap. 5. appoints that Adminiſtration of the Inteſtat's Goods ſhall be by the Ordinary granted, &c. and that the Ordinary (who is the Biſhop) ſhall take Sureties for the Adminiſtration of the Goods of the dead: And the Caſe was, That I. B. being Judge in the Court of Prerogative of the Arch-Biſhop of C.

A. dying Inteſtate, and Adminiſtration of his Goods being committed to his Wife, the ſaid J.B. upon the Grant of the Adminiſtration, took a Bond of J. S. That the Adminiſtrator ſhould diſpoſe of the Surpluſage of the Goods, after the Debts and Legacies paid according to the direction of that Court; who after finding that there was a Surpluſage remaining in the Adminiſtrators hands, did give a Sentence there, That the ſaid Adminiſtrator ſhould give certain propo.tions of the Inteſtates Goods, to the Kindred her of Husband, not being the Inteſtates Children; and a Prohibition being thereupon prayed, It was the clear Opinion of the Court, That the Ordinary might not impoſe any other or further Condition upon the Bond, than what was intended by the Statute, which was to be judged by the Courts of Common Law, and the intent and meaning of the Statute for the diſtribution of the Surpluſage, as alſo of the Inteſtate, if he had made a Will, ſhall be taken to be, that the ſame ſhould go to the Adminiſtrator, or to the Children of the Inteſtate, and not to give ſuch a vaſt Power to the Ordinary, to give the Surpluſage of the Eſtate at his Will. Trin. 11 Jac. in C. B. Stanley's Caſe. Hob. 83. See Trin. 15 Jac. in C. B. Tooker and Loan's Caſe. acc. Hob. 191. See Caſe 1655. Davies and Matthew's Caſe. Styles, 456.

2. A man who dyed Inteſtate had Goods, only in an Inferior Dioceſſe, yet the Metropolitan of the Province pretending that he had Bona Notabilia in divers Dioceſſes, committed Adminiſtration of the Goods: It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That the Adminiſtration granted, was not void, but voidable by Sentence onely, becauſe that the Metropolitan hath Juriſdiction in all places within his Province: But if the Ordinary of an Inferior Dioceſſe doth commit the Adminiſtration of Goods, when the party hath Bona Notabilia in divers Dioceſſes, the Adminiſtration is meerly void, aſwell for the Goods within the Dioceſſe as without. 22 Eliz. in B. R. Vere and Jeffrey's Caſe. Cook 5. Part, 30.

3. In Debt brought by an Adminiſtratrix upon an Adminiſtration committed by the Biſhop of R, the Defendant pleaded an Adminiſtration committed to him by the Dean and Chapter of C. ſede vacante, becauſe the Inteſtate had Bona Notabilia in diverſe Dioceſſes; the Plaintiff replyed, That before the Writ brought, the ſaid Adminiſtration granted in the prerogative Court was revoked and annulled. 1. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That becauſe the Defendant had not ſhewed in his Barr, that the Inteſtate had Bona Notabilia in certain, it ſhall be intended that the Adminiſtration was granted, where the Inteſtate had not Bona Notabilia in divers Dioceſſes; but ſuch Adminiſtration was not void, but voidable. 2. Reſolved, That becauſe the Eccleſiaſtical Judge had pronounced the Letters of Adminiſtration granted to the Defendant void, it ſhall be intended that they were void ab initio. And in this Caſe, It was holden, That the Ordinary cannot releaſe any Debt, or make any gift of the Goods, becauſe he hath but a ſpecial property in the Goods of the dead, and nothing to his own uſe; and the Ordinary cannot give an Authority to another to ſell the Goods of the Inteſtate, becauſe he himſelf hath no ſuch Authority: Alſo, that the Ordinary ſhall not have an Action of Treſpaſſe for carrying away the goods before actual poſſeſſion of them (as an Executor or Adminiſtrator ſhall have) but he may ſue for them in the ſpiritual Court; but he ſhall not have Debt, as Ordinary. Cook 8. Part, 135, 136. Sir John Needham's Caſe.

4. The Commiſſary of a Biſhop of a Dioceſſe granted Letters ad colligendum & vendendum bona ea que peritura eſſent, & ad Computum inde reddendum &c. And he to whom the Letters were granted ſold Goods that afterward would periſh. In that Caſe, It was Reſolved, That he was an Executor of his own wrong, becauſe the Ordinary himſelf had not ſuch Authority to ſell ſuch Goods. M. 9 Eliz. Dyer, 256.

5. Power to grant Adminiſtrations was granted to the Ordinary by the Statute of 31 E. 3. cap. 11. For before that time, when a man dyed Inteſtate, the King, who is Patens Patriæ, was accuſtomed by his Miniſters to ſeize the Goods, to the intent they might be beſtowed in the Burial of the dead, and for the Payment of his Debts, and the advancement of his Wife and Children if he had any, or otherwiſe to his Kindred; and afterwards this care and truſt was committed to the Biſhop, Ordinary of the Dioceſſe: See 2 R. 3. tit. Teſtament 4. That it is but of late time that the Church had Probate of Wills and Teſtaments; for in many places in England, the Stewards in their Court-Barons had the Probate of Teſtaments. And ſee there out of a Book publiſhed by Parker Arch-Biſhop of Canterbury, where it is written, Rex Angliæ erat olim Conciliorum Eccleſiaſticorum Præſes, vindex temeritatis Romanæ, propugnator Religionis, nec ullam habebant Epiſcopi Authoritatem, præter eam quam à Rege acceptam referebant. Teſtamenta probandi non habebant, Adminiſtrationis poteſtatem cuiq; delegare non poterant. And note, It is there Reſolved, That if all the Executors do refuſe before the Ordinary, they may prove the Will afterwards; which muſt be intended if they refuſe before the Ordinary hath committed Adminiſtration, but afterwards they cannot. But note there, That in ſuing of Action in the Kings Courts, the Judges will not admit the Executors to ſue, except they

ſhew the Teſtament duly proved under the Seal of the Ordinary, and yet the Probate of the Teſtament doth not give them any Intereſt or Title, either to the thing in action or in poſſeſſion, for that they have by the Teſtament it ſelf. Cook 9 Part, 39. Henſlows Caſe.

6. The Biſhop may ſequeſter the Profits of the Church, if the King, who hath Title to preſent, doth not preſent: And ſee 12 H. 8. 8. by Pollard, the Biſhop muſt ſee the Cure ſerved, if the Parſon fail, at his own Charge; and if a Biſhop doth celebrate Divine Service in any Pariſh of his Dioceſſe, he may require the Offering of that day; and if the Executor being called by the Ordinary will not prove the Will, the Ordinary may commit Adminiſtration till he doth it. See 4 H. 7. 13. Hob. 244. acc.

7. To have a Prohibition the ſurmiſe was, That Sir Bernard Wellon was ſeiſed of the Mannor of Wood-hall, and that he, and thoſe whoſe Eſtate he had in the ſame, had uſed time out of mind to have a peculiar Pew in the Body of the Church, and that the Defendant by ſuit in the Eccleſiaſticall Court ſought to diſpoſſeſſe him of the ſame: It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the ſame was no ground for a Prohibition; For although the Church and Church-yard be in Law the Freehold of the Parſon, yet the uſe of the Body of the Church, and the repaire and maintenance of it is common to all the Pariſhioners; and for avoiding of Confuſion, the diſtribution and diſpoſing of the Seats there, and Charges of Repair, doth belong to the Ordinary, and therefore no man can challenge a ſpecial Seat there without a ſpecial Reaſon: But if it had bin preſcribed, That he &c. had uſed, time out of mind, at his own Coſts, to maintain that Pew, and therefore had the ſole uſe of it, the Preſcription might have bin a Warrant for a Prohibition, though the Pew were in the Body of the Church; and ſo it is in Caſe of an Iſle or Chappel adjoyning to the Body of the Church, whether it hath bin maintained by the whole Pariſh, or by ſome particular Perſon. Hill. 12 Jac. in C. B. in Boothby and Baſy's Caſe, Hob. 69. See Trin. 10 Jac. in C.B. Garvers and Pym's Caſe, Godb. 199. adjudg. acc.

8. In an Action upon upon the Caſe, upon an Aſſumpſit for 10. l. upon a Promiſe to cover a Church in Ipſwich in Suffolk, brought againſt an Adminiſtrator upon Non aſſumpſit; It was found for the Plaintiff: In Arreſt of Judgment, one exception (among other) was taken to the Declaration, That the Commiſſary of the Biſhop of Norwich at London, did commit Adminiſtration of the Goods of the Inteſtate to the Defendant at London, which was ſaid not to be good, becauſe he had not Power in London to execute any Power which appertained to him at Norwich. But it was Reſolved, That the place where the Commiſſary of the Biſhop did grant the Letters of Adminiſtration was not material: For if the Biſhop of Norwich be in London, yet this Power as to granting of Letters of Adminiſtration, and making of Deacons and Clarks in his own Dioceſſe, doth follow the Perſon of the Biſhop, although his other Juriſdiction be local. Trin. 21 Jac. in B. R. Knollys and Dobbin's Caſe, Godbolt, 342. See Paſch. 11 Jac. in Communi Banco. Hutton's Caſe, Hobart, 15.

9. In the Caſe of a Prohibition, for citing the Plaintiff out of his Dioceſſe into the Eccleſiaſtical Court, upon the Statute of 23 H. 8. It appeared by the Libel, that the Defendant had complained againſt the Plaintiff in the Spiritual Court, for ſcandalous words ſpoken in the Pariſh of St. Sepulchres, London: It was holden by Coke Chief Juſtice, That a Prohibition would lye, unleſſe the Biſhop of London had given Liberty to the Arch-Biſhop of Canterbury to entermeddle with matters within London: For he ſaid, That in the Statute of 23 H. 8. there is a Clauſe of Exception in caſe where ſuch Liberty is given by the Inferior Dioceſan; and day was given to procure a Certificate of the Opinion of the Civilians, Whether ſuch Authority given by the Inferior Ordinary to the Arch-Biſhop be warranted by their Law: For if the Authority be lawfully granted, no Prohibition will lye: And he ſaid, That the Statute of 23 H. 8. was but in affirmance of the Common Law, as appears by 8 H. 6. & 2 H. 4. For there it is ſaid, That if one be Excomeaged in a Forrein Dioceſſe, the ſame is void, & coram non Judice: and he ſaid that the principal Cauſe of making the ſaid Statute was to maintain the Juriſdiction of Inferior Dioceſſes: But if the Plaintiff had defamed the Defendant within the Peculiar of the Arch-Biſhop, in ſuch caſe he might be puniſhed there, although he did inhabite within any remote place out of the Peculiar of the Arch-Biſhop: And in this Caſe it was ſaid, That the Arch-Biſhop had in thirteen Pariſhes in London peculiar Juriſdiction. Trinit. 10 Jac. in Com. B. Francis and Powell's Caſe. Godbolt, 191.

10. In a Prohibition upon the Statute of 23 H. 8. for being cited out of the Dioceſs; the Caſe was, The Chancellor of the inferiour Ordinary, did make requeſt to Dr. Dun, Dean of the Arches, to take the Cauſe (being a Cauſe of Modus Decimandi) to his hearing, for that the Cauſe was ſo difficult, that the Plaintiff could have no ſufficient Councel here for that Cauſe. The Queſtion was, Whether the tranſmitting of this Cauſe were warranted by the exception of the Statute: The clauſe in the Statute is, That any Biſhop, or any other inferior ſeriour Judg, having under him juriſdiction in his own right and title, or by Commiſſion make requeſt, or inſtance to the Arch-biſhop, or other ſuperiour Ordinary, or Judg, to take, treat, examine, or determine the matter before him; and that to be done onely where the Law, Civil, or Canon, doth affirm execution of ſuch requeſt to be lawful or tolerable, &c. upon pain of forfeiture, &c. of double damages and coſts to the party. The Caſe was argued by the Civilians, and they held, That although the Common-Law did reſtrein the Arch-biſhop to call cauſes from the Ordinary, but in 21. Caſe, all mentioned in the Caſe; yet the Law left it to the abſolute power of the Ordinary to ſend the Cauſe to the Arch-biſhop abſolutely at his will without aſſigning any ſpecial reaſon: But it was holden by the Juſtices. 1. That the principal Caſe was not within the ſpecial Caſes in the exception particularly expreſſed. 2. That to expound the Statute, That the Ordinary might at his will and pleaſure, ſend the ſubject from one end of the Kingdome to another without cauſe, was both againſt the letter of the Statute, and utterly eludes it; For the purpoſe of the Law, was to provide for the eaſe of the ſubject, more then for the juriſdiction of the Ordinary; for an Action is given to the party for his vexation, and a penalty to the King, but none to the Ordinary. And the Arch-biſhop is reſtreyned to two Caſes of neceſſity, none of which the principal Caſe was. And the clauſe, after it begins with referring, checks it only to be done in Caſes, &c. Alſo in this Caſe, It was holden, That the form of referring was not obſerved, the referring being from a Chancellor, to a Delegate, and not from Biſhop to Biſhop. And it was holden in this Caſe, That if the Arch-biſhop call a Cauſe unto him which is none of the Caſes within his power, the inferiour Ordinary may have his remedy againſt him, or the Defendant may plead to the Juriſdiction. Trin. 15 Jac. in C. B. Jones, and Jones's Caſe. Hob. 185, 186. See Trin. 9 Jac. in C. B. Jones and Boyer's Caſe. Brownlow. 2. Part, 27. acc.

3. Of Leaſes made by Biſhops, Deans, and Chapters, and other Eccleſiaſtical perſons. And where their Leaſes are good by the Statutes of 1 and 13th of Elizabeth, and other Statutes, and where not.

1. EVery Archbiſhop, Biſhop, Prebendary, Dean, and other Eccleſiaſtical perſon, by the Common-Law, might have made Leaſes of the poſſeſſions which they held in the right of their Churches, or other Eccleſiaſtical livings concurrentibus his qui in lege requiruntur, for lives or years, without limitation, or ſtint of time. But now by the Statutes of 32 H. 8. 1 Eliz. 13 Eliz. and other Statutes, they are reſtreyned to make any Leaſes of their Lands or poſſeſſions belonging to their Churches, or other Eccleſiaſtical Livings, but according to ſuch limitations and proviſoes as are mentioned in the ſaid Statutes. See Cook 5. Part, 13. Cook 10. Part, 60. Cook 11. Part, 66.

2. By the Statute of 32 H. 8. which is an enabling Statute as to ſome perſons, A Biſhop by his Deed, without the Dean and Chapter; A Parſon ſeiſed in fee in the right of his Church, may make Leaſes, but under theſe reſtrictions, cautions, and proviſoes following. 1. The Leaſe muſt be made by Deed Indented, and not by word. 2. The Leaſe muſt begin from the day of the date thereof, or from the making thereof, Cook 5. Part, 6. The Lord Mountjoyes Caſe. 3. The ancient Leaſe muſt be ſurrendred, expired, or ended, within one year, at the making of the ſecond Leaſe, and ſuch ſurrender muſt be abſolute and not conditional, Cook 5. Part, 2. Elmar's Caſe. 4. There muſt not be a double Leaſe in being, at one time. 5. The Leaſe muſt not exceed 21 years, or three lives from the making thereof. 6. The Leaſe muſt be of Lands or Tenements manurable, out of which a Rent may be reſerved, Cook 5. Part, 3. Jewell's Caſe. 7. The Leaſe muſt be of Lands or Tenements which commonly have bin let to Farm, within 20 years next before the Leaſe made, Cook 6. Part, 37. The Dean and Chapter of Worceſter's Caſe. 8. There muſt be reſerved to them and their Succeſſors, ſo much yearly Rent, or more, which hath bin accuſtomably uſed to be paid for the ſaid Lands or Tenements within 20 years before the Leaſe made, Cook 5. Part, 6. Cook 6. Part, 37. acc. And 9. The Statute of 32 H. 8. doth not extend to any Leaſe to be made without impeachment of Waſte. Cook 6. Part, 37. acc.

3. A Parſon, or Vicear, &c. if they make Leaſes, according to the enabling Statute of 32 H. 8. they are out of the Statute, and their Leaſes muſt be confirmed by the Patron and Ordinary: But if a Biſhop who is ſeiſed in the right of his Biſhoprick, A Dean of his ſole poſſeſſions ſeiſed in jure Diaconatus, and a Prebendary ſeized in jure Prebendæ; every one of them be ſeiſed, in jure Eccleſiæ, and are within the Statute of 32 H. 8. and may make Leaſes under the Clauſes and Proviſoes before mentioned, without any confirmation. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 44. acc.

4. If a Biſhop maketh a Leaſe for 21 years, and all thoſe years are ſpent, ſaving three or more; yet may the Biſhop make a new Leaſe for 21 years to begin from the making, according to the exception of the Statute, but not a Leaſe for life, or lives, and ſuch concurrent Leaſe hath bin reſolved to be good, aſwell upon the exception of 1 Eliz. which extends to Eccleſiaſtical Corporations; as Deans, and Chapters, which the Statute of 32 H. 8. did not. But then in the Caſe of concurrent Leaſes in the Biſhops Caſe, it muſt be confirmed by the Dean and Chapter.

5. Grindal, Biſhop of London, Leaſed parcel of the poſſeſſions of his Biſhoprick for 21 years, and afterwards ouſted the Leſſee, and Leaſed to another for three lives, rendring the ancient and accuſtomed Rent, which was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter. Afterwards Grindal was tranſlated. Whether this Leaſe were warranted by the Statute of 1 Eliz. was the Queſtion. It was holden that it was. In this Caſe, it was ſaid; At the Common-Law, A Biſhop might make an Alienation in Fee-ſimple, being confirmed by the Dean and Chapter. But by the Statute of 32 H 8. Biſhops without the Dean and Chapter, or their confirmation, may make a Leaſe for 21 years; but with confirmation of the Dean and Chapter, they might make a Leaſe for 1000 years. But by the Statute of 1 Eliz. the power of the Biſhop is much abridged, for that now with confirmation, or without confirmation, they cannot diſpoſe of their poſſeſſions, but for 21 years, or three lives. 2. It was holden, That the Leaſe in the principal Caſe, was in all points according to the Statute of 1 Eliz. For, 1. It begins preſently upon the making of it. And, 2. The ancient Rent is reſerved payable yearly during the ſecond tearm, for payable is a word of power, and not of Action. And a Caſe was cited to be adjudged in the Exchequer, which was, The Leſſor entred upon Leſſee for years, and made a Feoffment rendring rent, with clauſe of re-entry, the Leſſee re-entred, claiming his Term; and afterwards during the ſaid Term, the rent, reſerved upon the Feoffment, was behind; that in that Caſe the Leſſor had regained the Reverſion. And it was Reſolved further in this Caſe, That ſuch Leaſes might be good, although there were a former Leaſe in being, if the ſame ſhall be expired or ended within one year after the making of ſuch new Leaſe. Paſc. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Bunny and Wright's Caſe. Leon. 59, & 60.

6. Note, That all Leaſes not warranted by the Statute of 1 and 13 Eliz. ſtand good againſt the Leſſors themſelves, and are avoidable only by their Succeſſors, Cook 3. Part, in the Biſhop of Lincoln's Caſe. But if a Parſon, Dean, Prebendary, &c. make a Leaſe for years or life, ſuch Leaſe is void by his death, by the Statute of 14 Eliz. and if it were for 21 years, or three lives, it were void by the Statute of 13 Eliz. if it were not made according to the proviſoes, and limitations before mentioned. Paſc. 39 Eliz. in C. B. Hunt and Singleton's Caſe. acc.

7. A Leaſe was made by a Biſhop for three lives, viz. to one for life, the Remainder to a ſecond for life, the Remainder to the third for life; ſo not warranted by the Statute of 1 Eliz. and the Succeſſor accepted the Rent; and whether it ſhould bind him during his time, ſo as he cannot enter to avoid it, and make a new Leaſe, was the Queſtion; and it was Reſolved, That it ſhould bind him by his acceptance of the Rent. Hill. 2 Car. in C. B. Owen and Thomas ap Rees Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 67. And for confirmation of that, a Caſe was cited to be adjudged, which was this, The Biſhop of Glouceſter was ſeiſed in Fee of the Manner of M. whereof an Acre of Land was parcel, and by Indent. 8 Eliz. demiſed that Acre to J. S. and J. D. Habendum, to the ſaid J. S. for his life, the Remainder to J. D. for his life, rendring 3 s. 2 d. by the year, at Mich. and the Annunciation. the Biſhop dyed. The Succeſſor having notice that divers of the Rents of the ſaid Mannor were due, commanded his Bayliff to receive the ſaid Rents, which he received accordingly, amongſt which the Rent of the ſaid J. D. was one, and afterwards the Biſhop accepted of all of the ſaid Rents by the hands of his Bayliff. It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That this acceptance of the Rent by the Biſhops Succeſſor, ſhould bind him for the time, ſo as he ſhould not avoid that Leaſe, which was otherwiſe voidable, becauſe it is a Leaſe of parcel of the Demeanes, and for two lives, the one after the other in Remainder. Paſc. 5 Jac. in C. B. rott. 1041. Wheaker and Daubyes Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 67.

8. In Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was, A Prebendary made a Leaſe for years of Land, parcel of his Prebend, with the exception of the great Wood, as Oaks, Aſhes, &c. which Leaſe was confirmed by the Archbiſhop, but not by the Dean and Chapter, and afterwards he made another Leaſe, without the ſaid exception, the Land being uſually let with the exception. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved. 1. That this confirmation of the Leaſe by the Archbiſhop, being Patron of the Prebend, was good without the confirmation of the Dean and Chapter. And 2. That the 2d Leaſe was no good Leaſe warranted by the Statute of 13 Eliz. but a void Leaſe by the ſaid Statute. Hill. 13 Jac. in B. R. Smith and Bowles Caſe. Bollr. 3. Part, 290, 291.

9. A Biſhop after the Statute of 1 Eliz. granted the Office of Surveyor of all his Mannors, to J. S. and J. D. for their lives, and granted a Fee of 20. Nobles to them for the execution of it, with clauſe of diſtreſſe if it were behind, being demanded: which grant was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter. In a Replevin, the Defendant ſhewed all this ſpecial matter, and avowed for the Arrerages, and averred, that the ſaid Office, was an ancient Office, and that the ſaid Office, and the Fee, were grantable by the

Biſhop

Biſhop and his Succeſſors, tali perſonæ, vel perſonis quibus ſibi placuerit; and that the Rent was behind, and for that he avowed. And upon the pleading of the Statute of 1 Eliz. in bar of the Avowry; and that the ſaid Office had bin granted but for one life; the Avowant did demur in Law. And in this Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved. 1. That the ſaid grant of the ſaid Office for two lives, was void againſt the Succeſſor, by the Statute of 1 Eliz. 2. Reſolved, that by the Common-Law, a Biſhop with the aſſent of the Chapter, might make a Leaſe and Grant to bind their Succeſſors and by the Common Law, ſuch a grant for two lives had bin good, although it had not bin granted for two lives before. 3. That by the Statute of 32 H. 8. a Biſhop might make a Leaſe for 21 years, or three lives, ſo as ſuch Leaſe be expired within one year, and that he might make without the Chapter. 4. That that Office might be ſaid belonging to the Biſhop, and the word belonging, ſhould be taken for concerning. And although he himſelf could not exerciſe the ſaid Office, yet he had an Inheritance in the gift and diſpoſition of it, within the Act. 5. When an Office is ancient and neceſſary, the grant of the ſame, with the ancient Fee, is no diminution of the ancient revenue, and therefore ſuch grants are exempted out of the reſtraint of the Statute of 1 Eliz. But it was Reſolved, That although ſuch an Office for neceſſity might be granted for one life, yet it ought not of neceſſity to be granted unto two, for by ſuch means it might be granted in infinitum, for life, intail, or in Fee; and therefore ſuch a grant is reſtreyned by the Statute of 1 Eliz. 6. That the grant of an ancient Office by a Biſhop, ſhould not bind his Succeſſor, unleſſe it were confirmed by the Dean and Chapter. 7. That if the Biſhop were tranſlated, depoſed, or removed, before the grant, yet the grant is void againſt the Succeſſor, although he be alive who made the grant. See 11 Jac. in C. B. Cook 1. Part. The Biſhop of Saliſburies Caſe. 58, 59.

10. A Biſhop ſeiſed of a Park (to which was the Office of a Keeper belonging, with a Fee of five Marks, and a Livery granted from time to time by the Biſhop), granted the ſaid Office, together with the Fees, nec non cum paſtura pro duobus equis in eodem parco, which grant was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter. The Biſhop dyed, and another was made Biſhop; and if the grant were good to bind the Succeſſor, was the doubt. It was Reſolved, that the grant of the Office and Fees, was good. And although it was objected, That here was a greater Fee granted then was before, viz. Paſture for two Horſes, and therefore the grant ſhould not bind the Succeſſor. It was agreed, That the ſaid grant of the ſaid Paſture was void, and yet the ſame ſhould not prejudice the grant of the ſaid Office, with the ancient Fee, for that they are ſeveral and diſtinct grants, ſo as the one with the grant of the Office with the ancient Fee, is good by the Law againſt the Succeſſor, and the other was void againſt the Succeſſor. 1 Car. in C. B. The Biſhop of Chicheſter and Freeland's Caſe. Bridgman. 29, 30.

11. Horn, Biſhop of Winchester, did grant to Dr. Dale, during his life, a Rent out of the Mannor of Waltham, pro conſilio impendendo; the Biſhop dyed, and becauſe the Rent was arear, Dr. Dale brought an Action of Debt againſt the Executors. In that Caſe, two points were Reſolved. 1. That the grant was not void againſt the Biſhop himſelf. 2. That although the Rent was iſſuing out of the poſſeſſions, and not parcel, the grant was void by his death. 23 Eliz. Dyer, 370. Doctor Dale's Caſe.

12. The Biſhop of Chicheſter, after the Statute of 1 Eliz. did grant to Boulton, an Annuity of five Marks per annum, pro conſilio impenſo, et impendendo, which was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter, and then the Biſhop dyed. Boulton brought a Writ of Annuity againſt the Succeſſor, and in his Count did aver, That the Predeceſſors of the Biſhop had granted reaſonable Fees, (but did not aver that this Fee had bin granted before) and did aver that he was homo Conſiliarius, et in lege peritus; and the Opinion of the Court in that Caſe, was againſt the Plaintiff. But in that Caſe, it was there Reſolved, That although the ſaid Biſhopr. was founded but of later times, ſcil. in the time of King Henry the 8th; yet the grant of an Office of neceſſity to one in poſſeſſion, with reaſonable Fees, was good. 4. Of Alienation and Diſcontinuance made of their Lands and Poſſeſſions by Biſhops, Deans, Prebendaries, and other Eccleſiaſtical perſons; Where their grants, or Charges were good, without Confirmation, where not; And by what Statutes they are now reſtreyned to Alien or Diſcontinue their Lands, or other Poſſeſſions.

1. BY the Statutes of 1 Eliz. and other Statutes, and 1 Jac. Biſhops, and all other Eccleſiaſtical perſons are now reſtreined to alien or diſcontinue any of their Eccleſiaſtical Lands or livings. See the Statute.

2. The Maſter and Fellows of Magdalen College in Cambridg, after the Statute of 13 Eliz. by their Deed

Deed Indented and Inrolled, did convey a houſe, parcel of their poſſeſſions, unto the Queen in Fee, rendring Rent, with clauſe of diſtreſs. Proviſo, that the Queen ſhould convey the ſame to J. D. in Fee. The Queen by her Letters Patents conveyed the ſame to J. D. according to the Proviſo. Afterwards J. D. levyed a Fine with Proclamations of it: the Maſter dyed, the Succeſſor accepted the Rent, and made an Acquittance for the ſame under his hand, without a Seal to it, and then the Maſter dyed. In this Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved amongſt others. 1. That the Maſter and Fellows were reſtreyned by the Act of 13 Eliz. to convey any of their Lands or poſſeſſions to the King, although that the King be not named by expreſſe name in the Act, for that the King is within the general words of the Act, Perſon, or perſons, bodies Politick and Corporate, for the King is a perſon and body Politick. And general Statutes which provide neceſſary and profitable remedies, for the maintenance of Religion, advancement of Learning, and relief of the poor, ſhall be extended generally according to the words of the Act. 2. That the King ſhall not be exempted out of the general words of Statutes which are made to ſuppreſſe wrong; and the Statute of 13 Eliz. was made to ſuppreſſe the Diminution of Spiritual livings. 3. Reſolved, That for as much as the Maſter and Fellows were by the Statute of 13 Eliz. diſabled to grant, The Queen could not take of them who were ſo diſabled. But it was Reſolved, That the diſability of the Maſter and Fellows, was not ſimpliciter, but ſecundum quid. For if the Maſter of a Colledg do make ſuch a grant, it ſhall not be avoided by the Maſter himſelf, but by his Succeſſors. 3. It was Reſolved, That the ſaid Fine and Non-claim did not bar the right of the Colledges, becauſe the eſtate conveyed to the Queen was in force during the life of the Maſter, ſo as none could enter or make claim during the life of the Maſter, and when the Succeſſor entred within the five years after the death of the Maſter in the right of the Colledg, the ſame did avoid the Fine. 4. Becauſe the ſaid Corporation is aggregate of many, the Maſter only by his Acceptance, could not deveſt any right or intereſt, which was in him and the Fellows, eſpecially the ſame being without Deed.

3. If a Biſhop had bin Patron of a Church. The Biſhop could not make any grant of the Parſon of any of the Lands of his Parſonage good, either by his Licence precedent, or his confirmation ſubſequent, which ſhould have bound the Succeſſors of the Parſon, without the confirmation of the Dean and Chapter. But if there had bin Parſon, Patron, and Ordinary, and the Patron and Ordinary had given Licence by their Deed to the Parſon to have granted a Rent-charge out of the Gleab, and the Parſon had made ſuch a grant. This ſhould have bounden the Succeſſors of the Parſon at the Common-Law, before the reſtreyning Statutes, although it had bin confirmed afterwards by reaſon of the Licenſe precedent. And in that Caſe the Ordinary alone might have agreed to ſuch a grant of a Rent, by his Licenſe precedent, or confirmation ſubſequent, without the confirmation of the Dean and Chapter. But in that Caſe, 31 H. 8. Br. Charge. 40. 7 H. 4. 15. per Curiam. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 300. the confirmation, or Licenſe of the Patron had not bin good to have made the Charge perpetual upon the Church, unleſs the Patron had had a Fee-ſimple in the Patronage, which if he had had, then the grant of the Rent by the Parſon concurrentibus bis, had bin good, and ſhould have charged the Lands, and bound the Succeſſors of the Parſon at the Common-Law before the reſtreyning Statutes. 31 E. 3. Grants. 61. 9 Eliz. Dyer, 252.

4. If the Biſhop before the Statutes of 1 Eliz. and 1 Jac. had made a Feoffment in Fee of Lands, parcel of his Biſhoprick, and the Dean and Chapter by their Deed, had confirmed the Deed of the Biſhop, the ſame had bin good, and Livery and Seiſin had and made upon the firſt Deed, had bin good after the ſaid Deed had bin confirmed. So if the Biſhop by Deed enrolled, had conveyed Lands unto the King, and the Dean and Chapter had confirmed the Deed of the Biſhop, and afterwards the Deed had bin enrolled; It had bin ſufficient to have confirmed the Lands to the King, although the Deed of the Dean and Chapter had not been enrolled: For the aſſent was to be had to the Act of the Biſhop, and to him, and not to the King. But Biſhops now cannot make any Conveyances, thereby to diſinherite their Sees or Succeſſors; and yet although it be ſo, yet that doth not take away the Rule of Law; But that a Confirmation made of the Deed of the Biſhop or Parſon at this day, is ſufficient, although the eſtate be not confirmed which is granted by the Biſhop or Parſons Deed. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 301.

5. If Parſon and Ordinary make a Leaſe for years of the Gleab to the Patron, and afterwards the Patron doth aſſign and grant this Leaſe over to another perſon by his Deed. The aſſignment is good, and a Confirmation of the firſt Leaſe made unto himſelf, and the Deed of the Patron in this Caſe, doth ennure to a double intent, both to make the Aſſignment of the Leaſe good, & to a Confirmation of that Leaſe to the Aſſignee. Cook 5. Part, 15.

6. Note, there is a difference betwixt a Confirmation of the Term, and a Confirmation of the Land. If before the Statute of 13 Eliz. a Prebendary had made a Leaſe for 70 years of the Corps of his Prebend, and the Biſhop, Patron of the Prebend, and the Dean and Chapter of the Prebend, had confirmed Dimiſſionem prædict. for 50 years et non ultra. The Confirmation had extended to the whole Term, and the words (for 50 years et non ultra) had been void. But if the Biſhop and Dean and Chapter had recited the Leaſe for ſeventy years, and had confirmed the Lands to the Leſſee for fifty years, the Confirmation had bin good for thoſe 50 years only. Cook 5. Part, 81. Ford's Caſe.

7. If a Biſhop have two Chapters, (as there may be two and more Chapters to one Biſhoprick,) both the Chapters muſt confirm Leaſes made by the Biſhop: But if one of the Chapters after the Date or making of the Leaſe be diſſolved, there a Confirmation made by the Chapter which is in being is ſufficient to make the Leaſe good, and in ſuch Caſe there needs not the Confirmation of the King, who is ſupream Patron of all the Biſhopricks of England. 11 Eliz. Dyer, 282. See Cook 1 Part, Inſtit. 301. acc.

8. If a Dean of a Cathedral-Church be elected Biſhop of another See, with diſpenſation retinere Diaconatum in Commendam; If the Biſhop of that of which he was the Dean and Chapter, do make a Leaſe of parcel of the Poſſeſſions of the Biſhoprick, the Confirmation of the Leaſe by the Commendatory is good, and ſufficient to make the Leaſe good; And ſo it was Reſolved and Adjudged. Paſc. 3 Car. in the King's Bench, in Evans and Aſcue's Caſe.

9. It is a Rule in Law, That Prælatus Eccleſiæ ſuæ conditionem meliorare poteſt, deteriorare non poteſt. If a Biſhop, Parſon, &c. purchaſe Lands to him and his Succeſſors, he cannot wave the purchaſe after himſelf, but his Succeſſor upon a juſt cauſe ſhewed, viz. upon Cauſe ſhewed, that the Rent payable is of greater value than the Land purchaſed, may gain ſuch Purchaſe made by his Predeceſſor: and ſo if a Biſhop, Prebendary, Parſon, or other Eccleſiaſtical Corporation, be ſeiſed of any thing in the Right of their Church or Corporation, they cannot diſclaim in that thing wherein they were ſo ſeiſed, becauſe they cannot deveſt that which is veſted in their Church or Spiritual Corporation, 20 H. 6. 46. by Markham. But if a Quo Warranto be brought againſt a Biſhop, Prebendary, &c. by the King, for Liberties or Franchiſes uſed by them, they may diſclaim in the Liberties and Franchiſes, and ſuch Diſclaimer ſhall bind their Succeſſors. Cook 1. Part, Inſtit. 102.

10. If a Biſhop make any Leaſe, grant any Rent-Charge, enter into Warranty, or do any other act or thing which tendeth to the diminution of any of the Revenews which ought to contiue for the maintenance of his Succeſſors: If the Biſhop be depoſed, tranſlated, remove, or dyeth, the Succeſſors ſhall avoid ſuch Leaſe, Grant, or Warranty: But if a Biſhop being Patron and Ordinary do confirm a Leaſe made by the Parſon, without the Dean and Chapter; and afterwards the Parſon, &c. dyeth, and the Biſhop collates another to the Benefice, and is afterwards depoſed, tranſlated, or dyeth, yet the Confirmation of the Leaſe remains good, becauſe the Revenues which are to maintain the Succeſſours are not diminiſhed. Cook, ibid. acc.

11. If a Parſon, &c. bring a Juris utrum, or any thing which doth concern the Church, and the Defendant pleadeth in Barr the Warranty of his Predeceſſor or Anceſtor, the Plaintiff ſhall not be barred by ſuch Warranty; for that the Parſon demandeth the thing in the right of his Church, and in his politick Capacity; and ſo, if the Parſon &c. bringeth an Aſſize, although that thereby he recovereth the Lands, and he himſelf is to take the profits to his own uſe, yet becauſe after the Recovery he is ſeiſed of the Free-hold, of which the Aſſize was brought in the Right of the Church, a Warranty of his Predeceſſor or Anceſtor pleaded in Barr, ſhall not barr him. The like Law is of other Eccleſiaſticall Perſons, they ſhall not be barred, by the Warranty of their Predeceſſours, Cook 1. Part. Inſtitutes, 370. 27 H. 6. Warranty, 48.

12. A Prebendary, Parſon, Vicar, &c. for the benefit of their Churches, ſhall be eſteemed to have the Fee-ſimple of the Gleab Lands in them: For they ſhall have and maintain an Action of Waſte, for Waſte done in the Gleab, and in the Writ it ſhall be ſaid that the Waſte was ad Exheredit ationem Eccleſiæ; But a Prebendary, Parſon, &c. cannot diſcontinue the Fee of the Gleab; and if they do make Leaſes for years reſerving Rent and dye, the Leaſes are void by their Deaths, and no acceptance of Rent by their Succeſſours ſhall make ſuch void Leaſes good: Otherwiſe it is, if they make Leaſes for Lives, there the acceptance of the Rent by the Succeſſors will make the Leaſes good, becauſe the Leaſes were not void, but voidable only: But if a Biſhop make Leaſes for years, and dy, and the Succeſſour doth accept the Rent, they ſhall never avoid the Leaſes, for that the Leaſes were not void, but voidable onely: Cook 3. Part, 65. acc.

5. Eccleſi-

5. Eccleſiaſticall Courts, and their Juriſdiction, from whom the ſame is derived: That the Statutes of 27 E. 3. and 16 H. 8. of Premunire, are in force: And where the Proceedings by Colour of the Eccleſiaſticall Law, before Eccleſiaſticall Judges, were and are in danger of a Premunire, before the Statute of 1 Eliz. and now are; and where not.

1. AS the Romans fetching their Laws from Athens, yet being approved and allowed by the State there, called them notwithſtanding Jus Civile Romanorum: And as the Normans borrowing all or the moſt of their Laws from England, yet baptized them by the Name of the Laws and Cuſtoms of Normandy: So, although the Kings of England derived their Eccleſiaſtical Laws from others, yet ſo many as were proved, approved, and allowed here, by and with a generall conſent, were rightly called the King's Eccleſiaſtical Laws of England: And the Kings, by their Charters made in Parliament, did diſcharge and exempt Perſons from the Juriſdiction of the Biſhops, and by many Charters did grant Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction unto Abbots and others: which Eccleſiaſticall Juriſdiction being derived from the Crown, continued till the Diſſolution of the Abbeys, in the time of King Henry the 8. See Cook 5. Part, Cawdrey's Caſe, &c. And therefore note, That although the proceedings and proceſs in Eccleſiaſticall Courts be in the Name of Biſhops, &c. it followeth not therefore that either the Court is not the Kings, or the Law whereby they proceed is not the King's Law: For every Leet or View of Franchiſe is kept by Subjects in the Lord's Name, and yet it is the King's Court, and all the proceedings therein are directed by the King's Laws: and ſo it is of many Courts of Record, and other Courts holden by Subjects; yet their proceedings be according to the King's Laws, and Cuſtoms of the Realm. Cook, 5. Part, Cawdries Caſe, in fine.

2. Note, It was moved, Paſc. 4 Jac. in B.R. That foraſmuch as by the Statute of 1 Eliz. cap. All Eccleſiaſtical Power withia the Realm was annexed to the Crown: That for that cauſe no Premunire now lyes againſt any Eccleſiaſticall Judge whatſoever; And their Reaſons were, 1. Becauſe the Statutes of 27 E. 3. & 16 R. 2. of Premunire, were made when the Pope uſurped Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction in this Realm, and the Writ of Præmunire is contra Coronam et dignitatem Regis, which cannot be now when the Eccleſiaſtical Power is ſetled in the Crown. 2. The Statute of Præmunire ſpeaks de Curia Romana ſeu alibi, which cannot extend to a Court erected by Parliament, as the Court of High-Commiſſion, which is erected by Parliament, and the King's Letters Patents. But it was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That the ſaid Statutes of Præmunire are yet in force, and are not repealed by any Statute, and therefore when any Eccleſiaſtical Judge doth uſurp upon the Temporal Law, becauſe he draweth the Subject ad aliud examen, he doth offend contra Coronam et dignitatem Regiam; and although the High-Commiſſion be a new Court, yet the ancient Statutes of Præmunire do extend to it within the word Alibi: But in what Caſes a Præmunire now lyes, and what not: See the Rules following. Cook 12. Part, 38. in the Caſe of Præmunire.

3. Firſt, In all Cauſes, when the Cauſe originall belongs to Eccleſiaſtical Cognizance, and is proſecuted there in that Court, (although in truth, the Circumſtances diſcloſed, the cauſe ought to be determined at the Common Law,) yet no Præmunire lyes in that Caſe, but a Prohibition only; as if Tythes be ſevered from the nine parts, and carried away, if the Parſon ſue for ſubtraction of the Tythes in the Spiritual Court, the ſame is not in Caſe of a Præmunire, becauſe perhaps the Eccleſiaſtical Judge may not know of it. But although the Cauſe originally may appertain to the Conuſance of the Eccleſiaſtical Judge, yet if he ſue for it in the nature of a Suit which doth not belong to the Eccleſiaſtical Court, but to the Common Law, there a Præmunire lyeth; as if the Parſon will, after the ſevering of the Tythes, ſue in the Eccleſiaſticall Court for carrying away his Tythes ſevered from the 9 parts, which matter appears to them plainly to appertain to the Common Law, in ſuch Caſe both the Actor and the Judge are in danger of a Præmunire, and ſo it was adjudged. 17 H. 8. Spilman's Reports, in Turburvile's Caſe.

4. Secondly, When the Cauſe originally belongs to the Cognizance of the Common Law, and not to the Eccleſiaſtical Court there, although they libel for it, according to the Eccleſiaſtical Law, yet a Præmunire lyeth: For this cauſe, That this draws the cauſe which is determinable at the Common Law ad aliud examen; ſcil. to be decided by the Eccleſiaſtical Law; and ſo deprives the Subject of the benefit of the Common Law, which is his Birth-right: Book of Entries, Tit. Præmunire, 229, 430. And ſee the Indictment of Cardinal Woolſey, Mich. 21 H.8. was, Quod predict. Cardinalis intendens finalit. antiquiſſimas leges Angliæ penitus ſubvertere et enervare, univerſumq; hoc regnum Angliæ, et ejuſdem Angliæ populum, legibus Imperialibus rialibus, et eorum legum Canonibus imperpetuare, ſubjugare, et ſubjicere, &c. And that was awerded in theſe words[Ad aliud examen trabere]. See the Biſhop of Norwich's Caſe, Hill. 25 H. 8. In which Caſe, It was Reſolved, That this word Alibi extends aſwell to the Courts of Biſhops, and other Eccleſiaſtical Courts within the Realm, as elſe-where. Mich. 4 Jac. in the King's Bench. Cook 12. Part, 50, 41. in the Caſe of Præmunire.

5. If one Spiritual Perſon ſueth another Spiritual Perſon in the Court of Rome for a matter Spiritual, where he might have Remedy before the Biſhop, his Ordinary within the Realm, is within the danger of a Præmunire, quia trahit ipſum in placitum extra Regnum, contra Legi natiæ ſuæ debitum, in contemptum Domini Regis, et contra Coronam et Dignitatem ſuam. Cook 5. Part 17. in Cœdries Caſe.

6. The Queens Attorney-Generall brought and proſecuted a Præmunire for the Queen and one J. S. againſt the Dean of Chriſt-Church in Oxford, and others, becauſe they did procure the ſaid J. S. to be ſued in the City of Oxford, before the Commiſſioners there in an Action of Treſpaſs by Libelling to the Eccleſiaſtical Law. In which ſuit, J. S. pleaded, San Frank-tenement, and to the Juriſdiction of the Court; and yet they proceeded againſt him, and condemned, and impriſoned him. The Queens Attorney afterward, withdrew the ſuit for the Queen: The Queſtion was, Whether notwithſtanding the party might proceed in the Premunire. And Book Entries, 427, 428, 429. were vouched. Where it was, Reſpondendum tam Domino Regi quam, R. F. But it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That if the Kings Atturney will not further proceed, the party grieved cannot maintain this ſuit, for the principal matter in the Premunire is, The conviction and putting of the party out of the protection of the King; and the Damages for the party are but acceſſary, and the principal being releaſed, the Damages are gone. Mich. 27 Eliz. in B. R. The Queen, and the Dean of Chriſt-Churches Caſe. Leon. 290.

7. If I ſet out my Corn, and afterwards take it away, the Parſon may ſue me in the ſpiritual Court, or bring an Action of Treſpaſs againſt me. But if the Parſon ſueth in the Spiritual Court a ſtranger for taking away the Tythes which were ſet out, this is a Premunire in the Parſon. Hill. 6 Jac. in C. B. Brownlow 1. Part, 30.

8. In Ejectione firme, the Caſe was: A. was endicted of a Premunire upon the Statute of 13 Eliz. and afterwards he made a gift in tail of the Land, and afterwards he was attainted by Verdict, and had Judgment for the ſame offence. It was afterwards found by Inquiſition upon a Commiſſion out of the Exchequer, that A. was ſeiſed in Fee of the Lands in Queſtion at the time of the offence committed; and that the Queen by her Letters Patents had granted the Lands to J. S. under whom the Leſſee of the Plaintiff claimed; and the Defendant under the Title of the Tenant in tail. And whether the Attainder in a Præmunire ſhall have relation to the offence, for the forfeiture of the Lands, or only to the time of the Judgment; the point being a matter of great difficulty, was not Reſolved; but the Court was clear of Opinion, That by this Judgment he ſhould forfeit his Lands. And in this Caſe, it was Reſolved, That the Freehold being in the party offending (and in this Caſe in a ſtranger by the gift in tail), at the time of the Attainder, it ſhall not be deveſted from him, and in the King, without Office by Commiſſion under the Great Seal, and not by Office by a Commiſſion under the Exchequer Seal. Hill. 1 Car. in B. R. rott. 828. Groſſe and Gayers Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 123.

9. The Statute of 16 R. 2. cap. 5. is, That all Lands and Tenements of one Attainted in a Præmunire ſhall be forfeited to the King. And the Caſe was, That J. S. being Tenant in tail of certain Lands and Tenements, was Attainted in a Præmunire: And the Queſtion before all the Juſtices of England was, If the eſtate tail were barred or not. And it was Reſolved by all the Judges, That thoſe general words of the Statute of 16 R. 2. have not repealed the Statute of Donis Conditionalibus, but that he ſhould forfeit only for life, and that the Iſſue in tail ſhould inherit the Land. Paſc. 21 Eliz. Trudgins Caſe. vouched in Cook 11. Part, in Dr. Foſters Caſe. 63.

Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, and errour brought, and the Judgment was reverſed, for that Rivulus, ſeu aquæ curſus lye not in demand, nor doth a Precipe lye of it, nor can Livery and Seiſin be made of it, for it cannot be given in poſſeſſion; but the Action muſt be brought of ſo many Acres of Land covered with water. But an Ejectione firme will lye of a Stang, becauſe a Precipe lyeth of it. Mich. 6 Jac. in C.B. Challoner and Thomas's Caſe. Brownl. 1. Part, 142.

Action

2. Ejectione firme was brought de Piſcaria in ſuch a River, and becauſe it was not terra aqua cooperta, nor of any Land, but only of a profit apprender: It was the opinion of the whole Court, That an Ejectione firme did not lye thereof, no more then of a common apprender, or a Rent: But peradventure an Aſſiſe will lye of ſuch a Piſcary, becauſe it is proficuum in certo loco capiendum. Paſc. 12 Car. in B. R. Herbert and Laughains Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 354.

3. A. brought an Ejectione firme againſt S. and declared of an Ejectment de uno Meſſuagio, et de uno Repoſitorio. The Jury found for the Plaintiff, and aſſeſſed Damages entirely: Whereupon Error was brought; and the error aſſigned was, That the word Repoſitorium, which was in the Caſe put for a Warehouſe, was a word incertain, and of divers ſignifications; and therefore Ejectione firme de Repoſitorio is not good, and an Ejectment ought to be of a thing certain, in which the party may be put in poſſeſſion by Habere facias poſſeſſionem. Wherefore the Judgment was reverſed. Paſc. 17 Car. in B. R. Sprig and Rawlinſons Caſe. Marſh. 96. See Cro. 1. Part, 399. the ſame Caſe.

4. An Ejectione firme was brought of a Leaſe made by the Earl of Thomond in Ireland, of 40. Meſſuages, 100. Acres of Land, 200. Acres of Paſture, 100. Acres of Bog in the Villages and territories of A. B. and C. Exception was taken to the Writ and Declaration, becauſe it was of 100. Acres of Bog; and becauſe it was ſaid to be in Villis et territoriis, for there is not any ſuch word as Bog known. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the word Bog was well known in Ireland, and it is an uſual word there; and for the word territoriis, the Court held the ſame to be but ſurpluſage; and therefore the Declaration was good enough, and the Ejectment being brought of other Lands, as well as of the 100 Acres of Bog; the Plaintiff might releaſe his demand as to that Land, and have his Judgment for the reſidue. Mich. 13 Car. B. R. rott. 333. Mulcarry and Eyres Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 368.

5. Note, It was Reſolved, That an Ejectione firme doth not lye of a Cloſe by the name of a Cloſe certain, as Dove-cote-Cloſe; but the Writ ought to be of certain Acres; and the quality of the Land, as of Land, Meadow, Paſture, Wood, ought to be ſhewed, and the moſt worthy ought to be firſt named in the Writ. But yet if ſuch order be not obſerved in a Writ, the Judges will not abate the Writ or Declaration for that cauſe. Cook 11. Part, 55. Sayer's Caſe. But Quere of that Caſe, for that it was Reſolved, Trin. 15 Jac. in B. R. in Wicks and Sparrows Caſe. That an Ejectione firme lyeth of a Cloſe. See the Caſe Cro. 2. Part, 399. vouched in Sprig and Rawlinſons Caſe.

6. In Ejectione firme, the Plaintiff declared, That A. was ſeiſed of the Mannor of D. in which are divers Copyholds of Inheritance, and that the Cuſtome of the Mannor is, That if any Copyholder of Inheritance of the ſaid Mannor dyeth, his Heir within the age of 14. years, that then the Lord of the Mannor might grant the cuſtody of his body and Lands to whom he pleaſed: And ſhewed, That J.S. a Copyholder of Inheritance of the ſaid Mannor dyed, his ſon and Heir within the age of 14 years, of which the Lord committed the cuſtody of his body and Lands to the Plaintiff, upon Not guilty. It was found for the Plaintiff: It was moved in arreſt of Judgment, that the Action did not lye of a Copyhold-eſtate, which was granted per Curiam, and yet it was ſaid, that an Ejectione firme lyes upon a Demiſe of Copyhold-Lands by Leaſe of the Copyholder himſelf, but not upon a Demiſe by the Lord of the Copyhold, which was alſo granted per Curiam. Afterwards, it was ſaid by the Plaintiff, That this Action was but an Action upon the Caſe, in the Nature of an Ejectione firme, and this Intereſt is not granted by Copy, but entred only into the Court-Roll; ſo as it is an Intereſt by the Common-Law, and not by Copy, for the words are Dominus commiſit Cuſtodiam, &c. and doth not ſay in Curia. Wherefore Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Paſc. 33 Eliz. in B. R. Cole and Walles Caſe. Leon. 328.

7. Upon a Verdict given in Ejectione firme; It was moved in arreſt of Judgment, and exception taken, That it was declared, That the Plaintiff was ejected de duo Croſto, which was a word of incertain ſignification; and becauſe the Plaintiff doubted, Whether an Ejectione firme would lye, de uno Croſto, he prayed a ſpecial Judgment for the reſt of the Land in the Declaration, and that he might releaſe Damages as to the Croſt. Rolls doubted whether Ejectione firme did lye, de uno Croſto; for he ſaid that a Fornedon did not lye of a Croſt, but an Aſſiſe did, becauſe it is put in the view of the Recognitors. It was ruled, that a ſpecial Judgment ſhould be entred as was deſired, and releaſe the Croſt and damages to all. Trin. 23 Car. in B.R. Styles 30. Hill. 1652. Aſhworth and Staleys Caſe. Styles 364.

8. Upon a Verdict in Ejectione firme; It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, whereas the Plaintiff Declared, That the Defendant did eject him de uno Cottagio, that an Ejectione firme did not lye of a Cottage, no more then a Precipe quod reddat. But the Opinion of the Court was, That Ejectment did lye:

lye of a Cottage, becauſe the deſcription of the thing by that name is ſufficient to ſhew the Sheriff of what to deliver Poſſeſſion of. Yet it was ſaid, That a Recovery lyes not of a Cottage. Paſc. 1649. in B. R. rott. 818. Hamond and Ireland's Caſe. Styles 215. See there, 10 Jac. Retorick and Chappells Caſe adjudged accordingly, That an Ejectione firme lyes of a Cottage, and alſo a Precipe quod reddat.

9. Ejectione firme was brought of a Leaſe of Tythes appertaining to ſuch a Chappel; the Ejectment was ſuppoſed to be in taking ſo many Loads of Tythes of Wheat and Barley, ſevered from the nine parts. Upon Not-guilty pleaded, It being found for the Plaintiff; it was moved in ſtay of Judgment, That an Ejectione lyes not of Tythes only, but it may be of ſuch a Rectory, or ſuch a Chappel, and the Tythes belonging to it, whereof an Habere facias poſſeſſionem may be, but not of Tythes only. The Court doubted, and would adviſe: but being afterwards moved again, It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 8 Car. in B. R. rott. 181. Prieſt and Woods Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 219.

10. Note, It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That an Ejectione firme generally of Tythes is not good, but the certainty of the nature of the quality of the Tythes ought to be expreſſed, as lorum fecit lanæ agnellorum, ſo as Judgment might be given, and an Habere facias poſſeſſionem had. And in that Caſe, it was Reſolved, That it is not formal to bring an Ejectione firme de una Capella, but it ought to be by the name of a houſe. Cook 11. Part, 25. Harpers Caſe. 5 Jac. the Counteſs of Oxfords Caſe. 3, 4. Mar. in Bendloes Reports, acc.

11. Error was brought of a Judgment in an Ejectione firme of a Cole-mine in the Pariſh of S. upon Not-guilty, and Judgment given for the Plaintiff, The Error aſſigned was, That Ejectione firme lyes not of a Cole-mine, becauſe it is Quoddam proficuum ſubtus ſolum; and an Habere facias poſſeſſionem cannot be thereof. But it was Reſolved by the Court, That it is ſuch a profit of which the Law takes Conuſance, and Ejectione firme well lyes thereof. Hill. 5 Jac. in B. R. Cummin and Kinſto's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 150. See Harbotle and Placocks Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 21. acc. See wylds Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 150. Ejectione firme lyes of a Boyllary of Salt.

12. Ejectione firme de una Domo et uno Pomario. It was moved, That a Precipe doth not lye de Domo; for non conſtat what it is; but he ought to demand Meſſuagium. And that a Precipe lyes not de pomario, but he ought to demand it by the name of a Garden, and this Action ought to be as certain as a Precipe. But it was holden by the Court, That the Writ was well brought, for it is but an Action of Treſpaſs in its nature; and Treſpaſs lyes, Quare domum fregit; and ſo here being a convenient certainty, the Sheriff may deliver poſſeſſion of it; and for the ſame reaſon, the Action brought de pomario, is good. Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 20 Jac. in B. R. Royſton and Eccleſtons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 654.

13. Ejectione firme of two Cloſes, called the Higher Gulwell, and the Lower Gulwell, containing three Acres of Land. Being found for the Plaintiff, it was moved, That the words [containing three Acres of Land] do not contain any certainty: and Savills Caſe, Cook 11. Part, 55. was vouched. But it was adjudged, That the Ejectione did lye, and was well brought, and that it differs from Savills Caſe: for there is neither quantity, nor quality of the Land, but here the quality of the Land is mentioned. And it was adjudged, That although the Cloſes do contain more, he ſhould recover the whole Cloſes. And it was ſaid, That Ejectione firme was bought of the Scite of a Mannor, and three Cloſes by name, and upon a Demurrer, the Declaration was holden good, and adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 15 Jac. in B. R. rott. 774. Wykes and Sparrows Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 435. See Sect. 5. before.

14. In Debt for Rent upon a Leaſe for years, the Plaintiff Declared of a Leaſe of a Meſſuage and Farm, called Muſwel-Farm, in Clarkenwell in Com. Midd. ac omnia Domus, ædificia, &c. eidem Meſſuag: pertinent. jacent. et exiſtent. in Muſwel, Hornſey, Finchley, & Clarkenwel, vel eorum aliquibus in dict. Com. Midd. ac omnia ſeparalia, clauſa, et parcellas terræ in Muſwel, Hornſey, Finchley, & Clarkenwell, vel eorum aliquibus in dict. Com. Midd. in eodem dimiſſ. viz. totum illud clauſum prati vel paſturæ, vocat. Hillyfield. It was moved, that the Declaration was uncertain, for that it appears not in which of the Towns the Land lay; for the Declaration is of a Leaſe of Lands in thoſe Towns, vel eorum aliqua; But it was holden, That the Declaration was good; for in a Declaration wherein no Land is recovered, it is ſufficient if the Declaration be as general as the Leaſe, becauſe the Action is grounded upon the contract. But in an Ejectione firme where the poſſeſſion is recoverable, the certainty of the Land is to be ſhewed, and in what place it lyes. For an Ejectione firme de una Domo ſive Tenemento, hath bin adjudged not to be good. Mich. 3 Jac. in B. R. Mathewſon and Rowes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 124.

15. An Ejectione Cuſtodie was brought of the Land, and of the Heir, and the parties were at Iſſue upon Traverſe of the Tenure, which was found for the Plaintiff, and damages aſſeſſed. It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, that the Writ did not lye for the Ejectment of the body, but only for the Land; for for which the Plaintiff relinquiſhing his Damages and Coſts, he had Judgment in the Ejectment for the Land only. 22 Eliz. Dyer, 370. Cliffords Caſe.

16. In Ejectione firme, the Caſe was, the Abbot of F. was ſeiſed of the Mannor of B. wherein the Tenements in which Copyhold Lands were parcel in E. which Mannor came to King Henry the 8th, by diſſolution. The King granted the Inheritance of all the Copyholds in E. to J. S. and his Heirs; who called it his Mannor of E. Afterwards a Copyholder of Tenements of the ſaid Mannor in which, did ſurrender them to J. S. who being ſeiſed of the Mannor of H. in the ſame County, granted the Tenements in which, &c. to the Leſſor of the Plaintiff by Copy, according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor of E. for life, by force of which he was poſſeſſed, untill ejected by the Defendant, claiming it under the title of J. S. pretending that the ſaid Grant by Copy did not bind him. In this Caſe, amongſt other points, it was Reſolved, That the Leſſee of the Copyholder, for one year, ſhall maintain an Ejectione firme; for inaſmuch as his Term is warranted by the Law, by the general Cuſtome of the Realm, it is reaſon, that if he be ejected, that he have an Ejectione firme: And it is a ſpeedy courſe for a Copyholder to have the poſſeſſion of the Land againſt a ſtranger. Trin. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Melanch and Luter's Caſe. Cook 4. Part, 26.

17. If the Leſſor putteth out his Leſſee for years, and preſently maketh a Feoffment in Fee, ſo as the Feoffee be party and privy to the ouſter of the Leſſee; The Leſſee may have a Writ of Ejectione firme vi et armis againſt the Feoffee, becauſe he is party to the Ouſter, and to the wrong done unto him. So the Lord by Eſcheat, if he put out the Termor of the Leaſe made by the Tenant, the Leſſee may have and maintain Ejectione firme againſt the Lord by Eſcheat. And ſo an Ejectione firme will lye againſt the Lord of the Villain, if he put the Termor out of his Leaſe made by his Villain before entry made by the Lord into the Land. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 221. acc.

18. If a man Leaſe Lands for years, and afterwards ſuffereth a Recovery in a Writ of Entry in the Poſt, or any other Writ: If he who recovereth, entreth, the Termor ſhall have an Ejectione firme againſt him, by force of the Statute of 21 H. 8. cap. 15. becauſe the Statute giveth him power to retain, hold, and enjoy his Term, and ſo it appeareth by that Statute, that he who recovereth, doth wrong unto him, if he put him out of his Term; but before that Statute, he could not have had Ejectione firme in that Caſe, becauſe he who recovered, came in by courſe of Law. And that in this Writ he ſhall recover his Term again, if the Term be not ended. See Fitzh. Nat. Br. 220. acc.

19. Note, In all Caſes where the Regiſter hath two Writs for one Caſe, it is in the parties election to take which Writ he will. And therefore if a man putteth out the Executors of his Leſſee for years of the Term, they may have a ſpecial Writ upon their Caſe. Regiſter 97. and yet they may have a Writ of Ejectione firme, or an Action of Treſpaſs at their Election againſt him. Cook 4. Part, 95. in Slades Caſe.

20. Ejectione firme of a Leaſe, 6. Sept. 2 Jac. The Plaintiff declared, That he was poſſeſſed untill the Defendant poſtea. ſcil. 4. Sept. 2 Jac. ejected him. Upon Not guilty pleaded, being found for the Plaintiff, It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That the Declaration was not good, for that the Ejectment is ſayed to be two dayes before the Leaſe made, which cannot be: But it was Reſolved, That the Declaration was good enough, for that the ſcil. was impoſſible, and repugnant; and therefore void, for the Poſtea here was good without the ſcilicet: Wherefore it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 3 Jac. in B. R. Adams and Gooſes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 96. See Trin. 15 Jac. rott. 199. Treſmond and Jones's Caſe. Where Trover and Converſion of goods was ſuppoſed to be, 3. May. And the Converſion was ſuppoſed Poſtea, ſcilicet. 1. May the ſame year which was before the loſs, and yet adjudged good, ibid.

21. Ejectione firme of a Leaſe made 12. Decembris, Habendum à primo die. The Jury found a Leaſe, which was dated 1. December. Habendum from henceforth, but delivered 12. Decemb. Whether it were according to the Declaration, was the Queſtion. It was objected, that from the day of the date, and from henceforth, are ſeveral Commencements. But it was Reſolved, They are both one, being a computation of time from the time paſt, and both ſhall be pleaded from the day of the date, when the Leaſe is Sealed afterwards another day. But if he declares of a Leaſe of the firſt of December, Habendum à die datus, the ejectment cannot be alledged the ſame day; but if the Leaſe be made the firſt of December, Habendum henceforth, the Ejectment may be alledged the ſame day: And ſo it was adjudged, Trin. 8 Jac. in B. R. rott. 150. Lewellin and Williams's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 258.

22. In Ejectione firme, the Plaintiff declared, Whereas J. S. by Indenture 9. Junii. 19 Jac. dimiſſet ſuch Land to the Plaintiff, Habendum terminum prædict. à die datus ſigillationis et deliberationis Indenturæ prædict. for three years: virtute cujus, the Plaintiff, 10. Junii, 19 Jac. was poſſeſſed untill the Defendant the ſame day ejected him. Upon Not-guilty, It was found againſt the Defendant. It was moved, The Declaration was not good, becauſe canſe neither the day of the date, nor of the Sealing and delivery of the Indenture were mentioned. But it was the Opinion of the Court, That the Declaration was good: For where the Verdict found him guilty upon the Declaration, and the Ejectment is alledged according to the Declaration, it may be well intended, That the Indenture bore date, and was Sealed and delivered the day mentioned in the Declaration of the Leaſe. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 19 Jac. in B. R. rott. 84. Featon and Hartefloas Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 646.

23. Errour of a Judgment in C. B. in Ejectione firme aſſigned was, That the firſt Declaration was that A. 25. Marcii 6 Jac. let to the Plaintiff for ſeven years, by vertue whereof he was poſſeſſed untill the Defendant poſtea, ſcilicet. Anno 6. ſupradict. entred and ejected him, ſo there is not any day mentioned. After Imparlance, the Plaintiff made a ſecond Declaration, and there without any ſpace made, the Ejectment is ſuppoſed to be 26. May, Anno ſupradict. and the Ejectment was brought, M. 7 Jac. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved. 1. That the firſt Declaration is the principal and material Declaration, and the ſecond is but a recital of the firſt, and if there be any miſ-recital in the firſt, it cannot be mended by the ſecond. But the Court held, as this Caſe was, the firſt Declaration was good enough. For he Declares of a Leaſe 25. Marcii. 6 Jac. which is the firſt day of that year, and the Declaration, Quod poſtea ſcilicet, 6 Jacobi the Defendant ejected him, is certain enough, for the year wherein he made the Ejectment: ſo as it appears, it was after the Leaſe made, and in the ſame year of 6 Jac. wherein the Ejectment was. And the Action was brought Anno 7 Jac. and the Ejectment made between the making of the Leaſe, and the Action brought, is good enough, although there be not any day certain alledged. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 10 Jac. in B. R. Merrel and Smiths Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 311.

24. In an Ejectione firme upon a Leaſe made to the Plaintiff by Husband and Wife. It being found for the Plaintiff: It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, for that it was alledged, that the Leaſe was made by the Husband and Wife generally, without alledging the ſame to be by Deed, as it ought to be. But it was Reſolved by the Court, upon ſight of a Judgment given, Trin. 36 Eliz. in B. R. rott. 339. Bateman and Allens Caſe. And of another Judgment, Paſc. 33 Eliz. in C. B. between Moſeley and Guilbert. And of another Judgment in B. R. between Digs and Withers. In all which Caſes, Judgment was given for the Plaintiff upon a Demiſe made by the Husband and Wife, without alledging the ſame to be by Deed. Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Hill. 41 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 2. Part, 61. Wſcots Caſe.

25. In Ejectione firme, the Plaintiff Declared, That whereas J. S. and others, 9. Octob. 5 Jac. at G. in the County of C. did demiſe to the Defendant, one Meſſuage, four Gardens, 200 Acres of Land, 20 Acres of Meadow, &c. with the Appurtenances, called Eaſt Ditzard in the ſaid County, to have and hold for five years. The Defendant pleaded, Not Guilty; and found for the Plaintiff, and Judgment given: Error was brought, and aſſigned for Error, That the Plaintiff in his Declaration did not ſhew in what Town, Pariſh, Hamlet, or place, the ſaid Tenement called the Eaſt-Ditzard lay, but in the general County aforeſaid. It was holden by the Court, That it was erronious for that cauſe, and therefore the Judgment was reverſed in the Exchequer Chamber. Hill. 13 Jac. Rich and Sheres Caſe. Hob. 89.

26. In Ejectione firme, the Plaintiff Declared, That one W. M. 5. Maii, 10 Jac. at C. in the County of C. Leaſed to the Plaintiff a houſe, 40. Acres of Land, 20. Acres of Meadow, with the Appurtenances in C. pradict. Habendum, from the Feaſt of the Anunciation laſt paſt, for 21 years, and the Ejectment was alledged to be the ſaid 5th of May, Anno 10. Upon Not Guilty pleaded; It was found by ſpecial Verdict, That before the ſaid demiſe, W. M. was ſeiſed of the Lands in Fee, and ſo ſeiſed the ſaid 5. May, Anno 10. ſupradict. made an Indenture of Leaſe to the Plaintiff, in hac verba, ſcil. demiſit tenenta pradict. Habendum the ſaid houſe or Tenement, with the Appurtenances, from the Feaſt of the Anunciatian of the Virgin, laſt paſt, for 21 years next enſuing, by force of which, the Plaintiff was poſſeſſed untill he was Ejected by the Defendant, the ſaid 5. May, Anno 10 Jacobi. The Queſtion was, If the Leaſe found by the Jury, did agree with the Leaſe mentioned in the Declaration for one Term of years, or not, becauſe that the Leaſe by the Declaration was a Leaſe made 5. May, Anno 10. of the King. Habendum from the Feaſt of the Annunciation then laſt paſt, for 21 years, extunc. ſcilicet. from the Feaſt of the Annunciation then next enſuing: but the Leaſe found by the Jury, was a Leaſe made the ſaid 5. May, 10 Regis, by Indenture, bearing date 5. May, Anno 10 Regis, Habendum de feſto Annunciationis tunc ultimo preterito pro termino 20 annorum prox. ſequend. poſt. dat. dict. Indenture. It was adjadged for the Plaintiff in the Exchequer Chamber, and afterwards affirmed by both the Chief Juſtices, and the Lord Chancellor and Treaſurer. Trin. 11 Jac. in the Exchequer Chamber. Moor and Muſgraves Caſe. B. b. 18, and 19.

27. In an Action of Covenant, the Plaintiff declared, That it was agreed by Articles betwixt the Plaintiff and Defendant, and the Defendant did Co-

Tenant, promiſe, and agree, with the Plaintiff, that the Plaintiff haberet, occuparet, et gauderet certain Lands for ſeven years, from the Feaſt of the Annunciation next enſuing the Date of the Bill; and the Plaintiff covenanted that he ſhould pay 220 l. a year for it during the Term, and that he would deliver the Poſſeſſion of the Land at the end of the Term to the Defendant, and declared that he entred into the Lands; and the next day after our Lady day, one J. S. entred upon him, and ejected him, and hath ever ſince held him out, which he layed to be a Breach of Covenant to his dammage of 1000 l. The Defendant did demurr in Law. The Queſtions were, 1. If this were a naked Covenant, or amounted to a Leaſe? 2. Whether the Ejectment by J. S. being taken to be by wrong, becauſe no Title was layed in him, ſhould be adjudged a breach of Covenant? It was firſt adjudged, That this was a Leaſe of the Land for 7. years, for the words haberet, occuparet, et gauderet the Lands, are the perfect words to give Intereſt: And here is a certain Term from the beginning, and certain Rent and Covenants on both ſides, importing preſent Poſſeſſion of the Land, and the word Covenant in this Caſe, ſounds not properly in Covenant, but in Agreement. 2. It was adjudged, That it was no breach of Covenant; yet it was agreed, That if the Leſſor eject his Leſſee, he may have an Action of Covenant, but the Law ſhall never judge that I covenant againſt the wrongfull Acts of Strangers, except ſuch Covenant be expreſſe to that purpoſe. Mich. 9 Jac. Tiſdale and Sir William Eſſex Caſe, Hob. 35. But ſee, An Action was brought in the King's Bench, where the Caſe was, That one Paſtor had leaſed to the Plaintiff the Parſonage of B. for a year, and covenanted to ſave the Plaintiff harmleſſe concerning the premiſſes and profits of the ſame to be received for that year, againſt J. D. Parſon of B, and alledged That J. D. Parſon of B. had ejected them, and although that were taken by the Court to be a wrongful Ejectment; for though he were Parſon, yet there might be many wayes to make his Ejectment wrongful, and the worſt ſhall be taken againſt the Pleader: Yet it was adjudged, That the Covenant was broken in that Caſe; 1. Becauſe it was to ſave harmleſſe for the Receipt of the profits: And 2. It was againſt a Perſon certain; both which did import that the Plaintiff ſhould receive no harm by that Parſon touching the profits. Hill. 33 Eliz. in C. B. Wilſon and Foſter againſt Mape's Caſe, Hob. 34. acc.

28. A. brought againſt B. a Writ containing both an Ejectione firme, and a Treſpaſſe of Aſſault and Battery; and upon Not-Guilty pleaded, a Verdict was found for the Plaintiff, both for the Ejectment and battery, and entire damages aſſeſſed, and the Court would adviſe of the Judgment to be given in this Caſe, becauſe it was without a Preſident, but the damages for the Battery could not be releaſed, becauſe they were entire with the Ejectment. Hil. 16 Jac. in C. B. Rott. 1819. Bird and Snell's Caſe, Hob. 249.

29. In an Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was this: Tenant for years makes a Leaſe at Will; the Tenant at Will is ejected, and the Queſtion was, Whether the Tenant for years, for this Ejectment of his Leſſee at Will, might have an Ejectione firmæ: It was Reſolved, That upon a Poſſeſſion in Law, a man ſhall never maintain an Ejectione firmæ, but he ought to have an actual Poſſeſſion; and therefore, where the Tenant at Will of the Leſſee for years is ouſted clearly, the Tenant for years for this Ejectment of his Leſſee at Will cannot have an Ejectione firmæ without his actual Poſſeſſion at the time of the Ejectment; and ſo if the Leſſee for years be the Remainder for years, and the Leſſee for years is ouſted, his Term expires, the Remainder for years cannot have Ejectione firmæ, for the reaſon that he had not an actual Poſſeſſion at the time of the Ejectment. Paſch. 12. Jac. in B. R. Stone and Sir Richard Grubham's Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 209.

30. In an Ejectione firmæ, upon Not-Guilty pleaded: Upon opening the Declaration, the Ejectment Leaſe appeared to be ſealed 8 May, 7 Jac. the Execution layed to be 13 May, 7 Jac. The Plaintiff brings his Action in Eaſter-Term following, and failed in the proving of the Ejectment: It was ſaid by the Court, If the Plaintiff proves the Ejectmment at any time after the Leaſe is made, and before the Action brought, it is ſufficient, notwithſtanding the Ejectment be layed at a time certain which he cannot prove, the ſame is not materiall; if he can prove the Ejectment at any time before the Action brought it is ſufficient, but becauſe the Plaintiff failed to prove this, he was Non-ſuit. Paſc. 9 Jac. in B. R. Hall and King's Caſe, Bolſtr. 1. Part, 122.

31. In an Ejectione firmæ, The Plaintiff declared of a Leaſe made to him the 8th day of May, to hold for 21 years then next following, by vertue of which afterwards, viz. the ſame day, he entred: It was holden, That it was good, and that he had not entred as a Diſſeiſor before the Leaſe began, for ex tunc is immediately after the delivery, and it ſhall not be intended before the Date, and the Poſtea declares that he entred not before the Leaſe made. Trinit. 11 Eliz. Dyer, 286.

32. A Leaſe was made of a Garden containing three Acres, and a Writ of Ejectione was brought and the Plaintiff declared, that he was ejected out of three Acres of Land: It was a Quære, if the Declaration was good. Is ſeemed the better Opinion to be, That it was, becauſe a Garden is a good Demand in a Præcipe: But it was holden, That it was in the Election of the Party to declare of a Garden, or of three Acres of Land; but it had bin the better to declare of a Garden containing three Acres of Land. Hill. 23 Eliz. in C. B. adjudg. acc.

33. In an Ejectione firme, The Plaintiff declared upon a Demiſe made to the Plaintiff by J. G. Dat. 1. Jan. 15 Jac. and ſealed and delivered 12. Jan. following, to hold from Chriſtmas laſt paſt for two years: Upon a ſpecial Verdict, the Jury found the Leaſe, and a Letter of Attorney to execute the Leaſe; That the Leſſor was ſeiſed of the Land in Fee, and ſo ſeiſed, he made, ſigned, and ſealed an Indenture, of the Demiſe of the Tenements, and found that the Leſſor the ſaid 15 Jac. did not deliver the ſaid Indenture of Demiſe to the Plaintiff as his Deed, but by his Attorney bearing date the ſame day, gave full Power and Authority to one J. S. to enter into all the Premiſſes in the name of the Leſſor; by vertue of which the Attorney took Poſſeſſion, and immediately after he did deliver the ſaid Indenture of Demiſe as the Leſſors Deed to the Plaintiff: Exception was taken to the Declaration, becauſe it is ſaid, whereas he had demiſed; and if it was a Demiſe, then the Letter of Attorney was idle, and to no purpoſe: But it was holden by the Court, That it was the Demiſe of the Leſſor, and the Declaration was good, and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Trinit. 16 Jac. in C. B. Hill and Stake's Caſe. Brownl. 1. Part, 128.

34. In an Ejectione firme, the Caſe was, The Husband and Wife joyned in a Leaſe to A. rendring Rent for years, and made a Letter of Attorney to ſeal and deliver the Leaſe upon the Land, which was done accordingly. A. brought a Writ of Ejectione firme, and declared upon a Demiſe made by the Husband and Wife: It was holden by the Court, upon the evidence given, That the Leaſe did not maintain the Declaration, for that a Woman could not make a Letter of Attorney to deliver a Leaſe upon the Land, although Rent was reſerved upon the Leaſe, and ſo the Warrant of Attorney was meerly void, and the Leaſe was only the Leaſe of the Husband; and ſo the Declaration was not good, by the Opinion of the whole Court. Paſc. 44 Eliz. in C. B. Wilſon and Rich's Caſe, Brownl. 1. Part, 134.

35. In an Ejectment brought, The Plaintiff declared upon a Leaſe made by Sir William Cotton Knight, the Defendant pleaded Not-Guilty, and made Challenge, and prayed a Venire facias to the Coroners, becauſe the Sheriff was Couſin to the Leſſor's Wife, which being a Challenge for favour, after Tryall and Verdict it was amended, becauſe it was miſ-tryed; and in this Caſe, It was agreed, That miſconveyance of proceſs is, where one Writ is awarded in the place of another, to an Officer which of right ought to execute that proceſs, and he returns it; this is helped after Verdict by a Statute: But if a Writ be awarded to an Officer, who ought not to execute the proceſs, and he returns it; this is a miſ-tryal, and not helped by the Statute: And in this Caſe, It was holden, That if two Tenants in Common, joyn in a Leaſe for years to bring an Ejectment, and declare, That whereas they did demiſe the Tenements, that the ſame was not good, becauſe it is a ſeverall Leaſe of Moyeties; and if they had declared, That one of them had demiſed one moyety, and the other, the other moyety, it had been good. Trinit. 9 Jac. in C. B. Rott. 2284. Craddock and Jones Caſe. Brownl. 1. Part, 134.

36. A Woman, Tenant for life of a Copyhold, after the death of her Husband, took another Husband, who with his Wife made a Leaſe by Indenture for years, to begin at a day to come, reſerving Rent: The ſecond Husband dyed, the Wife cauſed the Rent to be paid to a Stranger for Debt due by the Wife, and afterwards made a Leaſe of the Lands to another, who brought an Ejectione firme againſt the Leſſee, upon promiſe that his Leaſe was ſealed upon the Land: It was the Opinion of the Court, That the firſt Leaſe was good by acceptance of the Rent by the Wife, and no Exception was taken for the bringing of the Action here, nor to the making of the Leaſe for years to be a forfeiture: But the Queſtion onely was, Whether the firſt Leaſe was a Leaſe in Eſſe, or in Reverſion, and then the acceptance of the Rent was nothing to the purpoſe; But it was holden by the Juſtices, That it was a good Leaſe in poſſeſſion. M. 16 Eliz. in C.B. adjudg. acc.

37. In an Ejectione firme of a Leaſe upon Not-Guilty pleaded: The Evidence on the Defendant's part was by reaſon of a Leaſe of the Land in Queſtion made by the Abbot of C. before the Diſſolution, to J. S. and Joan his Wife, and A. their Daughter, for three lives by Indenture, and by the ſaid Indenture the Abbot granted and confirmed to the three Leſſees, that the Land ſhould remain to the Aſſignee of the Survivor of them for 90 years: F. ſurvived, and took to Husband J. D. Who 20 Eliz. granted the Eſtate to J. N. and all their Intereſt in the Remainder, and all their Power for all the Tearm, and the ſame by mean Aſſignments came to the Defendant: And whether an Intereſt paſſed in Remainder by the Leaſe of the Abbot, was the Queſtion. And it was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That it was a good Intereſt in poſſibility, and to be reduced into a certainty in the Perſon of Survivor: As where Land is given to three, and the right Heirs of the Survivor, this is a good limitation of the Inheritance preſently; but it is in expectancy untill the Survivor be known, for then the Fee is executed in him. 2. It was holden, That although in this Caſe, the Remainder is not limited to any of the 3. Leſſees, but to the Aſſignee of the Survivor, yet that this was not a bare Nomination in the Survivor to appoint what Perſon he pleaſed, but an Intereſt. Paſch. 4 Jac. in C. B. Clerk and Sydenham's Caſe, Brownl. 135.

38. In an Ejectione firme, upon a ſpecial Verdict the Caſe was; A. poſſeſſed of a Term for 1000 years deviſed the ſame to E. his Daughter for life, the Remainder to J. S. and made L. the Huſband of his Daughter E. his Executor and dyed. J. S. deviſed his Intereſt to J. D. and J. G. and made J. R. his Executor, and dyed: L. ſpake theſe words, If E. my Wife were dead, my eſtate in the Premiſſes were ended, and then it remains to J. S. E. dyed, the Executors of J. S. made the Leaſe to the Plaintiff, and L. made the Leaſe to the Defendant, who entred upon the Plaintiff, who brought the Ejectione firme. The Queſtions in the Caſe were; 1. If the words ſpoken by L. the Executor were a ſufficient aſſent to the Deviſe. 2. Whether the aſſent came in due time as to the Intereſt of J. S. in the Remainder, becauſe he dyed before the words ſpoken which ſhould make the aſſent. It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices upon ſolemn Argument; 1. That L. the Executor had made a ſufficient Election to take the Term as Deviſee in the right of his Wife. 2. That it was a good and ſufficient aſſent to the Deviſe. And 3. That the aſſent came time enough, otherwiſe it might be prejudicial to the Legatees, for elſe by that means they might be defeated of their Legacies; and ſo Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. See Cook 8 Part, Manning's Caſe, &c. Mich. 17 Car. in B. R. Southwood and Mitterds Caſe, Marſh. 135.

39. In Ejectione firme the Caſe was, A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, in conſideration of Marriage, did give and grant the ſame to J. his younger Son, and to his Heirs after his death, but no Livery was made: A. dyed, his eldeſt Son entred, and made a Leaſe to the Plaintiff who entred, and upon Ejectment of J. brought Ejectione firme: It was agreed in this Caſe, That if Livery had been made, that it had been void, becauſe that a Free hold cannot begin at a day to come. But it was objected, That it ſhould paſſe by Covenant to raiſe an uſe to J. and there need no expreſſe word of Covenant to raiſe an uſe, as was adjudged in Elithman's Caſe. But it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the gift ſhould not enure by way of Covenant to raiſe an uſe, unleſſe it had appeared that the meaning of the party was, that he intended to paſſe his Eſtate by way of raiſing an uſe, otherwiſe not; and in this Caſe it doth not appear that he intended to paſſe by way of Uſe: But by the word [Give] he intended tranſmutation of Poſſeſſion, and in Poſſeſſion it could not paſſe for want of Livery, and Livery cannot become at a day to come. Trin. 15 Car. in the King's Bench, Pitfield and Peacet's Caſe.

40. In an Ejectione firme the Caſe was, A Copy-holder Tenant in Fee did ſurrender into the hands of two Tenants unto the uſe of J. S. immediately after his death; the Queſtion was, If the ſurrender was void. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the ſurrender was void: It was ſaid that Eſtates of Copy-hold ought to be directed by the Rule of Law, and as in a Grant, a Grant to one in ventre ſa mier is void, ſo alſo in a Will or Deviſe, and it hath been adjudged, That a ſurrender to the uſe of one in ventre ſa mier is void. And as to the Common Law, a Free-hold cannot commence in futuro, ſo likewiſe of a Copy-hold. See 23 Jac. in B. R. Rott. 676. A ſurrender was of a Copy-Tenement to the uſe of an Enfant in ventre ſa mier, after the death of the Surrender: And it was Reſolved by all the Judges, that the Surrender was void, 1. Becauſe it was to the uſe of an Enfant in ventre ſa mier. And 2. Becauſe it was to begin in futuro, which is contrary to the Rule of Law, Simpſon and Southwell's Caſe. In the principall Caſe, It was adjudged, that the Surrender was void, and that the Plaintiff nihil capiat per Billam. Hill. 17 Car. in B. R. Bambridge and Whitton's Caſe, Marſh. 177.

41. In an Ejectione firme brought, Exception was taken to the Declaration, becauſe it was Quod à poſſeſſione ſuâ ejecit, whereas it ought to be according to the ſuppoſall of the Writ, quod à firmâ ſuâ ejecit: Alſo it was of three Cloſes, naming them with a videlicet, containing by Eſtimation thirty Acres, and that was incertain, whereas it ought to be alledged in fact, how many each did contain: But it was holden by the Juſtices, That although he doth not alledge the certainty of the Acres, if he giveth a Name certain to them, it is ſufficient; and as to the Acres, and as to the other Exception, It was Reſolved, That ejecit à poſſeſſione & à firmâ was all one in effect, and eſpecially in this Caſe, becauſe it was à poſſeſſione inde, and the word inde hath relation to the Ferme, and it ſhall be aſmuch as if he had ſaid à poſſeſſione firmæ. The Declaration was holden good, and Judgment given for the Plaintiff. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R.

2. What ſhall be a good Plea in Barr, or in Abatement of an Ejectione firme, and what not.

1. ERror brought upon Ejectione firme, Quia Bona et Catalla ibid. invent. cepit et vi et armis, &c. The Plaintiff declared upon a Leaſe for fifty years, to begin at Michaelmas next after the death of J. S. and averred that J. S. dyed, and he entred. The Defendant pleaded Non ejecit: It was found quod ejecit, and Judgment, that he ſhould recover the Term. Error aſſigned, becauſe it is not ſhowed when he entred, ſo as it may be the Term is ended; nor when he entred, and it may be he entred before Michaelmas, and ſo a Diſſeiſor; for theſe and other Errors the Judgment was reverſed. Mich. 7 E. 6. Dyer, 89. & 1 Ma. 96.

2. Ejectione firme was brought againſt A. & B. A appeared and pleaded an Entry of the Plaintiff into the Land after the Darrein Continuance, and delivered Judgment of the Writ upon which the Plaintiff did demurr in Law; After which the firſt Iſſue was found for the Plaintiff. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Plaintiff could not have Judgment, becauſe the Plaintiff by his Demurrer had confeſſed his own Writ abateable; but it had been otherwiſe if the Plaintiff had onely imparled to the Defendants Plea. Hill. 6 Eliz. Dyer, 226.

3. Ejectione firme brought againſt three: The Defendants pleaded, That after the Treſpaſſe and Ejectment there was an accord and agreement betwixt them, that one of the Defendants ſhould pay to the Plaintiff 10 l. in ſatisfaction thereof, and ſhould give Bond for the Payment of the ſame, which he had performed: In this Caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. That in all Caſes and Actions which ſuppoſe a wrong to be done vi et armis, where a Capias or Exigent lyeth at the Common Law; That an accord is a good Plea for redeeming of his Body out of Priſon; and the Writ of Ejectione firme doth include in it ſelf an Action of Treſpaſſe, as it appears by the Writ, for the Writ is vi & armis, and the Entry of the Ejectione firme is in placito Tranſgreſſionis et Ejectionis firme. 2. Reſolved, That a Diſcharge and ſatisfaction by one of the Defendants, did diſcharge all other Defendants. Cook 9 Part, 78. Peytoe's Caſe.

4. In an Ejectione firme the Defendant pleaded in Barr a Recovery had in the King's Bench againſt the Leſſor of the Plaintiff: It was moved, That this was no Barr no more than in Treſpaſſe, eſpecially not being betwixt the parties themſelves; for here the Plaintiff is but Leſſee to him which was barred, and that which is an Eſtoppel againſt the parties themſelvs cannot be an Eſtoppel againſt a Stranger, as the Plaintiff is here: But the Opinion of the Court was, That it was a good Barr, for that this Action is as ſtrong to bind the Poſſeſſion, as a Writ of Right is to bind the Right; and where it was ſaid that that which was between the parties cannot be an Eſtoppel to the Plaintiff here which is but a Stranger: Yet it was ſaid, That although he ſhall not plead it by way of Eſtoppel but Judgment of Action, and the Law ſhould never have an end, if after a man is barred in his Action he might bring the ſame Action again: And it was holden in this Caſe, That if two claim by Leaſe from one man, and one bringeth an Ejectione firme and is barred, the other ſhall not have any Action, becauſe he hath no Right. It was adjudged, that in the principal Caſe the Plaintiff ſhould be barred. M. 29 Eliz. in C.B. Clayton and Lawſon's Caſe. Goldeſbr. 43.

5. In an Ejectione firme brought, The Defendant pleaded an Accord with ſatisfaction in Barr, the Plaintiff did demurr: It was holden by the Court a good Plea, becauſe the Action is not only in the Realty, for he recovered damages and poſſeſſion. 2. Becauſe the Defendant pleads the ſatisfaction, as in diſcharge of that Action and all others; and it was ſaid by Coke Chief Juſtice, that in all Actions where money or damages are recoverable, aſwell wherein the Defendant might wage his Law, as wherein not accord, is a good Plea, Paſch. 3 Jac. Rot. 1033. in C. B. Eden and Bliches Caſe: but in matters where Free-hold or Inheritance is recovered, it is no Plea; as in Dower, recompence out of other Land or Rent is no Plea, but Rent iſſuing out of the ſame Land demanded is a good Barr: And in all Actions Quære vi et armis, wherein proceſſe of Outlawry lyes by the Common Law, Concord or Accord is a good Plea in Bar, and by the Opinion of the whole Court, Satisfaction in Treſpaſſe by a Stranger is a good Bar, although it be without Notice of Treſpaſſe. Trin. 9 Jac. in C.B. Rott. 2151. Pats and Chittles Caſe, Brownlow. 1 Part, 133, 134.

6. In an Ejectione firme, the Plaintiff declared upon a Leaſe made by A. and B. of a Meſſuage and 40 Acres of Lands in S. in the County of S. the Defendant imparled untill another Term, and then pleaded, That within the Pariſh of S. there were three Villages, A. B. and C; and becauſe the Plaintiff had not ſhewed in which of the Villages the Land lay, the Defendant demanded Judgment of the Bill, upon which Plea the Plaintiff demurred in Law. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff, for after imparlance the Defendant cannot plead in abatement of the Bill, for he hath admitted it to be good, by entring into defence, and by his Imparlance. 2. The matter of his Plea is not good, becauſe the Defendant hath not ſhewed in which of the Villages the houſe and 40 Acres of Lands did lye; and where a man pleads in abatement, he alwayes ought to give the Plaintiff a better Writ: and the Court held, That the Plea was not in bar, but he ſhould anſwer over. And a difference was taken when a man demurs upon a Plea in abatement, and when he goes to Iſſue upon it; for if they go to Iſſue upon ſuch Plea, if it be found againſt the Defendant, it is peremptory, and he ſhall loſe the Land, but upon demurrer it is not peremptory, but only an anſwer over, quod nota. Mich. 5 Jac. in C. B. Tompſon and Colliers Caſe. Brownl. 1. Part, 138.

Election.

1. Where upon Grants, the Election ſhall remain of the thing granted in the Granter, and where in the Grantee. And where, and by what Acts, the Election upon Grants ſhall be determined; Where not.

1. THE Biſhop of Salisbury made a Feoffment in Fee to J. S. of a Meſſuage and 17 Acres of Wood, in a great Wood conteyning 10000 Acres, at the Election of the Feoffee and his Heirs: J. S. dyed before Election, and after five Diſcents, his Heir would have made election. In that Caſe, it was adjudged, That the Heir ſhould not have Election. 1. Becauſe he pleaded the Feoffment without Deed; and an Election cannot be annexed to an eſtate without Deed. 2. Becauſe it was an Eſtate which paſſed by Livery, which is certain; and after Livery, the Election doth not remain to make the Freehold, as abeyance. And 2. Becauſe the Election was not made in the life of the parties; and Election ought to be made in the life of the parties; for before Election, there was no property in the Trees, and therefore before Election, they cannot diſcend. Mich. 11 Jac. Dyer, 281. The Biſhop of Salisbury and Bullock's Caſe.

2. If Tenant in tail of a Rent, Advowſon, Tythes, Common, or other ſuch things which lye in Grant, grants them by Deed in Fee, the Grant is not abſolutely determined by his death, but it is in the Election of the Iſſue, to make the Grant voidable, or void: For if he bringeth a Formedon for the Rent, &c. he makes the Grant voidable; but if he doth diſtrein for the Rent, or claim it upon the Land, he thereby determines his Election, and makes it void. Cook 3. Part, 84. in the Caſe of Fines acc.

3. The Queen had a Rent of 20 l. out of Land, whereof the Husband and Wife were Joynt-Tenants, and gave, granted, remiſed, and releaſed the Rent to the Husband and his Heirs. The Huſband deviſed the Rent. It was the Opinion of the Lord Dyer, That the Demiſe was good, and that the ſame ſhall be a Declaration of the Election of the Husband, to have the Deed enure as a Grant, and not by way of extinguiſhment. Quære in that Caſe, If he had not made Election, if his Heir might. Paſc. 15 Eliz. Dyer 319.

4. A man was bound to diſcharge or releaſe A. B. ſon and Heir of I. B. of the Wardſhip and Marriage of his body at his full age of 21 years, or before, at the requeſt of the Obligee. It is a Queſtion who ſhall have the Election, if requeſt be made before the full age of 21 years. For if I be bounden to pay 10 l. at the Feaſt of Eaſter next, or before, at the requeſt of the Obligee; It ſeems I have conſented to give the Election to the Obligee. Yet turn the ſentence, and then it ſeems, That I ſhall have the Election; as to ſay, If I pay 10 l. before the Feaſt of Eaſter, at the requeſt of the Obligee, or at the Feaſt of Eaſter; there it ſeems I ſhall have the Election. 2. Ma. Dyer, 108. See this Quære Reſolved, upon the Rules of Election, in Cook 2. Part, Sir Rowland Howard's Caſe.

5. A. ſeiſed of Lands, part in Leaſe for years, with Rent reſerved, part Copyhold, for valuable conſideration, did Demiſe, Grant, Bargain and ſell the ſaid Lands, with all Fines reſerved upon any Demiſe, and to have and to hold after the death of the Bargainor, for 17 years, rendring a Roſe to his Heir; the Deed was acknowledged to be enrolled. And afterwards he Covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed of the ſaid Lands, to the uſe of himſelf, and the Heirs of his body; there was no Attornment to the Bargainee: And afterwards the Bargainor dyed, his Heir within age. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved, That the Leſſees ſhould have the Rents reſerved by the ſaid Bargain and Sale, without any Attornment. For that it was Reſolved. 1. That the Leſſees had Election to take the ſame by Demiſe, or by Bargain and Sale; for when a man for money Demiſeth, Grants, Bargains and ſells his Lands for years, the Owner gives Election to the Leſſee to take it in the one way, or the other; for if the Law ſhould enforce them to take it by Demiſe, then they ſhould loſe the Rents reſerved upon the Leaſes for years. But if the Intereſt paſſeth by Bargain and Sale, then there needs no Attornment, becauſe the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes, executes the Poſſeſſion to the uſe.

And

And the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Enrolments, doth not extend to it, becauſe no eſtate of Freehold paſſeth, but only an eſtate for years. 2. Reſolved, That this Election doth remain, notwithſtanding the alteration by the ſecond Indenture, and notwithſtanding the death of the Leſſor, and that the King be entituled to the Wardſhip: for they had an Intereſt in them preſently, which they preſently might aſſign over, and which the Executors of the ſurvivor of them ſhould have, for here is not an Election to claim ſeveral things by one Title, but to claim one thing by ſeveral Titles; for when the things are ſeveral, the Election ought to be precedent; but when one thing paſſeth, the Election of the Title may be ſubſequent. And in this Caſe, as to the points of Election, theſe Rules were given for Law. 1. When nothing paſſeth to the Feoffee, or Grantee before Election, there the Election ought to be made in the life of the parties; but when an Eſtate, or Intereſt paſſeth, Election may be by them, their Heirs, or Executors. 2. When a thing paſſeth to the Grantee or Donee, he hath Election in what manner he will take it, there the Intereſt paſſeth preſently. 3. When Election is given to ſeveral perſons, there the firſt Election made by any of them ſhall ſtand. 4. When Election is given of ſeveral things, he which is to do the firſt act, ſhall have the Election. 5. If the things Granted be annual things, and are to have continuance for ever, the Election may be to the Grantor, as well after the day as before. 6. A man by his own wrong, may loſe his Election, as if a Feoffment be made of two Acres, the one for life, the other in Fee; if the Feoffee maketh a Feoffment of both, the Feoffor may enter into which of them he pleaſeth, becauſe the Feoffee hath loſt his Election. Cook 2. Part, 36, 37, &c. Sir Rowland Heywards Caſe.

6. A Leſſee for years of a Barn, and divers Lands determinable upon the death of the Lord Paget, granted a Rent of 10 l. per annum, by Deed out of the ſaid Barn and Lands to B. for 15 years, with clauſe of diſtreſs. Afterwards the Lord Paget dyed. It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices of England, That a Writ of Annuity was maintainable for the arrerages after the death of the Lord Paget, for there was not an Election given to have one of two ſeveral things, but to have one ſum in one degree as a Rent, and in another, as an Annuity; and preſently by the grant, the thing veſted in the Grantee, and his Election did remain to make it a real thing to charge the Land, or a perſonal thing to charge the perſon, and the death of the Lord Paget, was no determination of the Annuity. Vaughan and Wards Caſe. vouched in Cook 2. Part, Sir Rowland Heywards Caſe. 36.

8. When a grant is general, and the Law gives to the Grantee two remedies to have the thing granted, then the Grantor by a Proviſo may take away one of the remedies from the Grantee; but when the Grantee hath but one remedy to have the thing granted, there he cannot be barred of that remedy by any Proviſo. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 144. acc.

8. If a man Mortgages his Lands for mony, and the Money is appointed to be paid to the Feoffee, and before the day of payment, he maketh his Executors, and dyeth, the Mortgagor ſhall pay the money to the Executors: Or if it be limitted to be paid to the Mortgagee, or his Heirs, if he dyeth, then it ought to be paid to his Heirs, but if it be to his Heirs or Executors, there the Mortgagor hath Election to pay it to either. So likewiſe if the Condition be to pay it to the Feoffee, his Heirs, or Aſſigns, and the Feoffee maketh a Feoffment over, it is in the Election of the Feoffor to pay the money, to the firſt or ſecond Feoffee at his pleaſure; and ſo if the firſt Feoffee dyeth, the Feoffor may pay the money, either to the Heir of the firſt Feoffee, or to the ſecond Feoffee at his Election. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 210. See Litt. Sect. 334. acc.

9. A man makes a Leaſe for life of Lands, rendring Rent, and further binds him and his Heirs to warranty; here the expreſs warranty doth not take away the warranty in Law, for if he in the Reverſion, granteth over his Reverſion, and the Leſſee attorneth, and afterwards he is impleaded, he may vouch the Grantee by reaſon of the warranty in Law, or he may vouch the Leſſor by his expreſs warranty at his Election. And if a man maketh a Feoffment by the word Dedi, and with an expreſs warranty in fait, he may uſe the one or the other at his Election. Cook 4. Part, 81. in Nokes's Caſe. acc.

10. If a man who is condemned in Debt or damages, have Lands in divers Counties, the Plaintiff at his Election, may pray an Elegit into each County for the whole Debt, or damages; or he may at his Election make diviſion of his Debt; and Quod 10 l. to have execution in one County, and Quod other 10 l. in another County at his Election. 4, and 5. Ma. Dyer. 162. acc.

11. The Father granted a Rent-charge out of certain Lands to his ſon in Fee, the Rent was behind, the Father dyed, the Land diſcended to the Son, by which the Rent was extinct by Act in Law. The Son brought an Action of Debt againſt the Executors of the Father, for the arrerages encurred in the Fathers life time. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That for theſe (as arrerages of a Rent) no Action did lye, but for the arrerages of an annuity, an Action did lye: And although that by the diſcent of the Land to the Grantee, being Heir to the Grantor, aſwell the Annuity as the Rent was determined, and that the original Election was annexed to an Inheritance: yet in as much as the Inheritance in both was determined by Act in Law, which will do no wrong; for that cauſe, It was adjudged, That the Election which he hath made by bringing an Action of Debt againſt the Executors of his Father ſhall remain; for the Son may chooſe whether he will have a Writ of Annuity or Diſtrein. Cook 4. Part, 49. in Andrew Oyſell's Caſe.

Grantor

12. If three Coparceners be, upon Partition made by them, the Eldeſt Siſter ſhall have Election which part to have; but if ſhe her ſelf maketh Partition, ſhe loſeth her priviledge of Election, and ſhall take laſt. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 166.

13. In Debt the Plaintiff declared upon diverſe contracts, viz. That he had ſold to the Defendant ſuch Merchandizes, for ſo many Portagues, and ſuch Merchandizes for ſo many Ducats which in toto amounted to 100 l. Sterling: which Sum he demanded in Sterling Money, and not in Ducats or Portagues, according to the Contract, and upon that the Declaration the Defendant did demurr in Law: And in that Caſe, Judgment was given for the Plaintiff; for that it was in the Election of the Plaintiff to demand his Debt in which of theſe Coyns he pleaſed, either in the proper Coyn of the Contract, or of the Sterling, ſcil. the currant Money: And upon a Writ of Error brought, the Judgment was affirmed. Mich. 29 Eliz. in Exchequer, Wilſadge and Davidges Caſe, Leon. 41.

14. In Debt upon an Obligation the Caſe was: A. was bound to B. in a Bond, upon Condition that the Obligor ſhould pay to B. his Executors, &c. at the choice and Election of the ſaid B. within a Month after the Death of G. 30. l. or twenty Kine: The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff within the Month after the Death, &c. did not make an Election, upon which the Plaintiff did demurr: It was holden by the Court, That it was a good Plea in Bar; for the Obligor is not bounden to make Leader both of the Money and the Kine, but the Obligee is bound at his perill to make Election within the time limited; and in that Caſe, It was holden, That the Election of the Plaintiff ought to precede the tender of the Defendant. Sir 18 Eliz. 4. the Lord Liſle's Caſe. Mich. 27 Eliz. in Com. Banc. Baſſet and Kerne's Caſe, Leon, 69, 70.

15. A man made a Leaſe to J. S. for 40 years, if the Leſſor ſo long lived, tendring Rent at the four uſual Feaſts, or within thirteen weeks after every Feaſt by equal portions: After one of the Feaſts, ſcil. the Annunciation, the Leſſor dyed, and his Executors brought an Action of Debt for the Rent due at the ſaid Feaſt: It was Reſolved, That the Action would not lye, becauſe the Payment being limited in the diſjunctive, the moſt beneficial ſhall be taken for the Leſſee, and before that day the Leſſee is diſcharged by the Act of God. 2. Becauſe that when the Leſſee doth not make Payment at the firſt day, the Election is paſt, and then the Rent is abſolutely due at the ſecond day, and the ſecond day is aſwell parcell of the Reſervation as the firſt day. Cook 10. Part, 128. Clann's Caſe.

16. Note, It was agreed and Reſolved by the whole Court, That whereas a man was ſeiſed of a Mannor, & alienced it, except one Cloſe, parcel of the Mannor called Newdick, and there were two Cloſes, parcel of the ſaid Mannor, called Newdick; the one containing nine Acres, and the other containing 3. Acres: That the Allienee ſhould not chooſe which of the ſaid Cloſes he would have; but the Allienor or Feoffee ſhould have the Election, which of the ſaid Cloſes ſhould paſs. M. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Sir Thomas Lee's Caſe, Leon, 268.

17. In Debt upon an Obligation, the Condition was, That if the Obligor do deliver unto the Obligee certain Obligations which the Obligor hath of the ſaid Obligee, or elſe do ſeal ſuch a Releaſe as the ſaid Obligee ſhall deviſe before Mich. that then &c. The Defendant pleaded, That before the Feaſt of Michaelmas the ſaid Obligee did not tender unto him any Acquittance: It was adjudged in this Caſe, That there was not any Election in the party in this Caſe, for that the making of the Acquittance reſteth in the Will of the Obligee, and ſo the Obligee hath not Election. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C. B. Gretingham and Ewer's Caſe, Goldeſbr. 142.

18. Debt againſt an Adminiſtrator for Rent behind, after the death of the Inteſtate: they pleaded, That before the Rent was behind, one of the Adminiſtrators aſſigned all their Intereſt to J. S. of which the Plaintiff had notice, and accepted the Rent by the hand of the Aſſignee before the day in which the Rent in Queſtion was due: It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the privity of Contract as to the Action of Debt, was determined by the death of the Leſſee, and therefore after the death Debt did not lye againſt the Adminiſtrators, and in that Caſe, It was adjudged, That when the Leſſor hath Election to charge the Leſſee or Aſſignee, then if he accept of the Rent of the Aſſignee, he hath determined his Election, and ſhall not have Debt againſt the Leſſee after the Aſſignment. Mich. 41 Eliz. in C. B. Marrow and Turpin's Caſe, Cook 3. Part, 24.

19. A man made a Leaſe for years, and afterwards bargained and ſold the Reverſion to another and his Heirs, and before the enrollment of the Deed he levyed a Fine out of the ſaid Lands to him and his Heirs, and afterwards the Deed was enrolled within the ſix Months: It was ſaid by ſome of the Juſtices, but not Reſolved, That admit that the Fine was levyed, and the Indenture of Bargain and Sale were at one and the ſame time, that the Bargainee had Election to take Reverſion, either the one way or the other. Cook 4. Part, 71. Hinde's Caſe.

20. A Biſhop made a Leaſe of the Manner of D. to A. and B. for ſixty years, without Impeachment of Waſte rendring Rent, Provided, That if the ſaid A. and B. dyed within the Term, that preſently after the Deceaſe of the ſaid A. and B. and the longeſt liver of them, that it ſhould be lawfull for the Biſhop and his Succeſſors to re-enter: A. dyed, B. ſurvived, the Biſhop dyed; the Succeſſor leaſed the Manner to C. Habendum omnia poſt ſuæ per mortem, ſurrender, or forfeiture of the ſaid B. it ſhould be void: In this Caſe amongſt other Points, It was Reſolved, That the ſecond Leaſe did reſt preſently in Intereſt, and did not depend upon contingency to take effect in Poſſeſſion at the end of the firſt Term, if by none of theſe former means the firſt Leaſe became void in the mean time, and therefore It was Reſolved, That if a man makes a Leaſe for years, to begin after the ſurrender, forfeiture, determination, or end of a former Leaſe, the Leſſee hath not Election to have the ſecond Leaſe either upon ſurrender, forfeiture, or ends which he pleaſeth, but which of them ſhall firſt happen; the ſecond Leaſe which before conſiſted in Intereſt, ſhall begin in Poſſeſſion. See Cook 6. Part, 36. The Biſhop of Bathe's Caſe.

2. Where a man may have two or three, or ſeverall Actions for the Recovery of his Right, or other things; he may at his Election bring what Action he pleaſeth, where not: And where the Actions are to be brought, Where not; And of other matters concerning Election.

1. IN an Accompt brought, the Defendant ſaid, That he never was his Receivor to render Accompt: It was found, That the Mony was delivered to the Defendant upon condition, That if he made ſuch aſſurance to the Plaintiff of certain Lands, that then he ſhould retein the main to his own uſe, and if not, that he ſhould rebail it: It was holden in that Caſe, That the party might have either an Action of Debt for the Mony, or an Accompt: For when a man hath received Mony, and doth not employ it according to the Truſt and Condition, he is keeper of the Mony to my uſe, as my Debtor if I pleaſe, and it is the greater prejudice to me if I bring my Action of Debt for the Mony becauſe by it I ſhall recover but the bare Money which I delivered; but if I bring an Accompt againſt him to whom I delivered the Mony, beſides the principal Sum, I ſhall recover the profit and encreaſe of it, and when a man hath two Actions by the Law given him, he may chooſe to bring which Action he pleaſeth. Trin. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 20, 21. and 57. acc.

2. The Lord Monteagle brought Action upon the Caſe againſt the Counteſs of Worceſter ſuppoſing, That whereas he was poſſeſſed of a Chain of Gold of the price of 100 l. that he loſt it ſuch a day, in ſuch a Pariſh in London, and it came to the Defendant's hands, and that ſhe knowing it to be the Plaintiff's Chain, ſold it to diverſe Perſons unknown, and converted the Money to her own uſe: The Defendant pleaded that ſhe did not ſell it modo et formâ, upon which the Plaintiff demurred, and one cauſe was becauſe it was in his Election to have this Action becauſe of the ſuppoſed Miſdemeanor: But it was holden by the Lord Dyer that the Action upon the Caſe did not lye, becauſe the Plaintiff had his Remedy by Action of Detinue, for he had not ſhewed the Sale to be in Market overt to change the property. Mich. 2. Ma. Dyer, 121. The Lord Monteagle and the Counteſſe of Worceſter's Caſe.

3. If a man by his Deed granteth a Rent-charge unto another, and the Rent is behind, the Grantee may chooſe whether he will bring a Writ of Annuity or Diſtrein for the Rent behind; but he can make his Election but once: for if he recover in a Writ of Annuity, he ſhall never after diſtrein: Or if he doth diſtrein and avow in a Court of Record, he ſhall never after bring a Writ of Annuity, becauſe an Avowry in a Court of Record, being in the Nature of an Action, is a determination of his Election before any Judgment given. Cook, 1. Part, Inſtit. 445. See Littleton, 219. acc.

4. If a man be diſſeiſed by an Enfant, who makes a Feoffment in Fee of the Lands, and the Feoffee dyeth ſeiſed, and his Heir enters, the Diſſeiſor being within Age: In this Caſe, It is in the Election of the Diſſeiſor to have his Writ of Dum fuit infra ætatem, or a Writ of Right againſt the Feoffee; or otherwiſe he may make his Entry into the Lands without any ſuit. And ſo note. That many times the Law doth give a man ſeverall Remedies, and of ſeveral kinds, as in this Caſe, by Action and by Entry. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 278. acc.

5. If

5. If a Feoffment be made to two, and to the Heirs of one of them, and he that hath the Fee dyeth; and afterwards the Tenant for Term of life dyeth: In this Case, the Heir hath Election to have a Mortdancester, or a Scire facias, or a Formedon in the Remainder, at his pleasure. Cook 2. Part, 61. in Wiscot's Case.

6. If there be Lord and Tenant by Knight's Service, and the Tenant dyeth, his Heir within Age: In that Case, the Lord hath Election either to seize the Ward, or to distrein for the Services, and wave the Ward; by Popham Chief Justice, 1 E. 3. acc. But if one Lord seiseth the Ward, and the other Lord distreineth for the Services, he who first seised or distreined shall bind the other. Cook 2. Part, 69. in Tooker's Case.

7. Lessee for years of a Close of Land, sowed the same with Corn, and at the request of J. S. bargained and sold the said Corn to J. S. growing upon the said Close, who promised to pay him for the said Corn at Michaelmas next, 16 s. And for not Payment thereof, he brought an Action upon the Case upon his promise: And in this Case, It was Resolved, That although an Action of Debt did lye upon the Contract, yet the Bargainor might have the Action upon the Case, or Debt, at his Election. 1. Because there are infinite Presidents and Judgments in the Case: And 2. Because every Contract executory doth import an Assumpsit, and therefore if a man sells Goods to another, and agrees to deliver them at a day to come, and the other in consideration thereof agrees to pay so much Money; both parties may have Debt or Assumpsit, for that the mutuall agreement executory of both doth import in it self, aswell a reciprocall Action upon the Case, as an Action of Debt: And in this Case it was said and Resolved, That an Action upon the Case is aswell a formed Action conteined in the Register, as an Action of Debt, and in divers Cases in the Register an Action upon the Case lyeth, although the Plaintiff might have another Action in the Register, as if a man hath a Manor within any Honor, and hath a Leet within his Honor, if he or his Tenants be distreyned by the Lord of the Honor, he who is so distreined may have a generall Action of Trespasse, or a special Action upon the Case. Cook 4. Part, 93, 94. Slade's Case, Register, 103.

8. A man granted a Rent-charge out of his Lands by Deed, in which there wanted these words [for him and his Heirs], the Grantor dyed, and the Grantee brought a Writ of Annuity against the Heir, and afterwards discontinued his Suit and distreined: And it was adjudged that he might well distrein, for that the Election to make it an Annuity was determined by the death of the Father. M. 18 Eliz. Dyer, 344. acc.

9. A man sued A. before the Mayor of London, and a third Person being so much indebted to the Defendant, by the Custom of London of Attachment he is condemned: It was holden, That notwithstanding this Judgment, yet till the Execution the Plaintiff might resort, and have Judgment and Execution against the Defendant himself: Also it was holden, That he might sue the third person for his Debt, notwithstanding the Judgment unexecuted, all which was certified by the Recorder of London. Hill. 7 E. 6. Dyer, 82.

10. The Servant made a Bill, testifying the buying of certain Goods to the use of his Master, but the Bill was not sealed, by which Bill the Servant bound himself to pay the Debt: In an Action of Debt brought against him, It was holden, That the Action would not lye, but the party might have an Action upon the Case against the Servant, for that it was the Debt of the Master, and the Assumpsit of the Servant. Trin. 6 Eliz. Dyer, 330. Alford's Case.

11. If there be Lord and Tenant, if the Lord encroacheth other Services than such as are due to him, as Homage, Escuage, or the like; In such Case, the Tenant may avoid such encroachment in an Avowry made by the Lord for such Services, because the Tenant may traverse the Tenure, as to say, That he holds by Fealty and 20 s. Rent, without that that he holds by Homage, Fealty, and Rent, as in the Avowry is set forth: Or otherwise, he may bring a Writ of Ne injuste vexes, at his Election. See Fitzh. N. Br. 10. acc.

12. A Writ of Deceit may issue out of the Court of Common Pleas, or out of the Chancery at the Election of the Plaintiff: as if a man lose his Land by default, in a Precipe quod reddat brought in the Common Pleas, the Tenant may have a Writ of Deceit, alledging that he was not summoned out of the Common Pleas, or out of the Chancery: And so it is, if Tenant in Tail, Dower, by the Courtesy, or for life, lose in a Precipe quod reddat by default where they were not summoned, they may have a Writ of Deceit, or a Quod ei deforceat, at their Election. See Fitzh. Nat. Br. 99. & 155. acc.

13. Sir Andrew Corbet seised of diverse Lands holden in Capite, devised parcell of them to diverse persons, to have and to hold to them, and to the Survivor of them, untill such time and term as 800 l. by them or by their Executors be levyed, and the same to employ for the preferment of his Daughters, and dyed: His Son and Heir took the Will into his hands, and entred into the Lands, and received the profits of them during his life; afterwards the Devisees entred and received the profits, and levyed 600 l. according to the Will. In that Case, amongst other Points, It was Reſolved, That when the Deviſees are expulſed by the Entry of the Heir, that it was in the Election of the Deviſees, to have an Action to recover the mean profits, as to re-enter and hold the Land over untill the entire Sum were levyed. Cook 4. Part, 81, 82. Sir Andrew Corbet's Caſe.

14. In an Action of Trover and Converſion for the cutting down of a Tree, and carrying away a Load of Bark of the ſaid Tree: The ſole Queſtion was, If a Stranger cuts down a Timber Tree in the time of the Leſſee for years, and carryes the Bark thereof away, Whether the Leſſor during the ſaid Term, may have an Action of Trover for it againſt him who cut it down, or be put to take his Remedy againſt the Leſſee by Action of Waſte, and the Leſſee to have his Remedy by Action of Treſpaſſe or Trover againſt him that cut it down, and whether the Leſſor at his Election may puniſh the one or the other. Some of the Juſtices were of Opinion, That the Leſſee alone during the Term ought to have an Action for carrying away of it, and not the Leſſor, for that the Poſſeſſion and Property was veſted in him during the Term, and is not loſt by cutting down of it by a Stranger. And he is chargeable in Waſte to anſwer treble damages to the Leſſor and ſo the Leſſor having ſufficient Remedy, it is reaſon that the Leſſee have the Action againſt the Stranger; and the Recovery by the Leſſor in an Action of Trover is no Barr for the Leſſee to plead in an Action of Waſte. But the Opinion of the greater part of the Juſtices was, That the Action of Trover did well lye for the Leſſor againſt the Stranger, and that he hath Election to ſue the Leſſee for the Waſte, or him who cut down the Tree, for the property generall is alwayes in the Leſſor, and the Leſſee for years hath but a ſpecial property in it during the time it is growing, & not otherwiſe; and when it is ſevered, the property which the Leſſee had is loſt, and then the property thereof is ſole in the Leſſor, ſo as he may have an Action for carrying it away, or an Action upon Trover and Converſion. Hill. 19 Jac. in B. R. Berry and Heard's Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 176. See Cook 4. Part, 62. Cook 11. Part, 48, & 81. acc.

15. A. brought Treſpaſſe againſt B. in the King's Bench, and declared, That he levyed a plaint of Debt in the Counter of London againſt one W. and upon Proceſs he was arreſted by J. S. a Serjeant, and that B. the Defendant did vi et armis, reſcue him, whereby he loſt his Debt, and upon Non-guilty, and Verdict for the Plaintiff, Judgment was given, Quod defendens capiatur: Whereupon Error was brought in the Exchequer-Chamber, and the Judgment was affirmed; for although the Nature of Action is properly upon the Caſe, as touching the Plaintiff's damages or loſs of Debt, yet it being done with force, & that force being done (though not to the Plaintiff himſelf) to the Servant, who was Miniſter as well for him as to the Court, he may take his Action vi et armis. Rot. 468. in Pawling and Marriot's Caſe.

16. An Array made by the Predeceſſor of the Sheriff was challenged and quaſhed for Couſenage: It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That it was at the Election of the Plaintiff, to have a Venire facias to the Coroner, or elſe to the new Sheriff. Mich. 3 Eliz. Dyer, 188. See 22 H. 6. 61. 18 E. 4. 1. acc.

17. In Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was, Charles Howard Lord Admirall, Tenant in Tail of Land in conſideration of a Marriage betwixt W. Howard his Son, and Eliz. the Daughter of the Lord St. John, covenanted to ſuffer a Recovery of the ſaid Lands to the uſe of the ſaid W. and Eliz. and the Heirs Males of the Bodie of William with diverſe Remainders over. The Marriage took effect, W. entred by the aſſent of his Father, and occupied it Will, and 4 Jac. he demiſed the Lands to A. and B. for 21. years rendring Rent, the Leſſees entred; Afterwards Charles Admiral, and William his Son, (the firſt Indentures not being executed), levy a Fine of thoſe Lands, to the uſe of the ſaid William and Elizabeth for the Joynture of the ſaid Elizabeth, and to the Heirs of the body of the ſaid W. with Remainders over. Afterwards William dyed without Iſſue Male; A. dyed, B. being poſſeſſed by Indenture enrolled, ſold the Lands to Charles Lord Howard, Son of the Admiral, and his Heirs, who dyed: Charles now Earl of Nottingham being his Son entred, and the Defendant in the Right of Elizabeth entred, clayming it as her Joynture; and Judgment being given for the Plaintiff againſt the Title of the Joyntreſſe in the Common Pleas: Error was brought in the King's Bench: And the main Queſtion in the Caſe was, Whether by any of the Acts done there was a Diſſeiſin committed to Charles Earl of Nottingham, Nolens volens? and who ſhould be the Diſſeiſor and Tenant to the Free-hold: And it was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That the Law will not conſtrue or impute any Act to be a Diſſeiſin againſt Charles Earl of Nottingham, unleſſe at the Election of the Earl, when as none of the parties intended it to be a Diſſeiſin, nor to ouſte him of his poſſeſſion: And it was ſaid, That it was at the Election of him to whom the wrong was done, if he will allow him to be a Diſſeiſor, or himſelf out of poſſeſſion; and it was ſaid, If one receives my Rent, it is at my Election if I will charge him with a Diſſeiſin, and bring an Aſſiſe, or have an Action againſt him; and ſo if an Enfant makes a Leaſe for years rendring Rent, and the Leſſee enters, it is at the Election of the Enfant to charge him in an Aſſize, or to bring an Action of Debt for the Rent; And in the principal Caſe, It was holden, That there was no Act done to make a Diſſeiſin, and ſo the Joynture of Elizabeth remained good in Law, and the Judgment given in the Court of Common Pleas was reverſed. See the Caſe at large, Hill. 7 Car. in B.R. Blondin and Baugh's Caſe, Croke 1 Part, 220, 221, 222.

and

18. In Debt upon an Obligation, the words of the Obligation were, Noverint univerſi &c. ad quam quidem ſolutionem bene et fideliter faciendam, obligamus nos, vel quemlibet noſtrum; and Whether it ſhould be a joynt Bond or ſeveral at the Election of the Plaintiff, was the Queſtion? It was objected, That the Action ſhould be brought againſt both, and at the moſt the Plaintiff had but an Election; for the word [vel] could not be taken for [et], and then if he had an Election, he had made that already, for the Defendant hath pleaded and averred that it was made by two joyntly by the appearance. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Obligation was joynt or ſeveral, 7 H. 4. 66. acc. The Obligation was nos vel alterum noſtrum, and the Plaintiff brought ſeveral Precipes, and adjudged good, that it might be joynt or ſeverall: And the Court was clear of Opinion, That there was no Cauſe to make Election untill the Bond was perfected, and therefore though one deliver it at one time, and the other at another, yet the Plaintiff may have a Joynt Precipe in Wiſh; for the Election is in bringing the Action; and the words vel and et are but Synonymaes. Plow. Com. 286. 21 E. 4. 29. M. 11 Jac. in Com. B. Hankinſon and Sandiland's Caſe, Brownlow, 1 Part, 121.

19. In Debt againſt J. P. as Adminiſtrator of F. the Caſe was, F. was bound in a Bond of 30 l. to the Plaintiff, and was alſo bound to W.P. in 80 l. F. dyed Inteſtate, Adminiſtration of his Goods was committed to J. P. the Defendant, W. P. alſo made the ſaid J. P. his Executor and dyed, and the Defendant in the Action brought pleaded that F. was endebted to the ſaid W.P. and that he was as Executor, and that he had Goods of the ſaid F. to ſatisfy the ſaid Debt which he detained, and that over that he hath not to ſatisfy the Plaintiff: Upon which Plea the Plaintiff did demurr, for that the Defendant doth not plead that he hath made his Election to retain the ſaid Goods for the ſatisfaction of his own Debt before the Action brought: And it was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That he ought to make his Election before the bringing of the Action, otherwiſe he ſhall be charged with the other Debt. See Plow. Com. 184. a. Hill. 8 Jac. in C. B. Burdett and Pixe's Caſe, Brownl. 2 Part, 50.

20. A man made a Leaſe for two years, at Michaelmas, rendring 2 s. Rent during the Term, after the Annunciation, and Michaelmas, or 10. dayes after. At the Feaſt of Michaelmas in the laſt year, the Rent was not paid: The Queſtion was What Remedy the Leſſor hath for the Rent the laſt half year? It was ſaid, as this Caſe is, The Leſſee hath Election to pay either upon the Feaſt, or the tenth day after, and that is for the benefit of the Leſſee; then when he hath made his Election not to pay at the Feaſt of Michaelmas: It is clear, the Leſſor hath no Remedy by way of diſtreſſe, for the Term is ended before; and by Action of Debt upon the Contract he hath no Remedy, for the Contract is, That the Rent ſhall be paid yearly during the Term; then when the Term is ended the Contract is determined: And of that Opinion was the whole Court; and it was ſaid, That if a man makes a Leaſe at Michaelmas for a year, rendring Rent only at our Lady day, and the ninth of October, which is after Michaelmas, that the Leſſor hath not any Remedy for the Rent of the laſt half year, for that is not reſerved to be paid yearly according to the Contract. Hill. 7 Jac. in Com. B. Barwick and Foſter's Caſe, Brownl. 2. Part, 201.

21. Note, It was ſaid and agreed in the Caſe of Winch: Corble, and the Biſhop of Wincheſter, Paſc. 14 Jac. in C. B. That a thing may be void or not void, at the Election of him whom it concerns, and therefore if a man having one Benefice taketh another without diſpenſation, though he be not inducted, and ſo not within the Statute of 21 H. 8. yet the Patron of the firſt Church may take it as void, and preſent preſently, or may leave it as full untill a Sentence of deprivation. Hob. 166. acc. See Cook 4 Part, Holland's Caſe.

22. In Debt, The Plaintiff declared upon a Leaſe for years made by him to the Defendant reſerving Rents, and for the Rent behind the Action was brought: The Defendant pleaded, That the Leaſe in the Declaration mentioned was made by Indenture, reſerving the Rent prout, and with condition, that if the Rent be behind, then the Leaſe to be void, and doth allledge the default of Payment of the Rent, and ſo the Leaſe determined. The Plaintiff demurred in Law upon the Plea: It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Leaſe is not void without a Demand, which therefore the Defendant ſhould have laid actually, and for want of that, his Plea was holden to be naught; and ſo it is at the Election of the Leſſor, and his Heir, to continue or avoid the Leaſe in ſuch Caſe. Hill. 18 Jac. in C. B. Rot. 2861. Hanſon and Norcliff's Caſe, Hob. 331.

23. In Dower brought by Husband and Wife, againſt B. W. of Lands ex dotatione of H. her firſt Husband: The Tenant pleaded that H. being ſeiſed of the Manor of W. did make a Feoffment thereof to the uſe of himſelf and his then Wife for their lives, for the Joynture of the ſaid Wife, the Remainder to one C, and dyed; and that his ſaid Wife held her ſelf in by Survivor, claiming her ſaid Eſtate. The Defendant replyed, That before the ſaid Feoffment made, the ſaid H. being ſeiſed of the ſaid Manor, did covenant to ſtand ſeiſed thereof to the uſe of himſelf in Tail, and afterwards made the Feoffment prout, and then dyed without Iſſue; and that the Wife entred, and was ſeiſed by force of a Remitter, To which the Tenant rejoyned, That ſhe held her in, claiming her Eſtate by the Feoffment in Joynture, and demanded Judgment, Whether againſt that claim ſhe could be remitted; upon which Plea the Defendant demurred. It was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That the Remitter to the Woman could not work till her Husband was dead without Iſſue, becauſe till then the Poſſeſſion and Right did not meet together in her; Alſo the Court held, That becauſe both the Eſtates were made unto her during Coverture, that therfore regularly upon the death of her Husband ſhe might claim which Eſtate ſhe would, according to the Books in Dyer, 3 Eliz. 191. and 18 Eliz. 351. Hill. 10 Jac. in C. B. Sir John Shirley and his Wife, and Barbara Wood's Caſe, Hob. 71.

24. In Debt, The Plaintiff declared upon a Recogniſance taken before Hobart Chief Juſtice at Serjeants Inn in Fleet-ſtreet London out of Term, and layed his Action in London: Whereupon the Defendant demurred. The Queſtion was, Whether the Action ought to be brought in Middleſex, where the Recognizance is recorded, or in London becauſe the Entry of the Record is, that the Recognizance was acknowledged before the Chief Juſtice at Serjeant's Inn Fleet-ſtreet, London, out of Term ſuch a day. In this Caſe, It was agreed 1. That the ſeverall Judges may take Recognizances in any part of England. 2. That though it were not a perfect Record till it were entred upon the Roll, yet when it is entred, it is a Recognizance from the firſt acknowledgment, and binds the Perſons and Lands from that time. 3. It was holden, That becauſe in this Caſe, The Inrolment of the Record doth expreſs that the Recognizance was taken at the time and place aforeſaid, by which it was a Record ipſo facto then and there, and the Inrolment is but a Complement and Conſummation of the ſame, therefore becauſe both do concurr to the making of it a perfect Record: It was holden, That the Action might be brought in either County at the Election of the party, and the Chief Juſtice held, That it may be in London, as the firſt and more worthy part of the Act. See Brown. 5 Ma: Lew. 85. A Scire facias upon a Recognizance ſhall be directed to the Sheriff of London, and not of Middleſex. But it was holden, That if the Entry of the Record were generall, that the Recognizance was taken before the Chief Juſtice, it ſhould be underſtood in Court, and then the Action were to be brought in Middleſex. Trin. 14 Jac. in Com. Banc. Hall and Winchfield's Caſe, Hob. 195, 196.

25. W. brought a Scire facias againſt C. upon a Recognizance of Bail of 600 l. for one D; and ſhewed, That he had Judgment againſt D. M. 4 Jac. and that he did neither render his Body, nor ſatisfy his Debt: The Defendant pleaded, That after the Judgment, ſcil. 23 Jan. 4 Jac. D. came into Court, and rendred his Body to the Fleet, in execution and diſcharge of his Bail, and that the Plaintiff did refuſe to take him in execution: The Plaintiff denyed the yielding of his Body, upon which Iſſue was joyned. It was Reſolved by the Court, That this was ill pleaded, for the yielding of his Body being an Act in Court, and in diſcharge of his Bail, which is of Record, muſt be of it ſelf of Record, and therefore ought to be concluded prout patet per Record; and the other Plea ſhould have been, Nul tiel Record. But the truth of the Caſe was, there was no Record entred of it; but it was proved by Oath, That D. came in for that and other cauſes, and was committed to the Fleet, and afterwards ſet at large: And it was holden in this Caſe, That if the Plaintiff or his Attorney be preſent, he muſt make Election to take him in Execution, or to refuſe him, whereof Entry is alſo to be made; but if the party be abſent, then he muſt not be diſcharged, becauſe the time of bringing him is uncertain, for they receive him if he be brought in at any time before the Scire facias againſt the Bail, or upon the Retorn of it, and therefore he muſt be committed, that the party may have time for his Election: The principall Caſe was ended between the parties arbitrably by the Chief Juſtice, who gave 20 l. to W. from C. the Bail, and left him nevertheleſs his Remedy, as D. the principal for his whole Judgment. Mich. 14 Jac. in C. B. Rot. 2617. Welly and Canning's Caſe, Hob. 210.

26. In an Action upon the Caſe, upon an Award, the Caſe was. The Award was, that the Defendant ſhould pay to the Plaintiff 5 l. or 3 l. and Coſts of ſuit in an Action of Treſpaſs betwixt the Plaintiff and the Defendant, as appears by a Note under the Plaintiff's Attorney's hand, ad libitum Defendentis &c. The Plaintiff did not averr that a Note was delivered by the Attorney of the Plaintiff to the Defendant: The Defendant pleaded Non Aſſumpſit, and it was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved in Arrest of Judgment, for the reason before: It was the Opinion of all the Court, That the Defendant in this Case ought to have the Election to pay the one or the other, but in this Case he is to have Notice: And if the Case had been, That the Plaintiff himself had been to deliver the Note, then without Question there ought to be Notice; and here the Attorney is not a Stranger, but is a Servant to the Plaintiff: Bank Chief Justice doubted whether Judgment ought to be stayed or not, but agreed that the Defendant hath Election in this Case, and he said he agreed, That where a thing is to be done by the Plaintiff, there no Notice ought to be given; but otherwise, in Case of a Stranger: But the Question here is, Whether the Attorney be a Stranger here or not? And he said he was of Opinion, That it is not in the Power of the Plaintiff to compell him to bring the Note, and is all one as a Stranger; and therefore the Defendant ought to seek the Attorney to deliver the Note unto him: It was adjourned. Trinit. 17 Car. in C.B. Dewell and Masons Case, Marsh. 108, 109.

27. A. brought Debt against B. as Heir to J. S. his Father, and declared upon an Obligation made by J. S. to the Testator of the Plaintiff, in which he bound him and his Heirs: The Defendant demanded Judgment of the Writ, because J. S. made a Will, and made his Wife his Executrix and dyed, and that she proved the Will, and administred, and afterwards dyed Intestate, and Administration of her Goods was committed to J. D. who administred, and had Assets in his hands to pay the Debt: It was holden by the Court to be no Plea, because it is in the Election of the Plaintiff to have Debt either against the Heir, or against the Executors of the Obligor. Mich. 4 Eliz. Dyer, 204. Capell's Case. See Plowd. Com. 439. a. acc.

28. After the Death of the Lord Powis, It was found by Office that he dyed seised of Lands holden of the Queen in Capite, and that one Vernon was his Cousin, and Heir within Age: G. Gray his Bastard tendred a Traverse that he dyed not seised, and that Vernon was not his Heir, afterwards Vernon came of full Age. It was a Question, Whether he should sue a special Livery, or not? And it was the Opinion of the Justices, That it was in the Election of the Queen to drive him to sue a general Livery, notwithstanding the Statute of 33 H. 8. and that the Land is of the value of 100 l. per annum: And it was holden, That if G. did not proceed with his Traverse, or that it was not found for Gray, that then Vernon might proceed with his Livery, 23 Eliz. Dyer, 377. acc.

29. The Queen granted to the Mayor and Burgesses of Chipnam, the Moyety of a Yard-Land in a great Waste called Anddelsdown, without any certain Description where it lay, or where or how bounded: Afterwards the Queen granted the Waste to Sir Walter Hungerford. The Mayor and Burgesses by Warrant of Attorney under their Seal authorize A. their Attorney, to enter in their behalf into the Waste, and to make Election of the said Moyety, who did accordingly: It was holden in this Case, 1. That the Grant to the Mayor &c. was utterly void, and that onely not against the Queen, but against her Patentee. And it was further holden by the Court, that if a Common Person had made such a Grant which ought to be reduced to certainty by Election, the Corporation to whom the Grant was made should not make their Election by Attorney. Trinit. 27 Eliz. in Banco Regis, Sir Walter Hungerford's Case. Leon. 30.

30. In Debt brought upon a Recognizance by Thomas Leigh against John Hanmer, The Case was this; Rowland Leigh seised of diverse Mannors and Lands had Issue Elizabeth his Daughter and Heir, and 17 Eliz. granted Custodiam, Gubernationem, et Maritagium of the said Elizabeth to Thomas Leigh, who 19 Eliz. granted the Custody, Government, and Marriage to Sir John Spencer, who granted the same over to the Defendant; by which last Indenture, the Defendant John Hanmer covenanted with the said Thomas Leigh, That Thomas Hanmer his Son and Heir maritaret et in uxorem duceret dictam Eliz. ad vel antequam dicta Eliz. et dictus Tho: implerint suas seperales etates 14 annorum, si dicta Eliz. ad id condiscendere et agreeare vellet. 8. Sept. 20 Eliz. the said Thomas Hanmer took to Wife the said Eliz. the said Thomas being then of the Age of thirteen years, and the said Elizabeth of nine years; and afterwards 22 Eliz. Thomas Hanmer disagreed to the said Marriage: The Question was, If this Marriage had by the manner, and afterwards renounced, was such a Marriage as was intended by the Covenant? It was Resolved, That it was; for it was Resolved, That it was in the Election of John Hanmer the Defendant to procure this Marriage, scil, That his Son take to Wife the said Elizabeth, at which of the said two times he will; which Marriage being executed accordingly, he is not bounden for the continuance of the said Marriage, but the continuance thereof ought to be left to the Law, which giveth the parties Liberty [to continue the Marriage by agreement, or to dissolve it by disagreement, and so the Covenant was not broken; and Judgment was given against the Plaintiff. Pasch. 29 Eliz. in Com. Banc. Leigh and Hanmer's Case, Leon. 52.

31. In an Action upon the Case upon Assumpsit, The Plaintiff declared that the Defendant, in con-consideration that the Plaintiff had ſold a certain number of pieces of Stuff, did promiſe to deliver to the Plaintiff the value of the Stuffs in ſuch Pipes of Wine lying in the Cellar of J. S. in London as the Plaintiff ſhould make choice of, for not performing which he brought his Action, and obtained a Verdict: And becauſe the Plaintiff did not averr in his Declaration, that he had made Election of the Pipes of Wine, for before Election the Defendant was not bound to deliver them, and before that done, it was impoſſible to perform the Agreement: It was adjudged, upon a motion in Arreſt of Judgment, againſt the Plaintiff. M. 23 Car. in B. R. Parmiter and Creſſy's Caſe, Styles, 349.

32. By Articles indented between A. and B. A. did article to pay to B. 110 l. at a day to come. And B. did article, that upon the Receipt of the 110 l. he would give to A. an Acquittance for the 110 l. and alſo enter into a Bond of 400 l. to ſave him harmleſs from all Claims concerning certain Lands in the poſſeſſion of A. In purſuance of the Articles A. did tender the 110 l. to B. at the day, but B. refuſed to receive the 110 l. and to give the Acquittance, and to enter the Bond of 400 l. It being found for the Plaintiff in an Action of Covenant brought; It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That there was no breach of Covenant ſhewed, for that it was in the Defendant's Election either to refuſe the 110 l. and to give no Acquittance, nor enter Bond; or elſe to receive it, give Acquittance, and enter Bond; and ſo his refuſall was no breach of Covenant: And ſuch was the Opinion of the Court; for it was the intent of the parties, that it ſhould be in the Election of the Defendant either to receive the 110 l. or not to receive it, and the Plaintiff is not prejudiced by the Defendant's not receiving it; for if he ſhould ſue for the 110 l. the Plaintiff may plead the Tender and Refuſal againſt him, and that will be adjudged a Payment; and when he ſues you for 110 l. you may ſue him for the Acquittance and Bond. It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Trin. 1655. in B. London and Craven's Caſe, Styles, 481.

33. In an Action of Treſpaſs for breaking of his Cloſe, The Caſe was, A. was indicted for the breaking of the Houſe of B. and taking 25 l. and found guilty, and burnt in the hand: Afterwards B. brought Treſpaſs againſt him for breaking his Houſe, and taking away the Mony. The Queſtion was, Whether the Action would lye by the party robbed againſt the Party that robbed him or not? It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Action would lye for that it was at the parties Election at the beginning, either to indict him, or to bring his Action of Treſpaſs; and here the party hath made no Election, for the Defendant was indicted at the ſuit of the Common-wealth, and not at the proſecution of the party, and ſo he hath made no Election till now; and ſo it was ſaid it was adjudged, Trin. 1 Car. Rott. 112. in B. in Markham and Cobb's Caſe. And this being after conviction, there is no fear that the Felon ſhall not be tryed, and there is no inconvenience if the Action do lye; and ſeeing he could not have his Remedy before, he ſhall not now loſe it: And Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Hill. 1650. in B. R. Rot. 653. Dawkes and Covenigh's Caſe, Styles, 347, 348.

3. Caſes concerning Elections made in Corporations, and of the Elections of Sheriffs, Coroners, Knights to the Parliament, and other Officers.

WHereas in the Charters of Corporations it is ſaid, That the Election of the Mayor, Bailiffs, Provoſts, or the like Magiſtrates or Officers, they ſhall be choſen by all the Commonalty or Burgeſſes: If they have been choſen (time out of mind) by a certain ſelect Number commonly called the Common-Council, or by ſuch like name, and not in generall by all the Commonalty or Burgeſſes, onely ſo many of them as will come to the Election, ſuch ancient and uſual Elections are good and well warranted by their Charters, and by the Law alſo: For in every of their Charters they have power given unto them to make Laws, Ordinances, and Conſtitutions, for the better Government of their Cities, Borroughs, &c. By force whereof, and to avoid popular Confuſion, if they by their Common Conſent do conſtitute and ordain, That the Mayor, Bailiffs, or other principall Officers, ſhall be choſen by a certain ſelect Number of the principall of the Commonalty or Burgeſſes, as aforeſaid, and preſcribe alſo how ſuch ſelect Number ſhall be choſen; ſuch Ordinances and Conſtitutions were Reſolved to be good and allowable, and to agree with the Law and their Charters, for avoiding of popular diſcord and confuſion: And it was Reſolved, That although ſuch an Ordinance and Conſtitution cannot be now produced, yet it ſhall be preſumed, in reſpect of ſuch a manner of ancient and continuall Election, and that at firſt ſuch an Ordinance or Conſtitution was made. And it was ſaid, That the ancient and uſuall Uſages, Elections have been made in the Cities of London, Norwich, and in other Cities, and Corporations, all which were Reſolved to be good; and they were not to be innovated, or altered, for the many great inconveniences which may ariſe thereby. Cook 4 Part, 77. The Caſe of Corporations.

Elegit.

Elegit. See Executions.

1. Where Elegit lyeth, where not; and againſt whom, and whom not: Where the Writ ſhall be general, where ſpecial. And where a man cannot have Execution upon an Elegit, without a Scire facias, et è contra.

1. A Man was Outlawed after Judgment, and a Writ of Elegit was awarded againſt the Defendant: The Court was moved for a ſuperſedeas, quia Error nice emanavit: For it was ſaid that the party might not have any manner of Execution, but only a Capias; For he could not have a Fieri facias againſt the Defendant, becauſe the Queen was intituled to the Defendants goods, by reaſon of the Outlawry; nor could he have an Elegit, for that by the Outlawry, the Queen was intituled to all the profits of his Lands. The Court ſeemed to incline, That the party Outlawed, might make a Feoffment in Fee of his Lands, and ſo ouſt the King of the profits: And ſo in this Caſe, an Elegit might iſſue forth to have execution of the parties Lands. Quære, for the Caſe was not Reſolved. Mich. 13 Eliz. in C. B. Goldesbr. 180.

2. In an Action of Treſpaſs, for taking away Wheat, Rye, and Wood, upon an Elegit taken out againſt a Parſon; the Queſtion was, Whether Tythes are extendable upon an Elegit by the Statute of Weſt. 2. or not. It was ſaid, That they are not extendable, becauſe they are meerly Spiritual things; and there is no preſident to be ſhewed that they ever were extended, and that is an argument that they are not extendable: For proceſs uſually is directed to the Biſhop, for ſequeſtration only of them. But the Court ſeemed to be of Opinion, That Tythes are extendable, and that an Elegit lyeth of them, for that otherwiſe there ſhould be a failer of Juſtice, and eſpecially now, ſince Biſhops are taken away by Act of Parliament: But it was determined by the Court, That Preſidents ſhould be ſearched, If a Recognizance had ever bin extended by Elegit upon Tythes. Mich. 1649. in B. R. Harwood and Pary's Caſe. Styles, 168, 169.

3. The Heir was condemned upon Nihil dicit in an Action of Debt brought upon an Obligation entred in by his Father, It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That the Plaintiff ſhould not have any other Execution, but an Elegit, and that only of all the Lands which diſcended in Fee to the Heir from his Father, of which he was ſeiſed at the time of the Writ brought only. Hill. 7 E. 6. Dyer, 81. See Cook 3. Part, 12. in Sir William Herberts Caſe. acc.

4. Debt was brought againſt the Heir, upon an Obligation of his Anceſtor; the Defendant, depending the Writ, alliened the Aſſets, and then pleaded, That he had nothing by diſcent the day of the Writ brought, which being found againſt him, a general Judgment was given, and a general Writ of Elegit awarded of the moyety of all his Lands and Tenements, as in caſe of his proper debt. And upon a ſpecial return made by the Sheriff, that he had not any Lands or Tenements; but what he had, he had alliened depending the Writ. A new Writ of Elegit iſſued to the Sheriff, to extend that which he had at the time of the Niſi prius. Trin. 4. Ma. Dyer, 140. See Plow. Com. 440. acc. And ſee Hill. 41 Eliz. in B. R. Barker and Browns Caſe. If a Recovery be againſt the Heir by Nihil dicit, he ſhall be charged of his own Lands.

5. If a man be bound in a Recognizance to pay money at a certain day; after the year and day paſt, the Conuſee is to ſue forth a Scire facias againſt the Recogniſor, to ſhew why the Recogniſee ſhould not have execution. And if the party be warned, and doth not appear; or if he doth appear, et nihil dicit, the Conuſee may ſue forth a Writ of Elegit to have execution of all his goods, and of the moyety of his Lands. And if the Sheriff returneth upon the Elegit, that the Conuſor hath made a Feoffment of part of the Lands to divers perſons, and that he hath enfeoffed the King of the reſidue, thoſe of which the King is enfeoffed, are diſcharged. But a Scire facias lyeth againſt the other Feoffees; and if they cannot plead any thing in bar of the execution, the Recogniſee ſhall have execution againſt them of thoſe Lands by Elegit. Fitzh. Nat. Br. acc.

6. In Debt upon an Obligation, the Defendant pleaded, Conditions performed, and being at Iſſue upon a point certain, the Defendant before tryal, knowing that the Verdict would go againſt him, conveyed his Lands to others, upon condition of payment of 20 l. but he himſelf took the profits of them. The Plaintiff ſued forth an Elegit to have the moyety of the Land in execution. The Sheriff returned, That he and the Jury doubted, if the Lands ſhould be extended. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Lands were extendable upon the Elegit. Mich. 13 Eliz. Dyer 294. See Cook 3. Part, 78. in Twines Caſe, adjudged acc. 22. Aſſ. 44. acc.

7. Debt

7. Debt and Damages were recovered; the Defendant dyed before execution: A Scire facias iſſued out againſt the Heir, of all the Lands which were the Defendants at the time of the Judgment, and upon that an Elegit was ſued forth, as upon a Recognizance. And it was the Opinion of the Juſtices in that Caſe, That there needed not any Scire facias to iſſue forth againſt the Executors, for that by the Statute of Weſt. 2. the Lands as well as the goods, were ſubject to the Elegit. Mich. 4 Eliz. Dyer, 200. Owyns Caſe.

8. Debt was brought againſt one as Couſin and Heir of her Unckle, upon an Obligation of her Unckles; the Defendant confeſſed the Action, but ſaid that nothing diſcended to her, but the Reverſion of 30 Acres of Land after the death of J. S. who was Tenant of them for life. It was the Opinion of the Court, That upon this confeſſion of the Defendant, the Plaintiff might pray a ſpecial Judgment, That he recuperet debitum et damna de reverſione prædict. cum accideret, and have a ſpecial Writ of Elegit to extend the moyety of the 30 Acres, and that the Law was ſuch before the Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 18. Mich. 22 Eliz. Dyer, 373.

9. Debt was brought againſt one as Heir upon an eſcape ſuffered by his Father of a Priſoner which he had in his cuſtody in execution. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Action did not lye for the Heir, and ſhall never be charged, but where he is expreſly named in the ſpecial, and neither the Law, nor any Statute ſhall charge the Heir for any fact done by his Father: And it was holden, That the Action did not lye againſt the Heir, although the Judgment was given againſt the Father in his life time, and that he dyed before execution. But yet it was holden, That the Land which the Father had at the time of the Judgment, might be extended by an Elegit, upon a Scire facias brought againſt the Heir as Ter-tenant, as Land lyable to the Execution. Hill. 10 Eliz. Dyer, 271, acc.

10. Upon a Writ of Elegit, the Sheriff made his Retorn, That he had delivered to the Plaintiff, bona et catalla Defendentis ad valentiam 20 l. per rationabile precium, and that he had delivered unto him 20 Acres of Lands of the Defendant, which is the moyety of all his Lands, per rationabile extentum; but did not Retorn, That there was an Inquiſition taken of it by the Oath of 12 men: And for that cauſe, the Retorn was holden inſufficient, For the Elegit ought to be by Inquiſition. For the Sheriff himſelf cannot extend the Lands. Trin. 1. Mar. Dyer, 100. acc.

11. In Debt againſt the Heir upon an Obligation of his Father, who pleaded, that he had nothing by Diſcent; which was found againſt him: alſo Plaintiff had an Elegit againſt him, as well of the Land which he had by purchaſe, as of that which diſcended unto him; but the reaſon thereof, as it ſeems, was by reaſon of his falſe Plea. 21 E. 3, 9, & 10.

12. If the Sheriff upon an Elegit awarded, Retorneth, That the Defendant hath not Lands in the ſame County: Upon a Teſtatum, he ſhall have an Elegit into another County, 21 H. 7. 19. 26 H. 8. 7. 20 E. 3. Fitz. tit. Proceſs. 43. But ſee 18 E. 2. Fitz. tit. Execution. 140. where it is holden, That he ſhall not have Elegit unto another County upon a Nihil Retorned.

13. A. brought Debt upon an Obligation in C. B. againſt B. and had Judgment; and he prayed an Elegit to the Sheriff of L. and another to the Sheriff of Lanc. which was granted and entred upon the Roll: After which, iſſued an Elegit to the Sheriff of Lanc. upon a Teſtatum, ſuppoſing that an Elegit iſſued out to the Sheriff of L. who retorned, Nulla bona, and Quod Teſtatum eſt, that the Defendant hath, &c. in the County of Lanc. Upon which Elegit upon the Teſtatum, the Sheriff of Lanc. extended a Farm of the Defendants in a groſs ſum of 100 l. and delivered it to the party; and now the Defendant brought Error, and aſſigned for Error, that the Elegit iſſued forth upon a Teſtatum, whereas no Elegit was directed to the Sheriff of L. and ſo the Writ iſſued upon a falſe ſuppoſition. In this Caſe were two points. 1. If it were Error in the Execution. 2. If Error, if the Plaintiff might be reſtored to the Term again. It was ſaid, That when a man brings Debt in L. and hath a * Judgment, That without requeſt, the Plaintiff is to have his Elegit to the Sheriff of L. where the Original was brought, and he cannot have an Elegit to the Sheriff of another County, without a ſurmiſe made upon the Rectory of the firſt Elegit, which ſurmiſe ought to be true; but where the Elegit is granted to both Counties at the firſt, and ſo entred upon the Roll; if the ſurmiſe be falſe, this is but a default of the Clark which may be amended: and it was ſaid in this Caſe, The Roll warrants an Elegit Originally to the Sheriff of Lanc. and although that this be made upon a Teſtatum, which is falſe, this ſhall be no Error, becauſe warranted by the Roll. Trin. 8 Jac. in B. R. Goodyes and Jounces Caſe. Brownl. 2. Part, 209.

14. A. acknowledged a Recognizance of 250 l. unto the Chamberlain of London, and his Succeſſor; and afterwards he acknowledged a Statute-ſtaple, of 200 l. to B. B. ſues Execution by a Liberate which is not retorned. The Succeſſor of the Chamberlain ſues execution by Precept, to a Serjeant at Mace, in the nature of an Elegit, and hath the moyety of the Lands of A. delivered in execution. A. dyes: It was Reſolved in this Caſe, amongſt other points, 1. That the execution by the the Serjeant at Mace was good, notwithſtanding the Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 18. which is, Vicecomes liberet ei medietatem, for the Statute extends to every immediate Officer to any Court of Record. 2. That the Execution of the Elegit was good enough, without ſuing a Scire facias againſt B. being by matter of Record: but it was ſaid, That if the Sheriff had Returned the former Execution, he ought to have had a Scire facias againſt B. 35 Eliz. Cook 4. Part, 64. Fulwoods Caſe.

2. How the Sheriff is to demean himſelf upon an Execution upon a Statute or Recognizance upon an Elegit; and what Lands ſhall be delivered upon it in Execution, what not: And what ſhall be a good Return of it by the Sheriff; what not.

1. THE Conuſor, and the Conuſee of a Statute both dyed, the Executors of the Conuſee ſued forth execution by Elegit, upon which Writ the Sheriff returned the death of the Conuſor, and alſo an Inquiſition of extent of the Lands of the Conuſor: but in the Inquiſition, no eſtate was returned, but generally, that the Conuſor was ſeiſed at the day of the Recognizance acknowledged of the Mannor of B. Notwithſtanding a Liberate iſſued forth upon that Return, and the Executors accepted of it according to the extent. The doubt was, If the Executors dye before any profits received by them of the Land upon that extent, If their Executors might have a re-extent upon that inſufficient and uncertain return: And it was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That they might, for the firſt extent was void. For the return, That he was ſeiſed, might be taken, either of an Eſtate for life, or in tail, in which Caſe, after the death of the Conuſor, his Land is not extendable: and where the death of the Conuſor appears in the Return, it ought to be found, that he was ſeiſed of an Eſtate in Fee-ſimple only, and not of any other Eſtate. Paſc. 13 Eliz. Dyer, 299.

2. In an Action of Debt, the Plaintiff declared of a Recovery of Coſts and Damages in a Writ of Entry; the Defendant pleaded in bar, That the Plaintiff immediately after the Judgment took forth an Elegit, and delivered the Writ to the Sheriff, who executed the ſame, by delivery of the moyety of the Land to the Plaintiff, but the Writ was not returned; yet it was holden a good bar, becauſe the Plaintiff cannot vary from the execution of which he hath made Election upon Record. Paſc. 13 Eliz. Dyer, 299. acc.

3. Note, It was Reſolved by the Court, That if a Fieri facias commeth to the Sheriff to levy mony upon the goods of a man, and the Sheriff by writing reciting, that he had a Term for years, which began 2. Ma. whereas in truth the Term began 3. Ma. ſell the ſame Term, the ſale is void, for that there is not any ſuch Term; but if the Sheriff ſell alſo all the Intereſt which the party had in the Land, the Sale is good. 26 Eliz. Sir George Sydenhams Caſe adjudged acc. But in the principal Caſe, afterwards upon looking into the Record, It was found, That the Execution was not by Fieri facias, but by Elegit, which ought to be made by Inquiſition per ſacramentum 12. and not by the Sheriff: And becauſe the Term was miſ-recited in the Inquiſition, and the Sheriff cannot ſell any Term, but that only which was apprized by the Jurors of the Enqueſt; for this cauſe, it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the ſale of the Term, in the principal Caſe, was void. And Judgment given accordingly. Hill. 39 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 4. Part, 74. Palmers Caſe.

4. Note, it was agreed by the Court, That in every Elegit, the Sheriff muſt return, and ſet out the moyety of the Land diſtinctly, unleſs they be Tenants in Common; and in that Caſe, he muſt return the ſpecial matter. Hill. 15 Jac. in C. B. Brownl. 1. Part, 38. acc. See Hutton. 13 Jac. in C. B. 16. acc.

5. Upon an Execution upon an Elegit, if there be no execution but upon goods, and the goods be not enough to ſatisfy the Debt, and there is no Land. It was the Opinion of Hobart Chief Juſtice, That the party may have a Capias againſt the Defendant; for now it is in effect but a Fieri facias, although the word be Elegit; but if Land be extended, it is otherwiſe: And yet Quære, if the debt be 40 l. and nothing extended but a Leaſe for three years, at 5 l. a year; for then, as to that which remains, the Elegit fails. See Hob. 58, 59. in Foſter and Jacksons Caſe, acc.

3. Whether after an Elegit taken out and Recorded, the party may take forth a Capias, Fieri facias, or other Execution. And whether there may be a re-extent upon the Land after Elegit returned if the Land be evicted.

1. NOte, by Hobart Chief Juſtice, it was ſaid in the Argument of Foſter and Jackſon's Caſe, Trin. 13 Jac. in C. B. That if I take out a Capias, or a Fieri facias againſt the party, and they take no effect, I may have one of them after another, or an Elegit after both, if they fail: And there-therefore he ſaid, That although the Books of 18 E. 2. Execution, 132. and 15 H. 7. 15. be, That after a Capias retorned Non eſt inventus, the Plaintiff ſhall not have other Execution; yet he ſaid the Law is not ſo. But if I take out an Elegit, and enter it of Record, and it be retorned Nihil, without effect, the Queſtion is, Whether I be utterly remedileſs: He ſaid, That in this divers Books are peremptory, that I am remedileſs, becauſe (they ſay) I have made my Election, and that entred upon Record, and therefore I can never reſort to other. See to that effect, 19 H. 6. 4. by Newton. 5 E. 4. 41. 30 E. 3. 3. 15 H. 7. 15. by Fairfax. But notwithſtanding thoſe Books, he ſaid, He conceived the Law to be clear contrary; and that where the party takes an Elegit, and can have no fruit of it, that he may reſort to another Execution, though the Election be entred of Record. See 17 E. 4. 4. per Curiam. After Elegit taken forth, the year expired before it was ſerved: Whereupon a Scire facias was ſued forth, and upon that a Capias by Judgment; for it was ſaid, That the Statute of Weſt. 2. being affirmative, took not away the Execution at the Common-Law. And ſee 50 E. 3. 4. the Opinions of Percy and Finchden.

2. In Audita Querela, the Caſe was this, A. and B. were joyntly bound in a Recognizance to J. S. who had a Judgment againſt them both in the Common-Pleas; and afterwards he took the body of B. in Execution in the Kings Bench, having before had an Elegit againſt A. upon which Elegit the Lands of A. was extended and delivered to him, to hold the ſame Quouſq; &c. and his goods alſo for ſatisfaction of the ſame Judgment: Whereupon B. brought an Audita Querela, and by Judgment of the Court, he was diſcharged; For it was ſaid by the Court, That the Lands of A. could not be delivered in part of the Execution, but it muſt be for the whole Execution; and when he hath taken and accepted of Execution by Elegit, the other party being afterwards taken by him by a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum for the ſame debt, he ought to be diſcharged. And in this Caſe, it was agreed and Reſolved by the whole Court, That if an Execution by Elegit be once executed, though the Land delivered in Execution be afterwards evicted, yet the party ſhall not have a new Elegit, becauſe he had Lands once extended, and this is a full ſatisfaction, which as it is ſaid in Cook 5. Part, in Blamfields Caſe, is an end of all Suit. Trin. 11 Jac. in B. R. Cowly and Lydcots Caſe. Bollſt. 2. Part, 97. See Cro. 2. Part, 338. and Godbolt. 257. the ſame Caſe. See Hob. 2. acc.

3. A. recovered 400 l. againſt Ed. Owen, who dyed, and upon a Scire facias, the Sheriff retorned, B. Ter-tenant, medium terrarum, et tenementorum in balliva ſua, quæ fuerant prædict. Ed. &c. And Judgment was given, That A. ſhould have Execution againſt the ſaid B. whereupon A. prayed Elegit, which was entred upon the Roll. Elegit ſibi liberari medietatem omnium terrarum et tenementorum in Com. S. tenend. &c. quouſq; &c. but the words, Quæ fuerant prædict. Ed. were omitted; And for that the Judgment was reverſed, quoad adjudicationem executionis upon the Elegit; and yet it was holden by the Court, That the Writ it ſelf, and the Retorn of it were well in that point; but it was ſaid, Where the Roll is faulty, the Writ will not help it. Mich. 5 Jac. in the Exchequer. Kyer and Owens Caſe. Hob. 90.

4. What ſhall be a good Return of the Sheriff upon an Elegit; and of what Lands. Where the Writ ſhall be amended upon omitting any word; And whether the Bayliff of a Liberty may make extent upon an Elegit.

1. NOte, that it was Reſolved by the Court in Fulwoods Caſe, which ſee before Diviſa. 1. Sect. 14. That the Execution of the Liberate was good, although that the Writ was not Retorned: And ſo it is upon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, and Habere facias poſſeſſionem, and all other Writs where Land only is to be delivered, ſeiſin had, or goods ſold, they are good, although the Writs are not Retorned. But otherwiſe it is, where an Enqueſt is to be taken, as in an Elegit, and that is to the intent, that the Court may judg of the ſufficiency of the Inquiſition, Cook 4. Part, 65. acc. See Cook 4. Part, Palmers Caſe, 74. acc.

2. In Treſpaſs for breaking of his Cloſe at B. the Defendant upon the new aſſignment, pleaded, Not Guilty. It was found by Verdict, That the Defendant was ſeiſed of the Lands in Queſtion, and held the ſame of the Mannor of B. which is Ancient Demeſne, and that the Plaintiff recovered againſt him 40 l. in C. B. and took out an Elegit; whereupon the Sheriff delivered him the Lands in queſtion, who entred. The Queſtion was, Whether Lands in Auntient Demeſne might be delivered in Execution by the Sheriff by force of an Elegit out of the Kings Court. It was adjudged, That the Execution was well done; yet it was agreed, 1. That no Freehold in Auncient Demeſne, could be recovered in the Kings Courts: 2. That if the Freehold were not to be recovered by the Action, yet if the poſſeſſion was to be recovered, Auncient Demeſne was a good Plea, Cook 5. Part, Aldens Caſe. 3. It was Reſolved, That though the poſſeſſion of Land in Auncient Demeſne be gained by the Sheriff iff; act following the Award of the Kings Court, et the Land it ſelf was never put directly in Plea n the Kings Court; and therefore it is adjudged, E. 2. Execution 113. That the Conuſee of a Sta-te, having taken Land in Auncient Demeſne in Execution, and an Aſſiſe of it in the Kings Court, nd had Judgment: And it was ſaid by the Chief Juſtice, That the principal Caſe was a clear Caſe. That ſince the Judgment was good, and that the Plaintiff ſhould recover his debt, and that the Ele-git did warrant the extending; and delivery of the half of his Land, and the Auncient Demeſne is his Land as well as other; the Sheriff is not to diſpute, What Land is lyable, what not, nor he that receives it of him, be ſubject to an Action of Treſpaſs; but the way to retein it is by Audita Querela. Hill. 10 Jac. in C. B. Cox and Barnſlayes Caſe. Hob. 47.

3. A Writ of Elegit was ſued forth after Judg-ment, The Writ recited the Judgment, Quod Ele-git Executionem of the goods, of the moyety of the Lands: And the Writ was, Tibi præcipimus quod bona et catalla of the Defendant que habuit die judicii, prædict. redditi deliberari facias, omitting the words, Et medietatem terrarum et tenementorum, Tenendum the ſaid goods, and the moyety of the ſaid Lands. Quouſque debitum levetur. The Sheriff extended the moyety of the Lands, and the goods, and delivered the moyety of the Land, and Retorned the Inquiſition. It was moved, that the Writ might be amended, it being but the miſpriſion of the Clark, and that the extent might ſtand. But it was the Opinion of the Court, That it ſhould not be amended, but he might have a new Elegit, becauſe the Inquiſition was taken without warrant. Mich. 5 Car. in B. R. Walker and Riches Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 116.

4. In Treſpaſs upon a Demurrer, the Caſe was, The Sheriff Retorned upon an Elegit, That the party had not any Lands, but only within the Li-berty of B. and that J. S. there had Execution, and Retorn of Writs, who enquired and Retorned an extent upon Inquiſition, and that the Bayliff deli-vered the moyety of the Lands extended to the par-ty, and by vertue of that extent, the Plaintiff en-tred. The firſt Queſtion was, Whether the Bayliff of a Liberty might make Inquiſition and Extent up-on an Elegit by warrant from the Sheriff. It was Reſolved, That he might. 2. When the Jury finds the Seiſin of the Land, If the Jury ought to ſet out the moyety for the Plaintiff, or the Bayliff? It was Reſolved, That the Jury ſhall extend all the Land, and the Bayliff or Sheriff where no Franchiſe is, ſhall deliver the moyety to the party, and not the Jury. Hill. 8 Car. in B. R. Sparrow and Mat-ſocks Caſe. Cro. 1, Part, 232.

Emblements.

1. NOte, It was holden by all the Juſtices, That if a man be diſſeiſed, and the Diſ-ſeiſor ſows the Lands with Corn, and after ſevers them, and before the Corn is carried away, the Diſſeiſee enters into the Land, that the Diſſeiſee ſhall have the Corn. Hill. 25 H. 8. Dyer, 31. Sayes Caſe.

2. The Leſſor commanded his ſervant to enter upon his Tenant at Will, who did accordingly; notwithſtanding the Leſſee continued his poſſeſſion, and his Rent was accepted by the Leſſor; after-wards the Leſſee ſowed the Land, and ſevered the Corn, the ſervant of the Leſſor, by the Comman-dment of the Leſſor, entred and took the Corn; It was holden in this Caſe, That it was a good Com-mandment where the Diſſeiſor ſows the Land. But in this Caſe, the Court inclined to be of Opinion, That the acceptance of the Rent waived the advan-tage of the Diſſeiſin, and made the Leſſee Tenant at ſufferance, and the Court was clear of Opinion, That the Tenant ſhould have the Corn which was ſowed by him. Mich. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 173.

3. The Caſe was Husband and Wife, the Huſ-band made a Feoffment of Lands to the uſe of him-ſelf and his Wife for life, the Remainder over, the Husband ſowed the Land with Corn, and dyed: It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Wife ſhould have the Crop, and not the Executors of the Husband, becauſe the Wife was a joynt-purchaſer with her Husband; but if the Remainder had bin limitted to the Wife, then it was otherwiſe. Alſo it was agreed, That if the Husband ſows the Land of which he is ſeiſed in the right of his Wife, and the Wife dyeth, the Husband ſhall have the Corn ſowed: And it was alſo holden, That if the Huſ-band ſows his Lands with Corn, and dyeth, and the third part of the Land is aſſigned to the Wife for her Dower, ſhe ſhall have the Emblements, be-cauſe the Wife ſhall be endowed of the beſt poſſeſſi-ſion of her Husband. Mich. 15 Eliz. Dyer, 316.

4. A Woman Copyholder during her Widdow-hood ſowed the Land with Corn, and before ſeve-rance of the Crop of Corn, ſhe took a Husband: It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Lord ſhould have the Crop, and not the Husband: for al-though the eſtate of the Wife was incertain, and determined by limitation, and not by Condition in fait, or in Law; yet becauſe the ſame determines by the Act of the Leſſee her ſelf, the Lord ſhall have the Crop. The ſame Law is, If the Woman ma-keth a Leaſe for life, and the Leſſee ſows the Land, and afterwards the Wife taketh a Husband, for the Leſſee ſhall not be in a better condition then his Leſſor. Hill. 44 El. z. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, 116. Olands Caſe.

5. If a Leaſe be made to Husband and Wife during the Coverture, and the Husband ſows the Land with Corn, and then they are divorced Cauſa precontractûs; the Husband in ſuch Caſe ſhall have the crop; for although that the ſuit be by the Act of the party, yet the marriage is diſſolved by the Judgment of Law, Et judicium redditur in invitum. Cook 5. Part, 116. acc.

6. A man makes a Leaſe at Will; the Leſſor is outlawed by Will, the Will is determined, the King ſhall have the profits of the Lands; yet the Leſſee ſhall have the crop of Corn ſowed: But if the Leſſee at Will be Outlawed, by which the Will is determined; there the King ſhall have the crop. Note the difference, Cook 5. Part, 116. 9 H. 6. 20, 21. acc.

7. Tenant for life, the Remainder in Fee; Tenant for life makes a Leaſe for years, who is diſſeiſed: The Diſſeiſor makes a Leaſe for years, his Leſſee ſows the Land with Corn, and then Tenant for life dyes. It was adjudged in that, That the meer right of the crop of Corn was in the Leſſee for years of the Tenant for life, and that he might have Treſpaſs, and recover the mean profits from the Leſſee of the Diſſeiſor. And 2. He hath the more right to the Corn ſowed, as things annexed to the Land; and it was holden, That although his Intereſt to the Land was determined by the death of the Tenant for life, yet his right to the crop of corn did remain. 3. In that Caſe, it was Reſolved, That the Leſſee for years of the Diſſeiſor had good right againſt him in the Remainder in Fee, in reſpect of his poſſeſſion. Paſc. 38 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, 85. Sir Henry Knevitts Caſe.

8. The Lord brought an Action of Treſpaſs againſt his Copyholder, who pleaded, Not Guilty. The Jury found by their Verdict, that the Copyholder had not done his ſervices, by which he brake the Cuſtome of the Mannor. It was adjudged, That for that cauſe the Entry of the Lord was lawful for the forfeiture; and upon ſuch entry, that the Lord ſhould have the Corn which was growing upon the Land. 42 E. 3. 25. Cook 4. Part, 21. in Browns Caſe.

9. Note, It was agreed by the Juſtices, That if a man be diſſeiſed, and during the diſſeiſin, the Diſſeiſor cuts down the Trees, Graſs, Corn, growing upon the Lands, and the Diſſeiſee re-entreth, he ſhall have Treſpaſs, vi et armis againſt the Diſſeiſor for the Trees, Graſs, and Corn growing, for after entry, the Law doth ſuppoſe that the Freehold had alwayes continued in the Diſſeiſee: The ſame Law is, If the Feoffee or Leſſee of the Diſſeiſor, or the ſecond Diſſeiſor ſoweth the Land, after regreſs, the Diſſeiſee may take the Corn growing upon the Lands; for the regreſs of the Diſſeiſee hath relation as to the property, to continue the Freehold in the Diſſeiſee ab initio. But if the Diſſeiſee taketh them, they ſhall be recounted in Damages againſt the Diſſeiſor. See 27 H. 6. 1. 37 H. 6. 6. Cook 11. Part, 52. in Liſords Caſe.

10. Tenant at Will, ſhall reap the crop which he ſowed in peace, before his Leſſor determined his Will, whether it be Corn, Hemp, Flax, or any other annual profit, for it cannot be imputed to his folly, that he knew not his Leſſors intention that he would determine his Will before they might be ripe. The ſame Law of Tenant by the Curteſy, Dower, for Life, pur auter vie, or any other uncertain eſtate, viz. when the Term ſhall determine; and if ſuch Tenant happen to dye, his Executors ſhall have and enjoy the crop. If Tenant by Statute-Merchant ſow the Lands, and then a ſudden and caſual profit falleth, by which he is ſatisfied; yet he ſhall have the crop upon the Lands: And in all theſe, and the like Caſes, it is not material whether the Corn, &c. be not ripe, or dead ripe ready to be cut: For by the ſame reaſon they may be taken when they are not ripe, they may be taken when ripe. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 55. acc.

11. Debt upon Obligation, the Condition was, That if a certain crop of Corn growing upon a peece of Land late in the occupation of J. S. did of right belong to the Plaintiff, then the Defendant ſhould pay to him for it, 20 l. the Caſe upon a Demurrer, was this; A. ſeiſed of Land, made a Leaſe of it to J. S. for 21 years by Indenture, and did Covenant and grant to J. S. his Executors and Aſſignees, That it ſhould be lawful for him to take and carry away to his own uſe ſuch Corn as ſhould be growing upon the Land at the end of the Term. Afterwards A. conveyed the Reverſion to the Plaintiff: And the Executors of J. S. having ſowed the Land with Corn, and that growing upon the Land at the end of the Term, ſold it to the Defendant. It was ſaid for the Plaintiff, That the Leſſor never had property in the Corn, and therefore could neither give or grant it. In this Caſe it was agreed and adjudged by the Court, That if A. ſeiſed of Land, ſow it with Corn, and then convey it to B. for life, the Remainder to C. for life; and then B. dyeth before the Corn be reaped, C. ſhall have it, and not the Executors of B. though his Eſtate was incertain; yet in this Caſe Judgment was given againſt the Plaintiff, ſcil. That the property and very right of the Corn, when it happened, was paſſed away, for it was both a Covenant and a Grant, and therefore if it had bin of natural fruits which run with the Land, the like Grant would have carried them in property after the Term. And it was holden in this Caſe, That although the Leſſor had not the Corn actually in him, yet he had it potentially, for the Land is the Mother and root of all fruits, Therefore he that hath it, may grant all fruits that may ariſe upon it after, and the property ſhall paſs as ſoon as the fruits are extant; and though the words in this Caſe are not by words of gift of the Corn, yet it is good to tranſfer the property. Trin. 13 Jac. in B. R. Grantham and Hawleyes Caſe. Hob. 132.

12. Note, It was Reſolved, per Curiam, That if Land which was ſowed, were Leaſed to one for life, the Remainder to another for life; that Tenant for life dyed before ſeverance, that he in the Remainder for life ſhould have the Corn which was ſowed upon the Land. Mich. 6 Jac. in C. B. adjudged.

13. If Feoffee upon a condition ſoweth the Land, and after the Condition is broken, and then the Feoffee ſevers the Corn, and after the Feoffor entreth, yet the Feoffee ſhall have the Corn, becauſe the ſowing of it was before the Condition was broken, and the Leſſors Title grows puiſne to the ſowing, 5 H. 7. 16. But in Caſe of diſſeiſin, the Title of the Diſſeiſee is before the ſowing. Quære, if there be not a difference between a Condition to be performed on the part of the Feoffee, and on the part of the Feoffor.

14. If there be Lord and Villain, and the Villain makes a Leaſe of the Land, and the Leſſee ſows the Land, and dyeth, and the Lord entreth, he ſhall have the Corn ſowed, and not the Executors of the Leſſee, becauſe the Lord entred by a Title paramount the Leaſe. 30 E. 3. Villenage. 45.

15. Diſſeiſor and Diſſeiſee, the Diſſeiſor cuts down a Tree, the Diſſeiſee dyeth, his Heir entreth, and finds the Tree upon the Land. It was the Opinion of Townſend, 2 H. 7. 2. That he ſhould have the Tree: but Bryan and Catesby held the the contrary. See Cook 11. Part, in Liford's Caſe.

Encumbent.

What Pleas the Encumbent ſhall have in a Quare Impedit, as well in the Caſe of a Common perſon, as in the Caſe of the King; what not, and where.

1. A. Brought a Quare Impedit againſt J. S. Patron, and B. his Clark, who was preſented by the ſaid J. S. The Patron J. S. made Title to the Advowſon by the grant of the Auncеſtor of A. The Plaintiff, B. the Clark not being Inducted, would the ſame Plea; but by the Opinion of the Court, he was ouſted of ſuch Plea by the Statute of 25 H. 8. which is, That the poſſeſſor ſhould plead in bar. But it was holden, That before Induction, B. the Clark was not poſſeſſor; where he could not plead to the Title, but pleaded, That he did not diſturb the Plaintiff in his Preſentment. Paſc. 4 H. 8. Dyer, 1. acc.

2. If a Quare Impedit be brought againſt two, whereof the one is Clark, and ſo named in the Writ, and is alſo Incumbent; and the one pleads as Patron, making Title to the Advowſon, and that he preſented the other, who upon his preſentment, was received; and the Incumbent pleads the ſame plea in bar; but concludes the end of his Plea with an ſic dicit quod ille eſt perſona impерſonata. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That that was no good form of pleading, but he firſt ought to have enabled himſelf as poſſeſſor of the Church to have the ſaid Plea in bar. Paſc. 11 Eliz. Dyer, 283.

Encumbent

Encumbent. See Advowſons.

1. When, by what, and by whoſe Act, the Clark preſented unto any Church or Benefice ſhall be ſaid to be perfect Incumbent thereof: What Acts he may do before he be perfect Incumbent; and what Pleas he may plead before, What not.

1. THere are four Incidents to the making of a Clark perfect Incumbent of any Church, or Benefice Eccleſiaſticall. The firſt is Preſentation, which is the Act of the Patron, who is to preſent the Clark by an Inſtrument in Writing under his hand and Seal, within ſix Moneths after the Church or Benefice is void, to the Biſhop who is Ordinary of the Dioceſs. The ſecond is Admiſſion of the Biſhop or Ordinary of the Clark preſented, 14 H. 7. See Tit. Advowſons. The third is Inſtitution, which is alſo the Act of the Biſhop or Ordinary, which he doth ordinarily in theſe words, viz. Inſtitui te Rectorem Eccleſiæ de D. et habere curam animarum, et accipe curam tuam et meam. See Cook 4. Part, 79.

2. By Inſtitution made by the Biſhop, the Clark preſented is Incumbent of the Church to ſome purpoſes, viz. as to the Spiritualties, That is to ſay, to celebrate Divine Service in the Church; to adminiſter the Sacraments, and inſtruct the Pariſhioners in the true Faith. And in a Quare impedit brought Plenarty, or that the Church is full in Caſe of Common Perſon, 33 H. 6. 34. is a good Plea, for he hath then Beneficium: But in Caſe of the King, the Church is not full untill Induction. The fourth and laſt for the making of the Clark perfect Incumbent, is Induction, which uſually is done by the Arch-Deacon, 11 H. 4. 75. 14 H. 7. Quare Impedit, 162. but may be done by the Biſhop himſelf, which is the putting of the Clark in the Poſſeſſion of the Church, and of the Gleab Lands, which are called the Temporalties of the Church: For untill then, as the Book of 38 E. 3. Quare Impedit is, He is not Parſon in facto: And the Patron in a Writ of Right of Advowſon brought, ought to count that his Clark was inducted into the Church: But after the Clark is inducted, he is then perfect Incumbent, and he may maintain any Action reall or perſonall, for the Gleab or other Profits of the Church. Cook 1 Part, Inſtit. 341. acc.

3. A man was admitted, inſtituted, and inducted to a Benefice, with Cure of the yearly value of 8 l. and afterwards the King preſented him to the Church of S. which was alſo a Benefice with Cure, and he was admitted and inſtituted. The Biſhop of Canterbury granted him Letters of Diſpenſation for Plurality, which were confirmed by the King, and afterwards he was inducted into the Church of S. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Diſpenſation came too late, becauſe it came after the Inſtitution; For by the Inſtitution Eccleſia plena exiſtit againſt all Perſons, but againſt the King; and as to the Spiritualties, he is full Incumbent by the Inſtitution: But as to the Temporalties, he is not compleat Incumbent, as to have them delivered unto him before he is inducted into the Church. Cook 4. Part, 79. Digby's Caſe.

4. A Prebendary of the Prebend of D. in the Cathedrall Church of L. after that the Biſhop had conferred the ſaid Prebendary unto him, and inſtituted him, and before he was inducted and inſtalled, by Deed graunted an Annuity of of 5 l. per annum to Hare out of the ſaid Prebend, which Graunt was confirmed by the Biſhop before the Induction of A. and by the Dean and Chapter the ſame day that he was inſtalled and inducted. Afterwards A. dyed, and B. was made Prebendary of the ſaid Prebend, againſt whom Hare brought a Writ of Annuity for the Arrearages, being behind ſeventeen years. It was Reſolved by the Opinion of all the Juſtices in that Caſe, That the ſaid Grant made by the ſaid A, Prebendary of the ſaid Annuity, to charge the ſaid Prebend, was void before he was inſtalled and inducted, and ſhould not Charge the Succeſſor. Paſch. 20 Eliz. Plow. Com. Hare and Bickleys Caſe. See 5 Eliz. Dyer, 221. acc.

5. If a Parſon or Vicar, who is inducted as compleat Incumbent, doth afterwards make a Leaſe of his Gleab Lands and Tythes (by Deed, as the ſame muſt be) for years: It was holden by the Juſtices, That ſuch Leaſe was a good Leaſe: But in that Caſe, It was holden by them, That the Parſon or Vicar himſelf muſt ſerve the Cure, and not the Leſſee; for that the Cure being a ſpiritual Charge and Miniſtration, doth not follow the Gleab or Tythes, but is inſeperably annexed to the Perſon of him who is the Incumbent of the Church. See 36 H. 8. 58. Dyer, in Taverner's Caſe. See Cook 1 Part, Inſtit. 96. acc.

6. In a Quare Impedit brought againſt A. Patron of a Church and B. his Clark, which B. was preſented by the ſaid A. but he was not inducted, and ſo not perfect Incumbent. The Plaintiff made Title to the Advowſon by a Grant made by the Anceſtor ſiſter of the Plaintiff; and the ſaid B. the Clark would have pleaded the ſame Plea: But he was ouſted of the Plea by Judgment of the Court, becauſe the Statute of 25 E. 3. cap. 7. is, That he who is Poſſeſſor ſhall plead in Barr; and B. the Clark is not Poſſeſſor untill Induction, and therefore is out out of the Statute: Wherefore B. pleaded, That he did not diſturb the Plaintiff. Paſch. 4 H. 8. Dyer, 1.

7. A Quare Impedit was brought againſt the Ordinary, and the Incumbent, without naming the Patron in the Writ; and the Queſtion was, Whether the Writ was good, or Whether it ſhould abate? It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Action did not lye, but that the Writ ſhould abate, and that for theſe Reaſons. 1. Becauſe the Patronage ſhould be recovered againſt him who had nothing in the Patronage. 2. Becauſe that at the Common Law, The Incumbent could not plead any Plea which did concern the Patronage; and therefore it was againſt all right and reaſon, that he ſhould be onely named in the Writ, which could not defend the Patronage: But it was ſaid, That the Statute of 25 E. 3. cap. 7. did enable the Incumbent to plead againſt the King, and to defend his Right, although he claim nothing in the Patronage, and that by the Equity of the ſaid Statute he might plead againſt all Common Perſons. See Cook 7 Part, 26. in Hall's Caſe.

8. In a Quare Impedit, The Plaintiff declared, that A. was ſeiſed of the Mannor of B. to which an Advowſon was Appendant, and preſented J. S. who was admitted, inſtituted, and inducted. A. dyed, his Heir levyed a Fine of the Mannor to which the Advowſon &c. unto B. in Fee, who granted the next Avoidance to the Plaintiff, and that J. S. had reſigned, and ſo it belonged to him to preſent: The Biſhop pleaded, that he claimed nothing but as Ordinary: The other Defendant the Incumbent pleaded, That before the Writ brought he was in by ſix Moneths of the preſentation of the ſaid A. without that, that the Church was void modo et forma as the Plaintiff declared: And the Jury ex Officio found, That the Church was full of J. D. by the preſentment of the King, depending the Quare impedit betwixt the Plaintiff and the ſaid J. S. and that the Church was of the value of 8 l. In this Caſe, It was holden amongſt other things, That although it was found ex Officio, that the Church was full of J. S. who was a Stranger unto the Writ, and it did not appear that he came in by better Title than the Plaintiff had, yet the Plaintiff ought to have a Writ to the Biſhop generally, and the Biſhop ought to execute it, and he cannot return that the Church is full of another; for no Iſſue can be taken betwixt the Plaintiff and him, becauſe he hath no day in Court. Note in this Caſe, Where the Incumbent pleads a Plea againſt the Title of the King. M. 3 Jac. in B. R. Cook 6 Part, 49. Roſwell's Caſe.

Enfranchiſement and Diſfranchiſement.

1. IT was found by Office, That F. by Licence of the King did marry the King's Nieſe, and that certain Lands deſcended to the ſame Neiſe, which her Husband had alienea without the King's Licence to another, for which cauſe the Land was ſeized: The Alienee came into the Chancery, and ſhewed all this, ſcil. That the Neiſe was married with the King's Licence, and that the Lands diſcended to the Neiſe after the Marriage: It was holden in this Caſe, That the Husband ſhould be Tenant by the Courteſy: By which it appeareth, That the Wife being married with the King's Licence, it was an Enfranchiſement at leaſt of the Wife during the Coverture, for if ſhe ſhould remain Neiſe, then the Husband ſhould not have been Tenant by the Courteſy. Cook 4 Part, 55. in the Warden and Commonalty of the Sadler's Caſe.

2. The King's Grants ſhall be interpreted by a favourable Interpretation, that no prejudice ſhall come unto him more than he truly intended by it: and therefore, If the King grants Lands to J. S. and his Heirs, and in truth J. S. is the King's Villain; it ſhall not enfranchiſe the Villain by Implication. Cook 4. Part, 56. in Knight's Caſe.

3. If a Villain attorn to the Grant of his Lord which he maketh: It is no Enfranchiſement of the Villain, for that an Attornment doth not give an Intereſt, but is only a bare Conſent. Cook 4. Part, 85. in Pinchon's Caſe.

4. A man made a Leaſe for the life of another of a Mannor to which a Villain was Regardant, the Leſſee dyed living Ceſtui que vie. The Villain entred as an Occupant to the uſe of a Stranger, and afterwards ſurrendred to him in the Reverſion, Ceſtui que uſe diſagreed: The Villain purchaſed other Lands; the Leſſor ſeiſed them as a perquiſite, and entred; and the Villain brought an Aſſize. It was holden in this Caſe, That the Action did well lye, becauſe the Occupancy was an Enfranchiſement of the Villain for ever.

5. A Villain in the preſence of the King is enfranchiſed only during that time: The ſame Law, If a Villain be within ancient Demeſne for a year and a day; for theſe are by the Law Priviledges pro tempore: But if the Lord doth enfranchiſe them, by Manumiſſion, either in Fait or in Law for an hour, it is an Enfranchiſement for ever in favorem libertatis. See 38 H. 8. Dyer, 61. 33 H. 6. Br. Villenage, 47. acc.

6. In Treſpaſs the Iſſue was, If the Plaintiff were a Villain or not; and it was found that he was not: Whereupon the Lord brought a Writ of Error. It was holden, That the bringing of the Writ of Error was no Enfranchiſement of the Villain, becauſe the Lord without the bringing of the Writ of Error could not defeat the former Recovery, 18 E. 4. 5. The ſame Law is of a Formedon or Audita Querela. Fitz. B. 104.

7. In a Replevin, The Defendant claimed property, which was found againſt him in a proprietate probanda: Yet it was holden, that he might afterwards plead Villenage in the Plaintiff to E. 1. Title Villenage 15. See ibid. 23. That if a Villain brings a Replevin, and the Lord doth remove it by a Recovery, that the ſame is no Enfranchiſement.

8. Non-ſuit is no Enfranchiſement, but contrary of a Retraxit, becauſe that the ſame is the Act of the Lord, and ſo it is of a Departure in deſpight of the Court. 27 E. 2. Vill. 66. Fitzh. B. 78. acc.

9. If I preſent my Villain to a Church which is void, the ſame is no Enfranchiſement of him, and ſo it was adjudged, in tempore Eliz. in Topſfield's Caſe. But if the ſaid Villain be choſen Abbot of another place, I cannot ſeize him, as it was holden by Marrow in his Reading.

10. If the Lord deviſeth the Land to his Villain, It was the Opinion of Mr. Plowden, That it ſhould be an Enfranchiſement againſt the Heir, and yet he was Villain to the Heir as ſoon as the Deviſe took effect: But becauſe the Father had power to enfranchiſe him, he ſhall be enfranchiſed becauſe he is in by the Father; as if the Father had delivered a Deed of Enfranchiſement to one, to deliver to his Villain as his Deed ſeven years after, and the Father Lord dyes, and the Deed is afterwards delivered, it ſhall be an Enfranchiſement: So if a man makes a Leaſe for life, the Remainder to the right Heirs of J. S. who hath Iſſue a Son, who is Villain by Confeſſion to the Feoffor, and the Feoffor dyeth; and afterwards J. S. dyeth, and the Tenant for life dyeth, and the Son of J. S. enters, he ſhall be enfranchiſed. See Plow. Cognizance. 98. acc.

11. In a Precipe brought againſt the Villain and the Lord of a Purchaſe made by the Villain; They vouched over (Villano ab omni Libertatis beneficio excluſo). It was holden to be no Enfranchiſement; contrary, If there had been no Exception in the Voucher. 33 Hen. 6. 1. See Librum.

12. If there be two Coparceners of a Villain, and the one Manumit the Villain, the ſame is no Barr to the other: And ſo if there be two Coparceners of a Villain, and they make partition that the one ſhall have the Villain one day, and the other another day: If the one enfranchiſe him the one day, the other ſhall have him a Villain, the other day; ſo as the Manumiſſion ſhall be but for a time. 12 E. 4. Br. Villeinage, 68. acc.

13. Alſo Enfranchiſement is, when a man is incorporated into any Society or Body politick, and made a Member of the ſaid Body or Corporation, and he is to enjoy the Liberties and Franchiſes of ſuch City, Town, or Corporation, of which he is a Member; of which Enfranchiſement he cannot be diſcharged or diſenfranchiſed, but upon a very good ground, tending to the Subverſion of the Liberties of the City, Town, or Corporation. See Cook 1. Part, in Bagg's Caſe.

14. Sir James Bagg, a Capital Burgeſſe of the Town of Plymouth, behaved himſelf contemptuouſly againſt the Mayor there, and ſaid unto him theſe words, viz. You are a couzening Knave, come and kiſs, &c. and perſwaded A. and B. Vintners, that they ſhould not pay Wine-weight, for which cauſe they diſfranchiſed him: Whereupon he prayed Reſtitution in the King's Bench. And in this Caſe, It was Reſolved by the whole Court, 1. That words of Contempt, or contra bonos mores, are not ſufficient Cauſes to diſfranchiſe a Citizen or Burgeſs of any City, Town, or Corporation: But if he doth any thing againſt the Duty or Truſt of his Freedom, and unto the prejudice of the City, or Borrough, the ſame is a good cauſe to diſfranchiſe him: But there ought to be an Act done, & not an Endeavour only, for that non officit conatus niſi ſequatur effectus, et non officit effectus niſi ſequatur effectus. 2. Reſolved, That no Freeman of any Corporation can be diſfranchiſed by the Corporation, unleſs they have Authority to do it by expreſs words of their Charter, or by Preſcription; But ſuch Citizen, &c. ought to be convicted by Law before he can be relieved. 3. Reſolved, That if a Burgeſs be diſfranchized, and a Writ is awarded to reſtore him, or to ſhew upon the Return a ſufficient Cauſe; and they return ſufficient Cauſes, but the Cauſes in the Return are falſe: If the party for any of the ſaid Cauſes be committed to Priſon or his Shop ſhut up, he may have and maintain Falſe Impriſonment, or Treſpaſſe vi et armis; in which Actions the Cauſes of Diſfranchiſement ought to be pleaded, and the party in ſuch Caſe ſhall be reſtored. Cook 11. Part, 98, 99. Sir James Bagg's Caſe.

14. Langham, a Citizen and Freeman of London, was committed to New-gate by the Court or Aldermen: He prayed a Habeas Corpus; Upon which it was returned, That there was a Cuſtom within the City, that if any Free-man be elected Alderman, that he ought to take an Oath, viz. To ſerve the King in ſuch a Ward, in the Office of Alderman, of which he is elected. 2. That he well entreat the People, to keep the Peace and the Laws and Priviledges of the City within and without. 3. That he ſhall duly come to the Court of Orphans and Haſtings, if not hindred by Command of the King, or other lawfull Cauſe. 4. That he ſhall not ſell Bread, Ale, Wine, or Fiſh, by Retail; and ſet forth a Cuſtom, That if any Perſon be choſen Alderman, he ſhall be called to the Court, and the Oath tendred, and if he refuſe to take it he ſhall be committed till he take the Oath; and ſet forth, That the Cuſtomes of London are confirmed by Parliament; and that Langham being a Free-man, and having taken the Oath of a Free-man, was debito modo electus Alderman of ſuch a Ward, and called to the Court of Aldermen, and tendred the Oath, and that he refuſed to be ſworn in Contemptum Curiæ, et contra conſuetudines; for which cauſe they committed him to New-gate. It was objected againſt the Return, that it was inſufficient, for many cauſes: Firſt, it was too generall, viz. That he was debito modo electus, without ſhewing by whom or how; alſo the Impriſonment is too generall, which takes utterly away the Liberty of the Subject. 2. It was unreaſonable to take an Oath to forſwear his Trade, for perhaps he might be ſo impoveriſhed that he ſhall be neceſſitated to uſe his Trade. 3. It was not a good Retorn for want of Notice given him, that he was choſen Alderman: And diverſe other Exceptions were to the Retorn. But it was Reſolved, That the Retorn was good, 1. Reſolved, That there needs not ſuch certainty in a Retorn of a Habeas Corpus as in pleading, and if it ſhould comprehend all Circumſtances, it would be but the perplexing of the Court. 2. Reſolved, That the Impriſonment being by a Court of Record, and for a Contempt to the Court, was good. 3. The Oath was good, and makes him to abjure no more than the Law forbids him to do, and it is not to abjure all Trade. 4. The Impriſonment is ſpecial, for it is but till he take the Oath; and the Commitment of him by a Court of Record, for not obſerving the Cuſtomes of the City which is againſt the Oath of a Freeman, is a good and lawful cauſe of Commitment, eſpecially the Cuſtomes of the City being confirmed by Act of Parliament. He was remanded to Priſon. Hill. 17 Car. in B.R. Alderman Langham's Caſe.

Enfant or Infant.

1. What Acts or things done by an Enfant ſhall bind him, What not: Where his Feoffments, Grants, Leaſes, Contracts, Covenants, are void: Where voidable only, and who ſhall avoid them: And where his Acts upon Record are voidable, Where not: And where he ſhall avoid Grants made by others; Where not.

1. A. At full Age, brought an Audita Querela in the Chancery, to avoid a Recognizance in the Nature of a Statute Staple made by him, when he was within Age: It was the Opinion of the Court, becauſe his Age ſhall be inſpected by the Court, which cannot now be done when he is of full Age; That the Audita Querela did not lye, but that the Recognizance ſhould bind him. Mich. 7 Eliz. Dyer, 232. Harriſon's Caſe. See Paſch. 4 Jac. in C. B. adjudged acc.

2. In an Aſſumpſit the Caſe was, That the Defendant was a Shop-keeper, and an Enfant, and he brought certain Wares to ſell again in his Shop: It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That this buying of the Defendant being within Age, although he bought the Wares for the maintenance of his Trade, ſhould not bind him: For an Enfant ſhall not be bound by his Bargain for any thing, but for his neceſſity, viz. his Diet and Apparell, or neceſſary Learning; but his buying to maintain his Trade, although he gain his living thereby ſhall not bind him. Trinit. 16 Jac. in B. R. Whittingham and Hill's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 494.

3. In Aſſumpſit, The Plaintiff declared, That in conſideration that he delivered to the Defendant diverſe ſuits of Apparell, viz. A Sattin Doublet and Hoſe with Silver and Gold-Lace, and a Velvet Jerkin and Hoſe to his own proper uſe, the Defendant promiſed to pay him 40 l. when he ſhould be required: The Defendant pleaded, that at the time of the Promiſe he was within Age. The Plaintiff replyed, That at the ſame time he was Servant and attending upon the Earl of Eſſex in his Chamber, and that this Apparell was delivered him as his ne-ceſſary Apparell during the ſaid time of his ſaid Service: Upon the Reading of the Record, It appeared to the Court, that the Defendant in his Addition was written Gent. Wherefore the Court Reſolved, That Sattin with Gold and Silver Lace, or Jerkin or Hoſe of Velvet, were not neceſſary Apparell for a Gentleman, and ſo the Defendant being an Enfant was not bounden to pay for ſuch Apparell; and therefore, That the Action would not lye. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C. B. Mackerell and Bachelor's Caſe. Goldeſb. 168.

4. A man ſued in the Court of Requeſts by Engliſh Bill for Mony which he had layed out for an Enfant within Age for his Meat, Drink, and neceſſary Apparell, and ſet forth that the Enfant being within Age did promiſe to him: In that Caſe, a Prohibition was awarded, becauſe Debt lay at the Common Law, becauſe they were things for his neceſſary livelihood: And in that Caſe, It was agreed, That if an Enfant be bounden in an Obligation for things neceſſary within Age; it is not good, but voidable. Quære, for difference was taken when the Aſſumpſit is made within Age, and when at full Age; for if he maketh a Promiſe when he cometh of full Age, or enters into an Obligation for neceſſaries when he was within Age, the Law is now taken to be that it ſhall bind him. But ſee 44 Eliz. Randall's Caſe. That an Obligation, with a penalty for Mony borrowed within Age, is abſolutely void. Mich. 11. Jac. in Com. Ban. Rearſby and Cuſſer's Caſe. Godbolt. 219.

5. Covenant brought againſt an Apprentice for departing his Service without Licence: The Defendant pleaded, That at the time of the making of the Indenture he was within Age. It was argued, that the Covenant ſhould bind the Enfant, becauſe it was for his Advantage to be bound Apprentice: But all the Court Reſolved, That although an Enfant may voluntarily bind himſelf Apprentice, and if he continue ſeven years, he may have benefit to continue his Trade: Yet neither at the Common Law, nor by any words of the Statute of 5 Eliz. a Covenant or an Obligation of an Enfant for his Apprentice-ſhip ſhould bind him. Trinit. 4 Car. in B.R. Gilbert and Fletcher's Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 129.

6. A Dean and Chapter made a Leaſe for 99. years, to begin after the end of a Leaſe for 50 years in being. The ſaid Leaſe for 99 years was aſſigned to A. and B. Enfants, who before the 50 years ended took a new Leaſe from the Dean and Chapter, for the ſame Term, and for the ſame Rent, and upon the ſame Covenants: The Leaſe for fifty years determined; the Enfants of full Age entred; a new Dean and Chapter made an Entry to avoid this Leaſe. The Queſtion was, Whether an Enfant might ſurrender a future Intereſt by taking a new Leaſe? It was the Opinion of the whole Court in this Caſe, That a Surrender by an Enfant cannot be by Deed, but it is abſolutely void; and that a Surrender by acceptance of this ſecond Leaſe is void, becauſe it was without encreaſe of his Term, or decreaſe of Rent, and where there is no apparant benefit nor ſemblance of benefit, the Acts of Enfants are meerly void; and ſo it is in the principall Caſe. Trin. 14 Car. in B. R. Lloid and Gregorie's Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 360.

7. In Debt, for Arrearages of Rent, upon a Leaſe made to an Enfant, he pleaded Infancy at the time of the Leaſe made: The Queſtion was Whether a Leaſe made to an Enfant was void, becauſe it might be prejudicial to him, and he had not diſcretion to manage it? It was holden by the Court, That it was voidable only by him at his Election; for if it was for his benefit, it was no ways void: But the Enfant at his Election may make it void by refuſing and waving the Land before the Rent-day incurrs, and then no Debt will lye againſt him: But in the principall Caſe, becauſe it was not ſhewed, that the Rent was of greater value than the Land, and the Defendant was of full Age before the Rent-day; It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 11 Jac. in B.R. Kelſey's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 310. See Hill. 10 Jac. in B.R. Kirton and Elliot's Caſe, Bolſtr. 2. Part, 69. acc.

8. In an Aſſumpſit, The Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant did promiſe to pay ſuch a Sum of Mony in conſideration that he would cure him of the Falling-Sickneſs, and layes in Fact that he cured him; and for not Payment of the Money the Action was brought: The Defendant pleaded in Barr, that at the time of the Promiſe made, he was within Age, and ſo demands Judgment of the Action. It was the Opinion of ſome of the Juſtices, That the Action would lye. and that the alledging of Nonage by the Defendant was not material, for that this ſhall be taken as a Contract, and that to be for a thing in the nature of neceſſity to be done for him, and the ſame is as neceſſary for him, as if the Promiſe had been made by him for Meat, Drink, and Apparel, which ſhall bind him although he be within Age: The Court declared their Opinions, That the Plea in Barr was not good; but no Judgment was given, becauſe the ſame was ended betwixt them by Agreement. Trin. 7 Jac. in B. R. Dale and Copping's Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. Part, 39.

9. The Caſe was, An Enfant bargains and ſells Land, and is vouched to Warranty, and he comes in upon the Voucher, and thereupon a Common Recovery is had, The Queſtion was, Whether this be ſuch a Recovery that the Enfant can avoid by by Entry. It was the Opinion of the Court, That an Enfant may avoid a matter in pais by Entry, but not a matter of Record; and here in this Caſe, there is a proper way to avoid it by Law, ſcil. by a Writ of Error, which is a matter of Record, and of as high a nature. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Hill. 1650. in B. R. Aiſt and Wallaſſes Caſe. Styles 246.

10. A man made a Feoffment on Condition, That if he, his Heirs, or Executors, do pay the Rent of 100 l. before ſuch a day, that he may reenter; the Feoffor dyes, his Heir within age, the Mother (without notice of the Son) requeſts J. S. that he would pay the money for her Son. In this Caſe, it was agreed by all the Juſtices, That if the Enfant were within the age of 14, the tender of the money by his Mother had bin good; contrary if he had bin more then 14 years; and becauſe in the principal Caſe, no age was proved, but that he was within age, the Court ſaid, It ſhall be intended, That he was within the age of 14 years, and therefore adviſe to begin de novo. Hill. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Watkins and Aſtwicks Caſe. Owen. 137.

11. Note, It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices of England, That the releaſe of a Debt, or a duty by an Enfant Executor after probate of the Will, is not good, becauſe it ſhould be a Devaſtavit, and charge the Enfant of his proper goods; and alſo it ſhould be a wrong which an Enfant cannot do by his Releaſe, becauſe his act is not purſuant to the Office of an Executor who is to do his Office truly, diligently, and faithfully. But it was Reſolved, That upon payment and ſatisfaction to an Enfant-Executor, he may acquit and diſcharge the Debt, for ſo much as he receiveth. Hill. 26 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, 27. Ruſſells Caſe. See Trin. 13 Car. in B.R. Keyvelon and Latham's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 352.

12. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, holden of the Queen in Socage, as of her Mannor of C. deviſed the ſame to B. his Baſtard daughter, and her Heirs, and dyed; B. within the age of 21 years, by Deed, made a Feoffment in Fee of thoſe Lands to C. and others, and then dyed within age, without Iſſue; and if the Feoffment ſhould prevent the Queen of her Eſcheat, was the Queſtion. In this Caſe, It was Reſolved, That privies in bloud Inheritable, as general Heir, ſpecial Heir, or as general and ſpecial Heir, ſhould take advantages of the Entancy of his Anceſtor, and may enter upon a Feoffment made by their Anceſtor within age. But privies in Law, as the Lord by Eſcheat, ſhould never take advantage of Enfancy, becauſe he is a ſtranger unto him: And when an Enfant dyeth without Heir, the Feoffment is unavoidable. But in the principal Caſe, becauſe it appeared to the Court, That the Feoffment was executed by Letter of Attorney; it was therefore void, and that the Land ſhould Eſcheat to the Queen. Hil. 25 Eliz. Cook 9. Part, 42, 43. Whittingham's Caſe. See Cook 4. Part, 125. in Beverleyes Caſe, &c.

13. Note, It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That if an Uſurpation was upon an Enfant unto an Advowſon; he was bound by ſuch Uſurpation by the Com. and he was put to his Writ of Right of Advowſon; and the reaſon was, becauſe the Encumbent came into the Church by Judicial Act of the Ordinary, ſcil. Admiſſion and Inſtitution. But it was Reſolved, That by the Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 5. If an Uſurpation were upon an Enfant who had an Advowſon by Diſcent, That the Enfant ſhould have a Quare Impedit, or an Aſſiſe of Darrein preſentment: And ſo the Statute not only reveſted the Right, but alſo gave a poſſeſſary Action againſt every one who gained the Inheritance of the Advowſon by Uſurpation. In which Actions, plenarty was no Plea. Mich. 3 Jac. in B. R. Cook 6. Part, 49, 50. Roſwells Caſe.

14. A. hath Iſſue, B. and C. Enfants within age: A. Tenant for life is Diſſeiſed, and afterwards releaſes to the Diſſeiſor with warranty, and dyeth; and the warranty diſcendeth upon B. being within age. Afterwards B. dyeth within age, C. being then his Brother and Heir, and within age, upon whom the Warranty doth diſcend; and afterwards C. commeth of age, and after his full age entreth. It was adjudged in the Caſe, That the Entry of C. was lawful: For it was Reſolved, That if the Entry of an Enfant be lawful, and no Lacheſs is to be attributed unto him, and he could not enter in the life of his Anceſtor, that warranty ſhall not bind an Enfant in ſuch Caſe, à fortiori, in the Caſe where the warranty diſcendeth upon him, his entry being lawful; but if his Entry were not lawful, ſo as he is put to his Action, there the warranty ſhall bind him. See Cook 1. Part, 140. in Chudleighs Caſe.

15. Tenant in tail of Lands holden in Capite by Deed made a Leaſe of them, not warranted by the Statute of 32 H. 8. and dyed without Iſſue, the Reverſion diſcended to his general Heir, which was in Ward to the King; Office was found, that he dyed ſeiſed of an eſtate tail, and that the Lands diſcended to his general Heir. It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That the King in privity of the heirs in tail, might avoid the ſaid Leaſes during the time that they ſhould be in Ward to the King. But it was further Reſolved in that Caſe, That although the King might avoid the Leaſes for his time, yet the Heirs in tail then within age; when they came of full age, after the Intereſt of the King determined by acceptance of the Rent, might make the Leaſes to have continuance during the Term. And in that Caſe it was ſaid and agreed, That if Tenant in tail makes a Leaſe for 30 or 40 years, and dyeth without Iſſue, his Wife young with child of a Son, and the Donor enters and avoids the Leaſe, and then the Son is born, the Leſſee enters, and the Son accepts the Rent at his full age, he doth affirm the Leaſe, becauſe the Leaſe was not abſolutely void, but ſecundum quid only. Cook 7. Part, 3. in the Counteſs of Bedfords Caſe.

16. If an Enfant convey Lands unto the Queen by Deed enrolled before the Statute of 18 Eliz. which eſtabliſheth grants made unto the Queen; Or if he levy a Fine of his Lands to the Queen, and afterwards the ſaid Statute is made for the confirmation of Grants made to the King: Yet it was holden by the Court, becauſe the perſon of the Enfant during his minority, is by the Law diſabled to make any conveyance at all of his Inheritances, ſuch Grants were not good, nor ſhould bind him or his Heirs, but the Enfant may reverſe ſuch Fine, by bringing a Writ of Error. Cook 11. Part, 77. in Magdalen Colledges Caſe adjudged.

2. Where a Fine levyed by an Enfant, or a Recovery ſuffered by him, ſhall bind him, where not; And how, and in what time he ought to avoid them: And where Acts of his upon record, are voidable, where not; And of Inſpection of him.

1. HUsband and Wife, in the time of vacation after Hill. Term, by Dedimus poteſtatem, acknowledged a Fine of the Lands of the Wife, the Wife being then but of the age of 19 years. The Writ of Covenant bore date in January before Returnable Craſt. Purific. And the Dedimus bare date three dayes after the Original; and the Queens Silver was entred, ſcil. die veneris in ſeptimana Paſchæ, which was four dayes before the death of the Wife, but the Fine was not engroſſed till afterwards. The Heir of the Wife in Eaſter Term, prayed, that the Fine might not be recorded, nor delivered to the party; but becauſe the Queens Silver was entred, notwithſtanding the under-practice of the Husband, the Fine was engroſſed, and ſo did bind the Heir, notwithſtanding the Wife was within age at the time of the acknowledgment of it. Paſc. 5 Eliz. Dyer, 220. Carells Caſe.

2. If there be Tenant for life, the Remainder in Fee to an Enfant, and they both levy a Fine, and after the Fine is reverſed as to the Enfant, yet the Conuſee ſhall have the Land for the life of the Tenant for life, becauſe that each of them gave that which he might lawfully give: Engliſhes Caſe, Cook 1. Part, 76. in Bredons Caſe.

3. If an Enfant levyeth a Fine, and doth declare the uſe upon it; It was holden, That the ſame ſhall bind him ſo long as the Fine doth remain in force, becauſe he is admitted by the Juſtices to be of full age to levy a Fine. Cook 2. Part, 58. in Beckwiths Caſe.

4. If an Enfant doth levy a Fine to the King, the ſame ſhall bind him, and it ſhall not be avoided for his Infancy. See by Hobart Chief Juſtice, in Needler and the Biſhop of Wincheſters Caſe, Hill. 12 Jac. in C. B. 224. And ſee Cook 10. Part, 44. in Mary Portingtons Caſe. 4. And the Declaration of Uſes, upon ſuch Fine by the Enfant, is good, for that the Law which enables him to the principal, enableth him alſo to declare the Uſes. And if an Enfant acknowledgeth a Statute, or a Recognizance; It is not void, but voidable by Audita Querela during his Minority; and the difference is, becauſe of the Inſpection of the Enfant by the Judges in the Caſe of a Fine; but not of every Enfant in Caſe of a Recognizance. But a common Recovery againſt an Enfant, although he appeareth by his Guardian, ſhall not bind him becauſe he hath not a diſpoſing power of the Land, and he is diſabled to transfer it to others during his Minority. Cook 10. Part, 43. acc.

5. Note, a common Recovery may be had againſt an Enfant under the age of 21 years, upon examination of him ſole and ſecret, then ſuch Recovery is of his free will, and for his benefit: Whereupon the Enfant was admitted to ſuffer a common Recovery by his Guardians in open Court. Mich. 15 Car. in C. B. Blounts Caſe. Hob. 169. See here many preſidents vouched, where common Recoveries were had againſt Enfants in the like Caſe.

6. Note, It was ſaid by Cook Chief Juſtice, That when he was in the Common-Pleas, It was Reſolved by himſelf, and all the other Juſtices there una voce, That a common Recovery againſt an Enfant, was but a common aſſurance, upon which an uſe might be averred, and a forfeiture of an eſtate for life, and that this not to bind or hurt him. Trin. 12 Jac. in B. R. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 235.

7. The Caſe was; Tenant in tail, the Remainder in Fee; Tenant in tail levyed a Fine with Proclamations; he in the Remainder dyed, his Heir within age; afterwards Tenant in tail dyed without Iſſue, ſo as the Title did accrue to the Enfant, and five years encurred whileſt he was within age. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the Statute of 4 H. 7. did ſave unto the Enfant his Action untill his full age; and that then he ſhould have five years more to make his claim, and avoid the Fine. But it was agreed by all the Juſtices, That he might bring his Action within the five years if he pleaſed.

8. If the Goods of an Enfant eſtray, and be proclaimed according to the Law, if none come to claim them within the year and a day; he ſhall be bounden in ſuch Caſes, for having his Goods: The like Law is of the Goods of an Enfant which are wrecked upon the Sea. See Cook 5. Part, 108. in Sir Henry Conſtable's Caſe, acc.

9. Error was brought to reverſe a Judgment in a Writ of Entry againſt the Earl of Newport an Enfant, where he appeared by his Guardians, wherein they vouched the common Vouchee upon his Default after appearance: The Error aſſigned was, That the Judgment was given by default, he being an Enfant; It was Reſolved by the Court, That it was not Error; for the Judgment is not given upon the default of the Enfant, but upon the departure of the Vouchee is deſpight of Court, and the Court is truſted, that they will not admit a Guardian, but ſuch as ſhall anſwer to the Enfant for his Loſs, if he have any. M. 6 Car. in B.R. Tho. Earl of Newport and Sir Henry Mildmay's Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 224.

10. The Inſpection of an Enfant was taken by one of the Juſtices upon an Eſſoin day: It was the Queſtion, Whether it was good? And the Judgment upon the Inſpection of him was given the ſame day. It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That the Judgment was well given. See Trin. 8. Jac. Poyn's Caſe, Vouch. in Bolſtr. 1. Part, 35. in Walter's Caſe. See the original Caſe of Poyns. M. 8 Jac. Cro. 2. Part, 230.

11. The Court was moved, on the behalf of an Enfant, to diſcharge a Guardian aſſigned by the Court, with an intent to make J. S. an Attorney a Guardian in his Room, and that the former Inſpection of him might be diſcharged; and that the Infant might be inſpected de novo, becauſe when the former Inſpection was, and a Guardian aſſigned, there was no Action depending in Court; which the Court held reaſonable, the former Inſpection to be diſcharged, and he to be inſpected de novo, and a new Guardian aſſigned. Tr. 1655. in B.R. Styles, 456.

12. A woman during Coverture joyned with her Husband in levying a Fine of her own Lands, with her Husband within Age, and ſhe was brought into the Court to be inſpected: Whereupon a Scire facias iſſued out to the Terr-Tenants, who came and pleaded that ſhe was of full Age at the time of the Fine levyed; upon which Iſſue was joyned, and a Verdict for the Plaintiff, and now ſhe came and prayed Judgment upon the Verdict: The Court ſaid, We are to judge of the Infancy upon Inſpection, and not the Jury; and upon Inſpection we adjudge her to be within Age, and therefore let the Fine be reverſed. M. 1655. in B. R. Vidian and Fletcher's Caſe, Styles, 474.

3. Enfant, How he muſt ſue, or be ſued: Where by Guardian, Prochyn amy, or by Attorney; and where not.

1. IN a Formedon in the Diſcender, The Plaintiff was admitted before one of the Juſtices of the Common Pleas, to proſecute in omnibus Actionibus, which was entred in the Plea-Roll thus, Conceſſum eſt per Curiam, That the Plaintiff, by J. S. his Guardian, ſhould proſecute &c. And the Philizer's Roll was, That J. Y. by J. S. his Guardian; ad hoc admiſſus per Curiam, abtulit ſe quarto die, &c. But there was no Entry in the Philizer's Roll, Quod conceſſum eſt per Curiam, quod petens ſequatur, by J. S. his Guardian: Whereupon Error was brought. It was the Opinion of the Court, That notwithſtauding Error was brought, yet it might be amended; becauſe it appears, That the Juſtice admitted the Guardian ad proſequendum, and the Philizer's Roll is obtulit ſe: So the Admiſſion appearing before the obtulit ſe, it was the Omiſſion of the Clark rather than the Act of the Court, wherefore it was amended: And in that Caſe it was doubted, Whether admittance to ſue by Guardian, where it ought to be by Prochyn amy, be good or not? The Court delivered no Opinion, but many Preſidents were ſhewed, That ſuch Entries had been both wayes. Mich. 3 Car. in C.B. Young and Young's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 61. See Fitzh. N. B. 27. And ſee the old Books, 29. Aſſ. Lit. Title Aſſ. 293. 31 E. 3. Attorne, 94. 3 Hen. 6. 17. by Markham. See Mich. 3 Car. Hutton, 92. in the ſame Caſe.

2. Note, Error was brought of the Judgment given in the King's Bench, in the Caſe betwixt Rawlins Plaintiff, and Somerford Defendant; which ſee Cook 4. Part, 53, 54. And one Error was, becauſe that Rawlins the Plaintiff was an Enfant, and was admitted by his Guardian, but no Record thereof was made as is uſed in C. B. but only recited in the Court. J. R. per A.B. Gardianum ſuum ad hoc per Curiam ſpecialiter admiſſum, Queritur &c. The Juſtices prima facie ſeemed to be of Opinion, That there ought to be a Record made of the ſaid Admittance. But upon ſearch of the Records in the King's Bench, many Preſidents were ſhewed, where Enfants had ſued by Guardian in B. R. and no Record made of their admittance by Guardians, but Recitall as afore-ſaid. Wherefore the Court afterwards diſallowed the Error, and the the Judgment was affirmed. Cook 4 Part, 53, 54. Rawlin's Caſe.

3. In Treſpaſs of Battery and falſe Impriſonment, The Plaintiff ſued the Defendant by prochyn amy; And upon Not-Guilty pleaded, and Iſſue joyned, it was found for the Plaintiff: It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, becauſe the Plaintiff ſued by prochin amy, where he ought to ſue by his Guardian, and Jones and Simpſon's Caſe was vouched to that purpoſe. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Plaintiff may ſue by prochyn amy, or by Guardian, but the Defendant ſhall ſue only by Guardian: It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. M. 5 Car in B. R. Goodwin and Sir Rich. Moor's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 115.

4. Error in the Exchequer-Chamber of a Judgment in B.R. in an Ejectione firmæ, The Error aſſigned was, That the Plaintiff was an Enfant at the time of the Bill brought and ſued by an Attorney where he could not make an Attorney, but ought to have ſued by Guardian: It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices and Barons, That this was an Error in Faict, and that it might be well aſſigned for Error in that Court, although it was alledged, that their Authority given them by the Statute was not to examine matters in Fact, but matters in Law which appeared of Record: Where the Defendant ſaid, That he was of full Age at the time of the Bill brought, and thereupon they were at Iſſue, and Niſi prius awarded. Mich. 42 Eliz. in Exchequer. Rew and Long's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 5.

5. Error of Judgment in B.R. in Ejectione firmæ, becauſe one of the Defendants at the time of the Judgment was within Age, and appeared by Attorney where he ought to have been by his Guardian: The Judgment being upon a Verdict, It was thereupon demurred. All the Judges and Barons held, in regard the Damages & Coſts are entire, that the Judgment is reverſible for both; and was reverſed accordingly. Hill. 8 Jac. in B. R. King and Marleborough's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 303.

6. Note, An Enfant was admitted by Guardian to ſue an Accompt againſt his Guardian in Socage, for the Profits received after the Enfant had accompliſhed his Age of fourteen years; and the Action was brought againſt him as his Bayliff, and ſo it ought to be, as it was holden by the Juſtices. Hill. 6 Jac. in B. R. Cro. 2. Part, 219.

7. Debt was brought againſt an Enfant Executor, who appeared by Attorney, and pleaded fully adminiſtred, which was found againſt him, and now brought Error; and aſſigned for Error, That at the time of his appearance he was an Enfant, and ought not to appear by his Attorney, but by Guardian: It was objected, That it was not Error, the Action being brought againſt him as Executor, who preſents the Perſon of his Teſtator, who was of full Age, but that he might appear by Attorney. And Trin. 38 Eliz. in B. R. Bear and Starkley's Caſe was vouched, where an Enfant ſued by Attorney as Executor, and Error aſſigned for that cauſe, and adjudged no Error, and ſo it was holden. Paſc. 37 Eliz. in B.R. in Bartholomew and Deighton's Caſe. But it was Reſolved by the Court, That an Enfant being ſued, and pleading by Attorney, although he be Executor, yet it is erroneous; for being ſued, he may by a falſe Plea be charged de bonis propriis, and by intendment of Law, he cannot inſtruct his Attorney to plead; wherefore the Law requires that although he be an Executor, yet he ought to appear by Guardian; and a difference was taken where an Enfant Executor is Plaintiff, and where Defendant, and being Plaintiff, where he reverſes: For if Judgment be given againſt him where he is Plaintiff, it ſeemeth all one with this Caſe: The Judgment was reverſed by the Opinion of the whole Court. M. 15 Jac. in B. R. Cotton and Weſtcot's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 441. See Popham, 130. acc. the ſame Caſe.

8. Error of a Judgment in Durham, The Error aſſigned was, becauſe in an Ejectione firmæ the Father appearing by Attorney, and the Son by the ſame Attorney, proximum amicum ſuum, who was admitted per Curiam for the ſaid Son, ad proſequendum; whereas he ought to have been admitted to plead by his Guardian, and not by Prochyn amy, and the admittance ought to be ad defendendum, and not ad proſequendum: It was moved, It was no Error, for Prochyn amy is a Guardian, and a Guardian and Prochyn amy be both but one when admitted per Curiam, and although the Entry be ad proſequendum, yet it is good enough. But the Opinion of the Court was, That it was erroneous for both cauſes; for neceſſity, an Enfant may be admitted to ſue by Guardian or Prochyn amy, where he is to demand or to gain; but when he is a Defendant in an Action reall or perſonall, it ought alwayes to be by Guardian, and the Guardian to be admitted by the Court. The Judgment was reverſed. Trin. 20 Jac. in B. R. Simpſon and Jackſon's Caſe, Cro. 2 Part, 641.

9. Error to reverſe a Judgment in C. B. in a Writ of Right, The Error aſſigned was, That the Plaintiff in the Writ of Right did appear by his Prochyn amy, and afterwards he came of his full Age and did proſecute his ſuit, and recovered by his Prochyn amy being of full Age, whereas he ought to have appeared in proper Perſon, by Baily, or by Attorney: After long Argument, it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That this is not aſſignable now for Error; for that the Court is not to deter-determine, or to take notice when the Plaintiff there came to his full Age, but this ought to have been pleaded; and if not pleaded then, there is now no time to plead it, being after Judgment, and by his Lacheſſe the benefit is now loſt for ever, and a Writ of Right is a ſpeedy Writ, and ſo ought to have a ſpeedy end; and it is a Rule in Law, That a man ſhall never aſſign that for Error, of which he could not have advantage by way of Plea, nor ſhall a man have advantage by way of Error for an Error in Fait, where he might have had benefit of it by way of Anſwer. Trin. 8 Jac. in B. R. Stone and Marche's Caſe, Bolſt. 1. Part, 24, 25. See Trin. 9 Jac. in B. R. Bolſt. 1. Part, 171. acc. Cro. 2. Part, 580. the ſame Caſe.

10. Error to reverſe a Judgment in the Common Pleas, The Error aſſigned was, The Action was brought againſt three Perſons, and the one was within Age, and they all three appeared by Attorney, whereas he within Age ought to have appeared by his Guardian, and Judgment was given, which was erroneous as to him, and ſo to the reſt, becauſe it was a Joynt-Judgment: It was the Opinion of the Court, That it being a joynt-Judgment, being naught in part it was naught in all; and therefore the Judgment was reverſed. Hill. 1654. in B.R. Bocking and Symon's Caſe, Styles, 400.

11. Note by Rolls Chief Juſtice, One cannot anſwer for an Enfant either in Chancery, or in any other Court, unleſs he he aſſigned Guardian by the Court; for if he might, that were to make himſelf Guardian, which might prove Damage to the Enfant; therefore if one will ſue an Enfant, the Court muſt aſſign a Guardian who may anſwer for him: But an Enfant may ſue by Prochyn amy, though his Prochyn amy cannot anſwer for him. Paſch. 1653. in the King's Bench, Styles, 369.

12. Error was brought by the Daughters and Heirs of J. S. to reverſe a common Recovery had at Law, in a Writ of Entre ſur Diſſeiſin, between A. and B. Plaintiffs, and Robert Leigh and J. D. Tenants of diverſe Lands in D. and C. in the ſaid County: Wherein the Tenants did vouch, J. N. and K. his Wife, who did appear by their Attorny, who entred to the Warranty ad damnum &c. The Error aſſigned was, that K. was within Age at the time of the appearance of her and her Husband, viz. of eighteen years and no more: And if this were an Error to avoid the Recovery, was the Queſtion: Amongſt other Points, It was argued it was Error; for it is a Rule in Law, that in every Precipe quod reddat, where Land is demanded, the Tenant ought to appear in perſon, or by one lawfully authorized by him, and an Enfant cannot make an Attorney, as 1 H. 6. 6. is adjudged, and therefore if he ſue by Attorney it is Error, as 22 H. 6. 21. is: and it ſhould be dangerous to permit Enfants to loſe their Lands by their Attorneys, whilſt they have not diſcretion to chooſe ſuch as ſhall be faithful unto them; and therefore the Law hath provided that they appear by Guardian allowed by the Court who ſhall anſwer for them. See 22 H. 6. 31. Hungerford's Caſe. It was objected, That in the principal Caſe, The Husband was of full Age, therefore he might make an Attorney for himſelf and his Wife: It was anſwered, that it is likewiſe a Rule in Law, That the Husband cannot give away or loſe the Inheritance of his Wife that is within Age, and therefore becauſe the Inheritance of the Wife is to be loſt by his Recovery, ſhe ought to appear by her Guardian, notwithſtanding the Husband was of full Age: The Court inclined to Opinion, That the conſtituting of an Attorney was utterly void as to the Wife, and that it was ſuch an Error of which every Stranger might take advantage, and is not like the Caſe where an Enfant makes a Feoffment which is but voidable. And Portington's Caſe. Cook 10. Part, & 37 Eliz. Bartholomew and Dighton's Caſe were vouched, where an Enfant did ſue by Attorney, and the Judgment was reverſed. In the principall Caſe there was no Judgment, becauſe one of the Plaintiffs in the Writ of Error dyed, depending the ſuit. Hill. 13 Jac. in B.R. Holland and Jackſon's Caſe, Bridgman 69, 70, 71.

4. What Priviledges an Enfant ſhall have, What not: And where he is capable of Grants, of Offices for life, or otherwiſe, Where not.

1. IF Judgment be given Dum fuit infra ætatem, or other Action againſt an Enfant by default, after default he ſhall have a Writ of Error, and reverſe the Judgment for his Nonage: Yet if an Enfant after appearance make default, Judgment ſhall be given againſt him, and he ſhall not reverſe it by Error. 2 Ma. Dyer, 104.

2. If an Enfant, who was Plaintiff by his prochin amy, at full Age maketh an Attorney, and afterwards he is Non-ſuit, he ſhall be amerced; but otherwiſe it is, if he had continued within Age. M. 17 Eliz. Dyer, 338.

3. In Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin brought, The Defendant pleaded in Barr a Recovery in a former Aſſiſe againſt the Plaintiff. The Demandant replyed, That he was an Enfant, and that he was not Terr-Tenant at the time of the Recovery, but that J. S. was Tenant, and that it was a Recovery by default: It was the Opinion of the Court, 1. That a Recovery was not so sacred a thing, but that it might be falsified, as well in point of Recovery for the thing, as also betwixt the same parties. 2. Because in this Case, the Enfant cannot have Error, or Attaint, and therefore he shall falsify; and the rather in this Case, because here is a Title and Judgment pleaded against an Enfant, where as his Title is not discovered: And in that Case, It was said, That if an Enfant in Assise will confesse, the Court shall not receive his Confession; and if he will plead, the Jury shall not enquire upon the Point of Seisin, but at large; and if he make default, and so will not discover his Title, his default is either mera negligentia, and that shall excuse him; or it is negligentia cum contempta, and is in the same degree as a Departure in despight of Court, and there Judgment shall be given against him. Hill. 15 Jac. in B.R. Holford's Case, Cro. 2. Part, 466.

4. Note by the Common Law, If one had suffered a Recovery against him in any reall Action by default, (if he were lawfully summoned, and no Error was in the proceedings,) he had no Remedy but by a Writ of Right; but yet in such Case, If the Recovery had been an Enfant, by reason of his tenderness of years, and defect of Understanding, such Recovery by default should not have bound the Enfant. Cook 6. Part, 8. in Ferrer's Case.

5. If an Enfant maketh default in a Precipe quod reddat, upon which a Grand Cape is awarded, he shall not lose his Land by his default, by reason of his Enfancy. 3 H. 6. 12. See 2 Ma. Dyer, 104.

6. If an Enfant be Non-suit in a Writ of Right, yet he may have another Writ of the Possession; and if an Enfant prayeth to be received, and sheweth cause, yet he may wave that cause and shew another cause. 42 E. 3. 13. by Finchden. See Dyer, 104. acc.

7. It was agreed, That where an Enfant is Plaintiff in an Assise, that nothing shall be said to be confessed by him, but the Assise shall be at large, although that the Enfant doth tender a speciall Issue. But see 48 E. 3. 34. a difference is taken, where the Enfant is Demandant, and where he is Tenant: For it is there said, That no Judgment shall be upon a Nihil dicit against an Enfant where he is Plaintiff, but contrary where he is Tenant or Defendant: And if an Enfant in an Assise plead Ne unq; accouplez loyall Matrimonie, and the same be certified against him, yet he shall not be convicted as a Disseisor by his Plea; but contrary, if it be by Verdict, 41 E. 3. 31: 28. Ass. 52. In a Cessavit brought against an Enfant, he ought to confess the Services, and tender the Arrearages, and so it is in Case of a Writ of Customs and Services brought against him. But see Cook 10. Part, in Conye's Case, That in a Writ of Customs and Services against a Cessavit upon his own Cesser, although that he hath the Tenancy by Discent yet he shall have his Age, because he cannot know what Arrearages to tender before Judgment, and if he doth not make a true tender, he should forfeit his Lands, Cook 10. Part, in Conny's Case.

8. An Enfant submits himself to an Award, and binds himself in an Obligation to perform it: It was adjudged in that Case, That the Submission was void, and then the Obligation also was void. Mich. 17 Car. in B. R. Rudsons and Yate's Case, Marsh.

9. If an Enfant maketh a Partition which is not equall, he shall avoid it at his full Age by Entry, yet it is a lawful Act to make a Partition, & a thing which the Law compelleth him to do, 21 H. 7. 29. acc.

10. If an Action be brought against an Enfant, and he demurr in Law to the Declaration, he may afterwards wave his Demurrer, and plead to Issue, 31 E. 3. Fitzh. Enfant, 7. And so was it adjudged in Kirton and Elliot's Case. Hill. 10 Jac. in B. R. An Enfant may wave his Demurrer, at another day after he hath demurred; but this ought to be the same Term, and not at another Term. Bolstr. 2. Part, 69.

11. In Dower brought, The Defendant said That her Husband was seised of three Mannors, holden of the King in Capite, and that afterwards the Plaintiff brought a Writ of Dower; and that she had one Mannor assigned unto her for her Dower, for all the other Marthnors, the said Mannors being of equall yearly value. The Demandant said, That she was within Age at the time of the Assignment of the Dower: But it was the Opinion of the Court, That the said Assignment should bind him, the same being made in the Court of Chancery. 18 E. 3. 29. Fitzh. Dower, 60.

12. Lord and Tenant by Fealty and Rent, the Lord made a Feoffment of the Mannor, the Tenant being an Enfant within Age, having Land by discent attorned: It was adjudged that the Attornment was good, and in that Case it was Resolved, 1. That in Per quæ servitia against an Enfant who hath the Tenury by discent, he shall not have his Age, because the Lord at the first departed with the Land, in consideration that the Tenant should hold of him, and pay to him the Rent; and it is presumed, that the Tenant hath a benefit and avail above his Services which he doth, and the Rent which he payeth; and the Tenant shall be distreyned for his Rent during his Non-age, because the the Law gives him remedy during his Non-age to have an acquittal. 2. Reſolved, That although the Tenant-Enfant in the principal Caſe was not compelled to Attorn, yet becauſe he was by a mean compellable to have Attorned, if a Fine had been levyed, the Attornment of the Enfant was good. And an Attornment is but a bare aſſent, and doth not give an Intereſt, and therefore ſhall bind an Enfant. Cook 9. Part, 85. Conyers Caſe.

13. If Tenant in Tail of an Acre of Land, according to the Cuſtome of Burrough-Engliſh, makes a Feoffment in Fee within age, and dyeth, the younger Son ſhall avoid, for he is privy in bloud, and claimeth by diſcent from the Enfant. So it is, If Tenant in tail to him, and the Heirs Females of his body, makes a Feoffment in Fee, and dyeth within age, having Iſſue a Son and a Daughter, the Daughter ſhall avoid the Feoffment. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 337. acc.

14. Enfants ſhall not be amerced, nor ſhall find pledges, by reaſon of the weakneſs of their age; and therefore in ſuch Caſe the Entry is, Ideo in miſericordia, ſed pardonatur quia Enfans. Cook 8. Part, 61. in Beechers Caſe.

15. If an Enfant under the age of Diſcretion, kills a Man, it is not Felony in him, becauſe he wanteth diſcretion and underſtanding; and therefore the Law imputes it to his ignorance which he hath by nature, and ſo no default in him. But Quære of ſuch Caſe, for as the book is, 3 H. 7. Malitia ſupplet ætatem. See Plow. Com. 19. in Fogoſſe's Caſe.

16. Note, it was ſaid and agreed, according to the Book of 31 E. 1. title Diſclaimer, 30. That an Enfant ſhall anſwer to the Seiſin had by his own hands. See Cook 9. Part, in Bucknell's Caſe. 33. acc.

17. In an Action upon the Caſe, The Caſe was, The Biſhop of Rocheſter Granted the Office of Regiſter in Rocheſter, to J. S. an Enfant, Habendum poſt mortem et ſurſum reddit. J. D. who held it for life, Habendum per ſe vel ſufficientem deputatum ſuum; which was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter. It was moved, That this Grant of the Office to the Enfant was void, he being but of the age of 11. years at the time of the Grant, and no more. And although it were granted to him, Habendum et exercendum per ſe vel ſufficientem ſuum Deputatum, yet the Grant was void; for that an Enfant cannot make a Deputy: and when he was at the time of the Grant but of the age of 11. years, yet being void at the time of the Grant, it cannot be made good by a ſubſequent act. But it was Reſolved by the Court, That the Grant was good; For the Grant is not void becauſe at that time he was an Enfant, or becauſe an Enfant cannot make a Deputy; For an Enfant who can write and read, and underſtand the Latine Tongue, may be a Regiſter and may have ſufficient knowledg to Regiſter Acts. But in this Caſe, It was granted to him in Reverſion, and being able to exerciſe the Office at the time it fell, it is ſufficient. Mich. 8 Car. in B. R. Young and Stoells Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 203. See Young and Fowlers Caſe. Hill. 14 Car. in B. R. rot. 1265. Cro. 1. Part, 400. accordingly Reſolved. Notwithſtanding the Opinion cited in Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 41 Eliz. between Scambler and Walter, where it was holden, That the Grant of the Office of under-Stewardſhip, in poſſeſſion or Reverſion to an Enfant, was void, becauſe he was incapable to exerciſe the ſame pro commodo Regis et populi, which Caſe was denyed for Law, unleſs it were with this difference, where it is granted without a clauſe of exerciſe, per ſe vel deputatum. See Trin. 15 Car. in B. R. Marſh. 41, 42, and 43. the ſame Caſe.

5. Enfant in ventre ſa mier, in what Caſes he ſhall be ſaid in eſſe, to take, or otherwiſe, and in what not.

1. NOte, it is ſaid, That a thing which is not in eſſe, but in apparant expectancy is regarded in Law; and therefore ſee 8 E. 2. Voucher, 237. and 38 E. 3. An Enfant in his Mothers Belly may be vouched. See Cook 10. Part, in the Caſe of Sutton's Hoſpital, 3. acc.

2. If an Uſurpation be had upon an Enfant who is in ventre ſa mier, at the next Turn after his death, he ſhall be relieved againſt ſuch uſurpation: for ſuppoſe the Heir in Eſſe be then a daughter, ſhe were relieveable in reſpect of her Non-age. It is not reaſonable that the ſon which is after born, ſhould loſe that relief, and the Enfant in ventre ſa mier, is to be reſpected, by Hobart Chief Juſtice. Paſc. 14 Jac. in C. B. In the Lord Stanhop and the Biſhop of Lincolns Caſe. Hob. 240.

3. A deviſe was made to an Enfant in ventre ſa mier. It was the Opinion of all the Judges but Whiddon, That the Deviſe was not good, and that the Enfant born after, ſhould take nothing by the deviſe; For that ſuch an Enfant is not capable of an Eſtate, notwithſtanding that Charters may be deteyned for ſuch an Enfant. 13 Eliz. Dyer, 303.

4. A Copyholder ſurrendred his Copyhold of Inheritance in manus Domini, and the ſurrender was to the uſe of an Enfant in ventre ſa mier after his birth. The Queſtion was, If the ſurrender were good or not; It was adjudged, That it was void if it had bin in another conveyance, and by the ſame reaſon it is void alſo in the Caſe of a ſurrender o. a Copyhold eſtate. Paſc. 23 Eliz. in B.R. Clampes Caſe.

5. Note, It was holden, That by Cuſtome a Deviſe may be good to an Enfant in ventre ſa mier. 9 H. 6. 23. acc. But by the Statute of 32 and 34 H. 8. of Wills, ſuch a Deviſe is not good. For the Statutes do not provide for putting of Lands in ab.yance. And the Statute of 27 H. 8. of uſes, doth not execute Uſes which are in abeyance; and therefore a Conveyance to the uſe of an Enfant in ventre ſa mier, is void, and not executed by the ſaid Statute, as it is Reſolved in Cook 1. Part, in Chadleigh Caſe.

6. If Tenant in tail maketh a Leaſe for 40 years rendring Rent, which is voidable by the Iſſue in tail; and afterwards Tenant in tail dyeth without Iſſue, his Wife with child with a Son, by which the Donor entreth, and as to him avoideth the Leaſe, and afterwards the Son is born, the Leſſee re-entreth, the Son at his full age accepteth the Rent, the ſame doth aſſirm the Leaſe, for the Leaſe was never abſolutely void, but voidable, and by matter ex poſt facto, was defeated for a time. And although filius in utero Matris eſt pars viſcerum Matris; Yet the Law in many Caſes hath conſideration of him in reſpect of apparent expectation of his birth. See the Opinion of Saunders and Brown in Stowell's Caſe. *Plow. 6. What Statutes ſhall bind Enfants; What not: And where they ſhall be included within the words, where not: Where within the Equity of them; where not.

1. AN Enfant is bounden by every Statute Law if he be not expreſly excepted; as the Statutes of Forjudger, Ceſſavit, Fines with Proclamations. Mich. 2. Ma. Dyer, 104.

2. Tenant in tail, remainder in Fee to a ſtranger, Tenant in Tail levyes a Fine with Proclamations; he in the Remainder dyes, his Heir within age, & afterwards Tenant in tail dyeth without iſſue, ſo as the title to have a Formedon in the Remainder accrues to the Enfant, who ſuffers five years to paſs after his title accrued, by bringing his Writ, yet he may bring his Action after the five years, becauſe the Statute of 4 H. 7. of Fines, ſaves his claim till his full age, and then he ſhall have five years. Mich. 4. Ma. Dyer, 133.

3. Statutes which give corporal puniſhment, ſhall not extend to Enfants: but contrary of other Statutes. See 36 E. 3. If an Enfant be Keeper of a Priſon, and ſuffer an eſcape, he ſhall be ſubject of the eſcape. See Doctor and Student. acc.

4. If an Enfant be found a Diſſeiſor, yet it was holden, his Impriſonment ſhould be remitted. But ſee 30 Aſſ. 18. Where an Enfant brought an Attaint, and the firſt Verdict was affirmed, and the Enfant was awarded to Priſon. Ex quo Nota, That an Enfant was within a Statute which gave corporal puniſhment. See 43 E. 3. fitz. tit. Impriſonment, 16, 17.

5. The Statute of Non-claim ſhall not bind an Enfant, 2. Aſſ. 6. But if part of the year be in the time of his Auncеſtor, now if the Heir within age, doth not enter during that year, he ſhould be barred, by the Opinion of the Lord Dyer, 370, 371. in Stowell's Caſe; but Quære of it.

6. If an Enfant vouch a Record, and fail of it at the day, yet he is not within the Statute of Weſt. chap. 21. See Hob. 95. 23. Aſſ. 1. 5 H. 7. 11. acc.

7. The Statute of Weſt. 2. chap. 11. That if Bayliffs, or Receivers be found in Arrerages upon their account, that the Auditors may ſend them to Priſon to the next Goal. It is the Opinion of Saunders, Plow. Com. 364. That an Enfant is out of that Statute, becauſe the Statute gives Impriſonment.

8. If an Enfant be convicted of raviſhment of a Ward, he ſhall not be impriſoned for the Kings Fine, yet the Statute of Merton is general, Quicunque Laicus, &c. See Plow. Com. ibid. by Welſh and Saunders.

9. If a Woman Enfant conſent to a raviſhment, yet the next of bloud ſhall not enter; and yet the Statute of 6 R. 2. is general; That incontinently, thoſe that are next of bloud to enter. But that is to be intended, If they conſent before the age of 12 years, and not after the age of 12 years.

10. An Enfant is within the Statute of Waſte, for Waſte done by himſelf, but not for Waſte done by a ſtranger. See Cook 8. Part, 44.

Entendment.

1. Where a Writ, Plaint, Count, Barr, Verdict, and Endictment, ſhall be good by Intendment, Where not.

1. SIR Adam de Clydrow brought a Precipe quod reddat againſt J. de Clydrow, and the Writ was, quod juſte &c. reddat Manerium de Wicombe, et duas Carucatas terræ cum pertinentiis in Clybrow: It was taken in that Caſe, That by Intendment the Town of Clybrow did not relate to the Manner; for a Manner may be demanded without mentioning that it lyeth in any Town; but the words cum pertinentiis in the Writ, although it cometh after the Town, ſhall relate to the Manner. See Cook 8. Part, 119. in Dr. Bonham's Caſe.

2. In an Aſſize brought by the Earl of Rutland againſt the Earl of Shrewsbury, complaining that he diſſeiſed him of the Office of Keeper of the Park called Clipſon Park: The Caſe was, That the King by his Letters Patents granted the Office Parci ſui vocat. Clipſon Park, to A. for life, and by the ſame Letters Patents granted the Herbage and Pawnage of the ſaid Park to A. for life: And afterwards the King by other Letters Patents, reciting the Eſtate of A. granted to B. Offic. prædict. Cuſtodiæ Parci prædict. vocat. Clipſon Park for his life quam cito per mortem, ſurſum reddit. forisfact. ſeu aliter alio modo vacaverit, adeo plene & integrè prout prædict. A. habuit ſive gavisus fuit: In this Caſe Exception was taken to the Plaint, for as much as in alledging the Grant to the ſaid A. the Plaint is, That the King did grant the Office Parci ſui vocat. Clipſon Park (without ſaying Prædict.) and therefore it ſhall be intended another Park: But it was Reſolved, That it was the ſame Park, for the Plaintiff doth begin his Plaint pro titulo liberi tenementi de Officio prædict. Alſo he ſheweth, That the King was ſeiſed de Parco prædict. and ſo ſeiſed, granted Offic. Parci ſui de Clipſon: which ought to be intended the ſame Park whereof the Seiſin was alledged at the time of the Grant, and the rather in reſpect of the word [ſui], and in all other parts of the Plaint [prædict.] is added; wherefore the Exception was diſallowed by the Court. M. 6 Jac. in C. B. The Earl of Rutland's Caſe, Cook 8. Part, 56, 57.

3. In an Indictment of Murder, Error was alledged, becauſe in the Indictment it was alledged, That the Indictment was taken before W. S. Coronator. Domina Regina infra libertat. dicta Domina Regina Villa ſua de Coſſam prædict. per viſum Corporis, and it was not alledged to what places the Liberty did extend, nor what part, or any part, of the Town of Coſſam was within the Liberty, ſo as it doth not appear that the Coroner had Juriſdiction; and it was ſaid, That Indictments which do concern Life, and which are the King's Counts, ought to have a plain and preciſe certainty, to which the party might anſwer, and ſhould not be taken by Argument. But it was Reſolved by the Court, that the Indictment was good enough: For if an Indictment be to a certain intention in generall, the ſame were good enough. And in this Caſe, The Indictment is certain enough to a generall Intendment, becauſe Coſſam is within the Liberty of Coſſam; And that the Town it ſelf ſhall be intended to be out of the Liberty of the Town is a ſtrained Conſtruction which the Law will never allow of. Cook 5. Part, 120. Long's Caſe.

4. In Treſpaſs, The Jury found a ſpecial Verdict to this effect: A. ſeiſed of Land in Fee, holden of T. L. as of his Manner of F. by Fealty, Rent, and rendring the beſt Beaſt after the death of every Tenant in Fee ſimple; By Deed, in conſideration of Fatherly Love to his Son and Heir apparant, and in conſideration of a Marriage betwixt his Son and B. and for the advancement of his Son, enfeoffeed his Son and Heir apparant of the ſaid Land; and afterwards the Son, to the intent that B. ſhould not be endowed of the ſaid Lands during the life-time of the Father, re-demiſed the ſaid Land to the Father for forty years, if he ſhould ſo long live; afterwards the Marriage took effect, the Son did Suit at the Lord's Court; and after the Feoffment the Father paid the Rent to the Lord, and after the Father dyed, and the Lord took a Beaſt for a Herriot poſt mortem of the Father; and the Jury found the Statute of 13 Eliz. of fraudulent Conveyances. In this Caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. That becauſe no Fraud is found by the Jurors, that the Court ſhall not adjudge the ſaid Feoffment to be fraudulent; and although the Jurors have found Circumſtances to incite the Jurors to find fraud, yet the ſame is but evidence to the Jurors, and not any matter upon which the Court may adjudge the ſame fraud. 2. The Jurors have not found that the ſaid Feoffment was made to defraud the Lord of his Herriot, and ſo they have not found the ſame within the Statute of 13 Eliz. 3. The Feoffment, being found to be made in conſideration of Marriage, and to that particular intent concerning the Dower of the Wife of the Son ſhall not by Conſtruction of Law extend to any other intent, as in the Caſe 10 Eliz. in the Court of Wards adjudged: Tenant in Capite, and his Heir within Age, and indebted to many, enfeoffed divers upon condition, That when he or his Heirs ſhould pay unto the Feoffees 30 l. that then they ſhould make ſuch Feoffments, to ſuch uſes as he or his Heirs ſhould limit, or otherwiſe the Feoffment ſhould be void; And it is found by Mandamus, Quod nulla alia cauſa, intentio, aut colluſio, ad defraudendum Regem de Cuſtodia Hered. terrarum; and although that Feoffment was found to be by Fraud and Covin which is illegall, yet becauſe the Fraud was to a particular intent, ſcil. to defraud Creditors; It was Reſolved it ſhould not be conſtrued to extend to another intent, ſcil. to defraud the King of his Ward. Trin. 10 Jac. in the Common Bench, Toyer and Littleton's Caſe vouch in Cook 10 Part, 54. the Chancellor and Maſter's of the Univerſity of Oxford's Caſe.

5. In Replevin, the Caſe was, Awan ſeiſed of Bl. Acre in Fee, and of Wh. Acre for years, by Deed granted a Rent out of both, with Clauſe of diſtreſſe in both: The Rent was behind, and he diſtreyned and avowed in White Acre. It was reſolved in this Caſe, amongſt other things, That when a man grants a Rent out of Lands in Fee, and a Term for years to have for life, the Free-hold of the Rent ſhall iſſue out of the Acre in Fee, and not out of the Term for years, becauſe it is but a Chattell, and the Agreement of the parties cannot charge ſuch a thing with a Rent which is not chargeable in the Law: Alſo in this Caſe, It was adjudged, That the Avowry was inſufficient, 1. Becauſe the Avowant did not make mention of any Land, but of the Land in which he had but a Term for years, whereas he ought to have derived his Rent out of the Land in Fee, and every Avowry which is in the Nature of a Count, ought to have ſufficient matter upon which he may have Judgment to have a Retorn: But if it wanteth only matter of Form, there the Plea of the other party may make it good, but not when it wanteth matter of Subſtance. 2. Becauſe the Avowant pleads a Grant out of a Term for years onely, and concludes virtute cujus he was ſeiſed in Dominico ſuo ut de libero tenemento pro termino vitæ, which is repugnant to have a Free-hold out of a Term. Cook 7. Part, 23, 24. Butt's Caſe.

6. In Aſſumpſit, The Defendant promiſed, That if the Plaintiff ad inſtantiam Defendentis would marry the Defendant's Daughter, he would pay him 20 l. and give him twenty French Crowns towards their Wedding Dinner; and the Plaintiff alledgeth, he married the Defendant's Daughter, and required him to pay him the 20 l. which he had not payed. Upon Non Aſſumpſit, it being found for the Plaintiff, It was moved, The Declaration was not good, for that the Promiſe is but conditional if he ad inſtantiam of the Defendant married his Daughter, and ſo he hath not averred the performance of the Condition: But all the Court conceived upon this Agreement to marry the Daughter ad inſtantiam, and he marrying her, it ſhall be intended to be ad inſtantiam, without averring. Trin. 6 Car. in B.R. Poynter and Poynter's Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 141.

7. Debt upon an Obligation, The Condition was, Whereas the Defendant had taken A. S. a Widdow to Wife, being poſſeſſed of diverſe Goods, if he ſhould permit his Wife to make a Will, and to diſpoſe in Legacies ſo much as ſhe would, not exceeding 50 l. and pay and perform what ſhe promiſed, that then &c. The Defendant pleaded, that ſhe did not make a Will: It was found ſhe made a Will, and diſpoſed of Legacies not exceeding 50 l. & that ſhe was a Feme Covert at the time of making the Will: In this Caſe, it was adjudged for the Plaintiff; for although ſhe being a Feme Covert could not in Law be permitted to make a Will to diſpoſe of any Goods without the Husbands Aſſent, yet it was holden, that is is a Will within the intent of the Condition: for ſuch was the intent of it notwithſtanding the Coverture; and the finding that ſhe was a Feme Covert, is not materiall: Trin. 7 Car. in B.R. Marriot and Kinſman's Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 159.

8. Debt upon Obligation to perform an Award of J. S. and J. D. ſo they made it before the tenth day of October next under their hands and Seals; and if they did not agree, then to ſtand to the Umperage of J. N. ſo he made it in Writing under his Hand and Seal before the twentieth of October following: The Defendant pleaded, J. S. and J. D. did not make an Award before the 10th. of October: The Plaintiff replies, It is true, but J. N. did make the Umperage and Award before the twentieth of October, where, inter alia, the Defendant was to pay to the Plaintiff 30 l. upon ſuch a day, at the Houſe of W. S. in C. and for Non-Payment, &c. It was moved, the Submiſſion was void and incertain; for it is that if they do not agree, and it doth not appear to what they ſhould agree: But the Exception was diſallowed, for the words [if they do not agree] have the intendment if they do not agree to make their Arbitrement under their Hands and Seals, before ſuch a day, for otherwiſe it is quaſi Non-Agreement within the ſaid Condition. 2. It was moved, that the Arbitrement was void, becauſe the Money was appointed to be paid at the Houſe of W. S. a Stranger: But it was Reſolved, The Arbitrement was good; for the Appointment of the payment of the Mony at a Stranger's houſe, (eſpecially in this Caſe, it being a Common-Inn,) cannot be unreaſonable nor an unlawful Act: For by Intendment the Plaintiff ſhall procure ſuch kindneſs, that the Mony may be paid paid there; Whereupon it was adjudged, That the Arbitrement was good prima facie, and Judgment entred for the Plaintiff. M. 7 Car. in B. R. Taverner and Skingle's Case, Cro. 1. Part, 163.

9. In an Ejectione firmæ, It was found by Verdict, That A. was seised in Fee, and had Issue by E. his Wife J. and that by Indenture, in consideration of Love to his said Wife, and J. their Son and Heir apparant, and to settle the Land upon him and his Heirs, he enfeoffed J. S. and J. D. to the use of himself for life, and after to his Wife for life, and after to the use of the said J. and the Heirs Males of his Body, &c. Afterwards A. by Indenture enfeoffed J. S. with Warranty of the same Land, and dyed. The Question was, If this Warranty should discend upon the said J. the Son, and bind him or not? It was objected, That this Warranty should bind the said J. for it is found, That the Indenture calls him Filium unicum et Heredem apparentem, and a plurality of Sons shall not be intended; and in a Special Verdict Intendment sufficeth, especially in this Case, because if he be not Heir, there is no colour to have a Special Verdict: But the better Opinion of the Court was, That although it be found, that A. had Issue by the said E. his Wife the said J. unicum Filium suum, yet it is not found, that he is Heir; and it may be he had other Sons by a former Venter: And the Court will not intend a Warranty by Supposition, but the rather it shall be intended that he was not Heir, because it is a collaterall Warranty, which is not to be favoured in Law. Trin. 8 Car. B. R. Rott. 678. Gymlet and Sand's Case, Cro. 1. Part, 284.

10. Error to reverse a Judgment in Waste, In Waste the Plaintiff declared, That R. C. was seised in Fee, and 8 Jac. levyed a Fine of the Land to the use of himself for life, and after to the use of E. his Wife for her life, and after to the use of himself and the Heirs Males of his Body, and after to the use of J. C. the Plaintiff, and the Heirs Males of his Body, and after to the use of the right Heirs of the said R. C. And that after H. 8. Jac. the said R. C. levyed another Fine of the same Land to the use of himself for life, and after to the use of J. C. and the Heirs of his Body, and after to the use of the right Heirs of the said R. C: R. C. dyed, and the Wife entred, and was seised for life, the Reversion to the Plaintiff, and that afterwards she did waste ad exheredit ationem of the Plaintiff: The Defendant pleaded Nul Waste fait, which was found against her. Error was brought, the Error assigned was, That the Plaintiff hath not sufficiently entitled himself to the Reversion, to punish the Waste, because he doth not alledge that R. C. was dead without Issue Male, and if he be not dead without Issue Male, the Plaintiff cannot punish the Waste: But to that it was answered, and such was the Opinion of the Court, That forasmuch as it is said, That she entred and was seised for life, the Remainder to the Plaintiff, it is intended that R. C. is dead without Issue, and he alledgeth it is to be done to his Disenheresin, and that cannot be if the other had any Issue alive, and the Verdict hath found it to be to his Disenheresin, by which it is intended, that R. C. dyed without Issue: Wherefore it was adjudged, That the Judgment should be affirmed. Hill. 10 Car. in B. R. Sir John Stone-house and Sir John Corbet's Case, Cro. 1. Part, 291.

11. In an Assumpsit by an Attorney, Upon a Promise to pay him such Fees as should be due to him as his Attorney, in prosecuting a suit for him in C. B. and such Money as he should lay out in solliciting a suit for him in the Chancery: Upon Non Assumpsit pleaded, it being found for the Plaintiff, Error was brought, and assigned for Error, that the Plaintiff did not shew particularly what Sums of Mony he had layed out for him, nor to whom he had paid it: And the Assumpsit being, that he should pay him his Fees so long as he should continue his Attorney, it appears not that he continued to be his Attorney in the suit, wherein he supposeth he prosecuted for him. But both the Errors were disallowed by the Court; for 1. it is not necessary particularly to set down the Sums of Money laid out. And 2. It shall be intended that he continued to be Attorney for him, if it appears that he prosecuted for him. Hill. 1653. in B. R. Rott, 603. Banks and Prat's Case, Styles, 420, 421, 428.

12. In Action upon the Case for scandalous words, viz. for calling the Plaintiff Traitor, a Verdict was found at the Barr for the Plaintiff, and the Jury gave 1500 l. Damages: And upon a supposition that the Damages were excessive, and that the Jury did favour the Plaintiff, the Defendant moved for a new Triall: It was objected, that after a Verdict, Partiality of the Jury ought not to be objected or questioned, and therefore no new Tryall, Glyn Chief Justice. It is in the discretion of the Court to grant a new Tryall, but this must be a judicial and not an arbitrary discretion; And the Court may take Notice of the Miscarriages of Juries, and to grant new Tryall upon them; for a Jury may sometime by indirect dealing be moved to side with one Party, and not to be indifferent betwixt them; but it cannot be so intended of the Court. A new Tryal was awarded. M. 1655. in B. R. Wood and Gunston's Case, Styles, 465.

13. A. seised of a House in London, acknowledged a Statute to the Chamberlain of London for Orphanage Money, according to the Custom; and after-afterwards acknowledged another Recognizance before the Recorder and Mayor to B: B. ſued Execution upon his Recognizance, and had a Liberate; but it was not Returned, and the Sheriff upon that delivered the Houſe in Execution to B. The Succeſſor of the Chamberlain ſued Execution upon his Recognizance, by Elegit to the Serjeant at Mace: Amongſt other matters in this Caſe, it was objected, That here was no Recognizance in the Nature of a Statute found; for the Jurors have found, That A. venitbat coram Recordatore Civitatis London. et T. O. Majore Stapulæ, et recognovit R. debere B. 200 l. and doth not ſay ſecundum formam Statuti &c. nec per ſcriptum ſuum Obligatorium. Whereas the Statute of 33 H. 8. provideth, That it ſhall be by Bill Obligatory ſealed with 3. Seals: But it doth not appear by the Verdict, that it was according to the Statute, and although that Verdicts, being the words of Lay-men, ſhall be taken according to their meaning, and there needs not ſo preciſe Form in them as in pleading; yet the Subſtance of the matter ought to appear either by expreſs words, or by words equipollent, ſo as there ought to be a convenient certainty; the which if it be falſe, the party for ſuch falſity may have an Attaint. But it was Reſolved, That the Verdict was good: for in as much as they have found a Recognizance before the Mayor and Recorder, &c. It ſhall be in a Verdict of Lay-men intended according to the Statute; for otherwiſe they cannot take any Record: and alſo the ſequel of the Verdict doth imply, That there was a Recognizance in the Nature of a Statute, otherwiſe no Execution could be ſued thereupon. 2. Where Grants of the King, and other Perſons ſhall enure to two Entendments; and where they have two Entendments, which of them ſhall be taken, and how they ſhall be conſtrued.

1. NOte, It is taken for a Rule in Law, That if the King's Letters Patents may be taken to two Entents, then it ſhall be taken moſt beneficially for the King. But if it may be taken, to one Entent good, and to another Entent void; Then it ſhall be taken to that intent which makes the Grant good, and not to that intent which makes the Grant void, as 2 R. 3. 5. The King granted to the Abbot of Weſtminſter to be diſcharged of the Collection of Tenths, granted per Clerum Angliæ; It ſhall be taken in the ſence, that the Grant ſhall be good, ſcil. of Tenths granted by the Clergy generall, for they never joyn in a Convocation, That is another Rule there taken, That the King's Grant ex certa ſcientia et mero motu ſhall be taken ſtrongeſt againſt the King; but it was ſaid, That muſt be entended when the King is not deceived in his Grant: for if the King be deceived in his Grant, although that the Patent be ex certa ſcientia et mero motu, yet the Grant is void, and the King's Grant ſhall be conſtrued ſecundum intentionem Regis, & non in deceptionem Regis. See the Caſe 15 Eliz. of the Manner of Torrington there vouched, The King, ſeiſed of the Manner of Torrington, and of a Market in the ſaid Manner every Week, and of a Fair in Vigilia, Feſto, et Craſtino St. Michael. by Letters Patents encorporated the Town of Torrington, and granted to them ex ſpeciali gratiâ & mero motu, quod ipſi & Succeſſores ſui poſſint habere & tenere unum Mercatum quolibet die Sabbat. et duas Nundinas ibid. annuatim, viz. unam in Vigilia, Feſto, et Craſtino St. Michael. et aliam in Feſto St. Georgii Martyr. niſi Mercatum et Nundinæ illæ eſſent ad nocumentum vicinorum Mercatorum vel vicin. Nund. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Patent was void, becauſe the King was not appriſed of his own Grant; for his intent was to grant and create one Fair in Vigilia, Feſto, et Craſtino Michael. niſi ſit ad nocumentum: And there it was holden, That the Patent being ex ſpeciali gratiâ, certa ſcientia, et mero motu, did not paſs the ancient Fair, for that ſhould be againſt the intent and purpoſe of the King, which was to create a new Fair, and not to grant the Fair in eſſe. See Cook 1. Part, 46. & 52. in the Caſe of Alton-woods.

2. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, covenanted with his Nephew to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf for life, and afterwards to the uſe of his ſaid Nephew in Tail; Proviſo, if the ſaid A. by himſelf, or by any other Perſon, during his naturall life, tender a Gold-Ring, to the intent to make the ſaid uſes void, that then the uſes ſhould be void, 26 Eliz. A. was attainted of Treaſon, and outlawed upon it, The King by Letters Patents lett the Lands to C. and D. for 40 years; the attainder was confirmed by Parliament, and by an Act it was enacted, That the ſaid Act ſhould not extend to make any Leaſe, made by the King after the Treaſon done, void: The King by his Letters Patents reciting the Proviſo, and that the benefit of it was given to him by Act of Parliament, did authorize E. to deliver the Gold Ring to B. to the Entent to make void the ſaid uſes; E. made the tender, and he refuſed it, and the life of A. was averred. It was amongſt other things objected in this Caſe, That although the King had the condition, and by that defeated the Eſtate for life; yet he ſhould not avoid his own Leaſe; As if the Mortgagee makes a Leaſe for years, and the Mortgagor confirms it, and afterwards words the Condition is performed, the Leaſe ſhall not be avoided. But it was Reſolved, That the Demiſe of the King ſhould not enure to two entents, ſcil. to Demiſe the Land, and a ſuſpenſion of the Condition, or unto a Demiſe in reſpect of the preſent eſtate for life, and to a Confirmation in reſpect of the Condition, as it ſhall in the Caſe of a common perſon; For the Kings Grant ſhall be taken according to his entent, and ſhall not be taken by Implication; And when the King hath two Rights, he cannot exclude himſelf of both without ſpecial words. And if the Demiſe ſhould amount to a Confirmation, or a ſuſpenſion of the Condition, it ſhould be to the Kings prejudice, to which intent his Pattents ſhall not be taken. Cook 7. Part, 14. Engleſields Caſe.

3. King E. 2. by Letters Pattents, Granted the Caſtle and Mannor of Shipton to Robert de Cliſford, in tail. Afterwards King Henry the ſixth, Granted to Tho. Lord Clifford, who was Heir of the body of the ſaid Robert de Clifford, reverſionem Caſtri, et Maneriі prædict. nec non Caſtrum et Manerium prædict. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Grant to Robert de Clifford was void, and yet the ſaid Caſtle and Mannor did paſs by the ſaid late Grant made to Tho. Lord Clifford in Fee in poſſeſſion; for the entention of King Henry the 6th was, That be it in Poſſeſſion or Reverſion, it ſhould paſs; and the words agree with his entent: for firſt he grants the Reverſion, if the firſt eſtate was good; and if it were not good, he Grants the ſaid Caſtle and Mannor in Poſſeſſion, and ſo the words in the Letters Pattents agree with his entention, and both with the Law: And the Grant ſhall not be any Confirmation which preſuppoſeth that the King had but a Title or a Right not Grantable; but both Eſtates, as well in Poſſeſſion as Reverſion, are Grantable: And when the Kings Grant may be taken by two entents, and both entents are in effect good, it ſhall be taken to ſuch an entent as ſhall be moſt benficial for the King; but if it may be taken to one intent good, and to another intent void, it ſhall be taken to that intent which ſhall make the Kings Grant good. Cook 8. Part, 167. the Earl of Cumberlands Caſe.

See to this purpoſe, Cook 11. Part, 21. in Pride and Nappers Caſe.

Cook 6. Part, Sir John Molins Caſe.

4. The King Granted the Manner of B. to G. Chandois in tail, and then the King reciting that he had ſurrendred his ſaid Pattent, by force whereof he was ſeiſed in his Demeſne as of Fee, gave the Mannor to him and his Wife. It was holden in that Caſe, That it was a good Grant in Law to paſs the Reverſion in Fee only. 1. Becauſe that leſs paſſed then the King meant. 2. Becauſe it was not made part of the conſideration of the Grant, and therefore if the Grant had bin in conſideration, that by the ſurrender of the Pattent the King had bin ſeiſed in Fee in poſſeſſion, he had granted it again, &c. it would have bin void. Cook 6. Part, 55. the Lord Chandois's Caſe.

3. Where the Entention of the parties ſhall direct aſſurances and uſes, and the Entent of the parties more regarded then the words of a Deed.

1. NOte, It is ſaid in Cook 1. Part, 100. in Shelley's Caſe. That by the Common-Law, the Intention of the parties was the direction of Uſes. A man being Ceſtuy que uſe, and having one ſole daughter, declared his Intent and meaning, that after his deceaſe, his Daughter ſhould have his Land; and a Queſtion thereupon grew in Chancery, Whether he might revoke this limitation of Uſe made to his Daughter. In that Caſe, it was holden for Law, That if Ceſtuy que uſe hath Iſſue a Daughter, and being ſick, declareth his intent to his Feoffee, That his daughter ſhall have his Land after his deceaſe; and after he recovereth his health, and hath Iſſue a Son. It was ſaid, In Equity the Son ſhould have the ſubpena, for that he was his Heir. 31 H. 6. Tit. Subpena. 23. Statham, Conſcience 1.

2. If a man be ſeiſed of Lands on the part of the Mother, and maketh a Feoffment in Fee, reſerving Rent to him and his Heirs. In this Caſe, by the Rule of Law, the Rent ſhall go to the Heir on the part of the Father. But if a man be ſeiſed of Lands on the part of his Mother, and maketh a Feoffment in Fee hereof to the uſe of him and his Heirs; in this Caſe the uſe ſhall not go to the Heir at the Commonlaw; but forasmuch as the land and living moveth from the part of the Mother, therefore the uſe in Equity, which is nothing but a Truſt and Confidence, ſhall go to the Heirs on the part of the Mother. See 5 E. 4. 9. Cook 1. Part, 100. in Shelley's Caſe, &c.

3. A ſeiſed of a Mannor to which an Advowſon was Appendant, by Deed Indented, Bargained, and ſold the ſaid Mannor with the appurtenances to B. and his Heirs: And in the Indenture, there were divers Covenants to ſuffer a Recovery, and levy a Fine to the uſes in the Indenture; Proviſo, That B. ſhould give the Advowſon to A. for his life; and if it happen not void, then one time to his Executor. A. and B. levy a Fine afterwards, with a render of a Rent of 40 l. to A. in tail, the Remainder to B. in Fee; B. in his life doth not grant the Advow-

ſon to A. and dyed, the Church voids. The Son of B. enters into the Mannor: A. enters for the Condition broken. In this Caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. That the Proviſo made a Condition. 2. That the Fine levyed by A. and B. had not extinguiſhed the Condition; for the Fine by the Common-Law, was directed to have ſpecial operation according to the entent of the parties by the general Covenant, and that was, That the Eſtate ſhould be Conditional, and that the Condition ſhould not be touched by the Fine. But it was holden, That the ſame did extinct all Rights and Titles, but only the Condition, Cook 2. Part, 75, 76, 77. the Lord Cromwell's Caſe.

4. Husband and Wife ſeiſed of a Mannor, and to the Heirs of the body of the Husband. The Husband by Indenture Bargained and ſold the Land to one in Fee, who ſuffered a Recovery in which the Husband was only vouched, which Recovery was to the uſe of the Husband for life, and after to the uſe of the Wife for life, and for ſix Monethes after, and afterwards to the uſe of A. in tail, and after to the uſe of the Wife in Fee. Provided, that it ſhould be lawful for the Husband and Wife, during their Joynt-lives, by any Deed or writing ſealed and publiſhed in the preſence of three witneſſes, to alter or revoke any of the ſaid Uſes or Eſtates, and that at all times from and after the ſaid Husband and Wife ſhall declare their mind to alter, &c. then, and from thenceforth ſuch of the ſaid Eſtates and Uſes ſhould ceaſe and be void; and that then, and from thenceforth, the ſaid Recovery ſhould be, to the uſe of ſuch perſons, and for thoſe eſtates, as by ſuch Deed or writing ſhould be declared, and not to any other perſons or Uſes: Afterwards Husband and Wife by writing, ſealed and publiſhed pro ut, reciting their power; Declare that the ſaid Recovery ſhould be to the uſe of the Husband for life, and after to the uſe of the Wife for life, and ſix Moneths after, and after to the uſe of B. in Fee, and after the Husband and Wife dye. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, 1. That the Antient Uſes were well revoked, and the new Uſes well declared. 2. That although no uſe did ceaſe till the Writing was ſealed and publiſhed, and after the ſealing and publiſhing of it, nothing could be added unto it; yet it well ſtood with the words, and the entent of the parties, that the new Declaration might be in the ſame Deed. And this word [ſuch] in the Proviſo moſt properly extends to the ſame writing in which the Revocation is then to another, for (by ſuch writing) it is as much as to ſay, per idem, vel hujuſmodi ſcriptum: And although that the clauſes of creation of the new uſes, and the diſtruction of the Antient uſes are all in one Deed, yet the Law ſhall conſtrue the clauſe of diſtruction to precede the clauſe of limitation of the new uſes, Cook 6. Part, 33, 34. Fitzwilliams Caſe.

5. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, demiſed the ſame to Husband and Wife, and a ſtranger, Habendum to the Husband and Wife for their lives, the Remainder to the ſtranger for his life, rendring during their lives yearly 40 l. rent, at the Feaſts of St. Mich. and our Lady: the Husband dyed. Afterwards A. by Indenture, in conſideration of 10 l. paid him, did Demiſe, Grant, and to Farm let, the ſaid Lands to J. S. Habendum, from the day of the date of the Indenture, for 99 years, yielding and paying during the ſaid Term to the ſaid J. S. the ancient Rent, at our Lady and Mich. The Wife did not Attorn. It was adjudged in this Caſe, that the words Demiſe and Grant, for conſideration of mony, do amount to a Bargain and Sale for the ſaid years, and ſhall be preſently executed by the Statute of 27 H. 8. and that there needs not any enrolment, becauſe that but a Term for years paſſeth, and there needed no Attornment, becauſe it was preſently executed by the Statute, and the intent of the Grantor was, that it ſhould paſs preſently, becauſe the Rent was payable preſently, and therefore it did not depend upon any Attornment ſubſequent. Cook 8. Part, 94. Edward Foxes Caſe.

6. In Aſſiſe, the Defendant pleaded, That A. was ſeiſed in Fee, and ſuffered a Recovery to the uſe of himſelf for life, without impeachment of Waſte, and after to the uſe of his eldeſt Son in tail, with divers Remainders over: The Plaintiff confeſſed the Recovery, but ſaid, That the Recovery was to the uſe of him and his Heirs without that, that the Recovery was to the uſes expreſſed in the Bar. It was found by Verdict, That after the Recovery, by Deed Indented between A. and the Recoverers, it was Covenanted and agreed, That the Recoverers ſhould ſtand ſeiſed to the uſes after expreſſed, and expreſſed the Uſes in the Bar. It was objected in this Caſe, That when a Recovery is ſuffered without conſideration, that the Law ſhall adjudg the ſame to be to the uſe of him who ſuffered the Recovery, and his Heirs; which uſe cannot be deveſted by any Declaration ſubſequent; and in ſuch Caſe, an Indenture ſubſequent ſhould not bind the Heir. 2. That this agreement was but an incompleat communication. 3. That the Indenture was but declaratory and directory of the Uſes, and was not of force to raiſe any Uſe. 4. If Indentures ſubſequent ſhould be ſufficient to declare Uſes of a precedent Recovery, eſtates and Intereſts veſted in the mean time, ſhould be defeated. But it was Reſolved by the Court, That the Indentures ſubſequent, were ſufficient to direct and declare the Uſes of the Recovery precedent againſt A. and his Heirs, for ſo was the full intent of the parties, as appears by the Indenture it ſelf; againſt which which aſſumption and declaration, A. or his Heirs ſhould not be admitted to ſay, that no ſuch Uſes were declared at the time of the Recovery. Alſo Reſolved, here was a certain, compleat, and perfect Agreement and Declaration of Uſes, and it was not an imperfect communication or reference to any thing after to be put in writing. And Reſolved, That the Declaration ſubſequent was to ſtand good, becauſe it appeareth, there was never any other Declaration of any other Uſe. Cook 9. Part, 1, 2. Dewmans Caſe.

Entre, and Entre Congeable.

1. TEnant for life, the Remainder for life, the Remainder in tail, the Remainder in Fee to the Tenant for life. Tenant for life, and he in the Remainder for life, make a Feoffment by Deed. It was the Opinion of the Court, That he in the Remainder in tail might enter; for it is a forfeiture of both their eſtates, for he in the Remainder for life, joyning is particeps Criminis; but if the Tenant for life alone had made the Feoffment, he in the Remainder for life could not enter, becauſe he had not an Eſtate of Inheritance. Mich. 17 Eliz. Dyer, 339. See Cook 1. Part, 76. in Brydens Caſe. acc.

2. A Copyholder did ſurrender to the uſe of his Will, and hereby deviſed the Land to his Wife for life, the Remainder to his Son in tail, and dyed, the Wife entred and dyed, a ſtranger intruded and made three ſeveral Feoffments to three ſeveral perſons; he in the Remainder entred upon one of the Feoffees in the name of all the Lands deviſed, and made a Leaſe of them for years. It was adjudged, That it was a good entry into the whole, and a good Leaſe of the whole Land. Mich. 28 Eliz. in B. R. Troubleſields Caſe. Leon. 36.

3. Tenant for life of Land, made a Leaſe of part thereof at Will, and being poſſeſſed of the reſidue, he levyed a Fine of the whole Land, the Leſſor entred into the Land, which was let at Will, in the name of the whole. It was holden by the Court, That his entre was good for the whole: But it was ſaid, That if a Diſſeiſor leaſeth for years part of the Lands whereof the Diſſeiſin was, and the Diſſeiſee entreth into the Land which continueth in the poſſeſſion of the Diſſeiſor, the ſame entry ſhall not extend to the Land Leaſed, for in the one Caſe the Leſſee is in by Title, in the other Caſe not. Paſc. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Potter and Stedall's Caſe. Leon. 51.

4. A Diſſeiſor of Lands in three ſeveral Counties, A. B. and C. levyeth a Fine of that in A. the Diſſeiſee within the five years, made a Letter of Attorney to J. S. to enter into all the three; the Attorney entred into B. and C. in the name of the whole. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was not an entry into A. becauſe the Conuſee had a diſtinct Freehold by Title, and for every Freehold a ſeveral entre ought to be made. Trin. 16 Eliz. Dyer, 337.

5. Note, If three men Diſſeiſe me of three Acres of Lands in one County, there entre into one Acre in the name of all, doth reduce but the Acre in which I enter. And ſo if a man diſſeiſeth me of three Acres, and leaſeth them ſeveral to three men, my entre into the one Acre in the name of all, doth reduce but that Acre: But if he had let the three Acres to three ſeverally for years, there the entre upon the Leſſee, will reveſt the whole in the Diſſeiſee, becauſe there an Aſſiſe lyeth againſt the Diſſeiſor, becauſe he is ſole Tenant of the Freehold: And alwayes the entre of a man to recontinue his Inheritance or Freehold, ought to enſue his Action for the Recovery of it. Mich. 15 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 1458. the Earl of Arrundells Caſe vouch. in Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 252.

6. Note, there is a difference betwixt ſeveral Rights of Entry, and ſeveral Titles of Entre for Conditions broken. If a man Diſſeiſe one of two Acres, in two ſeveral Counties, at two ſeveral times, here entre into one in the name of both is good. But if a man enfeoffeth one of two ſeveral Acres in ſeveral Counties upon ſeveral Conditions, and both Conditions are broken, there the entry into one Acre in the name of all is not ſufficient, becauſe he there hath but a Title, and ſeveral entries ought to be made in reſpect of the ſeveral Conditions. But there entre into one part of the Land ſubject to the Condition in one County is good, although the parcells are ſeveral, and in ſeveral Towns in the ſaid County. See 36 H. 6. 27. 7. Aſſ. 18. 16 Eliz. Dyer, 337. acc.

7. If two Joynt-Tenants or Coparceners joyn in a real Action where their entry is not lawful, and the one is ſummoned and ſevered, and the other purſueth and recovereth the moyety, the other Joynt-Tenant or Coparcener ſhall enter and take the profits with her, becauſe their remedy was one and the ſame. But where two Coparceners be, and they are diſſeiſed, and a diſcent is caſt, and they have Iſſue, and dye; if the Iſſue of the one recover her moyety, the other ſhall not enter with her, becauſe their remedies were ſeveral; and yet when both have recovered, they are Coparceners again. So if two Joynt-Tenants, one of full age, and the other within age, are diſſeiſed, and the Diſſeiſor dyeth ſeiſed, and his Iſſue entreth, the one Joynt-Tenant being within age, and after he commeth of full age, the Heir of the Deviſor lets the Lands to the ſame Joynt-tenants for their lives. This is a remitter of the moyety to him within age, becauſe his entry was congeable, but the other Joynt-Tenant hath but an Eſtate for life in the other Moyety, becauſe his entry was taken away. See 31 H. 6. Entre Congeable. 54. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 364. acc.

8. A. ſeiſed of Land, made his Will, and Deviſed the ſame to B. his younger Son when he ſhould accompliſh the age of 24 years, upon Condition that he ſhould pay 20 l. to the Daughter of the Deviſor. And if he dye before the age of 24 years, then C. his eldeſt Son ſhould have the Land, upon Condition that he pay to the ſaid Daughter 20 l. and if both his Sons failed of payment of the ſaid 20 l. to his Daughter, the Land to remain to his Daughter; the Deviſor dyed, the younger ſon B. entred after his age of 24 years, and did not pay the 20 l. to the Daughter; C. the eldeſt Son did enter upon him. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the entry of C. for the Condition broken, was not Congeable; and that this was a Limitation, and not a Condition, for the intent of the Deviſor appears, That for default of payment the Daughter ſhould have the Land, and therefore the Son ſhall not enter; and if the Heir ſhould enter for the Condition broken, he ſhould utterly deſtroy the intent of the Deviſor. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C. B. Wiſeman and Baldwins Caſe. Goldesbr. 153.

9. The Caſe was, One Deviſed Lands for life, the Remainder to J. S. and his Heirs, paying 10 l. out of the Iſſues and profits of the Lands: He in the Remainder dyed, his Heir within age living Tenant for life. It was found by Office, That the Land was holden of the King in Capite; the King ſeiſed the Land, and during the minority, the Heir of the Deviſor entred. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That his Entry was not Congeable, for the ſum being appointed to be paid out of the profits of the Land, it is to be intended when he ſhall receive them; but the King having taken the profits, he ſhall not pay them. Hill. 9 Jac. in B. R. Slade and Thompſons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 374.

10. A. Covenanted with B. as well in conſideration of mony paid, as in conſideration of a Marriage betwixt L. his Son, and E. the Daughter of B. to convey Lands to the uſe of the ſaid L. and E. and the Heirs of the body of the ſaid E. and to his right Heirs, the Marriage took effect, A. dyed before the aſſurance; L. makes the aſſurance in performance of his Fathers Covenant. Afterwards L. enfeoffed W. to whom L. and E. his Wife levyed a Fine: A. entred as for a forfeiture by the Statute of 11 H. 7. And if his entry was Congeable, was the Queſtion. In this Caſe amongſt other points, it was Reſolved, That it was not any forfeiture, either within the words, or intent of the Statute; not within the words, for the words be, If any Woman being ſole, or with any after taken Husband, and here the was not ſole, and this Husband who conveyed it, is he who was married to the Wife before the Conveyance. 2. It is out of the intent of the Statute, becauſe the Husband who made the aſſurance, joyned with the Wife in the Alienation. And the Statute did intend to provide, That diſinheſin ſhall not be to the Heirs of the Husband contrary to his intent, but here it being with his intent, it well ſtands, and is not any Alienation againſt the purview of the Statute. It was adjudged for the Defendant, Paſc. 19 Jac. in B. R. Kirkham and Thomſons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 474.

11. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, leaſed the ſame to B. C. and D. Habendum to them for their lives and for the life of the ſurvivor of them. Provided, and it was agreed between the parties, That the ſaid C. and D. ſhould not take any benefit of the Land during the life of B. And further that D. ſhould not take any benefit during the life of C. B. dyed, C. entred; and afterwards D. entred, and made the Leaſe to the Plaintiff, upon whom D. the Defendant entred; and if his entry was lawful, was the Queſtion. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the entry of D. was lawful. For it was ſaid, That the Office of the Habendum is to limit and explain the eſtate conteyned in the Premiſes, and here the Habendum hath done its Office, and made it a Joynt-eſtate, and the Clauſe afterwards comes too late, and is repugnant, and utterly void as to ſuch purpoſe. And it was ſaid by Wray Chief Juſtice, that in this Caſe, It is not in this Caſe, That any perſon ſhall take the Remainder, but that any of them ſhall not take the profits during the life of the other. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Stovel and Cavels Caſe. Leon. 317.

12. An Enfant bargained and ſold his Land, and afterwards was vouched to Warranty, and he came in upon the Voucher, and thereupon a common Recovery was had againſt him. The Queſtion was, Whether it was ſuch a Recovery, that the Enfant could not avoid it by Entry. It was the Opinion of the Court, That an Enfant might avoid a matter in pais by entry, but not a matter of Record, and here is a proper way by the Law to avoid it, namely, by a Writ of Error, which is alſo a matter of Record, and of as high a nature as the other; and ſo it was adjudged, That by entry, the Enfant could not avoid the Recovery. Hill. 1650. in B. R. Ailet and Watleſſes Caſe. Styles 246.

1. Where and in what Caſe the Seiſin and poſſeſſion of Lands, &c. ſhall be adjudged and veſted in him; Who hath Right without an Entry in Fact; where not: And where the King ſhall be preſently in poſſeſſion by Office, and may enter and ſeize Lands by Office without a Scire facias, or other proceſs; where not.

1. TEnant in tail before the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes diſcontinued the tail, and afterwards he made a Leaſe for years, and dyed: The Iſſue in tail, before any entry made upon the Termor, or receipt of the Rent, levyed a Fine of the Land. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Grantee ſhould not avoid the Leaſe, becauſe the Rent was a recompence to the Iſſue, and his entry was lawful, and the leaſe was not void, but voidable at his Election. Mich. 33 H. 8. Dyer, 51.

2. In Treſpaſs, the Caſe was; A man deviſed his Land to his Wife for life upon Condition that ſhe ſhould find his eldeſt ſon at School, and ſhould educate him in bonis moribus at her coſt untill his full age of 21 years: And by the ſame Will, he gave the ſaid Lands after the death of his Wife, to his ſecond Son in tail, ſaving the Fee to himſelf, and dyed; the Wife entred, and did not educate, but brake the Condition; the Heir of the Deviſor entred for the Condition broken. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That although the Heir had not made an expreſs entry, yet the ſame was tacitè implyed, and the Condition was performable by the Deviſee. For it was agreed in that Caſe, That if Land be Deviſed for life, the Remainder in Fee. Proviſo, that if the Condition be broken, that his eſtate ſhall ceaſe, and he in the Remainder may immediately enter, there he in the Remainder ſhall take advantage of the Condition, although he be a ſtranger to it, becauſe there the eſtate determines without Re-entry. Hill. 2. Ma. Dyer, 127. Warren and Lees Caſe.

3. Grandfather, Father, and Son; the Grandfather Tenant in tail diſcontinued in Fee, to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after his deceaſe to the uſe of a ſtranger in tail, and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to the right Heirs of the Grandfather; the Grandfather dyed, the Father dyed before the Statute of 27 H. 8. afterwards the ſtranger dyed of an eſtate tail, executed by the Statute, without Iſſue; his Wife with Child with a Son; the ſon, as Heir to the Grandfather, entred; and afterwards the Iſſue was born. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Son was remitted, becauſe by the Statute he was the firſt perſon in whom any remainder in poſſeſſion was veſted. Hill. 1. and 2. Ma. Dyer, 129. Bonvill's Caſe. See C. 1. Part, Shelleys Caſe, acc.

4. Tenant for the life of another, made a Leaſe for years, rendring rent to him, his Executors, and Aſſigns, and dyed. It is a Quære, if the Leſſee for years ſhall be occupant, and the Rent extinct; or that the Freehold ſhall revert to the firſt Leſſee, and th. Term ſhould be in Eſſe. It ſeemed the Court inclined, That the Rent was extinct. Mich. 16 Eliz. Dyer. 329.

5. A Parſon of a Church, of which the Biſhop of L. was Patron and Ordinary, made a Leaſe of his Parſonage for years; the Biſhop only confirmed the Leaſe by a writing under his Seal, without the Dean and Chapter. The Parſon dyed, the Biſhop gave the Benefice to another, who being Incumbent without any entry made upon the Leſſee, made a Leaſe to another, which Leaſe was confirmed by the ſaid Biſhop, and by the Dean and Chapter; and afterwards the Biſhop was tranſlated to Y. It was a Queſtion which of the Leaſes, after the Tranſlation of the Biſhop ſtood good. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the firſt Leaſe did ſtand in force during the life of the Biſhop, and the Succeſſor Incumbent, who found the Church Charged, and that the ſecond Leaſe made by the Incumbent, without his entry upon the Leſſee of the firſt Incumbent, was not good. Mich. 19 Eliz. Dyer. 357.

6. Note, It is ſaid, That if a Fine be levyed ſur Conuſans de droit tantum, of Lands in poſſeſſion, the Conuſee hath nothing before entry: But if a Fine ſur Conuſans de droit tantum be levyed of a Reverſion upon an Eſtate for life, or years, or a thing which lyeth in Grant; there the Reverſion or thing which lyeth in Grant, paſſeth preſently. And ſo it was ſaid, In the Caſe of a common Recovery, or any thing that lyeth in Grant, they are in the Recoveror preſently by the Judgment: As if a man hath Judgment to recover a rent or Common, there the thing is in the Recoveror preſently by the Judgment. Cook 1. Part, 79. in Shelleys Caſe, acc.

7. Tenant in tail, the Remainder in tail; Tenant in tail Bargained and ſold his Remainder to A. for the life of Tenant in tail, and after his life the Remainder to the King in Fee upon Condition: Tenant in tail ſuffered a common Recovery. The King Granted his Remainder to Tenant in tail, and his Heirs after. Afterwards he in the Remainder Bargained and ſold to B. the Remainder to the King upon Condition. It was argued in this Caſe, If the Remainder ſhould be deveſted out of the King without Petition, or Monſtrans de droit, which point was not Resolved; but there this difference was taken, That when an Estate shall be devested out of a common person, and vested in another without Action, Entry, or Claim, it shall be devested out of the King without Petition, or Monstrans de droit, but when in the Case of a common person, the Estate shall not be devested out of him, there it shall not be devested out of the King without Petition, or Monstrans de droit. And in that principal Case, it was agreed, That although the Remainder passed by Bargain and Sale; so as in Judgment of Law, a use passed first, and although it was of a thing which lay in Grant, and not in Livery, and that the words were, that upon payment of money, the estate should cease, and should be void, yet the Estate should not be revested again in the Grantor without claimer, for that an Estate of Inheritance cannot be determined by a Condition without Entry or claim; but otherwise it is of a limitation. See Cook 2. Part, 52. Sir Hugh Cholmeyes Case. Plow. Com. 413. acc.

8. A man made a lease for years, rendring rent upon Condition, That if he, his Executors, or Assigns, did Grant, Allien, or Assign any part of the Land, without the assent of the Lessor, his Heirs, or Assigns, that it should be lawful to him, his Heirs, or Assigns, to re-enter; the Lessee Assigned part without the assent of the Lessor, and before re-entry, accepted the Rent. In this Case, amongst other points, it was agreed, That there was a difference betwixt a Lease for life, and a Lease for years. For in Case of a Lease for life, if the conclusion be that the Lease shall be void, there because a Freehold created by Livery, cannot be avoided before entry, acceptance of the Rent at a day after, should bar the Lessor of his Entry, and affirm the Lease; but if the conclusion upon a Lease for years be, that if the Rent be behind, that the Lease shall be void, there no acceptance of Rent, can make the Lease which was void good. Cook 3. Part, 65. in Pennants Case.

9. A man possessed of a Lease for 40 years, devised the same to J. S. after the death of his Wife; and further, that the said J. S. should not devise or sell it, but should leave the same intirely to discend to his Son, and he made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed. The Wife entred, and said, That if she dyed, that J. S. should have the Term, and then the Wife dyed. It was adjudged in this Case, That J. S. took the Term, not by way of Remainder, but by way of Executory Devise, because it was but of a Chattel, which might vest and devest at the pleasure of the Devisor. And in this Case it was said and agreed for Law, That if a man maketh a Lease for years upon Condition, that if he do not such an Act, that the Lease shall be void, and afterwards Grants the Reversion over, and the Condition is broken, that by the Common-Law, the Grantee should take advantage of the Condition, because the Lease was absolutely void. But if the Lease had bin for life with such a Condition, that there the Grantee should not take advantage of the Condition, because the Freehold is not avoidable but by entry, which cannot be transferred to a stranger. Cook 8. Part, 95. Mannings Case.

10. A man seised of Land in the Right of his Wife, made a Feoffment in Fee, upon Condition that the Feoffees should lease back the Land to the Husband and Wife for their lives, the Remainder to the Right Heirs of the Husband; the Husband dyed, the Feoffees leased the Land to the Wife for life, the Remainder in tail, the Remainder to the right Heirs of the Wife. In this Case, divers points were Resolved. 1. That for the Condition broken, the Heir of the Husband might enter 2. That when the Heir of the Husband enters for the Condition broken, by that the Feoffment which made the discontinuance, was defeated, and by consequence the discontinuance it self was defeated. 3. That when the Heir enters for the Condition broken, the estate of the Heir doth vanish, and the estate is revested in the Wife without entry or claim. 4. Although that the Wife had accepted of an Estate for life, and so by the Feoffment concluded her self to have any Cui in vita, yet when the Estate which she accepted, is defeated by the Condition, the conclusion by the acceptance is also avoided. Cook 8. Part, 44. in Whittingham's Case.

11. Land was given to Husband and Wife, and to the Heirs of their two bodies, the Remainder to the Husband in Fee, the Husband levyed a Fine with Proclamation to the King, who by his Letters Patents gave the Land to J. S. and his Heirs, the Husband dyed, the Wife within the five years entred, claiming her Estate, J. S. dyed, his Heir reciting the especial tail, granted to the Husband and Wife, by Deed confirmed to the Wife her Estate, To have to her, and to the Heirs of the body of her Husband deceased; The Wife having a Son betwixt her and her Husband, dyed, the Son entred, and afterwards accepted a Fine, sur Conusans de droit, of two strangers, with a render for 99 years after the death of A. if B. his Wife so long live: In this Case, It was Resolved, amongst other points, That after the death of the Husband, the Wife had an Estate in special tail, and by the Common Law, in such Case the estate of the Wife should not be changed into an estate for life, and that the allienation of the Husband did not bar the Issue in tail, nor the Wife, because the Husband alone had not potestatem alienandi, because he had an individed estate jointly with his Wife. Also it was Resolved in this Case, That one might have an estate tail, and yet his Issue should be barred to to inherit: As if the Son of Tenant in tail in the life of his Father, levyeth a Fine with Proclamations of the ſame after the death of the Father, ſhall bar the Iſſues, and yet the Father ſhall remain Tenant in tail. And it was Reſolved, That the Confirmation did operate nothing, for when the Wife entred, ſhe was ſeiſed in tail, and no Eſtate was left in the Conuſee, but a poſſibility, and then ſuch a poſſibility could not paſs by the confirmation. Cook 9. Part, 141. Beaumonts Caſe.

12. Tenant in tail, the Remainder in Fee, Tenant in tail made a Leaſe for life, not warranted by the Statute of 32 H. 8. and afterwards dyed without iſſue, and before any entry, he in the Remainder granted his Remainder by Fine; and whether the Conuſee of the Fine might enter upon the Tenant for life, and avoid the Leaſe, was the Queſtion? It was ſaid by ſome of the Juſtices, That when he had made a Leaſe for life, and dyed without Iſſue living, the Tenant for life, his eſtate was not defeated before the entry of him in the Remainder; and then when before entry he in the Remainder grants his Remainder, the Grantee ſhall have it but as a Remainder, and ſo the eſtate of the Tenant for life, which was but voidable, was made good. But by Meade and Dyer Chief Juſtice, by the death of Tenant in tail without Iſſue, his eſtate out of which the eſtate of the Tenant for life was derived, was determined; and therefore the eſtate for life was determined, like the Caſe, 21 H. 7. 12. That if a man makes a Leaſe for life upon Condition, that if he pay unto the Leſſee 10 l. ſuch a day, that his eſtate ſhall ceaſe, that by the performance of the Condition, the eſtate is determined without entry. Paſc. 23 Eliz. in C. B. Goldsbr. 9.

13. Note, It was ruled by the whole Court, That if there be Copyholder for life, and the Lord leaſeth for years, and the Copyholder commits a forfeiture, that the Leſſee may enter for the forfeiture. It was ſaid by Foſter Juſtice, That the reaſon that is given for the entry, for a forfeiture is becauſe the Reverſion or Remainder is deveſted; but in this Caſe it is but Intereſſe termini, and nothing is deveſted, for notwithſtanding the Feoffment, the Intereſſe termini may be granted. But yet it was agreed in the principal Caſe, the Leſſee might enter for the forfeiture, becauſe the particular eſtate was determined. Paſc. 8 Jac. in C. B. Meers and Bideouts Caſe. Godbolt. 175.

Error.

1. What ſhall be aſſigned for Error, in Writs, or other matters of Record; what not: And of Errors in Fact, and Errors in Law. Where Error cannot be aſſigned in a thing which is for the advantage of the party, et è contra. And where Errors aſſigned contrary to the Record, are void: And what ſhall be ſufficient Record upon which the party may Aſſign Errors; what not.

1. UPon Recovery in an Aſſiſe, Error was brought in the Kings Bench, and the Judgment there affirmed: A new Writ of Error was brought in Parliament of the Judgment in B. R. The Chief Juſtice brought the Record in Parliament, and alſo the Tranſcript; and after that examined, remaunded the Record; and divers Errors were aſſigned in the Kings Bench. Hill. 23 Eliz. Dyer, 379.

2. A man was outlawed in Debt, where the Plaintiff in the Original was named Sadler, and in the Scire facias to have Execution, Salter. Error was brought, in which he named the Plaintiff Salter, by a Writ directed to Sir Anthony Brown ch ef Juſtice de Banco, who afterwards was removed, and a new Juſtice de Banco made, who certified the Record. It was holden, That his Certificate was not good, becauſe there was no Original, and then it is not helped. Wherefore a new Writ was awarded to the new Juſtice, who certified the proceſs of Execution only, and no ſuch Record of the reſt. Mich. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 173. See Paſc. 34 Eliz. Cook 5. Part, 37. in Biſhops Caſe; variance between the Original Writ, and the Declaration, is not remedied by the Statute of 18 Eliz. And 2. When an Original Writ is removed, (be it before in nullo erratum, pleaded, or after) if there appears a material variance, between the Writ and Declaration, the Judgment ſhall be reverſed.

3. A common Recovery was ſuffered to bar the Iſſue in tail: The warrant of Attorney was Quod Alicia poſuit loco ſuo, where her name was Eliz. alſo the Writ of Error was, De loquela quæ fuit in Curia noſtra coram Juſticiariis noſtris per brevæ noſtrum. It is a Quære, if it were amendable, or the Record well removed. 2. Ma. Dyer, 105. See this Quære Reſolved in Cook 8. Part, 162. in Blackamores Caſe.

4. A Re-

4. A Record came out of Auncient Demeſne in Banco by Writ of falſe Judgment. The Writ was ſub ſigillo ſuo et ſigillis 4. legalium hominum ejuſdem Curiæ; where it ſhould have bin per 4. legales homines, Fitzh. Nat. Br. 18. The Court doubted if it might be amended. But ſeemed to be of Opinion, That where ſuch matter of ſubſtance wanted in the Original Writ of Falſe Judgment, That the Plaintiff might have a new Writ directed Juſticiariis de Banco, commanding them to proceed to diſcuſs the Errors contained in the Record, Quod penes eos reſidet. Mich. 5. and 6. Ma. Dyer, 164.

5. An Action of Covenant was brought by A. B. Aſſigne of J. S. The Defendant brought Error, and the Writ was Inter A. B. querentem, et F. G. Defendentem, omitting the word Aſſignee of J. S. which was in the Writ and Declaration of Covenant. It was ſaid, That the Record was not removed by that Writ of Error, becauſe there was no ſuch Record. But the better Opinion of the Court was otherwiſe, For that A. B. is the whole name and ſurname of the Plaintiff, and it is ſufficiently mentioned in the Writ of Error, to have the Record removed to examine the Errors, Paſc. 19 Eliz. Dyer, 356.

6. Note, It was holden by Fitzh. That to allow an Eſſoin, where it doth not lye, is not Error; but to deny it where it lyeth, is Error. 21 H. 8. Dyer, 26. See Fitzh. Nat. Br. 21. acc. See Cook 5. Part, 39. in Teyes Caſe, acc.

7. Error upon a Judgment in Debt in C. B. the Error aſſigned was, That the Original was againſt A. L. nuper de London Yeoman, alias A. L. de Sherborne in Com. Eborac. Yeoman. And being condemned, a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum iſſued againſt him by the name of A. L. nuper de London Yeoman, alias A. L. de Selborne in Com. Eborac. It was holden, That foraſmuch as this variance was not in the firſt name, but in the firſt addition; that it was not Error. Mich. 40 Eliz. in B. R. Latham's Caſe. Goldesbr. 140.

8. It was aſſigned for Error upon a Judgment in C. B. That Kiſman was Returned in the Venire facias, and Bidnam was returned in the diſtringas & Habeas Corpora. But it was the Opinion of all the Juſtices of England, That it ſhould be amended, inaſmuch as it appeared upon examination, that the ſame party in the Venire facias was ſworn, and ſo no damage to any. Mich. 40 Eliz. in B. R. Brewſter and Beautyes Caſe. Goldesbr. 184.

9. A Writ of Error was brought by Frances Fulgham, againſt Serjeant Harris thus, Precipe, &c. Quod, &c. Frances Fulgham Widdow; whereas the form in the Regiſter is, Quæ fuit uxor, and not Widdow: And the words of the Original Writ were, rationabilem dotem tenementorum quæ fuerunt Franciſci Fulgham quondam viri ſui. It was Reſolved by the Court to be Error, and yet it doth not vary in ſubſtance, and becauſe the form of the Regiſter was otherwiſe, the Court would not amend it. Mich. 6 Jac. in B. R. Fulgham and Harris's Caſe. Brownl. 2. Part, 300.

10. Upon a Fine, The firſt proclamation was made in Trinity Term, 5 Jac. the 2. Mich. Term, 5 Jac. The third Hill. Term, 6 Jac. where it ſhould be Hill. Term, 5 Jac. The fourth and fifth in Eaſter Term, 6 Jac. It was agreed by the whole Court, That this was palpable Error, for the 4th Proclamation was not entred at all, and the 5th was entred in Hil. Term, 6 Jac. whereas it ſhould be in Hillary Term 5 Jac. and the Court held, it could not be amended, becauſe it was in another Term, Hill. 7 Jac. in B. R. Brownl. 2. Part, 300.

11. Upon a Venire facias, the Sheriff returns but 21. and the Hab. Corpora was againſt 21 only, and this was alſo returned, and upon that, 10 appeared and upon this, Tales was awarded, and tryal had, and but 10 of the principal ſworn. This was holden to be errour. Mich. 7 Jac. in B. R. Brownlow. 274. But ſee C. 5. Part, Gardiners Caſe. Upon Iſſue joyned, 23 Jurors were only returned, and 12 appeared, and gave a Verdict, and upon great conſideration had, it was Reſolved, That it was remedied by the Statute of 18 Eliz.

12. Upon a Judgment entred by Non ſum informatus againſt the Defendant; He brought Error, that the Record was Fr. Harris de Brownton, and the Original filed to warrant the Judgment was, Fr. Harris de Browton, and for this variance the Judgment was reverſed. Trin. 9 Jac. Serle and Harris's Caſe. Brownl. 1. Part, 59.

13 Debt was brought upon a Bond, and in the Imparlance Roll, the Bond was alledged to be made at New-Caſtle, and in the Iſſue Roll, it was alledged to be made at York, and tryed; Error was brought, and the Record was certified, and upon a Scire facias, that Error was Aſſigned. It was moved, That the Imparlance Roll might be amended; But the Court would not grant it. Mich. 13 Jac. in C. B. Fetherſton and Tapſalls Caſe. Brownlow, 1. Part, 66.

14. Error in the Exchequer Chamber upon a Judgment in the Kings Bench: It was aſſigned, That whereas D. had brought Debt againſt the now Plaintiff, and declared upon divers contracts, ſcil. that he had ſold to W. ſuch Merchandiſes for ſo many Portagues, and ſuch Merchandiſes for ſo many Ducats, which in toto amount to 700 l. ſterling, which ſum he delivered, ſcil. in ſterling money and not in Ducats and Portagues according to the Contract, upon the Declaration, W. demurred in Law, and it was adjudged for the Plaintiff, for it is in his Election to divide his Debt into which of theſe thoſe Coynes he pleaſed, either in the prop^r Coyn of the Contract, or of ſterling, ſcil. in current money: Wherefore the Judgment was affirmed Mich. 29 Eliz. in the Exchequer Chamber. Wilſaidge and Dauidges Caſe. Leon. 41.

15. Error upon a Judgment in the Common-Pleas, in a Replevin removed thither by Recordare out of a Hundred Court; The Error aſſigned was, becauſe it did not appear, That Pledges were returned upon the plaint: It was agreed by the Court, upon Haſſyes Caſe, Cook 9. Part, 71. That if upon the Original Writ, Pledges be not returned, it is Error; but the Court doubted of it in this Caſe, becauſe the Sheriff may make Replevin without Pledges finding, and peradventure Pledges were found, though not returned. And it is at the Sheriffs perill, if he take not Pledges by the Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 2. Mich. 15 Car. in B.R. Tregoſe and Wennells Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 431.

16. An Action of Treſpaſs was brought againſt two, and iſſue joyned by two Defendants; after Iſſue joyned, one of the Defendants dyed, notwithſtanding a venire facias, was awarded to try the Iſſue betwixt the Plaintiff and the two Defendants; And the venire facias, and the Hab. Corpora, and the Iſſue joyned mentioned, that it was betwixt the Plaintiff and two Defendants; and therefore it was ſtood upon, that it was Error. But it was Reſolved, That ſuch ſurmiſe needs not to be in Judiciall proceſs to alter it: And therefore although a venire facias iſſued againſt a dead perſon, yet one of the Defendants being alive, it is ſufficient, and no Error. See 4 H. 7. 7. Mich. 11 Car. in B. R. Tyffins Caſe. Cook 1. Part, 308.

17. A Writ of Error was brought to reverſe a Fine, levyed by Husband and Wife, and others. And the Writ of Covenant was directed to the Coroners, with this Clauſe, Fiat executio Brevis prædict. per Coronator. Ita quod vice comes ſe non intromittat. (one of the Conuſees being Sheriff). It was ſaid this was Error, becauſe if the Sheriff had bin ſole party to the Fine, yet the Writ ought to be directed to him, becauſe it is but a ſummons, and the Sheriff may ſummon himſelf. But it was Reſolved, That it was Error, becauſe it is a doubt in Law, if the Sheriff as Plaintiff may execute a Writ for himſelf, and as Defendant may execute a Writ upon himſelf; and therefore the general courſe is, to award the Writ to the Coroners, to avoid ſuch doubt. Mich. 11 Car. in B.R. Doue and Smithies Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 300.

18. Husband and Wife, Tenants for life, the Remainder in Fee to an Enfant, and they three levyed a Fine, and the Enfant only brought Error to reverſe it. It was objected, that they all ought to joyn in the Writ, like the Caſe, 29 E. 3. 14. In Aſſiſe againſt three Coparceners, they plead by Bayliff, Nul tenent. de Franktenement, and found two of them were Diſſeiſors and Tenants, and afterwards all three Coparceners brought Attaint, and after appearance, the third ſiſter who was acquit, was Nonſuit. It was holden by the Court in the principal Caſe, The Writ was well brought, for the Error is not aſſigned in the Record, but without it in the perſon of the Enfant, and that is the cauſe of Action for him, and for no other. The Fine was reverſed as to the Enfant only. Mich. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Pigot and Harringtons Caſe. Leon. 317.

19. It was Aſſigned in a Writ of Error, to reverſe a Fine, That the Writ was Precipe, &c. Quod tenent, &c. de octo Meſſuagiis duobus toftis decem gardinis; and it was certified de octo Meſſuagiis, decem gardinis, &c. It was adjudged no Error. Paſc. 1 Jac. in B. R. The Earl of Bedford and Forſters Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 77.

20. Error was brought by an Enfant to reverſe a Fine levyed by him and his Father, he being then an Enfant within the age of 21 years. He was inſpected by Juſtice Crook, the day of adjournment of the Term, and his Witneſſes examined, and he found within age. It was doubted if the Inſpection was good, and whether any thing could be done the day of adjournment. But afterwards, upon conference with the Juſtices, it was Reſolved, That the Inſpection was good, and the Fine reverſed. Mich. 7 Jac. in B. R. Poyntz Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 330. See Paſc. 10 Jac. in B. R. Batts and Jennings's Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. Part, 206.

21. Error to reverſe a Judgment in B. R. The Error Aſſigned was, in entring the Record, which was thus, viz. Ad quem diem, &c J. S. J. D. &c. of the principal Pannel, veniunt et jurati exiſtunt, et quia reſidui did not appear, &c. W. N. and J. N. de novo oponuntur, qui ad veritatem de infra content. electi, triati, & jurati, dicunt ſuper ſacrament. ſuum, omitting theſe words, (ſimul cum aliis juratoribus prius impanelat.) And becauſe it was a Verdict given only of thoſe of the Tales only, and not by thoſe with whom they were ſworn, It was holden Error, and the Judgment reverſed. Paſc. 6 Jac. in B. R. Kempton and Battells Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 207.

22. Error of a Judgment in the Kings Bench. For that the Judgment is Quod Querens et Plegii ſui in miſericordia pro falſo clamore ſuo; whereas it ought to have bin, Qui non proſecuti ſunt, for it ought not to be pro falſo clamore, but where it is after Judgment, or Demurrer. It was adjudged Error, and the Judgment reverſed. Mich. 6 Jac. in B. R. Cro. 2. Part, 213.

23. Error of a Judgment in Debt upon an Obligation, the Condition of which was, That if the Defendant did appear in the Kings Bench the next

Term

Term following, and put in good Bail, &c. He Pleaded, That the Term was adjourned to the Caſtle of Hartford, and that he there put in good Bail; and being found for the Plaintiff, and Judgment, it was aſſigned for Error, That the Venire facias was, de vicinetio de Hartford, where it ought to have bin de Caſtro de Hertford. It was holden to be Error, for Caſtrum is a diſtinct name of a place by it ſelf. The Judgment was reverſed. Paſc. 8 Jac. in B. R. Cuningham and Hares Caſe, in Ex. Cro. 2. Part, 239.

24. Error was brought of a Judgment in Durham, becauſe the Defendant was admitted to plead by Attorney, being within age. It was holden by the Court, That the Writ of Error was not well brought, for that the Record could not be examined upon this Writ, for it appears that the Writ of Error was directed to the Biſhop, and eight others, to remove the Record of a Judgment, and 8 of them only certified the Record, and not the 9th, nor doth it appear he was dead or removed. Mich. 7 Jac. in B. R. Odell and Moretons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 254.

25. In Debt, the Judgment was Ideo conſideratum eſt, quod recuperet 40 s. pro miſis et Cuſtagiis, leaving out theſe words (ex aſſenſu ſuo per Curiam adjudicat.) It was holden by the Court, That thoſe words were a material part of the Judgment, for a Writ of Enquiry of Damages ſhall iſſue, unleſs the party conſents to take ſo much for damages. The Judgment was reverſed. Hill. 14 Jac. in B.R. Machins Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 415.

26. Error was Aſſigned to reverſe a Judgment in an Action upon the Caſe in Abington Court, for that the ſaid Court is mentioned to be held before the Mayor ſecundum conſuetudinem Burgi à tempore cujus contrarium, &c. and it doth not appear there was any ſuch Cuſtome there. It was the Opinion of the Court, That this Aſſignment being directly againſt the Record, is not receiveable, therefore the Judgment was affirmed. Mich. 12 Jac. in B. R. Whiſtler and Lees Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 359. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 243. acc. the ſame Caſe.

27. Error brought of a Judgment in a Ceſſavit, by default. It was moved, If he might aſſign that for Error. Doddridge Juſtice, in regard he had no time to plead it in the firſt Action; the firſt Judgment being obtained by falſhood, he conceived he might plead it, That he was not Tenant. Haughton and Montague contr. becauſe if he were not Tenant, he had no loſs, and being returned ſummoned, and not pleading, it was his folly, not to appear and plead thereto: And this Court cannot take Conuſans of a Reverſal by a Writ of Diſceit. The Caſe was not adjudged, but adjourned. Mich. 17 Jac. in B. R. Salkeild and Lord Howards Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 547.

28. Upon a Scire facias to the Sheriff of S. upon a Recovery in Debt of 400 l. againſt B. the Sheriff returned R. Ter-tenant omnium terrarum et tenementorum in balliva ſua, quæ fuerant prædict. B. Judgment was given, That A. ſhould have Judgment and Execution againſt the ſaid R. Whereupon A. prayed an Elegit, which was entred in the Roll thus, viz. Elegit ſibi liberari medietatem omnium terrarum et tenementorum in Com. S. Tenend. &c. quouſq; &c. but left out the words (Quæ fuerant prædict. B.) For this cauſe, the Judgment was reverſed, Quoad adjudicationem executionis, upon the Elegit; yet the Elegit it ſelf, and the Return of it, was well. But where the Roll is faulty, the Writ will not help it. Mich. 5 Jac. in B. R. Kee and Owens Caſe. Hob. 90.

29. A man recovered in an Action upon the Caſe of Trover, and had Judgment. The Defendant brought Error, and aſſigned two Errors, 1. That there was no Bill filed. 2. That there was no Bail, which were certified accordingly. Yet the Judgment was affirmed in the Exchequer-Chamber, for that the want of a Bill, was remedied by the Equity of the Stat. of 18 Eliz. and the want of Bail was not material, the Defendant being at the time of the Bill in Cuſtodia Mariſchalli. Trin. 17 Car. in Ex. Willis and Woodbowſes Caſe. Hob. 264, 265.

30. Error to reverſe a Judgment in the Common-Pleas, in a Writ of Right. It was aſſigned for Error, That the party did appear by his prochein Amy; and afterwards he came of full age, and proſecuted his ſuit, and recovered by prochein Amy; whereas he ought to have appeared in proper perſon by Bail, or Attorney. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Court ought not to take notice when the Plaintiff came to his full age, and that the Defendant had now ſurceaſed his time; and that this matter might have bin pleaded before Judgment, but not now aſſignable for Error. The Judgment was affirmed, Trin. 8 Jac. in B. R. Stow and Marches Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. Part, 24.

31. Error was brought to reverſe an Amercement being afferred in a Court Leet, becauſe it was unreaſonable. But it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That after an Amercement afferred, a Moderata miſericordia doth not lye; and therefore the Amercement was affirmed. Trin. 7 Jac. in B. R. Stubs and Flowers Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. Part, 125.

32. Error brought to reverſe a Judgment againſt the Plaintiff, being an Enfant, becauſe it was againſt him Quod Capiatur. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That there is no Caſe in the Law to warrant ſuch a Judgment; and therefore the Judgment was reverſed. Trin. 9 Jac. in B. R. Daby and Holbrooks Caſe, Bolſtr. 1. Part, 162.

33. In

33. In Error to reverſe a Judgment given for three. It was aſſigned for Error, that one of them was dead, tempore Judicii reddit. The other ſaid that he was in full life tempore Judicii ſcil. 18. Auguſti. It was the clear Opinion of the Court, That the Scilicet was void; and the Rule was, that the other Iſſue ſhould ſtand, whether the party were living at the time of the Judgment given. Mich. 10 Jac. in B. R. Baskerville and Henſkams Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 26.

34. A Judgment was reverſed in an Action upon the Caſe, becauſe the Judgment againſt the Defendant was Capiatur, where it ſhould have bin in miſericordia, and becauſe the Bail was taken without any Scire facias ſued out againſt him, and a ſuperſedeas granted to deliver the party out of Execution. Trin. 11 Jac. in B. R. Kirkby and Magles Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 133.

35. In Error to reverſe a Judgment given in the Common-Pleas. It was aſſigned for Error, That the Judgment there was given againſt a dead man, It being given in Bank againſt the Defendant, who dyed after the day of the Niſi Prius, and the day in Bank. It was ſaid, That the day of Niſi Prius, and day in B. are all one. The Court was clear of Opinion, That the Judgment was erronious; he being dead, there was no ſuch perſon againſt whom Judgment could be given. Trin. 12 Jac. in B. R. Fourden and Dennis's Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 241. Paſc. 36 Eliz. in B. R. Lewis and Smiters Caſe. And Mich. 28 Eliz. in B. R. Iſeley and Pelhams Caſe adjudged acc.

36. A. recovered in Debt againſt B. in the Common-Pleas, and took a Capias againſt him, and becauſe he could not be taken, a Scire facias was Granted againſt the Bail, upon which a Nihil was returned. Afterwards the Defendant brought a Writ of Error to reverſe the Judgment, and the Record was removed in B. R. Afterwards a ſecond Scire facias was awarded againſt the Bail, who before the return of it, brought in the body of the Principal. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it ſhould not be allowed. And according to that it was ſaid it was adjudged in Sir George Bowes Caſe, in the time of Queen Elizabeth, in this Court. Paſc. 14 Jac. in B. R. The Spaniſh Embaſſadeurs and Gifford's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 82.

37. Error brought of a Judgment in a Writ of Partition. If it be brought after the firſt Judgment, and before the ſecond Judgment, it will not lye; for in every Partition, there are two Judgments, the firſt, Quod Partitio fiat; the ſecond, Quod Partitio facta ſit firma; and if Error be brought before the ſecond Judgment, it will not lye, and ſo it was ſaid it was adjudged in the Lady Warwicks Caſe. Trin. 11 Jac. in B. R. Rawlins and Barrets Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 104. See Cook 11. Part, 40. Metcalfes Caſe, acc.

38. A. and B. his Wife, levyed a Fine of divers Mannors and Lands to J. S. and J. D. in ſeveral Towns in the County of E. in which divers Grants and renders were made; in the third render, all the Mannors and Lands were rendred to A. and B. and the Heirs of the body of A. and in the 4th render, parcel of the Lands were rendred to B. in tail, the Remainder to the right Heirs of A. It was Reſolved, The ſame was not Error; but that the fourth render, as to that which was conteined in the third render, ſhould be in the quality of Charter, which needs not ſuch preciſe form as a Judgment. And 2. It was Reſolved, That the Conuſor ſhould not aſſign that for Error, becauſe he took an eſtate by it; And a man ſhall not reverſe a thing for Error, unleſs he can ſhew that the Error is to his diſadvantage. Cook 5. Part, 38. Teys Caſe.

39. If the Court Grant, View, or Aid preyer, where it is not grantable, it is no Error becauſe the demandant is not prejudiced in his right, but only deteined. But if the Court admit a Voucher where it ought not to be, the ſame is Error. So if an Eſſoin be caſt and allowed, where it is not allowable, it is not Error; but to deny it where it ought to be Granted, is Error. Cook 8. Part, 59. in Beecher's Caſe.

40. Error to reverſe a Judgment in Debt in an Inferiour Court; the Error aſſigned was, that the Plaint was entred generally in placito debito, which was incertain, ſo as the Defendant cannot know what is demanded. The Court held it to be error, and the Judgment was reverſed. Hill. 23 Car. in B. R. Hales and Moves Caſe. Styles 86.

41. Error to reverſe a Judgment in Debt, brought by an Adminiſtrator, becauſe he did not declare that the Adminiſtration was Granted unto him, per loci illius Ordinarium. It was the Opinion of the Court, That in a Declaration it was not neceſſary to ſay, that the Letters were Granted, per loci Ordinarium, aut cui pertinuit; though they ought to be ſo pleaded in a plea in Bar. Trin. 24 Car. in B. R. Clemartſon and Montfords Caſe. Styles 106.

42. Error to reverſe a Judgment in an Inferiour Court. It was ſaid, That it is ſaid in the Style of the Court, That the Court was holden per conſuetudinem et literas patentes. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was Error; And if a Court be holden by Cuſtome, and after a Patent be purchaſed to hold it, the Cuſtome is gone. Mich. 24 Car. in B. R. Tompkins and Jourdens Caſe. Styles 131.

43. Error was brought to reverſe a Judgment in Debt brought againſt an Executor in Briſtow upon a Cuſtome to pay a Debt, ſur Conceſſit ſolvere, due by the Teſtator upon a ſimple Contract. The Court inclined to be of Opinion, That it was Error, and the Cuſtome not good, becauſe it hindred the party to wage his Law; and although ſuch Cuſtome had bin allowed againſt the party that made the contract: Yet it was not good againſt an Executor. Mich. 24 Car. in B. R. Trigg and Roberts Caſe. Styles 155.

44. Error upon a Judgment in an Inferiour Court: For that the Jury in aſſeſſing damages ſay pro miſis et Cuſtagiis, &c. but do not ſay, Circa ſectum expenditis, and ſo it cannot appear for what the Coſts and Damage were aſſeſſed, the Judgment was reverſed. Mich. 1649. in B. R. Crible and Orchards Caſe. Styles 164.

45. Error of a Judgment in an inferiour Court; the Errour was, Whereas the Iſſue was, de injuria ſua propria abſq; tali cauſa; the Jury found, Not-Guilty generally. It was holden to be Error, becauſe the Verdict found the Iſſue but argumentatively, and not directly, and therefore not good, and the Judgment was reverſed. Paſc. 20 Car. in B. R. Hobs and Blanchards Caſe. Styles 167.

46. A Judgment given in the Court of York, was reverſed for theſe cauſes; becauſe the time of the Judgment, and of the ſum recovered in Debt, was entred in figures; and alſo becauſe it did not appear that the Action was brought, infra Juriſdictionem Curiæ. Paſc. 1649. in B. R. Jenkinſon and Porters Caſe. Styles 187.

2. A Writ of Error, Where, and when it lyes; Where not: And upon Judgments in what Courts: And where Judgment given in any Court, may be reverſed in the ſame Court; Where not.

1. ERror was brought in the Kings Bench, to reverſe a Judgment given by the Juſtices in Eyre, in a Quo warranto; where the Defendant being a Coparcener, prayed in Aid of the other Coparceners, which was denyed by the Juſtices in Eyre, and alſo they forjudged the Defendant of the Franchiſe, becauſe they would not otherwiſe plead; and for theſe cauſes, becauſe the Aide ſhould not have bin denyed, and the Franchiſe ſhould not be forjudged, but only ſeiſed, the Judgment was reverſed. See 2 E. 3. 29. in Cook 9. Part, 29. in the Caſe of the Abbot of Strata Mercella.

2. In Audita Querela, the Plaintiff ſhewed how that a Debt of 200 l. was recovered againſt him, upon which he was Out-lawed, and by Capias utlagatum taken in Execution, and ſo being in Execution, the Sheriff ſuffered him to eſcape. The Defendant ſaid, that after the eſcape, and before the Audita Querela brought, the Outlawry was declared erronious; ſo no Record of the Outlawry. It was objected, that the Outlawry was not void, but voidable, and that it was in force at the time of the Eſcape, and the Sheriff ſhould not take advantage of Error, but ſhould be charged with the eſcape. But it was Reſolved, That the Audita Querela did not lye. And Reſolved, That when an erronious Judgment is given, and afterwards the Judgment is reverſed by Error, collateral Acts Executory, are thereby barred. 2. Becauſe the Judgment to avoid the Outlawry, is declaratory, that the Outlawry is not good, becauſe the Exigent, which is the Warrant of the Outlawry, is defective, this being ſo declared by the Court, makes it void ab initio. And this Caſe was vouched to be adjudged: One who had cauſe of Privilege in the Common Pleas, was arreſted in L. Before Judgment, the Defendant delivered a ſuperſedeas to the Court of L. yet they proceeded to the Judgment; and the party being taken in Execution, brought a Habeas Corpus in the Common Pleas. And it was the Opinion of the Court, That becauſe that after the ſuperſedeas, there was a Nullity in the proceedings, that the party ſhould be diſcharged out of Execution, without any Writ of Error brought, for by the Declaratory award, the Judgment and Execution were utterly void. Cook 8. Part, 143. In Drurys Caſe.

3. Note, It was adjudged by the Court, That a Writ of Error will not lye, untill the Judgment be perfect and compleat: And therefore it was adjudged, That where the Tenant in a Writ of Dower, brought a Writ of Error before the value was enquired of, and Damages found, that the Writ of Error did not lye. Hill. 13 Jac. in B. R. Clifid and Carrs Caſe. Brownlow 1. Part, 127. Trin. 1653. in B. R. Rawlins and Vivers Caſe. Style 385.

4. Note, If an Action be brought againſt two, and one pleads to Iſſue, and the other confeſſeth it good. Judgment paſſeth againſt him, yet he ſhall not have error before the plea be determined againſt the other: becauſe if the Records ſhould be removed before the whole matter be determined, there would be a failer of Right: And the Judges of the Kings Bench cannot in Error brought, proceed upon a matter not determined. Cook 11. Part, 36. Metcalfes Caſe.

5. In Treſpaſs of Battery againſt two; they plead ſeveral Pleas, one Not-Guilty, the other Juſtifie: ſeveral Iſſues were joyned, and the Jury found both Iſſues for the Plaintiff, and aſſeſſed ſeveral damages, but joynt-Coſts. Afterwards the Plaintiff cauſed Nolle proſequi to be entred againſt one, which was was done accordingly, and took Judgment against the other for the damages found against him, and the Costs. Error was brought, because the Nolle prosequi against one before Judgment, was said to be a release to him, which should ennure to the other. The Court inclined to Opinion, That the Nolle prosequi was not a Release in it self, but an acknowledgment that he would not proceed against the one, which the Plaintiff might do where the Defendants sever themselves by pleading, and there be several Verdicts against them. It was not Resolved, but the Court would advise. Hill. 6 Car. in B.R. Walsh and Bishop's Case. Cro. 1. Part, 173.

6. Error of a Judgment in Coventry, because the Judgment being in Debt, was discontinued, it being by Nihil dicit, for the Continuance was taken till the next Court, which is incertain, for it ought to be to a day certain, as 9 Eliz. Dyer, 162. But it was said, That in Coventry there is no day certain for keeping their Court: for sometimes it is holden within a fortnight, sometimes within three Weeks. Wherefore the Court conceived it to be no Error, and that the Writ did not lye. Trin. 7 Car. in B. R. Jesson and Laxons Case. Cro. 1. Part, 184.

7. Error of a Judgment in C. B. in Assumpsit; The Plaintiff declared, That whereas the Defendant was endebted to him in such a sum, that in consideration that the Plaintiff would aliquo tempore forbear, &c. he promised to pay, and sets forth, that he did forbear for a year. It was the Opinion of the Court, That aliquo tempore is so short a time, that it is no consideration; and therefore the Writ did lye, and the Judgment was reversed. Trin. 11 Car. in B. R. Folson and Clarks Case, Cro. 1. Part, 316.

8. Error was brought by the Bail in the Exchequer-Chamber, upon the Statute of 27 Eliz. of a Judgment in a Scire facias against him. It was the Opinion of the whole Court. That it was not an Action mentioned in the Statute, whereof a Writ of Error did lye in that Court, nor is he a party who can have Error of the first Judgment. And in that Case, It was holden, That a Writ of Error did not lye in the Exchequer-Chamber of a Judgment in this Court, in a Writ of Rescous, for that it is not an Act on named in the Statute. Trin. 5 Jac. in B. R. Vaughan and Williams Case. Cro. 2. Part, 171.

9. Error was brought of Judgment in Burton upon Trent, because it was not shewed in the Style of the Court, by what Authority it was holden, scil. by Charter or Prescription; also the Style is coram Senescallo et Balivo, J. S. and doth not express their names. It was holden incurable Error, for that in inferiour Courts, the Authority whereby they are held, and the names of the Judges are to be expressed, otherwise the Kings Courts canno take knowledg of their Authority. Pasc. 4 Jac. in B.R. Jarret and Cadwell's Case. Cro. 2. Part, 184.

10. In a Deed of Covenant, the words were Conventum et agreatum est between the parties, That A. and his Wife levy a Fine to J. S. and J. S. to make a Lease to A. and his Wife. Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, and Error brought and assigned, because they did joyn in the Action of Covenant, whereas they ought not to have joyned. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it is a joynt-Covenant, and so the Action of Covenant brought by them joyntly, was well brought. See Cook 5. Part, 18 Slingsbyes Case, acc. And see Cook 5. Part, 22. Mathewsons Case, the words of Covenant were Conveniunt seperatim, &c. ad performationem omnium et singulorum Conventionum, et quilibet Mercator obligat seipsum; there the word seperatim, makes it to be several Covenants, but Conventum et agreatum est between the parties, makes it a joynt-Covenant. In the principal Case, it was adjudged no Error, and therefore that the Writ of Error did not lye. Trin. 8 Jac. in B.R. Yates and Rowles Case. Bolst. 1. Part, 26.

11. Error was brought in the Kings Bench, upon a Recovery in Assise, and the Judgment there affirmed. Now a Writ of Error was brought in Parliament of the Judgment in the Kings Bench. And the Error assigned in the Kings Bench was, because the parties were adjourned in a Forrein County to plead, and upon that Issue, the Assise pased without re-summons awarded. See H. 23 Eliz. Dyer, 375.

12. A Scire facias was brought in Chancery to have Execution of a Recognizance made there; the Defendant pleaded a defeasance made to him by the Plaintiff, which bore date before the Recognizance; which not being good, and Judgment against him, he brought a Writ of Error in the Kings Bench, where the Judgment was reversed. Note, a Judgment given in Chancery, which is before the King himself, reversed in the Kings Bench, which is also before the King himself, and not in Parliament. Trin. 14 Eliz. Dyer, 315.

13. Note, The Court of the Marshalsea of the Kings household was a Court of such high Jurisdiction, that before the Statute of 5 E. 3. cap. 2. and Stat. 10 E. 3. cap. 2. No Writ of Error lay of any Judgment there given, but in Parliament. But by the same Statutes, then Errors and Judgments given there shall now be examined and reversed in the Kings Bench. See Cook 10. Part, in the Case of the Marshalsea, 69. acc.

14. Error was brought in the Exchequer Chamber, of a Judgment in a Scire facias by an Executor in Debt recovered by the Testator. It was moved, That the Writ of Error did not lye upon a Judgment there in a Scire facias, because the Action is not mentioned in the Statute. The Court doubted of it, Whether it will lye or not, because it is grounded upon a Judgment in Debt, if it be not within the Equity of the Statute. Mich. 8 Car. in B. R. Nevil and South's Case. Cro. 1. Part, 208. See Pasc. 9 Car. in B. R. Lancaster and Keyleigh's Case. Cro. 1. Part, 219. See Trin. 12 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 334.

15. Judgment was given at the Assises against Sir Christopher Heydon, and the same Judgment affirmed here in the Kings Bench in a Writ of Error. Afterwards for the reversing of the Judgment here, a Writ of Error was brought by him in the Exchequer-Chamber, and he had obtained a supersedeas to stay Execution; and afterwards having notice, That no Writ of Error did lye in the Exchequer-Chamber to reverse the Judgment given here in B. R. he brought a Writ of Error in Parliament, to reverse the Judgment here in the Kings Bench. It was the Opinion of Coke Chief Justice, That no Writ of Error lyes in the Exchequer-Chamber, upon a Writ of Error brought here in B. R. but in Trespass, Detinue, Ejectione firmæ, where the Judgment is Originally here, and not otherwise. And see in that Case, That the Writ of Error did not agree with the Record; so the Court denyed to grant execution, the Writ of Error not being good, nor any warrant to remove the Record. And see in the book at large, where it is largely debated; Where, and upon what a Writ of Error lyeth in Parliament upon a Judgment given in the Kings Bench; and where the Record shall be hereby removed, and where not. Hill. 11 Jac. in B. R. Rolls. 2. Part, 162. to 175. Sir Christopher Heydons Case.

16. Error was brought to reverse a Judgment in the Kings Bench in Ireland, in an Ejectione firmæ of a Lease made by the Earl of Thomond of 40 Messuages, 100 Acres of Land, 40 of Meadow, 100 of Pasture, 100 of Bog in Villis et territoriis of D. S. and V. It was found by Verdict here, that the Earl seised in Fee, leased it to the Plaintiff for 21 years, rendring rent, with Condition, That if he did let any part of it above three years, the Lease should be void, and he re-enter. He let for three years; and so from three years to three years, during his life, if he lived so long. The Earl accepted the rent of the Assignee, and notwithstanding, re-entred, and made the Lease to the Plaintiff. It was adjudged there, That the same was not a breach of the Condition; and if it was, the Acceptance of the Rent had dispensed with it, and Judgment there given for the Defendant. But the Court Resolved here, That it was a breach of the Condition, and that the acceptance after, might not dispense with the Condition, seeing it was that the Lease should be void, and so utterly determined. And Judgment was given, That the Plaintiff recuperet Terminum prædict. It was then moved, How an Habere satisfaciendum should be awarded. Whereupon it was Resolved, That there should be a Writ directed to the Chief Justice in Ireland, to reverse the said Judgment, and commanding him to award Execution, Ex quo Cosa Nota, That the Judgment could not be reversed by the Court of Kings Bench here, but by the Court in Ireland. Mich. 13 Car. in B. R. rott. 333. Malcarry and Eyres Case. Cro. 1. Part, 368.

17. Upon a Verdict given, a Rule was given to have Judgment, and within two dayes after, the Plaintiff dyed. It was moved to have a Writ of Error, because it was said, that the party dyed before Judgment, because of course after the Verdict and Rule for Judgment, four dayes are given to speak in arrest of Judgment: and therefore it was moved to have a supersedeas. It was agreed by the Court, That it was in the discretion of the Court, ex officio to allow a Writ of Error; And that a Writ of Error was a supersedeas in it self. But because the Writ of Error was not allowed; And also because no Error appeared to the Court; for what Judgment is entred, it shall relate to the Rule given. It was Resolved no Writ of Error should be allowed, nor any supersedeas granted. Mich. 15 Jac. in B. R. The Earl of Shrewsbury's Case. Poph. 134.

18. Error was brought in the Kings Bench upon a Judgment had upon an Indictment at the Sessions at Hix-Hall, for speaking words spoken by Husband and Wife, against the Lord Fairfax. The Exceptions they took to the Indictment, were these. 1. That the Justices had not power to hold plea of the words, or for words spoken. But that Exception was over-ruled, because the words tended to the breach of the peace, and the speaking of them was a great misdemeaner. Another Exception was, That it is said, Juratores jurati electi, triati ad veritatem dicunt, and the words ad dicendum, were left out. The Court held, the want of those words to be Error, and the Indictment was quashed; and the Clerk of the Peace fined 40 l. Hill. 1650. Williams and his Wife, and Custades, &c. Case. Styles 244.

19. An Action of account was brought against a Feme-Covert an Administratrix and her Husband, in the Common-Pleas, and Judgment given Quod Computent. The Wife dyed, the Husband brought a Writ of Error in the Kings Bench to reverse this Judgment. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Writ did not lye, because the Record cannot be removed by it, for that would disturb the proceedings in the Common-Pleas, and the party should have no fruit of his suit if the Record should be removed, nor any remedy to recover the Arrears due unto him. Yet the Original is determined by the the Judgment Quod computet; and a Scire facias lyes by the Executor, as the Caſe is here, Trin. 1651. in B. R. Spitlehouſe and Farmery's Caſe. Styles 290.

3. Who, and what perſons ſhall have and maintain a Writ of Error; and who, and what perſons not.

1. A. Was condemned in Debt brought againſt him, and a Fieri facias iſſued forth againſt him, who dyed inteſtate, the Sheriff levyed the Execution againſt his Adminiſtrators; Whereupon, they brought a Writ of Error, and reverſed the Judgment. But a Quære is here made of Error brought by Adminiſtrators. Mich. 6 E. 6. Dyer, 76.

2. Tenant in tail, the Remainder over, ſuffered a Recovery to the uſe of J. S. and to avoid Error, releaſed all Errors; Afterwards he brought a Writ of Error, and was barred by the Releaſe. But it was holden by the Court, That this was no Bar to the Iſſue, but that he might bring a Writ of Error, becauſe he claimed in, not only as Heir, but alſo per formam doni. And it was the Opinion alſo of the Court, That if the Iſſue in tail failed, he in the Remainder might bring a Writ of Error to reverſe the Recovery. Mich. 3 Eliz. Dyer, 188. Sir Ralph Rawlet's Caſe. See Cook 6. Part, 7. in Ferrers Caſe, acc. See 4 E. 8. Dyer, 1. acc.

3. A. made a Feoffment to the uſe of himſelf, and B. his Wife, and the Heirs of their two bodies, the Remainder to the right Heirs of the Husband; they had Iſſue C. the Husband dyed, B. ſold the Lands in Fee, C. and her Husband joyned in a Fine in confirmation of the Eſtate, and then C. dyed without Iſſue. The Husband of C. and one J. D. Couſin and Heir of C. brought a Writ of Error to reverſe the Fine, and to avoid the ſale made by B. It was holden in this Caſe, (amongſt other points) That the Writ of Error brought by J. D. as Couſin and Heir collateral to C. is not well brought, for the tail is determined by the death of C. without Iſſue, and he had not made himſelf right Heir to A. and then it ſhall be intended, that he had Iſſue another Son or Daughter, and the Writ of Error muſt alwayes be brought by him who is right Heir to him in the Remainder, and not by the Heir general of C. Mich. 1. Ma. Dyer, 89. Varney's Caſe.

4. A Recovery was had againſt B. in an Action upon the Caſe, for turning a Water-courſe from the Plaintiffs Mill. It being found for the Plaintiff, upon a Writ of Enquiry, he had a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum againſt B. who afterwards was Outlawed, and the Outlawry returned in B. R. B. the Defendant gratis yielded himſelf to the Marſhalſea, and being in Execution, he ſuggeſted Errors in the Judgment, and had a Scire facias returnable two Terms after, and was ſet at liberty upon Bail; and afterwards he ſhewed Error, as well in the Judgment, as in the awarding of the Outlawry, for which Errors the Judgment was reverſed. And in that Caſe, Note, That he who was in Execution, did bring and maintain Error. Hill. 3 Eliz. Dyer, 196. Bateman's Caſe.

5. See where a Judgment was given againſt the Queen, by the Barons in the Court of Exchequer; That the Queens Attorney-General did cauſe a Writ of Error to be brought for the Queen upon that Judgment in the Exchequer-Chamber. And there, upon a full debate of the Caſe by all the Judges. Judgment was reverſed, and a new Judgment was given for the Queen: Ex quo, Nota; That a Writ of Error lyeth for the King or Queen, Cook 1. Part, in the Caſe of Alton Wood, 41. And ſee Cook 3. Part, 1. in the Marqueſs of Winchester's Caſe; Where the Queen brought a Writ of Error upon a Recovery had in a Writ of Entry in the Poſt, againſt the Marqueſs of Winchester, of the Manor of Marleſton: But for ſome reaſon alledged in the ſaid Caſe, the Writ of Error was not maintainable, though the Queen might maintain Error.

6. A. brought Debt by Quo minus in the Exchequer againſt B. and it was found for the Plaintiff; and for default of a good Viſne, the Judgment was Arreſted. Afterwards A. by his Attorney, entred a Retraxit, upon which, Judgment was given, That the Defendant eat ſine die; and afterwards A. brought a Writ of Error. It was Reſolved in this Caſe (amongſt other things), That if the Tenant do Diſclaim, he ſhall not have a Writ of Error againſt his Diſclaimer, for by his Diſclaimer he hath barred himſelf of right to the Land, and againſt that he cannot have a Writ of Error to have reſtitution of the Land againſt his own Diſclaimer. But it was Reſolved, That although the Plaintiff in the principal Caſe had made a Retraxit in proper perſon, yet he might have a Writ of Error, either in the Judgment, or in the proceedings. Cook 8. Part, 62. Beecher's Caſe.

7. Note, He that hath a Remainder expectant upon an eſtate tail, ſhall have a Writ of Error upon a Judgment given againſt the Tenant in tail, albeit there be no ſuch Remainder at the Common-Law: For when the Statute De donis conditionalibus enabled the Donor to limit a Remainder upon an eſtate tail, All Actions which the Common-Law gave to privies in eſtate, are by the ſame Act, as Incidents implicitely given alſo. And therefore as thoſe in the Reverſion or Remainder expectant upon an eſtate for life, ſhall have a Writ of Error by the Common-Law, of a Judgment given againſt Tenant for life, alt ough they were not made parties by aid, prayer, voucher, or receit, ſo ſince the Statute of Donis, ſhall he have who hath a Reverſion, or Remainder expectant upon an eſtate tail. Cook 3. Part, 4. in the Marqueſs of Wincheſter's Caſe.

8. A. recovered againſt B. 130 l. in B. R. in which ſuit C. and D. were Bail of B. Upon a Scire facias againſt the Bail, Error was brought by the Principal and Bail in one Writ returnable in the Exchequer-Chamber, ſuppoſing Error to be in reddditione Judicii et adjudicatione executionis ad domumipſorum. It was the Opinion of the Court, That although the Bail may have a Writ of Error, yet one Writ of Error lyeth not joyntly for the Principal and Bail, becauſe there be ſeveral Judgments given againſt them, and the Damages againſt the one, is not as againſt the other: Wherefore they may not joyn in one Writ of Error. Paſc. 9 Car. in B. R. Lancaſter and Keiteighs Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 219. See Trin. 11 Car. in B. R. Buſhell and Huſtwayt's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 395. acc.

9. Error was brought, and the Writ ſuppoſed, that Error was in the principal Judgment, and alſo in the Judgment upon the Scire facias againſt the Bail. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Writ was ill brought, becauſe it was brought by the Bail, for Error in the principal Judgment, which the Bail cannot have; for the Bail cannot aſſign Error, nor take advantage of any Error in the principal Judgment. But if the Bail had recited the firſt Judgment, and the Judgment in the Scire facias, and had alledged Error in the ſecond Judgment, and the Execution thereof, it had bin well enough. Hill. 12 Car. in B. R. South and Griffith's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 345. See Hill. 15 Car. in B. R. Smith and James Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 415. acc. See Mich. 11 Jac. in the Exchequer-Chamber. Sir James Sandeſons and Deventon's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 884.

10. Error of a Judgment given againſt the principal in the Court of the City of Weſtm.tam in reddditione Judicii quam in reddditione Executionis. The Error was, becauſe a Capias was awarded againſt the Bail, and he taken in Execution without a Scire facias; the ſame was holden to be Error: But becauſe the Bail cannot have a Writ of Error of the principal Judgment, the Writ was diſallowed. Quære, the Record being removed, if he may have Error, quod coram vobis reſidet. Trin. 15 Car. in B. R. 404.

11. If a man be vouched, and entreth into Warranty and looſeth, he may have a Writ of Error, and aſſign the Errors which happened between the Demandant, and the Tenant, and between the Demandant and himſelf the Vouchee: And ſo he in the Reverſion, who prayes to be received for the default of Tenant for life, or for his faint pleading he ſhall have a Writ of Error, and aſſign the Error, between the Demandant and the Tenant, or between the Demandant and himſelf. So if Tenant for life doſeth by default, he in the Reverſion ſhall have a Writ of Error, albeit he never prayed to be received, and this is in reſpect of the privity and Intereſt which the Vouchee and Reverſioner had in the Land ſo recovered by the Judgment, Fitz. Nat. Br. 21. acc.

12. In Burrough Engliſh, if the Tenant loſeth the Land by erronious Judgment, the youngeſt Son ſhall have the Writ of Error; ſo he that is Heir in ſpecial tail, and that is in reſpect of the privity, and intereſt which they have in the Land, Fitz. Nat. Br. 22. So the Heir ſhall have a Writ of Error to reverſe an Outlawry of Felony pronounced againſt his Father to reſtore him to the privity of bloud between his Father and him, ibid.

13. The Succeſſor of an Abbot, Prior, Parſon, &c. ſhall have a Writ of Error upon a Judgment given againſt their Predeceſſors of all things which touch the Succeſſion or Corporation. But if a man recover againſt a Parſon, Biſhop, &c. debt or damages by Judgment, their Executors ſhall have a Writ of Error upon ſuch Judgment, and not their Succeſſors, becauſe their Executors or Adminiſtrators have Intereſt in ſuch things, and not the Corporation. See Fitzh. Nat. Br. 22. B. acc.

14. Judgment was given againſt an Enfant upon his default after appearance by Guardian; wherein he vouched the common Vouchee. It was adjudged, That the Writ of Error brought by the Enfant, did not lye. And it was Reſolved, That it was not Error, for the Judgment is not given upon the default of the Enfant, but upon the departure of the Vouchee in deſpight of the Court; and common Recoveries, are common aſſurances, and ought not to be ſhaken. Mich. 6 Car. in B.R. The Earl of Newport, and Sir Henry Mildmayes Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 224.

15. A. a Frenchman, brought Aſſumpſit againſt Sir James Sandeland, and B. his Bail; Judgment was given againſt the Principal in the Kings Bench, and after, by Scire facias againſt the Bail, They both joyned in one Writ of Error in the Exchequer-Chamber. Adjudged, The Writ ſhould abate, becauſe they could not joyn. It was moved, That the Bail might have a Writ of Error by himſelf, Quod coram vobis reſidet. It was denyed, both becauſe Scire facias, is none of the Actions wherein Error is given in the Exchequer-Chamber, and becauſe the the Record doth not abide before theſe Judges, but in the Kings Bench. Hill. 11 Jac. in B. R. Forreſt and Sir James Sandelands Caſe. Hob. 72. See before, Sect. 9. acc.

16. A. brought Treſpaſs againſt B. C. and D. B. pleaded, Not Guilty, C. and D. made Juſtification; the Iſſue againſt B. was tryed, and damage given againſt him, and Judgment. After Judgment, A. the Plaintiff entred Nolle proſequi againſt C. and D. Whereupon they all brought Error againſt A. in the Exchequer-Chamber, and alledged, That the Nolle proſequi diſcharged all the Defendants. It was holden by the Court, That if the Nolle proſequi had bin before Judgment, it had diſcharged the whole Action, and ſo it had if Judgment had bin given againſt them all, and the Plaintiff had entred the Nolle proſequi againſt the two: for Nonſuit or releaſe of one, had diſcharged all the reſt. But becauſe the principal Action was at an end againſt B. and no Judgment againſt the other, they are divided from B. and not ſubject to the damages found againſt him, and ſo it was no Error, and he not diſcharged. Hill. 11 Jac. in B.R. Parker and Lawrences Caſe. Hob. 70.

17. A. ſeiſed of a Mannor in Fee, had iſſue B. who 18 Eliz. was Indicted of Felony, 19 Eliz. the Record of the Indictment was brought in the Kings Bench, and thereupon 20 Eliz. B. was Outlawed. A. dyed ſeiſed, B. entred into the Mannor and Lands as Son and Heir, and being ſeiſed, deviſed the ſame to C. in Fee, who conveyed the Mannor and Lands to J. S. and J. D. the Feoffee of the Lands, brought a Writ of Error to reverſe the Attainder by the Outlawry of B. It was objected, That J. D. was a purchaſor, and although he was not a party to the Record, yet he was grieved by the Record, of which he was to have a benefit; and therefore he ſhould have Error. But the Court inclined to be of Opinion, That J. D. could not have a Writ of Error to reverſe the Record of Attainder of Outlawry, becauſe if he bring Error, and reverſe the Judgment, he muſt reſtore the Heir in bloud, and none can reſtore bloud, but he who is privy in bloud, and that is the Heir, and not a Feoffee. Paſc. 3 Car. in B. R. Bookers Caſe. Godb. 376, 377.

18. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, made a Feoffment thereof to divers perſons, to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of K. his Daughter in tail, the Remainder to the uſe of the right Heirs of the body of A. (he having then many other Daughters) the Remainder to the uſe of his Heirs, and dyed; K. took Husband, and afterwards ſhe being within age, and her Husband being of full age, levyed a Fine, and ſuffered a Recovery of part of the Lands, with warranty, and afterwards K. dyed without Iſſue of their bodies. Afterwards the Daughters and Heirs of the body of A. brought a Writ of Error, to reverſe the ſaid Recovery. It was holden in this Caſe, That the Writ of Error did well lay, being brought by the Heirs in the Remainder. And afterwards, the ſaid Recovery was reverſed by reaſon of the Non age of K. the Wife, although her Husband who joyned in the ſaid Recovery, was of full age; and notwithſtanding that, they had levyed a Fine of part of the Lands and Proclamations paſſed before the Recovery was ſuffered. Hill. 13 Jac. Holland and Jackſon's Caſe. Bridgman 71, 72.

19. A. had iſſue B. his Son, and three daughters by one Venter; and the Plaintiff by another Venter, and dyed ſeiſed of Lands to him, and the Heirs Males of his body; B. entred, and made a Feoffment; the Feoffee was impleaded, and vouched B. who loſt the Land by default, and dyed without Iſſue. It was a Queſtion, Whether the daughters which were Heirs general, or the Plaintiff, who was Heir in tail, ſhould have the Writ of Error. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the Plaintiff being ſpecial Heir in tail, ſhould have the Writ of Error to reverſe the ſaid Recovery, which was an erronious Recovery. And this was layed for a ground in Law, That in all Caſes where a Recovery is had againſt one by erronious proceſs or falſe Verdict, he which is grieved, ſhall redreſs it, although he be not party or privy to the firſt Judgment. And therefore if a Recovery be had againſt Tenant for life, he in the Reverſion ſhall have Error after his death, and now by the Statute of R. 2. in his life time. Mich. 18 Eliz. in B. R. Sir Arthur Henningham and Windhams Caſe. Owen. 68.

20. Tenant in tail levyed an Erronious Fine with Proclamations, and then as Vouchee did ſuffer an erronious Recovery, and dyed; The Iſſue brought a Writ of Error to reverſe the Fine, the Defendant pleaded the Recovery afterwards, the Plaintiff did alledg a default in the Recovery by which he conceived the Recovery to be void. It was Reſolved, That it was not void, but voidable by Error, and therefore as long as it continued in force, the Iſſue was barred to reverſe the Fine. But it was holden, That writ of Error brought by the Iſſue to reverſe the Recovery, was well brought, and then afterwards he might reverſe the Fine. Mich. 37 Eliz. in B. R. Sir Richard Shuttleworths Caſe vouched, in Holland and Jackſons Caſe. Bridgman 72. See the ſame Caſe vouched in Eyre and Mollineux's Caſe. Hill. 9 Jac. in B. R. Bulſtr. 2. Part, 14. And there ſaid, It was adjudged in that Caſe, That a Writ of Error is a Writ which doth run in privity, and cannot be transferred over, and therefore a Feoffee ſhall not have or maintain a Writ of Error. Quod Quære, See before.

21. Huſ-

21. Husband and Wife, the Wife being within age, levyed a Fine of the Lands of the Wife. A Precipe was brought againſt the Conuſee, who vouched the Husband and Wife, who appeared in perſon, and vouched over the common Vouchee; whereby a Recovery was had. The Wife and her ſecond Husband brought a Writ of Error to reverſe the Fine, and another Writ to reverſe the Recovery, by reaſon of the Non-age of the Woman. The Court was of Opinion to reverſe the Fine, but doubted of the Writ for the Recovery, becauſe the firſt Husband and Wife appeared in perſon, and vouched over, ſo it was a Recovery upon appearance, and not by default. But afterwards upon examination, It was found, That the Recovery was before the Fine; and ſo the Recovery doth not give away the Error in the Fine: And therefore, It was holden, That upon theſe Writs ſo brought, the Fine ſhould be reverſed. Hill. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Sir Henry Jones Caſe, Goldesbr. 181.

4. For what cauſes Judgments and other Proceedings in Courts of Record, or other Courts, by reaſon of Error; and for what not, ſhall be reverſed: And where the Judgments ſhall be reverſed by Plea, and not by Writ of Error.

1. ERror was brought upon a Judgment given in the Court of Pipowders in Stanbridg-Fair, becauſe the Plaintiff declared upon a Contract made there the laſt Fair, and there was no Plaint there begun, and alſo becauſe there is no Judgment of Amercement of the Defendant: Wherefore the Judgment was reverſed. Mich. 3. and 4. Ma. Dyer, 132.

2. In an Aſſiſe brought by the Earl of Arundel, againſt the Lord Windſor. The Plaint was of 13 s. 4 d. of Rent, and afterwards the Plaint was abridged by 20 s. It was holden by the Court, That the ſame was Error, becauſe the Rent is a thing entire, and cannot be abridged as Land and the like. Mich. 3 E. 6. Dyer, 65.

3. Error was brought upon a Judgment given in a Scire facias upon a Recognizance; and becauſe the Writ bore date die ſolis, which is not dies juridicus, the ſame was holden to be Error, and the Judgment was reverſed. Trin. 1 Eliz. Dyer, 168. Barrets Caſe.

4. Error was brought upon a Judgment given in a Writ of Entre in le quibus, which bore date, 13. Feb. 7 E. 6. and it was Returnable Craſtino Purificationis, the ſame year, ſo as the Return was before the Teſte of the Writ, and for that cauſe the Judgment was reverſed. Hill. 5. Ma. Dyer, 135. Marrow and Drews Caſe.

5. In Ejectione firmæ de Decimis garbarum, quidam horreo, et gardino Rectoriæ, Judgment was entred that the Plaintiff ſhould recover the Term to come in Rectoria, horreo, et gardino. Exception was taken to the Declaration and Judgment, becauſe more damages were found then the Plaintiff counted of: And if it was erronious or amendable, is left a Quære, Hill. 9 Eliz. Dyer, 258. See Co. 10. Part, Pilſords Caſe. In Treſpaſs Quare clauſum fregit, the Plaintiff declared to his damage of 40 l. The Jury gave him 49 l. for damages, and 20 s. for Coſts; the Plaintiff did waive the 9 l. for the damages, and preyed but only 40 l. for damages, as he had declared, and demanded Judgment for that, with encreaſe of Coſts, and the Court encreaſed the Coſts to 10 l. In Error brought, It was aſſigned for Error, that the damages and coſts put together, did amount to more then the damages mentioned in the Declaration. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved, That when an Act of Parliament creates, or gives a recompence for a thing where no recompence was before, or gives damages where no damages were given by the Common-Law, there the Defendant ſhall not have coſts and damages alſo: but where a Statute adds but a greater damages, and damages for the ſame was by the Common-Law; there the Defendant ſhall have his damages and coſts. 2. Reſolved, That in ſome Caſes, The Plaintiff ſhall recover more damages then himſelf hath declared of; as in Detinue, he ſhall recover more damages then he hath counted of. Cook 10. Part, Robert Pilſords Caſe, 116, 117.

6. A. was Indicted for being a common Barretor, and the Indictment found, and Judgment given, That he ſhould pay 100 l. Fine, and be impriſoned for two Moneths, and ideo in miſericordia: Upon Error brought to reverſe the Judgment. It was (amongſt other) alledged for Error, becauſe it is, Ideo in miſericordia, where it ought to have bin Ideo Capiatur, being upon an Endictment upon an Offence fineable. But the Record being viewed; The Record is, Ideo Committatur Gaolæ (being) preſent for two Moneths; ſo there needs not an Ideo Capiatur, but where the party is abſent. And for the words Ideo in miſericordia. It was holden by the Court to be but ſurpluſage. But Curia adviſare vult. Hill. 9 Car. in B. R. Chapmans Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 248.

7. Error to reverſe a Judgment in Cornwall in Debt upon Obligation; the Error aſſigned was, becauſe the Iſſue joyned there, was tryed by ſix Jurors only. It was ſaid, it was no Error, becauſe it was returned to be ſecundum Conſuetudinem ibid. à tempore, &c. before uſed; and the Court being by Preſcription, the tryal by the Cuſtome might be by by ſix Jurors. But the Court held, That ſuch a Cuſtome was void, and againſt the Common-Law. Jones Juſtice ſaid, That although in ſome parts of Wales there be ſuch tryalls by ſix; That it is by reaſon of an Act of Parliament. The Judgment was reverſed. Mich. 7 Car. in B. R. Tredymock and Perrymans Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 188.

8. Error of a Judgment in Leiceſter, in an Action upon the Caſe. The Error aſſigned was, becauſe the Style of the Court was, Placitum coram J. S. Majore, and J. C. Recordatore, et J. D. and J. N. Aldermannis Burgi prædict. ſecundum conſuetudinem Burgi prædict. And the Plaint being entred, upon ſummons, a Non eſt inventus was Returned at a Court holden Coram dict. J. S. Majore et J. N. et J. D. Aldermannis ſecundum Conſuetudinem Burgi prædict. (omitting the Recorder) which was alledged to be Error, et coram non Judice. But the Opinion of the Court was, That it was no Error, for it may be, that at the firſt Court holden, the Recorder was there, and at the ſecond Court he was abſent. And the Court is well held by Cuſtome there before the Mayor and Aldermen. Hill. 15 Car. In B. R. Brian and Wikes Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 413.

9. Error of a Judgment in Waſte in the Common-Pleas, becauſe upon the Writ of enquiry of Waſte, 13 Jurors were Returned to be ſworn, where there ought to be but 12. For it is not like other Writs of enquiry of damages, where it is uſual to have more then 12, or a leſſer number at the pleaſure of the Sheriff, for that is but a meer enqueſt of Office. But here it is a Verdict, and in the nature of a Verdict whereof an Attaint lyes; And of ſuch Opinion was the whole Court. Quære, for afterwards it was holden it was good enough. Trin. 9 Car. in B. R. King and Fitches Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 229.

10. Error of a Judgment in Bath, in an Action upon the Caſe for words. Where the Judgment, after the Verdict for the Plaintiff was given for the Defendant, intending that the Action did not lye for the words. And the Entry is, Ideo conceſſium eſt, Quod querens nihil capiat per Billam, which was held a manifeſt Error, for it ſhould have bin Ideo conſideratum eſt. Trin. 11 Car. in B. R. Slocombs Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 319. See Mich. 8 Jac. in B. R. Fuller and Rightwoms's Caſe, acc. Rolſtr. 1. Part, 125.

11. Error upon a Judgment in the Common-Pleas, in Debt upon a Bond to perform an Award. Upon Demurrer, becauſe it was conceived, the Arbitrament was void. Judgment was given for the Defendant, Quod querens nihil capiat per breve. It was aſſigned to be Error, for that the Action was brought by an Attorney by a Bill of Priviledg, which is not an Original; and ſo it ought to be Quod nihil capiat per Billam. It was ſaid to be a manifeſt Error, unleſs it be the Entry of the Clark and amendable. But the Court doubted of it, becauſe it was in the Judgment which is by the Court, and not to be accounted the Entry of the Clark only. Trin. 15 Car. in B. R. Reymond and Barbedges Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 419.

12. Error of a Judgment in the Common-Pleas, becauſe the Plaintiff being an Attorney there ſued an Attachment of Priviledg againſt the Defendant, and Recovered againſt him by Non ſum informatus; and becauſe the Plaintiff did not find Pledges, de proſequendo, and the ſame was certified, and in nullo eſt erratum pleaded, the Judgment was reverſed. Paſc. 11 Jac. in B. R. De la Hay, and Vaughans Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 319.

Eſcape.

1. What ſhall be ſuch an Eſcape, as ſhall Charge the Sheriff, or Gaoler in an Action for the ſame; what not: Where and what Action will lye for an Eſcape; by whom, and againſt whom: And what ſhall be an Eſcape, what not.

1. A. Recovered upon a Plaint in London againſt B. and had him in Execution in Ludgate. A. dyed inteſtate. B. was permitted by the Keeper of the Goal of Ludgate, to go at large into Southwark with J. S. the ſervant of the Keeper, and that by the Commandment of the Keeper. The Adminiſtrator of A. brought Debt againſt the Sheriffs of London upon the Eſcape. It was adjudged by all the Barons of the Exchequer, That it was an Eſcape. And when the Priſoner came into Surrey, he had not any Keeper as a Priſoner for the Debt, for that he that waited upon him in the County of Surrey; could not be Officer to the Sheriffs of London; for the power of every Sheriff doth not extend beyond his own County, unleſs it be in ſpecial Caſes. And it was holden in this Caſe, that this voluntary ſuffering him to go into another County; when the Baſtard ſervant waited upon him there, the party might have an Action of Falſe Impriſonment againſt him. Paſc. 4 E. 3. Plow. Com. Plat and the Sheriffs of Londons Caſe. 36. See 3 E. 6. Dyer, 166. acc.

2. It was holden by the Juſtices in the Kings Bench; That if a man be arreſted by vertue of a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, or a Capias utlagatum after Judgment; and a Reſcous is made at the ſame time, by reaſon of which, the party Arreſted eſcapes, That the Sheriff ſhall be charged for the Eſcape, with the whole Debt, and he ſhall have his remedy over againſt the Reſcouſor by an Action upon the Caſe, Trin. 7 Eliz. Dyer, 241. See 16 E. 4. 2, & 3. But Note, Paſc. 15 Car. in B. R. It was agreed by the Juſtices, That if the Sheriff doth Arreſt a man upon Meſne proceſs, and Return a Capi corpus, and that the Defendant was reſcued, that no Action lyeth againſt the Sheriff; but if the party be taken upon an Execution, and be reſcued. An Action upon Eſcape will lye againſt the Sheriff. See Marſh. Paſc. 15 Car. in B. R. 1. acc.

3 Debt was brought againſt the Sheriffs of London upon an Eſcape of A. and the Plaintiff declared upon an Execution by force of a Recovery, and that the party was in the Priſon of Ludgate ſub Cuſtodia, J. S. and J. D. then Sheriffs in 1 H. 8 and that he ſo continued ſub cuſtodia, J. B. and J. G. in 2 H. 8. and ſo continued ſub Cuſtodia J. N. et J. L. in 3 H. 8. and then was ſuffered to eſcape. J. N. et J. L. pleaded that before the eſcape at ſuch a day anno ſuperius in narratione ſpecificato, the ſaid J. D. and J. S. ad tunc vicecomites, ſuffered him to eſcape. This amongſt other points, was holden to be no good plea, becauſe there was three years ſpecified in the Declaration; and it ſhall be taken, that it was 1 or 3 H. 8. when they were out of Office; and yet it is mearly induced by the ad tunc vicecomites, which ſhall lead the intendment to be of the year in which the Declaration ſuppoſeth that they were Sheriffs: but that ſufficeth not, but the plea muſt be alledged in fact, and therefore the Defendants meaning to diſcharge themſelves by a former eſcape, which was not in their time, but alledg it preciſely, and for want of that, and for other cauſes, it was adjudged againſt the Defendants. See Mich. 3 E. 6. Dyer, 66. Serjant Mynors Caſe.

4. A man was in Execution in the Fleet for a debt recovered againſt him in the Common-Pleas, he being before condemned in the Kings Bench for another Debt, was by Habeas Corpus cum cauſa removed into the Kings Bench. It was holden by the Court, That in this Caſe, he might acknowledg ſatisfaction for both debts in the Kings Bench. That he being in the cuſtody of the Marſhall for both debts; if the Marſhall ſuffer him to eſcape, he ſhall be charged for both the Debts. Mich. 4 Eliz. Dyer, 152. See 14 Eliz. Dyer, 307. acc.

5. The Marſhall of the Kings Bench ſuffered one who was in Execution, to go at large by the commandment of the Chief Juſtice, the Plaintiff agreeing to it, afterwards the Defendant returned to Priſon, and was in Execution again. It was holden in that Caſe, if after he returns again to Priſon, the Marſhall ſuffereth him to eſcape, that an Action upon the Eſcape will lye againſt the Marſhall. Mich. 10 Eliz. Dyer, 275. See 38 H. 8. Dyer, Co. acc. See 11 Eliz. Dyer, 279. acc. Quere of this Caſe; And ſee the Sheriff of Eſſex's Caſe. Hob. 202. where the Caſe was, That a Priſoner having bin in Execution, was willingly let to go out of Priſon by the Goaler, and then came into the Goal again, and ſo remained in the Goal until the time of another Sheriff, and then he eſcaped: Whereupon an Action was brought, and it was adjudged, That the Sheriff or Goaler was not chargeable to this Action: For when the Priſoner was voluntarily let go at large by the Goaler, the Execution was utterly diſcharged, ſo as he could not lawfully be taken again, or adjudged in Execution by Law, although the party would yield himſelf unto it, or the Creditor ſo allow him. See the Sheriff of Eſſex's Caſe, Hob. 202.

6. The Duke of Norfolk being Marſhall of England, and having Authority to make a Deputy, made Gawdy his Deputy, who was ſworn in open Court. Afterwards Gawdy licenſed a Priſoner who was in Execution to go into Norfolk with a Keeper. Debt was brought againſt Gawdy for the Eſcape: and it was adjudged, That although he was but Under-Marſhall; And the Action brought in Middleſex, ſuppoſing the Eſcape at Shoreditch, and not in the County of Surrey where the Marſhalſea is; It was adjudged, That the Action did well lye. Mich. 11 Eliz. Dyer, 278. Gawdyes Caſe.

7. A man was taken in Execution by Bayliffs of a Franchiſe by force of a Warrant upon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, the Bayliffs before the Return of the Writ in B. R. at the requeſt of the Priſoner, brought him in the interim, before the Return of the Writ, into another County; and after the Return, delivered him again at the Priſon of the Kings Bench. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That it was no Eſcape: And the difference was taken, If the Sheriff, or Bayliff of a Franchiſe, ſuffer one who is in Execution, and under their cuſtody, to go out of the Priſon for a time, and then to Return, although that he Return at the time, yet it is an Eſcape; ſo if he ſuffer him to go by Bail, or Paſton, becauſe the Sheriff ought to keep his Priſoner in ſalvo et ſta Cuſtodia. But if the Sheriff hath one in Execution for Debt, and a Habeas Corpus iſſueth to have his body in B. R. at a certain day: The Sheriff before the day, brings the Priſoner to an Inn in Smithfield, and the Priſoner of his own head, maketh an Eſcape into Surrey, which is another County, and the next day comes again to the Sheriff, and the Sheriff at the Return of the Habeas Corpus, delivers him to the Court, the ſame is no Eſcape, as it was adjudged, 31 Eliz. in Charnocks Caſe. In this Caſe, it was alſo Reſolved, That if one in Execution eſcapeth, and flyes into another County; if he be re-taken upon Freſh ſuit, the ſame is no eſcape, becauſe the Sheriff hath done all that he could do, and by his Freſh-ſuit, hath re-taken him before any Action brought: And if the Priſoner be re-taken upon Freſh-ſuit, he ſhall not have Audita Querela to diſcharge him of his Impriſonment, becauſe he ſhall not take advantage of his own wrong. Cook 3. Part, 43. 44. Boytons Caſe.

8. A. was in Execution under the Cuſtody of the Sheriffs of London, at the ſeveral Suits of B. and C. The old Sheriffs of London delivered the body of A. by Indenture to the new Sheriffs, in which the Execution of B. only was mentioned, and the Execution of C. was omitted. A. in the time of the new Sheriffs, makes an eſcape: It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the old Sheriffs ſhould be charged with this Eſcape; For it was Reſolved, That the not delivery of A. to the new Sheriffs in Execution at the Suits of them both, was an eſcape as to one, although that the Priſoner was within the Priſon it ſelf; and untill the Priſoner in Execution be delivered to the new Sheriffs by Indenture, he remaineth in the cuſtody of the old Sheriffs. Cook 3. Part, 71. Weſtbyes Caſe.

9. In Debt upon an Eſcape; It was holden by all the Juſtices, That if a Priſoner in Execution eſcape, and the Goaler make Freſh-ſuit, and before the re-taking, the party bring his Action againſt the Goaler: Now the Goaler may not take the Priſoner as to be in Execution again for the party, but only for his own Indemnity. But if the party doth not bring his Action, then the Goaler may re-take the Priſoner, and he ſhall be in Execution again for the Plaintiff. Hill. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Goldesbr. 180.

10. A man was in Execution for Debt, and brake the Priſon, and eſcaped; and the Sheriff made Freſh-ſuit, and retook him. In that Caſe, it was adjudged, No Eſcape; and in that Caſe, it was Reſolved, That if a Priſoner who Eſcapes be out of ſight, yet if Freſh-ſuit be made, and he re-taken in recenti ſecutione, he ſhall be in Execution again, although that he be taken in another County; and he ſhall not take advantage of his own wrong; but otherwiſe it is when a man eſcapes with the conſent of the Goaler, then he cannot re-take him, and if he doth, the other for his diſcharge ſhall have an Audita Querela. Cook 3. Part, 52. Rigways Caſe.

11. If Traytors be impriſoned under the Cuſtody of the Goaler, and afterwards they break the Priſon, and eſcape, the ſame doth not diſcharge the Goaler, but he ſhall be charged with the Eſcape; but it is otherwiſe of the Kings Enemies, for in the one Caſe he hath his remedy over, but in the other not. See Cook 4. Part, 84. Southcotts Caſe. See 3 E. 6. Dyer, 66. acc.

12. A man was arreſted upon a Latitat for 100 l. the Plaintiff intending upon his appearance, and Bail put in to declare againſt him for the ſame debt, and being Arreſted by the old Sheriff, and left in Priſon, the new Sheriff ſuffered him to go at large without finding ſureties for his appearance. Whereupon he brought his Action upon the Caſe againſt the Sheriff upon the eſcape. Upon Not-Guilty, this matter was found. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff; For this permiſſion to Eſcape, was a juſt cauſe of Action, for by this means the Plaintiff is defrauded or delayed of his Action. Trin. 12 Jac. in B. R. King and Sir Euſebie Andrews's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 380.

13. Action upon the Caſe was brought againſt the Sheriffs of Middleſex, for ſuffering one to eſcape who was Arreſted upon a Bill of Middleſex, for 33 l. who eſcaped. The Defendants pleaded, That after the Arreſt, leading him towards London to the Goal, he was reſcued from their Bayliffs by J. S. and J. D. It was adjudged, That the Arreſt being upon mean proceſs, and not upon Execution, the Sheriffs are not bound to take poſſe commitatus with them, and therefore upon ſuch proceſs, a Reſcous is a good Return, and the Sheriffs or Bayliffs are not chargeable upon an eſcape. But upon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, or Capias utlagatum after Judgment, ſuch Return is no excuſe for the Sheriff, for at his perill he ought to keep his Priſoners taken in Execution, for there the proceſs is determined, and being executed, the party can have no new proceſs; but in the other Caſe, there is not any great miſchief, for the party hath only loſt his proceſs, which he may renew, as alſo have an Action upon the Caſe againſt the Reſcouſſors. It was adjudged for the Defendants. Mo 7; and Proby and Lumleys Sheriffs of Middleſex's Caſe. Paſc. 13 Jac. in B. R. rott. 101. Cro. 2. Part, 419. See before, Caſe 2.

14. In Debt againſt the Marſhall of the Kings Bench; the Plaintiff declared that he recovered againſt Husband and Wife, and had Judgment for 200 l. and the Wife was committed in Execution, and the Defendant 24 Nov. 16 Jac. ſuffered her to go at large, his Debt not ſatisfied. The Defendant pleaded, That ſhe brake Priſon, and he took her 21. Octob. 17 Jac. in Freſh ſuit, and now hath her in Execution. It was ſaid for the Defendant, That the Repriſal being alledged to be before the Plea pleaded was good, and ſhall excuſe the Defendant of the Eſcape, for that upon the matter, it was no Eſcape, when ſhe was taken upon the Freſh-ſuit. 2. Admitting it was no Plea, yet it was ſaid, That the Action did not lye, becauſe the Eſcape is of a Feme Covert, where her Husband is ſubject to the Execution, and ſo the party is not totally deprived of his Debt: And here the ſole and principal Debtor did not eſcape. But it was holden by the Court, That the Plea of the Defendant was not good, becauſe the Action is brought, and implyes a voluntary permiſſion ire ad largum, which is neither denyed, nor traverſed; and if the Sheriff doth voluntarily let a Priſoner at large, he cannot re-take him, and ſo the Repriſal being after the Action brought, is to no purpoſe. 2. It was holden by the Court, That the Action did well lye, or an Action upon the Caſe at the pleaſure of the Plaintiff, becauſe the Wife was only committed to Priſon, and not the Husband, and ſhe is the ſole Debtor who is Impriſoned. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 20 Jac. in B. R. Whiting and Sir George Reynell, Marſhall of the Kings Bench, his Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 657, 658. See by Cook Chief Juſtice, That the Goaler ſhall be charged for the Eſcape of a Feme Covert taken by her body in Execution. Mich. 13 Jac. in Wood and Dr. Saccliffers Caſe. Bolſt. 3. Part, 150.

15. A. having a Judgment againſt B. Mich. 11 Jac. the Rule of the Court was, That B. ſhould pay to A. ſo much money before ſuch a day; and if he failed, then A. ſhould have him in Execution upon the Judgment; B. failed payment, and was taken in Execution by the Sheriff; and being in Executions he ſued an Audita Querela in the Chancery, and upon a ſuggeſtion there made, he obtained an Injunction, and a ſuperſedeas, and the party in Execution was bailed and ſet at large, he not being ſatisfyed his Debt. It was ſaid in this Caſe, That this being done after Judgment and Execution, it ſhall be an Eſcape in Law, and the Sheriff ſhall be charged with it, for the party cannot afterwards be re-taken, being once delivered by order of the Court. Trin. 11 Jac. in B. R. Checo and Bakers Caſe. Bolſt. 2. Part, 120.

16. Stone an Attorney of the Common-Pleas, was in Execution in Norfolk, for 1000 l. He by practice procured himſelf to be removed by Habeas Corpus before Cook Chief Juſtice at the Aſſiſes in Lent, and then eſcaped to London; and in Eaſter Term following, the Bayliff did re-take him: And thereupon he brought an Action of falſe Impriſonment againſt the Bayliff. And the Opinion of the Court was, That the Freſh-ſuit made, was good, although he retook him in the end of the year, if enquiry was made after him. And ſo by conſequence it was adjudged, That the Action of falſe Impriſonment againſt the Bayliff, did not lye. Mich. 8 Jac. in C. B. Stones Caſe. See Godbolt. acc.

17. Action brought againſt the Marſhall of the Kings Bench for ſuffering J. S. who was in Execution for 200 l. to eſcape: And the Plaintiff ſhewed, That he recovered againſt J. S. 200 l. in C. B. And that by vertue of a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum to the Sheriffs of G. they took him in Execution, who in exitu ab eorum Officio by Indenture debito modo confect. delivered him to the new Sheriffs, and that they were amoti ab Officio, and that by vertue of a Habeas Corpus, they Returned Corpus cum Cauſa. Whereupon he was delivered to the Marſhal in Execution, who ſuffered him to eſcape. It was excepted to the Declaration, becauſe it was not ſhewed, That the old Sheriffs delivered him in Execution, with the cauſes of his Impriſonment to the new Sheriffs, for otherwiſe it is no eſcape in the old Sheriffs, and not in the Marſhall, for it may be, He was delivered per indenturam debito modo confectam for other cauſes, and this not mentioned. See Cook 3. Part, 72. Weſtbyes Caſe, and although it be ſaid, virtute cujus, he was in Execution under the new Sheriffs, yet that doth not help it: And of that Opinion was Mountague and Doddridge Juſtices, but the other Juſtices doubted of it. It was then prayed, That the Declaration might be amended, for the truth was, he was delivered in Execution, but being after Judgment upon a Demurrer, it could not be. Mich. 18 Jac. in B. R. Dowſwell and Sir George Reynells Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 587, 588.

18. Debt upon an eſcape for ſuffering J. S. to eſcape, who was condemned in Debt, and Outlawed after Judgment, and removed in B. R. by Habeas Corpus. The Defendant ſhewed, That he never was taken in Execution; and that after he had bin impriſoned for two years, he eſcaped; the Plaintiff demurred; Exception was taken, becauſe the Action was not brought tam pro Domino Rege, quam pro ſeipſo, for ſuffering a perſon Outlawed to eſcape. But the Exception was diſallowed, for that he might bring his Action of Debt for what he hath loſt. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 19 Jac. in B. R. Moor and Sir George Reynells Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 619.

2. Where it ſhall be an Eſcape, where a Priſoner goes at large with his Keeper, by colour of a Habeas Corpus: Where not.

1. UPon a Conference had between the Lord Keeper and the Judges, Whether it ſtood with Law, or was convenient to Grant an Habeas Corpus to the Warden of the Fleet, or Marſhal of the Kings Bench, by their Keepers or others, to have any Priſoner who was in Execution to appear at a certain day the next Term in Court, and ſu-

&c colour thereof, that the Priſoner ſhou'd go at large with his Keeper in the Vacation, or Term time, and return to Priſon at the time appointed. It was Reſolved by all the Judges, That it was not allowable, or juſtifiable by Law; but the Warden, &c. ſhall have only a convenient time to bring the Priſoner into Court, and to carry him back again to Priſon: And that if they ſuffer him to go at large any longer then is convenient (which the Law ſhall judg of), it is an eſcape in them. And to ſuch purpoſes they charged the Warden, &c. that they ſhould not permit Priſoners to go at large upon perill to be charged with Eſcapes. Mich. 1 Car. in C. B. Cro. 1. Part, 9.

2. Whereas in Trinity Term, the Peſtilence encreaſing in London, The Priſoners in the Kings Bench and the Fleet, Petitioned the King for avoiding of the Infection, that they who would give ſufficient ſecurity to the Marſhal or Warden of the Fleet, to be true Priſoners, and to return to Priſon at the dayes to them preſcribed, might go at large by Habeas Corpus for that time. It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices and Barons upon a conſultation thereof had with the Lord Keeper. That an Habeas Corpus was an Ancient and legal Writ, but under colour thereof, the Marſhal or Warden ought not to ſuffer Priſoners to go at large, for that ſuch permiſſion is an eſcape in the Keeper of the Priſon. But for the ſafeguard of the Priſoners, The Marſhall or Warden, by Rule and Licenſe of the Courts, might keep their Priſoners in any other place in the County to be aſſigned by the Courts unto them, but there they ought to be kept as Priſoners ſub ſalva et arcta Cuſtodia, as they ought to be in their proper Priſons. Trin. 12 Car. B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 335, 336.

3. In Debt brought againſt the Sheriff of B. for an eſcape of one J. S. his Priſoner in Execution; It was given in Evidence, That the Goaler of the Sheriff having the Priſoner in Execution in his Goal at A. ſuffered him to walk abroad in the ſaid Town, for the moſt part, with a Keeper. It was directed by the Juſtice to the Jury to find, and ſo they found, that it was an eſcape: For although the Sheriff may remove his Goal from one place to another within his Bailywick, yet he muſt keep his Priſoners within it, and not ſuffer them to go at large out of the Priſon, though himſelf be attending on him, without a Habeas Corpus from ſome Court of Juſtice. And in this Caſe, directions were given to Keepers of Priſons, when they received Habeas Corpus from any Court, to have the body of one in Execution in the Court the next Term, to beware that they do not by colour of ſuch Writs ſuffer the party to go at large all the mean time, for that the Writ warrants no more, but that he be brought out of Priſon only to that purpoſe, and for ſuch time only as the Law ſhall judg convenient, which in privilegiis otioſis muſt be taken ſtrict. Mich. 15 Jac. in C. B. Balden and Temples Caſe. Hob.

4. A man was taken in Execution upon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum by the under-Sheriff, who took mony of him for the Execution, and let him go. The Sheriff dyed, and a new Sheriff being made, and the ſame perſon became Under-Sheriff to him alſo, and procured the Plaintiff to take out a new Capias ad ſatisfaciendum againſt the party, upon which he was Arreſted again, and afterwards eſcaped. The Court was of Opinion, That the new Sheriff was not anſwerable to the eſcape, becauſe the ſecond taking in Execution was not lawfull. Mich. 15 Jac. in C. B. Hob. 202. acc.

3. Where for an Eſcape, an Action of Debt lyeth not, but an Action upon the Caſe, et è contra.

1. IF the Sheriff hath a Priſoner in his Cuſtody for Debt, and ſuffers him to eſcape before the Debt be ſatisfied, he ſhall have an Action upon the Caſe againſt the Sheriff, and yet he may have an Action of Debt againſt him. See Fitzh. Nat. Br. 93. acc. An Action of Debt lyeth for an eſcape; but this is to be ſo taken and conſtrued, when the party in Execution who is to ſatisfy the ſame, is ſuffered to eſcape, otherwiſe Debt doth not lye, but an Action upon the Caſe. To have damages for the eſcape; by Coke. If two be in Execution of Debt, and one of them is ſuffered to Eſcape, Debt lyeth for this Eſcape, 34 H. 6. acc.

2. In Debt for an eſcape; the Caſe was, A. in the Court of Norwich, recovered in an Action upon the Caſe for a Trover and Converſion againſt B. and his Wife, and had Judgment againſt them, and both of them taken in Execution, the Wife was by Habeas Corpus brought to the Kings Bench, and committed to the Marſhall, and being in his cuſtody in Execution, he ſuffered her to eſcape; and for this eſcape, brought Debt againſt the Marſhall. It was the Opinion of Doddridge Juſtice, That the Action would not lye, for that the Wife cannot be in Execution, but the Husband ſhall ſatisfy all, for the Wife hath nothing; ſhe is to be attached by the goods of her Husband; and he vouched the Caſe of Doctor Huſſy, Trin. 9 Jac. in C. B. In a Raviſhment of Ward againſt Husband and Wife, and both found, the Husband only is to make ſatisfaction, and the Wife was out of the Statute of weſt. 2. having nothing of her ſelf. But the Opinion of all the reſt of the Judges of the Court was, That the the Plaintiff had juſt cauſe of Action, and that the Action brought by him againſt the Defendant for this eſcape, was well brought. Paſc. 13 Jac. in B. R. Dr. Suckliff and Sir George Reynell's Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 320, 321, 322.

3. Error was brought of a Judgment in C. B. becauſe the then Plaintiffs brought Debt againſt the Defendant as Sheriff for an eſcape of one J. S. againſt whom they recovered 80 l. as Adminiſtrators of J. D. and that he being in Execution, the Defendant ſuffered him to eſcape; The Error aſſigned was, for that the firſt recovery was as Adminiſtrators of J. D. and the Debt upon the eſcape, is as Executors of J. D. which cannot be, that one ſhould dye Inteſtate, and have Executors. And this Action brought as Executors, diſaffirms the firſt ſuit, which ſuppoſeth he dyed inteſtate. And the Debt upon the eſcape ought alwayes to purſue the firſt Action: Wherefore it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Recovery was erroneous, and the Judgment was reverſed. Mich. 12 Jac. in B. R. Sir Henry Slingsby and Lamberts Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 394.

4. Where a Town or Hundred ſhall be charged with Eſcapes of Felons, or others; Where not.

1. NOte, It was holden by the Juſtices, That for the eſcape of a Murtherer, the Townſhip ſhall be amerced for the eſcape, although it be done in the day time, and although it be done in a Field, or in a Lane, ſo as they could not have convenient notice of it. Hill. 4 Eliz. Dyer, 210. See 21 E. 3. Cowne 238. Dum quis felonice occiſus fuit per diem, niſi felo captus fuit, tota villa illa onerentur. See Cook 11. Part, 43. in Godfreyes Caſe. acc.

2. It was Reſolved upon the Statute of 13 E. 1. of Winchester, That if a man be robbed in his houſe in the day time, or in the night, and the Robber eſcape, the Hundred ſhall not be charged with the ſame; for ſuch Robbery for which the County ſhall be charged, muſt be openly done, ſo as the Country may take notice of it. Cook 7. Part, 6. Sendills Caſe. See, a man was Robbed in January after Sun-ſet, but during day-light. It was adjudged in that Caſe, for the eſcape of the Felon, becauſe it was in a convenient time for men to travail in. Trin. 18 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 7. Part, 6. Aſbpoles Caſe.

3. Note, Theſe points were Reſolved by the Juſtices. 1. That for a Robbery done in the morning ante lucem, the Hundred ſhall not be charged: And the Statute of Winchester doth not extend to Robbery done in the night, becauſe then no purſuit or enquiry can be made after the Robbers. 2. It was Reſolved upon the Statute of Winchester, That if divers commit a Felony, the Hundred ought to take all the Offenders, for if they apprehend one of them, the ſame ſhall not excuſe the Hundred, becauſe the words of the Statute are, Offenders. But now by the Statute of 27 Eliz. cap. 13. No Action lyeth upon the ſaid Statute, unleſs the party robbed ſo ſoon as he may give notice of the Felony, to ſome of the Inhabitants of ſome Town or Hundred where the Robbery was done; and if the ſaid Inhabitants do apprehend any of the Robbers, the ſame ſhall excuſe them. Trin. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 7. Part, 6, 7. Milborns Caſe.

4. The Town of Green in Suſſex, was amerced for the eſcape of a Felon. The Amercement was grounded upon an Inquiſition taken before the Coroner, by whom the eſcape was found. It was moved to the Court, That here was not any ſuch eſcape found, for which the Town ought to be Amerced. For it is found, that he who eſcaped 10 Januarii, 30 Eliz. circa horam quartam poſt meridiem, with a Pitch-fork, mortally ſtruck one A. which A. of the ſaid ſtroke, dyed at eight of the evening of the ſame day night, and that then the other eſcaped; which eſcape being made in the night, the Town by Law ought not to be Amerced, for it is not Felony, untill the party dyeth: It was the Opinion of Wray Chief Juſtice, That it ſhould be hard, that the Town ſhould be Amerced upon this matter; for although the Town in diſcretion might have ſtayed the Offender before the death of the party, yet they were not bound ſo to do. Curia aviſare vult. Paſc. 30 Eliz. in B. R. The Town of Green in Suſſex's Caſe. Leon. 107.

Eſcheat, Eſcheator, and Writ of Eſcheat.

1. Where the Writ lyeth, and for what Lands: By whom, and for whom; and where to be ſued. And where the Writ ſhall be good; Where not.

1. WHere a Tenant in Fee-ſimple doth Felony, for which he is hanged, or abjured the Realm, or is Outlawed, for Felony, Murder, or Petty-Treaſon; or if the Tenant dyeth without Heir general, or ſpecial, there the Lord of whom the Lands are holden, may enter by way of Eſcheat; or if a ſtranger doth enter, the Lord may have againſt him a Writ of Eſcheat, Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 13. Fitzherb. Nat. Brev. 481. acc.

2. A Writ of Eſcheat doth not lye, but upon the dying ſeiſed of every Tenant: And therefore if the Tenant be diſſeiſed, and the Diſſeiſor entreth; the Lord may enter upon the Diſſeiſor, and ſhall not be put to his Writ of Eſcheat. And where the Lord might have entred at the time of his Tenants death, the Lord may enter if he dyeth without Heir. 32 H. 6. 27. Comment on Original Writs, 38.

3. Where the Lord enters by Eſcheat after the death of his Tenant, he who hath title paramount, may enter, becauſe the Lord claims in his Auncient right, and nothing is adjudged in him before entry. But where a Diſcent is to the Heir, it is otherwiſe, for he is in by his Auncеſtor to all Intents, and is adjudged to bring an Action Tenant to all purpoſes; and therefore none can enter upon him. See 37 H. 6 1. acc.

4. Lands ſhall Eſcheat for Felony three wayes. 1. Quia ſuſpenſus per collum. 2. Quia abjuravit regnum. 3. Quia eſt utlegatus; but if a man be hanged by Martial Law, or in furore belli, he ſhall forfeit no Land, and the Lands ſhall no Eſcheat to the Lord. Co. 1 Part, Inſtitutes 13.

5. A man Attainted of Treaſon, or Felony at the Common-Law, had five puniſhments. 1. Quod ſuſpendatur per collum. 2. That his Wife ſhould loſe her Dower. 3. That his bloud was corrupted 4. That he forfeit his Lands to the Lord of whom they are holden by Eſcheat. 5. That he forfeit all his goods and Chattells. But now by the Statute of 1 E. 6. the Wife of a perſon Attainted of Felony, ſhall not loſe her Dower. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 37.

6. Tenant for life of a Mannor, the Remainder in tail, the Remainder in Fee, A Tenant of the Mannor dyeth without Heir; Tenant for life of the Mannor dyeth, the Land ſhall not eſcheat to him in the Remainder, becauſe the Tenant did not hold of him. But if there be Tenant in tail of Land, the Remainder in Fee, and he in the Remainder dyeth in the life of Tenant in tail, and then Tenant in tail dyeth without Heir, in that Caſe, the Land ſhall Eſcheat.

7. If a man be beheaded for Felony, or dye after Judgment, before he be executed by the Officer, the Land ſhall Eſcheat, and the Writ ſhall ſay Quia ſuſpenſus per collum; and it is not material if he be hanged or not; And ſo it is if he be delivered to the Biſhop after Judgment. 34 E. 3. Eſcheat 10. but contrary where he ſtandeth mute. 4 E. 4. 18.

8. Note, where the Tenant is Outlawed of Felony, the Lord hath election to bring a Writ of Eſcheat, ſuppoſing that the Tenant was Outlawed, or that he dyed without Heir, 48 E. 3. 34. See 12 E. 2. tit. Eſcheat. 14. A man abjured the Realm for Felony, and afterwards he returned, and was hanged; and the Lord brought a Writ of Eſcheat, quia fuit ſuſpenſus, and becauſe it was not quia abjuravit regnum, the Writ did abate.

9. A Quare impedit was brought by the King againſt a Clerk within the Biſhoprick of Durham, and declared that the Biſhop who is dead, preſented his Clerk, and that the Clerk dyed; and that the Chapter collated a Cardinal, who was deprived for Miſcreancy, and the Temporalities ſeiſed into the Kings hands. It was holden by Belknap Chief Juſtice, That Miſcreancy was a good cauſe of forfeiture, and that the Lord ſhould have the Eſcheat; and he ſaid, if a man who is out of the Faith of the King ſhall forfeit his Lands, à fortiori he who is out of the Faith of God, ſhall loſe his Lands; and the Lord ſhall have them by Eſchear, and that he ſware to be Law. 5 R. 2. Fitzh. Tryal. 54. vouch. in Carter and Croſts Caſe. Paſc. 27 Eliz. in C. B. Godb. 33.

10. If man commits Felony, and before Conviction, the King pardons him; by this pardon the Lord ſhall loſe his Eſcheat, for the Lord can have no Eſcheat before there be an Attainder, but that is prevented before by the pardon. Hill. 41 Eliz. in C. B. in Smiths Caſe. Owen. 87.

11. In Treſpaſs, the Caſe was, Roger le Strange and Ann his Wife, were ſeized of the Mannor of D. And one I. S. Abbot of C. was ſeiſed of an Acre of Land in Fee, and held it of the ſaid Roger le ſtrange, as of his Mannor of D. 22 H. 7. the Abbot and all the Monks dyed, by which the Land Eſcheated cheated to Roger, and the Manor diſcended to his Heir after his death, who conveyed the Manor of which the Acre was parcel after the Eſcheat to one J. D. in Fee: The Queſtion was in this Caſe, Whether by the death of the Abbot and the Monks, the Land ſhould Eſcheat to the Lord of whom it was holden, or whether it ſhould go to the Donors or Founders. It was objected, and much ſtood upon, That the Lands ſhould go to the Founders and Donors, and ſhould not Eſcheat to the Lord of whom it was holden. As 5 H. 7. If an Annuity be granted to an Abbot in Fee, and the Abbot and all his Monks do dye, the Annuity or Rent is extinct. And ſee Cook 3. Part, in the Dean of Norwiches Caſe, by the death of the Abbot and his Covent, the Corporation is diſſolved, and then the Poſſeſſions ſhall go to the Founders, and ſhall not Eſcheat to the Lord of the Manor of whom the Lands were holden. And by the Statute of 31 H. 8. of Monaſteries, the makers of the Law never meant, that by that Statute any thing ſhould accrue to the Lord by Eſcheat; and therefore they provided only for the Donors or Founders. But it was the Opinion of Hobart Lord Chief Juſtice, to which Windy Juſtice did agree, That by the death of the Abbot and Monks, the Lands ſhould Eſcheat unto the Lords of whom they were holden, and ſhould not go to the Donors or Founders. And Hobart ſaid, That the Writ of Contra formam Donationis was given to the Founder or Donor by Statute-Law, and not by the Common. In the principal Caſe, the Court did adjourn the Caſe to adviſe upon it. Mich. 20 Jac. in C. B. Johnſon and Norwayes Caſe. Winch. 37, 38.

2. Where Lands ſhall Eſcheat or be forfeited to the King upon Attainder of Treaſon; and what Lands: And where the King ſhall have the Eſcheat of Lands holden of other Lords; where not.

1. JURA Regalia were granted to the Biſhop of Durham, in Ed. 2d. his time, with Eſcheats for Treaſon, within a certain precinct. Afterwards the Statute of 25 E. 3. gave all forfeitures for Treaſon to the King. And then the Statute of 26 H. 8. is, That he who commits Treaſon, ſhall forfeit to the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, all Lands in which he hath any eſtate of Inheritance. It was holden by the Juſtices in this Caſe, That the Statute of 25 E. 3. was but an explanation what was forfeited by the Common-Law, and therefore that the grant to the Biſhop was good. But four Juſtices held the grant deſtroyed by the Statute of 26 H. 8. five Juſtices contrary, becauſe there is a ſaving in the Act of Rights to ſtrangers. But it was agreed by all the Juſtices, That Lands entailed, and Lands in the Right of the Church which were not forfeited at the time of the Grant, were now forfeited to the King by the Statute of 26 H. 8. Paſc. 12 Eliz. Dyer, 288.

2. King Henry the 8th; Tenant in tail to him, and the Heirs Males of his body of the Manor of A. by force of a Fine, 3 H. 7. with the Reverſion to him, his Heirs and Succeſſors by force of an Attainder, and Office found by his Letters Patents, gave the ſaid Manor of A. to W. in tail: And afterwards it was enacted by Parliament, that the ſaid Manor of A. (for divers cauſes) ſhould be re-veſted in the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors. Saving to all, their Rights, &c. W. Bargained and ſold the Land to J. S. againſt whom intruſion was brought. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, (amongſt other points) That if Lands Eſcheat to the King by forfeiture of Treaſon, and after the ſame Land is given to another by Act of Parliament, ſaving to all others their Rents and Services, the ſaving is repugnant and void, becauſe they were extinct by the forfeiture, 27 H. 8. br. Parliament, 77. And therefore it was Reſolved in the principal Caſe, That when the Manor of A. is expreſſly given to the King, the general ſaving cannot extend to ſave the eſtate of him who was ſeiſed of the Land. And although that the Grant to W. was good, and he had an eſtate tail in the Land; yet by expreſs words in the Act, the ſame was given to the King. Cook 1. Part, 42. The Caſe of Altonwoods.

3. Husband and Wife, Joynt-Tenants of a Manor, and to the Heirs of the body of the Husband, the Remainder to B. in tail, a Recovery is had againſt the Husband alone, in the life of the Wife with Voucher; He in the Remainder is attainted of Treaſon and executed, and by Parliament it is enacted, That he ſhall forfeit all ſuch Manors, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Reverſions, Remainders, Uſes, Poſſeſſions, Offices, Rights, Conditions, and other Hereditaments, which he had or ought to have in Fee, or in tail, in uſe, or in poſſeſſion the day of the Treaſon committed. The Husband dyeth without Iſſue, the Wife dyeth; the Queen reſtored to the ſon of B. the Manor which ſhe had by the Attainder of his Father; and afterwards the Queen brought a Writ of Error to reverſe the Recovery. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Writ of Error was not given to the Queen by any words of the ſaid Act of Attainder, becauſe the Tenant is in by Title, and the Entry of the perſon Attainted was not lawfull: and a Right of Action is not given to the Queen by any words in the ſaid Act: For this was taken for a Rule, That no ſuch Right for which the party hath no remedy, but by Action to recover the Land, cannot Eſcheat, or be forfeited at the Common-Law. And by a general Act of Attainder, right of Actions were never given to the King, but right of Entries. And it was Reſolved by the Court, That a Right of Action after a Diſcontinuance, Diſcent, &c. where the Entry was not lawful, was not given to the King by any words of the ſaid Act. Note in that Caſe this difference, A Right of Action concerning Inheritances is not forfeit by Attainder. But Obligations, Statutes, Recognizances, and other ſuch things in Action, are forfeited by Attainder, or Outlawry. Cook 3. Part, 1, 2, 3. The Marqueſs of Winchesters Caſe. See 21 Jac. in the Exchequer-Chamber. The Lord Sherſtil'd and Ratcliffs Caſe, acc. Godb. 301, 302, 303.

4. Husband and Wife, Donees in ſpecial tail, the Husband is Attainted of Treaſon, and Executed, having Iſſue; the Wife dyes: It was holden in that Caſe, The Iſſue ſhall not have the Lands, but they ſhould Eſcheat or be forfeited by the Attainder, becauſe the Iſſue ought to make his conveyance by both of them, and from the one he cannot convey by reaſon of the Attainder. Quære this Caſe: For ſee Cook 9. Part, 139. in Beaumonts Caſe, It is agreed, That the Eſtate of the Wife is ſaved, by the Statute of 26 H. 8. cap. 13. Paſc. 16 Eliz. Dyer, 332.

5. Note, it is put for a Rule, That no Lands or Tenements of which the King is ſeiſed, &c. although it be concealed from the King, can be ſaid in Law ſubſtracted, or detayned from the King, for the King cannot be Diſſeiſed, or deforced of any Lands, &c. But if the Kings Tenant be Diſſeiſed, and dyeth without Heir, in that Caſe, the right Eſcheateth to the King, and in ſuch Caſe the King ſhall have the Lands as an Eſcheat. And by a general grant of the King of Lands, ſuch right which the King hath to the Lands by the Eſcheat, ſhall not paſs. See Cook 10. Part, 112.

6. If Tenant in Fee-ſimple of Lands be Attainted of Treaſon, although the Land which ſuch perſon Attainted hath, be not holden of the King, but of a Subject; yet preſently by the death of the perſon Attainted, and without any Office, the Fee and Freehold ſhall be preſently veſted in the King, and ſhall not Eſcheat to the Lord of whom the Land is holden, till Office found; For the Eſcheat of all Lands for High Treaſon, appertaineth to the King only, and to no other, as well of Lands holden of others, as of himſelf, as it is adjudged in Parliament, 23 E. 3. cap. 2. ſo that the Land cannot Eſcheat to the Lord, for Eſcheat in ſuch Caſe is not given to him. Cook 3. Part, 10. in Downies Caſe.

3. For what cauſe Lands ſhall Eſcheat to the Lord: Where Lands which come after Attainder of Felony ſhall Eſcheat; and where the Lord ſhall be barred, by Acceptance of Rents or Services, or otherwiſe; Where not.

1. IF a Copyholder who holds Lands of the Queens Mannor be Attainted of Felony; the Queen ſhall have the Land by Eſcheat, and in ſuch Caſe, the Queens Steward of her Mannor may Grant the ſame over, ex officio, without any ſpecial Warrant, for the Cuſtome of the Mannor doth warrant the Steward to do it, and the Cuſtome ſhall bind the Queen and her Heirs. Cook 4. Part, 30. In Havis and Joyes Caſe.

2. If a Baſtard born before Marriage, entreth and hath Iſſue, and dyeth ſeiſed, it ſhall bar the collateral Heir, and the Lord by Eſcheat as well as the Mulier puiſne. Cook 8. Part, 101. in Lechfords Caſe.

3. If a man be Attainted of Felony by Judgment, the Heirs born after the Attainder ſhall be excluded of all manner of Succeſſion of Heritage, as well on the part of the Mother, as on the part of the Father; and the Lands ſhall Eſcheat to the Lord of whom they are holden; and the reaſon is, For that the Son begotten after Judgment, hath not two inheritable bloods in him, for at the time of the begetting of him, the bloud of the Father was corrupted, and the bloud in reſpect of which he ſhould inherite, being corrupted, the Son hath in him but the half bloud, viz. the bloud of the Mother in him uncorrupted; and therefore ſuch Son ſhall not inherite, but rather the Land ſhall Eſcheat to the Lord. See the Rule for this, Bracton, Lib. 3. cap. 13. Non valebit felonis generatio, nec ad hæreditatem paternam, vel maternam; Si autem ante feloniam generationem fecerit, talis generatio ſuccedit in hæreditatem patris vel matris, à quo non fuerit felonia perpetrata. Cook 3. Part, 40. in Ratcliffs Caſe.

4. A. was Endicted of Felony, and B. as acceſſary in the receipt of A. A. eſſoined himſelf, and was Outlawed; B. was taken, and put himſelf to Tryal, and found Guilty, for which B. was attainted and hanged: And the Lord entred into his Eſcheat. Afterwards A. came and reverſed the Outlawry, and pleaded to the Felony, and was found Not-Guilty, by which he was acquitted: Whereupon the Heir of B. brought a Mort-dauncester againſt the Lord by Eſcheat, who came and ſhewed all this ſpecial matter, upon which there was a Demurrer.

In that Caſe, it was Ruled by the Court, That B. ſhould recover ſeiſin of the Lands, for if B. were alive, he ſhall go acquit by the acquittal of A. becauſe he could not be a Receiver of a Felon, when A. was no Felon. See Tit. E. 1. tit. Mortdauncestor 46. vouch. in Cook 9. Part, 119. in the Lord Sanchors Caſe.

5. Sir Thomas Wyat in conſideration of Marriage of his Son, made a Feoffment, and took back an Eſtate to himſelf for life, the Remainder to his Son and his Wife, which ſhould be in tail; the Marriage took effect, the Father afterwards levyed a Fine to the King of the Lands, and bound him and his Heirs to Warranty, and dyed; the Son was Attainted of Treaſon, and executed, living his Iſſue; afterwards the Queen granted the Lands to a ſtranger in tail, and then reſtored the Wife. It was a Queſtion in 3. Ma. Dyer. 122. If the Iſſue ſhould inherite after the death of his Father againſt the collateral warranty, Fine, and Attainder of his Father by whom he conveyes, which Queſtion is a Quære not Reſolved: Then the Queſtion was between the Pattentee, If the Wife had Right to the entire Remainder, or but to a moyety, and if ſhe might enter upon the Pattentee without ſuit to the Queen; and for the Reſolve of that part, ſee 18 Eliz. Dyer, 351. M. 3 Mary, Dyer, 122. Sir Thomas Wyatts Caſe.

6. If a man hath title to have Lands by Eſcheat. If he do accept homage of the Tenant, he ſhall not afterwards have a Writ of Eſcheat, becauſe he hath accepted him his Tenant; and ſo if he accept Fealty of him, 7 E. 6. br. Eſcheat 18. by Hales, if he do accept the Rent of him, it ſhall not bar him of his Eſcheat. 11 R. 2. Eſcheat 14. acc.

7. Lord and Tenant, the Tenant is Diſſeiſed and dyeth without Heir, the Lord accepts the Rent by the hands of the Diſſeiſor, he is not barred of his Writ of Eſcheat; but contrary, if he avow for the Rent in a Court of Record; or if he hath accepted of Corporal ſervice, as Homage, Fealty, &c. becauſe a Diſſeiſor is in by wrong; But acceptance of Rent by the hands of the Heir of the Diſſeiſor, or of the Feoffee, ſhall bar him of his Eſcheat, becauſe they are in by Title. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 268. acc.

8. The Cuſtome of a Mannor was, That if any Copyholder within the Mannor committed any Felony, and the ſame be preſented by the Homage, that the Lord might take and ſeize the Lands: A Copyholder committed Felony, which was preſented by the Homage; and afterwards he was Erdicted, and by Verdict acquit, and the Lord entred. The Queſtion was, If this Verdict and acquittall ſhould conclude the Lord of his Entry. It was argued, That this Cuſtome is a good Cuſtome; for if a man make a Feoffment in Fee upon Condition, That the Feoffee ſhall not commit Felony, the ſame is a good Condition: And it was ſaid, That if the Feoffee committeth Felony, and the Feoffor entreth into the Land, and after the Feoffee is attainted of Felony; that the Lord by Eſcheat ſhall enter, for that the Statute De quia Emptores terrarum, prohibits any man to make a Feoffment to the prejudice of the Lord, his Wardſhip, or Eſcheat: And where it hath bin objected, That the Offence is againſt the King, and a common perſon ſhall not have the puniſhment of it; To that it was ſaid, That the King ſhould not have any benefit of it, for that he ſhall not have any Eſcheat of Copyhold-Lands for Treaſon, or Felony: On the other ſide, it was ſaid, That the Cuſtome was not good, for that it was too general, viz. That if any Tenant, &c. which doth not exclude Infants. 2. It includes Petty Larciny and Maims, for theſe are Felonies, and 7 H. 7. is, That in Appeal of Maims, a man ſhall count of Felony, and it ſhall be hard a man ſhould loſe his Lands for theſe Felonies. The Court was of Opinion, That the Cuſtome was good, but did not deliver their reaſons of it, but moved the parties to a compoſition. Hill. 7 Jac. in the Kings Bench. Gittins and Cowper's Caſe. Brownlow, 2. Part, 217.

4. How the Eſcheator ought to demean himſelf in taking of Enqueſts, and Return of them: And where tryall ſhall be by examination of the Eſcheator, if Lands be ſeiſed into the Kings hands: And of Eſcheat of Lands in London.

1. IF the Eſcheator by vertue of a Writ directed to him, doth ſeize into the Kings hands the Lands of any perſon who holdeth of the King in Capite, by which the King commits the Wardſhip of thoſe Lands unto another, and he grants them over during the Non-age of the Heir: If the Eſcheator, or his under Eſcheator of his own Authority, returns another Office without Enqueſt, and diſturbeth the poſſeſſion of the ſecond Grantee, he may have an Action of Diſceit, or an Action upon the Caſe againſt the Eſcheator, or his under Eſcheator.

2. In the Caſe of Altonwoods. Exception was taken to the Return of the Office taken, 23 H. 8. becauſe it was found virtute Officii before the Eſcheator in the Chancery, whereas it ought to be returned in the Exchequer: For Offices found virtute brevis returnable in the Chancery, ought to be returned in the Chancery: But Offices found before the Eſcheator, virtute Officii, ought to be returned corned in the Exchequer, to which Court he is properly attendant. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the return of the Office virtute Officii in the Chancery, was good. And it was holden by the two Chief Juſtices and the Court, That the Office was ſufficient to entitle the King, though it never was returned, for if upon examination of the Eſcheator, it appears that he hath ſeiſed the Lands into the Kings hands, it is ſufficient. 30. Aſſ. 5. Cook 1. Part, 42. in the Caſe of Altenwoods.

3. When a man is found Idiot à Naturitate by Office, he who is ſo found (falſly as he ſuppoſeth) may come perſonally into the Chancery before the Chancellor, and pray, that before him and the Juſtices which he ſhall call to him, he may be examined if he be Idiot, or not; and if it be found upon examination that he is no Idiot; the Office found before the Eſcheator, or by the Kings Commiſſion, is utterly void without any traverſe, Monſtrans de Droit, or other ſuit. In an Aſſiſe; If the Tenant ſay, that the Lands are ſeiſed into the Kings hands. It ſhall be tryed by examination of the Eſcheator. See Cook 9. Part, in the Caſe of the Abbot of Strata Mercella. 31.

4. Note, the King may have a Writ of Eſcheat of Lands in London in the Court of Common-Pleas, but that is conceived by his Prerogative to have it in what Court he pleaſeth: But he cannot alter or change the Nature of the Writ, otherwiſe then the Law giveth it to him and others. But if a Forreiner ſueth an Aſſiſe, or other Precipe of Lands in London, the Mayor and Aldermen may demand Conuſans; and if they do not demand it, then the recovery in the Aſſiſe, or other Precipe of Lands in London is good, and ſhall bind. And ſee 50 E. 3. That the King ſhall have a Writ of Eſcheat of all the Lands in London, Comment upon Originall Writs, 118.

5. See Cook 4. Part, in the Caſe of the Warden and Commonalty of Sadlers. The Mayor of London is Eſcheator of the City of London, and an Office found and returned by him is good.

Eſcuage.

1. ESCuage is, where a man holdeth of the King by Knight-ſervice, to which ſervice, Homage, Fealty, and Eſcuage doth belong; and he who holdeth of any Lord by ſuch Service, who holdeth over of the King by the like Services; When the King makes a Voyage Royal againſt the Scots, or againſt the Welch in proper perſon, or by his Lieu-tenant: Then he who holdeth of the King by Knight-ſervice, ought to go in his proper perſon, or find a man to go to War with the King or his Deputy, for 40 dayes at his own Coſts and Charges. And if he doth not find a man to do the Service for him, then he ſhall pay for his default, and not doing of his Service, ſuch a ſum of money as ſhall be aſſeſſed by Parliament: ſcil. For a Knights Fee, ſo much; and for half a Knights Fee, ſo much; and ſo proportionably, according as it ſhall be aſſeſſed by Parliament. But thoſe who do their Services, and go to the War, ſhall not pay any thing. And this ſum of Money is called Eſcuage. i. e. Servitium Scuti. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 83.

2. The Kings of England, to ſuppreſs the diſorders and Rebellions of the Welch-men, invented Scutagium, which was to levy an aid of their Tenants per ſervitium militare to ſuppreſs them tanquam Rebelles, non hoſtes. See Dodderidge in his Book of the Principality of Wales, acc. And note, Litt. ſaith, 2. When the King makes a Voyage Royal, to ſubdue the Scots: See Old Tenures; Eſcuage only lyeth where War is only between England and Scotland, or Wales; for they of right ought to be parcel of England: For if the War be between England and another Realm, the War ought to be at the Kings Charges.

3. There are two ſorts of Voyages Royal; A Voyage Royal in the time of War is, When the King himſelf, or his Lieutenant, or his Deputy goes to the War. And if it be a Voyage Royal or not, ſhall be tryed by the Judges: Voyage Royal in the time of Peace is, When one goeth with the Kings Daughter beyond the Seas to be married, becauſe the ſame is for the profits of the Kingdome. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 69. acc. 3 H. 4. 16. 11 H. 4. 7. acc.

4. If the King ſends his Son, it is a Voyage Royal, 11 H. 4. 7. And ſo it is when the Protector goeth, Fitzh. Nat. Br. 83.

5. The Lord Talbot went with a Company of the men of England into France, when it was under the Obedience of the King of England, and they had protection allowed, 2 H. 6. 16. And ſee, Men of England were preſſed into Guyen, 32 H. 6. 2. And 44 E. 3. 12. into Gaſcoigne with the Duke of Lancaſter. Cook 7. Part, 7, 8. And ſee 3 H. 6. Protection 2. Where a man had the benefit of a Protection, becauſe he was ſent into the Kings wars in Comitiva of the Protector: And Cook in Calvins Caſe, 7. errets, in that he ſaith, They were to do it, Sans wages; whereas the words in any of the ſaid Books, are not, without wages. For it is ſaid by Littleton, 20. 71. 95. If the Scots Rebel againſt the King of England, they ought to go with the King to reduce them to their obedience, and that for 40 dayes at their own Charges, for within ſuch time, they may be ſubdued. But to a Forreign

War, Subjects are not compellable to go with the King, or attend him there without wages. Quære, becauſe by the Statute of 19 H. 7. cap. 1. It ſeems the Lords are bounden to attend the King to war. But note, That that Statute of 19 H. 7. doth extend to Officers and Pentioners only, which are of the Kings gift.

6. Eſcuage certain, is but Servitium Crumenæ, which is but Soccage: by which obſerve, that the payment of mony is more baſe, and leſs profitable for the Common-Wealth, then the ſervice which is done by the body of a man. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 86.

7. A Rent paid for Caſtle-Gard is, ſocage Tenure, but if a ſum in groſs, or other thing be voluntarily paid or given, and voluntarily received by the Lord in lieu of Caſtle-Gard, the Tenure by Knight-Service, doth remain. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 87.

8. The Cuſtody of a Caſtle doth countervail and imply Eſcuage, ſo as the Heir ſhall be in Ward for it. See 19 R. 2. Fitz. tit. Gard. 195. See Cook 4. Part, 88. Lutterells Caſe.

9. If there be Lord, and ſeveral Meſnes, and Tenants, and each of them holdeth by Knight-ſervice; If the Tenant peravail doth the Services, and goes with the King to the War, the ſame ſhall excuſe all the other Meſnes, becauſe for one Land, there can be but one Service demanded, and then the going of the Tenant doth excuſe his Meſne, and ſo the Meſne which is paramount him, becauſe the Service is done by the Tenant. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 84.

10. When before the Statute of Quia Emptores terrarum, the King or other Lords, &c. had given Lands to a Knight, to hold them by Knights-Service, ſcil. to go with the Lord when the King maketh a Voyage-Royal to ſubdue his Enemies, for 40 dayes, well and conveniently arrayed for the War; the Law in that Caſe had ſo much regard to the dignity of Knight-hood, that he might find an able perſon to go for him with the King in his War, and that for two cauſes, one by reaſon of the publick Adminiſtration of Juſtice in the time of Peace, and the other in reſpect of the defence of the Realm in the time of War. Cook 9. Part, 49. in the Earl of Shrewsburyes Caſe.

11. Eſcuage ſhall be apportioned; and ſo Knights-Service which is an entire Service to be done by the body of a man, ſhall be multiplyed by the Alienation of parcel: And although the Lord purchaſeth parcel, the Knights ſervice ſhall not be extinct, but ſhall remain for the reſidue, becauſe it is pro bono publico, and defence of the Realm. Cook 8. Part, 105. in Talbots Caſe.

12. When a Tenant in Fee is to do Eſcuage when it draws Homage to it, but when Leſſee for life doth Eſcuage, it is otherwiſe, 19 E. 3. br. Tenures 68. And ſee 19 E. 1. br. Tenures 86. A man may make a gift in tail, rendring Eſcuage without Homage, but Quære of that.

13. If the Lord hath an eſtate for years, or for life in the Seignory, if he goeth with the King to War, he ſhall have Eſcuage of all thoſe who hold of him by Knights-Service, but if the Lord doth not go, then the Tenant is excuſed. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 84. And ſee 6 R. 2. Gard. 122. he ſhall have the Ward, becauſe it is a profit; and he ſhall have the Eſcuage becauſe it is a Suit-Royal, by Wilby.

14. If the Kings Tenant goes with the Kings Lieu-tenant to the War, or with his Deputy: the Conſtable of the Hoaſt ought to certify the ſame into the Chancery, before the King ſhall have a Writ to levy the Eſcuage: And ſuch Certificate of the Kings Marſhal of the Hoaſt, is not traverſable, and ſhall bind the parties. Cook 7. Part, 14. And if the Tenant agreeth with the King for his going, then the King ought to be certified the ſame in the Chancery by the Treaſurer and Barons of the Exchequer before the King ſhall have a Writ to levy the Eſcuage of the Tenants. 21 E. 4. 17, 2 E. 4. 1. acc.

15. Note, That although Eſcuage incertain be due by Tenure; yet it cannot be aſſeſſed, but by Parliament; And if the Tenant dyeth in exercitu no Eſcuage ſhall be paid. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 72. acc.

16. A man holds Lands by Homage, Fealty, Eſcuage, and ſuit of Court; the Lord hath ſeiſin of the Fealty only: It was adjudged it was a ſufficient ſeiſin of the Eſcuage, and other Services, for the Seiſin of part of any Service, is the Seiſin of the whole. Cook 4. Part, Bevills Caſe. Alſo Reſolved, That ſeiſin of ſuperiour ſervices, is ſeiſin of inferiour Services, which are incident to it, as ſeiſin of Homage, is ſeiſin of Eſcuage. Ibid.

Eſplees.

1. Eſplees is the ſeiſin of the thing, profit, or Commodity of that that is to be taken: As the Eſplees of Common is the taking of the Graſs or Common by the Mouths of the Cattel that have Common there. Of an Advowſon, the taking of the Tythes by the Parſon preſented to the Church. Of a Mill, the taking of the Toll. And in a Writ of Right of Land; or in a Writ of Right of Advowſon, or the like; the Demandant in his Count, ought to alledg, that he or his Anceſtors took the Eſplees of the thing in demand, or elſe the Plea is not good; Explets derivatur venitur de verbo explco; that is, to fill, or to make up, or compleat, or make perfect. For he who hath a Rent, hath not compleat, or perfect, or expleat eſtate in the Rent, untill he hath had ſeiſin thereof; and when he hath ſeiſin, his Eſtate is compleat and perfect, for he hath reaped the Eſplees, ſcil. the fruit and commodity thereof. Cook 6. Part, 58. in Bedimans Caſe.

2. In a Formedon in the Remainder, the Demandant needs not to alledg Eſplees in the Donor but in the Tenant for life, to prove the gift executed: But in a Formedon in the Reverter, Eſplees ought to be alledged in the Donor, and in the Donee, 9 H. 6. 53. So is 50 E. 3. 1, 2. where he demands Fee-ſimple. But if a Grant of a Reverſion upon an Eſtate for life be made to his Anceſtor in tail, there it is ſufficient to alledg Eſplees in the Tenant for life, as it was holden by the Court.

3. In a Writ of Entry in the nature of an Aſſiſe, Eſplees ought to be alledged, for it is a Precipe; but contrary in an Aſſiſe, 21 H. 6. 18.

4. In a Quod ci deforceat, the Plaintiff alledged Eſplees in his Anceſtor, and alſo in himſelf, and it was challenged for alledging double Eſplees, and yet the Writ did not abate, becauſe it was but ſurpluſage. 46 E. 3. 21.

5. In a Writ of Ceſſavit, nor in a Writ of Eſcheat, Eſplees ſhall not be alledged; and the reaſon is, becauſe they claim by no ſeiſin, but by reaſon of the Seignory. 21 H. 6, 22.

6. In a Formedon in the Diſcender, the Plaintiff declared upon a gift and Eſplees in the Great Grandfather in the time of King H. the 6th, and ſhewed in the Conveyance, that the Father of the Defendant dyed within 50 years next, &c. and did not ſhew any Seiſin within that time, nor any of his Anceſtors after the Seiſin in the time of H. the 6th. It was the Opinion of the Court, That a Formedon in the Diſcender was out of the Statute of limitations, 32 H. 8. and was not within any other of the old Statutes of limitations. Mich. 11 Eliz. Dyer, 278.

7. Ceſtuy que uſe in 12 E. 4. deviſed by his Will, his Land in E. to his Son, to have and hold to him and his Heirs for ever: Provided, that if he dye without Iſſue, or the Iſſue fail, living his Executors, that the Land ſhall be ſold by the Executors, and the Executors dyed before the Deviſee: And the Heir of the body of the Deviſor, ſuppoſing the Deviſe to be an Eſtate in tail, brought a Formedon, and ſuppoſed by his Writ and Count, a general gift in tail, And Eſplees in the time of E. 4. and the Tenant pleaded, Ne Dona poſſe. In that Caſe, No exception was taken to the alledging of the Eſplees in the time of E. 4. But the Opinion of the Court was, That it was not any tail, nor any gift of the Land it ſelf. Mich. 19 Eliz. Dyer, 354.

8. Note, per Curiam: In a Quare Impedit, It was ſaid, That if a Biſhop ſuffer an uſurpation, and dyes, the Succeſſor may have a Quare Impedit, or preſent to the next Turn by the Statute of 1 Eliz: So if the Biſhop ſuffers ſeiſin and diſcent by Covin, and conſent, or without Covin, or conſent and dyes, the Entry of the Succeſſor is lawful by the Statute of 1 Eliz. But if a man makes a Leaſe to the Biſhop and his Succeſſors, rendring rent, and for default of payment, to re-enter; and the Rent is behind, and the Leſſor re-enter, and the Biſhop dyes, the Succeſſor is not remedied by this Statute, for that the Leſſor hath good title by the Condition annexed to the eſtate, but if the Rent be ſuffered to be behind by conſent, the Succeſſor ſhall be aided by the Statute, becauſe the Biſhop hath new title as to enter for Mort-main, and doth not enter within the year, and dyes, the Succeſſor ſhall not be helped by the Statute. So if the Biſhop purchaſor of an Advowſon, ſuffers an Uſurpation, and dyes: the Succeſſor ſhall have a Quare Impedit by this Statute, but he cannot have a Writ of Ejectment, for that the Biſhop himſelf cannot maintain this Action for default of Eſplees. Mich. 21 Jac. in C. B. Dalon and Pamplins Caſe. Leon. 81.

Eſtates.

Where a man ſhall have an Eſtate of Inheritance, without the words [Heirs] or [Succeſſors]; Where not: And where a man ſhall not have an Eſtate by Feoffment, Grant, &c. although the word [Heirs] be mentioned in the Deed.

1. IF a Feoffment be made to one et hæredibus, and doth not ſay ſuis, yet it is a good Fee-ſimple, becauſe that none takes by the preniſſes of the Deed, but he who takes by the Habendum, 22 E. 4. 16. 19 H. 6. 73. 7 E. 4. 11. But contrary if a Feoffment be made to two, et hæredibus, for the reaſon of incertainty, they have but an Eſtate for life. See Cook 1. Part, 85. in Corbets Caſe; but if it be in a Deviſe, it is a good Fee to them both, by reaſon of the intent of the Deviſor, 31 H. 8. br. 165. And if Lands be Deviſed to a man and his Aſſigns imperpetuum, he ſhall have Fee: Or if it be deviſed to him in Fee, without ſaying any more, he ſhall have an Eſtate of Inheritance. See Perkins 48. And ſo it is, If a man deviſeth his Lands to one to diſpoſe at his Will and pleaſure, it is a good Fee.

2. In every Caſe where there wants the words [his Heirs]

Heirs] if there be words, to have and to hold to him for ever, and that for a reaſonable conſideration and recompence, it is a good Fee; but that is only to be meant, when the Intereſt paſſeth by the conſideration, without any Ceremony in Law. As in the Caſe of Bargain and Sale, where nothing paſſeth but an uſe; in that Caſe, Conſcience being the directer of the Eſtate, ſaith, That he hath as great an Eſtate in the Land as the other could ſell, 27 H. 8. 8. So is a Deviſe to one paying 10 l. to a ſtranger, the ſame is a good Fee for the conſideration paying. Cook 6. Part, in Collyers Caſe. Otherwiſe it is in Land conveyed by Livery upon conſideration, for there the Livery determines the eſtate of the Grantee, and not the conſideration only. And ſee 1 Eliz. Dyer, 169. where it is holden, That if a man for 10 l. makes a Feoffment to A. and B. to have and hold to them, and their Heirs, to the uſe and behoof of A. and B. imperpetuum, they have but an Eſtate for their lives, notwithſtanding the conſideration expreſſed.

3. A Rent-charge was Granted to one, his Heirs, Executors, and Aſſigns, to the uſe of himſelf, his Executors and Aſſigns, during the life of J. S. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That it was a good Fee. Mich. 6 Jac. in C. B. Whiskeyns and Davies Caſe.

4. The Father enfeoffed the Son, To have to him and his Heirs, and the Son re-enfeoffed his Father as fully, as the Father had enfeoffed him: It was holden in that Caſe, That the Father had a Fee-ſimple without the words [Heirs]. 39. Aſſ. 12.

5. If a gift be made in Frank-marriage, the ſame ſhall paſs the Inheritance in tail, without the words, [his Heirs]. See 12 H. 4. 19. And ſee, Mich. 25 Eliz. in the Common-Pleas; in Web and Potters Caſe adjudged accordingly. Godbolt. 18.

6. A Rent is granted by one Coparcener to another for equality of Partition, it is a good Fee, without words of Grant to her and her Heirs. 29. Aſſ. 23.

7. Every Conuſans of Right, come ceo que il ad de ſon done, is a Fee-ſimple without the word, Heirs; and that by reaſon of the word, Droit. 40 E. 3. 6. 19 H. 6. 17. by Vampage. 30 H. 8. Petty book 146. If Tenant for life levyeth a Fine come ceo que il ad de ſon done, without ſaying any more; it is no forfeiture of his Eſtate.

8. Note, It is taken for a Rule, That when the Anceſtor by any gift or conveyance, takes an Eſtate of Freehold; and in the ſame gift or conveyance, an Eſtate is limitted, mediately, or immediately, to his Heirs in Fee, or in tail, alwayes in ſuch Caſe, the words [his Heirs], are words of limitation, and not of purchaſe; but where an Eſtate is limitted to the Anceſtor, the Remainder to another for life, the Remainder to the right Heirs of the Leſſee for years, there the words [his Heirs] are words of purchaſe. Cook 1. Part, 104. in Sh. Ilyes Caſe.

9. A gift to the King, is a Fee without the words, Heirs or Succeſſors; becauſe the King never dyes, Cook 7. Part, in Calvins Caſe. Plow. Com. the Lord Berkleyes Caſe. &c. See Coo. 6. Part, 27. in the Caſe of Souldiers, &c.

10. If a man be called to the Upper-Houſe of Parliament by the Kings Writ, he is a Baron, and hath an Inheritance in it, without the word (Heirs). But if he be created by Letters Patents, he ought to have the word (Heirs) in his Letters Patents. Coo. 1. Part, Inſtitutes 11, 12.

11. A Feoffment made to Mayor and Comminalty, or other Corporation aggregate, paſſeth a Fee without the word (Succeſſors), and in ſome Caſe a Feoffment to a ſole Corporation without the word (Succeſſors), will paſs a Fee as a Feoffment made to a Biſhop, to have in libera Elemoſina; is a good Fee. 19 H. 6. 74. 20 H. 6. 36.

12. A Copyholder ſurrendred to the Lord his Copyhold, to the uſe of his Wife and his younger Son, without limitting any Eſtate. It was Reſolved, That they had for life only, for aſwell Eſtates as Diſcents ſhall be directed by the Rules of Law, as neceſſary conſequents upon the Cuſtome within the Manner, except there be a ſpecial Cuſtome, that ſibi et ſuis, or ſibi et aſſignatis, may create an Eſtate of Inheritance. Coo. 4. Part, 29. Bunting Caſe.

13. Abbot and Covent made a Leaſe for years, rendring Rent annually during the Term, to the Abbot and Covent, or unto his Succeſſors, upon Condition, if the Rent be behind, to re-enter. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the reſervation in the Diſjunctive, was good, for the Law ſhall make ſuch a conſtruction as may ſtand with the intent of the Law, and of the parties. And it was agreed, That rendring Rent annually during the Term, to him and his Succeſſors, and rendring Rent to him during the Term, or his Executors, is all one if the Rent be reſerved to him and his Succeſſors; and although the words be joynt, and in the copulative; yet by conſtruction of Law, the Leſſor ſhall have it during his life, and his Succeſſors after his deceaſe: And theſe words, to him or his Succeſſors, are words only of explanation; For ſuch reſervation had bin good, being reſerved annually during the Term, within the words, to him and his Succeſſors. But if a Feoffment be made, to have to one or his Heirs, he hath but an eſtate for life, becauſe there wants words precedent to direct the words in the diſjunctive, the ſame Law of a Reſervation to one or his Heirs. Coo. 5. Part, 112. Mallories Caſe.

14. Land was deviſed to Husband and Wife, and after their deceaſe, to their Children, they then having a Son and a Daughter. It was Reſolved, That in that Caſe, the Husband and Wife had an Eſtate but for their lives, with a Remainder to their Children for life, and no eſtate tail, and the intent of the Deviſor ſhall be conſtrued according to the Rules of the Common-Law; and by the Common-Law, if ſuch a conveyance had bin made, the Husband and Wife ſhould have had but for their lives, the Remainder to the Children for their lives. Cook 6. Part, 17. Weilds Caſe.

15. If A. deviſeth Lands to B. and to his Iſſues or Children; and he hath not any Iſſue at the time of the Deviſe, the ſame is an Eſtate tail for the intent of the Deviſor, is manifeſt and certain, that his Children or Iſſues ſhould take; and as immediate Deviſees they cannot take, becauſe they are not in rerum natura, and by way of Remainder they cannot take, becauſe the gift is immediate; and therefore the words ſhall be taken by way of limitation, and ſhall make an Eſtate tail: And a Deviſe to Husband and Wife, and to the Men-Children of their bodies begotten, and they have not any Iſſue at the time of the Deviſe, was adjudged an eſtate tail. See 4 Eliz. in Bendloes Reports, acc. But if a man deviſes Lands to one and his Iſſues, and he have Iſſue of his body living, they have but a joynt-eſtate for their lives. Coo. 6. Part, in Weilds Caſe, acc.

16. Note, It was agreed, That Miſnoſmer of a Corporation in an Act of Parliament, ſhall not make void the Act. For Parliamentum Teſtamentum, et arbitramentum, ſhall be taken according to the minds and intents of thoſe who make them: As if one Deviſe Lands to one for life, the Remainder Sanctæ Eccleſiæ de St. Andrews in Holborn, The ſame is a good Deviſe to the Parſon and his Succeſſors, for ſuch deſcription is ſufficient in a Will to expreſs the Parſon and his Succeſſors. 21 R. 2. Deviſe, 27. Cook 10. Part, 57. in the Caſe of the Chancellor and Schollers of Oxford.

17. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, deviſed the Land to the Father for life, and afterwards to the next Heir Male of the Father, the Father having Iſſue a ſon at the time; the Deviſor dyed, the Father made a Feoffment with warranty, the Son entred, and afterwards the Father dyed. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved, That the Father had but an Eſtate for life expreſſed by the Deviſe; and that his Son being his next Heir Male, could not enter for the forfeiture during the life of the Father. Cook 1. Part 63. Archers Caſe.

18 Note, It was Reſolved by the Court, That if an Eſtate be made to one and his Heirs during the life of J. S. it is but an Eſtate for life upon which a Remainder may depend by the Common-Law. 2. That an Eſtate made to one and his Heirs on the body of J. S. begotten, is an Eſtate tail, and no Fee-ſimple, againſt the Opinion of Aſcough. 20 H. 6. 36. Cook 1. Part, 140. in Chadleighs Caſe.

19. It is Covenanted by Indenture between A. and B. that the Son of A. ſhall marry the daughter of B. for which B. ſhall give to A. 100 l. And A. Covenants, That if the Marriage do not take effect, That A. and his Heirs will ſtand ſeiſed of certain Lands to the uſe of B. and his Heirs, until A. pay the 100 l. to B. his Executors or Adminiſtrators. Afterwards B. hath Iſſue within age; and afterwards the Marriage doth not take effect, the Eſtate is executed in the Heir of B. and ſhall have relation to the making of the Indenture. But if a man Grant his Reverſion of his Leaſe for life to B. and his Heirs; and before Attornment, the Grantee dyeth, no Attornment can veſt it in the Heir of B. for by the Grant, the Eſtate in Reverſion was not bound, but it is to receive its perfection by the Attornment, and the Grantee may, notwithſtanding ſuch Grant, transfer the Reverſion to whom he will. Cook 1. Part, 155. in the Rector of Chedingtons Caſe. See 3. Ma. Br. Feoffments, to Uſes, 59.

20. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, deviſed the ſame to one, and B. his Son, and to the Heirs of B. Habendum for 99. years, and ſo from 99. years, to 99. years, until 300. years were paſt, without impeachment of Waſte, rendring Rent if it was demanded: And Covenanted, That he and his Heirs at the end of thoſe 300. years, would make to the Heirs of the Leſſee ſuch another Leaſe for 300. years, but no Livery was made. The Queſtion was, That becauſe the Fee-ſimple was expreſſed in the premiſes of the Deed, if the limitation in the Habendum for years was void, repugnant, and contrary to the premiſes. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Habendum was not repugnant to the premiſes: and theſe differences were taken; When things take their effect by the delivery of the Deed, and which lye in Grant without any other Ceremony, there in ſuch limitation to one and his Heirs, Habendum for life or years, is void. But when to the Eſtate limitted by the premiſes, a Ceremony is requiſite to the perfection and eſſence of it, and to the Eſtate limitted by the Habendum, nothing is requiſite but only the delivery of the Deed (as in the principal Caſe), there, although that the Habendum be of a leſſer Eſtate then is mentioned in the premiſes, the Habendum ſhall ſtand: And a difference was taken between an Eſtate in the premiſes implyed, and an Eſtate expreſſed. For if A. grant a Rent to B. generally, it is by Implication an Eſtate for life; but if the Habendum be for years, the ſame qualifies the generality of the premiſes. And it was Reſolved in this Caſe, That theſe words

(and

(and to the Heirs of B.), upon the conſideration of the whole Indenture were void; and both Leſſees had a good Eſtate for years. And if Livery had bin made, the ſame had not changed their Eſtate. Cook 2. Part, 23, 24. Baldwins Caſe.

21. A. granted a Rent to F. by Fine Habendum ſibi et aſſignat. durante vita B. Wife of the Grantor; and if it be behind, that it ſhould be lawful for F. and his Heirs, during the life of B. to diſtrein. F. deviſed the Rent, and dyed: The Queſtion was, If the Grantor ſhould detain it as an occupant, or that the Deviſee ſhould have it. It was the Opinion of Dyer, That the Deviſee ſhould have it by reaſon of the clauſe of Diſtreſs, and that the Grantee had a Fee-ſimple in the Rents determinable upon the death of B. the Wife of the Grantee. Trin. 18 Eliz. Dyer, 253. Swinertons Caſe. See Cook 10. Part, 98. Seymors Caſe, acc.

22. If a Diſſeiſor makes a Leaſe for another mans life to one and his Heirs, and the Leſſee dyeth, the Diſcent ſhall not take away the entry of the Diſſeiſee, becauſe he dyed ſeiſed only of the Freehold; and the word (Heirs) was added to prevent the occupancy; for the Heir in that Caſe hath not his Age. Paſc. 16 Eliz. in C. B. Lambs Caſe. Coo. 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 239. So if the Kings Tenant for life be diſſeiſed, and the Diſſeiſor dyeth, the ſame ſhall not take away the Entry of the Leſſee, becauſe the Diſſeiſor had an Eſtate but for the life of the Leſſee, ibid.

23. Husband and Wife, and A. purchaſe to them, and to the Heirs of the Husband and A. A. releaſed to the Husband without enlargement; the Husband and Wife made a Leaſe of all, rendring Rent; the Husband dyed. It was a varded, that the Heir of the Husband ſhould have the moyety of the rent, for that the Releaſe did ennure to the Husband alone, and not to the Wife; and in this Caſe, there needed no enlargement, becauſe he had a Fee; but contrary if the Releaſe had bin made to the Wife, who had but an Eſtate for life. Trin. 9 Eliz. Dyer, 263. See Coo. 1. Part, Inſtitutes 185, & 273. acc.

24. A. Deviſed his houſe in which J. inhabited, to his three Brothers, and his houſe in which B. his Brother inhabited, to the ſaid Brother, and he to pay 10 l. to C. or otherwiſe to remain to the houſe. Provided the houſes ſhall not be ſold, but go to the next of the bloud being Male. It was holden, That this was but an Eſtate tail, and ſhall go to the houſe, and ſhall be conſtrued to be to the moſt worthy perſon of the Family, and being Males, it ſhall be conſtrued in the future time. Paſc. 16 Eliz. Dyer, 333. Chapmans Caſe.

Eſtopel.

1. Where, and by what, and whoſe act, and by alledging of what thing, a party to a Deed, or Record, ſhall be Eſtopped and Concluded; Where not: And where ſtrangers to a Deed or Record ſhall be Eſtopped by it; Where not.

1. AN Eſtoppel is, when a man is concluded to ſpeak againſt his own Act or Deed: As if a man be bounden in an Obligation by the name of J. S. and be ſued according to the Obligation by that name, he ſhall not be received to plead, that he is miſ-named; and that he is named R. S. becauſe it is contrary to his own Deed, of which he ſhall not take advantage, although he ſay the truth. But in ſome Caſe, where the truth appeareth upon Record, there the adverſe party ſhall not be Eſtopped to take advantage, and to alledg the truth which appeareth of Record. If an Impropriation be made after the death of the Incumbent to a Biſhop and his Succeſſors: The Biſhop by Indenture demiſeth a Parſonage for years to begin after the death of the Incumbent, the Dean and Chapter confirmeth it, the Incumbent dyeth; this demiſe ſhall not conclude, for that it appeareth that he had nothing in the Impropriation, till after the death of the Incumbent. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 352. Cook 1. Part, 115. acc.

2. In a Replevin, the Lord paramount avowed for the Services of his Tenant behind: The Plaintiff who was a Leſſee, ſaid, That he held of the Tenant for 10 years; whereas in truth he had a Leaſe for 40 years, and prayed in aid of his Leſſor. It was the Opinion of the Court, That that ſhould not conclude him for the reſidue of the Term after the 10 years expired, for that the number of the years in Aid-preyer, is not material nor traverſable. Alſo the Services and not the Land, were in demand, therefore the Eſtoppel is not for the Land; and matter alledged which is not material nor traverſable, ſhall not Eſtop any party. Paſc. 12 Eliz. Dyer, 289.

3. In Debt brought, the Plaintiff declared for damages recovered in a Writ of Entry; the Defendant pleaded in bar, That immediately after the Recovery, the Plaintiff ſued forth an Elegit, upon which the moyety of the Land was delivered to the Plaintiff. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was a good Plea, for that the Plaintiff was Eſtop-

ped to take out other Execution then that of which he hath made Election upon Record. Paſc. 13 Eliz. Dyer, 299.

4. A Quare Impedit was brought againſt the Biſhop, Patron, and Incumbent: the Ordinary pleaded, he claimed nothing but as Ordinary; and upon Iſſue joyned by the others, it was found for the Plaintiff, and Judgment was given by the Juſtices of Niſi prius, and a Writ awarded to the Biſhop. Afterwards the Record was remanded in banco; whereupon a new Writ was awarded to the Biſhop. The Biſhop returned, that depending the Quare Impedit, a title was found for the King by Office, by reaſon of minority of the Plaintiff his Ward; and that the King preſented J. S. of whom the Church was full. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Biſhop was not Eſtopped by the Judgment to make this return, for that the ſame did not amount to any plea of Plenarty; and if the return be falſe, the Plaintiff may have Quare non admiſit againſt the Biſhop. Paſc. 9 Eliz. Dyer, 260. Baſſets Caſe. See Cook 6. Part, 52. in Boſwells Caſe.

5. A man granted a Rent-charge out of Lands, without the words pro ſect hared. ſuis, and dyed, the Grantee brought a Writ of Annuity, and declared againſt the Heir of the Grantor; afterwards he diſcontinued his ſuit, and diſtreyned for the Rent. It was holden, That the diſtreſs was lawful, and that he was not Eſtopped by bringing the Writ of Annuity of the Diſtreſs, nor the Land diſcharged of the Rent. Mich. 18 Eliz. Dyer, 344.

6. A man priviledged in Chancery, was ſued in the Common Pleas in an Action of Debt to the Exigent. Afterwards he brought a general ſuperſedeas. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That he was Eſtopped, and had loſt the advantage of his Priviledg, becauſe it recited his appearance. But if he had firſt ſued his Writ of Priviledg, although ſued after to the Exigent, yet it ſhould have bin allowed, and he ſhould have had a ſpecial ſuperſedeas. Paſc. 29 H. 8. Dyer, 33. Hill. 4 Car. in the Exchequer. Crew and Baron Vernons Caſe, adjudged acc.

7. A. brought an Appeal of Murder againſt M. O. Spinſter, of the death of her Husband, whereas the Defendant was Gentlewoman. The Court held it not to be a ſufficient addition. But the Court held to plead that matter in abatement of the Writ, becauſe ſhe had purchaſed a ſuperſedeas upon it was not good; Wherefore ſhe pleaded, Not-Guilty. Tr. 7 E. 6 Dyer, 82.

8 A man was bounden in an Obligation upon Condition, to ſtand to the award of J. S. ſo as the award be put in writing before Mich. the Obligor before Mich. revoked the power of J. S. to make any award. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved, 1. That when a man is bound to ſtand to the Arbitrament of J. S. he may afterwards countermand it, for a man by his act cannot give ſuch a power or authority which is not countermandable. But then, 2. It was Reſolved, That the Bond became ſingle and without any Condition, and that the Obligee ſhould take advantage of it. 1. Becauſe the Obligor broke the words of the Obligation. And 2. Becauſe the Obligor by his own act hath made the Condition to become impoſſible, and therefore he ſhall be concluded and Eſtopped by it. Coo. 8. Part, 83. Vyneors Caſe.

9. Note, It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, 1. That if a man be barred in a perſonal Action, as Debt, acc. &c. the bar is perpetual; But if a man be barred in an Action real, by Judgment upon Demurrer, Verdict, Confeſſion, the ſame is no ſuch Eſtoppel, but that he may have an Action of a higher nature, becauſe the ſame concerns Freehold and Inheritance. 2. Reſolved, That if the Demandant or Plaintiff miſtake his Action, and the Tenant or Defendant pleadeth a plea, which goes to the Action of the Writ, If the Plaintiff in ſuch Suit be Non-ſuit, or his plea be diſcontinued, he is not concluded, but he may bring his right Action. But if the plea be but to the Writ, although it be adjudged againſt the Demandant, or Plaintiff upon a Verdict or Demurrer; yet he may maintain the ſame Writ again, for that the Judgment doth extend but to the Writ. Cook 6. Part, 8. Ferrers Caſe.

10. If Partition be made by Writ, it ſhall not be defeated, although the parts are not equal, becauſe the Judgment in Partition is, That the Partition ſhall ſtand good for ever: But Partition made by Writ out of the Chancery directed to the Eſcheator, where one is of full age, and ſueth Livery, and the other within age, and hath an unequal part allotted to him, ſhall not bind him at his full age; contrary if his part be equal. See Coo. 1. Part, Inſtitutes 171. And ſee 6 E. 6. Dyer, 73. If the Sheriff return the Partition made by 12 lawful men, the parties ſhall be concluded by it, and cannot ſurmiſe an inequality in it, to have a new Writ.

11. If a man be bounden to pay mony at a day, and place certain, and he pay it before the day, and at another place, by acceptance he is diſcharged. And if in ſuch Caſe, he ſhould plead payment according to the Obligation at the ſame day and place; Yet the Jury is not bounden to find for him, becauſe the truth is otherwiſe. Paſc. 5 Eliz. Dyer, 213. See Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Plymptons Caſe. Godbolt. adj. acc.

12. A man brought an Appeal of the death of his brother, againſt J. S. of M. as principal, and

F. as acceſſary, whereas the name of the Principal was T. S. The acceſſary pleaded, Nul tiel in rerum natura as J. S. the day of the Writ brought, nor ever after. It was the Opinion of the Court, That although there be another J. S. in another County, if he be not in the ſame County where the Town of M. is, or if he dye before the Writ brought, the Plea is good. And in that Caſe, that in ſuch Caſe in favorem vitæ, a man may traverſe the return of the Sheriff, and ſhall not be concluded by it. See 20 H. 6. 23. Hill. 18 Eliz. Dyer, 349. acc.

13. A man having two ſons; And A. and B. two Daughters, gave his Land to his eldeſt Son in tail, the Remainder to his younger Son in tail, the Remainder to A. his eldeſt Daughter, and her Heirs. Tenant in tail in poſſeſſion, levyed a Fine with warranty, he in the Remainder in tail dyed without Iſſue; Tenant in tail in poſſeſſion dyed without Iſſue, the warranty diſcended upon both Daughters, as Siſters, and Heirs. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Heir of A. ſhould be barred for the whole Land. And in this Caſe, A difference was put betwixt a Collateral warranty and Eſtoppells: For a Collateral warranty doth bar the right of him who doth not claim by him who maketh the warranty. But an Eſtoppel doth bar the Heir of him only who claims the right to whom the Eſtoppel was; but in the principal Caſe, the Warranty and Eſtoppel did both deſcend upon the general Heir, to him who made the warranty or Eſtoppell. And in that Caſe alſo a difference was taken betwixt Eſtoppells which ſtood upon recompence, and Eſtoppells which ſtood upon admittance of any matter of Record: As if an Abator doth enter-marry with the right Heir, and hath Iſſue by her; And the Abator makes a Leaſe for life rendring rent, and he and his Wife dye. In this Caſe, the Iſſue hath the meer right in the right of his Mother; yet if he accepteth the Rent, and maketh an acquittance, the ſame ſhall Eſtop him and his Heirs to avoid the Leaſe, in reſpect of the acceptance: But an Eſtoppel which accrues by admittance of Record, ſhall not conclude the Heir who doth not claim the right by the ſame Anceſtor. Cook 8. Part, 54. Syms Caſe.

14. Debt by an Adminiſtrator upon an Obligation; The Defendant pleaded, That the Inteſtate dyed before the date of the Obligation: So Non eſt factum. It was found, That the Deed was delivered in the life of the Inteſtate, and that the Inteſtate dyed before the date of the Deed. In that Caſe, it was adjudged, That it was his Deed; for although that the Obligor in pleading, cannot alledg the delivery of the Deed before the date, becauſe he is Eſtopped to take any averment againſt a thing expreſſed in the Deed: Yet the Jurors who are ſworn ad veritatem cannot be Eſtopped thereby, becauſe they are ſworn to ſpeak the truth. But the Jurors cannot find any thing which the parties have affirmed, or admitted, for they are not charged with any thing, but with thoſe only in which the parties do differ. See Cook 2. Part, 4. Goddard's Caſe.

15. If an Enfant levy a Fine, and declares the uſe thereof, this Declaration ſhall bind him ſo long as the Fine remaineth in force, for inaſmuch as he hath bin admitted by the Judges as a man of full age to levy a Fine, the Law ſo long as the Fine remaineth in force, permitteth him to limit the uſe thereof. Cook 2. Part, 58. in Berkwith's Caſe.

16. A Woman had Lands conveyed to her for her Joynture, ſhe after the death of her Husband, entred ſecretly into the Lands, and afterwards ſhe brought a Writ of Dower, intending to have her Joynture and Dower alſo. In that Caſe, it was adjudged, That by the bringing of the Writ of Dower, ſhe Eſtopped her ſelf to claim any Eſtate in the Land conveyed unto her before, for thereby ſhe ſecretly agreed, that ſhe had not agreed to any Eſtate made to her before for a Joynture. Shay and Purſlots Caſe adjudged, vouch. in Co. 4. Part, 5. in Vernons Caſe.

17. A. who had nothing in the Lands, by Indenture Leaſed the Lands to B. for certain years. Afterwards A. contra Indenturam ſuam præditam, entred upon B. In an Ejectione firmæ brought, the Jury finding, That A. had nothing in the Lands at the time of the Leaſe made. If the ſame ſhould be a good Leaſe by Eſtoppel, againſt A. was the Queſtion. It was the Opinion of Periam and Anderſon Juſtices, That this was a good Leaſe by Eſtoppel betwixt the parties; and the Law will not permit a man to ſay any thing againſt his own Deed, being Indented, nor any matter contained in it. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Sutton and Dickons Caſe. Leon. 287.

18. A. Leaſed Lands to B. for years, and before the expiration of the ſame Term, leaſed the ſame Lands by Indenture to a ſtranger to begin preſently. A. brought an Action of Waſte againſt the ſecond Leſſee, and declared upon a Leaſe made for years, without ſpeaking of the Indenture. It was demanded of the Court, If the Defendant plead, That the Plaintiff had nothing tempore dimiſſionis, whereof he had counted, If the Plaintiff might Eſtop the Defendant by the Indenture, although he had not declared upon it; and if ſuch Replication were not a departure. And it ſeemed to the Court, and alſo to the Preignothories, That it was not becauſe it is not contrary to the Declaration, but rather doth enforce the Declaration. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Lewis. 220.

19. A man made a Leaſe for years of Land to begin at Mich. after rendring rent; the Leſſee entred before Mich. The Leſſor brought debt againſt the Leſſee, and recovered. The Queſtion was, If the Leſſor might put him out as a Diſſeiſor by reaſon of the recovery in the Action of Debt: Or if the Leſſor dyeth, Whether his Heir ſhall be Eſtopped by the Record, to ſay that he is in otherwiſe then by Leaſe. It was the Opinion of the Court, That by the bringing of the Action of Debt, the Leſſor himſelf was concluded, and that it ſhould bind his Heir alſo, becauſe the Recovery is by Record, which is the ſtrongeſt concluſion that is. Paſc. 3 Car. in B. R. Green and Moodyes Caſe. Godbolt. 384.

20. Tenant for life, the Remainder in Fee; Tenant for life made a Leaſe for years, the Leſſee entred; Tenant for life granted Tenementa prædict. to C. the Leſſee for years attorned, C. entred, and made a Leaſe at Will, to whom the Tenant for life levyed a Fine come ceo, &c. he in the Remainder entred. It was in this Caſe, amongſt other points, agreed, That the Fine levyed to the Tenant at Will, was a forfeiture, and that the Tenant for life and the Tenant at Will ſhould be Eſtopped to ſay, that partes finis nihil habuerunt, and that of all Eſtoppels of Record which trench to the diſinheritance of thoſe in Remainder, they ſhould take advantage of them, although they be not parties to it. Co. 2. Part, 55. Bucklers Caſe.

21. One was bound in an Obligation, That he would give to J. S. all the goods which were Deviſed him by his Father. In Debt brought upon this Obligation; It was holden by the Court, That the Defendant was Eſtopped to plead, that he had not any goods Deviſed unto him, becauſe the Bond ſhall conclude him to ſay the contrary. Mich. 8 Jac. in C. B. Cullingworth's Caſe. Godbolt. 177.

22. If he in the Reverſion ſuffer a Recovery to uſes. It was holden by the Court, That his Heir cannot plead, That his Father had nothing in the Land at the time of the Recovery, for he is Eſtopped to ſay that he was not Tenant to the Præcipe. And therefore it was holden, That the Recovery was good againſt him by Eſtoppel. Paſc. 3 Jac. in C. B. Duke and Smiths Caſe. Godbolt. 147.

23. A. and B. were bound in a Bond, joyntly and ſeverally, to J. S. who brought Debt upon the Bond againſt B. in the Common-Pleas, and had Judgment. And afterwards he brought another Action of Debt againſt A. in B. R. Afterwards he ſued forth Execution by Elegit upon the firſt Judgment againſt B. and had his Land in Execution, B. being Leſſee only for the life of another man, who dyed. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices in this Caſe, That J. S. might in this Caſe ſue A. and B. ſeverally, and might chuſe his Execution againſt which of them he pleaſed: But could not have Execution by Elegit againſt them both. And therefore, although that by the death of B. the Land was evicted out of the hands of J. S. yet now he could not take out a new Execution againſt A. becauſe by the firſt Execution he had determined his Election, ſo as thereby he had concluded himſelf to take forth a new Execution againſt the other. Paſc. 12 Jac. in C. B. Cowley and Legatts Caſe. Godbolt. 257.

24. The Cuſtome of a Mannor was, That if any Copyholder committed any Felony, and it be preſented by the Homage, that the Lord might ſeize the Land: A Copyholder committed Felony, which was preſented by the Homage; Afterwards the Copyholder was Endicted, and by Verdict acquit, and the Lord entred upon the Land. There were two Queſtions in the Caſe. 1. If the Cuſtome were good. 2. If the Verdict and acquittal ſhould conclude the Lord of his Entry. It was Reſolved That the Cuſtome might be good, and have a lawful beginning. It was argued for the ſecond point, that this Verdict and acquittal ſhould not conclude the Lord, becauſe the Lord is a ſtranger, and in every Eſtoppel, there ought to be matter of Eſtoppel which ſhall bind the right; and it is hard, that this Verdict given perhaps upon faint Evidence ſhould bind, &c. But of this point, the Court did not deliver any Opinion, but moved the parties to a compoſition. Hill. 7 Jac. in B. R. Giuins and Cowpers Caſe. Brownl. 2. Part, 219.

2. Where the party to a Fine levyed, his Heirs, &c. or others, ſhall be Eſtopped, by a Fine levyed; or by a common Recovery: and where not. And where the Wife and her Heirs ſhall be Eſtopped by the Act of her and her Husband done during the Coverture, and where not.

1. LAnds were given to Husband and Wife, and to the Heirs of the Husband, the Husband conveyed the Lands in tail, and dyed; The Wife recovered the Lands againſt the Donee by a Cui in vita, ſuppoſing ſhe had the Lands to her and her Heirs in Fee, and after the Recovery, enfeoffed another, and dyed, the Donee in tail dyed without Iſſue: The Iſſue of the Husband and Wife brought a Formedon in Reverter againſt the Feoffee of the Wife. In this Caſe (amongſt other things), it was Reſolved, That although the Iſſue was Heir to the Wife, and thereby Eſtopped by the Recovery in the Cui in vita, to ſay, that the Wife had a leſs eſtate then a Fee-ſimple; yet the Iſſue who claimed the Reverſion of the Lands as Heir to the Husband, ſhould not be bound by that Eſtoppel made by the Wife, although he was Heir to her alſo. Coo. 8. Part, 53. Sims Caſe.

2. Husband and Wife, Tenants in tail, had Iſſue two Sons; the Husband and Wife made a Feoffment to the uſe of her ſelf for life, and after her deceaſe, to the uſe of the Heirs of the body of her Husband begotten, the Remainder in Fee to J. S. Afterwards ſhe and the youngeſt Son levyed a Fine of that with Warranty of the Wife and her Heirs; the Conuſees rendred to the Son for 60 years, rendring Rent, and then Granted the Reverſion to the Wife, and the Heirs of her body, and of the body of her Husband begotten, the Remainder in Fee to J. S. the eldeſt Son entred, the Wife dyed; the youngeſt Son claimed the Leaſe. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the younger Son had no Title, becauſe by the Entry of the Eldeſt Son, as for a forfeiture at leaſt, all other Eſtates were avoided. Hill. 2. Mar. Dyer, 111. Cowards Caſe.

3. Tenant in tail levyed a Fine with Proclamations; there was Error in the Proclamations of the Fine. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Error in the Proclamations was no cauſe to reverſe the whole Fine; but that it ſhould ennure as a Fine at the Common-Law, and that the Fine ſhould notwithſtanding ſtand in force, and make a Diſcontinuance. See Trin. 4 Eliz. Dyer, 216. See Mich. 5 Eliz. Plow. Com. Fiſh and Brokets Caſe. &c.

4. Tenant in tail of Lands, levyed a Fine ſur Conuſans de droit come ceo, &c. of it, and took back an Eſtate to him and his ſecond Wife. It was holden by the Court in this Caſe, That the Iſſue of the firſt Wife was Eſtopped, and could not aver continuance of Poſſeſſion againſt the Fine which is a Feoffment upon Record, and a Diſcontinuance. Quære if it were a Fine, ſur Conuſans de droit tantum. Paſc. 16 Eliz. Dyer, 334.

5. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, by Deed gave the ſame to B. and E. his Kinſwoman, and to the Heirs of their bodies begotten: They had Iſſue C. and D. B. dyed: E. married J. S. And afterwards E. and J. S. her Husband, made a Feoffment of the Lands to C. J. S. dyed, E. re-entred; C. levyed a Fine of the Lands ſur Conuſans de droit come ceo to the Defendant. Afterwards E. of thoſe Lands enfeoffed her younger Son D. C. entred, and enfeoffed the Defendant; the Cozen and Heir of A. entred, and let to the Defendant for years. D. entred upon him, and enfeoffed J. N. the Leſſor of the Plaintiff: the Queſtions in this Caſe, were firſt; Whether this was a gift within the Statute of 11 H. 7. for if it be a Joynture within that Statute, then the Feoffment by E. to her ſecond Son D. was a forfeiture, of which C. and his Conuſee might take advantage. It was Reſolved, That it was not a Joynture within that Statute. 2. It was Reſolved, Admitting it was a Joynture within that Statute, yet as this Caſe was, neither the Heir, nor the Conuſee ſhould take advantage of the forfeiture by the alienation to the younger Son. For when the Heir is enfeoffed by the ſecond Husband and the Wife, and the Husband dyeth, and the Wife entreth, ſhe defeats that Eſtate: And when the Heir levyed a Fine to the Defendant, that Fine gave no Intereſt, but only by Eſtoppel, becauſe the Heir had nothing at the time of the Fine, nor the Conuſee; yet the Heir hath given his right to the entail, and concluded himſelf that he cannot enter; And the Conuſee cannot enter, becauſe he hath nothing but by Eſtoppel, and no Reverſion. And therefore it was ſaid, there was a difference betwixt this and Sir George Browns Caſe. There the Heir in tail had a Reverſion in Fee expectant, and by his Fine gave that Reverſion to the Conuſee, ſo he had the Reverſion of the Eſtate of the Conuſee, and might well enter in reſpect of the prejudice; but he hath not ſo in this Caſe. Hill. 3 Jac. in the Kings Bench, rott. 1161. In an Ejectione firm, Ward and Walthews Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 173, 174.

6. A Mortgagor made a Leaſe for years by Indenture, and afterwards performed the Condition, and made a Feoffment, the Leſſee for years entred upon the Feoffee, who re-entred, and the Leſſee brought Ejectione firme. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That this Leaſe which did ennure by way of Eſtoppel, ſhould bind the Feoffee, for all who claim under the Eſtoppel, ſhall be bound thereby. Mich. 15 Car. in B. R. Edwards Caſe. Marſh. 64.

7. Note, It was ſaid in Cook 2. Part, 56. in Bucklers Caſe. And in Coo. 6. Part, 70. in Henry Finches Caſe, That if the Diſſeiſee levy a Fine to a ſtranger, that the Diſſeiſor ſhall hold the Land for ever. For the Diſſeiſee againſt his own Fine cannot claim the Land, and the Conuſee cannot enter, and the right which the Conuſor had, cannot be transferred to him, but by the Fine, the right is extinct, of which the Diſſeiſor ſhall take advantage. But Quære of that Caſe: For it was holden by Reeve and Crawley, Juſtices, That it ſhall not give right to the Diſſeiſor, becauſe that the Fine ſhall ennure meerly by way of Eſtoppel, and Eſtoppells bind only privies to them, and not ſtrangers; and therefore the Diſſeiſor ſhall not take benefit of it: And therefore they did conceive, That the Diſſeiſor ſhould not take benefit of it; and that the Opinion before in Bucklers Caſe, was not Law. Mich. 15 Car. in C. B. Godbolt. 105.

8. In an Ejectione firme brought in the Common-Pleas: the Defendant pleaded in Bar a Recovery had in the Kings Bench againſt the Leſſor of the Plaintiff. It was moved, that it was no bar, no more then in Treſpaſs. But the Opinion of the Court was, That it was a good bar, and this is more then in an Action of Treſpaſs, for in this Action, he ſhall recover his Term. It was objected, That the Plaintiff is but Leſſee to him who was barred, and it is not betwixt the parties themſelves. To which the Court anſwered, although it was ſo, yet he claimeth by the Leaſe of him which was barred. Anderſon Chief Juſtice, ſaid; I know he ſhall not plead it by way of Eſtoppell, but he ſhall conclude Judgment ſi actio: the Court was clear of Opinion, That he ſhould be barred. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Clayton and Lawſons Caſe. Goldsbr. 43.

9. Mich. 29 Eliz. in the Common-Pleas. It was moved, Whether if a Leaſe be made to a man of his own Land by Deed Indented, if this be an Eſtoppel. It was ſaid by the Court, That if the Leaſe be made for life by Indenture. It ſhall be no Eſtoppel, becauſe the Leaſe takes effect by the Livery, and not by the Deed. See in Coo. 5. Part, in Rowlins Caſe. Londons Caſe vouched to be adjudged, 33 Eliz. That if a man takes a Leaſe for years of his own Land by Deed Indented. It is not any concluſion, but during the Term; and after the Term ended, the Leſſor cannot enter, and hold the Land, for that by the determination of the Term, the Eſtoppel is alſo determined. See Coo. 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 47. acc.

10. A Woman had an Eſtate in ſpecial tail made by her Husband for her Joynture, ſhe and her Husband had Iſſue a Son, the Husband dyed, the Wife took a ſecond Husband, and ſhe and her Husband alliened the Land in Fee, the Son within age, entred by colour of the Statute of 11 H. 7. the ſecond Husband dyed; the Lord of whom the Land was holden, entred upon the Son, and claimed the Wardſhip of him. It was holden in this Caſe, That he ſhould not be in Ward, becauſe he was in by purchaſe during the life of the Wife. Then it was moved, if the Wife contrary to her own allienation by Fine, might enter. It is a Quære in 20 Eliz. Dyer, 362. See Cook 3. Part, 62. in Lincoln-Colledg Caſe. And ſee the Statute. For it ſeems by a Proviſo in the Statute, That the Wife may enter, but it doth not ſpeak of Fines.

11. A Recovery was ſuffered by Husband and Wife, of Tenements in London, which by the Cuſtome binds as a Fine at Common-Law, which Recovery was to the uſe of the Recoverors, &c. untill they made a Leaſe for 40 years, and after to the uſe of the Husband and Wife, and the Heirs of the Wife; the Leaſe was made, the Husband dyed, It was holden by the Court, That the Wife ſhould be concluded, and ſhould not avoid this Leaſe, but ſhall hold under the Recovery, ſo as the Leaſe precedes her Eſtate. But Quære what remedy ſhe hath for the Rent, becauſe the Rent was reſerved before her Eſtate by the uſe was created. Trin. 12 Eliz. Dyer, 290. See Coo. 2. Part, 57. in Berkwithis Caſe. See 2 Eliz. Dyer, 187.

12. A Woman had a Joynture made to her after marriage by her Husband. Afterwards the Husband and Wife levyed a Fine, ſur Conuſans de droit come ceo, &c. It was holden by the Juſtices, That this was no bar of her Dower, becauſe the Election is not given to the Wife to have her Dower or Joynture, till after the death of her Huſband. Trin. 19 Eliz. Dyer, 358. acc.

3. More concerning Eſtoppells: How far they ſhall Bar and bind the Eſtates thereby; and whoſe Eſtates; Where not. Of what force they are; and divers Rules concerning Eſtoppells.

1. IN Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was. A. and K. his Wife were Tenants in ſpecial tail, the Reverſion in Fee to A. A. dyed, B. the Son of A. and Iſſue in tail, by his Deed Indented in the life of K. his Mother, made a Leaſe for 40 years to J. S. to begin after the death of K. rendring rent, and dyed: Afterwards the Reverſion came to C. who in the life time of K. levyed a Fine ſur Conuſans de droit come ceo, &c. with her Husband of the Land, to J. D. K. dyed. The Conuſee of C. entred, the Leſſee of B. re-entred, and being ouſted by the Conuſee, brought the Action. The Queſtion in this Caſe was, Whether the Conuſee by Fine with Proclamations, ſhould avoid this Leaſe for years made by the Heir in Reverſion, who was inheritable to both the Eſtates, ſcil. the Eſtate tail, and the Fee-ſimple. It was ſaid, That he in the Reverſion was heir in tail, and not only heir apparent, but he was actually ſeiſed of the Fee-ſimple, and the Deed Indented by him made, did operate by way of Concluſion. He had a good eſtate to charge the Poſſeſſion whenſoever the ſame ſhould come unto him, and by this he doth charge the Intereſt, and the right of the Reverſion; and ſo it was ſaid, it was a good Leaſe by way of Eſtoppel againſt himſelf, and a good Leaſe by way of Eſtate and Intereſt out of the Reverſion. The Caſe was not Reſolved, but adjourned; and afterwards ended by compoſition. But in this Caſe, It was ſaid by Cook Chief Juſtice, That if C. the Daughter had entred, and accepted of the Rent, ſuch acceptance ſhould not have made the Leaſe good. Mich. 10 Jac. in B. R.

Byrington.

Errington and Errigton's Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 43, 44, 45, 46.

2. Tenant in tail had Iſſue two Sons, the eldeſt had Iſſue a daughter and dyed, his Wife young with Child of a Son, Tenant in tail ſuffered a common Recovery to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of J. S. for 21 years, and afterwards, to the Heirs Males of his body begotten; and preſently after the Judgment, and before Execution, the ſame day that the Recovery was had, Tenant in tail dyed; afterwards the Recovery was executed, and then the Son was born. It was ſaid in this Caſe (amongſt other points debated), That Execution could not be ſued againſt the Iſſue in tail, becauſe the Iſſue was in per formam doni before the Recovery, and ſhould avoid all mean charges done by his Auncеſtors; and therefore he being in per formam doni before the bar was compleat, execution could not be ſued againſt him. And ſee, there many Caſes put, where the Iſſue in tail ſhall not be barred by matter of Eſtoppel done by his Auncеſtor. But it was the better Opinion of the Juſtices, That Execution might be ſued againſt the Iſſue in tail, becauſe that the right of the entail was bound by the Judgment given againſt Tenant in tail, and the Judgment to have recompence over in value; and that in favour of common Recoveries, which are common aſſurances of the Lands. Coo. 1. Part, 96. Shelleyes Caſe.

3. Tenant in tail, the Remainder in tail, he in the Remainder, Bargained and ſold his Remainder to A. for the life of Tenant in tail, the Remainder to the Queen in Fee. Tenant in tail ſuffered a common Recove y; and afterwards dyed without Iſſue. It was in this Caſe (amongſt other points) Reſolved, That the common Recovery did bar the eſtate tail, and the eſtate in the Remainder, although the Remainder was in the Queen, becauſe the Eſtate tail was not within the Statute of 34 H. 8. of the gift of the Queen, or any of her Auncеſtors. Coo. 3. Part, 3. The Marqueſs of Winchеſters Caſe.

4. A. Tenant for life of Land, the Remainder in tail to B. the Reverſion to B and his Heirs expectant; B. levyed a Fine to C. and D. and to the Heirs of C. to the uſe of them and their Heirs, and had Iſſue and dyed before all the Proclamations paſt; the Iſſue being beyond Sea, the Proclamations paſſed; afterwards the Iſſue Retorned and made his claim. It was adjudged, That the Iſſue in tail was barred by the Fine and Proclamations paſt. And that the Iſſue in tail being Heir and Privy, could not by any claim which he cou'd make, ſave the Eſtate tail which deſcended unto him, for that the ſavings within the Statutes of 4 H 7. and 32 H. 8. did extend to ſtrangers, and not to privies or parties. Cook 3. Part, 86. in the Caſe of Fines.

5. In a Fermedon in the Diſcender brought of the Moyety of a Manor; the Defendant pleaded in Bar, That the Grandfather of the Demandant levyed a Fine, ſur Conuſans de droit come ceo, &c. with Proclamations of the Moyety of the ſaid Manor, by which Fine it was granted and rendred to the Grandfather and his Heirs, whoſe Eſtate he the Tenant in the Formedon had. The Demandant replyed, That at the time of the Fine levyed, and after, the Demandant was ſeiſed of the Land in his Demeſne, as of Fee. It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That the Demandant being Heir in tail againſt ſuch Fine levyed by his Auncеſtor, whoſe Heir he is, was Eſtopped to aver his ſeiſin and continuance thereof in a ſtranger at the time of the Fine levyed, nor to aver quod partes finis nihil habuerunt. Againſt which, it was objected. 1. That by the Statute of Donis, it is provided, Quod finis ipſo jure ſit nullus. 2. That the Statute of 27 E. 1. of Fines, doth not extend to Heirs in tail, but to Heirs in Fee; and that Iſſues in tail are not bound by Fines which ennure by way of Eſtopel. 3. That the ſaid Statute extends to Fines rite levatis, and that a Fine is not rite levatus when partes finis nihil habuerunt. To which it was anſwered and Reſolved, That the Iſſue in tail is not excepted in thoſe Statutes, and therefore is bound by the very Letter of the Acts. 2. That although the Iſſue in tail was not bound by any Fine by his Auncеſtor, until 4 H. 7. yet in ſuch Caſe, he was ouſted to aver, quod partes finis nihil habuerunt being privy as Heir to him who levyed the Fine firſt. And 3. That a Fine may be ſaid rite levatus, although partes finis nihil habuerunt, and it may be rite levatus, though it be a Fine meerly by concluſion. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B Zouch and Bamfields Caſe. Leon. 75. to 85. See the ſame Caſe. Coo. 3. Part, in the Caſe of Fines.

6. Debt upon an Obligation, the Condition was, That if the Obligor pay, or cauſe to be paid yearly to the Obligee, his Heirs, Executors, or Aſſigns, the Rent or ſum of 20 l. at Michael. and the Annunciation, according to the true intent and meaning of certain Articles of Agreement Indented, made between the parties of the ſame date, that then, &c. The Defendant ſhewed the Articles which were thus, ſcil. That the Plaintiff the Obligee had deviſed to the Defendant all ſuch Tenements in Y. of which he ſaid Plaintiff then had an Eſtate for life by Copy: Copidies excepe, according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor of Y. And pleaded, That at the time of the making of the ſaid Articles, The Plaintiff had not any Eſtate in Y. for Term of his life, or by Copy, ſcil Copidies, and demanded Judgment, if Action. It was holden by Popham, That the Defendant cannot plead, That there were not any ſuch Articles contrary to that which is ſpecially compriſed in the Condition. So if a man be be bound to pay a Rent of 10 l. per annum reſerved upon an Indenture of Demiſe made of Lands in D. at ſuch a Feaſt: he cannot ſay, There was no ſuch Demiſe made, nor no ſuch rent reſerved, but is Eſtopped of the one and the other. And Hil. 3 Eliz. A man was bound to pay to A. or the Obligee all ſuch ſums of Mony as T. S. deceaſed, ſtood bound to pay by his Obligation to A. and of one R. P. to the uſe of the Children of ſuch a one, according to the Will of the ſaid party. In Debt brought, he ſaid, That T. S. was never bound in any ſuch writing to the ſaid A. and R. P. &c. to pay pro uſu filiorum. It was Reſolved by the Court, to be no good bar, becauſe he is Eſtopped to deny the ſpecial matter, which is matter in writing, and not matter in fact. Mich. 39 Eliz. in B. R. Strowd and Willis's Caſe. Poph. 114. 115.

7. Tenant for life, and he in the Remainder, joyn in a Leaſe for years by Deed Indented, the Leſſee is ejected, and brings an Ejectione firme, and declares upon the Leaſe of Tenant for life, and he in the Remainder. It was adjudged in that Caſe againſt the Plaintiff, for it is only the Leaſe of Tenant for life during his life, and the Indenture cannot be any Eſtoppel, becauſe that an Intereſt paſſeth from both; and when an Intereſt paſſeth from the party, it cannot be an Eſtoppel againſt him. Hill. 44 Eliz. in C. B. Ellis and Chowns Caſe. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 45, 46. acc.

8. Note by Hobart Chief Juſtice, That warranties and Eſtoppells do alwayes diſcend upon the Heirs general, as being to ſimple Heirs. If there be a Warrantor, and he hath Lands in Gavel-kind, the eldeſt Son ſhall be vouched alone, but the Tenants may alſo vouch the others for the Poſſeſſion. 32 E. 3. tit. Voucher, 94. that the Heir general ſhall take advantage of ſuch Warranty, and no other except he come in as vouched by Poſſeſſion with the true Heir. Alſo Eſtoppels fall upon the Heirs at Common-Law. And the Daughter which comes in by Poſſeſſio fratris, ſhall eſcape an Eſtoppel of the Father. If I convey Lands which I have on the part of the Mother, or in Burrough Engliſh, unto J. S. and his Heirs, without conſideration, the uſe ſhall be void, and ſo the Land ſhall return again to me and my Heirs, on the part of the Mother, or in Burrough-Engliſh as before, for the Law doth conſtrue the uſe in the ſame eſtate and quality as the Land is. But if I do declare the uſe to me and my Heirs, and upon ſuch a Feoffment, reſerve a Rent to me and my Heirs, it ſhall go to my Heirs at Common-Law, for it is not within the Cuſtome, but is a new thing divided from the Land it ſelf. Hill. 10 Jac. in C. B. in Cunden and Clarks Caſe. Hob. 31.

9. In Treſpaſs for breaking his Cloſe, the Defendant pleaded, That before this, he had brought an Ejectione firme againſt the Plaintiff, and recovered, and had Execution, Judgment if Action. It was holden by the Court, That the ſame was a good bar, and that the Concluſion of the Plea was good, Judgment if Action, without relying upon the Eſtoppel. Mich. 32 Eliz. in C. B. Kempton and Coopers Caſe. Leon. 313.

10. A. Tenant for life of a Mannor, the Remainder to B. his Siſter of two parts thereof for her life, the Remainder of the third part to his ſaid Siſter, and the Heirs of her body, the Remainder over. B. the Siſter by Indenture, enrolled, bargained, and ſold to A. all her moyety, part and parcel of the ſaid Mannor. A. afterwards ſuffers a Recovery of the Moyety of the ſaid Mannor with voucher of B. It was held in this Caſe, amongſt other points. 1. That it was a good Recovery of the entire third part, and not of the moyety of the third part. 2. That if one hath intereſt only in a third part of a Mannor, and ſuffers a Recovery of the moyety. It is good for the third part. 3. That whereas one makes a Leaſe for years by Indenture, and hath nothing in the Land, and afterwards purchaſeth the Land, and allieneth it, although it be a good Leaſe by way of Eſtoppel againſt him, and his allienee by way of pleading, yet it ſhall not bind the Jury, but they may find the truth; and if they find the truth, the Court ſhall adjudg it to be a void Leaſe. Paſc. 4 Car. in C. B. Iſeham and Morrices Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 77.

11. In Covenant the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant by Indenture, demiſed and granted the Lands to him for 20 years, and that J. S. entred upon him, and evicted him by a rightful Title. The Defendant pleaded a plea with an Inducement to a Traverſe, abſq; hoc, that it was paſſed by vertue of a Leaſe. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices in this Caſe, that upon the words (Demiſe and Grant) without any other words, Covenant did well lye, and the Leaſe by Eſtoppel is a good Leaſe to ground ſuch Action upon, upon an Eviction. And that the bar with a traverſe, that he was not poſſeſſed by vertue of a Leaſe, was no plea, againſt the Leaſe by Indenture, which is an Eſtoppel. Tr. 3 Jac. in B. R. Style and Hennings Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 73.

12. In Dower, the Tenant pleaded, Ne unq; ſeiſi que Dower: The Wife ſaid, that her Husband made a Leaſe for life by Deed Indented, long time before the Coverture, ſaving the Reverſion to himſelf, and demanded Judgment againſt the Deed: and it was holden a good plea, though a ſtranger to the Deed. As if a man make a Leaſe for life, and afterwards grants the Reverſion by Fine, who bringeth a Quid juris clamat againſt Tenant for life, who ſaith, that the Grantor had nothing in the Tenements; The Grantee may ſay, That the Leaſe Leaſe was made by Indenture ſhewed, who Granted the Reverſion, Judgment, &c. Mich. 3 H. 4. 6. acc.

13. In an Aſſiſe, the Tenant ſaid, That the Land was parcel of the Mannor of B. which was Auncient Demeſne; and a Fine was pleaded betwixt the Plaintiff and the Tenant of the Land in the Kings Court. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the ſame ſhould bind the Tenant, although there was no tranſmutation of poſſeſſion, becauſe it is a Judgment which makes the Land Frank-Fee; but the Lord, and a ſtranger, are not bound by it; And in the principal Caſe, the Lord was one of the Defendants, and becauſe he pleaded by Baylie, and did not take the Tenancy upon him, It was holden, That the ſame ſhould not Eſtop him in a Writ of Diſceit brought to reverſe the Fine, to make it Auncient Demeſne again. See 21 E. 3. Auncient Demeſne 17.

14. In an Aſſiſe, one accepted the Tenancy upon him, and ſaid that the Land is holden of E. as of his Mannor of B. which Mannor is Auncient Demeſne, and hath bin impleaded by Writ of Droit-Cloſe, time out of mind, &c. and pleaded to the Juriſdiction of the Court. The Plaintiff ſaid, That the Land was pleadable at the Common-Law, time out of mind, &c. without that, it had bin pleadable within the Mannor. The Tenant maintained, That the Land was holden of the Mannor which is Auncient Demeſne. It was holden by the Court, That the Defendants plea was not good, for it ſhall not be intended, that the Land is of other condition then the Mannor is, for it cannot be Frank-Fee, without ſpecial matter ſhewed, as by Fine, Feoffment, or the Kings Charter. And in a Writ of Droit-Cloſe brought in the Mannor, the Tenant ſhall not remove the Plea upon a ſurmiſe, that the Land is pleadable at the Common-Law, without ſhewing ſpecial matter, which may be tryed by Record, or by Jury. See 3 H. 6. 17. Auncient Demeſne, 2.

15. In a Writ of falſe Judgment, the falſe Judgment was Aſſigned, becauſe the Demandant brought a Writ of Droit-Cloſe in the Court of the Lord, in which the Plaintiff recovered and ſued Execution, and he ſaid, that the Land was holden by the Rod, and the Freehold in the Lord, in which Caſe he ought to have ſued by Bill, and not by Writ. It was holden, That the ſame cannot be reverſed by Error, for that thereby the Tenant ſhould be reſtored to the Freehold which he loſt not, and ſo deveſt the Freehold out of the Lord, when he himſelf had ſhewed that the Freehold was in the Lord, ſo as he cannot have falſe Judgment. For although he hath the Inheritance according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor, yet the Freehold is in the Lord, which is proved in this, That when the Tenant will allien his Land, he ought to ſurrender the ſame into the hands of the Lord in Court, but of other Lands it ſhall not be ſo, for that they paſs by Livery to the Feoffee. And the uſe to ſue for theſe Lands by Writ of Right-cloſe, is not good, but by Bill. H. 14 H. 4. 34. acc.

16. A. and B. were joyntly and ſeverally bound in an Obligation to J. S. who brought Debt againſt both: and afterwards J. S. entred a Retrait againſt B. It was ſaid, That it was a diſcharge of A. becauſe it amounteth to a Releaſe. But it was holden, That it was not a Releaſe, but Quaſi a Releaſe, and goeth only by way of Eſtoppel, and becauſe it is but in the nature of an Eſtoppel, the other ſhall not take advantage of it. Paſc. 17 Car. in B. R. Pays and Dennis's Caſe.

17. If an Enfant at full age maketh a defeaſance of an Obligation made by him within age, he ſhall not be Eſtopped to avoid it by way of Enfancy. So it is of an Obligation made by Durreſſe; And afterwards a Defeaſance is made by Indenture, the ſame ſhall not Eſtop the party to ſay, that it was made by Durreſſe. 35 H. 6. acc.

18. Note, In every Eſtoppel, privity is required, for it ought to be reciprocal, ſcil. to bind both parties; and therefore regularly, a ſtranger ſhall never take advantage, nor be bound by an Eſtoppel. But privies in bloud, as the Heir; Privies in Eſtate, as the Feoffee, Leſſee, &c. Privies in Law, as the Lord by Eſcheat; Tenant by the Curteſy, Tenant in Dower, the Incumbent of a Benefice, and others that come under by Act of Law, or in the Poſt, ſhall be bound and take advantage of Eſtoppels. Coo. 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 352.

19. Concerning Eſtoppels, Note theſe Rules. 1. Eſtoppels ought to be reciprocal, and bind both parties, and all privies in bloud, eſtate, and in Law ſhall take advantage, and be bound by Eſtoppells. 2. An Eſtoppell ought to be certain to every intent, and ſhall not be taken by argument, or reference. 3. Every Eſtoppel ought to be a preciſe affirmative of that which maketh the Eſtoppel. 4. A matter alledged, which is not traverſeable, nor material, ſhall not Eſtop. 5. A man ſhall not be Eſtopped by his acceptance before his title accreweth. 6. Eſtoppel againſt Eſtoppel ſhall put the matter at large. 7. Matter alledged by way of ſuppoſal, in Counts and Declaration, do not conclude after Non ſuit, but contrary after Judgment. 8. When the truth is apparent in the Record, there the adverſe party ſhall not be Eſtopped to take advantage of the truth. 9. When the Record of the Eſtoppel runs unto the diſability or legitimation of the party, there all ſtrangers ſhall take advantage of that Record, as of Outlawry, Excommengement, Profeſſion, Baſtardy, Mulierity &c. But of a Record concerning the Name, Quality, or addition of the party, no ſtranger ſhall take advantage of it, or be bound by it. See Coo. 1. Part, Inſtitutes 352. for theſe Rules.

or

Eſtovers.

1. ESTovers, is ſometimes taken for allowance in Meat, and Cloath. See Stat. of Glouceſter. 6 E. 1. cap. 4. If a man let his Land to Fee-ferm, or to find Eſtovers in meat, or in Cloath, amounting to the fourth part of the very value. Set Raſtall, tit. Ceſſavit, fol. 55. But commonly Eſtovers are taken to be an allowance, or a profit apprender, to be taken in Wood, or other things upon Lands; and under the name of Eſtovers, are comprehended, Housbote, Ploughbote, Fireboote, Cartboote, Hedgboote, &c.

2. If a man hath reaſonable Eſtovers in the Wood of another to be taken by view and delivery of the Baily of the Manor; If he taketh the Eſtovers without view, or delivery, he is a Treſpaſſor, although he taketh leſs then he ought to have by the delivery of the Baily. But if a man demandeth his Eſtovers, and the owner of the Wood, or his Baily, will not deliver them; he may have an Aſſiſe of the Eſtovers. See Coo. 5. Part, 25. in Sir Thomas Palmers Caſe.

3. At the Common-Law, a man could not have a Writ of Aſſiſe, Quod diſſeiſivit eum de libero Eſtoverio. See Temps. R. 2. Grants, 104. But now ſince the Statute of Weſtm. the words de proficuo in certo loco capiendo, do extend to Eſtovers, and a man ſhall now have an Aſſiſe of them, de libero tenemento. And ſee 15. Aſſ. 13. where the writ was general de libero tenemento, & to have reaſonable Eſtovers in 300 Acres of Wood, Sc. Houſebote, Heybote, &c. See Coo. 8. Part, 48. in Jehu Webbs Caſe.

4. If a man hath Common of Eſtovers in the Wood of another in Fee, or for life, and the owner of the Wood, or any other, cutteth down all the Wood, he who ought to have the Eſtovers, ſhall have an Aſſiſe, for that it is a Diſſeiſin of his Common. And if he hath but a Term in the Eſtovers, then he ſhall have but an Action upon the Caſe. See Fitz. Nat. Br. 158, 159. See Coo. 9. Part, 112. Robert Maryes Caſe. And ſee Hill. 5 Jac. in C. B. Barnolph and Kippings Caſe, there vouched accordingly; for the Action upon the Caſe.

5. If a man have Common of Eſtovers in my Wood, ſo many loads by the year certain, or elſe uncertain, as much as he ſhall ſpend in fires, or repairs of his houſe. If I ſtub up this Wood, ſo as there neither is, nor will be any Wood again; yet the party ſhall have an Aſſiſe from year to year of his Common of Eſtovers, for that the Inheritance of the Common of Eſtovers doth remain notwithſtanding that there are no Eſtovers; and he ſhall recover a Seiſin of thoſe Eſtovers which are not in being, and alſo damages, not according to that that it now yields, but according to the value that it yielded Communibus annis, though it were incertain. See by Hobart Juſtice. Mich. 10 Jac. in C. B. in Cowper and Andrews Caſe. Hob. 43.

6. If a man hath Eſtovers to his houſe, either by Grant, or by Preſcription, although he altereth the Rooms, or Chambers of his houſe, as to make a Parlour, where it was a Hall, or the Hall where the Parlour was, and the like alterations of Qualities, and not of the houſe it ſelf, and without making of new Chimneyes, by which no prejudice doth accrue to the Owner of the Wood, it is not a deſtroying of the Preſcription. And although he buildeth new Chimneyes, or maketh a new addition to his old houſe, by that he ſhall not loſe his Preſcription, but then he cannot imploy or ſpend any of the Eſtovers in the new Chimneyes, or in the part newly added. See Cook 4. Part, 87. in Lutterells Caſe.

7. If a man hath Common of Eſtovers to his houſe, and ſuffer his houſe to fall down, he cannot now claim the Eſtovers. And if he bring an Aſſiſe of the Eſtovers, the Defendant in this Caſe may plead, Nul tort, nul diſſeiſin; and the Plaintiff ſhall not have Judgment with a ceſſat executio till he hath re-edified his houſe; but the Plaintiff ſhall be barred; for at the time of the Action brought, he had no right of Eſtovers, but yet the ſame is not a perpetual bar, for the Eſtovers are only ſuſpended: And if he re-edify his houſe in the ſame place, he ſhall have his Eſtovers again. Coo. 4. Part, Lutterells Caſe, acc. And ſo if he had pulled down his houſe, and built it up again, Tamen Quære. If he bring an Aſſiſe, or Quod permittat for his Eſtovers where his houſe is down, and Judgment be paſſed againſt him, if he ſhall not be barred finally. Hob. 39, 40.

8. In Treſpaſs brought by a Copyholder: It was alledged, That the Cuſtome of the Manor of A. was, That all Copyholders within the Manor have uſed to take Wood for houſebote, heybote, et pro ſigno Combuſtibili in dicto Tenemento; and that ſufficient Wood was not left upon the Tenement for Houſebote; and that thereupon he cut down an Oak, and the Lord came and took it, and carried it away, for which the Plaintiff being a Copyholder, brought Treſpaſs againſt the Lord. In that Caſe it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That of Common right, without a Cuſtome or Preſcription, Trees growing upon the Copyhold Lands, do belong to the Copyholder for reparation, and that he may take them to that purpoſe, without alledging a Cuſtome. 2. Reſolved, That the Lord cannot take all the Trees upon the Copyhold, without leaving ſufficient for the Copyholder, if there be not a ſpecial Cuſtome ſo to do. 3. That if a Copyholder hath uſed by Cuſtome to take Trees for reparation of his Copyhold; that if he cutteth Trees to that purpoſe, and the Lord taketh away the Trees. That Treſpaſs lyeth by the Copyholder againſt the Lord. 4. That a Preſcription, that the Tenants may take Wood pro ligno combuſtibili in their Tenements, is a good Preſcription. Paſc. 8 Jac. in C. B. Heyden and Smiths Caſe. Godbolt. 173. See Brownl. 2. Part, 329. the ſame Caſe, acc.

9. In Treſpaſs for cutting of Trees, the Defendant juſtified by Preſcription to have Eſtovers for repairing of the houſes, and for the building of new houſes upon the Land. It was alledged, That the Preſcription to have Eſtovers for the building of new houſes, was unreaſonable. But it was the Opinion of the Court, That the Preſcription was good: For that one may Grant ſuch Eſtovers at this day; and by the ſame reaſon, there may be a Preſcription for them, although it was objected, that then he might cut down all the Wood, and deſtroy it; but notwithſtanding, It was adjudged for the Defendant. Paſc. 2 Jac. in B. R. Cro. 2. Part, 33. The Counteſs of Arundell and Steers Caſe.

10. If Eſtovers be granted to be burnt in ſuch a houſe, the Eſtovers ſhall go to him that hath the houſe, by whatſoever title he hath it, becauſe the one is an inſeperable incident to the other, 12 Eliz. in C. B. adjudged acc. See Finch. 78. acc. And ſee Trin. 15 Jac. in the Common-Pleas. It was adjudged, That if I have Eſtovers in Land, and cut down the Eſtovers, and a ſtranger taketh away the Eſtovers: I ſhall have and maintain an Action of Treſpaſs againſt him that taketh them away, although he have Common of Eſtovers there alſo. Spilmans Caſe. Brownl. 1. Part, 44. acc.

11. The King Granted Turbariam ſuam in D. to J. S. rendring rent upon a Leaſe made for 21 years, the Leſſee imployed part of it in Arable Land, and left part of it in Turbary. Afterwards the Succeſſor King granted totam illam Turbariam demiſed to J. S. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That that paſſed only which was Turbary, and that the other part which was converted into Tillage, did not paſs. Mich. 23 Eliz. in C. B. Farrington and Charnocks Caſe. Owen. 67.

Eſtray and Waife.

1. What ſhall be ſaid to be Eſtray; and what Waife; and in whom the property of them is, and where.

1. ESTray is, when any Beaſt, Horſe, Mare, or other Cattel, is within any Lordſhip and Manner; and none knoweth who is the Owner thereof, then it ſhall be ſeiſed to the uſe of the King, or to the uſe of the Lord of the Manner, who hath Eſtrayes, by grant of the King, or by Preſcription. If the Owner of the Cattel commeth within a year and a day, and makes claim thereunto, he ſhall have his Cattel again, otherwiſe the property thereof ſhall be in the King, or in the Lord, after Proclamation made according to the Law.

2. Waife is, Where a Thief ſtealeth goods, and in purſuit of him, with Hue-and-Cry, leaveth the goods behind; then the Kings Officer, or the Bayliff of the Lord of the Mannor, who hath Waife by Grant or Preſcription, may ſeize the goods to the Kings, or the Lords uſe, who may keep them as their own goods, unleſs the Owner upon Freſh-ſuit, ſue an Appeal, or give Evidence againſt the party upon Endictment and Arraignment of him, in which Caſes he ſhall have reſtitution of his goods. And ſo if upon purſuit of a Fellon with Hue-and-Cry, he leaveth his own goods; they ſhall be forfeited in like manner as goods which are ſtollen.

3. If a man hath Cattel, as Eſtray for three Quarters of the year, and afterwards they Eſtray out of his Lordſhip, and another taketh and ſeizeth the Cattel. The Lord of the firſt Mannor cannot retake them, becauſe he hath not a property in them untill he hath kept them a year and a day, and Proclamation be made in the two next Towns on two Market days, the one in the one Town, and the other in the other, 33 H. 6. 50.

4. In Treſpaſs, the Defendant alledged, That the King had Eſtrayes within the Forreſt of L. and that he as the Kings Officer ſeized the Cattel as Eſtray, to the uſe of the King. Kirton took exception to the Plea, becauſe it was not ſhewed, that he was ſeiſed of them a year and a day, nor that it was Cryed in the Church and Market. And although it was in the Caſe of the King, yet the Defendant was enforced ſo to plead. Otherwiſe he hath not gained any property in the Cattel. 39 E. 3. 3. It is there made a Quære, if he ſhall have his Cattel again upon Petition ſued to the King.

5. In

5. In Treſpaſs for taking of his Cattel, the Defendant ſhewed, that he was Sheriff of the County of S. and that he as the Kings Bayliff, ſeiſed the Cattel, as Eſtray to the Kings uſe, and made Proclamation at the two next Towns and Markets, and none came to demand the Cattel, and prayed in aid of the King. It is not determined there, if he ſhall have aid or not, 14 H. 6. 5. And ſee 31 E. 3. Fitz. tit. Eſtray, 4. That a man cannot entitle himſelf to an Eſtray, untill the year and day be paſt without claim of any one.

6. In a Franchiſe where the Lord had Waife: A Thief ſtole ſheep, and being ſuſpected by ſtrangers, he fled and waived the ſheep, within the Lordſhip; and the ſtrangers purſued him, but could not apprehend him, and in the mean time, the ſheep eſtrayed into the Lordſhip of another, who had eſtrayes; where they were ſeiſed by the ſaid Lords Bayliff, as Eſtrayes. It was the Opinion of Catlyn Juſtice, That by the Waiver, the property of the goods was in the King, without ſeizure by his Prerogative, and that for want of ſeizure, the property of the goods was not in the firſt Lord, where the goods was firſt waived. Trin. 16 Eliz. Dyer, 338.

7. Wreck, Jetſam, Flotſam, and Lagan, upon the Sea, belong to the King, becauſe when no man can claim property in goods, the King ſhall have them by his Prerogative; and Wreck is a thing nullius in bonis: and Wreck is Eſtray upon the Sea, comming to Land, as Eſtray of Beaſts is upon the Land, comming within any priviledged place, in both which Caſes, the Law giveth a year and a day to claim them. Co. 5. Part, Sir Hen. Conſtables Caſe. 108.

8. A Swan may be an Eſtray, and ſo cannot any other Fowl be. Cook 7. Part, 17. in the Caſe of Swans.

9. If there be two Tenants in Common of a Manor, to which Waife and Eſtray do belong, and an Eſtray doth happen, and the one takes the Eſtray, the other hath no remedy, but to re-take it: But if by Preſcription the one is to have the firſt Eſtray, and the other the ſecond Eſtray, there an Action lyeth if the one taketh that which doth belong to the other. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 200.

2. How Eſtrayes are to be uſed; and where the working or uſing of any Eſtray, ſhall give cauſe of Action; Where not.

1. IN Treſpaſs brought, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant with force and Arms, took his Mare, and did ſo ſtrictly fetter her to a Gelding, that by that fettering, the Mare did dye: The Defendant juſtified the taking of the Mare as a ſtray, but did not alleeg that ſhe came as an Eſtray; and therefore the Plea was holden inſufficient; and in that Court and cauſe: It was holden, That the Defendants tying the Eſtray to the Gelding, was not lawful. In that Caſe, it was further agreed, That if I take a Horſe as an Eſtray, and another taketh it from me, the Action lyeth not by the Owner againſt the firſt taker, becauſe the firſt taker hath deveſted the property out of the Owner. Alſo if my Eſtray doth Eſtray out of my Mannor, and goeth into another Mannor, before the year be ended, I cannot enter into the other Mannor to fetch out the Eſtray. Trin. 8 Jac. in C. B. Harvy and Blocklock's Caſe. Brownlow. 1. Part, 236.

2. Treſpaſs for taking and chaſing a Colt, and Fettering of him; with a continuando as to the Fettering. The Defendant pleaded, That the Earl of Hartford had the Eſtrays within the Mannor; And that the Tythingman for the time being, within the Mannor, ſeiſed the Eſtrays, and proclaimed them at the next Market or Fair, and kept them, till they were claimed or forfeited; And that he as Tythingman ſeiſed the Colt as Eſtray, and becauſe this Colt was ſo fierce that he could not be kept in Paſture, he fettered him, and kept him in his Paſture within the Mannor, for the ſpace of two Weeks, and that the Plaintiff claimed him, and had him delivered. The Queſtion was, If he which hath Eſtrays or Waifes, ſeize an Eſtray which is ferox, if he may fetter him. In this Caſe, it was agreed. 1. That if an Eſtray comes into Lands, and is there damage-feaſant, the party may chaſe him out of his ground. 2. That till the Lord or his Bayliff ſeize the Eſtray, it ſhall not be ſaid an Eſtray; but when ſeizure is made, property commenceth thereby, and the Lord is chargeable againſt all others for the Treſpaſs the Eſtray doth: And if the Eſtray within the year, eſtray out of the Mannor, the Lord may chaſe back the Eſtray; but if he be ſeized by another Lord, then the firſt hath loſt his poſſibility of gaining property, and the other Lord ought to proclaim it de novo. 3. After ſeizure, if the Lord by negligence ſuffer the Eſtray to Eſcape, which can never be found; the Owner may have Trover and Converſion againſt the Lord. Quære of that. 4. The Lord cannot work an Eſtray, but may keep him in his Stable. 5. That he may fetter him as he doth his own Horſe. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Hill. 22 Jac. in C. B. Pleadall and Goſmores Caſe. Winch. 124. Hutton 67. the ſame Caſe.

3. In a Replevin for taking a Mare and a Colt; The Defendant avowed, for that he as Bayliff to J. S. ſeized them as Eſtrays, and proclaimed them in the three next Market Towns; and ſhewed, That the Plaintiff claimed them as his own, and becauſe he would not prove that they did belong unto him, nor pay him for their meat, he refuſed to deliver them; upon which it was demurred. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved. 1. That Eſtrays are animalia vagantia; and when there is none that can make title to them, the Law gives them to the King. 2. That if the Owner can make any reaſonable proof, as if he ſhew the Marks, &c. it is ſufficient, and the party at his peril is to deliver to him the Eſtray. 3. That it is not ſufficient to keep the Eſtray within the Mannor, but it ought to be in a place parcel of the Mannor. 4. That an Eſtray ought not to be wrought, but the party muſt agree for his meat. 5. The Proclamation ought to expreſs of what kind the Eſtray is, whether Sheep, Ox, Hog, &c. Paſc. 5 Jac. in C. B. Taylor and Jones's Caſe. Godbolt. 150.

4. Treſpaſs for taking and leading away a Gelding. The Defendant juſtified as Bayliff of the Kings Mannor of D. for that he had Waiſes and Eſtrays; and that he took the Gelding as Eſtray, and kept him, till afterwards the Plaintiff re-took him. The Plaintiff replyed, That before the reſeizure, the Defendant laboured the Gelding, riding upon him, and drawing with him; whereby he was damnified. It was ſaid, that the uſing of a ſtray, ſo as he doth not abuſe it, was no cauſe of Action, becauſe he hath a property in it, but a Diſtreſs may not be uſed, becauſe he hath it only by Law as a Gage. But it was holden by the Court, That there is no difference in this Caſe, and the caſe of a Diſtreſs, and the uſer of the Eſtray was an abuſer thereof, for that it is not lawful in any manner to uſe it, but for the benefit of the Owner, as to milk Milch-kine, becauſe otherwiſe they would be ſpoiled, but the uſing of a ſtray-horſe by riding or drawing, is tortious. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 3 Jac. in the Kings Bench. Barſhaw and Gowards Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 147.

Eſtrepement.

1. A Writ of Eſtrepement is an Original Writ, which a man ſhall have in real Actions, as in a Formedon, Dum fuit infra Etatem, Aſſiſe, Writ of Right, depending the Action, wherein he ſhall not recover damages, which is in the nature of a Prohibition, Inhibiting the Tenant that he do not Waſte, or ſtrip depending the Action, and this Writ is properly before Judgment, but it may be in ſome Caſes aſwell after Judgment, as before, and before Execution ſued: And varience in this Writ from the firſt Record in recital of the Name, Town, or the like, ſhall not abate the Writ. Cro. 5. Part, 115. Faliant's Caſe.

2. In this Writ the party ſhall not have his age, for that it is in the nature of Treſpaſs, and no proceſs of Outlawry lyeth in it, becauſe it is a Precip, 3 H. 6. 16. And in an Action of Waſte, the words of the Writ run thus, viz. being directed to the Sheriff. Tibi præcipimus, quod ad Meſſuagium prædictum perſonaliter accedens, totaliter ordinari facias. Quod vaſtum ſeu Eſtrepamentum de eodem Meſſuagio contra formam Statuti, ſcil. the Statute of Glouceſter, non fiat, pendente placito indiſcuſſ. See Fitz. Nat. Br. 60.

3. A Writ of Eſtrepement was brought againſt Husband and Wife, after Judgment in a Quid juris clamat, and before Execution was Awarded. See 15 Eliz. Dyer, 325. Bold and Newport's Caſe.

4. If a Formedon be brought of a Mannor, and after the Eſtrepement is brought againſt the Tenant, a Tenancy doth Eſcheat, and the Tenant doth commit Waſte in that Mannor, he ſhall be puniſhed for the ſame; and yet it is not demanded by the Writ, but ſervices were demanded the Writ in the name of the Mannor, and the Land commeth in lieu of the Services. See 4 E. 3. br. Eſtrepement. 12. Fitz. Nat. Br. 144.

5. Partition was brought between Coparceners, and depending the Writ, the Tenant made Waſte. It was moved to the Court, to grant a Writ of Eſtrepement. It was the Opinion of the Court, That where the party is to diſprove the Intereſt of the Tenant, there a Writ of Eſtrepement will lye; but in this Caſe, he doth confeſs an equal intereſt with him, and therefore Eſtrepement will not lye. Paſc. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Goldesbr. 50.

6. One intruded after the death of Tenant for life, and dyed ſeiſed, and the Land diſcended to his Heir, and a Writ of Intruſion was brought in the

Per

Per against the Heir. A Writ of Eſtrepement was prayed againſt the Tenant: And upon conſideration had of the Statute of Gloucester, cap. 1. in the end of the Statute. The Court was of Opinion, That if the Writ be in the Per, then the Writ of Eſtrepement lyeth; but if it be not in the Per, then the Court doubted of it. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Gosbolt. 112.

7. In Waſte brought againſt Husband and Wife; and a Writ of Eſtrepement for the Plaintiff directed to the Sheriff. It was Reſolved, 1. That a Writ of Eſtrepement lyeth in an Action of Waſte, aſwell at any time before Judgment, as after Judgment, and before Execution. 2. That by force of this Writ, the Sheriff may reſiſt thoſe that would do Waſte, and may impriſon the parties, and make a warrant to others ſo to do, and if it be needful, he may take poſſe Comitatus to help him. Cook 5. Part, 115. Fosambs Caſe.

8. A Writ of Eſtrepement was awarded in an Action of Waſte, brought by the Earl of Cumberland againſt the Counteſs Dowager; by which Writ the Coroners were commanded to ſuffer no Waſte to be done in the Lands. It was moved to the Court, That the Dowagers people had done Waſte, after the Writ publiſhed and delivered to them. But becauſe the Writ was not immediately directed to the Counteſs and her ſervants, as it might have bin, and ſo it had bin an immediate contempt to the Court; the Court would not commit them to Priſon, eſpecially becauſe the Coroner himſelf was to provide againſt the Waſte by taking poſſe Comitatus, if there was no other remedy. Tr. 12 Jac. in C. B. The Earl of Cumberland, and the Counteſs Dowagers Caſe. Hob. 85.

Evidence.

1. What ſhall be good Evidence, given to the Enqueſt, to maintain the Iſſue joyned in Actions at Law; What not.

1. IN Debt againſt Executors of A. they were at Iſſue; upon fully Adminiſtred pleaded, the Plaintiff gave evidence, that they had goods in their hands. The Defendants pleaded, That they redeemed part of them with their own mony, which goods were pledged by the Teſtator to the full value, and for the reſidue that they had paid for the Teſtator ſo much, to the full value. It was adjudged a good evidence to maintain the Iſſue, for a man ſhall have recompence for that which he hath lawfully paid. Mich. 6 H. 8. Dyer, 2. But ſee, Paſc. 29 H. 8. where, upon ſuch Iſſue of fully adminiſtred, the Executors gave in evidence, payment of Debts upon Contracts; the ſame was adjudged to be no good evidence, to prove the Iſſue upon debt brought upon an Obligation, becauſe debts upon Obligations or ſpecialties, ſhall be paid before Debts upon Contract. Dyer, 32.

2. In Debt againſt Executors, they were at Iſſue upon Aſſetts in their hands the day of the Action brought, and the Plaintiff gave in evidence, that the ſame day 100 l. was paid to the Executors, and delivered to them by the Order of the Prerogative Court, which mony the ſame day, they paid preſently by the Orde of the ſame Court to a Creditor of the Teſtator. It was holden, That the ſame was no good evidence; but it was ſaid, That peradventure upon pleading of the eſpecial matter, it had not bin Aſſetts. Mich. 4 Eliz. Dyer, 208.

3. In Debt againſt an Executor, the Jury found, that the Teſtator dyed in Ireland. And in Debt, upon fully Adminiſtred pleaded, the Plaintiff gave in Evidence, Aſſets at Exeter, and the Jury found, that the Defendant took the goods of the Teſtator in Ireland, and adminiſtred them to the full value of the Debt, and that they did not adminiſter any goods of the Inteſtate, within the Kingdome of England. It was objected, that the Jury could not find tranſitory things in another County, or in another Realm. But it was Reſolved. 1. That the Jury might find Aſſetts in any County, becauſe they are things tranſitory. 2. Reſolved, That the Jury had found the ſubſtance of the Iſſue, ſcil. Aſſets, and the finding that they were beyond Sea, was but Surpluſage. Cook 6. Part, 46, 47. Dowdales Caſe. See 10 Eliz. Dyer, 271. And ſee Paſc. 15 Car. in B. R. the Earl of Oxford and Waterhouſes Caſe, adjudged acc. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 30. acc.

4. Debt againſt the Son and Heir upon an Obligation by his Father: The Defendant pleaded, Nothing by Diſcent. It was found, That before the Suit brought, the Defendant had made a Feoffment in Fee to defraud the Plaintiff of his Action; but this fraud was not pleaded. It was Reſolved, That the ſaid Fraud might be given in Evidence, and it is not needful that the Statute of 13 Eliz. of fraudulent conveyances be pleaded; becauſe the Statute ſaith, That the eſtate as to the Creditor ſhall be void. Mich. 33 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, 60. Gouthes Caſe. See Trin. 11 Jac. in C. B. Humberton and Howgill's Caſe. Hob. 72. acc.

5. In Treſpaſs for taking away Timber, and the boughs of Trees felled; The Defendant pleaded as to the Timber, Not guilty, and to the Boughs, made a ſpecial Juſtification, That there is a Cuſtome within the Mannor of A, that when the Lord fells any Timber-Trees, that the Lord is to have the Timber, Timber, and the poor Tenants in boscagio parte Manerii came out of mind, claimed to have the branches of the ſaid Trees for neceſſary Eſtovers to be burnt in neceſſario fosali in terris et tenementis. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Cuſtome was not well expreſſed to have Eſtovers to burn in terris et tenementis: and therefore whereas the Defendant did entitle himſelf to a houſe and Land, and gave evidence that the Cuſtome did extend to Lands. It was holden, That the evidence did not maintain the Iſſue. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. The Biſhop of Chicheſter and Strodwick's Caſe. Godbolt. 234, 235.

6. Note, It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices in B. R. That a Defendants anſwer in Engliſh, is a good Evidence to be given to a Jury againſt the Defendant himſelf, but it is no good Evidence againſt other parties; And if the Defendants Anſwer be read to the Jury, it is not binding to the Jury, but it may be read to them by the aſſent of the parties. Paſc. 21 Jac. in B. R. Godbolt. 326.

7. In Treſpaſs for breaking his Cloſe; They were at Iſſue, If the Lord of the Mannor granted the ſaid Lands per Copiam rotulorum Curiæ manerii prædict. ſecundum Conſuetudinem manerii prædict. And it was given in Evidence, That within the ſaid Mannor there were divers Cuſtomary Lands, and that the Lord now of late at his Court of the ſaid Mannor, granted the Land, &c. per Copiam rotulorum Curiæ, where it was never granted by Copy before. It was holden by the Court, That the Jury are bound to find, Dominus non conceſſit. For notwithſtanding that Dominus de facto conceſſit per Copiam rotulorum Curiæ; yet non conceſſit ſecundum Conſuetudinem Manerii prædict. for the ſaid Land was not Cuſtomary, nor was it Demiſeable, for the Cuſtome had not taken hold of it. Paſc. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Kemp and Carter's Caſe. Leon. 55.

8. In a Writ of Forger of falſe Deeds, the Plaintiff counted upon the forger of an Indenture in quo continetur, quod quidam Abbas Monaſterii de Glouceſter demiſit Scitum Manerii de R. et terras dominicales, &c. The Defendant pleaded, Not guilty. It was given in Evidence on the Plaintiffs part, a Leaſe ſuppoſed to be made and forged, containing that the ſaid Abbot Leaſed the ſaid Scite, and all the Demeſnes of the ſaid Mannor exceptis duabus ſeparalibus clauſuris, &c. vocat. It was moved that this Evidence doth not maintain the Iſſue. But it was holden, that the Evidence was good enough, for it is not neceſſary to conſtrue terras dominicales, omnes terras dominicales; for the Lands not excepted, are terræ dominicales, and ſo the Count ſatisfied by that Evidence. Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Atkins and Hales Caſe. Leon. 139, 140.

9. Debt againſt L. Executor of A. for Rent reſerved upon a Leaſe for years made by the Teſtat. The Defendant pleaded fully Adminiſtred; and upon the Evidence it appeared, That the ſaid A. made the Defendant his Executor, and that he meddled with the Teſtators goods and adminiſtred; and then refuſed in Court, and Adminiſtration was committed to B. and that the Teſtators goods came to 1000 l. For the Defendant it was given in Evidence, That he himſelf had paid certain Debts, and that divers perſons had recovered againſt the Adminiſtrator, ſeveral ſums of mony, amounting to 1000 l. et ultra. It was a Queſtion, if that Evidence did maintain the Iſſue, becauſe the Defendant had pleaded, pleinment adminiſtravit, which implyes an Adminiſtration by himſelf; and upon the Evidence, it appeared that the moſt of the Teſtators goods were adminiſtred by the Adminiſtrators. It was ſaid by Periam Juſtice, That if an Adminiſtrator (who is in truth but a ſtranger) pay Debts with the goods of the Teſtator, without commandment of the Executor, the ſame is not an Adminiſtration, and the Executor cannot give ſuch matter in Evidence to prove his plea of fully Adminiſtred. 2. That in the principal Caſe, the Defendant is the very Executor, and he hath Adminiſtred, in which caſe he cannot refuſe; ſo the Adminiſtration is granted without cauſe, and what the Adminiſtrator did, was without warrant; and therefore it was no Adminiſtration to prove the Iſſue. Trin. 32 Eliz. in C. B. Hawkins and Lawſe Caſe. Ben. 134, 135.

10. Waſte was aſſigned in cutting and ſelling of 10 Oaks; and the truth was, that the Defendant had but ſhred and lopt the Oaks. The Opinion of the Court was, That he might plead, No Waſte done, and give the ſpecial matter in Evidence. Mich. 1. Ma. Dyer, 92.

11. Waſte for digging a trench in a Meadow: The Defendant pleaded, No Waſte; and it was found, that he made the trench by which the Land was better. Quære if it were good Evidence, or he ought to have pleaded it. Hill. 20 Eliz. Dyer, 361. See 12 H. 8. 1.

12. Note, If one commit Waſte, and before any Action brought, the Leſſee doth repair, &c. And afterwards the Leſſee brings an Action of Waſte, there the Action is not maintainable, becauſe the Jurors ought to view the Waſte. But in ſuch Caſe, the Defendant cannot plead, No Waſte done, but he ought to plead the ſpecial matter, and not give the ſame in Evidence. Cook 5. Part, 119. in Whelpdales Caſe. See 10 Eliz. Dyer, 276.

13. In Rectione firmæ, the Defendant pleaded the Cuſtome of the Mannor to be, That the Widow of every Copyholder of Fee-ſimple, Fee-tail, or for life, had and enjoyed the Copyhold pro termino vitæ ſuæ; and the Cuſtome being traverſed, it was given in Evidence in maintainance of the Cuſtome aforeſaid, That the Defendant claimed but a Widdows Eſtate: It was holden by the Court, That this Evidence did not maintain the Cuſtome before alledged, becauſe it was a leſſer eſtate, then the other Cuſtome, ſcil. pro tempore vitæ. Mich 2 Eliz. Dyer, 192. Lynſey and Dixons Caſe. See Paſc. 36 Eliz. in B. R. Dowse and Hawkins Caſe. Cook 4. Part, 30.

14. Note, upon Evidence to a Jury, upon traverſe of a Leaſe for years by word, ſcil. abſq; hoc quod talis demiſit. The Court doubted if he might ſay that the Leſſor had not any thing in the Land tempore dimiſſionis; but they conceived it is good by way of Evidence. For in a Formedon, if the Tenant traverſe, that the Donor had not any thing in the Land at the time of the gift, the ſame is not good, but he ſhall plead, Non dedit, &c. Paſc. 3. Ma. Dyer, 121.

15. Debt againſt one as Executor, the Defendant pleaded ne unque Executor, nor adminiſtred as Executer; the Plaintiff replyed, that he adminiſtred as Executor. For Evidence the Defendant ſhewed Letters of Adminiſtration committed to him, of the goods of the dead, for which he adminiſtred, and that before he did not adminiſter. It was the Opinion of the Court, It was good Evidence to maintain his Iſſue, for he adminiſtred as Adminiſtrator by Authority, and not of his own wrong. Mich. 14 Eliz. Dyer, 305.

16. A. endebted to B. by contract, and to C. upon an Obligation, dyed Inteſtate; C. entermedled with the goods, B. brought an Action of Debt againſt him as Executor, of his own wrong: C. pendente lite, takes forth Letters of Adminiſtration, and then pleads, that A. was endebted to him by Obligation, in 100 l. and that by vertue of the Letters of Adminiſtration, he did retain the goods of A. to the value of his Debt. The Queſtion was, Whether an Executor of his own wrong, might retain the goods of the Teſtator to ſatisfy his own Debt, or pay the Debt upon the contract. It was urged he could not plead this matter: and Coo. 5. Part, Coulters Caſe was vouched. But it was agreed by the Court, That he was a legal Adminiſtrator, and he might have retained the good if he had bin a Debtor, but in equal degree with the other, but in this Caſe he is a Debtor in a higher nature, for his Debt is by Bond, and the Law requires his Debt to be firſt ſatisfied; and the Adminiſtration hath purged the wrong which he did as Executor of his own wrongs. It is true, he ſhall not abate the Plaintiffs firſt Writ, by taking the Letters of Adminiſtration, but he may plead this plea in bar to his Action. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Tr. 1652. in B. R. Williamſon and Norwiths Caſe. Styles 337.

17. In Treſpaſs for breaking his Cloſe: The Defendant pleaded, That the place where the Treſpaſs was ſuppoſed, was his Freehold; the Plaintiff ſaid, it was his Freehold, and not the Freehold of the Defendant. In that Caſe, It was the Opinion of the Court, That if the Defendant hath ſix Acres in D. and the Plaintiff other ſix Acres, the Defendant cannot give Evidence that he did the Treſpaſs in his own Land; but it ſhall be intended that his meaning was, the ſix Acres of the Plaintiff, becauſe untill he giveth a name to the place where the Treſpaſs is done; the Plaintiff need not alledg a new Aſſignment, becauſe the Defendant hath not varied from the Plaintiff. Mich. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 23.

18. In a Replevin, the taking was ſuppoſed in K. The Defendant ſaid, that the place where is 40 Acres parcel of the Mannor of K. which is his Freehold, and avowed for damage-feaſant: The Plaintiff ſaid, that the place where is parcel of the Mannor of K. in K. and conveyed title to himſelf in that, abſq; hoc that the Mannor of K. unde, was the Freehold of the Defendant. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the Plaintiff is Eſtopped to give Evidence, that the Defendant had not any Mannor of K. for the words abſq; hoc, and unde, imply he had ſuch a Mannor, but he ought to have taken it by proteſtation, that the Defendant had no ſuch Mannor of K. in K. abſq; hoc, that the 40 Acres was the Freehold of the Defendant. Paſc. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 183.

19. In Dower, the Iſſue was upon nunq; ſeiſit que Dower; for the Plaintiff, It was given in Evidence, that a Feoffment was made to the Husband in Fee. The Defendant would have given in Evidence, that long before the Feoffment; the Husband was ſeiſed to him and his firſt Wife in tail; and that afterwards he made a diſcontinuance, and took back an Eſtate in Fee, of which Eſtate he dyed ſeiſed, and the Heir was remitted. It was the Opinion of the Court, That this remitter given in Evidence to defeat the Eſtate of the Husband, could not be given in Evidence, but it ought to have bin pleaded: And ſo it is in Caſe of a Condition. Paſc. 30 H. 8. Dyer, 41.

20. Upon Iſſue joyned, If a Villain be regardant. It was the Opinion of the Court, That in Evidence given, that he is a Villain in groſs is no good title. Quære, becauſe the charge of the Jury is to enquire of the right of Villinage, ſcil. If he be Villain, or not. Paſc. 30 H. 8. Dyer, 48.

2. Where

2. Where more or new Evidences may be given in an Attaint, or other Action, then was given in the first Action: And what writings and Records, ſhall be good Evidences, and the Jury ſhall have with them.

1. NOte, It was agreed by the Juſtices, That the Plaintiff in Attaint ſhall not give more in Evidence, nor produce more Witneſſes, then he gave to the Petit Jury; but contrary of the Defendant, he may give more Evidence in affirmance of their firſt Judgment. Trin. 38 H. 8. Dyer, 53. See Paſc. 4 Eliz. Dyer, 212. in Paramours Caſe, acc.

2. In an Aſſiſe, Iſſue was taken, Whether Lands were contained in Letters Pattents, or not, which by the Common-Law were not contained, but by the Statute of 4 H. 8. were contained: The Juſtices of Aſſiſe would not ſuffer that Statute, being not pleaded, to be given in Evidence to the Jury; Whereupon they found, that the Land was not contained; and thereupon an Attaint was brought; and the Court would not ſuffer that Statute to be given in Evidence to the Grand Jury, which was not given in Evidence to the Petty Jury. 3. Ma. Dyer, 129. Ibgrave and Heydon's Caſe.

3. Note, It was ſaid and agreed by the Juſtices, That it is dangerous to ſuffer any, who by the Law in pleading ought to ſhew forth the Deed it ſelf to the Court upon the general Iſſue, to prove in Evidence to a Jury by Witneſſes, that there was ſuch a Deed, which they have heard, ſeen, or read, or to prove it by a Copy. For the imperfections in the Deed in ſuch Caſes, will not appear to the Court, or perhaps the Deed may be upon Condition, limitation, or with power of Revocation. But yet in great, and notorious extremities; as by caſualty of of Fire, that all his Evidences were burnt in his houſe, if the ſame ſhall appear to the Judges, they in favour of him, who hath ſo great a loſs by Fire, may ſuffer him upon the general Iſſue to prove the Deed in Evidence to the Jury by Witneſſes, that affliction be not added to affliction. Co. 10. Part, 92. in Dr. Leyfields Caſe.

4. In a Writ of Deceit brought for levying a Fine of Lands in Auncient Demeſne, the Iſſue was, Whether the Mannor of B. in Northampton were Auntient Demeſne, or not: The Book of Doomſday was brought into Court, and there ſhewed; whereby it appeared, that the Manner of Bowden in the County of Leiceſter, was Auncient Demeſne, but not ſuch the Manner of Bowden in the County of Northampton, and ſo the Plaintiff was barred. Trin. 15 Jac. in C. B. Hob. 188.

5. Note, by Rolls Chief Juſtice, there is a difference between pleading of a Record, and giving a Record in Evidence, If it be pleaded, it muſt be ſub pede ſigilli, or elſe the Judges cannot judg it: But if it be given in Evidence, although it be not ſub pede ſigilli, the Jury may find it, if they have other good matter to induce the ſhewing of it. Paſc. 23 Car. White and Pinder's Caſe. Style, 22.

6. In Debt, the Plaintiff declared, That A. was ſeiſed, and by Indenture bargained and ſold the Land to him in Fee, Quæ quidem Indentura, poſt infra ſex menſes, viz. 7. No. 7 Jac. debito modo irrotulata, juxta formam Statuti. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Declaration was not good, becauſe it was not ſhewed in what Court the Deed was enrolled; for it ought to appear to the Court, that the Court may know whether it were duly enrolled; as alſo, that the party againſt whom it is pleaded, may know in what place to ſearch for it. Mich. 9 Jac. in B. R. Warly and Purleys Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 291.

7. In a Writ of Right, If the Miſe be joyned upon the meer right: The Tenant to the Writ ſhall give in the firſt Evidence, for that the Tenant affirms, That he hath more right then the Demandant, and that ought firſt to be enquired of. And ſo it was adjudged in Heydon and Ibgrave Caſe, in the Common Pleas. And in Norris Caſe there alſo. See Trin. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Goldsbr. 23.

8. A Church Book being entred and made parcel of the Records, was given in Evidence and good. Trin. 39 Eliz. Viccary and Farthings Caſe. See Mich. 5 Jac. in B. R. Hall and White's Caſe Brownl. 1. Part, 207. acc.

Exchange.

1. What ſhall be ſaid a good Exchange; what not: And where it ſhall be void, for want of full execution: Where not.

EXchange is, where 2 men are ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, or other eſtate: and they by Deed Indented, exchange their Lands, ſo as every one of them ſhall have other Lands to him exchanged; either in Fee-ſimple, Fee-tail, or for life; the ſame is properly called an Exchange: and ſuch exchange is good without Livery and Seiſin.

2. If exchange be made of Lands for years, if the Lands do lye in one County, there the exchange by word is good; and ſo if the Lands do lye in ſeveral Counties: but if the exchange be for life, or other eſtate wherein a Freehold doth paſſe, there the exchange muſt be by deed indented; otherwiſe the exchange is not good, 9 E. 4. 39. And if an exchange be of a thing which lyeth in grant, and not in Livery, there the exchange muſt be by deed; although they be of things which lye in the ſame County. Perkins, 50.

3. In every Exchange, the word, Exchange, ought to be. Cook 4 Part, 121. in Eaſtlands Caſe: and therefore if two men ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, which lye in one County; and before Entry, an Indenture is made between them of the ſaid Lands, and there is no word of Exchange in the Indentures, and no Livery and Seiſin is made of the Land, but each deliver the Deeds to the other, and enter into the Land; there they ſhall not take the Lands by exchange, but ſhall be Tenants at Will only of the Lands. But if an exchange be made betwixt two men, of Lands in one County; and then each entreth into the Lands of the other to take Livery and Seiſin, there it ſeems they are preſently ſeiſed by force of the Exchange; becauſe there entry was lawful the one upon the other's Lands; and ſo before the Livery and Seiſin was made to them, each of them was ſeiſed by force of the exchange: and a man cannot take Livery of that of which he is ſeiſed. Quære. 45 E. 3. 20.

4. An Exchange of Lands which lye in another County, is not good without Deed: and yet in ſome caſe, it ſhall not be void. A man brought an Action of Treſpaſſe againſt F. de A. for breaking of his Cloſe, and digging his Lands: ſcil. 3. acres of Meadow: The Defendant pleaded, That it was his Freehold: upon which Iſſue was joyned, and the Jury found, That the Plaintiff's Anceſtors was ſeiſed of 5. acres of Lands in another County in Fee; and the Anceſtor of the Defendant of three acres; and an Exchange was betwixt them by word, without Deed, ſcil. That the Plaintiff's Anceſtor ſhould have the 3. Acres of Meadow in Fee; and the Defendant's Anceſtor the ſaid 5. Acres of Lands: by force of which, each of them did enter, and continued all their lives time, and dyed ſeiſed. After whoſe death, the Plaintiff entred into both; upon whom the Defendant entred upon the Meadow, and was ſeiſed 4. Weeks before the Treſpaſſe. In that Caſe, although the Jury found an Exchange by word, of Lands in ſeveral Counties, which was void in Law, and ſo the entry of the Plaintiff was lawful: yet the Iſſue being joyned upon the Freehold at the time of the Treſpaſſe, it was ſaid by Hankford, to the Jury, You have nothing to do, whether the Entry of the Plaintiff was lawful or not; but to ſay, Who was Tenant of the Freehold, at the day of the Treſpaſſe: for which Caſe, they found for the Defendant. See 7 H. 4. 11. Cook 9. Part, 12. & 14. in Dowman's Caſe.

5. Note, by Hobart, Chief Juſtice, That regularly the word (Pro) doth not make a Grant defeaſible, although the thing taken in lieu, be either taken away by the giver wrongfully, or by any other perſon upon a juſt title, ſo as the thing given be wholly loſt; And therefore if J. S. gives White-Acre to J. N. for Black-Acre, and ſo è converſo, without the word of Exchange, it will not be defeaſable: nay, If they uſe the proper word, Exchange, and that be executed, a wrongful entry of either party will do no hurt; but a rightful eviction will: but without the proper word of Exchange, though perhaps it was meant in the nature of an Exchange, it will not defeat. See in Cooper and Andrews Caſe, Mich. 10 Jac. in C.B. Hobart, 41.

2. Where an Eſtate given in Lands in Exchange, ſhall be void, for want of good execution: And where it ſhall be void, though it be well executed.

1. A Man hath Iſſue two Sons, and Land is given to him and his Wife, and to the heirs males of their bodies lawfully begotten: the eldeſt ſon hath Iſſue a daughter, and dyeth in the life of his Father: In this caſe, if the father exchangeth the Land with another, and the other entreth into the Lands of the Father, but the Father dyeth before entry, the heir may enter into the Land taken ken in exchange: but if in ſuch caſe, the younger Son entreth into the Lands taken in exchange, he is the firſt in whom the Lands veſt: but becauſe the ſame might have veſted in the Father, and becauſe he cometh to it by words of limitation, the ſon of the eldeſt ſon, ſhall not after enter upon him. Cook 1. Part, 98. in Shelley's Caſe.

2. If an Exchange be made betwixt two, and one entreth according to the exchange, and the other Exchanger dyeth before any entry made by him: now he who entred, ſhall not be the firſt perſon who ſhall defeate that Exchange; but if the heir of that Exchanger doth not enter anew into the Land into which the other hath entred by force of the Exchange, and puts him out, as he well may, then he, ſcil. he who is ouſted may enter into the Land which he gave in exchange. Paſch. 45 E. 3. Exchange 10. Perkins, 57.

3. A. ſeiſed of Black-Acre, and B. of White-Acre, make an Exchange betwixt them; A. before execution of the exchange, levieth a Fine with proclamation to B. of Black-Acre, and 5. years paſſe: Quære, if the ſame be a bar of the execution of the exchange; and if the heir of B. may enter into White-Acre. It was conceived, That the heir was barred of his entry in that Acre. Mich. 10 Jac. in B. R. in Woodwards Caſe.

4. The Caſe was; The Husband was ſeiſed of Land in the right of his Wife; the Husband and Wife joyned in exchange of the Lands with a ſtranger for other Land, which exchange was executed: the husband and wife ſeiſed of the Lands taken in exchange, aliened the ſame by Fine. It was holden in that caſe by the Juſtices, That the Wife after the death of her Husband might enter into her own Lands notwithſtanding the Fine. Like the Caſe, 19 Eliz. Dyer. The Husband after marriage aſſured to his Wife a Joynture, they both levied a Fine ſur Conuſans de droit, &c. of the gift of the husband: And it was holden, The ſame was no bar to the Wife of her Dower, for the Election is not given to the Wife to claim her Joynture or Dower, untill after the death of her husband. Hill. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Leon. 285.

5. A. Tenant in tail of certain Lands exchanged the ſame with B: B. entred, and being ſeiſed of other Lands deviſed ſeveral parcels thereof to others, and amongſt the reſt, a particular eſtate to his heir. Proviſo, That he do not re-enter, nor claim of his other Lands in diſtruction of his Will; and if he do, then the eſtate in the Lands deviſed to him to ceaſe: A. dyeth, his Iſſue entreth into the Land in tail, and waves the Lands taken in Exchange, and before any other entry, the heir of B. enters upon the Land which was given in Exchange. It was the Opinion of the whole Court in this Caſe, That it was in breach of the Condition, becauſe it was not the Land of the Deviſor at the time of the Deviſee; and therefore it was out of the Condition. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Barbor and Topeſfields Caſe. Godbolt. 99, 100.

6. Two Parſons of two ſeveral Churches by one Inſtrument in writing, change their Benefices by way of Exchange, and to that purpoſe reſign them into the hands of the Ordinary, and the Patrons preſent accordingly; and the one of the Parſons is admitted, inſtituted and inducted, and the other is admitted and inſtituted, but dyed before induction: In this caſe it was agreed, That although the Induction of the other was abſolute, yet it ſhall be directed by the precedent agreement which was by way of exchange, which ought to be executed on both parts in the life of the parties: and the Inſtitution and Induction cannot be upon expreſſe condition, nor in other form then was done, and therefore upon that exchange it ſhall be void ab initio. See Cook 2. Part, 74. in the Lord Cromwell's Caſe, &c. And it was compared to this Caſe, That if a man and his wife enfeoffe two by Deed to have and to hold to them and their heirs, and afterwards the Feoffor and his Wife levy a Fine for ſur Conuſans de droit to them and the heirs of one of them, the ſame is no concluſion; but that both ſhall have the Fee-ſimple as they had before: and the Fine is not executory, but to extinct the right of the Wife only; wherefore it is no Eſtoppel. 6 H. 2. Eſtoppel, 2.

7. Husband and Wife ſeiſed of the moyety of the Mannor of J. to them and the heirs of the Husband; the Husband levied a Fine to J. S. who ſuffered a Recovery, in which the Husband was only vouched, and the Recovery was to the uſe of the Conuſee and his heirs. The Conuſee made a Feoffment in Fee to A; who thereof enfeoffed B. and C. in Fee; and after an Exchange was had between A. and B. and C, and was executed, and the Exchange was of the moyty of the Manor of J. for the fourth part of the Manor of D: B. and C. Exchangers of the fourth part enter, and thereof enfeoffe E; the Husband dyed, the Wife entred into the Manor of J: A. re-entred into the 4th part of the Mannor of D; E. entred upon him, and A. brought Treſpaſs. In this Caſe, theſe Points were reſolved: 1. That in every Exchange, the word, Exchange, doth tacitly imply a Condition, and alſo a Warranty in Law; which is a ſpecial Warranty in reſpect of the reciprocal Conſideration of the Land; but none ſhall vouch by force of that Warranty, but the Exchangers and their heirs: and no land ſhall be recovered in value, but only the Land put in Exchange; but the Aſſignee ſhall rebut by force of ſuch Warranty, although that that the Exchange be without Deed. 2. Reſolved, That if A. give 3. Acres to B. for exchange for other 3. Acres, and afterwards one Acre is evicted from B; B. may enter into all his Land, and the exchange is defeated in all by reaſon of the Condition in Law: and a Condition ought to defeat the whole, and not part only. 3. Reſolved, That when the whole eſtate in part is evicted, the whole exchange is defeated. So when the eſtate of Freehold for life, which is but parcel of the eſtate, is evicted in the whole Land, or in part; the whole exchange by a condition in Law is defeated: For although a Reverſion expectant upon an eſtate for life, may be given in exchange for Land in poſſeſſion; yet when the Wife enters, and evicts the eſtate for life, the other may enter into the Land given in Exchange. But in the principal Caſe, by reaſon of the Fine and Recovery, the Wife had but a Right, and the Feeſimple was in B. and C. to whom the warranty and condition in Law upon the exchange was annexed. 4. Reſolved, That although that A. had notice of the right of the Wife, at the time of the Exchange, yet the ſame was not material, but that after by her Entry, the Exchange ſhould be defeated; and that perhaps was the cauſe that he would not purchaſe the Mannor of J. abſolutely, but by way of Exchange, ſo as upon eviction he might have his Land again. Coo. 4. Part, 121, 122. Huſtards Caſe.

8. If J. S. and J. D. be enfeoffed of an Acre of Land, to them, and the Heirs of J. D. And J. N. gives to them another Acre in Fee, in Exchange for the ſaid Acre, whereof they were joyntly enfeoffed as before. It hath bin ſaid, That this is not a good Exchange, but for the moyety which belonged to J. D. becauſe he had a Fee, but in the moyety whereof they were enfeoffed, as to ſettle the ſame in another perſon by his alienation, ſcil. by Exchange or otherwiſe. But Quære of that, for it hath bin ſaid, That the Exchange is good for the whole, becauſe the Feeſimple of the whole Acre was in J. D. and then when J. S. and J. D. joyn in an Exchange of the ſame Acre with J. N. P. the Freehold of the whole Acre with the Feeſimple paſſeth to J. N. ſo as he hath a Fee executed in the ſame Acre; and J. S. and J. D. have the like Eſtate executed in the Acre of Land which J. N. gave to them in Exchange, as they had in the other Lands. Quære not Reſolved. See 30 E. 43. Perkins 56.

9. A. ſeiſed of the Mannor of G. with an Advowſon appendant, and B. ſeiſed of the Mannor of D. within the ſame County. It was agreed betwixt them, that there ſhould be an Exchange between them of the ſaid Mannors, and becauſe the Mannor of G. was the better, B. Covenanted with A. and his Son to pay to A. 1200 l. for the ſaid Mannor and Advowſon, and that Mich. next, there ſhould be a mutual entry into the ſaid Mannors; and that in the mean time, either of them ſhould take the profits of their own Mannors, and that they ſhould deliver either to other their Evidences, and that aſſurance ſhould be made, as Councel ſhould adviſe: and in an Action of Covenant brought, the Plaintiff declared, that they had performed all Covenants on their part, and that the Defendant had not paid the 1200 l. The Defendant ſaid, That A. after Mich. had bargained and ſold the ſaid Mannor of G. to J. S. and his Heirs. It was objected, That the money was to be paid for the Mannor, and becauſe the Defendant could not have the Mannor, he was not to pay the money: But the Court inclined to Opinion, That all was to be done before Mich. and the Defendant was to do the firſt act; and that not being done, he had forfeited his Covenant. Out of that Caſe, I do obſerve, That the Exchange was not executed, and therefore it was now void ab initio, and that the ſale of the Mannor of G. afterwards by A. was good, and yet Covenant did lye againſt B. the Defendant. Mich. 2 Car. in B. R. Sir Robert Brown, and Sir Robert Strowds Caſe. Popham 198, 199.

10. If an Exchange be made of Lands which lye in divers Counties, if the Land be in view, they are preſently ſeiſed by force of the Exchange, without any Entry, by Moile Juſtice, quod nota, 9 E. 4. 39. But generally, In Exchange of Lands, the parties have no Freehold in them, in Deed, or in Law, before they execute the ſame by entry, and therefore, if one of them dye before the Exchange be executed by Entry, the Exchange is void, for the Heir cannot enter, and take it as a purchaſor, becauſe he was named onely to take by way of limitation in courſe of Diſcent. See Coo. 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 15, 16. acc.

3. Where in Exchange, the Eſtates ought to be equall; though not the value of the thing equall: And of what things Exchange may be betwixt parties; and how be made.

1. NOte, In Exchanges, the Eſtates given in Exchange, muſt be equal. And therefore if an Exchange be betwixt Tenant for life, and Tenant in tail after poſſibility of Iſſue extinct, the Exchange is good, becauſe their eſtates are equall. Cook 11. Part, 80. in Lowes Bowles Caſe.

2 If I be ſeiſed of Land, to which J. S. hath Right of Action, or right of Entry; and I give him Lands in Exchange for a Releaſe of his Right to my Land, ſuch Exchange is good; ſo as he hath an equal eſtate in the right which he claimeth in my Land, as I have in the Land which I do give in Exchange. 9 E. 4. 36.

3. Exchange may be of Temporal things for Spiritual: And therefore an Advowſon may be given in Exchange for Temporal Inheritances, as it is Reſolved in 9 E. 4. in the Prior of Sempringhams Caſe.

4. Exchange of Rent by Deed for Land, is good, 3 E. 4. 10. by Dawby. And ſee that Exchange of a Reverſion for Lands in poſſeſſion, is good. Coo. 4. Part, 122. in Baſtards Caſe. And alwayes the eſtates of both parties in Exchanges, muſt be equal, as if one have an eſtate in Fee-ſimple, or Fee-tail in one Land; the other muſt have the like equal eſtate in the other Land, but it is not neceſſary that the Lands or things be equal in yeaily value, for although that the Land of the one be more in value then the Land of the other, the ſame is not material. Litt. 13. acc.

5. If there be Diſſeiſor and Diſſeiſee, and the Diſſeiſee releaſeth all his right to the Diſſeiſor in Exchange for another Acre of Land, the ſame is a good Exchange. But if the Diſſeiſee grants his Right to a ſtranger who hath nothing in the Land in Exchange for an Acre of Land, the ſaid Exchange is not good, becauſe the ſtranger takes nothing by ſuch grant, as it is holden in 3 E. 4. 20. And ſee, that if Tenant in tail give Lands to another in Exchange for other Lands of the ſame eſtate in tail, that ſuch an Exchange is good; for that it is in the election of the Iſſue in tail to make it good; and he may elect to have the one Land, or the other, and till ſuch Election be made, the Exchange ſhall ſtand good. See 15 E. 3. tit. bar. 255. Cook 5. Part, Inſtitutes, 384. Coo. 1. Part, 96. in Shelleyes Caſe.

Examination.

1. NOte, In a Writ of Entry brought, an Eſſoign was Caſt, for the Defendant of the Kings Service, in partibus tranſmarinis: Day was given to the Eſſoignor to bring his Warrant into Court of Eſſoign; and it was then made a Queſtion, If the Eſſoignor ſhould be examined and ſworn, de veritate Eſſonie; and it was the Opinion of the Court, That he ſhould be examined, though it was ſaid, That Preſidents of ſuch examination were rare. Mich. 5. Ma. Dyer, 154. Huggard and Katvitts Caſe.

2. A Quare Impedit was brought againſt Blower, and the Biſhop; and upon default at the grand Diſtreſs, Judgment was given againſt Blower, and a Writ iſſued to remove Blower, and to admit the Clerk of the Plaintiff. The Biſhop and Blower brought a Writ of Diſceit in the Common-Pleas againſt the Preſentee, and the Sheriff and Summoners; and the Summoners appeared: And there by the Rule of the Court, the Summoners were examined upon their Oaths, Whether they did ſummon the Preſentee or not; and they denyed that they gave him any ſufficient ſummons propter brevietatem temporis, ante diem retorni brevis. Mich. 19 Eliz. Dyer, 353. in Blowers Caſe.

3. In a Replevin betwixt Kemp and Markwilliams, divers of the Hundred which ought ſuit to the Court, in Queſtion, were of the Jury, and challenged by the Plaintiff, as in the diſtreſs of the Defendant, pro tempore diſſeiſinæ; the Court was in doubt, If the Challenge in that Caſe was good: Whereupon they were examined upon a voire dire, and upon their examination, it appeared, that the ſaid Jurours never did ſuit at the ſaid Court; Wherefore they were admitted and ſworn. Hill. 3 Eliz. Dyer, 195. Kemp and Markwilliam's Caſe.

4. An Information was brought by the King Attorney againſt a Receiver in Ireland, for 2000 l. Arrerages of an account adjudged before the Auditors; the Defendant would have waged his Law according to the Statute of 5 H. 4. cap. 8. upon examination of the Attorney of the Plaintiff, in Debt upon Arrerages of account, that wager of Law doth not lye; and therefore the Defendant pleaded, Nihil debet; the Iſſue to be tryed per patriam. Paſc. 4. Ma. Dyer, 145.

5. A Bill of Debt was brought againſt an Attorney of the Common-Pleas, by the name of Huſbandman; upon which he being condemned, brought a Writ of Error; and afterwards by a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, ſealed under the Seal of the Kings Bench, he was taken in Execution; and thereupon he was brought by Habeas Corpus to the Bar, and the Plaintiffs Attorney was examined upon the taking forth of this Writ; and the ſame appearing upon his examination, the party was diſcharged out of Execution, and the Attorney of the Plaintiff was committed. Mich. 8 Eliz. Dyer, 244.

6. A. was impriſoned in the Counter of London, in Execution upon a Statute, and to remove himſelf from thence to the Fleet, a Priſon of more eaſe, he made a Bill to one J. S. and cauſed the ſame Bill to be put in ſuit againſt him in the Common-Pleas; where he confeſſed the Action; and in the name of J. S. procured a Habeas Corpus to the Sheriff of London, and the Court not knowing this ſubtilty, committed A. to the Fleet: And it was a Queſtion amongſt the Juſtices, Whether he might be remanded to London or not, becauſe the Sheriffs of

London

London were once diſcharged of their Priſoner: But afterwards upon examination of A. himſelf; and the diſclaiming of J. S. in the ſuit in the Common-Pleas; the ſaid A. was remanded to Priſon in London in the Counter; and a Fine of 10 l. ſet upon him, and a vacat made of the Judgment in the Common-Pleas. Paſc. 8 Eliz. Dyer, 249. Harriſons Caſe.

7. One was ſued in the Common-Pleas, and as he was comming to Weſtminſter, he was Arreſted in London; whereupon he had his Writ of Priviledg. It was prayed, That he might be examined, for that ſuch Writ ſhould not be granted, but upon examination, as the book is, 10 H. 6. and 4 H. 4. But notwithſtanding, the Court refuſed to examine him, and allowed the Priviledg, and diſcharged him from the Arreſt. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Powells Caſe. Goldesbr. 64.

8. When a man is found Ideot from his birth by Office, he who is found ſo Ideot, may come perſonally in Chancery before the Chancellor, and pray, that before him and the Juſtices and Sages of the Law which he ſhall call to him, to be examined if he be Ideot or not: Or by his friends he may ſue forth a Writ out of the Chancery to bring him into the Chancery ibid. coram nobis et concilio noſtro examinand. And if it be found upon ſuch examination, that he is no Ideot, the Office found hereof, and all the examination which hath bin made by force of the Writ, or the Kings Commiſſion, is utterly void, without any traverſe, Monſtrans de droit, or other ſuit. Cook 4. Part, 31. in the Caſe of the Abbot of Strata Mercella.

9. If in Aſſiſe, the Tenant ſaith, That the Lands are ſeiſed into the Kings hands, it ſhall be tryed by Examination of the Eſcheator. 9 H. 4. 1.

10. If at the Petit Cape, the Tenant ſaith, That he was impriſoned three dayes before the default, and three dayes after, it ſhall be tryed by Examination of the Attorney. 13. R. 2. Examination 22.

11. Not attached by 15 dayes in an Aſſiſe, ſhall not be tryed by Jury, but by Examination of the Bayliff. Coo. 9. Part, 32. acc.

12. Note, in a tryal at the Bar upon an Action brought againſt a Hundred, upon the Statute of Winchester: It was ſaid by the Court, That if either of the parties to a tryal, deſire that a Juror may give Evidence of ſomething of his own knowledg to the reſt of the Jurors. That the Court will examine him openly in Court upon his Oath, and he ought not to be examined in private by his companions. Mich. 1650. in B. R. Bennet and the Hundred of Hartfords Caſe. Styles 233.

13. In an Action upon the Statute of Hue-and-Cry; the Caſe was, A. did deliver a ſum of money to a Carrier, who put the ſame in his Cart, and ſent a boy of the age of 12 years with the Cart; and afterwards he went, and before he could get to the Cart, the Cart was robbed, and the mony carried away. The Boy made Hue-and-Cry, and came to a Juſtice of Peace, and prayed that he would examine him, but he would not, but the Carryer himſelf would not go to be examined. Wherefore A. went to a Juſtice of Peace to be examined, and was; and afterwards brought his Action. It was holden by the Court, that the Plaintiff had failed of his Action, for want of ſufficient examination, for the ſervant who was robbed, ought to be examined; and the examination of the Owner of the goods, who was not preſent at the Robbery, was to no purpoſe; for the party robbed ought to be examined. Then it was moved, if the Plaintiff might have an Action againſt the Juſtice of Peace who refuſed to examine the Boy. It was Objected, it did not lye againſt him, becauſe he is a Judg of Record, and for ſuch a thing as he doth as Judg, no Action lyeth. But the better Opinion of the Court was, That the examination in ſuch Caſe, was not made by him as Judg or Juſtice of Peace, but as a Miniſter appointed by the Statute for the examination; and therefore conceived, that the Action in ſuch Caſe, might well lye againſt him. Trin. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Green and the Hundred of Buccle-Churches Caſe. Leon. 323.

14. Debt was brought upon Arrerages of account, by the Lady Aburgavenny, againſt another; the Defendant pleaded, That he owed her nothing, and was ready to wage his Law; and prayed by force of the Statute of 5 H. 4. cap. 8. that the Plaintiff ſhould be examined, which Statute is general, that examination ſhould be made, which is in ended upon Oath. It is there Ruled, that the Lady of Aburgavenny is a Peer of the Realm, and it ſhall not be well to cauſe her to appear to be examined: And it was ſaid, That although the ſaid Act be general, and is for every man, high or low. Yet it is obſerved by the Court, That a Lady who is but the Wife of a Baron, is a Peer of the Realm, and is in Equipage as to Nobility and Priviledg incident to her Dignity as Dukes, or Earls, &c. and therefore by the Rule of the Court, ſhe was not examined. See Coo. 6. Part, 53. in Iſabel Counteſs of Rutlands Caſe. See Cook 10. Part, 103. in Denbawds Caſe, acc.

15. In a ſuit in the Chancery by Mr. Attorney General on the behalf of the King, and the Lord Hunſdon his Farmer, againſt the Counteſs Dowar of Arundel; The Queſtion was, That whereas the title between the King in the right of Francis Lord Dacres, ſtood partly upon an Act of Parliament, and partly upon a Feoffment made by William Lord Dacres, 5 Mar. and a re-enfeoffment back again, which which Feoffment, the Defendants ſaid, was not lawfully executed; and that point had bin examined before the Councel of York, in 8 Eliz. The Defendants required the uſe of the ſaid Depoſitions; the Kings Councel prayed that that might not be granted to them. And although it was ſaid that thoſe Depoſitions were allowed and given in Evidence, 36 Eliz. upon an Office taken at Carliſle, upon the Attainder of Francis Dacres. Yet the Court did refuſe to allow the ſaid Depoſitions to be read in the Cauſe in Queſtion, for many cauſes, and eſpecially for one, becauſe the Originalls of thoſe Depoſitions at York were all gone, and there were no exemplifications of them, but in the hands of the Defendants, ſo as the King might fight with weapons aſſigned him by his parties adverſaries: And ſo the Depoſitions taken at York, were not to be allowed to be read in Chancery. And afterwards upon hearing of the Cauſe, a Decree was made for the Plaintiffs. Trin. 14 Jac. in Cancell. The King and the Lord Hunſdon, and the Counteſs of Arundells Caſe. Hob. 109, 110.

16. A Bill was preferred in the Chancery; The effect of the Bill was, That in the time of Queen Eliz. the 18th of her reign, A. the Plaintiffs Father had conveyed the ſubſtance of his whole Inheritance, to the uſe of the ſaid B. the Plaintiff for life, and for default of Iſſue Male of him, and of another brother of his, the Land was limitted to the Father of the Defendant, and the Heirs Males of his body, with a Proviſo to make a revocation by his writing under his hand and Seal, in the preſence of two Witneſſes; and alledged, that he had made ſuch a Revocation. The Defendant denyed the Revocation, which he laboured to be tryed at the Common-Law, but an Injunction was awarded, and Witneſſes examined, and heard before the Lord Chancellor Egerton, being aſſiſted with ſome of the Judges; and then the Lord Chancellor dyed before any Decree. Afterwards this cauſe was brought to be heard before the Chancellor Bacon, aſſiſted by the Lord Hobart, and the Maſter of the Rolls; and the Queſtion was, Whether this cauſe were examinable in Chancery or not. And it was Reſolved by us all, That this Cauſe was not fit for that Court, but at the Common-Law, except all cauſes were tryable by the Common-Law naturally by Jury, ſhould be made examinable and determinable in Chancery by Teſtes, which were to confound all Juriſdictions; Wherefore after a long ſuit in Chancery, the Cauſe was diſmiſſed to the Common-Law. Trin. 14 Jac. in Cancell. Manwering and Dennis's Caſe. Hob 203. See the like Caſe between Cavendiſh and Woſley, ibid. 203.

17. Note, It was Reſolved, That a Feme-Covert ſhould not be barred by her confeſſion of her Inheritance, but when ſhe is examined by due courſe of Law: And a Feme-Covert cannot be examined without a Writ, and in caſe of a Fine, there is a Writ upon which ſhe may be examined; If Husband and Wife acknowledg a Statute, it is void as to the Wife, although that ſhe ſurvive her Husband. So if Husband and Wife acknowledg a Deed enrolled, and the reaſon is, becauſe there is no ſuch Writ depending, upon which the Wife may be examined. But if an Infant acknowledgeth a Statute, the ſame is not void, but voidable by Audita Querela during his Minority. But if a Feme-Covert levyeth a Fine only, the ſame ſhall bind her and her Heirs, if the Husband doth not enter and avoid the eſtate of the Conuſee, becauſe ſhe was examined, and had power over the Land. Co. 10. Part, 43. Mary Portingtons Caſe.

18. Husband and Wife make a Deed enrolled of Lands in London, and acknowledg the ſame before the Recorder, and one Alderman, and another, and the Wife is examined. It was holden, that the ſame ſhould bind as a Fine at the Common-Law by their Cuſtome, and not onely as a Deed; and it is good without Livery and Seiſin. But a Deed of Husband and Wife ſhall not be enrolled in the Common-Pleas, but by the Husband only, and not by the Wife; nor ſhall ſhe be bounden with her Husband in a Statute-Merchant, nor the like; becauſe in ſuch Caſes ſhe is not examined. 29 H. 8. Mich. 5 E. 4. tit. Faits enrolled. 10. 14, 15.

19. A man was arreſted and impriſoned in London upon a contract made in London. The Defendant brought his Writ of Priviledg, and a Habeas Corpus was directed to the Sheriff of L. to bring the Cauſe and Priſoner. The Priviledg by him alledged was, becauſe he was endited in the Kings Bench, of a Treſpaſs done in Middleſex againſt the Peace, in which Caſe he ought to pay a Fine to the King. It was ſaid, that the Writ was brought by Covin; but the Court ſaid, it ſhall not be intended to be by Covin, becauſe it was for the King. But in that Caſe, it was holden, if it were a ſuit betwixt party and party, which giveth cauſe of Priviledg, there the Record the ſame Term being in the breaſt of the Juſtices, they will there examine if the ſuit was there by Covin or not, and the warrant of Attorney, and all other the Circumſtances before the Priviledg ſhall be allowed. But if it be in another Term, then the Covin ſhall not be examined, but the Court ſhall believe the Record. See 2. Aſſ. 16, 17. acc.

20. Note, the Cuſtome of London is, That if any matter be pleaded to Iſſue which cannot be tryed, by thoſe of the City then the party ſhall be examined upon it; and Judgment ſhall be according to that which is found upon the Examination; and if the party refuſeth to be examined; then Judgment hath uſed to be given againſt him. See Bro. Entries, 203.

21. So

21. So the Cuſtome of London is, That if a Plaint of Debt be entred in the Sheriffs Court, that upon ſuggeſtion of the parties, the Mayor may ſend for them, and examine them upon the truth of the matter before Judgment; and if it be found that the party is ſatisfyed, of ſo much he ſhall be barred, but ſuch Examination cannot be after Judgment. Hill. 10 H. 6. 14, 15.

When and where the Juſtices ſhall go to the Examination of Errors; and when and where not.

1. IF he in the Reverſion bringeth a Writ of Error, the Juſtices muſt go to the Examination of the Errors during the life of the Tenant for life. 20 E. 3. Fitz. Error, 2.

2. Error was brought againſt the Heir, being Tenant of the moyety of the Land, and a Scire facias was brought againſt a ſtranger of the other moyety; the Heir being in Ward to the King, prayed his age, and had it. Yet it was the Opinion of the Court, that the Juſtices might go to the Examination of the Errors as to the ſtranger; and ſo if the Error be aſſigned in the Writ. 9 H. 6. 46.

3. Error was brought againſt one, who by the Writ was ſuppoſed to be dead; Wherefore a Scire facias iſſued againſt the Heir and the Ter-Tenants; the Sheriff returned, that the Heir had not any thing by which he could be warned, and the Ter-Tenants appeared. And if the Juſtices could proceed to the Examination of the Errors, untill the Heir came in and appeared, was the doubt: And at the laſt, becauſe they ſhewed that their poſſeſſion was by Feoffment, and not by wrong; It was Awarded that a Scire facias ſhould Iſſue forth againſt the Heir at the Suit of the Feoffees, before they proceeded to the Examination of the Errors; but contrary it had bin if they had entred by abatement, for in ſuch Caſe, they cannot take benefit of any Releaſe made unto the Heir. 8 H. 4. 18. acc.

4. If the Plaintiff appeareth upon the Scire facias ad errores aſſignand. the Court ſhall proceed to the Examination of the Errors, but if he maketh default, the Defendant ſhall have Execution for the Court is not bound to examine the Errors, although they be apparent but at the aſſignment of the party, and that was agreed, 20 H. 6. 18.

5. If upon Scire facias ad audiendum Errores, the Defendant maketh default, the Juſtices may proceed to the Examination of the Errors, as appeareth by the book of 14 H. 7. 33.

6. The Caſe was; Grandfather, Father, and two Daughters; the Grandfather levyed a Fine come ceo, &c. in Cheſter, with a Remainder to himſelf for life, the Remainder to the Father, and the Heirs Males of his body, the Remainder to the eldeſt daughter in tail, &c. the Grandfather dyed, the Father dyed without Iſſue Male; the eldeſt daughter entred, the youngeſt in her own name, and in the name of her eldeſt ſiſter, as Couſins and Heirs of the Grandfather, brought a Writ of Error returnable in the Kings Bench to reverſe the Fine, the Writ was directed to the Juſtices, and not Camerario de Cheſter, which was returned with the Record, the eldeſt daughter did not appear, whereupon a Scire facias iſſued againſt the Heir of the Conuſee to hear the Errors, and none againſt the Ter-Tenant: Two things were moved, wherefore the Juſtices ought not to proceed to the examination of the Errors. 1. Becauſe no Writ of Error was made and brought in Cheſter. 2. Becauſe no Scire facias is awarded againſt the Ter-Tenant by name, but generally againſt the Ter-Tenants without any name. To the firſt, it was anſwered, That the manner and uſage in Cheſter had alwayes bin, That a Writ of Error had bin brought out of the Chancery in England, returnable in the Kings Bench, although it was out of the County Palatine, for that in all the Charters of the Kings Granted to Cheſter. Writs of Error are excepted; And as to the ſecond point, It was the Opinion of the Juſtices of both Benches, That the moſt perfect and ſure way had bin to award a Scire facias againſt the Ter-Tenant before they proceeded to the Examination of the Errors, for it may be that he hath ſomething to plead in bar of the Writ of Error, as a Releaſe or the like, whereby the Court might be eaſed of their labour in examination of the Errors; and although they ſhould reverſe the Judgment againſt the party, yet the Plaintiff cannot be reſtored to all that which he loſt, until the Ter-Tenant be made privy by a Scire facias; for if he be otherwiſe ouſted, he may have an Aſſiſe, eſpecially where the parties to the firſt Judgment are dead, as in this Caſe, ſo as the Heir of the one, nor of the other, nor the Ter-Tenant is known. Wherefore a Scire facias was awarded againſt the Ter-Tenant. Hill. 15 Eliz. Dyer.

7. Error was brought in the Kings Bench upon a Recovery in Aſſiſe, and the Judgment affirmed: A new Writ of Error was brought in Parliament of the Judgment in the Kings Bench; the Chief Juſtice brought the Record and Tranſcript there, and examined that there, and after it was there examined, the Record was remaunded, and thereupon a Scire facias awarded. Hill. 1. 23 Eliz. Dyer, 375. Whaleyes Caſe.

Exonerment,

Excomengment.

1. EXcomengment is, Where a man by Judgment of the Spiritual Court is Excommunicated, or disabled to sue, or bring any Action in any of the Kings Courts: And if the party will remain Excommunicated by the space of 40 dayes, and will not be justified by his Ordinary: Then the Bishop may send his Letters Patents to his Chancellor, to certifie this Excommunication or contempt. And then the Sheriff shall be commanded to attach the body of the party Excommunicated, by a Writ called Breve de Excommunicato Capiendo, till he make his agreement with the Church for the wrong or contempt; And when he hath made such agreement, then the Bishop shall by his Letters certify the same to the King: and thereupon a Writ de Excommunicato deliberando, shall be awarded to the Sheriff, to set the party at liberty. See Statute 5 Eliz. cap. 23.

2. A man was Excommunicated before the Statute of 21 Jac. upon a sentence in the Spiritual Court for Costs in Castigationem morum, and divers Proclamations and penalties; and a Capias issued against him according to the Statute of 5 Eliz. and being now taken, as to the penalties and forfeitures, he said, That it is not for any causes within the Statute, and as to the Excom. Capiendo, he pleaded, That the offence for which he was Excomenge, was before 21 Jacobi, and pleaded the general pardon of 21 Jac. For the first, it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That he ought to be discharged: And for the second, the Court held also, That he ought to be discharged by the general Pardon, because by the Pardon, all contempts before the Pardon are discharged, and all the sentences for the crime, the Pardon being general, except only for the payment of the Costs; for they being taxed before the Pardon, the interest of them was in the party, which is not taken away by the general Pardon. And therefore it was Resolved, that for the Costs, he ought to sue forth new process. Trin. 6 Car. in B. R. Codrington and Rodman's Case. Cro. 1. Part, 144. Mich. 2 Car. Rott. 64. in B. R. adjudg. acc. See Trin. 6 Car. in B. R. Hugh's Case. Cro 11. Part 142.

3. A man was brought and returned upon a Habeas Corpus out of the County of Suff. because upon a Certificate of the Chancellor of Suff. into the Court of Chancery here, he was taken upon an Exc. Capiendo. It was pleaded, That the Capias was not good, and that the party was not lawfully imprisoned, because by the Statute of 5 Eliz. the Writ ought to have bin brought in the Kings Bench, and to have bin enrolled and delivered of Record in convenient time to the Sheriff; and of that Opinion was the whole Court, and Resolved that he was not duly imprisoned, and therefore he was discharged. Trin. 10 Car. in B. R. Parkers Case. Cro. 1. Part, 421. See 11 Jac. in B. R. Cro. 2. Part, 566.

4. Error brought of a Judgment in the Exchequer; The Defendant pleaded an Excommunication in disability of the Plaintiff, and shewed it under the Seal of the Bishop. The Plaintiff pleaded the general Pardon of 3 Jac. which was subsequent to the Excommengment: The Justices doubted, If an Excommunication might be discharged by the Kings Pardon; and the Plaintiff restored to his suit without absolution and reconciliation to the Church. Mich. 6 Jac. in B. R. Richardsons Case. See this Quære Resolved before, C. 2. Cro. 2. Part, 212.

5. Note, an Excommunication may be pleaded in disability of the person; yet if the Demandant or Plaintiff purchase Letters of absolution, and shew them in Court, he may have a re-summon, or re-attachment upon his Original, according to the nature of his Writ. Cook 1. Part, Institutes, 133.

6. Note, it is said, That if an Executor or an Administrator sue an Action; Outlawry in the Plaintiff, shall not disable him, because the suit is in auter droit, scil. in the right of the Testator: But if an Executor or Administrator be Excommunicated, he may be disabled, although he sueth in auter droit, because, as it is said, they which converse with a person Excommunicated, are Excommunicated also. Quære, Cook 1. Part, Institutes, 134.

7. In a false Imprisonment brought; The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff was excommunicated for malitious drawing of his dagger in the Church-yard, to the intent to strike A. and is Endicted of that. It is made a Quære, If the words of the Statute of 5 E. 6. that he shall be Excommunicated ipso facto, shall be intended without sentence or proof. But it was agreed by the Justices, That without Conviction or Outlawry, the Indictment is not sufficient to make him sustain the corporal punishment in the Statute to lose his Ear. Mich. 10 Eliz. Dyer, 275. Foremans Case.

8. Excommunication of the party must be in the Diocess where the party dwelleth or inhabiteth; and in the Diocess of the Bishop: For if the Bishop of one Diocess doth Excomenge another in a forein Diocess, the same is void. and coram non Judice. Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. Fraunces and Portell Case. Godbolt. 191.

9. In Tover and Convertion, the part es being at issue, and the Jury at Bar; the Defendant pleaded, ded, that the Enqueſt ought not to be taken, for that after the laſt continuance, and before Iſſue joyned; The Plaintiff was Excommunicated, and ſhewed the Letters of the Biſhop teſtifying of it; but he did not ſhew in his Plea, nor in the Letters, when he was Excommunicated; and it might be before the laſt continuance, and then it is no Plea. Alſo it is not averred that the party Excommunicate, and the Plaintiff are one and the ſame perſon. The Court held the Plea not good, becauſe the day of Excomengment ought to be ſhewed to the Court, that the Court might adjudg thereupon, and the time is traverſable: In that Caſe Letters of abſolution were ſued for the Plaintiff; but the Court held them inſufficient, being after the Demurrer, and they bare date after the Jury returned. Mich. 3 Jac. in B. R. Baker and Gough's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 82.

10. Note, It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That if a man be Excommunicate by the Ordinary, where he ought not to be; as after a general Pardon, &c. and the Defendant doth not by negligence ſue a Prohibition, but remains excomenge by 40. dayes, and upon a Certificate into the Chancery, he is taken upon an Excommunicato capiendo. No Prohibition lyeth in this Caſe; for a Prohibition lies to prohibite Eccleſiaſtical things, and not any thing which is done by force of the Kings Writ. But in ſuch Caſe he may have a Writ to the Biſhop to abſolve him. 2. When a man is Excomenge againſt the Law of the Realm, ſo as he cannot have a Writ de Cautione admittenda, for then he ought parere mandatis Eccleſiæ in forma Juris, i. e. Eccleſiaſtica; where in truth, it is contra jus, et formam juris, i. e. juris communis. But if he ſhew his Cauſe to the Biſhop, and requeſt him to abſolve him, for that he was Excomenge after the offence pardoned, and he refuſe to abſolve him, an Action upon the Caſe lyeth againſt the Ordinary. Mich. 8 Jac. Coo. 12. Part, 76.

11. One was cited before the Dean of the Arches, in cauſe of defamation out of his Dioceſs, contrary to the Statute of 23 H. 8. and the Plaintiff had a ſentence, and the Defendant was Excomenge and ſo continued 40 dayes, and the Defendant was taken and impriſoned by Excommunicato Capiendo. It was Reſolved, That in ſuch Caſe he ſhould not have a Prohibition upon the Statute of 23 H. 8. but after the ſentence repealed, a Prohibition lyeth. But yet there is a difference where it appears to the Court, that the matter of the Libel, is not within their Juriſdiction, as of lay-Fee, or lay-Contract, &c. there a Prohibition lyeth. Mich. 8 Jac. Cook 12. Part, 77. acc.

12. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That if a Summoner return one ſummoned upon his Oath in the Spiritual Court, where in truth he is not, and the party is pronounced Contumax; and after he is excommunicated, an Action upon the Caſe will lye, for that here is injuria et damna; for although the proceedings and Oath, are Eccleſiaſtical, yet the damages are temporal. Mich. 12 Jac. Coo. 12. Part, 128.

13. If a man be Excommunicated by the Biſhop, after a Prohibition delivered to him: the party ſhall recover damages againſt the Biſhop. And ſee, where in ſuch Caſe, the party recovered 10000 l. damages againſt the Biſhop, 20 E. 3. rott. 46. in the Treaſury. Treſils Caſe. 32 E. 3. rott. 78. Sir Thomas Seatons Caſe. And ſee 37 E. 1. Coſts were recovered againſt the Biſhop of Cant. 40 l. becauſe he Excommunicated one pro executione brevis Regis pro manuforta amovenda. Coo. 12. Part, 129. acc.

Of Certificates in caſe of Excomengement; and who may Certify it; who not; and where ſuch Certificate ſhall be good; Where not.

1. EXcommunication is a Spiritual thing: and if it be pleaded againſt the party in the Temporal Court, it muſt be certified thither by the Biſhop himſelf, for no man can certify an Excomengement, but only the Biſhop, who is immediate Officer to the Kings Courts to this purpoſe. And Quære, Whether Letters of Excomengement may be ſpecial in the Chancery, or whether they ought to be in that Court where the Plea is depending. 20 H. 6. 25. And it ſeemeth by 2 E. 4. 4. That Letters of Excomengement, certified into the Chancery, were ſent into the Kings Bench, and were not allowed there, becauſe the Certificate was to the Chancery only, for which cauſe the party obtained new Letters of Excommunication. Omnibus Chriſti fidelibus, &c.

2. A man brought a Writ of Error to reverſe a Judgment in Debt in the Exchequer: The Defendant pleaded an Excomengement of the Plaintiff in the ſaid Writ of Error, and brought Letters of the Excomengement certified by the Official, under the Seal of the Biſhop of D. which recited that they proceeded againſt him for Recuſancy, and for contempt in non comparendo, he was Excomenge. The Plaintiff ſaid, That after the Excomengement, the King by his Pardon, 3 Jac. pardoned all contempts, and averred, that neither the Offence, nor the perſon was excepted. In this Caſe, many points were Reſolved. 1. That the Plea of Excomengement was inſufficient, becauſe it is certified by the Official, whereas it ought to be by the Bishop himself, who is immediate Officer to the Court, for none shall certify an Excomengement whereby the party shall be disabled, but he to whom the Court may write to absolve him. But the Chancellors of the Universities may certify Excomengements, because they have it by the Kings Charter. 2. Resolved, That if the Bishop himself had certified it, it had bin insufficient, because in the principal Case, the Certificate was singulis Clericis Dioces. Dunelm. by which direction the Court it self was excluded; and it was not directed to the Court it self. 3. Resolved, That in some Cases, although an Excommunication is a Spiritual thing, yet the Common Law shall adjudg upon the manner of it, and matter of the Certificate. As if a Bishop be sued, and he plead, an Excomengement by himself, or his Commissary, although it be for another Cause that is in Question, the same shall not dis-able the party, because he himself is a party. 4. Resolved, That the Bishop must certify that which is in his own Court, and not that which is in the Court of another; and he cannot certify, that another Bishop hath certified him, or that he hath seen an Excomengement made by another Bishop: But he may certify an Excomengement made by his Commissary, or Official; because he doth it in his Right, and it is in his Court. 5. Resolved, That the Certificate of the Vicar-General shall be allowed, when the Bishop is in remotis agendis; and a Bishop Elect, before his confirmation, may certify an Excomengement. 6. Resolved, When a Plea of Excomengement is allowed, the Writ shall not abate, but the Entre is Quod loquela remaneat quousque. Co. 8. Part, 68, 69. Trollops Case.

Exchequer.

1. Of the Exchequer, and the Judicial; and Ministers, Officers thereof.

1. THe Court of Exchequer consisteth of Scaccarium Superius, and Inferius, called the Higher and lower Court of Exchequer. The Higher Court of such Officers as are employed in the bringing in of the Kings Revenues; and other Debts and Duties belonging to the Crown. As also of a Latine Court, and publick Court of Administration of Justice and Right between the King and his people. And of a Court of Equity, or English Court, called the Exchequer Chamber. The Lower Exchequer consisteth of the Receipt of the Exchequer; wherein is the Court called the Chamberlains Court, and certain other Officers, and Tellers appointed for the receiving of the said Revenues, Debts, and Duties from all Sheriffs, General Receivers, Bayliffs, Farmers, and other Accountants and Debtors, and for issuing the same again towards the supply of his Majesties expences in Houshold, Navy, Wardrobe, Servam, Wages, Pensions, and the like. And in the said Chamberlains Court, are the Proffers held before the Cursiter Baron twice in the year, viz. Oct. Pasc. and Cruc. Mich. And there also are the Talyes stricken, by the said Chamberlains Deputies for discharge of such Accomptants, or Debtors as pay in any Moneyes to the said Court of Exchequer.

The Principal and Judicial Officers of the Exchequer.

2. Where, or in what matters and Pleas the Court of Exchequer ſhall have Juriſdiction; and of other matters concerning that Court, and the Court of Exchequer-Chamber.

1. THe King ſeiſed of a Mannor in Fee, in the Right of his Crown, granted Copy-hold Lands parcel of the Mannor to one in Fee, and afterward, by his Letters Patents under the Seal of the Exchequer made Leaſe of thoſe Lands for 21. years the Leſſee granted his Eſtate to the Copy-holder, the King reciting the Leaſe for years, granted the Reverſion in Fee; the years expired, the Grantee of the Reverſion entred upon the Copy-holder. It was adjudged, that his Entry was lawful: For It was Reſolved, that the Leaſe under the Exchequer Seal was good by common Uſage; for that the Cuſtoms of the King's Courts are as Common Law, and the Common Law takes notice of them: And a Leaſe by order of the Exchequer, by the word commi timus habend. tenend. & reddend. ſuch a Rent is good by the ancient Uſage here. Cook 2. Part. 16. Lane's Caſe.

2. The Queſtion was, Whether a Leaſe by the King, under the Exchequer-Seal, of Lands uſually demiſed to one for life, the Remainder for life, the Remainder to a third for life, reſerving the uſuall Rent, were good or not: It was objected, That a Free-hold could not paſs from the King but under the great Seal. But all the Juſtices held, That Leaſes for life under the Exchequer Seal, being of Lands uſually leaſed, and reſerving the ancient Rent, are allowable, and good for the King's benefit; and it was ſaid, That the Uſage of the Court of Exchequer hath been to demiſe as well for life as for years, and ſuch Leaſes have been always allowed. Hill. 13 Car. in B. R. Kemp and Barnard's Caſe. Cro. el. Part, 369.

3. A. brought Debt by Quo minus in the Court of Exchequer againſt B: It was found for the Plaintiff; and for the default of a good Viſne, the Judgment was reverſed: And afterwards A. by his Attorny entred a Retraxit, ſcil. Fatetur ſe in Curia hic ulterius nolle proſequi; upon which, Judgment was given, That the Defendant eat ſine die, but no Amercement was upon the Plaintiff. And afterwards A. brought a Writ of Error in the Exchequer-Chamber, and aſſigned the Cauſes aforeſaid for Error; and there in the Exchequer-Chamber the Judgment given in the Court of Exchequer was reverſed. Cook 8. Part, 58. Butcher's Caſe. See M. 6 Jac. in the Exchequer-Chamber, Trollop's Caſe. acc.

4. It was moved as a Queſtion, Whether an Error in fact be aſſignable in the Exchequer-Chamber upon the Statute of 27 Eliz. becauſe the Statute gives Authority only to examine Errors in Law: It was the better Opinion of the Court, that it may well be aſſignable here. For the Statute, giving the Writ of Error, gives that Authority as well to examine Errors in Fact as Errors in Law: And in ſuch Caſe it was ſaid, It hath been tryed by Niſi prius out of the Exchequer-Chamber. M. 14 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 369. M. 42 & 43 Eliz. B. R. Rewe and Long's Caſe. Mich. 10 Car. B. R. Smith and Merchant's Caſe. acc. ibid.

5. A man brought an Action of Trover and Converſion, in the Exchequer: The Defendant pleaded, that the Plaintiff had an Action depending in the Court of Kings Bench, for the ſame Trover and Converſion: It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Bill brought in the Exchequer ſhould abate, becauſe a man ſhall not be twice puniſhed for one and the ſame cauſe. 2. Reſolved, That although the firſt Action was in another Court, yet the Plea was good, becauſe it doth not appear by the Plea, that the Plaintiff or Defendant were priviledged in the Exchequer; and then, by the Statute of Articuli ſuper Chartas, it is provided, That no common Plea ſhall be holden in the Exchequer. Cook 5. Part, 61. Sparries Caſe.

6. Note, It was Reſolved, That if the King's Farmor brings a Quo minus in the Exchequer, he ought to alledge that he is Farmor to the King to enable him to ſue there, but he need not to ſhew it to the Court: For it was then Reſolved, That when a Deed or thing is requiſite ex inſtitutione Legis, there it ought to be ſhewed to the Court, although it concerneth a thing Collateral, and transfers and conveys nothing: But when a thing or Deed is requiſite ex proviſione hominis; there the proviſion of the man ſhall not change the Judgment of the Law. Cook 6. Par. 38. in Bellamyes Caſe.

7. A Prior Alien Farmor of the King, was indebted to the King for his Farm, and being ſued for the ſame in the Exchequer, he ſhewed to the Court, That there was a Parſon who held a portion of Tythes, which was parcel of the poſſeſſions belonging to his Farm, and that the Parſon withheld the Tythes from him by reaſon whereof he could not pay the King his Farm-Rent, without having thoſe Tythes which were in the Parſon's hands; and thereupon a Quo minus iſſued out of the Exchequer at the ſuit of the Prior and the King, for the Payment of thoſe Tythes to the King. And there it was ſaid by Skipwith, that if that which concerneth the King and which may turn to his advantage, and haſten his buſineſs, whether the ſame be Temporal or Spiritual. The Court of Exchequer ſhall have Juriſdiction. 38 E. 3. 20. out of which Caſe obſerve, That ſuit for Tythes was in the Exchequer.

8. Error was brought in the Exchequer Chamber of a Judgment in a Scire facias, by an Executor to have Execution of a Debt recovered by the Teſtator: It was moved that no Writ of Error lyeth there; for the Statute gives it in ſeven ſeveral Caſes, viz. Debt, Detinue, Covenant, Accompt, Actions upon the Caſe, Ejection, or Treſpaſs; ſo a Scire facias is not mentioned. The Court doubted, whether this Scire facias, being grounded upon a Judgment in an Action of Debt, be not within the Equity of the Statute. Mich. 8 Car. B. R. Nevil and Delabarr's Caſe, in the Exchequer-Chamber. Cro. 1. Part, 208. See 10 Jac. in the Exchequer-Chamber. Forreſt and Sir James Sandiland's Caſe. acc. Hob. 72.

9. A. recovered 130 l. againſt B. in B. R. to which Action J. S. was Bail, Judgment was againſt the Principal; and upon a Scire facias againſt the Bail, Error was brought by the Principal and Bail in the Exchequer Chamber, ſuppoſing Error to be In redditione Judicii & adjudicatione Executionis ad damnum ipſorum. It was moved, That the Bail might not have a Writ of Error in the Exchequer-Chamber, becauſe it was not one of the Caſes mentioned in the Statute of 27 Eliz. 2. Though the Bail might have a Writ of Error, yet the Principal and Bail could not joyn in one Writ, becauſe there be ſeveral Judgments againſt them; and of that Opinion was the whole Court, and that the Writ did not lye. Paſch. 9 Car. in B. R. Lancaſter and Keyleigh's Caſe. Cro. 1 Part, 219.

10. Note, An Office was found by the Eſcheator virtute Officii, which was returned into the Chancery; and Exception was taken into it, becauſe it ought to have been returned into the Exchequer: For Offices found virtute Brevis, returnable in the Chancery, ought to be returned in the Chancery; But Offices found virtute Officii, before the Eſcheator, ought to be returned into the Exchequer, to which Court the Eſcheator is properly Attendant. But it was holden by the Court, That the Office was well returned into the Chancery; and it was Reſolved, That if it be found upon the examination of the Eſcheator, that he hath ſeiſed the Land into the King's hand, although the Office be not returned, yet it is ſufficient to entitle the King. Cook 1. Part, 42. in the Caſe of Allenwoods.

11. A. Receivor of the King, endebted to the King upon his Receipts, ſeiſed of the Manner of B. and C. in the County of Middleſex, did convey the ſame to J. S. in Fee, and he conveyed them to the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and preſently took it again to him and his Heirs. Afterwards A. became further indebted to the King upon his Accompts: It was a Queſtion made in the Court of Wards, Whether the ſaid Mannors were extendable and lyable to any of the Debts aforeſaid: It was made a doubt by Tanfield Chief Baron, in reſpect he ſaid, That the uſe of the Exchequer was, that they ſhould be diſcharged. But it was the clear Opinion of the Lord Coke and the Lord Hobart, that they were not chargeable; for the Land it ſelf was never chargeable for it ſelf, but in reſpect of the Perſon which was Debtor, and the Land it ſelf in the King's hands is not chargeable, and then when the King conveys the Land over, he cannot againſt his own conveyance charge his Land: And therefore it was agreed, That this Opinion in this Caſe ſhould be made up in the Decree for the Diſcharge of the Land without prejudice to the uſe of the Exchequer for the King's Debt there. Paſch. 13 Jac. in the Court of Wards. Sir William Fleetwood and Sir Roger Aſton's Caſe, Hob. 45, 46.

12. A. brought Ejectione firme againſt B. upon a demiſe made of certain Lands in W. by J. S. upon Not guilty, it was found for the Plaintiff, and Judgment given, that he ſhould recover the poſſeſſion of his Term, and 18 l. damages and coſts. Error was brought in the Exchequer-Chamber, and Error aſſigned, That J. S. was ſeiſed but in the Right of his Wife, and that he was dead before the day of the Judgment, and ſo the Leaſe determined: Aut by the Opinion of the whole Court the Judgment was affirmed; for though it were agreed, That in the Exchequer-Chamber Judgment may be reverſed for Errors in Fact, as death of the parties, or the like, where the Writ is abſolutely abated; yet there is no colour in this Caſe, where the Error depends upon the death of one that is not party to the ſuit, and upon the Title of the Land; for the Defendant may ſay, That J. S. was ſeiſed in his own Right, or the like, which were to examine the whole Title in a Writ of Error. Paſch. 9 Jac. in C. B. Rott. 101. Wilks and Jordens Caſe. Hob. 5.

Exception.

Exception.

What ſhall be ſaid a good Exception, For ſprize, or Saving, in Feoffments, Grants, Leaſes, &c. Writs or Plaints, Acts of Parliament: And how the words of Exception, &c. ſhall be taken and expounded.

1. A Man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed thereof, by the name of all his Lands in S. except ſuch as he had deviſed or ſhould deviſe by his laſt Will and Teſtament to the uſe of himſelf in Tail, the Remainder to his Wife for life, the Remainder to J. S. in Tail; and afterwards he made a Feoffment to the uſe of himſelf and his Wife for their lives, for the Joynture of the Wife, the Remainder to J. B. In this Caſe, amongſt other poynts, it was Reſolved, That the Exception was void; for there could be no Land at that time deviſed, and the Exception of ſuch Lands which ſhould be deviſed was repugnant; for that the Covenant was to take effect from the making of the Indenture, and ſuch an exception was an undoing of the whole grant, and croſſes the grant, and therefore is a void Exception. Like the Caſe, If a man make a Leaſe of all his Land in D. except the Mannor of D. and he hath no Land there but the Mannor, the Exception is void, and all will paſs. Hill. 10 Jac. in C. B. Sir John Shirley and Barbara Wood's Caſe, Hob. 72.

2. The Dean and Cannons of Windſor being ſeiſed of a Mannor, did by Indenture make a Leaſe thereof to J. S. for 50 years, and of all Leets, Lawdayes, and Courts there to be held; (all manner of Fines, Herriots, Reliefs, Perquiſites, and Profits of Courts were excepted and reſerved): It was Reſolved, That the Exception of the Courts was void, becauſe the Mannor by that name was granted, which could not be recalled, and a Mannor it could not be without a Court, unleſs it were in the King's Grants. Trin. 13 Jac. in C. B. Brown and Goldſmith's Caſe. Hob. 108. See Trin. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Wheeler and Two-good's Caſe. Leon 118. acc.

3. The Queen ſeaſed the Patronage of D. with all the Lands and Woods and Under-woods thereunto belonging, exceptis omnibus graſſis, arboribus, Boſcis, & maremiis. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, as to the Under-woods, the Exception was void, for they held that the Exception was only to be intended of great Woods; and the Caſe 9 Eliz. Dyer, 265. of a Leaſe of an Houſe and Shops, excepting the Shops, is to be underſtood having reſpect to it ſelf only, and not having relation to any other houſe. Mich. 34 Eliz. B. R. Keinſham and Redding's Caſe.

4. In an Ejectione firme in Lamberhurſt in the County of Kent: It was found by the Jury, That the Maſters and Schollers of Lonkford were ſeiſed of the Lands in Queſtion, being part of the Mannor of Hothley in Lamberhurſt, and that they did demiſe all their Lands in Lamberhurſt, excepting the Mannor of Hothley, under which the Plaintiff claimed; and they found that Lamberhurſt did extend into Kent and Suſſex, and that the Maſter had no Lands in Lamberhurſt but the Mannor of Hothley. It was adjudged, That the Leaſe did carry the Mannor of Hothley, and that the Exception was void. 18 Eliz. in B. R. Dorrel and Collins Caſe. Hob. 170.

5. The Duke of Northumberland was ſeiſed of diverſe Houſes and Cottages in the Pariſh of St. Sepulchres, London, and bargained and ſold all his Lands and Tenements in the Pariſh of St. Andrews Holborn, in the Tenure of William Gardiner to one Lea: It was adjudged, that the Grant in that Caſe was void, though thoſe Houſes were in the Tenure of Gardiner, Cook 3 Part, 9. Doughties Caſe. But where it is added in that Caſe, that the Court was of Opinion, that if he had begun with the Tenure of Gardiner, and ended with the Pariſh miſtaken, that the Grant had been good; the Lord Juſtice Hobart conceived the contrary, for the ſeveral Circumſtances and Deſcriptions circumſcribe and aſcertain the Grant, and compared it to the Caſe in Cook 2 Part, 22. Doddington's Caſe, where the Caſe was King Henry 8. was ſeiſed of the Hoſpital of Wells, whereof certain Lands in D. out of the Circuit of Wells, which were in the Tenure of J. B. were part: And he granted to A. all his Lands in the Tenure of J. B. ſcituate in Wells to the ſaid Hoſpital belonging: In that Caſe, It was adjudged, That although the firſt part of the Deſcription, as it was placed in the Patent, in the Tenure of J. B, was true; yet the latter part being falſe, marred all.

6. Sir Roger Lewkner ſeiſed of Wallingford-Park, made a Leaſe thereof to Ford for years, and dyed: The Leſſee granted over his Term, excepting the Wood, the Term expired: In an Action of Waſte brought by the Heirs Coparceners of Sir Roger. The Queſtion was, againſt whom the Action ſhould be brought, Whether againſt the firſt Leſſee or the ſecond Leſſee? in which the Queſtion was, If the Exception of the Trees by the Leſſee was good or not. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices in this this Caſe, that the Exception was a void Exception, and that the Action was well brought againſt Ford the firſt Leſſee; and the whole Court was of Opinion, That ſuch a ſpecial property in the Trees and Wood none could have but the Owner of the Land, and therefore the Exception of the Wood by the Leſſee was void. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C.P. The Heirs of Sir Roger Lewkenor and Fords Caſe. Godb. 116,117,118.

7. In an Action of Treſpaſs the Caſe was, The Earl of Oxford was ſeiſed of Holm-Park in Fee, and 17 Eliz. leaſed to A. B. and C. the ſaid Park, except the Trees, for 21 years: C. aſſigned his Intereſt to J. S. and afterwards the Earl ſold to A. and B. the Trees aforeſaid, who 26 Eliz. leaſed parcel of the Lands of the ſaid Park upon which the Trees did grow to J. D. for 21 years: afterward, A. B. and J. S. ſold the Trees to H. and afterwards J. D. aſſigned his Intereſt to J. N. the Plaintiff, and then H. cut down the Trees. The Point was, when a man leaſeth his Lands for years, excepting the Wood, and afterwards the Leſſor grants the Wood to the Leſſee; if now the Wood be ſo united again to the Land, that by the Leaſe of the Land the Wood ſhould paſs as a thing annexed to it; or if the Wood remains as an intereſt diſtinct and ſevered from the Land: In this Caſe, amongſt other things, It was Reſolved, That if a man makes a Leaſe for years or life, the Leſſee hath but a ſpecial Intereſt in the Trees being Timber, as things annexed to the Land, ſo long as they are annexed to it; but if the Leſſee or any other ſever them from the Land, the Property and Intereſt of the Leſſee is determined, and the Leſſor may take them as things which are parcel of the Inheritance. 2. It was Reſolved, That when the Earl leaſeth the Land, excepting the Trees, by which they were ſevered; then, when after the Leſſor granteth the Trees to the Leſſee, if they be ſo now reunited to the poſſeſſion of the Land, that when the Term endeth, the Leſſor ſhall have them again: And it was Reſolved, That the Leſſee in Judgment of Law had abſolute Property in the Trees, ſo as by Leaſe of the Land they do not paſs; and therefore, if I leaſe you all my Lands, except the Trees, to have to you and your Heirs, the Trees in property are divided from the Land, although they in facto remain annexed to the Land; and in the principall Caſe it was holden, That it was againſt reaſon, that the Leſſor ſhould have them again, againſt his own Grant. M. 31 Eliz. in B.R. Cook 4. Part, 62. Herlakenden's Caſe.

8. A man made a Leaſe for 30 years of a Manor, excepting all Woods and Under-woods growing and being upon the Manor, and afterwards made another Leaſe to the ſame Leſſee of all the Wood and Under-wood growing or being upon the ſaid Manor for 60 years, without Impeachment of Waſte, and afterward a third Demiſe of the ſaid Manor to the Leſſee for 30 years without Exception, to begin at a day to come; ſcil. from the expiration of the ſaid Leaſe for 30 years: the Term for 30 years ended, the Leſſee cut down Trees. In this Caſe Reſolved, 1. That by the Exception of the Wood and Under-wood, the ſoil it ſelf was excepted, and the words [growing or being upon the Land] were ſurpluſage. 2. That notwithſtanding the Exception, the Wood did remain parcel of the Manor, and by demiſe of the Manor would paſs. 3. That by the Acceptance of the future Leaſe to begin diverſe years after: The Leaſe for 60 years was ſurrendred, becauſe the Leſſee by acceptance thereof had affirmed the Leſſor to have Authority to make a new Leaſe. M. 40 Eliz. in C.B. Cook's Part, 11. Iwes Caſe.

9. The Cuſtom of a Manor is, That every Copyholder, Tenant for life, might take Timber growing upon his Copy-hold, for the reparation of it. The King made a Leaſe of the Manor, of which the Copyhold is parcel for years, except all Woods, Under-woods, and Trees: The Leſſee for years, Dominus pro tempore of the Manor, granted a Copyhold upon which were Timber-Trees to one for life, who cut down Trees to repair his Copyhold: It was Reſolved, That notwithſtanding the ſeverance and the Exception, that the Grantee ſhould have the Trees; for the Eſtate of the Copy-holder who comes in by voluntary Grant is not derived out of the Eſtate and Intereſt of the Lord, but the Copyholder is in by the Cuſtom, which is Paramount, and the Lord is but an Inſtrument to make the Grant. Cook 8. Part, 63. Swayn's Caſe.

10. The King ſeiſed of the Manor of H. made a Leaſe thereof to J. S. for years, excepta reſervatis groſſis, arboribus, ſuper premiſ. creſcentibus & exiſtentibus. Proviſo, If that the Leſſee ſhould do voluntary Waſte in any of the Premiſſes the Leaſe to be void; afterwards the King granted the Reverſion to the Lord Rich and his Heirs, the Leſſee cut down certain great Trees, which at the time of the Leaſe were but little Trees, but after tractu temporis became great, the Lord Rich entred for the condition broken. It was moved, If the Exception did extend to the Trees which at the time of the Leaſe were but little Trees; for if ſo, then Waſte cannot be aſſigned for cutting them down, and ſo the condition not broken. But it was the Opinion of the Lord Anderſon, that the Exception did extend to Trees which at any time during the Leaſe became great, although at the time they were but little, and ſo the condition was broken; but if the words had been modo creſcentibus & exiſtentibus, it had been otherwiſe. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Gammock and Cliff's Caſe. Leon 61.

11. Action

11. Action of Treſpaſs, for a Treſpaſs done in his Cloſe called the Frith-Cloſe and carrying away of certain Loads of Wood. The Defendant ſaid, That A. was ſeiſed of the Mannor of D. of which the place was parcel, and leaſed the ſame to J. S. for years, excepting all Woods, great Trees, Timber-Trees, and Under-woods, and covenanted with the Leſſee that he might take Hedg-bote and Fire-bote ſupradict. premiſſa; and ſhewed, that J. S. had aſſigned his Intereſt to the Defendant, and that the Defendant came to the Cloſe called Frith Cloſe, and cut the Wood there for Fire-bote, and that A. afterwards granted the Inheritance to the Plaintiff. In this Caſe, It was adjudged for the Plaintiff, as to that Cloſe called the Frith-Cloſe; but as to the other Lands, for the Defendant: For the Frith-Cloſe was all excepted, ſcil. the Wood, and the Soil; and the words ſuper premiſſa, ſhall be intended ſuch things as were demiſed and no other; and by the Covenant, the Leſſee hath Power to take the Wood upon the other Lands, although that the Wood be excepted; for the Soil was demiſed, and he ſhall not be puniſhed in Treſpaſs. Trin. 30 Eliz. in B.R. Cage and Paxlin's Caſe. Leon. 117.

12. A man by Indenture demiſed a Houſe and Land, exceptis omnibus arboribus &c. ad tunc creſcent. ultra creſcentiam 21. annorum; habend. tenementa prædict. cum pertinenciis, exceptis pre-exceptis, and afterwards by Indenture covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed de tenementis prædict. to the uſe of J. S. in Tail, with diverſe Remainders over. J.S. entred and ſhewed Trees to J. D. and commanded them to be cut, being Oaks growing upon the Lands, being above the Age of 21 years. It was Reſolved, 1. That the Trees notwithſtanding the Exception did remain parcel, and did grow out of the Inheritance & were not Chattels, nor ſhould go to the Executors, but ſhould diſcend to the Heir, or go to him in the Reverſion; and therefore, when no Exception is in the Leaſe, the Leſſee hath there a particular Intereſt in the Intereſt, and the Inheritance ſhall go to the Leſſor; and in this Caſe this difference was agreed. If a Wood, whereof a Precipe lyeth, be parcel of a Mannor, and a man leaſeth the Mannor excepting the Wood, the Soil is ſelf is excepted; but if a man excepts all Woods which ſhall grow upon any Land or Paſture, there by the Exception of the Trees, the Land it ſelf is not excepted; but ſufficient Nutriment out of the Land is reſerved to maintain the vegetative life of the Trees. Cook 11 Part, 48. Richard Liſord's Caſe.

13. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That J. S. was ſeiſed in Fee of a Farm, and 100 Acres of Land to the ſame belonging, and covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed thereof to the uſe of himſelf and his Wife for their lives, and after to his Son and Heir, excepting the Timber-Trees, ſaving that his ſaid Wife ſhall have and take the Shrouds and Loppings of them, and dyed; his Wife ſurvived, and married the Plaintiff; and the Defendant as Heir of J. S. cut down five Oaks growing upon the ſaid 100 Acres, whereby the Plaintiff loſt all the benefit which he might have had in the Shrouds and Loppings of the ſaid Trees: Upon not Guilty, it being found for the Plaintiff; It was moved, that the excepting of the Trees, after the limitation of the Uſes was void, but the Exception was not allowed by the Court; for they ſaid, That an Exception might well be to ſhew his intent, that they ſhould not be annexed to the eſtate for life. Hill. 11 Car. in B. R. Tregmiel and Reev's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 306.

14. A man made a Leaſe for years of Lands, excepting to the Leſſor all his Woods and Underwoods, Coppices, and Hedg-Rows, ſtanding, growing, and being on and upon the premiſſes. The Leſſee put Cattle into the Coppices, and the Leſſor diſtreyned them: It was ſaid for the Plaintiff, that premiſſes are predimiſſa; and by theſe words (growing and being upon the premiſſes,) it ſhall be intended, that the Soil did not paſſe: It was Reſolved, That the Soil it ſelf was excepted by the Exception of the Wood and Coppices. 14 H. 8. 1. and by the reſerving of a Coppice, the Soil it ſelf is excepted, and ſo the Diſtreſs well taken. Trin. 16 Jac. in B.R. Hide and Whiſtler's Caſe. Popham, 146.

15. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, levyed a Fine to A. and B. to the uſe of himſelf, without Impeachment of Waſte, with Power to cut down and carry away the Trees, & to make Leaſes for 21 years, or 3 lives, the Remainder to the uſe of his Son for life, without Impeachment of Waſte, with the ſame Power. The Father made a Leaſe to one for three lives, rendring the ancient Rent, excepting all Trees except thoſe which ſhall be for cropping, lopping, and fewel, and dyed; the Son cut down Trees, J. S. who claimed by the Leaſe of the Father, brought Treſpaſs. Firſt, the Court was of Opinion, that Leſſee for life without Impeachment of Waſte, might make a Leaſe excepting the Trees; and if he aſſign over all his eſtate, yet he might cut down Trees, for he hath Power to diſpoſe of the Trees. 2. Reſolved, That he in the Remainder for life, without Impeachment of Waſte, with power to cut down the Trees, might cut them down during the Leaſe for three lives. Trin. 2 Car. in B.R. Sacheverel and Dale's Caſe. Popham, 194.

16. Tenant in Tail of the Mannor of D. the Reverſion to the King: Afterwards the Mannor by expreſs Name is given to the King by Act of Parliament, ſaving the Right, Title, and Intereſts of all Perſons: It was holden, That the ſaving to the Owner of the Land is Repugnant; and when a

ſaving

ſaving in an Act of Parliament is repugnant to the body of the Act, the ſaving is void. See the Caſe of the Duke of Norfolk, Plow. Com. 563. Cook 1. Part, Alton Woods Caſe. 14 Eliz. Dyer, 313. acc. And if Land Eſcheat to the King for forfeiture of Treaſon; And after that Land is given to another by Act of Parliament, ſaving to all others their Rents and Services, the ſaving is repugnant and void, for that they were extinct by the forfeiture. 27 H. 8. Br. Parliament. 77. Cook 1. Part, in the Caſe of Alton Woods, acc.

17. The general Pardon made, 28 Eliz. Pardoned all Felonies, &c. in which Burglary was excepted; the Queſtion was, if the Attainder of one for Burglary was excepted. It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That it was excepted, becauſe that now his Burglary doth appear of Record by Judgment of Law; and although the Jury hath found the Priſoner guilty of Burglary, and upon that he hath Judgment, yet the Offence of Burglary, is the foundation of all, and therefore if that be excepted, all the proceedings upon it are excepted; And by the exception of the Offence in general Pardons, all dependants upon them are alſo excepted. See Coo. 6. Part, Hill. 29 Eliz. in the Caſe of Pardons, 13, 14.

18. A. ſeiſed of the Forreſt of Hatfield in Fee, in which Forreſt, J. D. had Common appurtenant to his houſe, and Land for all Beaſts through the whole Forreſt. In performance of an Award, between the ſaid A. and J. S. by Deed Indented, Granted to J.S. and his Heirs, all his Trees, Woods, and Underwoods, which at any time after ſhould grow upon any parcel of the Forreſt, except the ſoil of the ſaid Woad, with liberty to encloſe for preſervation of the Spring of the Wood, as by the Law of the Realm is provided, and to exclude the Deer and all other Cattel out of the ſaid Wood ſo encloſed, which Grant was confirmed by Act of Parliament 27 Eliz. with a ſaving to all ſtrangers. The Queſtion was, If J. D. were barred of his Common, or not, by the Statutes of 22 E. 4. cap. 7. and 35 H. 8. cap. 17. not pleaded. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved. 1. That J. S. had an Inheritance as a profit apprender in alieno ſolo; and that the ſoil it ſelf did remain to A. 2. That the ſaid Act of 22 E. 4. did not extend to the Wood of a Subject: For by the Common-Law, he who hath a Wood, in which another hath Common, cannot incloſe it, and exclude the Commoner, be it in a Forreſt, or in a Chaſe, or out of a Forreſt or Chaſe: But he who hath a ſeveral Wood in a Forreſt, may after the cutting down of it, incloſe it for the ſeven years parvis foſſato et baſſalhais, ſecundum Aſſiſam Foreſtæ: And the Statute of 22 E. 4. doth extend to ſeveral Woods, and not to Woods in which another hath Common. 3. Reſolved, That Commoners were not parties to the ſaid Act of 22 E. 4. and therefore not excluded of their Common. 4. Reſolved, That the Statute of 35 H. 8. did reſtrain only the Owner of the Wood to cut down his own Wood upon a penalty, but did not extend to exclude a Commoner of his Common. Paſc. 8 Jac. in C. B. Coo. 8. Part, 137, 138. Sir Francis Harrington's Caſe.

19. Debt upon an Obligation of 40 l. the Defendant pleaded a Releaſe, the Plaintiff demanded Oyer of the Releaſe, which was, That the Plaintiff did acknowledg himſelf to be diſcharged of all Bonds, Debts, and Demands, by the Defendant, until the day of the Releaſe; and that the Plaintiff is to deliver all Bonds as he hath yet undelivered to the Defendant, (except one Bond of 40 l. not yet forfeited, in which he and two others ſtand bounden to the Plaintiff;) and the Plaintiff averred that the Bond which was excepted, and that upon which the Action was brought, was one Bond. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved, 1. That when the Plaintiff confeſſeth himſelf to be ſatisfied of all Bonds the ſame is a good Releaſe by the words ſatisfied, and diſcharged, becauſe a man ſhall be but once ſatisfied. 2. Reſolved, That the Exception doth extend to all the premiſes, and not only to the clauſe of delivery, becauſe all the words are but one ſentence, and the one doth depend upon the other, for it is reaſon that Bonds which are ſo ſatisfied and diſcharged, that they ſhould be delivered. 3. It is reaſon that the Bond of 40 l. ſhould be excepted, becauſe the ſame was not due. 3 Jac. in C. B. Coo. 9. Part, 53. Hickmott's Caſe.

Executors.

1. What perſons may make Executors, or be Executors; What not: and how, and where the Authority of Executors may be divided by the Teſtator; When not.

1. NOte by the Common-Law of England, any perſon may either be Executor, or make an Executor, unleſs he be defective in his underſtanding, or in power or Intereſt; or in reſpect of place; where he is born, or Calling wherein he is exerciſed: as Infants, Aliens, Ideots, Lunatiques, Women Covert, or Married perſons Outlawed, Attainted, Convicted, Excommunicated, Aliens born, Villains, Monks, Fryars, perſons Deaf or Dumb, or the like.

2. An

2. An Ideot natural cannot make a Will, nor make Executors, nor be Executor, becauſe he wants the uſe of reaſon to conceive what is fit for him to Will, or to do, or be done by him: and this appeareth by 3 Eliz. Dyer, 203, 204. where the Caſe was, That Executors recovered in an Action of Account, and the Defendant was taken in Execution for the Arrerages; and afterwards the Will was made void, becauſe the Teſtator was an Ideot natural; and thereupon the party ſued an Audita Querela, upon which the Executors did demur in Law. And ſee Cook 8. Part, 143. in Dr. Dowyes Caſe: where it is Reſolved, that in ſuch Caſe, Audita Querela doth lye. But a Lunatique having Lucida inter vallo, may in the time of his right mind, make a Will, and Executors. 44 E. 3. 33.

3. An Alien born may make a Will and Executors: and be an Executor, and ſue as Executor, if he be an Allien friend, and not an Allien Enemy; and ſo was it adjudged. 3 Eliz. in Paſcatia's Caſe.

4. Perſons Attainted, Convicted, or Outlawed; though they cannot make Executors during their diſabilities; becauſe they have no goods of their own; yet they be Executors to others; and touching ſuch goods as they have as Executors to others; they may diſpoſe of them, by the Wills, and make Executors of them; and ſo is it of Villains, Monks and Fryars: and perſons Attainted; and ſuch Executors may maintain a Writ of Error to reverſe a Judgment given againſt their Teſtator, as it was adjudged. 33 Eliz. in B. R. See Office of Executors. 24. &c.

5. A Will made by a Feme-Covert, is void, nor can ſhe make Executors of it; unleſs it be made with the conſent and aſſent of her Huſband, and it it be ſo made, it is good. And if a Woman ſole make a Will, and make Executors; and afterwards ſhe marrieth, and taketh Huſband; which Marriage continueth till her death, the ſame is a countermand of her Will. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Coo. 4. Part, Foſſe and Hemblings Caſe.

6. An Enfant may be an Executor, and the Law enableth him to take upon him the charge of the Will, and to prove it, and to bring Action, and to do things which appertaineth to the Office of an Executor. But a Releaſe of a Debt or Duty by ſuch an Executor after he hath proved the Will, is not good, for theſe cauſes. 1. Becauſe it ſhall be a Deuaſtavit, and charge the Enfant of his proper goods. 2. It ſhould be a wrong which an Enfant by his Releaſe cannot do. And 3. Becauſe it is not purſuant to the Office of an Executor, but all acts and things which he legally doth according to his Office, and duty of an Executor, ſhall bind him. Cook 5. Part, 27. Ruſſell's Caſe.

7. It was Reſolved by the Court, That an Alien born may be an Adminiſtrator, and have Adminiſtration of Leaſes, as well as of perſonal things, becauſe he hath them as Executor in anothers Right, and not to his own uſe; and he may Adminiſter, as well as a perſon Outlawed, or Attainted, may be an Executor. And Paſc. 41 Eliz. in C. B. Beck and Philips Caſe. Debt brought by an Adminiſtrator, the Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff was an Alien born and adjudged no Plea. Paſc. 1 Car. in B. R. Sir Upwell Corams Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 5.

8. The Teſtator may divide the power of his Executors in divers reſpects: As he may make A. Executor for his Plate and Houſhold ſtuff; B. his Executor for his ſheep and Cattel; C. for his Leaſes, Statutes, Recognizances; and D. for his debts due unto him; he may alſo divide their power locally, as he may make A. his Executor for his goods in London; B. his Executor for his goods in Middleſex, or in any other County. He may divide the power of his Executors in reſpect of time: As he may make his Wife Executrix during her life, or during the Minority of his Son, or ſo long time as ſhe ſhall continue Widdow, and after, his Son to be Executor. So one may be made Executor as to a particular thing only, viz. as touching ſuch a Bond, Statute, or Recognizance only. And if two be made Executors joyntly and ſeverally; yet their power may be divided by a Proviſo, viz. that at one ſhould not entermeddle during the others life; ſo as they ſhall be Executors ſucceſſively, and not joyntly, provided ſuch Proviſo be not repugnant to the Premiſes of the Will. 32 H. 8. br. Executors. 155. See Office of Executors, 19, 20, 21. acc.

2. What Goods and Chattels of the Teſtator the Executors ſhall have; What not: And what Actions they may have for the ſaid Goods, and againſt whom: And what Actions are maintainable againſt Executors, upon Contract or promiſe of the Teſtator; What not.

1. WAſte may be committed in glaſs annexed to Windows, for it is parcel of the houſe, and ſhall deſcend as parcel of the Inheritance to the Heir, and the Executors ſhall not have them: And if Leſſee for years put glaſſe in the Windows, yet the ſame being parcel of the Inheritance, he cannot take it away, nor waſte it: And glaſs annexed to Windows by nails, or in any other manner by the Leſſor or Leſſee, cannot be removed by them, for that without glaſs, it is no perfect houſe, but the ſame will go to the Heirs, and Post to Executors; And so it is of Wainscot annexed to a House by Nails, Screws, or Irons put through Posts, they cannot be removed, but shall pass to the Heir or Vendee with the house, and shall not go to the Executors of the Lessor or Lessee as Chattels. Cook 4. Part, 64. in Herlakendens Case. See 21 H. 7. 26, 27.

2. The Executors shall have all such Chattells, which the Testator might have forfeited by Outlawry, or by which the Testator might have bin Attached in any Action brought against him.

3. The Executors shall have the Chest or Box in which the Evidences of the Testator are, unless it be sealed with the Seal of the Testator, for then the Heir shall have it. 36 H. 6. 26, 27.

4. Charters do not properly belong to the Executor, but to the Heir, and yet the Executors shall have an Action for them, if the Charters do concern the possession, or be grounded upon the possession. 43 E. 3. 24. And notwithstanding a Release of all Actions, they may have an Action upon their Possession of them. 39 H. 6. 15, 16.

5. If a Recognizance be enred and acknowledged to the Chamberlain of London, and his Successors by Custome, for Orphanage Money, in Case he dyeth, the said Recognizance shall go to his Successors; and the Executors or Administrators of the Chamberlain ought not to entermeddle with such Recognizances, Obligations, &c. which are to be taken by the Chamberlain in his Corporate capacity, and not in his private Capacity. Coo. 4 Part, 65. Falwood's Case.

6. A. seised of Land in Fee, by Indenture Covenanted with J. S. that if J. S. pay to him, his Heirs, or Assigns, 100 l. such a day, that then he and his Heirs would stand seised of the said Land to the use of the said J. S. and his Heirs; and having Issue a Son, made his Will in writing, and made his Wife, and two others, his Executors; and by the said Will, devised the Land to his Wife, during the Minority of his Son, and dyed, his Son within age, the Wife renounced the Will, and took Letters of Administration. It was Resolved in that Case, That the Wife having but a particular Interest in the Land, was not an Assignee of the Lands within the Proviso. 2. Resolved, That the tender ought to have bin made to the Heir, and not to the Executors, because the Heir was expresly named, which excluded the Executors and Administrators. Mich. 40 Eliz. in B. R. Coo. 5. Part, 96. Goodale's Case.

7. If a man hath Savage Beasts ratione Privilegii, as by reason of a Park, Warren, he hath not any property in the Deer, or Conyes, or Pheasants, or Partridges; and therefore in an Action Quare Parcum, Warrannum, &c. fregit et intravit, et tres damus Leporis, Cuniculis, Phasianos, Perdices, &c. cepit et asportavit, he shall not say (suos), because he hath not property in them, but they do belong to him ratione Privilegii, for his Game and Pleasure, so long as they remain in the Priviledged place. For if the Owner of the Park dyeth, his Heir shall have them, and not his Executors or Administrators. Cook 7. Part, 17. in the Case of Swans. &c.

8. A man devised Lands to his Wife for Term of her life, and if she live untill his Son come to the age of 24 years, that then he shall have the Lands; and if he dye before he come to that age, that then J. S. shall have it, untill his Son come to that age, and dyed; then J. S. dyed before the Wife, and after she dyed, before the Son came of 24 years. If the Executors of J. S. should have the Lands untill the Son come to age, or not, was the Question: And the Opinion of the whole Court was, That they should not have it, because their Testator had never any Interest vested in him. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Goldsbr. 64.

9. This Case was moved to the Court; A man had a Rent-service payable at the Feast of St. Michael, and about Michaelmas day he dyed, about ten of the Clock in the morning. It was demanded, Whether the Heir or Executor should have the Rent: Anderson, Hath he not all the day to pay it? And upon Condition to pay such a sum, he may tender it at any time before Sun-set. Periam, If the party accept the payment in the morning, it is good. The Court delivered no Opinion in it, because it was a Case which might come before them upon Demurrer. Trin. 30 Eliz. in C.B. Goldsbr. 98.

10. A man seised of an Advowson, granted to another the next Avoydance, and after the Church became void, and the other Released to him all his Right, and the Defendant disturbed him. In a Quare Impedit, after Issue joyned, it was found for the Plaintiff: It was moved in Arrest of Judgment, That the Release was void, being made when the Church was void, for it was then a thing in Action, and could not be granted over, and so by the same reason, could not be Released. The Opinion of the Court was, That it was an Interest which should go to the Executors, and therefore may be released. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C.B. Goldsbr. 112.

11. In Trespass for entring his Close, and taking his Fish out of his Fish-Pond with Nets, and other Engines: The Defendant pleaded, That before the Trespass, A. was seised of the Close and Pond, and put the Fishes in it, and made him his Executor, and dyed, and he as Executor took the Fishes. It was adjudged in this Case, That the Heir shall have the Fishes in the Pond, and not the Executors, for they are Chattels discendable. Hill. 43 Eliz. in in C. B. Grey and Trowes Case. Goldsbr. 129.

12. If

12. If a Diſſeiſor ſoweth the Land of Tenant for life, and the Tenant for life dyeth; the Executors of the Tenant for life ſhall have the Emblements. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C. B. in Sir Henry Knevet and Poolis Caſe. Goldesbr. 145. See in Title Emblements.

13. A man was poſſeſſed of a Term, and made his Wife and J. S. his Executors, and deviſed all his Term to them, and that they ſhall have the Term untill all his Debts and Legacies are paid; the Remainder to J. D. the Queſtion was, Whether the Executors take the Term as Deviſees, or Executors. Clench and Fenner, they ſhall take as Executors for it; is the proper function of an Executor to entermeddle with the Will. Gawdy ſaid, If I make two my Executors, and Deviſe the profits of my Lands to them untill my Debts and Legacies be paid, and untill they have levyed 100 l. after to their own uſe, they ſhall take as Legatees, and not as Executors in reſpect of the 100 l. which they are to have to their own uſes. Hill. 43. in C. B. Pannel and Fens Caſe. Goldesbr. 185.

14. Reſolved, That a man may have a Term in a thing which is a Chattel, and yet the ſame ſhall not go to Executors. The Office of Marſhal of the Kings Bench was granted to Sir George Reynol for life, and afterwards was granted to another for 21. years. It was adjudged, That the Grant in Reverſion for years, was void, becauſe it was an Office of Truſt, and perſonal, which ſhould not go to Executors, or Adminiſtrators. Coo. 9. Part, 96. Sir George Rynolls Caſe.

15. A man ſeiſed of Land in Fee, 1. Octobet, maketh a Leaſe of the ſame Lands for 10 years, from the Feaſt of St. Mich. laſt paſt, yielding to him and his Heirs 20 l. at the Feaſt of St. Mich. the Arch Angel, or within one Moneth after, in this Caſe, if the Leſſor dyeth between the Feaſt of St. Michael, and the end of the Moneth. It was Reſolved, That the Heir ſhould have the Rent as incident to the Reverſion, and not the Executors, as Rent behind, becauſe it was not due untill the end of the Moneth. See Coo. 10. Part, 129. Clunns Caſe, acc.

16. Leſſee for life rendring Rent, the Rent is behind, the Leſſor dyeth, his Executors during the life of the Tenant for life, ſhall not have an Action of Debt, but after the Eſtate for life determined, an Action ſhall be maintainable by them. But when a Rent granted for life is arrear, and afterwards the Ter-Tenant alieneth, and afterwards the Grantee dyeth, an Action ſhall be maintainable againſt him who was Tenant, and took the profits when the Rent was arrear.

17. If a man by Deed grant a Rent for life, Proviſo, that he ſhall not charge his perſon. It is a good Proviſo; yet if the Rent be behind, and the Grantee dyeth, his Executors ſhall charge the perſon of the Grantor in an Action of Debt, for otherwiſe they ſhould be without remedy. Cook 6. Part, 41. in Sir Anthony Mildmayes Caſe.

18. A. & his Wife levyed a Fine to J.S. of a Rectory, who granted and rendred a rent-charge of 30 l. iſſuing out of the ſame to A. for his life to begin after the death of his Wife; Proviſo, that it ſhould not extend to charge the perſons of the Conuſees, but to charge the ſaid Rectory only during the life of A. and rendred the Rectory to A. and his Wife, during the life of the Wife, the remainder to J. D. and his Wife in tail, the Remainder to the right Heirs of the ſaid J. D: A. acknowledged a Statute to B. the Wife of A. dyed, thoſe in the Remainder entred; A. releaſed the Rent to him in the Remainder, the Rent upon the Statute was extended and delivered. For arrerages of the Rent Debt was brought againſt J. D. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, amongſt other points; That the Action of Debt did not lye, ſo long as the extent endured. 2. Reſolved, That although there was an expreſs Proviſo, That the perſon ſhould not be charged in Annuity, yet after the Annuity or Rent determined, the perſon of the Ter-Tenant ſhould be charged in Debt for the Arrerages, becauſe he had no other remedy. 3. Reſolved, That if a man granteth a Rent charge for life out of his Land, the Rent is behind, the Grantor enfeoffeth J. S. the Rent is arrear in his time; J. S. enfeoffeth J. D. the Rent is Arrear in his time, the Grantee dyeth, his Executors ſhall have Debt againſt every of them for the Rent behind in his time, for Qui ſentit comodum ſentire debet et onus. Coo. 7. Part, 38. Lillingſtons Caſe.

19. If a man loſeth Goods which come to the hands of another, and he converteth them to his own uſe, and the Owner dyeth; The Queſtion was, If Trover and Converſion did lye by his Executors. Periam doubted it. Manwood ſaid, If a man hath another in Execution for Debt, and the Goaler ſuffers him to eſcape, and afterwards the Recoverer dyeth. It was the Opinion of Anderſon, Manwood, and Windham, that his Executors ſhould have an Action againſt the Goaler for the Eſcape. But for Trover in the principal Caſe. It was not Reſolved, Paſc. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Goldesbr. 90.

20. A. brought an Action of Debt againſt B. as Adminiſtrator of F. and declared upon a ſimple contract made by the Inteſtate; the Defendant pleaded plene adminiſtravit, and it was found againſt him, It was ſaid by Anderſon Chief Juſtice; That it appeareth to us, That an Executor or Adminiſtrator, cannot be charged upon a ſimple Contract of the Teſtator, or Inteſtate; and the Court ought to have ſtayed the Judgment, and the Writ at the firſt ought to have abated, and therefore with the aſſen-of the other Juſtices he gave Judgment, That the Action did not lye, but that the Writ ſhould abate. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Hughſons Caſe. Goldesbr. 105.

21. A Writ of Error was brought by an Executor to reverſe an Outlawry of his Teſtator in Felony; It was Objected, That a man Attainted could not make Executors, for he is dead in Law; alſo an Executor cannot have a Writ of Error, but only upon a Judgment given in a perſonal Action; but this Attainder is a thing of a higher nature; and when Error is brought to reverſe Outlawry in Felony, a Scire facias ought to be ſued out againſt the Lords mediate, and immediate, which cannot be at the Suit of Executors: It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Executors might have Error to reverſe the Outlawry, and as to that which hath bin Objected, That the party Attainted cannot make Executors, the ſame is no reaſon for the Executors do pretend, that their Teſtator was not lawfully Outlawed, and ſo by this ſuit, they do endeavour to take away that diſability; and therefore it ought not to be Objected againſt the Executor. And if the Teſtator had not any Lands, but only goods, there is no reaſon but that the Executors ſhould have a Writ of Error, otherwiſe the goods of the Teſtator ſhould be loſt, and afterwards the Outlawry was reverſed. Tr. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Manſhes Caſe, Leon. 325.

22. If the Son be Lord, and the Father Tenant by certain Rent; the Rent is behind, the Tenant dyes, and the Tenancy deſcends to the Son, if the Son dyeth, the Executors of the Son ſhall not have an Action of Debt for the Arrerages incurred in the Sons life, becauſe the Son himſelf by no poſſibility could have ſuch an Action, for that the Tenure was altogether in the realty, and the Tenant could not be charged in any perſonal Action for thoſe Arrerages. Cook 4. Part, 49. in Ognells Caſe.

23. If A. hath a Rent-ſervice, or a Rent-charge in Fee, or for life, and the Rent is behind, and afterwards A. grants over the Rent unto another, and the Tenant Attorns, and after A. dyes; The Executors of A. in this Caſe ſhall not recover the Arrerages by force of the Statute of 32 H. 8. for by the grant over the Arrerages were loſt, and were not due to the Teſtator at the time of his death, and the Statute is, that the Executors ſhall recover them, in as large and ample manner as the Teſtator might or ought to have recovered them. See Cook 5. Part, 12. Sanders Caſe.

24. In Debt the Plaintiff Declared, That where the Inteſtate was indebted to J. S. in divers ſums of money for Wares ſold, that J. S. became Bankrupt, and was adjudged Bankrupt by the Commiſſioners; and this Debt was aſſigned to the Plaintiff being a Creditor, and that the Inteſtate dyed, whereupon this Action was brought againſt the Defendant his Adminiſtrator. It was adjudged, That the Action lyeth not, although it was alledged, it is quaſi a Debt upon Record, being aſſigned by the Commiſſioners; for the Aſſignment of the Commiſſioners doth not alter the Law, and againſt ſuch Adminiſtrator, this Action lyeth not by the Law. Paſc. 6 Car. in B. R. Morgan and Greens Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 135.

25. Aſſumpſit brought againſt an Executor, and declared, That the Teſtator in conſideration, that the Plaintiff had leaſed to him certain Copyhold Land, aſſumed to pay to him 100 l. the Defendant demurred in Law, for that the Action is not maintainable againſt an Executor upon an Aſſumpſit of the Teſtator. Popham ſaid, becauſe of the contrariety of Opinion in this Caſe between the Judges of the Common-Pleas and us, we will make it an Exchequer-Chamber Caſe, and try the Law. By which it ſeemed, the point in Law was not then Reſolved. Hill. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Pine and Hide Caſe. Goldesbr. 154.

26. An Executor brought an Action upon the Caſe, againſt an Executor upon an Aſſumpſit made by the Teſtator of the Defendant. It was adjudged that the Action was maintainable; firſt, becauſe the Teſtator himſelf in that Action could not wage his Law, the conſideration being grounded upon a Mutuatus and promiſe of the Teſtator to pay a Debt, and not to do a Collateral Act. 2. Becauſe after the death of the Teſtator, the Debt remained, and it ſhould be a defect in Law if no remedy ſhould be for the recovery of it. Co. 9. Part, 86. Pinchons Caſe. See Cro. 2. Part, 294. the ſame Caſe.

27. Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit againſt an Executor; the Plaintiff declared, That in conſideration the Plaintiff would marry the Teſtator, he promiſed to leave her worth 500 l. and alledges he did not leave her worth 500 l. It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment after a Verdict for the Plaintiff, that an Aſſumpſit did not lye againſt an Executor upon a Collateral promiſe of the Teſtator, and that by the entermarriage, the contract was determined, as if a Releaſe had bin made of it. It was Reſolved, That it never was a duty in the life of the Husband, nor ever could be releaſed by him, wherefore it was adjudged for the Plaintiff, and that the Action will lye againſt the Executors of the Husband. Hill. 17 Jac. in C. B. Clark and Thompſons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 571.

28. Aſſumpſit, the Plaintiff declared (brought againſt Executors). In conſideration the Teſtator would marry the Defendants Couſin at his requeſt to give him 20 l. and alledges, that at ſuch a day, he married the Teſtators Kinſwoman, and neither the Teſtator, nor the Defendant, although he had

Aſſets

Aſſets, had payed the 20 l. It was moved, That the Action did not lye, becauſe that Aſſumpſit is not for Debt, but upon a Collateral promiſe, and that it differs from Pinchon's Caſe, Coak 9. Part. And two Preſidents were ſhewed, viz. Trin. 13 Jac. Sanders and Eſterby, where upon an Aſſumpſit againſt an Executor, upon a Promiſe of the Teſtator, That the Plaintiff ſhould have as much if he would marry his Daughter, as any of his Children had at the time of his death, and avers, that ſuch a Child had ſo much; and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, and Error thereupon brought. Hill. 7 Jac. Between Herman and Elliot, the Promiſe was, in conſideration the Plaintiff would marry his Daughter Eliot promiſed 60 l. and 10. Quarters of Barley in Marriage with her; for non-payment, the Action was brought againſt his Executor; And becauſe it was a Collateral Aſſumpſit. It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices and Barons of the Exchequer, that the Action did not lye. Trin. 14 Jac. in B. R. Beriford and Woodroffs Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 405.

29. Error in the Exchequer Chamber of a Judgment in the Kings Bench; in an Action upon the Caſe againſt Executors of a promiſe of their Teſtator, the promiſe was, That he ſhould re-deliver ſuch a Bond, delivered for ſuch a thing, and becauſe the Teſtator did not re-deliver the ſaid Bond the Action was brought againſt his Executor; and after Verdict, Judgment for the Plaintiff, and Error brought, and the Error aſſigned. That this being a meer collateral promiſe made by the Teſtator, and broke by him, the Action did not lye againſt his Executors, and ſo it was ſaid by Tanfield, it had bin often reſolved; But it was the Opinion of all the Juſtices and Barons of the Exchequer, that the Action did lye: And they ſaid, It is true, ſuch an Opinion was conceived in the time of Queen Eliz. that the Action would not lye. But of late, the Opinion of both Courts, of Kings Bench and Common-Pleas, are reconciled, and Reſolved, That the Action lyeth upon ſuch promiſe againſt the Executors; and in the principal Caſe, the firſt Judgment was affirmed. Hill. 20 Jac. in the Exchequer-Chamber. Fawcet and Charters Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 663.

30. A. Executrix of B. brought debt upon an Obligation of 200 l. by W. W. The Defendant pleaded, That J. S. late Husband of the ſaid A. and the ſaid W. W. were bounden in the ſaid Obligation to B. and that J. S. dyed, and made the Plaintiff, and the ſaid B. the Obligee, his Executors. B. renounced, and A. Adminiſtred, and that Aſſets came to the Plaintiffs hands: The Plaintiff confeſſed the Will of J. S. and that the ſaid B. renounced, and that A. adminiſtred fully all the goods of J. S. and that afterwards the ſaid B. made the Plaintiff her Executrix, and that neither at the death of the ſaid B. nec unquam poſtea any goods of the Teſtators come to the Plaintiffs hands; And upon this, the Defendant demurred in Law. It was inſiſted upon, That when the Obligee makes the Obligor his Executor, it is a Releaſe in Law of the Debt, and by the ſame reaſon, when the Obligee makes the Executors of one of the Obligors who is chargeable to that Debt, his Executor; for he may not ſue him, nor his Companion. But it was agreed by the whole Court, That the Defendant had no cauſe of Demurrer, but that Judgment ſhould be given for the Plaintiff; For they all agreed, That when the Debtee makes the Debtor his Executor, it is not abſolutely a diſcharge of the Debt, for the Debt remains Aſſets in the hands of the Debtor Executor, and it is quaſi, a Releaſe in Law, becauſe he cannot be ſued; Or if a man Debtee takes the Debtor to Wife, it is a Releaſe in Law, becauſe they may not be ſued, and perſonal Actions once ſuſpended, are perpetually ſuſpended: But where the Executor of the Debtor is made Executor to the Debtee, he hath nothing thereby in his own right, but is only to uſe an Action in the right of another; And in the principal Caſe, although ſhe be Executrix to J. S. yet when ſhe hath fully adminiſtred all the Eſtate of J. S. before ſhe be made Executrix to B. ſhe hath in a manner diſcharged her ſelf to be Executrix to J. S. hath not any thing of his Eſtate; wherefore in the principal Caſe, ſhe having adminiſtred all the goods of J. S. and not being chargeable to that Debt as Executrix to J. S. ſhe as Executrix to B. may maintain this Action againſt W. W. the other Obligor; wherefore it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 9 Car. in B. R. Dorcheſter and Webs Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 271, 272.

31. Action upon the Caſe by an Executor againſt the Sheriff, for that the Teſtator upon a Recovery, had a Fieri facias for Execution, and the Defendant made Execution, and levyed the Debt, and at the Return of the Writ, did not return it, and after the Teſtator dyed; whereupon the Plaintiff ſet that wrong in vita Teſtatoris, and for the loſs which came to him, brought the Action upon Not-Guilty: It was found for the Plaintiff; It was moved, That the Action did not lye by an Executor, becauſe it was a perſonal wrong done to the Teſtator; for which he hath no remedy by the Common Law, and it is not maintainable by the Equity of the Statute of 4 E. 3. de bonis Teſtatoris aſportatis; and Levaſton and Dickeyns Caſe, 3 Car. was cited to be adjudged accordingly; the Court in the principal Caſe was divided in Opinion; Wherefore they would adviſe till the next Term, et adjornatur. Hill. 8 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 216. See Mich. 2 Car. in B. R. Popham 189. See Trin. 14 Jac.

Probate

Probe and Mayn's Case. If the party escape being arrested upon a mean Process, the Sheriff is not lyable for the escape; otherwise, if it be upon an Execution. Popham, 192.

32. Note, It was the Opinion of all the Justices, That an Executor shall have an Action upon the Case de bonis Testatoris, come casually to the hands and possession of another, and by him converted to his own use in the life of the Testator, and that by the Equity of the Statute of 4 E. 3. cap. 7. de bonis asportatis in vita Testatoris. M. 32 Eliz. in Exchequer-Chamber, Russel and Prats Case. Leon, 193.

33. Action upon the Case against an Executor; and declared, That upon Speech had betwixt A. one of the Plaintiffs, and J. S. the Testator; he promised, that if she would marry him, and he dyed before her, he would leave her worth 100 l. and sayes that he did marry her, and that he dyed, and left her not worth 200 l. It was moved, that the Enter-marriage was a Release of the Promise, and of that Opinion was Hobart Chief Justice; but all the other Justices were of another Opinion, and said, that the Action could not rise during the Coverture, for it was not to be performed till after the death of him that made the Promise: and Mich. 5 Jac. in B. R. Belcher and Hudson's Case was put, upon a Promise made to the Wife, That if she would marry one Mason at his request, he would give her after Mason's death 40 l. In an Action upon the Case for the 40 l. the Defendant pleaded, That Mason after Marriage did release unto him all manner of Actions reals and personals, and all Debts, Claims, and Demands: Yet it was adjudged, that none of those words would reach to release the Promise, and therefore the Action did well lye. H. 11 Jac. in C. B. Smith and Stafford's Case. Hob. 216.

34. In an Action of Covenant brought by an Executor, the Case was, A. Feme sole delivered a certain Sum of Money into the hands of J. S. and H. the Defendant thereupon covenanted with the Woman to pay unto A. B. 100 l. a year, so long as the Mony should continue in the hands of J. S. The Woman took Husband, the 100 l. per annum is behind; the Husband made his Executor, and dyed, and after his death the 100 l. is behind also: The Executor brings an Action of Covenant, and the Question was, If the Action were well brought; The Court was of Opinion, That the Action did lye, for the Covenant doth concern the Executor, because he presents the Testator. But no Judgment was given, because the Question here was, Whether the Rent due after the death of the Husband ought to be paid? and how it shall be known whether he be dead? For that it is not specially alledged, and if he be not dead, there is no Cause of Action. M. 24 Car. in B. R. Popham and Hart's Case. Styles, 149.

35. In Action upon the Case, by an Executor, he declared, That in consideration the Testator would suffer the Defendant to enjoy such a Close of Land, the Defendant promised to pay 53 s. per annum, for the Rent thereof, so long time as he should enjoy it; and for so much Rent in the time of the Testator, and so much Rent since his death due, he brought the Action: Upon Non Assumpsit, found for the Plaintiff; It was moved, that the Action did not lye, it being for not Payment of Rent, which follows the nature of the Land, and sounds in the realty, for which no personal Action doth ly. 2. It is not averred, that the Testator did in her life-time suffer the Defendant to enjoy the Close. It was Resolved, 1. That the Executor might have the Action, for he presents the person of the Testator. And 2. That although an Action upon the Case will not ly for Rent upon a Promise in Law, yet upon a special Promise of the party to pay it, as his Case is, the Action will ly. Mich. 1655. Lanet and Blackmore's Case, Sty. 462.

36. Action upon the Case brought against an Executor, and declared upon a Promise made by the Testator to the Plaintiff, to deliver certain goods in the possession of the Testator unto the Plaintiff upon request; and because he had not delivered them, the Action was brought upon a Verdict for the Plaintiff. It was moved in stay of Judgment, that the breach was in the life of the Testator, and the Action should have been brought against him; also there appears no request by the Testator, as there ought to have been. But Resolved, That the Executor might be charged upon a Collateral Promise, if there were a breach in the life of the Testator, and here is a good request, and goes to all. M. 1649. Christopher and Hewes Case. Style, 158.

37. It was Resolved by the Justices, That an Action doth not ly against an Executor upon a Contract solvere of the Testator; for this would be to charge the Executor in an Action, where he may wage his Law, by Law, and an Action of Debt lyes not against an Executor upon a simple Contract made by the Testator; and the reason of Wager of Law is because it is intended, that as well as the Contract to pay Money may be private, so also the Payment may be made in private. Hil. 1649 B. R. Hodges and Janes Case. Styles, 199. See Trin. 1650. B. R. Orchwick and Aumery's Case. Styles, 228. acc.

38. Covenant brought against an Executor of a Lessee for years, for not Payment of Rent upon the general words [yielding and paying], the Lessee having no express Covenant for Payment of the Rent: Resolved, Reſolved, That an Action of Covenant will ly againſt an Executor upon a Covenant in Law, and in this Caſe, the Reſervation of the Rent doth ſeem to be an expreſs Covenant, for it is the agreement both of the Leſſor and Leſſee. Mich. 1613. B. R. Fenton and Oſborn's Caſe. Styles, 387. See Hill. 1654. B. R. Porter and Swetman's Caſe. Styles, 406. acc.

39. The Queſtion was, If a Quare Impedit will ly for an Executor, for diſturbance done in vita Teſtatoris, by the Statute of 4 E. 3. cap. 7. It was objected, it would not; for that the Statute gives Action for taking of Goods and ſuch like things, but here is no taking, but only a diſturbance which may be done by paroll: But Reſolved by the Court, That the Action did ly; and where the Statute ſaith, taking of Goods, it is but by way of reſemblance, and not that they ſhall have an Action of Treſpaſs for taking of goods only; and whereas it hath been ſaid, that this cannot be Aſſets, the Court ſaid, Put Caſe the Teſtator had Judgment to recover Damages, ſhall it not be Aſſets? And why ſhall not the Grant of an Advowſon be Aſſets in the hands of an Executor, as in the hands of the Iſſue? It was the Opinion of the Court, It ſhould be Aſſets Paſc. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Sole and the Biſhop of Litchfield's Caſe, Owen 99.

40. If the Teſtator dyes within 6. Moneths after an Uſurpation, the Executor ſhall have a Quare Impedit. M. 33 Eliz. in C. B. the Biſhop of Chicheſter's Caſe, Poph. 181.

41. Trover and Converſion in vita Teſtatoris, maintainable by Executors. 42 Eliz. in the Counteſs of Rutland's Caſe, Reſolved by all the Juſtices.

42. If Leſſee for years deviſeth his Term to another, and maketh his Executors, and dyeth; and the Executors do Waſte, and afterwards aſſent to the Deviſe. In this Caſe, although that between the Executors and the Deviſee it hath relation, and the Deviſee is in by the Deviſor; yet an Action of Waſte ſhall be maintainable againſt the Executors in the Tenuit. Tr. 4 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 5, Part, 22. in Saunder's Caſe.

43. In an Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit, the Caſe was, That the Defendant being poſſeſſed of the Intereſt of a Term, as Executor to J. S. who was endebted to the Plaintiff, in conſideration that the Plaintiff would not moleſt him, but would deferr the Payment until Michaelmas, promiſed him to pay the Money, or to aſſign to him the ſaid Land at Mich. for it: Upon Non Aſſumpſit, it was found for the Plaintiff. The Defendant brought Error, and aſſigned Error, that the Plaintiff did not averr, That the Plaintiff had Aſſets at the time of the Aſſumpſit made: Reſolved, That the Plaintiff in his Count needs not averr Aſſets; for the Law ſhall preſume prima facie, he would not leave a greater Charge upon his Executors than he left a benefit to them to diſcharge it: And it was Reſolved, That if there had not been any Debt, and the Executor had not any thing in his hands at the time of the Promiſe, the ſame may be given in Evidence, and the Defendant ſhould be aided thereby, for then there was not any conſideration; for to forbear a Debt, where no Debt is, is no good conſideration. Cook 9. Part, 94. W. Bant's Caſe.

44. If a man hath a Stock of Cattle, or any other perſonal Goods for a time, and the Leſſee covenants for him and his Aſſignees at the end of the Term, to deliver the Stock at the end of the Term, or ſuch a Sum for them, and the Leſſee aſſigns over the Goods, the Aſſignee ſhall not be charged with this Covenant, for it is but a perſonal Covenant and wants privity; but the ſame ſhall bind his Executors and Adminiſtrators. Cook 5. Part, 17. in Spencer's Caſe.

3. Where an Executor ſhall be charged upon the Deed of the Teſtator, although he be not mentioned in the Deed, Where not; And where the Executor ſhall, upon his pleading or otherwiſe, be charged de bonis propriis, and where de bonis Teſtatoris only; Where not: Where upon Contract or Promiſe, Where not.

1. LEſſee for years by Indenture covenanted for himſelf, that within three years he would build a new Houſe upon the Lands, no mention was made of his Executors; the Term expired, and the Leſſee dyed: It was holden by the Juſtices, that his Executors ſhould be charged, though not named in the Covenant. Trin. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 14, 23. acc.

2. If a man recite by a Writing, that he hath 100 l. of the Money of J. S. and that he hath paid him 40 l. and ſo there remaineth 60 l. the ſame is a good Obligation, and ſhall bind the Executor; for every word which proves a man debtor, or to have Mony of any Stranger in his Cuſtody, if it be by Bill or Writing, it ſhall make his Executors Debtors, and lyable to pay the Money. Tr. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 21. acc.

3. A Covenanter with his Leſſee, without the words Heirs or Executors to pay all the Quit-Rents, and dyed: It is a Quære, If his Executors are lyable to pay them. Paſch. 3 Mar. Dyer. 144. and the old Books are, that it is a perſonal Covenant only, and dyeth with the Perſon, as 49 E. 3. 17. 18 E. 3. 2. Fitzh. lib. 1. f. 17. But ſee now Cook 5. Part, 16. Spencer's Caſe, this Quære is Reſolved, and that the Executors are liable to pay them.

nan

4. Leſſee for life, the Remainder in Fee; Leſſee for life demiſed the Land for 15 years and dyed, he in the Remainder entred, and the Termor brought Covenant againſt the Executor of the Leſſor upon the demiſe, and adjudged it did not ly although the Leaſe was by Indenture, except the Covenant had been broken in the life of the Leſſor, it being but upon a Covenant in Law; otherwiſe, it is of a Covenant expreſſed. But if the Heir ouſt the Termor of his Father: It was holden, that Covenant lyeth againſt him in reſpect of Privity; and it was there holden, That the Aſſignee of a Termor, ſhall have Covenant againſt the Leſſor upon the word Demiſe, without words of Aſſignee. 9 Eli. Dyer, 257.

5. A man made a Leaſe of the Houſe by theſe words [Demiſe and Grant], and the Leſſor covenanted, that the Leſſee ſhould enjoy the Houſe during the Term without Eviction by the Leſſor or any claiming under him, and bound himſelf to perform all Covenants, Grants, and Articles, in the Indenture; the Leſſee aſſigned over his Term, a Stranger entred upon the Aſſignee, and made a Leaſe for years, who brought Ejectione firmæ againſt the Aſſignee, and had Judgment and Execution: In Debt brought upon the Obligation, the Leſſee pleaded performance of all Covenants. It was Reſolved, 1. That for this Covenant in Law upon theſe words [Demiſe and Grant] the Aſſignee ſhould have a Writ of Covenant. 2. That by the breach of this Covenant in Law the Obligation was forfeited; for he was bound to perform all Covenants, which extended to Covenants in Law as well as Covenants in Fact. Tr. 41 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 4. Part. 80. Noke's Caſe.

6. Debt upon Obligation of 100 l. the Defendant Adminiſtrator pleaded a Recovery againſt him in the Court of Cheſter, and other Judgments, in all amounting to 500 l. and that he had not Goods of the Inteſtate, præterquam bona & catalla, quæ non attigerat ad voluntatem prædict. 500 l. againſt him in forma prædict. recuperat. The Plaintiff replyed, that I. S. who recovered, accepted 60 l. in ſatisfaction of the ſaid Judgment, and would have acknowledged ſatisfaction in the ſaid Court of Record, but the Defendant ſuffered the ſaid Judgment by fraud not to be releaſed to the intent to deceive the Plaintiff of his Debt, and ſo ſuffered the other Judgments in like manner: In this Caſe, It was adjudged for the Plaintiff; for an Executor or Adminiſtrator ought to execute his Office, and adminiſter the goods of the Inteſtate lawfully, truly, and diligently; then when he compounds a Debt with one who hath a Judgment of 100 l. for 60 l. and he offers to acknowledge ſatisfaction, and the Executor or Adminiſtrator differs it, to the intent to ſuffer the ſame ſtand in force, the ſame ſhall be fraudulent, and if it be before or after Recovery, the ſame is all one as to a third perſon; and the agreement betwixt them ſhall not hurt the third perſon, but that the Executor or Adminiſtrator ſhall be charged with the Debt. See Cook 8. Part, 132. Farners Caſe.

7. If an Executor of a Leſſee for years aſſigns over his Intereſt, an Action of Debt doth not lye againſt him for Rent due after the Aſſignment, and the Leſſee for years aſſigns all his Intereſt and dyeth, the Executor ſhall not be charged for Rent due after his death; becauſe the perſonal privity of Contract, as to the Action of Debt, is determined. Cook 3. Part, 24. in Walkers Caſe.

8. Debt brought againſt two Adminiſtrators for Rent behind, after the death of the Inteſtate, they pleaded, That before the Rent was behind, one of the Adminiſtrators aſſigned all his Intereſt to J. S. of which the Plaintiff had notice, and accepted the Rent by the hands of the Aſſignee, before the day in which the Rent was due. In that Caſe, It was adjudged, That the privity of Contract, as to the Action of Debt, was determined by the death of the Leſſee; and therefore after the Aſſignment, Debt did not ly againſt the Adminiſtrators. 41 Eliz. in C. B. Marrow and Turpins Caſe, vouch in Cook 3. Part, in Walkers Caſe.

9. Debt againſt an Adminiſtrator upon a Bond of 600 l. made by the Inteſtate, The Defendant pleaded, that the Teſtator and his Son acknowledged a Recognizance to the King of 100 l. and another of 800 l. to B, and another of 100 l. to M, and divers others; over and above which, the had not Aſſets, and after ſaid ſhe had not ſufficient Aſſets: The Plaintiff replyed, that the Recognizance to B. was for 400 l. which is paid, and the other to M. was for performance of Covenants, none whereof is broken, and that the Recognizance ſtands in force by Covyn of the Defendant. In this Caſe, theſe Points were Reſolved. 1. That the Barr was inſufficient, for that ſhe confeſſed it, that ſhe had ſufficient Aſſets to pay the ſaid Recognizances, and afterwards denyed it. 2. The Plea is too general; but ſhe ought to have ſet forth how much Aſſets ſhe had, becauſe ſhe had knowledge thereof; alſo, the Barr is inſufficient, becauſe the Inteſtate was bound in the Recognizance with another, and the Defendant hath not averred that, that the other had not ſufficient to have ſatisfied them. Cook 9. Part, 109. Meriet Freſham's Caſe.

10. In Debt brought against an Executor, he pleaded fully administred, and gave in Debts paid upon Contract, whereas the Action was brought upon an Obligation; there the Plaintiff had Judgment against the Defendant, of the Goods of the Testator, for so much as was in the Issue: And it was there holden, That if an Action be once brought upon one Obligation, the Debt upon another Obligation shall not be paid. Quod Quære Pasch. 29 H. 8. Dyer, 32. And for that see Pasc. 32 Eliz. in the Kings Bench. Pemberton and Barham's Case. Cook 4. Part, 60. acc.

11. Debt was brought against two Executors, one appeared and confessed the Action, the other made default, and Judgment was given to recover the Goods of the Testator in both their hands: To which purpose a Fieri facias issued to the Sheriff, the Sheriff returned Nihil; but he that made default had Goods of the Testator, and had wasted them before the Receipt of the Writ: Whereupon a Scire facias issued forth against him only who had wasted the Goods, and upon a Scire feci returned, Execution was awarded against him only of his proper Goods, without any Execution sued against his Companion. M. 4 Eliz. Dyer, 210.

12. If a man condemned in Debt dyeth before Execution: It was holden by the Court, that his Administrators are bound to pay this Debt upon Record before Specialties; and if they be sued upon an Obligation they may plead a Recovery against them which is not executed; but if they do not plead it, but suffer a Judgment against them and Execution, before Execution sued of the first Judgment, they shall be charged of their own goods, for that by the first Judgment the goods were charged. H. 5 E. 6. Dyer, 80. See Cook 5. Part, Harrison's Case, acc.

13. Debt brought against J. S. Executor of B. Executor of J. D. upon an Obligation of the first Testator: The Defendant pleaded, That the said J. D. the first Testator was endebted to B. 100 l. and that afterwards goods of 100 l. came to the hands of B. as Executor of J. D. which goods he administred and paid himself by reteiner, & besides the said goods of a value of 100 l. that the said B. had administred all the goods of the said J. D. and so there was nothing in the hands of B. The Plaintiff averred Assets in the hands of B. of the goods of J. D. at the time of his Death, to be administred in L. Upon Issue upon that, It was found for the Plaintiff, viz. That B. had goods which were the said J. D. at the time of his death in his hands: It was adjudged in this Case, That the Plaintiff should recover in this Case against J. S. of the goods of J. D. in the Defendant's hands and damages of the proper goods of the Defendant. Tr. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 185. Sir John Chichester's Case.

14. Debt against three Executors; one pleaded a Recovery in the King's Bench against him in Barr, the other, that he had fully administred: Against the first the Plaintiff did aver Covyn, and upon the second Plea they were at Issue; the first Issue is found for the Plaintiff, and as to the other, It was found, that the Defendants had Goods in their hands of their Testator not administred, to 30 l. the Debt being 100 l. the Plaintiff had Judgment to recover de bonis Testatoris; and now he brought a Scire facias against the Executors, supposing many other Goods came to their hands after the Judgment: The Question was, If a Scire facias would ly against them, for that upon the Judgment the Original is determined, and so there is no Record upon which a Scire facias can be grounded. But it was the Opinion of the Court, Where upon Nothing in their hands pleaded, it is found, That some part of the Sum in demand is in the hands of the Executors, there, upon a Surmise of Goods come to the hands of the Executors he shall have a Scire facias; contrary, where upon Issue it is found fully for the Defendants, that they have nothing in their hands. M. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Bracebridg and Baskervile's Case, Leon, 67.

15. Assumpsit, The Plaintiff declared, That he delivered Goods to the Brother of the Defendant, who made the Defendant his Executor and dyed; and with Speech with the Defendant concerning the said Goods, the Defendant promised the Plaintiff, that if he could prove that the Goods were delivered to the Testator, he would pay the value of them to the Plaintiff; Upon Non Assumpsit it was found for the Plaintiff, and in this Case it was Resolved, That if an Action be brought against Executors upon an Assumpsit of the Testator, Judgment shall be of the Goods of the Testator; but, if upon the Promise of an Executor, then of his own Goods. Hill. 30 Eliz. B R. Howell and Trivanian Case. Leon. 93.

16. Debt against the Executors of Charls Earl of N. for 200 l. The Defendants appeared, and Judgment against them, and 4 l. Costs de bonis Testatoris, &c. Et si &c. tunc de bonis propriis, for the Costs: Upon a Fieri facias to the Sheriff of London, he returned Nulla bona Testatoris, and for the 4 l. Nulla bona. And upon a Testatum that the Goods were sold and assigned, a new Fieri facias issued reciting the former Writ and the Return; wherefore it was commanded, That an Inquisition be awarded to enquire if they had sold the Goods, and if they found it so, a Scire facias ad respondendum. The Sheriff returned, that they had found a Sale of the Goods; whereupon Judgment was given, and Execution sued against the Executors de bonis propriis. Whereupon Error was brought, and Error assigned in reddition Executionis: It was holden to be no Error, and the Judgment was affirmed. See for the reason of this Judgment, in title of Courts. p. 519. lib. 1. c. 16. Maunſon and Barnet Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 373.

17. In Debt upon an Obligation for not performance of Covenants in a Leaſe made unto the Teſtator, the breach was aſſigned in the time of the Executor, for not repairing of a houſe; and Judgment was, Quod recuperet the Debt de bonis Teſtatoris, & c. ei ſi non, & c. tunc de bonis propriis. It was alledged, that inaſmuch as the breach was alledged and declared to be by the Executor himſelf, the Recovery ought to have bin aſs.ll for the Debt as the damages, de bonis propriis. But Reſolved, That in Debt by the Covenant made by the Teſtator, the Executor ſhall be charged only de bonis Teſtatoris; but where he pleads a falſe Plea, which utterly ouſts him of the benefit of the Teſtament. Mich. 20 Jac. in B. R. Bull and Wheelers Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 647.

18. Execution was ſued againſt an Executrix, for the breach of a Covenant made by her Husband, the Teſtator, and the breach was by the Executrix in aſſigning over a Leaſe, without giving notice thereof to the Leſſor, and Judgment being for the Plaintiff, de bonis Teſtatoris, ei ſi non, & c. de bonis propriis, Error was brought. It was Reſolved by the Court, That although the Defendant her ſelf brake the Covenant, yet ſhe was not chargeable, but in regard of the Deed of the Teſtator, where ſhe ſhall not be chargeable, but de bonis Teſtatoris; and in no Caſe of Executors ſhall he be charged de bonis propriis, but where he pleads ne unque Executor, and it is found againſt him. Mich. 21 Jac. in B. R. Bridgman and Lightfoots Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 671.

19. Note, an Executor may waive a Term for years, and then he ſhall be diſcharged of the Rent, and ſhall not be charged with any Arrears de bonis propriis; but if he once occupieth the Land, he ſhall be then chargeable de bonis Teſtatoris if he have any in his hands; and if not, then de bonis propriis, for that an Executor is an Aſſignee in Law of the Intereſt of the Term: and upon ſuch occupation, the Action will lye againſt the Executor in the Debet et Detinet. Mich. 7 Jac. in B. R. The Lord Rich and Franks Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. Part, 22, 23.

20. Covenant brought againſt A. Executor of J. S. and declared that J. S. in his life time did let to him certain Lands for years, and Covenanted for him, his Executors, Adminiſtrators, and Aſſigns, That the Leſſee ſhould not be put out of poſſeſſion of the Lands, during the Term, and that ſince the death of J. S. his Leſſor, he was put out of poſſeſſion by ſuch a one; and therefore brought the Action; The Defendant pleaded, he had no Aſſets: It was found, That the ſaid J. S. did let the Land prout, and under the Covenants prout, and made his Will, and the Defendant his Executor, and by his Will gave many Legacies of goods, and that the Defendant before the Plaintiff, was put out of poſſeſſion, did pay all the Legacies in kind, and beſides thoſe goods, he had not Aſſets to perform the Covenant, and whether the Executor ought to have forborn the payment of the Legacies, and to have expected until the end of the Term. or till the Covenant had bin broken, was the Queſtion; and for doing otherwiſe, ſhould not be charged de bonis propriis, was the point of Law. The Caſe was often argued, but not Reſolved. Trin. 23 Car. in B. R. Eelis and Lamberts Caſe. Styles 37, 54, 71, 74.

4. Where the entermedling with the goods of the Teſtator or the Inteſtate, ſhall be an Adminiſtration to charge them as Executors of their own wrong, what not: And where a man ſhall be Executor of his own wrong: and of ſeveral things done by him; Where they ſhall bind, Where not; Where he may retain, Where not.

1. A Man poſſeſſed of Goods, made A. his Executor, and dyed; and before the Will was proved, J. S. took the goods of the Teſtator into his hands, and medled with them. Afterwards A. proved the Will. It was adjudged in ſuch Caſe, That John S. ſhould be Executor of his own wrong. But when an Executor is made, and he proves the Will, and after a ſtranger takes the goods, claiming them as his own goods, that doth not make him to be Executor of his own wrong: But if a ſtranger taketh the goods, claiming to be Executor, and payes debts, or receives Debts, he ſhall not be charged as Executor of his own wrong. Cro. 1. Part, 33. Reads Caſe.

2. A Woman Executor took a Husband; afterwards they are divorced, cauſa præcontractus; the Woman appealed to the Court of Delegates, depending which Appeal; the Husband did entermeddle with the goods, and afterward the Will dyed. It is a Quere in 2 Ma. Dyer, if this entermeddling with the goods ſhall make her an Executrix of her own wrong. See Cook 5. Part, in Coulters Caſe: this Quere Reſolved, that it is an Adminiſtration; for the very entermeddling with the goods, is that which gives notice to the Creditors againſt whom to bring their Actions, and how to ground their Suits.

3. Debt was brought againſt A. as Executor of his own wrong, becauſe he received a Debt, and made made an Acquittance. It was holden by the Juſtices, That the Action did lye, for that every comming to hands of goods, draweth with it the charge of an Executorſhip; and if one who hath colour by Overſeerſhip, or, by Letters ad colligendum, receive goods into their hands, they are Executors in their own wrongs, if they do not plead the ſpecial matter. Hill. 1 Ma. Dyer, 166, 167. Porter's Caſe.

4. Debt againſt two Defendants as Executors of A. one of the Defendants confeſſed the Action, the other pleaded, That the Teſtator dyed ſuch a day, and that he intending to have Letters of Adminiſtration, cauſed the Corps of the Teſtator to be buried, and his goods to be ſafely kept, and that after Adminiſtration was granted to him by the Arch-Deacon, and that after that, one J. S. brought an Action againſt him as Adminiſtrator, and recovered, and averred, that it was a true Debt, and that he had no goods which were the Teſtators, beſides the goods and Chattels which did not amount to the ſaid Debt, and ſo demands Judgment if Action, upon which the Plaintiff demurred in Law. It was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That the medling here with the goods by the Defendant, made him Executor of his own wrong; and in this Caſe the Defendant hath not ſufficiently conveyed title to himſelf to be Executor, inſomuch as Adminiſtration was committed to him by the Arch-Deacon, and he doth not ſay, that of right the committing of Adminiſtration did belong unto him, inſomuch as he hath but ſubordinate Juriſdiction, of which the Law doth not take notice, and then the recovery by J. S. againſt him was void, and ſo all the goods remain Aſſets in his hands. Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. Lawry and Aldred's Caſe. Brownlow. 2. Part, 183, 184.

5. In Debt by Executors againſt an Executrix; the Caſe was, The Defendant as Executrix of her own wrong, took divers goods into her hand, of the value of 400 l. and ſold them by the aſſent of J. her Son, who afterwards took Letters of Adminiſtration and payed juſt Debts upon ſpecialties, as far as the goods of the Inteſtate did amount unto, as well to the value of the ſaid 400 l. ſold by his Mother, as of all the goods whereof the Inteſtate dyed poſſeſſed; afterwards an Action was brought againſt the Mother as Executrix of her own wrong, who pleaded Fully-Adminiſtred, and upon Evidence, all this matter appeared; and whether ſhe ſhould be chargeable or not, was the Queſtion. It was adjudged by all the Barons in the Exchequer, That ſhe ſhould not be charged: For this Action being brought after the Adminiſtration committed, and when ſhe was chargeable for thoſe goods to the Adminiſtrator, and when the Adminiſtrator had fully ſatisfied in paying the Debts of the Inteſtate, as far as all the goods of the Inteſtate amount unto. It was not reaſon ſhe ſhould be charged by the Plaintiff for then ſhe ſhould be double charged: But if the Action had bin brought againſt her, before the Adminiſtrator had fully adminiſtred all the Debts, it ſhould have bin otherwiſe; for ſhe having gained the goods into her hands, is chargeable for them as Adminiſtrator of her own wrong, untill ſhe gives due ſatisfaction to the other Adminiſtrator, or the her ſelf ſatisfy for the true debt, to the value. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Mich. 3 Car. in the Exchequer. Whitmore and Porters Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 62, 63.

6. Debt brought againſt J. S. Executor of the laſt Will and Teſtament of J. N. It was found by Verdict, That J. N. made an Obligation in the nature of a Statute-ſtaple to J. S. and dyed; J. S. as Executor of his own wrong, retained goods in his own hands to ſatisfy the ſaid Debt. It was objected, That he might retain. 1. Becauſe the Plaintiff in his Declaration had affirmed him Executor, and the Jury cannot find againſt that which the parties have admitted in their pleading. 2. Although he cannot retain againſt a lawful Executor, yet he may retain againſt a Creditor. But it was Reſolved, That the reteyner by an Executor of his own wrong, was not good, for the great inconvenience which ſhould follow, for then every Creditor would contend to be Executor, and the Law will ſuffer a miſchief, rather then an inconvenience; and the naming him Executor, doth not prove him to be rightful Executor, for ſo is every Executor of his own wrong named. Mich. 41 Eliz. in B.R. Cro. 3. Part, 3. Coulters Caſe.

7. Debt againſt an Adminiſtrator, the Defendant ſhewed, that there were divers Judgments had againſt him in London, and that there was another debt due by the Teſtator to the King, and ſo pleaded, that he had fully adminiſtred; exception was taken to the pleading, becauſe it was not therein ſhewed, that the King did aſſent to the Aſſignment; and becauſe it was not ſhewed that the Aſſignment was enrolled. The Court took no notice of the ſaid Exceptions; but whereas the Defendant as Adminiſtrator did alledg a retainer in his own hands for a Debt due to himſelf; the Opinion of the whole Court was, That the ſame was good, and that an Adminiſtrator might retain to ſatisfy a Debt due to himſelf. But an Executor of his own wrong could not. M. 11 Jac. in C.B. Bond and Greens Caſe, Godbolt. 217.

8. Debt againſt Executors, the Iſſue being upon Fully-adminiſtred, the Plaintiff gave in evidence, that they had goods in their hands; the Defendants pleaded, that they redeemed part of them with their own Money, which goods were pledged by the Teſtator to the full value, and for the reſidue, that they had paid for the Teſtator ſo much, to the full value. It was adjudged good Evidence to maintain the Iſſue, for that a man ſhall have recompence for that which he hath lawfully paid. Mich. 6 H. 8. Dyer, 2. acc.

5. Judgment againſt Executors upon their Confeſſion; Pleas of reins in their hands, fully Adminiſtred, Ne unque Executoris; Non eſt factum, and other Pleas found againſt them; and what proceſs ſhall iſſue forth thereupon. And what ſhall be ſaid Aſſets in the hands of Executors; What not.

1. DEbt againſt two Executors, the one appeared, the Plaintiff declared upon an Obligation; he which appeared, confeſſed the Action, and Judgment was given againſt them of the goods of the Teſtator. 28. H. 6. 3. and there it is ſaid, that in 19 H. 6. It was adjudged, That the Judgment ſhould be ut ſupra; and if they had not goods of the dead, then againſt him which confeſſed the Action of his own goods. And ſee 28 H. 6. 31. In a Rationabili parte Bonorum againſt three, and one confeſſed the Action, and Judgment was given, ut ſupra. See 28 H. 6. Br. Executors, 18. and vide before, before placite. And 4 Eliz. Dyer, 210.

2. In Debt againſt Executors, who plead, Never Executors, nor ever adminiſtred as Executors, the Judgment ſhall be de bonis Teſtatoris, if they have goods of the Teſtator; and if not de bonis propriis, 11 H. 4. 5. 33 H. 6. 23, 24. 9 H. 7. 15. and there it is ſaid, That if they plead Non eſt factum, or other Plea which ſhall bar the Plaintiff for ever, and it is found againſt them, the Judgment ſhall be ut ſupra, Quod Nota. But Quere of the Plea Non eſt factum, for that doth not properly in their notice, if it was the Teſtators Deed or not; but of ſuch things of which they may have perfect notice, and are perpetual bars, or otherwiſe, as if they plead a Releaſe to themſelves, or an acquittance, and the ſame be found againſt them, there the Judgment ſhall be de bonis Teſtatoris; et ſi non de bonis propriis, but if they plead a Releaſe or an acquittance made to the Teſtator, of which they cannot have perfect notice, there the Judgment ſhall be de bonis Teſtatoris. See 6 E. 4. 2, 23 H. 8. br. Executors, 22. See 46 E. 3. 9. & 10. acc.

3. Debt againſt Executors, who pleaded fully Adminiſtred, and it is found againſt them, the Judgment ſhall be of the goods of the dead. 2 H. 6. 12. 9 H. 6. 9. 34 H. 6. 22. for that Plea is no perpetual bar, but is a bar for the time, for if Aſſets happen after, they ſhall be charged; and ſo it is where one Executor pleads Miſnomer, or that another is Executor not named in the Writ, and it is found againſt them. 18 H. 6. Br. Executors, 18.

4. Debt againſt Executors, who pleaded fully adminiſtred, which was found againſt them; and thereupon Judgment was given of the goods of the Teſtator, and a Fieri facias was awarded, upon which the Sheriff returned Devaſtavit; and thereupon a Capias was awarded againſt them, 2 H. 6. 12. But ſee 34 H. 6. 45. A Capias ad ſatisfaciendum doth not lye againſt Executors, who plead fully adminiſtred.

5. Debt againſt an Executor upon an Obligation of 40 l. the Defendant pleaded three Judgments in the Court of R. in Debt, and one Judgment in this Court prout patet per Recorda, and that he had not Aſſets to ſatisfy thoſe Judgments; the Plaintiff demurred, becauſe he doth not ſay prout per ſeparalia Recorda. 2. Becauſe not ſhewed what ſums he had in his hands. 3. Becauſe not averred, that they were vera et juſta debita; and for theſe cauſes the Plea was not good. Mich. 19 Jac. in B. R. Samuis and Mercers Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 625.

6. Debt againſt an Executor upon Plenarty adminiſtred pleaded, the Plaintiff replyed, that he had Aſſets, and afterwards the Defendant confeſſed the Action; and Judgment was given to the Plaintiff de bonis Teſtatoris. It was moved, That the confeſſion of the Action ſhould contain that he had goods ſufficient; and it was prayed, that it might be added to the entry; but the Court refuſed ſo to do, becauſe the confeſſion can extend no further then to the Court, which is of the Debt, and not of the Aſſets. Hill. 14 Jac. in C. B. Bird and Calmers Caſe. Hob. 178.

7. Aſſumpſit, whereas a Legacy of 40 l. was deviſed to the Plaintiff by J. S. who made the Defendant his Executor, to whoſe hands divers goods came; and the Plaintiff intended to ſue him for that Legacy, the Defendant in conſideration the Plaintiff would forbear his ſuit, promiſed to pay it at ſuch a time; upon Non Aſſumpſit, and found for the Plaintiff. It was ſaid, the Declaration was not good, becauſe he doth not aver that he had Aſſets at the time of the promiſe: But the Exception was diſallowed by the Court, for it ſhall be intended, that he had Aſſets, otherwiſe he would not have made ſuch a promiſe. Paſc. 19 Jac. in B. R. Bothe and Crampons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 613.

8. Debt brought againſt one as Adminiſtrator of O. who pleaded, that O. ſuch a day and year in his life time acknowledged a Judgment unto him in B. R. upon an Indebitatus of 1500 l. and dyed, and that he retains ſo much of the goods to ſatisfy himſelf, and that ultra that 1500 l. he had but 40 s. It was moved, that he ought to have pleaded the general Iſſue, and given this matter in Evidence; but it is a miſchief to the Plaintiff to take Iſſue upon that, for then he ought to ſay, that he had Aſſets. The Court was of Opinion, That he might give it in Evidence, or plead that the Judgment was not ſatisfied, but he may not compel him to change his Plea. Hill. 21 Jac. in C. B. Bacon and Wilſon's Caſe. Winch. 70.

9. Note, It was Reſolved, That if Debt be brought againſt an Executor, who pleads, That he hath fully Adminiſtred, and it is found that he hath Aſſets to 40 l. where the Debt is 60 l. Judgment ſhall be given for the 60 l. againſt the Defendant; and upon that Judgment, if more Aſſets come to the Defendants hands, the Plaintiff may have a Scire facias. Mich. 8 Jac. in C. B. Newman and Rebbingtons Caſe. Godbolt. 178.

More concerning Executors.

1. A Man made his Will in theſe words, viz. That if the Wife of the Deviſor would permit J. S. to enjoy ſuch a Term for the Term of three years next, that then ſhe ſhould have all the reſidue of his goods, as his ſole Executrix. It was ſaid, ſhe could not be Executrix, for ſhe is to be Executrix upon a Condition precedent, and the Condition is impoſſible to be performed: for how can ſhe permit J. S. to enjoy the Term for three years, when the three years are to be paſt before ſhe hath any power. But it was holden by the Court, That ſhe ſhould be Executrix preſently: for although a grant upon a Condition precedent, doth not take effect till the Condition be performed; yet ſuch conſtruction ſhall be in the Caſe, as the intent of the Deviſor ſhall ſtand; and his intent was, that his Wife ſhould be Executrix immediatly, untill ſhe be diſturbed; for the words of the Will are, If ſhe refuſe to ſuffer J. S. to hold the Term, then his Son ſhould be his Executor; which implies, That by a diſturbance made by the Wife, her Executorſhip ſhould ceaſe, which cannot be, if ſhe were not before Executrix. Paſc. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Jennings and Gowers Caſe. Leon. 228.

2. A man by his Will deviſed his Lands to his four Executors, and willed, that his ſaid Executors ſhould ſell the ſaid Land to J. S. for the payment of his Debts, if J. S. would pay for it before ſuch a day 1000 l. and dyed; J. S. did not pay the money at the day. And one of the Executors refuſed to adminiſter the Will, and the other three entred, and ſold the Lands for ſo much money as they could conveniently get for it: It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Sale was good, for it was a Deviſe to him to ſell, and when he refuſeth to ſell, he refuſeth to take, and it is not neceſſary, that he who refuſeth, joyn in the ſale; and ſuch ſale as ſhall be moſt beneficial for the Teſtator, ſhall ſtand good. Paſc. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Bouſant and Sir Rich. Greenfields Caſe. Leon. 60.

3. Debt brought in the Detinet againſt a Woman as Adminiſtratrix of her Husband for arrerages of Rent upon a Leaſe for years, viz. for a Quarters Rent due in the life of the Inteſtate, and two Quarters in her own time. It was found for the Plaintiff. It was objected, That the Action ought to have bin brought in the Debet et Detinet, according to Hargraves Caſe. Cook 4. Part, 31. But it was Reſolved, That the Action was well brought in the Detinet, the having the Intereſt only as Adminiſtratrix. And Hargraves Caſe was ſaid to be no Law; and the Judgment in that Caſe was reverſed. Mich. 7 Car. in B. R. Smith and Norfolks Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 163.

4. Judgment was given againſt an Executor, or Adminiſtrator in Debt; and he brings a Writ of Error, If upon the Statute of 3 Jac. cap. 8. he ſhall find Bail, was the Queſtion: Reſolved, that he ſhould not, for it is againſt reaſon that he ſhould be put to Main-prize, and makes that his proper debt where he only brings the Suit as Adminiſtrator. Wherefore the Error was allowed, and a ſuperſedeas awarded for the Execution, without putting in Bail. H ll. 2 Car. in the Exchequer. Sir Henry Mildmayes Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 42.

5. A Rent-charge was Granted to the Teſtator for divers years, if he ſo long liv d. In a Replevin, the Executor diſtreyned and avowed: It was Reſolved, That he could not diſtreyn. For that the Statute of 32 H. 8. provides remedy only by diſtreſs, where the Teſtator was ſeiſed of a Rent to him, and his Heirs, or for life: But where he hath remedy by Action of Debt, as in this Caſe the Executor hath, he cannot diſtreyn and avow. Paſc. 13 Car. in B. R. Turner and Lees Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 339.

6. Debt by Executors upon an Obligation made to their Teſtator for payment of 52 l. the Defendant pleaded, that he paid the 52 l. to one of the Executors in ſatisfaction of the Debt, and all Intereſt and damages upon it, and thereupon he releaſed to him the ſaid Obligation; the Plaintiff replyed, That the Executor who releaſed, was within age. It was holden by the Juſtices, That this Releaſe of an Enfant Executor, ſhould not bar the Enfant. But ſuch Releaſe by an Executor of full age, upon the Receipt of the principal and Intereſt ſhall be Aſſets for the Intereſt and money received only, only, and ſhall not be a Deuaſtavit for the Reverſion. Trin. 13 Car. in B. R. Kniveton and Latham's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 352.

7. Treſpaſs brought by an Executor againſt the Defendant, for that he took, chaſed, and eſloyned two Oxen, which were the Teſtators, tempore mortis ſuæ to his damage of 40 l. et in retardatione Teſtamenti: It was ſaid, That the Action was not well brought, becauſe it ought to have bin mentioned, that they were taken extra cuſtodiam ſuam. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Action was well brought, becauſe ſhe hath election to bring it of her own poſſeſſion, or as Executer: and inaſmuch as by the Teſtators death, the poſſeſſion is caſt upon the Executor, it is to be intended, that the goods were in Cuſtodia ſua. It was adjuged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 3 Jac. in B. R. Adams and Chevertt's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 113.

8. Debt againſt an Executor upon an Obligation, who pleaded, That the Teſtator at the time of his death was endebted to the King for his Office of Sheriff ſhip; and becauſe it was not averred, that it was verum et juſtum debitum et minime ſolutum. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 5 Jac. in B. R. Woodal and Hugates Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 182.

9. Debt by an Executor upon an Obligation, the Defendant pleaded, Non eſt factum, and found for him; It was Reſolved, that the Plaintiff ſhould pay no Coſts within the Statute of 5 Jac. ſuing in another's Right; and ſo it was ſaid it was adjudged in one Fords Caſe. Mich. 7 Jac. in B. R. Hayworth and Davids Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 219.

10. The Caſe was, Leſſee for life of a houſe and Paſture grounds, dyed, his Executors ſuffered the Cattel to go there, for ſix dayes after his death, and then removed them; and in Treſpaſſe brought juſtified for that time, averring, that within that time, he could not procure any other place to put in the Cattel: The Court was of Opinion, That it was but a convenient time for removing of the Cattel. Hill. 5 Jac. in B. R. Stroddon and Harveys Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 204.

11. It was found by Verdict in Treſpaſſe, That A. Leſſee for 21 years of the Land in Queſtion, deviſed the benefit of his ſaid Leaſe to E. his Wife for ſix years after his death; and that after the ſaid ſix years ended: my ſon J. if he come home, ſhall have the benefit of my ſaid Leaſe during the reſidue of the Term, and if my Son J. doth not then come home, William my Son ſhall have and poſſeſſe that Leaſe unto his benefit, untill my Son J. do come home. And deviſed to his Wife, all his goods, &c. and made her Executrix, and dyed. E. entred, claiming virtute legationis; W. during the ſix years, (J. not being returned home) made his Will, and deviſed that Leaſe to H. his Wife, and made her his Executrix and dyed: The 6 years ended, J. did not return; H. takes to Husband the Plaintiff; A. takes Husband the Defendant. The Queſtion was, who ſhould have the Term. It was adjudged, That A. had right to the Term: For although it ſhould be a poſſibility in the Teſtator, yet becauſe it is ſuch a poſſibility, that a Term might have veſted in him, if he had lived till after the 6 years expired (the ſaid time E. by her entry, having agreed to the ſaid Legacy). It was held, That that poſſibility might well go to his Executrix, and the Executrix ſhould have it, becauſe it might have veſted in the Teſtator. Trin. 15 Jac. in B. R. Sheriff and Wroham's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 909.

12. Debt againſt an Executor upon an Obligation of the Teſtator, the Defendant pleaded, That the Teſtator made him Executor until J. S. ſhould come to the age of 21 years, and in the mean time keep all his goods for him, and then deliver them unto him, and the ſaid J. S. then to be Executor; and ſhewed, that before the Action, J. S. came of 21 years, and he delivered the goods to him, which he accepted. It was debated by the Court, that if the firſt Executor waſted the goods, how the Creditor ſhould relieve himſelf for thoſe goods, the new Executor taking upon him the Executorſhip. It was agreed, That the old Executor did remain Executor as to have an Action againſt them, for againſt the Vendees they can have no remedy. Trin. 17 Jac. in C. B. Chandler and Thompſons Caſe. Ibid. 265.

13. A. and B. Executors of E. brought an Action againſt J. S. upon an Obligation, the Condition was, That J. S. ſhould pay 20 l. to ſuch perſon or perſons as the ſaid E. ſhould by her laſt Will and Teſtament in writing, name and appoint the ſame to be paid, and ſaid ſhe did appoint no perſon to whom it ſhould be paid: the Plaintiffs replyed, that ſhe made her Will, and thereby made them Executors: It was the Opinion of the Court, That the money was not to be paid to the Executors, but there muſt needs be an Aſſignee indeed, who ſhall take it to his own uſe, for that the word paying, carrieth property with it. Trin. 11 Jac. in C. B. Peaſe and Meads Caſe, Hob. 9, 10.

14. A. Executor of B. brought Debt upon an Obligation againſt C. Executor of D. the Defendant pleaded, That the ſaid A. the ſuppoſed Teſtator dyed inteſtate; and, before the Action brought, the Adminiſtration of his goods was committed to J. D. who adminiſtred, and yet doth Adminiſter. The Plaintiff replyed, That W. dyed Inteſtate, and that after his death, and before Adminiſtration granted, divers goods of his, to the value of the Debt, came to the hands of this Defendant, which goods the Defendant as Executor adminiſtravit ſecu- alitèr ad usum suum proprium disposuit et convertit; et hoc, &c. Whereupon Issue was taken, and found it against the Defendant in the Disjunctive. In this Case it was adjudged for the Plaintiff: For although the Verdict be true, that if he did administer, or otherwise convert it to his own use, yet both must be as Executor; and then it is but the same thing spoken two wayes; And since there was an Execution in wrong before the Administration granted, the Plaintiff had cause of Action vested in him, which shall not be taken away by the Administration granted after, though it be before the Action brought. Trin. 11 Jac. in C. B. Keble and Osbaston's Case. Hob. 49.

15. Ejectment, the Case was; A. made a Lease of Lands to B. for 99. years, if B. should so long live, the Remainder after his death to the Executors or Assignees of the said B. for 40 years. B. dyed Intestate, Administration was committed to E. his Wife, who entred, claiming the 40 years. It was the Opinion of the Court in this Case, That the Lessee should have an estate during life, for it is to him for 99 years, if he so long live; and because by common intendment he cannot survive those years, the intent was, that his Executors should have it after his death, and that the certainty of the time might be known, it was limitted for 40 years. Mich. 41 Eliz. in C. B. Speek and Speeks Case, Owen 125.

Executions.

1, Execution; What it is, and where, when, and against what persons; and upon what Lands, Goods, Chattels, Offices, and Execution may be awarded by Capias ad satisfaciendum against the body; Elegit, Fieri facias, or other manner of Execution; and how the Sheriff or other Officer is to demean himself in the doing thereof.

1. EXecution is, Where Judgment is given in any Action, real, personal, mixt, Indictment, &c. That the party shall recover the Land, Possession, Debt, Damages, Goods or Chattels, or receive Corporal punishment by way of Imprisonment, or otherwise, as the Case shall require; and when any Writ is awarded to put the person in execution, by reason of any such Judgment, or to do any other thing whereby the Plaintiff shall be satisfied, either of his Lands and title to them, Debt, Damages, Goods, Chattells. It is called a Writ of Execution, and where he hath the possession of the Land, and is paid his Debt or Damages, or hath the body of the Defendant awarded to Prison, then he is said to have Execution. And see, That in a Writ of Debt, a man shall not have recovery of any Lands, but of them which the Defendant had at the day of the Judgment given; And of Chattels, a man shall have Execution only of the Chattels which he hath at the day of the Writ of Execution awarded.

2. At the Common-Law, If a common person had sued a Recognizance, or had had a Judgment for debt or damages, he could not have had the body of the Defendant, or his Lands in Execution; but he might only have had Execution of his goods and Chattels or of the profits of his Lands, to which purpose he might have had a Writ called Levari facias to the Sheriff, Quod levari faciat de bonis et Catallis ipsius A. or a Fieri faciat, de bonis et Catallis; and these Writs were to be sued forth within the year, after the Judgment obtained: But in Debt against the Heir upon an Obligation made by his Father, Execution might have bin of the Land by the Common Law which the Heir had by Discent; and that was in Case of necessity only, because the goods and Chattels went to the Executors. But in the Case of the Kings accountant at the Common Law, by a Prerogative of the King; the body, Lands, and goods were lyable to Execution. But Capias against the body of a man in the Case of a common person, did not lye, untill the Statute of 25 E. 3. cap. 17. Cook 3. Part, 12. in Sir William Herberts Case.

3. The Heir was condemned upon Nihil Dicit in Debt brought upon an Obligation made by his Father. It was the Opinion of all the Justices, That the Plaintiff could not have other Execution, but by a special Elegit of all the Lands which discended in Fee to the Heir from his said Ancestor, which he had at the day of the Writ brought. Hill. 7 E. 6. Dyer, 81. But see Plow. Com. 440. in Davy and Pep's Case. If the Heir be condemned for default or answer, or by Nihil dicit, or by confession, or by any other matter, without certain shewing the Assets, in such Case the Plaintiff shall have Execution of his other Lands, or of his goods and Chattels by Capias ad satisfaciendum: And if the Recovery were by Nihil dicit, he shall be charged of his own Land, as it was adjudged. Hill. 41 Eliz. in B. R. rott. 447. in Barker and Browns Case. See 4 Mr. Dyer, 149. acc.

4. Debt was brought upon an Obligation against the Daughter and Heir of Hovingham upon an Obligation of her Father, the Plaintiff recovered upon Nihil dicit, a judgment general was given:

And

And upon a Scire facias to have Execution, the Defendant pleaded, nothing by diſcent in Fee at the day of the firſt Writ brought, nor after. It was the Opinion of the Court, That after a Recovery by Nihil dicit, or Non ſum informatus, or by confeſſion, the Heir ſhall come too late to plead, Nothing by Diſcent; but in ſuch Caſe, Execution ſhall be by Elegit of his own Lands. 18 Eliz. Dyer, 344.

5. A man recovered in an Action of Debt, his Debt and damages; the Defendant dyed before Execution; whereupon a Scire facias iſſued forth againſt the Heir of all the Lands which were to the Defendant the day of the Judgment; and thereupon iſſued an Elegit, according to the Statute of weſt. 2. of the moyety of the Lands of the Heir: It was there a Queſtion, If a Scire facias lay againſt the Executors. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was not neceſſary, becauſe he had his Election to have Execution by Elegit, only againſt the Heir. Mich. 4 Eliz. Dyer, 207. Owin's Caſe.

6. Debt was brought againſt a Woman as Couſin and Heir of the Obligor; ſhe confeſſed the Action, but ſaid that nothing did diſcend to her, but a Reverſion of 30 Acres of Lands after the death of J. S. And notwithſtanding, Judgment was given, That the Plaintiff ſhould recover his Debt and damages of the ſaid Reverſion to be levyed when it ſhould fall. See 23 Eliz. Dyer, 373. See 37 Aſſ. 9. acc. And note in this Caſe, That a Reverſion ſhall be Aſſets in Debt.

7. Debt was brought upon an Obligation; the Defendant pleaded Conditions performed, and being at Iſſue upon a point certain, the Defendant knowing that the Verdict would go againſt him, conveyed away his Lands to others upon payment of 20 l. but he himſelf took the profits of them. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That notwithſtanding the conveyance of the Lands, that Execution might be ſued forth of the ſaid Lands in reſpect of the Covin; and that the ſaid Lands were lyable to the Plaintiffs Debt: and an Elegit was awarded accordingly. 13 Eliz. Dyer, 295. See Co. 3. Part, 78. Twynes Caſe, acc. See 22. Aſſ. 44. acc.

8. Two men were bound joyntly and ſeverally in a Bond, both of them were ſeverally ſued, and condemned, and ſeverally taken in Execution, the one eſcaped; and the other brought an Audita Querela; And it was adjudged, That it did not lye: and it was ſaid, That although there ſhall be but one Execution, yet the ſame ſhall be intended of an Execution with ſatisfaction, for he ſhall have both their bodies in Execution: and the body is no ſatisfaction, but only a pledg for the debt. Mich. 39 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 4. Part, Blunſtith's Caſe.

9. If the Conuſor of a Statute be taken in Execution, and eſcape; yet his goods and Lands ſhall be extended upon that Statute, for that the Action which the Plaintiff hath againſt the Sheriff, for that eſcape is no ſatisfaction for the debt. Mich. 33 Eliz. in C. B. Lixneys Caſe.

10. If a man be taken in Execution for debt, if he dyeth in Execution, yet the Plaintiff may have a new Execution by Elegit, or Fieri facias. 1. Becauſe that the Plaintiff ſhall not be prejudiced, nor the Defendant benefitted by the Act and wrong of the Defendant in not payment of his Debt, there being no default in the Plaintiff, and he being taken in Execution by due courſe of Law. 2. Becauſe the body is not a ſatisfaction, but a Pledg for the Debt. 3. Becauſe it ſhould be miſchievous to the Plaintiff, to loſe his debt when noe default is in him; and it ſhall be no miſchief, if a new Execution be awarded of his Lands and goods, for that in all Equity, they are chargeable to the payment of his debts; and it is not like an Execution of Lands by Elegit, for that when the Plaintiff hath Execution of the Lands by Elegit, and afterwards the Lands be evicted; there before the Statute of 32 H. 8. he could not have had any new Execution, becauſe the firſt was a valuable Execution, with ſatisfaction. Cook 5. Part, Blunſields Caſe, acc.

11. In Audita Querela, the Caſe was; Cowley and Bates bound themſelves joyntly and ſeverally in an Obligation to Lydcot; Lydcot brought debt upon the Bond againſt Bates, and had Judgment in the Common-Pleas. Afterwards he brought debt againſt Cowley in the Kings Bench, and obtained a Judgment there againſt him; and afterwards he ſued forth Execution upon the firſt Judgment by Elegit, and had the Lands of Bates in Execution; and then took forth a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, againſt Cowley, and took him in Execution. The Queſtion was, Whether Lydcot might have a new Execution by Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, after he had Execution executed againſt one of the Obligors, becauſe the Judgments upon which he grounded his Executions, were given at ſeveral times, and in ſeveral Courts. It was Reſolved in this Caſe. 1. That a Capias doth not lye after an Execution by Elegit, but after a Capias, an Elegit is grantable; and the reaſon of the difference is, becauſe upon the preyer to have an Elegit, it is entred in the Roll, Elegit ſibi executionem per medietatem terræ: But if the Sheriff returneth upon the Elegit, that the party hath not Lands, then the party may take forth a Capias; And it was there holden by the Juſtices, That an Elegit in it ſelf is a ſatisfactory Execution, and a man ſhall never have but one Execution with ſatisfaction. Wherefore it was adjudged, That the Plaintiff in the Audita Querela, ſhould be diſcharged out of Execution. Trin. 11 Jac. in

B. R.

R. Cowley and Lydcots Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 79. ſee Godbolt. 257. the ſame Caſe.

12. In Audita Querela, the Plaintiff ſhewed, how that a Debt of 200 l. was recovered againſt him, upon which he was Outlawed, and after by force of a Capias utlagatum, he was taken in Execution, and being in Execution, the Sheriff ſuffered him to eſcape. The Defendant ſaid, That after the ſaid eſcape, and before the Audita Querela brought, the Outlawry was declared to be erronious, and ſo no Record of the Outlawry. It was objected, That the Outlawry was not void, but voidable, and that the Sheriff ſhould not take advantage of the Error, but ſhould be charged with the Eſcape notwithſtanding that the Record was Erronious; but it was adjudged, That the Audita Querela would not lye. And in that Caſe, a difference was put between mean Acts done in Execution of Juſtice, which are compulſary, and acts voluntary; as if Judgment be given in Debt, and the Sheriff by force of a Fieri facias, ſelleth a Term of the Defendants, and afterwards the Judgment is reverſed for Error, the Term ſhall not be reſtored, but only the ſum, becauſe the Sheriff was commanded and compelled to ſell the Term: But if an Outlawry be awarded, by which the Sheriff is commanded to take the body et bona et Catalla quæ per inquiſitionem venerint in manus noſtras Capias: If by force of ſuch Writ, the Sheriff ſelleth the goods and Chattels, and afterwards the Outlawry is reverſed, the party ſhall be reſtored to his goods and Chattels, becauſe the Sheriff was not commanded by the Writ to ſell them. Cook 8. Part, 141, 142. Dr. Dwyes Caſe.

13. A man had cauſe of Priviledg in the Common-Pleas, and he was arreſted in London; before Judgment, he delivered a ſuperſedeas to the Inferiour Court; yet they proceeded to Judgment, and the party being taken in Execution, was brought by Habeas Corpus into the Common Pleas; and becauſe after the ſuperſedeas delivered, there was a nullity in the proceeding, the Court awarded, that the party ſhould be diſcharged out of Execution, and that without any Writ of Error; For by this Declarative award, the Judgment and Execution was utterly avoided. 38 H. 6. 4, 12.

14. A. ſeiſed of houſes in London, took a Wife, and afterwards acknowledged a Recognizance to the Chamberlain of L. for Orphanage money; And ſate words acknowledged another Statute before the Mayor of the Staple to B. B. ſued Execution upon his, and had a Liberate, but the ſame was not returned, and the Sheriff delivered the houſes to B. in Execution. The Succeſſor of the Chamberlain ſued Execution upon his Heirs by Elegit to the Serjeant of Mace, and had the Moyety of the houſes delivered to him in extent. A. the Conuſor dyed, his Wife entred, claiming her Dower, and dyed. And afterwards the ſeveral Recognizances were aſſigned to ſeveral perſons. In this Caſe, amongſt other points; Reſolved, 1. That the Execution by the Serjeant at Mace was good, for that he was an Officer to the Court. 2. That the Execution upon the Elegit was good, without giving notice to B. or without a Scire facias, becauſe the firſt was not returned, nor did appear to the Court. 3. Reſolved, That the Execution of the Liberate was good, though it was not Returned: and ſo it is of a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, Habere facias poſſeſſionem; and of all other Writs, where only Land is to be delivered, ſeiſin had, or goods ſold, they are good, although the Writ be not returned. But otherwiſe it is in Caſe of an Enqueſt, as in Caſe of Elegit, the ſame is to be returned, That the Court may judg of the ſufficiency of the Inquiſition. Co 4. Part, 64, 65. Fulwood's Caſe.

15. Note, Where by Prerogative Writ out of the Exchequer, goods of a Collector for Fifteens, were extended, but the Writ of extent was not Returned by the Sheriff: Yet it was Reſolved, That the Execution for the King was good, although the Writ was not returned; and there it is ſaid, That in caſe of a common perſon, If the Sheriff by force of a Fieri facias, levyeth the Debt, and delivereth it to the party, the Execution is good, without return of the Writ; and if the Execution ſhould not be good, the Sheriff would not find buyers upon any Execution, which would be a great delay of Executions; but in ſuch Caſe the Sheriff ſhall be amerced, but the Execution ſhall ſtand good. Mich. 42 Eliz. in Scaccario, Cook 4. Part, 90. Hues Caſe. But a Capias in proceſs muſt be returned, becauſe the end of the Arreſt is, that the party may appear and anſwer the party. Trin. 33 Eliz. Mounts Caſe, adjudg. acc.

16. If a Fieri facias come to the Sheriff to levy money of the goods of a man, and the Sheriff by writing, reciting, that he hath a Term for years, which beginneth 2 Mariæ, whereas in truth the Term beginneth 3 Mariæ, ſelleth the ſame, the ſale is void, becauſe there is not any ſuch Term; but if the Sheriff ſelleth alſo all the Intereſt which he hath in the Land, the ſale is good. Hill. 39 Eliz. Cook 4. Part. 74 Palmers Caſe. And ſee there, The Sheriff reciting that a man had a Term in a Parſonage, for the Term of divers years then to come, ſold the ſame by force of a Fieri facias: It was adjudged the ſale was good, for by intendment the Sheriff could not know the certainty of the beginning or end of the Term; but it is there agreed, That if he take upon him to recite the Term and do miſtake it, and ſells the Term, the ſale is void. Paſc. 26 Eliz. Sir George Sydenham's Caſe.

17. Leſſee for 99 years, by his Will deviſed his Lands by theſe words, ſcil. I deviſe my Leaſe to my Wife during her life, and after her death, I Will it to go to her Children unpreferred, and made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed, the Wife entred, and afterwards married with J. S. and afterwards 140 l. debt was recovered againſt J. S. and upon a Fieri facias, the ſaid Term was ſold by the Sheriff; and afterwards the Judgment was reverſed for Error; afterwards the Wife Executrix dyed, having Iſſue a Daughter not preferred: In this Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved. 1. That the Executory deviſe of the Leaſe after the death of the Wife, to the daughter unpreferred, was good. 2. That the ſale by the Sheriff upon the Fieri facias, did not deſtroy the Executory deviſe, although that the perſon to whom the executory deviſe was, was incertain in the life time of the Wife. 3. That the ſale by the Sheriff ſtood, although the Judgment was afterwards reverſed, becauſe the Sheriff who made the ſale, had a lawful Authority to ſell, and by the ſale, the Vendee had an abſolute property in the Term during the life of the Wife; and although the Judgment which was the Warrant to the Fieri facias be reverſed yet the ſale which was a collateral act done by the Sheriff by force of the Fieri facias, ſhould not be avoided. Mich. 27 Eliz. in B. R. Amner and Loddington: Caſe vouched in Cook 8. Part, Matthew Manning's Caſe. 96.

18. Two Joynt-Tenants of a houſe, one acknowledged a Statute, and dyed poſſeſſed of divers goods in the ſaid houſe; the Sheriff came to extend the goods, and he and the Jury offered to enter the houſe, to extend the goods; and the Defendant intending to diſturb the Execution, ſhut the door, ſo as the Sheriff could not enter to extend the goods: In this Caſe, theſe points were reſolved. 1. That if a Recovery be in a real Action, or in Ejectione firme, the Sheriff upon Habere facias ſeiſinam, or poſſeſſionem, may break the houſe to do Execution, becauſe after the Judgment, it is not the houſe of the Defendant. 2. In all Caſes where the King is party, after the Sheriff hath ſignified the cauſe of his comming, if no door be open, he may break open the houſe to do Execution, but if he may enter without breaking of it, or upon a requeſt, if in ſuch Caſe he break the houſe, he is a Treſpaſſor. 3. In all caſes, in the caſe of a common perſon, if the door be open, the Sheriff may enter the houſe of a Subject to do Execution of the body or goods. 4. That it is not lawful for the Sheriff upon requeſt and denyal, in Caſe of a common perſon, to break the houſe of any Subject to execute any proceſs; and the Sheriff cannot break the houſe by force of a Fieri facias but he ſhall be a Treſpaſſor: but if he doth ſo, and doth Execution; the Execution done by him is good. Cook 4. Part, 91. Semmaynes Caſe. See Cook 11. Part, 82. Bevis Caſe. See 18 E. 4. 4. by all the Juſtices.

19. An Action of Battery was brought; the Battery was ſuppoſed, 1. Junii 1586. and Judgment given 13 Feb. the ſame year, upon which iſſued a Capias pro fine; and before the return thereof, the King pardoned ſuch Fines, and made all proceſs thereupon void. In this Caſe, it was ſaid by the Court, That if in ſuch Caſe, the Sheriff takes the party by a Capias pro fine, that in that Caſe, he is in Execution for the party, and if the Sheriff ſet him at liberty, he ſhall anſwer for the Eſcape. And in the principall Caſe it was Reſolved, That although by the pardon, the proceſs was made void, that the ſame ought to be meant, as to the Intereſt of the King in the Fine; and the vexation of the ſubject by it, but not to the Execution of the party. Paſc. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Hudſon and Leigh Caſe. Leon. 51.

20. Upon a Recovery in Debt by A. he ſued Execution againſt the Defendant by Elegit: The Sheriff made return, that he had made partition of the Lands by the Oath of 12 men, but he could not deliver it to the party, for that it was extended upon another Statute. Whereupon the Plaintiff ſued forth a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum. It was ſaid, That after Elegit returned, the party could not reſort to Execution by Capias; and therefore prayed a ſuperſedeas of it: But the Court was clear of a contrary Opinion; for upon Nihil returned upon an Elegit, the Plaintiff may have a Capias: And in this Caſe, there is no Execution returned, for after the former extent ended, he ought to have a new Elegit: Afterwards the Defendant was taken by the Capias ad ſatisfaciendum; and he prayed a ſuperſedeas to it, but it was not granted. Hil. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Palmer and Knowlls Caſe. Leon. 176.

21. Debt againſt Executors, who plead fully adminiſtred, which is found againſt them; in that Caſe, no Capias ad ſatisfaciendum ſhall iſſue; but contrary, if they plead, Never Executors, never Adminiſtred as Executors, and it is found againſt them, there in regard their plea is falſe, a Capias ſhall iſſue forth againſt them, and their bodies ſhall be ſubject to Execution. See 34 H. 6. 45. 48 E. 3. 14. acc.

22. A. became bound in a Statute of 1000 l. to B. B. dyed, the Executors of B. ſued Execution againſt A. and upon Extendi facias Liberate iſſued forth, and the Mannor of D. the Lands of A. ware delivered to the Executors, but the Liberate was not returned: It was objected, That the Execution was not good, becauſe the Liberate was not returned. To that it was anſwered and Reſolved, That there is a difference betwixt a Liberate, and a Capias

Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, and Fieri facias; for theſe Writs are Conditional, Ita quod habeas Corpus, or Ita quod habeas denarios hic in Curia: but contrary in the Writ of Liberate & Habere facias ſeiſinam: for in ſuch Writs there is not any ſuch Clauſe; and therefore if ſuch Writs be not returned, the Execution done by vertue of them, is good enough. Hill. 28 Eliz. B. R. Pennuddock and Newman's Caſe. Leon. 279.

23. Debt upon an Obligation of 100 l: The Defendant pleaded, That J. S. was joyntly and ſeverally bound with him in the ſame Bond, and the Plaintiff recovered againſt him, and had him in Execution upon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum: and ſuch a day the Sheriff libere et voluntarie ſuffered him to Eſcape. It was adjudged no Bar, but that he might ſue Execution againſt the other; for Execution without ſatisfaction, is no Bar, although he eſcaped voluntarily by the Sheriff's permiſſion: but if he had ſhewed, That the Sheriff let him go at large by the licence of the Plaintiff, it had been a diſcharge, and he might have pleaded it in Barr. Hill. 2 Car. B. R. Whitacres and Hawkinſon's Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 53.

24. In a Scire facias upon a Judgment in Debt, the Defendant pleaded, That at another time, the Plaintiff had ſued a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum againſt him, and he was taken in Execution. The Plaintiff Replyed, It was true, that he ſued a Capias againſt him, but he preſently reſcued himſelf, and eſcaped. It was Reſolved, That the Plaintiff not having any fruit of his firſt Execution, might have a newer Execution, and the Defendant ſhould not take advantage of his own wrong: and although it be no good return upon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, that the Defendant reſcued himſelf (for the Sheriff at his own perill is to keep him) not no plea in Debt upon Eſcape: yet the party himſelf ſhall not take advantage of his own tortious act, and the Defendant hath not ſhewed, that the Plaintiff ſued the Sheriff, and recovered againſt him: and it may be the Sheriff is dead, and the Plaintiff cannot ſue his Executors upon the Eſcape. Trin. 6 Car. in B.R. Robinſon and Clayton's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 174, 185. acc.

25. Anne Williams brought a Scire facias againſt J. S. and E. his Wife, who was the Adminiſtratrix of J. D. to have Execution of 88 l. debt and damages recovered againſt J. D. The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff had taken J.D. in Execution by a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, in which Execution he dyed; and demanded Judgment; upon which the Plaintiff demurred. And it was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff in the Kings-Bench, Hill. 4 Jac. which was long after Blunſild's Caſe either argued or publiſhed: It being argued, Mich. 39 Eliz. and publiſhed, 3 Jac. Paſch. 43 Eliz. in B. R. rott. 88. Williams and Cuttryes Caſe. Hob. 60.

26. In a Scire facias to have Execution of a Judgment of 2300 l. the Caſe was, upon the pleading, this; A man was taken in Execution by a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, and dyed in Execution: and whether the ſame was ſuch an abſolute diſcharge of the debt againſt him, his Executors and Adminiſtrators, that no new Execution could be againſt them, or any of them, was the Queſtion? And upon ſolemn Argument by all the Juſtices, Trin. 13 Car. in the Common Pleas, It was adjudged, That the dying of the party in Execution, was no ſuch diſcharge of the Debt, but that Execution de novo might be ſued forth againſt his Executors. Foſter and Faſtſon's Caſe, Hob. 53, 54, 55, 56. where the Caſe is notably argued: and ſo Reſolved. Quod vide Librum.

2. Where Execution ſhall be awarded in one Court upon a Judgment given in another Court; And where notwithſtanding a Writ of Errour or falſe Judgment depending: Where not. And where after Execution, Superſedeas ſhall be awarded: Where not.

1. A. was in Execution upon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum out of the Kings-Bench. There iſſued a Writ of Prerogative out of the Exchequer to have his body there: the Teſte of which was before the Arreſt, and the return of it before the Capias. The Sheriff of London where A. was taken, brought his body into the Exchequer, and ſhewed the cauſe of his deteiner; and from thence the Priſoner was committed to the Fleet in Execution for the ſaid debt, as alſo for the debt of the Queen which he confeſſed in the Exchequer. Paſch. 3 Eliz. B. R. Dyer 197. Mich. 5 Jac. in Exchequer, The Lady Sands Caſe adjudged accordingly.

2. Sir John Ailiffe ſued an Attaint in London, Judgment was given in the Exchequer: and before Execution, the record was removed in Banco by Certiorari; and the Plaintiff prayed Judgment upon that, and had it: For an Attaint is not a Superſedeas, as a Writ of Errour is; nor doth a Superſedeas lye in an Attaint. Hill. 7 E. 6. Dyer. 82.

3. A Writ of Falſe Judgment was brought upon a Judgment given in the County Court, upon a Plaint there affirmed in an Action upon the Caſe upon an Aſſumpſit: and to delay the Execution of the Costs and Damages, was the Writ brought, and the Record was removed, and the Writ ſerved, and the Plaintiff was Nonſuit; upon which the Defendant prayed a Scire facias againſt the Plaintiff to have Execution; and by advice of the Court, the ſame was granted: for otherwiſe he could not have any Judicial Writ to have execution; for the Record ſhall not be remanded. Mich. 16 Eliz. Dyer 339.

4. A man condemned in the Exchequer for a debt to the Queen, was committed to the Fleet, and afterwards was condemned in the Kings-Bench upon a Bill of Debt, at the ſuit of a Subject; he was brought into the ſame Bench by a Habeas Corpus, and by them committed again to the Fleet; as alſo for the debt of the Subject. The Goaler by the Commandment of the Treaſurer, ſuffered the Priſoner to go into the Country with a Keeper, to collect his debts, to ſatisfie the Queens debt: The Subject brought Debt upon Eſcape. It was holden by the Juſtices, That it did not lye: for the Kings-Bench had no authority to commit him to the Fleet; and ſo the Priſoner was never in Execution for the party. Mich. 13 Eliz. Dyer 296.

5. A Fieri facias was directed to the Sheriff of Middleſex, who returned Quod Cepit bona et catalla of the Defendant to the value of part of the debt, and that they remained in his Cuſtody for want of buyers. And that before the Retorn of the Writ, a Writ de non moleſtando, was directed quod de ulteriori executione ſuperſedeat; the which Writ he returned annexed to the Scire facias; and this Writ de Moleſtando was awarded in Banco, by reaſon of a Writ of Errour there brought by the Defendant: but the Record was never removed, becauſe that the retorn of the Writ of Errour was Craſtino Aſſenſionis et non ante, and the Fieri facias retorned. 15 Paſch. And afterwards a Writ of Vendi Exponas was awarded. Paſch. 1 Ma. Dyer. 99.

6. Debt againſt two by ſeveral Precipes, and ſeveral Iſſues joyned upon Nul tiel Record, and ſeveral Judgments given for the failing at the day: and now they brought one joynt-Writ of Errour; and therefore the Certificate was refuſed. In that caſe it was holden, That it was now ſufficient time to enter the Warrant of Attorney for the firſt Suit; but yet the Attorney ſhall forfeit 10 l. by the Statute of Jeofails, becauſe there was an Iſſue joyned before he entred his Warrant of Attorney: although tryable by the Record. Paſch. 2 Eliz. Dyer. 180.

7. A. recovered in debt againſt B: B. was brought by his Bail by Habeas Corpus, with a purpoſe to ſave themſelves. A. prayed that he might be committed in Execution; and the Bail prayed he might be received in their diſcharge. But it appeared to the Court, That A. had brought a Writ of Errour which was allowed, but the retorn of it was not yet come; ſo as the Court was diſabled either to award Execution, or to put him in Execution; and for that cauſe the Bail could not be diſcharged: for Bail is not only that he bring the body, but that he become ſubject to the Court, which now cannot be, becauſe of the Writ of Errour: therefore Quære, if the Defendant by his act hath not ſo diſabled himſelf, that the Bail is forfeited, though he proceed not in the Writ of Errour. Paſch. 14 Jac. in C. B. Wickſted and Bradſhaw's Caſe. Hob. 116.

8. Judgment was given in Debt in the Grand Seſſions in Wales againſt the Defendant inhabiting in one of thoſe Counties, and the Defendant dyed inteſtate, and one who inhabited in London, took Letters of Adminiſtration: The Queſtion was, Whether any Execution may be in Wales, becauſe he neither inhabits, nor hath any thing there: and whether the Record may be removed into the Chancery by Certiorare, and ſent into the Kings-Bench by Mittimus, or into the Common-Pleas, to the intent to take forth a Scire facias upon it, have Lands out of Wales (or goods in the hands of the Adminiſtrator lyable to it there). It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices and Barons, That it could not; for he may not have a Scire facias in any Court but where the Judgment is given: and if ſuch courſe ſhould be uſed, all Judgments in Inferiour Corporations would be removed, and executed here; which would be an inconvenience to the Subject, to make Lands, or perſons lyable to ſuch Judgments in other manner then they were at the time of the Judgment. Paſch. 2 Car. in C. B. Co. 1. Part, 23.

9. After a Judgment in an Ejectione Firmæ, and habere facias poſſeſſionem, a Writ of Errour was brought, and a Superſedeas granted, directed to the Sheriff to ſtay Execution; and this Writ of Errour and Superſedeas was ſhewed to the Sheriff, who contrary to it, did do execution. It was holden by the Court, to be a great Contempt; and a Writ of Reſtitution was awarded. Hill. 11 Jac. in B. R. Thomas and Owens Caſe. Bolſt. 2. Part, 194.

10. A. was condemned in the Sheriff's Court in London for debt, and taken in Execution. Afterwards by Habeas Corpus upon Suit in the Kings-Bench, the ſaid Execution, with other Cauſes, were retorned. Whereupon he was committed to the Marſhall for that debt, and other his Executions in the Kings-Bench. Afterwards, all the Executions in B. R. and the Judgment in London by a Writ of Errour in the Huſtings, were diſcharged; and how he ſhould be diſcharged of this Execution, was the Queſtion: for that this Court hath no Record.

Record of the Execution, but by the Return of the Habeas Corpus. And of the reverſal of the Judgment in London, they have not any Record: And they may not award a Certiorare to London. It was the Opinion therefore of the Court, That all matters here concerning that Execution being diſcharged, he might be remitted to London, and there diſcharged. Mich. 4 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 90. Cutack's Caſe.

11. Upon an Extendi facias upon a Statute Staple, the Sheriff extended the Land of the Defendant, and ſold the goods, and returned the Extent in Chancery. Afterwards a Writ of Prerogative iſſued forth, that the Sheriff ſhould firſt levy a debt of 100 l. for the King: and he was driven to execute the Writ of Prerogative; for that till Liberate, no property was in the Conuſee. Quære, if upon the Extent, they are not in the Cuſtody of the Law for the party, and therefore privileged from all other Executions. Mich. 3 E. 6. Dyer. 69.

3. Where a Judgment ſhall not be executed, or an Execution awarded without a Scire facias. Who ſhall have a Scire facias, And where entry ſhall be lawful upon a Judgment without a Scire facias: Where Execution ſhall be upon the firſt Scire facias, and Nihil returned; and where not, but upon two Nihils.

1. A. Recovered againſt B, in an Action of Debt: A. made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed; the Wife made C. her Executor, & dyed: B. dyed, C. brought a Scire facias againſt the heir of B, as heir apparent to the Land diſcended to him from B; who pleaded, Nothing by diſcent from B. It was found, That he had two acres of Land by diſcent. It was prayed, That Judgment might be given againſt the heirs of B. generally: for that his falſe plea ſhall charge him and his own Lands. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That execution ſhould be awarded againſt the heir in no other manner then it ſhould be againſt his Anceſtor, or other purchaſor; ſcil. of a moyety of that which he had by diſcent: And in this Caſe, It was Reſolved, That the Judgment ſhould be ſpecial, and no Execution ſhould be but upon the Aſſetts diſcended. And in this Caſe, it was ſaid, That there is a difference of debt againſt the heir, and Scire facias againſt the heir. And it was holden, That if Aſſetts do afterwards diſcend to the heir: yet if he doth alien the Aſſetts before the Writ be brought, that the heir and his Lands ſhall not be charged with the debt. Hill. 1 Car. B. R. Bowyer and Rivett's Caſe. Popham, 153, 154.

2. Note: It was holden by the Juſtices, That debt doth not lye againſt the heir of the Gaoler upon an Eſcape; for the heir ſhall not be charged in debt neither by the Common-Law, nor by any Statute but where he is named, nor though it be recovered in the life-time of his father, but by Elegit, where he ſhall be charged as Terr-Tenant by a Scire facias. Hill. 10 Eliz. Dyer 271. 11 E. 3. 15. Cook 3. Part, in Herbert's Caſe, acc.

3. Note; That a Judgment given in the Common-Pleas in a Scire facias upon a Recognizance was reverſed in the Kings-Bench, becauſe the Execution was awarded upon one Nihil returned, where there ought to be two Nihils. So in a Scire facias to have a Charter of pardon allowed: But in a Scire facias upon a Recovery of debt or damages againſt the party who was party and privy to the Judgment, and not againſt his Executor or Adminiſtrator, one Nihil is ſufficient. Trinit. 1 Eliz. Dyer 168. See 3 Eliz. Dyer 198. acc.

4. Cheney levied a Fine, and after brought a Writ of Errour to reverſe it, and aſſigned Nonage, and had a Scire facias againſt the Conuſee; and upon two Nihils returned, the Court proceeded, and by Witneſſes and Inſpection, they reverſed the Fine. Cheney ſold the Land to others, upon which the firſt Conuſee entred, and the Vendees brought a Writ of Entry ſur diſſeiſin, and againſt the Judgment before the Tenant gave an Exemplification of Witneſſes in the Chancery, proving him to be of full age in Evidence: and although to the Court it ſeemed not avoidable againſt the Judgment, yet the Verdict paſſed with thoſe Witneſſes, which was afterwards affirmed in an Attaint. Tr. 3 Eliz. Dyer 303. Cheney's Caſe.

5. Upon a Fieri facias to levy the Debt upon a Judgment in the Common-Pleas, againſt two Executors de bonis Teſtatoris: The Sheriff returned Nulla Bona. Whereupon a Writ iſſued to the Sheriff, to enquire by Enqueſt, If the Executors had waſted; and Judgment was given againſt them de bonis propriis. The Executors brought a Writ of Errour in redditione Executionis. It was adjudged, That the Execution was erroneous; for when Judgment is given againſt the Executors, and upon the Fieri facias the Sheriff returneth Nulla Bona, The Plaintiff may have a Special Writ, that the Sheriff levy the money of the goods of the dead; and ſi ſibi conſtare poterit that the Executors have waſted the goods, then de bonis propriis. And it was holden in this Caſe, Although a Scire facias was awarded againſt the Executors; yet upon two Nihils returned, they ſhall be condemned and charged of their own goods; and yet perhaps they had no Notice thereof, which ſhall be miſchievous. And for theſe cauſes, the Execution was reverſed; but the Judgment ſtood good. Mich. 43 Eliz. B.R. Pettiſor's Caſe. Coo. 5. Part, 32.

6. A. brought an Action of Covenant againſt B. as Executor, and aſſigned a Breach by an Act done by the Executors. It was moved, That after Verdict, it ſhould be de bonis propriis, becauſe the breach was by the Executors themſelves: But it was Reſolved, That it ſhould be de bonis Teſtatoris. Trin. 17 Jac. C. 4. Where he who is in Execution ſhall be diſcharged: And what ſhall be a Diſcharge, and where by his own Act, and where by Act in Law; Where not. And where his Lands or his goods, ſhall be lyable to Execution for the duty of another; Where not.

1. Trewynyard, a Burgeſſe of Parliament, was taken upon an Exigent after a Capias: He brought a Writ of Priviledg of Parliament, and the Sheriff let him at liberty. In this caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That the Priviledg was grantable notwithſtanding the Execution, becauſe the King and Realm hath an Intereſt in the body of every Burgeſſe of Parliament, and the Commonwealth ſhall be preferred before any private perſon. 2. Reſolved, That after the Parliament ended, that he might be taken in Execution again: for that the Plaintiff ſhall not be prejudiced in his Execution by the Act of the Law, which doth not wrong to any one. Paſch. 30 H. 8. Dyer. 60. Trewynyard's Caſe.

2. A. being in Execution in the Counter of London, becauſe the Fleet was the more eaſie Priſon, cauſed himſelf to be removed into the Common-Pleas upon an Obligation of 20 l. and there confeſſed the Action: and being brought by Habeas Corpus to the Court, he was committed to the Fleet for both Executions: This matter appearing, and the Obligee not knowing of it; by the award of the Court, the Priſoner was remanded in Execution in London, and a Fine impoſed upon him for the fraud. Paſch. 8 Eliz. Dyer 250. Harriſon's Caſe.

3. A. in Execution for damages in Treſpaſſe, brought an Attaint, and had a Writ de Manucap. to the Juſtices of the Bench, to let him to Mainprize to purſue with effect, and to render his body at, &c. It was doubted, becauſe it had not been uſed in the Common-Pleas: but at laſt upon Minuccaption taken as well for the King as the party, he was diſmiſſed. Afterwards upon agreement, ſatisfaction was acknowledged, and the Recognizance diſcharged as to the parties: Yet the Court would adviſe of it as to the King. Mich. 3 Eliz. Dyer 192.

4. An Attorney of the Common-Pleas ſued an Attachment of Priviledg in Treſpaſſe againſt K. returnable at a certain day, and not at a common day; and the Defendant was afterwards condemned in another Treſpaſſe of Priviledg, and a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum iſſued, returnable after the ſaid day: The Sheriff at the firſt day brought the party, and returned both the Writs, but ſaid, his intent was not to return the Execution before the day, and that for policy of Eſcape: Yet at the prayer of the Plaintiff, the Sheriff was diſcharged, and the Defendant committed in Execution to the Fleet. Quære of a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum in an Attachment of Priviledg, becauſe a Capias nor Proces of Outlawry lyes in the Original. Mich. 3 Eliz. Dyer. 192.

5. A. & B. Joynt-Tenants for life, the remainder over in Fee, Judgment is given againſt A. in Debt; and afterwards he releaſes to his Companion before Execution. It was Reſolved, That although that B. to whom the Releaſe was made betwixt them, is now in by the Leſſor, and not by A; yet as to him who hath the Judgment in the Action of Debt, he by his own wrong ſhall not defeat him of his Execution: But if A. had dyed before Execution, the Survivor ſhould have holden the Land diſcharged. Cook 6. Part, 79. The Lord Abergavenie's Caſe.

6. An Accomptant of the King being behind in his accompts, and poſſeſſed of a Term for years, for valuable Conſideration of money, bargained and ſold the ſame to J. S. It was Reſolved in that caſe, That the ſale of the Term ſhould bind the King, it being without any Covin. And it was holden, That a ſale of Goods and Chattels bona fide after Judgment, and before Execution, is good. And in that caſe, this Caſe was put; A man endebted to the King, took a Leaſe to him and his Wife for years: before Execution, the husband dyed; Execution was ſued againſt the Wife: for it was the Act of the husband, and he had power of the Term at the time of his death: and the woman coming in without conſideration, in a manner continues the intereſt of her husband. Cook 8. Part, 171. Sir Gerrard Fleetwoods Caſe.

7. Raviſhment of Ward upon the Statute of Weſt. 2. Cap. 35. brought againſt Husband and Wife, and others: The Jury found, that the Wife was guilty of the Raviſhment, but not the husband.

I

It was Reſolved, That a married woman was not within the Statute of Weſt. 2. becauſe ſhe is diſabled to ſatisfie for the Raviſhment. And it was holden in this Caſe, That the Lands and Goods of husband who was innocent, ſhould not be lyable by this Statute, to anſwer for the Raviſhment done by the Wife: And the Law will not intend ſo ſevere puniſhment for the not doing of that which the Law hath diſabled him to do. And in the principal Caſe it was holden, That the Plaintiff might have had his Action of Treſpaſſe at the Common-Law againſt thoſe who raviſhed the Heir; or a Writ de Valore Maritagii againſt the Heir himſelf. Cook 9. Part, 74. Dr. Huſſey's Caſe.

8. A. had a Judgment for 600 l. againſt B; and he acknowledged ſatisfaction for 410 l. of the ſaid debt and damages; and after there was an Agreement between them, That if B. did not pay the reſidue by ſuch a day, that then it ſhould be lawful to A. to take forth Execution againſt B, without ſuing any Scire facias, though it was after the year: and afterwards the money not being paid, A. took out a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum againſt B. for the 210 l: B. being brought by Habeas Corpus to the Bar, It was prayed for a Superſedeas for him, becauſe the Writ Emanavit improvidè, &c. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was a Cauſe to diſcharge him of the Execution; for the Capias ought to have iſſued out for the 200 l. onely, and he ought to have ſued a Scire facias, though it was after the year, becauſe the Proces was not continued. But yet the Court held, That it was in their diſcretion, Whether they would grant a Superſedeas or not. Mich. 22 Jac. C. B. Hickman and Sir William Fiſh's Caſe. Winch. 100, 101.

5. What ſhall be ſaid to be a good Execution: and what not. What a good diſcharge of Execution; What not. And upon what grounds an Execution may be ſtayed; What not.

1. IT was referred to the Secondary of the Court, Whether the party and Sheriff were in Contempt of the Court for taking out an Execution, and executing of it: after a Writ of Errour was brought upon a Judgment; who reported to this effect, That there was a Writ of Errour brought upon the Judgment, before the Execution taken forth; but there was no Notice thereof given to the party, nor any Superſedeas taken forth to ſtay the Execution. It was ſaid by the Plaintiff, in the Writ of Errour, That the Execution was awarded improvidè, and therefore the Court might reſtore the party to his goods taken in Execution, although the Sheriff was in no default. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the party ought to take notice of a Recipiatur upon the Record if it be entred; and if the party take out Execution after the Writ of Errour is allowed, he is in Contempt of the Court, elſe not. And the Attorney is not bound to view the Record, whether a Writ of Errour be brought, but may take out Execution, if there be not a Superſedeas, or notice given to the party, therefore there is no help in this Caſe; for here the proceedings have been according to the Courſe of the Court; for by the delivery of the Writ of Errour to the Officer of the Court, the hands of the Court are cloſed. Trin. 24 Car. B. R. Wians and Stebbins Caſe. Sty'es 105.

2. Iſſue was joyned, a tryal had, a Verdict was found for the Plaintiff, and the Poſtea was delivered to the Clerk of the Judgments, to enter the Judgment: but through neglect of the Clerk, Execution was taken forth before the Judgment was entred. It was prayed, That the Judgment might not be entred: And it was ſaid, That it was now too late, and therefore a Superſedeas was prayed of the Execution. But it was the Opinion of the Court, That this was but the neglect of the Clerk, and that Judgment might be well enough entred, though the Execution was iſſued forth, becauſe the tryal betwixt the parties was right. Trin. 1650. B.R. Styles 229.

3. The Court was moved to have Reſtitution of moneys out of the hands of a Sheriff, which he had levied upon an Execution, becauſe it iſſued forth erroneouſly: for before the Execution taken forth, the Defendant brought a Writ of Errour in the Exchequer Chamber, and the Record was removed thither: and although the late Statute ſaith, That a Writ of Errour ſhall be no Superſedeas to ſtay Execution; yet the Record being removed into the Exchequer, it is not now before us, nor was at the time of the Execution iſſued forth; and this being after a Verdict and Judgment, the Errour is no Superſedeas, ſo it is miſchievous both wayes: Therefore the Court awarded a Superſedeas, quia erroniceè emanavit, to ſuperſede the Execution, and awarded the taking of the money out of the Sheriff's hands. Hill. 1650. B. R. in Wingfield and Valences Caſe. Styles 414, 415.

Before

More concerning Executions.

1. THe Case was; Tenant for life, the Remainder in tail of Land, he in the Remainder in tail acknowledged a Statute, and afterwards granted his Remainder; Tenant for life dyed: Whether Execution might be sued of this Remainder, was the Question: It was Resolved, that one might charge a Remainder when it hapneth, and a Statute is in the nature of a Charge: For if he in the Remainder maketh a Lease for years to begin at a day to come; yet if he grant over his Remainder, the Grantee shall hold it charged with the Lease; And every Statute is a Charge Executory. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C. B. James and Balls Case. Goldesbr. 120.

2. In Trover the Case was: A. recovered against J. P. Executer of E. P. 100 l. the Debt of the goods of the Testator, and the damages also, si quæ fuerint, and if not of the goods of the Executor: A. procured a Scire facias to the Sheriff before Execution: J. P. dyed intestate, and Administration of his goods was committed to the Plaintiff, the Defendants afterwards did Execution of the proper goods of J. P. and sold them, and delivered the money to the Sheriff; and the Plaintiff averred, that E. P. had no goods: The Plaintiff said, That the Sheriff upon the return of the Writ of Execution returned, That the goods of the Testator were wasted: It was holden by the Court, That the false Return of the Sheriff should not prejudice the Defendant: and that the averment that the goods put in Execution, were the goods of the Testator the day of the Execution sued, was a good averment, and that notwithstanding the death of the party against whom the Sheriff might do Execution of the goods in the hands of his Executors, and Judgment was given against the Plaintiff. Trin. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Park and Mosses Case. Leon. 244.

3. Note, It was holden by the Court, That if a Fieri facias go to the Sheriff to do Execution, and he levyeth the mony, and delivereth the same to the party, yet if it be not paid here in Court, the party may have a new Execution, and it shall be no plea to say, that he hath paid the money to the party, for it is not of Record, without the bringing of the money into Court. Pasc. 3 Jac. in C. B. Godbolt. 147.

4. Debt brought upon several Precipes, and Judgment is given, and the Plaintiff takes a Capias ad satisfaciendum against one of them, and arrests his body, and after he takes a Fieri facias against the other: Whether the several Executions should be allowed, was the Question. It was the Opinion of the Court, they should not, but in the principal Case, (the Debt being 10 l.) because that upon the Fieri facias, 5 l. was levyed: if the other who is in Execution, will pay the residue of the money, being 5 l. more, the Court awarded he should be discharged out of Execution. And the Court agreed, That the party could not have a Fieri facias against one, and a Capias against the other; but he might have a Capias against them both. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. Rosser and Welden Case. Godbolt. 208.

5. Note, It was agreed by the Court, That if Judgment be given in an Action of Debt against Lessee for years, and afterwards the Lessee alieneth his Term, and after the year, the Plaintiff sueth a Scire facias, and hath Execution, that the Term is not lyable to the Execution, if the Assignment were made bona fide; and if the Lessee for years assign over his Term by fraud, to defeat the Execution, and the Assignee assigneth the same over to another bona fide, that in the hands of the second Assignee, it is not lyable to the Execution. Pasc. 8 Jac. in C. B. Wilson and Wormalls Case. Godbolt. 161.

6. Note, a man shall not have Execution against the Kings Debtor that hath a Protection, because the King ought first to be paid; yet if the Plaintiff will undertake to pay the Kings Debt, in such Case he shall have Judgment and Execution for both the Debts. See Fitz. Nat. Br. acc.

7. Judgment was given in Debt for the Husband and Wife, for a Debt due to the Wife as Administratrix of her former Husband; after the Judgment, and before Execution, the Wife dyed: The Husband brought a Scire facias, and upon Scire feci returned, obtained a Judgment by Nihil dicit: It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Scire facias ought not to be brought by the Husband; but being sued, and Judgment obtained thereupon, although the Judgment be erroneous, yet it ought to stand till it be reversed by Error. It was a doubt, whether a Writ of Error upon this Judgment did lye in the Exchequer-Chamber tam in redditione Judicii quam in redditione Executionis: The Court seemed to incline, That although the Judgment might stand good, yet the Execution might be reversed. Trin. 12 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 334.

8. A man obtained a Judgment in the King's Bench, but no Execution was sued forth in a year, the Defendant brought a Writ of Error, but not prosecuting his Writ, the Record was removed into the King's Bench; and the Defendant being imprisoned there for other causes, the Plaintiff prayed he might be in Execution for his Debt; and although the year were past, so as the Plaintiff was put yet to his Scire facias; yet becauſe the Defendant had brought a Writ of Error, he thereby had removed the Record, and then the Record being remanded, the Plaintiff by the courſe of the Court, might have Execution without a Scire facias; and ſo it was adjudged, that the Defendant ſhould be in Execution for the Plaintiff. Hill. 12 Jac. in B. R. Sir Ben. Bellaſis and Hanfords Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 364.

9. Execution was awarded againſt one, and he was taken by a Capias, which is returned. It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, It is an abſolute and perfect Execution againſt him, and no other Execution can be ſued againſt him, his Lands, or goods, and although the Law ſaith, it is not a ſatisfaction in it ſelf, yet it is ſo high, as there cannot be other Execution; and when he dyes, the Execution is determin'd as againſt him and his Lands and goods: But where two are condemned, and one is taken in Execution, and dyes; yet Execution may be againſt the other, becauſe it is not any ſatisfaction, and proceſs is not determined againſt the other, and the one is chargeable aſwell as the other. Hill. 4 Jac. in B. R. Williams and Curties Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 135, 144. See Foſter and Jackſon's Caſe, before acc.

10. A man had Judgment againſt one as an Adminſtrator upon a Bond of 200 l. the Action was layed in Cumberland: The Plaintiff afterwards brought a Scire facias upon the Judgment in Weſtmerland, and had Judgment upon two Nihils; and the Judgment was reverſed, for that the Scire facias muſt be brought in the ſame County where the firſt Action was layed. Trin. 9 Jac. in B. R. Muſgrave and Wharton's Caſe. Hob. 4.

11. In Debt, the Plaintiff declared upon a Recognizance taken before the Lord Hobart in Fleet-ſtreet, in Serjeants-Inn out of Term and layed his Action in London: The Queſtion was, Whether the Action ought to be brought in Middleſex where the Recognizance is recorded, or in London, becauſe the Entry of the Record is, That the Recognizance was acknowledged before the Lord Hobart, ut ſupra: In this Caſe, it was Reſolved, That though it was not a perfect Record, before it was entred upon the Roll, yet when it is entred, it is a Recognizance from the firſt acknowledgment, and binds the perſons from that time. 2. Reſolved, That a Scire facias upon ſuch Recognizance, ſhall be directed to the Sheriff of London, and not to the Sheriff of Middleſex: But if the entry of the Record were general, that the Record was taken before the Lord Hobart, then it ſhould be underſtood it was in Court, and then the Scire facias was to be brought in Middleſex. 14 Jac. in C. B. Hall and Stanſfields Caſe. Hob. 195.

12. A. brought debt againſt B. as Executor of J. S. in London, de bonis Teſtatoris, and 5 l. damages, de bonis propriis, upon a Fieri facias in London, the Sheriff returned, that he had waſted the goods, and that he had no goods of his own. Whereupon A. took a Scire facias againſt him into Durham, de bonis propriis, upon Teſtatum that he had goods there, but no Teſtatum was entred on the Roll, nor warrant for the Writ. It was Reſolved, That a ſuperſedeas ſhould be awarded; and whereas an Execution was upon the ſaid Writ of the ſale of a Leaſe, the Execution was made void, and the Leaſe diſcharged. Hill. 12 Jac. in C. B. Leiceſter and Sir William Reads Caſe. Hob. 68.

13. Note, It was Reſolved by the Court, That if a man be taken by Capias utlagatum at the Kings ſuit, he is in Execution for the Subject but in a ſecond degree, and the King may diſcharge his own Suit; but a protection will not diſcharge ſuch ſuit, eſpecially when it is not delivered, or made known to the Coroners; and then the party is in Execution for the Subject. Hill. 13 Jac. Sir Thomas Shirleyes Caſe. Hob. 115.

14. In Debt againſt a Sheriff, the Plaintiff declared, That P. and others were bound in a Recognizance of 2000 l. to the Plaintiff, and that after Judgment he delivered a Levari facias to the Defendant, who levyed the money, and at the day retorned paratus habeo, and yet did not deliver it in Court, The Defendant as to 30 l. pleaded Nihil debet; and to the reſt, that before the Retorn he paid it to the Plaintiff, who by his Acquittance reciting the receipt of it, did acquit him of it. In this Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved. 1. That Debt would lye againſt the Sheriff, for although there was no contract, yet there is a kind of contract in Law, for when the money is levyed, the Action ceaſeth againſt the party, and is ipſo facto, transferred to the Sheriff. 2. That upon ſuch levy of money, the party may have a Fieri facias, or an Elegit againſt the Sheriff, to levy as much of his own. 3. That ſince the Defendant by his Retorn hath charged himſelf with the money, viz. paratus habeo, he cannot ſay, that it was paid or acquitted before. Trin. 15 Jac. in C. B. Speck and Richards Caſe. Hob. 206. See before, ſect. 3.

15. A man was attainted of Felony by Outlawry, and afterwards an Execution was ſued out againſt him at the ſuit of a common perſon, and he was taken by it; upon a Habeas Corpus brought, it was prayed, That he might be diſcharged, becauſe a man Attainted of Felony, hath neither goods nor Lands. But it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That a man attainted, may be in Execution for the party, and his own offence ſhall not help him; And ſo was it adjudged in Croſts Caſe, who being Attainted of Felony, was in Execution at the ſuit of a common perſon, and eſcaped out of Priſon, and an Escape brought against the Sheriff, and a Recovery against him. Trin. 32 Eliz. in B.R. Trussels Case. Owen. 69.

16. A man in Execution for Debt, brake the Prison, and escaped; the Sheriff made Fresh-suit, and took him again; It was adjudged no Escape: And in that Case, Resolved, That if the Prisoner who escaped, were out of the view of the Sheriff; yet if Fresh-suit were made, and he were taken in recenti prosecutione, that he should be in Execution again, although he was taken in another County. Cook 3. Part, Rigways Case. Poph. 41. the same Case.

17. Note, It was Resolved by the Justices, That one may be discharged out of Execution by word only; and therefore if a man be in Execution at my suit, and I go to the Sheriff and command him to discharge the party, this is a good discharge although it be by word only, both to the Sheriff, and to the party. And see 27 H. 8. 24. Jordens Case. In an Action upon the Case, the Defendant assumed, that if the Plaintiff would discharge J. T. of such an Execution in which he is bound at the suit of the Plaintiff, that then if J. T. did not satisfy the Plaintiff, by such a day the Defendant would pay the Debt; thereupon Assumpsit brought, he need not plead, that it was by writing, because the discharge is good without writing. Trin. 1 Car. in B.R. Popham 206. Bagnots Case.

18. A. had a Judgment against B. Afterwards Mich. 11 Jac. The Rule of the Court was, That B. should pay A. so much money before such a day, and if he failed, Then A. should have him in Execution upon the first Judgment, he failed payment, and so was in Execution. Afterwards he sued out an Audita Querela in the Chancery, and upon a suggestion, he obtained there an Injunction, and a Supersedeas, and by an order in Chancery was bailed, and so set at liberty, the Debt not satisfyed: It was moved, That B. might be called into Court to make answer to his not performance of the Order in Court: But the Court said, The Order of this Court was well performed, for by this failer of payment, he was taken in Execution upon the Judgment. The Court advised the party to move his matter to the Court of Chancery, and see what that Court would say to it; For if this be an escape in Law, then the Sheriff is chargeable with it; for the party cannot be taken, being once delivered out of Execution by order of the Court. Trin. 12 Jac. in B.R. Baker and Chews Case. Bolstr. 2. Part, 120.

19. A Judgment was given for the Plaintiff at Bristol, Execution taken out, and the goods of the Defendant were attached. It was moved, That Execution might be stayed there, untill a Writ of Error here brought was determined: The Court said, We have not power to hold Plea of Foreign Attachment, because we cannot do Justice there. But in that Case, the Court granted a Habeas Corpus: (though Habeas Corpora are often for delay of Execution of Justice) but they would do nothing for the staying of the Execution. Mich. 12 Jac. in B.R. Challoner and Petworth's Case. Bulstr. 2. Part, 268.

20. A. is in Execution severally at the suits of B. and C. under the Sheriffs of London: The old Sheriffs deliver the body of A. by Indenture, in which the Execution of B. is only mentioned, and the other left out; A. in the time of the new Sheriffs, escapeth. In this Case, these points were Resolved. 1. That the not delivery of A. unto the new Sheriffs in Execution, at the suits of both was an Escape as to one, although the Prisoner was within the walls of the Prison. 2. That the old Sheriffs ought to give notice to the new Sheriffs of all Executions which they had against any person, although that the Executions did remain upon Record. 3. That untill the Prisoners were delivered to the new Sheriffs, they remained in the custody of the old Sheriffs. 4. That if the Sheriff hath Executions against divers persons, and dyeth, the new Sheriffs are at their perills to take notice of all Executions of any Prisoner which is found in the Goal, and that for necessity. 5. If the Sheriff dyeth, and before a new Sheriff is made, a Prisoner escapes, breaking the Goal, the same is no escape in Law, because the Prisoners are in the custody of the Law. Cook 3. Part, Wisbys Case.

21. Note: It was holden by the Justices, If a Fieri facias go forth to the Sheriff, and he levieth the debt of the goods of the Defendant, and dieth not return his Writ; If the Plaintiff sueth another Scire facias against the Defendant upon the Judgment, he may plead this matter; for the sale of the Defendant's goods by the Sheriff, is good, and not to be defeated; and so it is a barr of the other Execution. Mich. 40 Eliz. C.B. Fox and Bulin's Case. Goldesbr. 171.

22. In Audita Querela, the Case was; A. brought debt against B, who found bail, the Plaintiff and another: A. was condemned and dyed, without paying the Condemnation, or rendring his body, a Scire facias was sued against his bail; and upon two Nihils returned, Execution was awarded against him: whereupon he brought Audita Querela. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was but reasonable that Execution should not be sued forth against the Bail, untill a default were returned against the Principal: and the Regard of the Bail is to be intended and taken upon Proces awarded against him; and then when no Proces is awarded against the Principal in his life-time, therefore therefore the bail is diſcharged: And ſo adjudged, the Audita Querela did well lye. Hill. 43 Eliz. C. B. Hobbs and Ted-Caſtle's Caſe. Goldeſbr. 175.

23. Judgment was had againſt a man in Debt; and the Plaintiff thereupon took out a Fieri facias to the Sheriff, who levied the money, and dyed, the Writ not being returned: Whereupon Debt was brought againſt his Executors. It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, 1. That Debt will lye againſt a Sheriff, where he ſells goods upon a Fieri facias, for that now he is debtor in Law, and the Defendant is diſcharged thereby, as againſt the Plaintiff. 2. It will lye againſt his Executors, in caſe he dyeth, and it is not like the Caſes which are perſonal, where actio moritur cum perſona, becauſe in the principal Caſe it appeareth, That the goods came to the Executors hands. And the Executors may not wage their Law in this Caſe, becauſe the debt is grounded upon matter of Record. Paſch. 15 Car. in B.R. Parkinſon and Colliford's Caſe. Mayſo 13.

24. Debt upon a Recovery in a Scire facias in London, upon a Recognizance taken in the Chamber of London; and it was not ſhewed, that it is a Court of Record, and that they have uſed to take Recognizances: and Exception was taken to the Declaration, and upon that, a Demurrer; and divers Caſes were put, That though the Judgment were void, yet Execution ſhould be awarded by Fieri facias, and the party ſhall not plead that in a Writ of Errour. But Periam, Juſtice, took a difference, Where Execution is ſued upon ſuch a Judgment, and where Debt is brought upon it: For in Debt, it behoves the party that he have good ground for his Action; otherwiſe he ſhall not recover: but upon a voidable Judgment a man ſhall recover, and may take forth Execution; and the ſame ſhall ſtand good untill the Judgment be reverſed. Mich. 24 Eliz. in C. B. Hollenſhead and King's Caſe. Leon. 82. See Godbolt 96.

25. Judgment was given upon an Obligation of 4000 l. And a Scire facias was ſued upon the Judgment for 3000 l, and the party did not acknowledg that he had received the other 1000 l; It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Scire facias ſhould not abate, and that he ſhould have Execution; notwithſtanding he doth not acknowledg ſatisfaction of the other money upon Record. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C.B. adjudged accordingly. See Godbolt 79.

26. Note; If the King releaſeth all Suits, the ſame is no Bar of his Execution; becauſe in the Caſe of the King, the Judges Ex Officio ought to award Execution without Suit, but contrary in the caſe of a common perſon; but in the Caſe of the King, a Releaſe of all Executions ſhall barr the King of his duty. See Cook 8. Part, 153.

27. If the body of a man be in Execution, a Releaſe of all Actions will not diſcharge him: But a Releaſe of the Judgment, and of all debts and duties will diſcharge the body out of Execution. Cook 7. Part, Inſtitutes, 291.

28. Note: In the Caſe of Homage Auncеſtrel, which is a ſpecial Warranty in Law, all the Land which the Lord had at the time of the voucher, ſhall be lyable to an Execution in value, if he hath it by diſcent or purchaſe, becauſe the voucher is in lieu of an Action. But in the caſe of an Expreſſe Warranty, there the heir ſhall be charged only with that which he had by diſcent from the Auncеſter who created the Warranty: And ſee, that in a Warrantia Charta, the Land which the Lord had at the time of the bringing of the Writ, ſhall be charged to the Execution in value. See 28 E. 1. Voucher 291. 9 E. 2. Warrantia Charta. 20 Fitz. Na. Br. 134. Cook 1 Part, Inſtitutes 102. See Hob. Trin. 9 Jac. Sir Henry Rolls and Oſborn's Caſe, 22, 23, 24. acc.

29. A Counteſs by marriage or by diſcent, is not to be arreſted upon a Capias in Debt or Treſpaſſe: for although ſhe cannot ſit in Parliament; yet ſhe is a Peer of the Realm, and the Law preſumes ſhe hath ſufficient Lands or goods by which ſhe may be diſtrained. But if a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum be awarded againſt a Counteſſe out of any of the Kings Courts, the Sheriff, or his Officer by his Warrant, may without offence execute it: for they ought not to diſpute the Authority of the the Court, but they ought to execute the Writs directed to them at their perill; and although it appeareth by the Writ, that the party who is to be arreſted, is a Counteſſe, &c. againſt whom a Capias doth not lye in ſuch caſe; yet becauſe that in ſome Caſes (as in caſes of Contempt) a Capias lyeth againſt a Peer, the Sheriff, or his Officers ought not to examine the Judicial Act of the Court, but he ought to execute his Writ. Cook 6. Part, 52, 53. The Counteſſe of Rutland's Caſe.

Extent, Re-extent, & Extendors.

What things are Extendable; What not: And where an Extent ſhall be good; Where not: And other matters concerning Extents.

1. A Man ſhall never have a thing Extended upon an Execution, unleſſe he may grant and aſſign over the ſame thing: and therefore the Office of Fillizer, which is an Office of Truſt, cannot be extended, becauſe not granted over. Paſch. 28 H. 8. Dyer. 7.

2. The Lands and goods of a Subject are extendable upon an Elegit; and therefore the Lands of the Heir which come to him by diſcent: and it is not needfull, that a Scire facias be brought againſt the Executors, no more then upon a Recognizance by the Statute of Weſt. 2. Cap. 18. Mich. 4 Eliz. Dyer. 208.

3. The Conuſor of a Statute had a Rent-Charge; and before Extent, he purchaſed parcell of the Land. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Rent was gone, and ſhall not be in Execution; but otherwiſe if he had purchaſed after Extent of the Rent. Mich. 4 Eliz. Dyer. 206.

4. Debt againſt a Woman, as Cozen and Heir, upon an Obligation: She ſaid, That onely a Reverſion diſcended. Judgment was given, That he ſhould recover the Reverſion when it fell, and ſhall have a Special Writ to extend the whole Land. 23 Eliz. Dyer 373.

5. The Executors of a Conuſee of a Statute ſued Execution; upon which Writ, the death of the Conuſor is returned, and alſo an Extent of the Manor of B, of which he was ſeiſed the day of the the Recognizance. It was holden, That the Executors, or the Executor of the Executors, if he received no profit of B, he may have a Re-Extent, although a Liberate was executed: for it behoves, that the Eſtate be found: for he not being dead, as is retorned; No eſtate is lyable to the Execution, but Fee, and not eſtate tail, nor for life. Paſc. 12 Eliz. Dyer 299.

6. Every Extent ought to be found by Inquiſition and Verdict: For the Statute of Weſt. 2. which giveth the Elegit, provideth Quod Vicecomes Liberet ei omnia Catalla, &c. et medietatem terræ ſuæ Quouſq, debitum fuerit Liberatum per rationabile precium. And ſee 2 Ma. Dyer 100. the Extent and appriſement ought to be per Sacramentum duodecim; and not by the Sheriff: But Execution may be by Fieri facias by the Sheriff, without Inquiſition. See Co. 4. Part, 74. And ſee Co. 4. Part, in Fulwood's Caſe, an Extent made by Inquiſition by Elegit, is not good, although the Writ of Elegit be not retorned: But in Fieri facias made by the Sheriff, the Execution muſt be retorned; becauſe the Writ is Ita quod habeas denarios hic in Curia. See Cook. 8. Part, 171. acc. And ſee before for this matter in Tit. Execution.

7. Upon a Recovery in Debt againſt the Lord Stafford, certain of his Lands were extended by Elegit. The Queen, becauſe the Lord Stafford was indebted to her, by Prerogative ouſted the Lord Stafford, by Elegit. It was moved to the Court in the behalf of him who recovered, That the Queen was ſatisfied, and therefore prayed a Re-extent: but the Court would not grant it, becauſe they were not certain of the matter; but adviſed the party to ſue his Scire facias againſt the Lord Stafford, to know and ſhew cauſe, why a Re-extent ſhould not iſſue forth, the Queen being ſatisfied. Mich. 26 Eliz. in C. B. The Lord Stafford's Caſe. Leon. 279.

8. In Audita Querela. An Extent being in time of the heir, upon a Statute made by his Father, ſuppoſing the Land to be intailed, and ſo the Land not Extendable. The Defendant in the Audita Querela takes Iſſue, That they diſcended to him in Fee, and traverſeth the Taile. It was found, That all was Fee-ſimple, beſides 500 Acres; and thereupon the Plaintiff in the Audita Querela prayed to be diſcharged for thoſe 500 Acres. The Court Reſolved, That the Iſſue ought to be found in every part as he hath pleaded; otherwiſe it is found againſt the Plaintiff in all. Wherefore it was adjudged, That he ſhould not be diſcharged for the 500 Acres, and he ſhould not be Relieved by his Audita Querela. Mich. 3 Jac. B.R. Sir John Aſhburnham & Lord St. John's Caſe. Co. 2. Part. 3.

9. The Caſe was; A. and B. became Bankrupts after an Extent: and before Liberate, a Sale was made by Commiſſioners of Bankrupts to Creditors, and whether the Sale was good, was the Queſtion. It was ſaid, That the ſale was good; For notwithſtanding the Extent, the property of the goods did remain on the Conuſors, and by the Extent are onely ſeiſed into the Kings hands; but that ſhall not deveſt the property from the Conuſors: and then when the Conuſors become Bankrupts before the Liberate, thoſe goods are in the power of the Commiſſioners to ſell and diſtribute diſtribute amongſt the Creditors. But it was Reſolved, That the goods extended before they became Bankrupts, and delivered by the Liberate after they became Bankrupts, could not be ſold by the Commiſſioners, becauſe they being extended, were in Cuſtodia Legis: and although by the Extent the Conuſee hath not an abſolute property in them, untill by the Liberate they are delivered; and at the retorn of the Writ, he may refuſe them for being over-valued: yet that is but for the advantage of the Conuſee. For the Extent is Capias in manus noſtras; and then they be as goods gaged or diſtreined, which cannot be forfeited by Outlawry, or taken in Execution from the party who hath them in gage, or by way of diſtreſſe without payment of the money. Hill. 3 Car. in B. R. Audley and Halſey's Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 106.

10. A. recovered againſt B. 4000l. in an Action upon the Caſe. Afterwards A. was Outlawed in a perſonal Action, and dyed; the Queen reciting the Outlawry and death of A, granted all his goods to J. S. to the uſe of M; J. S. aſſigned that Debt and Judgment to J. D; notwithſtanding which, an Extent iſſued in the Kings name, to extend all the Lands which B. had at the time of the Judgment; and the Lands in the poſſeſſion of J. N, which he purchaſed after the Judgment were extended. The Queſtion in the Caſe was, Whether after this aſſignment of this debt by the Queen, the King may extend in his own name for the benefit of the Patentee; and the Patentee thereby might have Suit in the Kings name. It was Reſolved, That this Debt which was forfeited to the King by the Outlawry of A, was well granted, and the Patentee may levy this debt in the Kings name, or by Extent in the Kings name, although he hath not any words in his Grant, to ſue it in the name of the King. But it was Reſolved, That the aſſignment over of his debt by J. S. to I. D. was void: for there cannot by Law be any Aſſignment made by any perſon of this debt. Wherefore it was ſaid, That the Plea was ill, and that the Land ſhould remain in Extent for the King. Trin. 5 Jac. in Scaccario. The King and Twyne's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 179.

11. If Lands be once Extended and delivered upon a Liberate; though the Lands be evicted, there can never be a Re-Extent: But if Lands be extended upon a Miſtake, Quære, if in that caſe there may not be a New Extent granted, for it was not Reſolved Mich. 22 Jac. in the Chancery, in the Caſe between Clark and Andrews. Which ſee, Cro. 2. Part, 693, 694.

Extinguiſhment.

Where, and by what, and whoſe Acts, Rents, Commons, Liberties, Seignories, or other the like things, may be extinguiſhed; and what not.

1. EXtinguiſhment is, where any Lord or other hath any Rent or Service going out of any Land, and he purchaſeth the ſame Land, ſo as he hath ſuch an Eſtate in the Land as he hath in the Rent, then the Rent is extinct; for that a man may not have a Rent going out of his own Land. And in caſe of Extinguiſhment, it behoveth that he have as good an Eſtate in the one, as in the other; for if he hath but an eſtate for term of years or life in the Land, and he hath a Fee-ſimple in the Rent, the Rent is not extinct, but is in ſuſpence for a time, and after the Term the Rent is revived. So if there be Lord, Meſne, and Tenant, and the Lord purchaſeth the Tenancy, then the Menalty is extinct; but the Meſne, if there be any Surpluſage of Rent, ſhall have it as a Rent-Seck.

2. Leſſee for years of Lands, the remainder in tail to the heirs of the Leſſee; Leſſee for years made a Feoffment of the Lands to J. S; with a Letter of Attorney, with a Commiſſion to enter into the Land, and to ſeal the Feoffment, and to deliver it in his name to the uſe of him in the Remainder; which was done accordingly. And another by the Commandment of him in the Remainder entred, & received it. It was holden in this Caſe, That notwithſtanding that both the Leſſee and Attorney were both diſſeiſors, yet it was a good Feoffment; for by the Feoffment to the uſe of him in the Remainder; if he in the Remainder enter, he is remitted, and the Eſtate for years is gone; for that in all caſes where the Freehold cometh to the Term, the Term is Extinguiſhed: and therefore if a man Mortgage his Reverſion to the Leſſee for years, and afterwards perform the Condition, the Leaſe for years is extinct. Trin. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Mounſon and Weſt's Caſe. Goldeſbr. 92.

3. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, deviſed the ſame to his Wife for life; and when J. his ſon ſhould come to the age of 25. years, that then he ſhould have thoſe Lands to him and the heirs of his body, and dyed: J. levied a Fine thereof in Fee, and after came to 25. years, and had iſſue a daughter, ter, and dyed; the Wife dyed, the daughter entred, and made a Leaſe to the Plaintiff. It was the Opinion of the Court in this caſe, That although the Father had nothing in the Land at the time of the Fine levied; yet the Daughter ſhall not aver partes finis nihil habuerunt, for by the Fine, her right was extinct. Hill. 29 Eliz. in C.B. Johnſon and Carliles Caſe. Goldesbr. 107.

4. A man ſeiſed of 140 Acres of Lands, had Common appurtenant to 46. Acres of Land, and the 46. Acres were in the occupation of ſeverall men, viz. two in the Occupation of A, and the other in the Occupation of B; and he who had the Common, purchaſed the ſaid two Acres. It was the Queſtion, If the intire Common were extinct, or not, ſo as they which were Tenants of the reſidue of the 46 Acres, ſhould not take advantage thereof? It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That although the Acres be ſeverall, and in ſeveral mens Occupations; yet the Common concerning it is entire: and ſo by the purchaſe of parcel of the Land, the whole Common is extinct. Trin. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Kimpton's Caſe, Goldesbr. 53. See Leon. 44. the ſame Caſe.

5. Note; It was holden, That if the Grantee of a Rent, releaſeth parcel of the Rent to the Grantor or his heirs, the reſidue may be apportioned, and the Land ſhall remain chargeable ſtill; but if he releaſe in one Acre, parcel of the Land charged, the whole Rent is extinct. Mich. 40 Eliz. in C.B. Goldesbr. 116.

6. A man ſeiſed of a Yard-Land, to which he had Common of Paſture for all manner of Beaſts Levant and Couchant upon the ſame Land, made a Feoffment of the moyety of it: It was a Queſtion, Whether the Common ſhould be apporcioned, or whether it was extinct? It was the Opinion of the Court, That this was Common appendant; and Common appendant ſhall not be extinct by purchaſe of part of the Land. See Hill. 39 Eliz. in C.B. Smith and Bonſal's Caſe. Goldesbr. 117. And ſee 17 Eliz. Dyer 339; Where one had Common appendant in a great Waſte, and the Lord improved parcel of the Waſte, and then made a Feoffment in Fee of that he had ſo improved to the Commoners, that by ſuch Feoffment the Common was not extinct.

7. A Leaſe was made of a houſe with divers Implements rendring Rent; the Leſſor entred, and made a Feoffment: the Leſſee re-entred; and for Rent behind, the Feoffee brought an Action of Debt: And it was adjudged, That the Action was maintainable. And in that caſe it was holden, That the Rent was not extinct, but ſuſpended only, till the Termor by his egreſſe revived the Reverſion. Paſch. 4 Eliz. Dyer 212. And ſee, That in ſuch caſe, The Rent did iſſue altogether out of the Meſſuage, and not out of the Implements. 20 Eliz. Dyer, 361.

8. It was holden by the Juſtices, If Land be holden of a Subject, and the Tenant paſſes the Land by Fine and Proclamation to J. S. in tail, the remainder to the King in Fee; If the Tenant in tail dyes his Iſſue within age, That the Iſſue ſhall not be in Ward to the Subject, if the King do not aſſent to the Remainder, becauſe that the Tenure and Services are gone and extinct by the Fee-ſimple to the King, who may not hold of any, and ſo the Iſſue in tail ſhall be in Ward to none. Mich. 40 Eliz. in C.B. Goldesbr. 149.

9. Husband and Wife, the Wife being within age, levied a Fine of the Lands of the Wife; afterwards a Precipe quod reddat was brought againſt the Conuſee, who vouched the husband and wife; they appeared and vouched over the Common Vouchee, who appeared, and after made default, and ſo a Recovery was had: the Husband dying, the Wife took a ſecond husband, and ſhe and her ſecond husband brought one Writ of Errour to reverſe the Fine, and another to reverſe the Recovery, by reaſon of the Non-age of the Wife. The Court was of Opinion to reverſe the Fine; But would adviſe upon the Recovery, becauſe the Husband and Wife both appeared in perſon, and vouched over. And they ſeemed to be of Opinion, That by the general entry into the Warranty, the Errour upon the Fine was gone: As where a man hath cauſe to have a Writ of Right, or to enter for a Condition broken, and he is vouched in a Precipe quod reddat of the ſame Land, and enters generally into Warranty, the Condition, or other title is gone. But becauſe afterwards upon Examination it appeared, that the Recovery was before the Fine, It was adjudged, That the Recovery did not give away the Errour in the Fine. Mich. 40 Eliz. in C. B. Sir Henry Jones Caſe. Goldesb. 181.

10. Leſſee for years granted his Term to J.S. upon Condition, That if the Grantee did not pay yearly 10 l. to J.D, that the Grant ſhould be void: Afterwards the Grantor dyed, and made the Grantee his Executor. It was holden by Popham and Gawdy, That the Condition was extinguiſhed, becauſe it was impoſſible for the Executor to enter upon himſelf: But ſome other of the Juſtices held the contrary, Becauſe he hath the Term jure proprio; and the Condition as Executor, and ſo he hath them as in ſeveral Capacities. Quære, The Caſe was not Reſolved. Paſch. 36 Eliz. in C. B. Tuthall and Smotes Caſe. Goldesbr. 181.

11. A. by Indenture did enfeoffe B. of the Manor of D, rendring to A. and his heirs a Rent, with clauſe of Diſtreſſe; and for not payment, re-entry: and by another Indenture of the ſame day,

A.

A. Covenanted with B. to levy a Fine of the ſaid Manor; which Fine ſhould be to ſuch Uſes, Purpoſes, and Conditions expreſſed in the former Indenture: Afterwards, the Fine was levied accordingly, with uſual words of Releaſe of all his Right. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That neither the Condition nor the Rent were touched by the Fine levied of the Land, by reaſon of the former Indenture which ruled the Fine; for the ſame rules the Fine, as if there had been an Expreſſe Proviſo, to ſave the Rent. Hill. 5 Ma. Dyer 157. Pattenham's Caſe. See Trin. 23 Eliz. C.B. Taſter and Bradborn's Caſe vouch. Cook 2. Part, 73. acc.

12. A. ſeiſed of a Manor to which an Advowſon was appendant, by Deed bargained and ſold the Manor, with the appurtenances, to B. and his heirs: in which Deed, there were divers Covenants to ſuffer a Recovery, and to levy a Fine to the uſes in the Indenture. Provided, That B. ſhould give the Advowſon to A. for his life; and if it happen not void, then one time to his Executors: A. ſuffered a Common Recovery according to the Indenture. Afterwards A. and B. levied a Fine, with a Render of a Rent of 42 l. to A. in tail, the remainder to D. in Fee: B. in his life-time granted the Advowſon to A. and dyed, the Church became void: E. the ſon of B. entred into the Manor; A. entred for the Condition broken; and bargained and ſold to the Lord Cromwell: It was Reſolved in this Caſe, amongſt many other Points, That the Fine levied by A. and B. had not extinguiſhed the Condition, for the Fine by the Common Law was directed to have a ſpecial operation according to the intent of the parties by the general Covenant; which was, that the Eſtate ſhould be Conditional, and that the Condition ſhould not be touched by the Fine, but the ſame ſhould extinguiſh all other rights and titles, ſaving only the Condition. Cook 2. Part, 73. The Lord Cromwell's Caſe. See 14 Eliz. Dyer 311. acc.

13. The Archbiſhop of Canterbury made a Leaſe for years of parcell of the Manor of D. to P; after which, he granted a Rent-Charge to Dr. Butts, who after deviſed the ſaid Rent to the Archbiſhop, till 100 l. be levied, the remainder to D, and dyed: the 100 l. is levied, the Rent is behind: D. diſtrained; and if the Rent was extinguiſhed, or ſuſpended only, was the Queſtion? Amongſt other Points, It was ſaid, That by the Re-grant to the Biſhop, it was ſuſpended only: and a perſonal thing or action once ſuſpended by the act of the party, is gone for ever; but otherwiſe it is, if it be by the Act of Law. Hill. 4 Ma. Dyer, 140. Cranmer's Caſe.

14. If a man holds a Meſſuage, a Yard-Land by Fealty, Suit of Court and Herriot, to be paid after the death of every Tenant dying thereof ſeiſed: and the Lord purchaſeth parcel of the Land, and afterwards, the Tenant enfeoffeth J. S. of other parcel of the Land. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That by the purchaſe of parcel of the Land by the Lord, the Heriot-Service was extinct: But if the Cuſtome of a Manor be, That upon the death of every Tenant of the Manor who dyeth ſeiſed of Lands holden of the Manor, that the Lord ſhall have a Heriot; if the Lord purchaſes parcel of the Term, yet the Lord ſhall have a Heriot by the Cuſtome. Cook 8. Part, 134. in Talbot's Caſe.

15. Note. It was agreed, That if there be Lord and Tenant by Homage, Fealty, and Suit of Court, which are entire Services, If any parcel of the Land cometh to the Lord, although it be by diſcent, which is the act of the Law, yet the Suit which is an entire Service, is extinct. Cook 6. Part, 1. & 2. in Bracton's Caſe.

16. Lord Meſne and Tenant, the Meſne holdeth in Capite, and the Tenant in Socage, The Meſne grants the Menaltie to the uſe of himſelf for life: the remainder to the Tenant peravail in tail: It was Reſolved, That in this Caſe, that the Menalty was not ſuſpended: For although the Remainder veſts preſently, yet it cannot ſuſpend the Freehold of the Rent, during the life of the Tenant for life, becauſe the Tenant for life, is Tenant to the Lord, and the Lord ſhall avow upon him; and during his life, the heir of him in the remainder ſhall not be in Ward: But if the Meſne grant the Menalty for life, or in tail, the remainder to the Tenant peravaile in Fee, there the Menalty is extinct, becauſe he hath as high an Eſtate in the Menaltie, as he hath in the Tenancy, and there is no poſſibility of reviving the Menalty. Cook 9. Part, 134. Aſcough's Caſe.

17. The Queen was ſeiſed of Whaddon Chaſe; and the Lord Grey was Lievtenant there, and he and his Auncеſtors, and their Keepers, had by Preſcription, uſed to hunt vagrant Deer in the Demeans of the Mannor of S. adjoyning as in purlieus: The Mannor of S. came into the hands of the Queen, who granted the ſame to J. S. in Fee with a Free-Warren, within his Demeſnes Ita quod nullus intret in Warrannum ſuam ad fugand. ſine Licentia. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That the unity in this Caſe, did not extinguiſh the purlieu, and that the Clauſe Ita quod, was not to be extended againſt the Keeper of the Queen, but only againſt other ſubjects. Trin. 16 Eliz. Dyer 326.

18. In a Replevin, the Caſe was; a Copyholder preſcribed to have Common of Paſture appurtenant to the Copyhold: The other party pleaded an Extinguiſhment of the Common, becauſe the Lord had incloſed Land lying in another Field; to which Field, and in the other Field, the Lord had Common by cauſe of Vicinage. In that Caſe, It was Reſolved, That if a man have Common for cauſe of Vicinage, That if one incloſe part, it is an Extinguiſhment of all the Common. Trin. 12 Jac. in C. B. Brownlow 1. Part, Bacon and Palmer's Caſe. 174.

19. A man made a Leaſe for life, and afterwards made a Leaſe to another for years, to begin after the death of Tenant for life; the Leſſee for years dyed inteſtate, the Ordinary committed Adminiſtration. The Adminiſtrator and the Tenant for life joyned in the purchaſe of the Fee-ſimple; the Queſtions were. 1. If there were a Fee executed in the Tenant for life for any part. It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That the Fee was Executed for a moyety. 2. If the Term was extinct. It was the better Opinion, That the Term was not extinct, for that it is not a Term, but Intereſſe Termini, which cannot be granted, or ſurrendred: But it was ſaid, That if he had had the Term in his own right, by the purchaſe of the Fee, the Term had bin extinct; but otherwiſe here, becauſe he had it as Adminiſtrator. Paſc. 17 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt. 2. acc.

20. The Caſe was, A Parſon had Common appendant to his Parſonage out of the Lands of an Abby; and afterwards the Abbot had the Parſonage appropriated to him and his Succeſſors: It was a Queſtion, if the Common was extinct: the Lord Dyer held that it was, becauſe he had as high an Eſtate in the Common as he had in the Land, like 2 H. 4. 19. Where if a Prior hath an Annuity out of a Parſonage, and afterwards purchaſeth the Advowſon, and then obtains an appropriation thereof, the Annuity is extinct: But it was holden by Windham and Meade Juſtices, That the Abbot hath not as par-durable eſtate in the one as in the other; For the Parſonage may be diſappropriated, and then the Parſon ſhall have his Common again: as in Caſe, If a man hath a Seignory in Fee, and afterwards Lands diſcend to him on the part of the Mother, in that Caſe the Seignory is not extinguiſhed, but ſuſpended: for if the Lord to whom the Lands diſcend, dyes without Iſſue, the Seignory ſhall go to the Heir on the part of the Father, and not to the Heir on the part of the Mother, and yet the Father had as high an Eſtate in the Tenancy as in the Seignory. Hill. 23 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt. 4. acc.

21. A Feme-ſole was ſeiſed of a Mannor, to which were three Copyholds, one of the Copyholders did entermarry with the Woman; and afterwards he and his Wife ſuffered a common recovery of the Mannor, to the uſe of themſelves for their lives, and afterwards to the uſe of the Heirs of the Wife: It was agreed by the whole Court, That the Copyhold was extinct: And it was ſaid by the Court, That if, a Copyholder will joyn with the Lord in a Feoffment of the Mannor, thereby his Copyhold is extinct; and ſo if he accept of a Leaſe of his Copyhold. Paſc. 24 Eliz. in C. B. Gaſtin. 11. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. ibid. 101. acc.

22. A Preſcription was alledged for a diſcharge of Tythes in an Abbot, Prior, and Covent, and it was ſhewed, that the Corporation was afterwards diſſolved, becauſe the Abbot and all the Monks dyed: It was in that Caſe holden, that the owner ſhould now pay Tythes, for that the Preſcription continues no longer then the Lands continued in the Abbots and Priors hands. And in that Caſe, It was ſaid by Cook and Warburton Juſtices, That if a Rent be granted to one and his Succeſſors, and afterwards the Corporation is diſſolved, that the Rent ſhall revert to the Donor. But Nicholls Juſtice held, That the Rent extinguiſhes in the Land it ſelf. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. The Dean and Canons of Windſor and Webs Caſe.

23. Leſſee for ten years granted a Rent-charge to his Leſſor for the years; Afterwards the Leſſee granted the Remainder of the Land to the Leſſee for years: It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Rent-charge was gone and extinct, becauſe the Leſſor who had the Rent, is a party to the deſtruction of the Leaſe, which is the ground of the Rent. Mich. 31 Eliz. in the Common Plea. Buckhurſts Caſe. Godbolt. 137.

24. The Earl of Bedford, Lord of the Mannor of B. ſold the Freehold of a Copyholder of Inheritance to another, ſo as it was now divided from the Mannor, and afterwards the Copyholder did releaſe to the Purchaſor. It was holden by the whole Court, That by this Releaſe, the Copyhold-Intereſt was extinct and gone; but it was holden, that if a Copyholder be ouſted, ſo as the Lord of the Mannor is diſſeiſed, and the Copyholder releaſeth to the Diſſeiſor nihil Operatur by it. Paſc. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Wakefords Caſe. Leon. 102.

25. Parſon, Patron, and Ordinary; before 13 Eliz. made a Leaſe for 99 years, there being a grant of the next avoydance before this Leaſe. The Parſon who made the Leaſe, dyed, the Grantee of the next avoidance, preſented another, who being inducted, entred, and avoided this Leaſe for his time and dyed; The Patron who joyned in the Leaſe for years, preſented a new Incumbent, who was Inducted; And if he ſhould hold it diſcharged of the Leaſe as his Predeceſſors did, was the Queſtion. It was Reſolved, That the Leaſe was totally avoided by the entrance of the ſecond Incumbent, becauſe the Parſon hath the entire Fee as a Parſon may have of a Rectory preſently, and when he is in, and hath evicted the Leſſee, it is an abſolute eviction of the whole Term, without expectation of reviver; and it is not an eviction for himſelf only, but for all his Succeſſors. 26. A Leaſe for years was made upon Condition, to be void upon payment of 6 d. The Leſſee entred, and aſſigned his Intereſt to a ſtranger, who is diſſeiſed: afterwards the Leſſor paid the 6 d. according to the Proviſo. It was holden in this Caſe, That although the Leſſee was ouſted by a ſtranger, ſo as the Leſſor had but a Right at the time of the payment, yet the payment was good enough to determine the Leaſe. And 2. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved, That where the Husband had a Term for years in his own right, and the Inheritance afterwards Diſcended to the Wife, that that coming to him in auter droit, ſhould not drown and extinguiſh the Term for years which he was poſſeſſed of in his own right. Paſc. 9 Jac. in B. R. The Lady Plat and Sleaps Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 275.

27. In Debt for a Rent reſerved upon a Leaſe for years, the Caſe was; A. let the Lands for years, rendring 200 l. rent: It was afterwards Covenanted betwixt the Leſſor and Leſſee, that a Bargain and Sale ſhould be made, and a Fine levyed to the Leſſee and others, and their Heirs, to the uſe of them and their Heirs, to the intent a common Recovery ſhould be had againſt the Conuſees with vouchers: The Bargain and Sale was made, and the Recovery ſuffered accordingly: whether upon all this matter, the Leaſe for years was extinguiſhed, or not, was the Queſtion; becauſe in this Caſe, the Bargain and Sale was made, and the Fine levyed to the uſe of the Leſſee himſelf; and therefore the Term being extinct for a time, if it ſhould be after revived, was the doubt. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, that it ſhould; For the Bargain and Sale, Fine and Recovery, are all but one aſſurance, and the Recovery being executed, is quaſi a Conveyance to the uſe ab initio; Wherefore within the Equity and ſaving of the Statute of 27 H. 8. and was all one as a Feoffment to an uſe. Wherefore they Reſolved, That the Term was not extinct, but both rent and Term more revived. Trin. 17 Jac. in B. R. Sir John Ferrers and Sir Richard Fermers Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 543.

28. In Debt for Rent upon a Leaſe for years rendring rent: The Defendant pleaded, That the Leſſor, and all thoſe whoſe Eſtate, &c. had Common in 10 Acres in E. for all Beaſts, Levant, and Couchant upon the ſaid Lands every year after the Corn ſowen, till the Corn was reaped and carried away; and that before the Rent was due, the Leſſor incloſed 10 Acres, wherein he ought to have had his Common, and thereby the Rent was extinct. It was adjudged, That it was a vain allegation, that by incloſing, the Rent was extinct, for that the Rent is not iſſuing out of the Common, and ſo there cannot be a ſuſpenſion by incloſing of the Land; wherefore it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 21 Jac. in B. R. Sir Nicholas Sanderſon and Harriſon's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 679.

29. A. poſſeſſed of a Leaſe for 31 years, took Husband J. S. the Husband and Wife Mortgaged their Term to J. D. for 200 l. before the day of payment the Wife dyed, the Husband paid the money; and entred, and made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed, who entred; the Adminiſtratrix of the Wife of J. S. entred upon the Leſſee. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That though the Leaſe was at firſt the Wives, and the Husband poſſeſſed of it in her right, ſo as though he had purchaſed the Feeſimple, the Leaſe had not bin extinct; Yet by the entermarriage, he hath full power to alien it, and if he ſurvive his Wife, he is to enjoy it againſt her Executors, ſo when he ſurvives, the Condition ſurvives with him, and reſtores him to the Leaſe in ſtate as he ſhould have bin, if it had not bin alliened. Paſc. 11 Jac. in C. B. Young and Radford Caſe. Hob. 3.

30. Sir Tho. Wyat, Tenant in Tail, the Reverſion in the Crown, made a Leaſe to Auſten, rendring rent, and dyed: Sir Thomas Wyat the Son accepted the Rent, and was Attainted of Treaſon, and put to death, leaving Arthur Wyat his Son: It was adjudged in that Caſe, That Auſtens Leaſe was void; For although it was made good by the acceptance of the Rent, yet by the Attainder, the eſtate tail was barred and extinct, as if Wyat the perſon attainted had dyed without Iſſue. See Plow. Com. 560. cited in Walſingham's Caſe.

31. In an Action upon the Caſe, for ſtopping a Water-courſe, the Plaintiff declared, That he was poſſeſſed of the Rectory of M. of which a Curtilage was parcel: And ſhewed, that in this Curtilage there had bin, time out of mind, a Water-courſe for the watering of the Cattel of the Plaintiff, and others for their neceſſary uſes. And that a Water-courſe time out of mind, had flowed from Medford Stream, to the Curtilage, and filled the Pond there, and that the Defendant intending to dim up the ſaid Water-courſe, had built a ſtone Wall thereupon, whereby the Water-courſe was ſtopped to his damage, &c. The Defendant pleaded, that King Henry the 8th was ſeiſed of the ſaid Manor and Rectory in Fee, and of a piece of ground lying between the Water-courſe, and the ſaid ſtream, and by Letters Patents granted the ſame to one Box, which by mean Conveyances, came to the Defendant, who was ſeiſed, and ſo juſtified the filling up of the Water-courſe. The Queſtion was, Whether the unity of poſſeſſion had extinguiſhed the Water-courſe, or not. And after many Arguments. It was Reſolved, That the Action did lye; and that the Water-courſe was not extinguiſhed by the unity of Poſſeſſion, and that the Preſcription was not gone. Hill. 1 Car. in B. R. Sury and Pigots Caſe. Poph. 166.

32. Note, It was Reſolved, That when a Rent-charge is extinguiſhed by the Grantees purchaſe of parcel of the Land; that in ſuch Caſe, the Grantee ſhall never have a Writ of Annuity, becauſe it was by the grant a Rent-charge, and he hath diſcharged the Land of it by his own Act, viz. by purchaſe of part. But if the Rent-charge be determined by the Act of God, or of the Law; yet the Grantee may have a Writ of Annuity: As if Tenant for the life of another man, grants a Rent-charge by Deed to one for 21 years, Ceſtuy que vie dyeth, the Rent is determined, yet the Grantee may have, during the years, a Writ of Annuity for the Arrerages incurred after the death of the Ceſtuy que vie, becauſe the Rent-charge did determine by the Act of God, and by courſe of Law. See Cook 2. Part, Wards Caſe vouch. in Sir Rowland Heywards Caſe. 32. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 148. acc.

33. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, takes a Wife, and makes a Feoffment in Fee, the Feoffee grants a Rent-charge of 10 l. out of the Land to the Feoffer and his Wife, and to the Heirs of the Husband, the Husband dyeth, the Wife recovers the moyety of the Land in a Writ of Dower by the Cuſtome: In this Caſe, the Rent ſhall not be extinct, albeit by her own act ſhe doth concur with the Act of the Law, but ſhe ſhall diſtreyn for 5 l. which is the moyety of the Rent; and in ſuch Caſe the Rent ſhall be apportioned. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 150. acc.

34. An Aſſiſe of Nuſans was brought for ſtopping of a way which the Plaintiff had to his Mill; The Defendant alledged unity of Poſſeſſion of the Land and the Mill in W. time out of mind: The Plaintiff ſaid, That after that the ſaid W. had two Daughters, and dyed ſeiſed; and the Mill was allotted unto one in Partition, and the Land to the other, and that the way was reſerved to her who had the Mill, and the Aſſiſe was awarded: And ſo ſee, that by the Partition, the way was revived, and appendant, as it was before, and yet W. the Father had as high an Eſtate in the Land as he had in the way. See 21 E. 3. 2.

35. If an Abbot hath a Parſonage appropriate in D. which is diſcharged of Tythes; and afterwards the Abbot purchaſeth parcel of the Land in the ſame Town where the Parſonage is, now this Land ſo purchaſed, is diſcharged of Tythes in the hands of the Abbot, for the Tythes were ſuſpended during the poſſeſſion of the Abbot in his hands: But after the Abby was ſurrendred into the hands of H. 8. Anno 30. of his Reign; and afterwards the ſame poſſeſſions were given to the King by the Statute of 31 H. 8. as they were in the Abbot hands. It was a Queſtion, If the Lands ſo purchaſed by the Abbot before the ſurrender, were diſcharged of Tythes by the Statute or not. It was the Opinion of Mr. Plowden, That they were not diſcharged of Tythes by the Statute, for no Land is diſcharged of Tythes by the Statute, but thoſe which were lawfully diſcharged in right by compoſition or other lawful thing, but the Tythes were ſuſpended during the poſſeſſion of the Abbot in his own hands: And ſo he was of Opinion when the Land is purchaſed by one, and the Parſonage by another, the right of Tythes is revived, and the Land charged as before the purchaſe by the Abbot. See Mich. 17 Eliz. Godbolt. 2. acc. See Cook 11. Part, Pridle and Nappers Caſe. acc.

36. A man made a Leaſe of a houſe, reſerving Rent: Afterwards he commanded the breaking down of a partition Wall: It was adjudged in the Caſe, That the ſame was not ſuch a Re-entry into the houſe as ſhould amount to an extinguiſhment of the Rent. Mich. 10 Car. in B. R. Harriſon Caſe.

37. Tenant for life, the Remainder in Fee; Tenant for life made a Leaſe for years, who was Diſſeiſed, the Diſſeiſor made a Leaſe for years, his Leſſee ſowed the Land; Tenant for life dyed. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the meer right of the Corn was in the Leſſee for years of the Tenant for life, and he might have Treſpaſs, and recover the mean profits againſt the Leſſee of the Diſſeiſor: And he had the meer right to the Corn, as thing annexed to the Land, although that his Intereſt in the Land was determined by the death of the Tenant for life. Cook 5. Part, 85. Sir Henry Kelwa Caſe.

38. If a Corporation hath Franchiſes by Grant or Preſcription, and afterwards they are incorporated by another name, as where they were Bayliffs and Burgeſſes before, they are made Mayor and Comminalty, or Prior and Covent before, and they be tranſlated into a Dean and Chapter, although in theſe Caſes, the name and quality of their Corporations be altered and changed; yet the Franchiſes and Liberties are not extinct, but the new body ſhall have all the Franchiſes, Priviledges, and Inheritances which the old Corporation or body Politick, had either by Grant, or by Preſcription. Cook 4. Part, 87. in Lattrell's Caſe.

39. When the King grants any Priviledges, Liberties, or Franchiſes, which were Priviledges, Liberties, or Franchiſes in his own hands, as parcel of the Flowers of his Crown, as bona felonum ſuicidorum, utlegatorum, Waife, Stray, Deodand, Wreck of the Sea, if they come again to the Crown, they

e drowned and extinct in the Crown: And if reck Goods waived, eſtrayed were before appendant to poſſeſſions, now the appendency is extinguiſhed, and the King is ſeiſed of them in the right of his Crown. But when Liberties, Franchiſes, Priviledges or Juriſdictions, are erected and created by the King, they are not extinct, nor the appendances ſevered from the poſſeſſions; as Mart, Park, Toll, Warren, &c. Cook 9. Part, The Abbot of Strata Mercella's Caſe. 25, 26.

42. If a man levyeth a Fine of Lands in Auncient Demeſne at the Common Law to another, the Lord ſhall have a Writ of Diſceit againſt him who levyeth the Fine; and the Conuſor ſhall be reſtored to his poſſeſſion which he had before the Fine: But if the Conuſor after the Fine, releaſe to the Conuſee by his Deed being in poſſeſſion, or by his Deed confirm his Eſtate in the Land, the Conuſee ſhall have and retain the Land, notwithſtanding the Fine be avoided, becauſe that this Releaſe or Confirmation made to him in poſſeſſion, maketh his Eſtate firm and rightfull againſt him and his heirs who releaſeth; and yet after the Fine levied, the Conuſee had not any right in the Land, but a poſſibility to have the Land again after the Fine made void by the Writ of Diſceit brought by the Lord of whom the Land was holden. See Cook 10. Part, 50. in Lampits Caſe, acc.

Failer of Record.

1. IN a Formedon in the Diſcender, a Fine with Proclamations levied in 30 H. 8. was pleaded in barr, and the Iſſue being Nul tiel Record, at the day the Tenant had the Record, but in the Proclamations, viz. 31. 6. 7. 8. made in Trinity Term, the year of the King was left out. Notwithſtanding, becauſe that in Eaſter Term before, and in Mich. Term after, 30 H. 8. was expreſſed, It was ſaid, It did of neceſſity follow, that the ſaid 4. Proclamations were made in the ſame year; for they being right, by conſequence the other were right alſo. Mich. 7 Eliz. Dyer 234.

2. In an Action upon the Caſe brought in J; where according to the Cuſtome, the Defendant was committed for default of Maynpernors, and after upon Verdict was condemned; he was afterwards upon the requeſt of the Plaintiff, committed in Execution: but that was not entred of Record, and then he eſcaped. In Debt brought by the Plaintiff in the Common-Pleas upon the Record, the Defendant confeſſed the Judgment ut ſupra, and averred the committing of Execution at the requeſt of the Plaintiff: The Plaintiff ſaid, Quod non habetur tale Recordum, of his requeſt; upon which the Defendant did Demur; and the Demurrer was holden good by the Court: for he had not alledged, that it was of Record; and the Plaintiff had good cauſe to demur if the committing in Execution by the Bayliffs out of the Court had been inſufficient. Hill. 22 Eliz. Dyer 368.

3. In an Aſſiſe; the Defendant pleaded Outlawry of the Plaintiff: Iſſue was joyned upon Nul tiel Record. At the day to have the Record, the Tenour was brought in, which appeared Variance in the day of the Return of the Exigent, and in the place where the Outlawry was pronounced. The Plaintiff alſo brought the Tenour by a Mittimus; and for both theſe cauſes, it was adjudged a failer. Dyer 187.

4. In Debt brought upon the Statute of 24 H. 8. of Apparel, the Defendant pleaded Outlawry on the Plaintiff, Who replyed Nul tiel Record, and had day to bring in the Record: Before the day, the Record was removed by a Writ of Errour; and at the day, he brought an Exemplification, without Writ, or without other Seal then that of the Kings-Bench. It was conceived by ſome, That this was a failer of the Record; and ſo it ſhould have been by relation, if the Record had been reverſed, although there was ſuch Record at the time of the Plea. Hill. 6 Eliz. Dyer. 227.

5. Debt was brought upon an Obligation; the Condition of which, was, to ſave the Plaintiff harmleſſe of an Obligation, againſt A: The Defendant pleaded, Non damnificatus: The Plaintiff ſhewed, That A. recovered upon a Plaint in London: Iſſue was joyned upon Nul tiel Record, and day was given the Plaintiff to have the Record at his perill; And at the day, by Mittimus out of the Chancery, he brought the Tenor of the Record: And it was holden to be ſufficient. Mich. 3 Eliz. Dyer 187.

6. Debt was brought againſt two by ſeverall Precipes, and ſeveral Iſſues were joyned upon Nul tiel Record, and ſeveral Judgments was given for not bringing in the Record at the day: Afterwards a Joynt Writ of Errour was brought; and thereupon the Certificate was refuſed. Paſch. 2 Eliz. Dyer 180.

7. In Audita Querela, the Plaintiff ſhewed, That a Debt of 200 l. was recovered againſt him, upon which he was Outlawed; and afterwards by force of a Capias utlagatum, he was taken in Execution; and ſo being in Execution, the Sheriff ſuffered him to eſcape. The Defendant pleaded, That after the ſaid Eſcape, and before the Audita Querela brought, the ſaid Outlawry was declared to be erronious, and ſo Nul tiel Record of the Outlawry. In that Caſe, It was Reſolved, That when Erroneous Judgment is given, and afterwards the Judgment is reverſed by Errour, that collaterall acts executory are thereby barred: As if A. be in Execution at the Suit of B, upon an Erroneous Judgment, and after the Judgment is reverſed by Errour, he may plead Nul tiel Record; but till the Erroneous Judgment be reverſed, the Sheriff ſhall not take benefit of it; for there he cannot plead Nul tiel Record, although there be a manifeſt Errour: but in the ſame caſe, If the Plaintiff bring an Action againſt the Sheriff upon the Eſcape, and hath Judgment and Execution, and afterwards the Judgment is reverſed; yet becauſe that Judgment was executed notwithſtanding the reverſal of the firſt, the ſame ſhall ſtand in force. But it was holden in the principal Caſe, becauſe the Record was reverſed and made void before the Defendant was driven to plead, He might well plead Nul tiel Record, Cook 8. Part, 142. Dr. Druries Caſe.

8. A Formedon was brought, of the Manor of Ilfeild; The Defendant pleaded in bar a Common Recovery againſt the Donee in tail of the ſaid Manor: The Plaintiff pleaded Nul tiel Record, and had day to bring in the Record: and the Record being ſhewed, It was Iffeild, for Ilfeild: And it was Reſolved by the Court, becauſe it doth appear by the Record, that this was but the Miſpriſion of the Clark; or that it might be corrupted afterwards by drawing a daſh in the Record; It being in a Common Recovery, which is a Common aſſurance of the Realm; That it ſhould be amended, and the ſame was not failer of bringing in or ſhewing the Record for that variance. Trin. 41 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 5. Part, 46. Cook's Caſe.

9. In Aſſiſe the Tenant vouched: The Vouchee pleaded, That before the Plaintiff brought an Aſſiſe againſt his Father, who pleaded, That the Plaintiff did enfeoffe him by Deed: and it was ſo found by the Aſſiſe; and he demanded Judgment: and upon Iſſue, Nul tiel Record. The Record was, That the ſaid Aſſiſe was brought againſt the Father and Mother. And it was adjudged, That the ſame was no failer of the Record. 16 Aſs. 19. vouched in Foſter and Jackſon's Caſe, Hob. 55. And ſee there, 36 H. 6. 2. A Recognizance was pleaded, and Iſſue was taken upon Nul tiel Record, and the Recognizance was certified to be upon Condition. It was adjudged to be good, and no failer of the Record.

10. If an Enfant plead a Record in an Aſſiſe, and faile of the Record: upon the Statute of Weſt. 2. he ſhall not be adjudged a Diſſeiſee, 36 E. 3. Fitz. Title Aſſiſe, 443. Plow. Com. 364. acc.

11. A. informed againſt B, upon the Statute of Recuſancy, who pleaded, That he was Indicted in the County of Middleſex for the ſame Offence. The Plaintiff ſaid, Nul tiel Record, and day given to the Defendant to bring in the Record. Whereupon he took a Certiorari Juſticiariis pacis, and at the day brought tenorem Recordi, certified by J. L. Cuſtos Rottulorum. It was holden in this Caſe, That the Defendant did not need to take his Certiorari out of the Chancery, and ſo bring it by Mittimus, but this Court might ſend this Certiorari immediately to an Inferiour Court: But if it were to Certifie a Record it ſelf, as upon a Writ of Errour, or a Certiorari out of the Kings-Bench to a Juſtice of Peace, which removes the very Record it ſelf to hold Plea upon, it is otherwiſe: The Certificate was diſallowed, becauſe it was not made in the name of the Juſtice of Peace it ſelf: And although the Certificate was in it ſelf void, becauſe it was of a Plea before the Juſtices of Goal-delivery; Yet becauſe it was the Award of the Court, it was not made a failer of the Record in the Defendant, though he had it not at the day. Hill. 13 Jac. Pie and Thrill's Caſe. Hob. 135.

12. In Debt againſt a Bayliff of A. for an Eſcape. The Plaintiff declared upon a Recovery in the Court of A; The Defendant pleaded, Nul tiel Record: and in the Record Certified, there were divers differences in the Continuances, and in the Proceſſe: and yet becauſe the Plaint, Count, and Judgment certified, did agree with the Declaration; It was holden to be no failer of the Record for theſe variances; and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Hill. 14 Jac. in C. B. Coatman and Halley's Caſe, Hob. 179.

13. A. informed againſt B. in the Common-Pleas for Non-Reſidency; the Defendant pleaded another Information exhibited in the Exchequer, 28. Aprilis, Anno 14 Jac. for the ſame abſence: and upon Iſſue, Nul tiel Record, It appeared, That the Information in the Exchequer was exhibited 29. Aprilis, the ſame year, and it was right for the matter

matter. And thereupon, It was holden to be no failer of the Record: and Judgment was given for the Defendant. Paſch. 15 Jac. in C.B. Parry and Paris Caſe, Hob. 209.

Falſifying of a Recovery.

Where a Recovery ſhall be falſified, and by whom, and for what Cauſe: and in what Action; and in what not: Or ſhall be barred.

1. A Man ſeiſed of a Manor in Fee, after the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes, enfeoffed divers perſons to the uſe of himſelf, and the heirs males of his body; and for default of ſuch Iſſue, the remainder to divers other in tail, the Reverſion to the Feoffor and his heirs: the Feoffor had Iſſue, and dyed; the Iſſue entred: He in the Remainder granted a Rent-Charge out of the Land; and the Iſſue in tail levied a Fine, and ſuffered a Common Recovery, and afterwards dyed without Iſſue. It was Reſolved, That the Recoverors, nor any which came in under their eſtate, ſhould be ſubject to the charge of him in the Remainder; 1. Becauſe the Recoveror is in of an Eſtate which he hath gained under the Tenant in tail in poſſeſſion, which Eſtate is not chargeable, to the charges of him in the Remainder. And, 2. Becauſe the Remainder can never come in poſſeſſion after the Recovery. Cook 1. Part, 61, 62. Capell's Caſe. And it was Reſolved, That the Grantee of him in the Remainder could not falſifie the ſaid Recovery.

2. Husband and Wife, Joynt-Tenants of a Manor, and to the heirs of the body of the husband, the remainder to B. in taile; a Recovery is had againſt the Husband alone, in the life of the Wife with voucher: He in the Remainder is attainted of Treaſon; the Husband dyeth without Iſſue of his body, the Wife dyeth: The Queen reſtored the Son of B, and granted him the Manor which ſhe had by the Attainder. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That ſo long as the Recovery ſtood in force, he in the Remainder had not any right to the Remainder; but the Remainder was barred for a Moyty: but of the other moyety of which the Wife was Tenant for life, the Recovery was not any barr either unto the Eſtate tail, or to the Remainder, becauſe to that moyty ſhe was not Tenant to the Precipe, but the Recovery enured by way of Eſtoppel only, which could not bind the Iſſue in tail; and therefore for that moyty the ſaid Recovery might be falſified by the Iſſue in tail, or by him in the Remainder. Cook 3. Part, 3. in the Marqueſſe of Wincheſter's Caſe.

3. Ed. Lord Zouch brought a Formedon in the Remainder of the moyty of the Manor of C. againſt Bamfield, who pleaded, That the Great Grandfather of the Demandant levied a Fine with Proclamations of the moity of the ſaid Manor, with a remainder to the Grandfather and his heirs, whoſe Eſtate the Tenant had: The Demandant Replyed, That at the time of the Fine levied, and at all times after, he was ſeiſed of the Lands in his Demeſne as of Fee. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Demandant being heir in tail againſt ſuch Fine levied by his Auncеſtor, whoſe heir he is, was eſtopped to alledge ſeiſin and continuance thereof in a ſtranger at the time of the Fine levied, or to aver, Quod partes Finis nihil habuerunt, nor could falſifie the ſaid Recovery. Paſch. 28 Eliz. in C. B. The Lord Zouch and Bamfield's Caſe: vouch. in Cook 3. Part, in the Caſe of Fines, 88.

4. At the Common-Law, If one had ſuffered a Recovery againſt him in any real Action by default (if he were lawfully ſummoned, and no Errour was in the proceeding) he had not (the caſe of an Enfant only excepted) any remedy but only a Writ of Right; and that was the cauſe, That Tenant in tail, Tenant by the Curteſie, Tenant in Dower, or Tenant for life after Recovery by default, had not any remedy, untill the Statute of Weſt. 2. that gave them a Writ of Deforcеt: and therefore before that Statute, If the husband had ſuffered a Recovery by default againſt him and his Wife; the Wife had not any remedy but a Writ of Right: and the ſame Statute gave a Cui in vita, to the wife in that caſe; and a Writ of Entry to him in the Reverſion upon a Recovery had by default againſt Tenant for life. And if ſuch particular Tenants loſe by Action, tryed, at this day they are without remedy, and ſhall not falſifie the Recovery. See Cook 6. Part, 8. in Farrer's Caſe: and the end why ſuch Recoveries were bars in the Caſes above ſaid before the ſaid Statute was, ut Finis ſit Litium.

5. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, having a Son by one venter, and a ſon and daughter by a ſecond venter, deviſed his Land to his Wife for life, the remainder to his younger ſon in tail, the reverſion to his Right heirs, a Common Recovery was had againſt Tenant for life, in which he in the remainder in tail was vouched, which was to the uſe of him in the remainder in tail, who after dyed without Iſſue. In this Caſe, theſe Points were Reſolved:

ved: 1. That a Recovery against Tenant for life upon a true Warranty and Recovery in value, should bind him in the remainder. 2. That no Act had been made to preserve Reversion, or a Remainder upon an Estate in tail; but that they were barred by a Recovery, and could not falsifie it. 3. That the Statute of 14 Eliz. of Feigned Recoveries did not extend to preserve any Reversion or Remainder appurtenant upon an Estate taile where Tenant for life is impleaded, and Tenant in taile is vouched. Cook 10. Part, 44. Jenning's Case.

6. Tenant in tail, the remainder in tail, the reversion to the right heirs of Tenant in tail; Tenant in taile bargained and sold the Land by Deed enrolled to J. S. and his heirs, and afterwards levied a Fine with Proclamations to the Bargainee with Warranty; the Conusee made a Feoffment in Fee: he in the Remainder had Issue, and dyed; Tenant in tail dyed without Issue. It was Resolved in this Case, That the remainder by the Feoffment of the Conusee was not displaced, and put to a right, for the Conusee had a Fee-simple, which was determinable upon the death of Tenant in tail without Issue; and when he made a Feoffment, his determinable Fee in possession, and his absolute Fee in remainder, expectant upon the Estate tail in remainder, passed; and did not devest the remainder: for the Feoffment, which in it self was not tortious, could not be tortious to another. Cook 10. Part, 98. Edward Seymor's Case.

7. Note: That by the Common Law, before the Statute of 21 H. 8. Tenant for years was subject to the pleasure of the Tenant of the Freehold: For before that Statute he could not falsifie a Recovery of the Freehold, in the respect of the Feebleness of his Estate; For none by the Common-Law could falsifie a Recovery of the Freehold, but he who was Tenant of the Freehold: but now by that Statute he may falsifie a Recovery. Cook 6. Part. 57. in Bediman's Case.

8. An Enfant brought an Assise in the Kings-Bench, of Lands in Middlesex: depending which, the Tenant in the same Assise, brought an Assise for the same Lands in the Common-Pleas: which last Writ bore date, and was Returnable after the first Writ. The Demandant in the second Writ did recover against the Enfant by default: and upon a Plea in Barr of the first Assise of that Recovery, the Enfant by way of Replication set forth all the speciall matter, and that the Demandant at the time of the second Writ brought, was Tenant of the Land: and prayed, that he might falsifie the Recovery. It was adjudged, That he might falsifie the Recovery. For in all Cases where a man shall not have Errour, or Attaint, he may falsifie; and in this Case he could not have Error or Attaint, because the Judgment in the Common Plea was not given only upon the Default, but also upon the Verdict: and it should be vain for him to bring an Attaint, because he shall not be admitted to give other Evidence then was given at the first tryal. And therefore it was adjudged, he might falsifie the Recovery. Hill. 15 Jac. in C. B. Plotts Case. Godbolt. 271.

9. It was Resolved by the Justices, That if a man recover in an Action personal; as in Debt, Account, or the like, the bar is perpetual; and he shall not satisfy the recovery in another Action personal: But if a man be barred in an Action real, which doth concern Land, by Judgment upon Demurrer, Verdict, or Confession; yet he may have an Action of a higher nature, and therein avoid the Recovery, and shall not be thereby barred: As, if a man be barred in an Assise of Novel disseisin, yet he may have an Assise of Mortdauncester; and if he be barred in a Formedon in the Discender, yet he may have a Formedon in the Reverter, or Remainder, because that the Fee-simple is to be recovered. Cook 5. Part, Ferrers Case.

10. Note, That upon a Recovery had against Tenant for life before the Statute of Westm. 2. he could not have entred; but now he may have Quod ei deforceat, and falsify. But of a Recovery in an Assise against Tenant in Fee, he shall not falsify the Recovery, although the Recovery be by default, nor hath he any other remedy. See 4 H. 9. 3.

11. Where Lessee for life was, the Remainder in Fee; If a stranger had recovered against the Tenant for life, before the Statute of West. 2. he was barred: and if it were by feint Action after the Tenant for life dyed, he in the Remainder was barred, because he never had possession of the Land to maintain an Action: But if he in the Reversion had entred upon Tenant for life, and Disseised him, and after the Tenant for life had re-entred upon him; and dyed, he in Remainder might have had a Writ of Right against him who recovered, because the Mise was joyned upon the meer Right of the thing which was in demand, which of them had meer Right, scil. the Demandant or the Tenant, and not whether he hath right to the possession upon that which was defeated by the entry of Tenant for life: For if he could have gotten possession to convey an Action unto him, although the possession afterwards did fail him, yet in tryal his Right did not fail him, but it shall be found that his right is Eigne. But a Right without a possession, giveth no Action. But yet at the Common Law, it was said he was not without remedy before the Statute, because he might have had a Formedon in the Remainder, although he never had had any poſſeſſion by a Recovery in a Mortdaunceſter: And it was ſaid, That if Tenant for life upon a Recovery had againſt him, had dyed before Execution, that he in the Remainder might falſify the Recovery in a Scire facias. See 12 E. 4. 21.

12. Note, the Cuſtome of London is, Where he in the Reverſion upon a Leaſe for years is impleaded of Lands in London, and makes default, the Mayor by Cuſtome is to enquire by Neighbours in the preſence of the Termor and the Demandant, Whether the Plea be moved by a good Right, or by fraud, to make the Termor to loſe his Term; And if it be found upon a good right, the Demandant ſhall have Judgment preſently; and if not, the Termor ſhall have his Term, and the Execution of the Judgment ſhall be ſo ſuſpended. See Comment on Original Writs, 133.

13. In an Action of Treſpaſs for breaking his houſe, and ſpoiling of his graſs in W. the Defendant ſaid, That the Land was Auncient Demeſne, and that he the Defendant brought a Writ of Right in the nature of an Aſſiſe againſt the Plaintiff in the Court of the Lord of N. and that the Plaintiff appeared, and that the Defendant here had Judgment, and ſued forth Execution, and ſo entred into the houſe, &c. The Plaintiff ſaid, That as to one parcel a Fine was levyed betwixt the Plaintiff and one Tenant, and of another parcel, another Fine was levyed between the Plaintiff here, and another by which the Tenements were Frank-Fee, and ſo the Recovery was a feigned Recovery in Law. In that Caſe, the Plaintiff was driven to ſhew, That the Treſpaſs was done in every part compriſed within the Fine, otherwiſe the Fines were no bar; and although the Plaintiff in the Action here was a party to the Recovery; yet the Court held not that material to eſtop him to plead the Fines. Mich. 7 H. 4. 3. acc.

14. An Infant Tenant in tail, ſuffered a Recovery by his Guardian: It was Reſolved by the Court, That the ſame ſhould bind him, and he ſhould not falſify the ſame Recovery in another Action brought againſt him, becauſe he might have his remedy over againſt his Guardian by Action upon the Caſe; but otherwiſe it was, if he had ſuffered a Recovery by Attorney, for that had bin void becauſe that he had not any remedy over, as it was adjudged. Mich. 4 Jac. in Holland and Lee's Caſe. See Mich. 7 Jac. in C. B. Zouch and Mitchell's Caſe, acc.

15. Note, It was ſaid, That if he in the Reverſion doth ſuffer a Recovery to divers uſes, that his Heir cannot falſify the ſaid Recovery, by pleading, That his Father had nothing at the time of the Recovery, becauſe he is eſtopped to ſay, that he was not Tenant to the Precipe; and the ſaid Recovery ſhall ennure againſt him by way of Eſtoppel. Paſc. 3 Jac. in C. B. Duke and Smiths Caſe. Godbolt. Quere of that Caſe, for it ſeems not to be Law.

16. A Fine upon a Grant and render was levyed in the time of King E. 4. upon which afterwards, a Scire facias was brought, and Judgment given, and a Writ of Seiſin awarded, but not executed. Afterwards a Fine ſur Conuſans de droit come ceo with Proclamations, was levyed of the ſame Land; and five years paſſed: And now another Scire facias was brought to execute the firſt Fine. To which the Fine ſur Conuſans de droit, &c. is pleaded. And whether the Fine ſur Conuſans de droit, &c. ſhall bar the Scire facias or not, was the Queſtion. It was ſaid, it ſhould not. See Cook 1. Part, 96, 97. If a Diſſeiſee at the Common Law, before the Statute of Non-claim, had levyed a Fine, or ſuffered a Judgment in a Writ of Right, until Execution ſued, they were no bars; and a Fine at Common Law, was of the ſame force as it is now, and if in theſe Caſes no bar at Common Law untill Execution. It proves that this Intereſt upon a Fine ſur Conuſans, &c. is not ſuch an Intereſt as can bar another Fine not executed: Beſides, it ſhall be no bar, becauſe it is Executory only, and in Cuſtodia legis, which doth preſerve it, and a Fine cannot fix upon a thing Executory, and the Eſtate ought to be turned to a Right, to be bound by a Fine, Cook 10. Part, 96. and the eſtate of him in the firſt Fine in the principal Caſe, is not turned to a Right by the ſecond Fine: And alſo the Statute of 4 H. 7. is a general Law, and in the affirmative, and therefore ſhall not take away the Statute of Weſt. 2. which gives the Scire facias. See 39 H. 6. 3. Cook 11. Part, 63. 33 H. 8. Dy 1, 15. Quere, the Caſe was not Reſolved; But the Court inclined, that he who had the Judgment upon the Scire facias, was barred. Paſc. 18 Car. in C. B. Apſley and Boys's Caſe, Marſh. 194, 195.

17. The Iſſue in tail brought a Formedon in the Diſcender, and the Defendant pleaded in bar, and confeſſed the eſtate tail; but ſaid, that before the death of Tenant in tail, J. S. was ſeiſed of the Lands in Fee, and levyed a Fine to him, and five years paſſed, and then the Tenant in tail dyed: and if it were a bar to the Plaintiff or not, was the Queſtion, and it reſted upon this, Whether J. S. upon this general Plea ſhall be intended to be in by Diſſeiſin, or by Feoffment: For if in by Diſſeiſin, then he is barred, if by Feoffment, not. The Opinion of the whole Court was clear, That he ſhall be intended in by Diſſeiſin, and ſo the Plaintiff is barred. Cook 3. Part, 87. acc. And in this Caſe, it was ſaid, That it ſhall not be intended, That Tenant in tail had made a Feoffment to bar his Iſſues, unleſs it be ſued: and a Feoffment is as well an unlawful act as a Disseisin, for it is a Discontinuance. Pasc. 18 Car. in C. B. Taylor's Case. Marsh. 195.

18. Note, it is said; That seisin by the hands of a Disseisor, or by one who hath a defeasible title, shall bind the right of the Disseisee, for that he is Tenant of the Land, and the act is lawful; but encroachment of a Rent by his hands, shall not bind him who hath right: And if there be any Covin between the Disseisor and him who hath the Rent, and that the purpose of the Disseisin was, that the Disseisor should give seisin of the Rent, there such seisin shall not bind the Disseisee, or him who hath right for the Covin, maketh it unlawful. Cook 6. Part, 58. in Brediman's Case.

19. If Tenant for life, the Remainder to his eldest Son be Disseised by Covin, and afterwards the Disseisor is impleaded in a Writ of Entry in the Post, and voucheth the Tenant for life, who voucheth over the common Vouchee. It was said, That that was out of the Statute of 32 H. 8. because the Tenant for life came in as Vouchee, and the Precipe was not brought against him. Trin. 5 Eliz. in Bendloes Reports.

20. A. Tenant for life, the Remainder in Fee, bargained and sold the Land to one, who before the Statute of 14 Eliz. suffered a common Recovery, in which A. Tenant for life was vouched; he in the Remainder entred. In that Case, it was Resolved, That the Entry of him in the Remainder was lawful, because that the Recovery suffered by Tenant for life, was a forfeiture, and was to the disinheritance of him in the Remainder; and it was as much as if the Tenant for life had levyed a Fine, and made a Feoffment, and in that Case it was holden, That the Entry of him in the Remainder was lawful, as well after the Execution, as after the Judgment, for it being a forfeiture, the suing of Execution, did not take away the Entry of him in the Remainder. Cook 1. Part, 15. Sir William Pelham's Case.

21. Debt upon an Obligation against an Administrator, the Defendant pleaded, That J. S. recovered against him 100 l. in the Court of C. and pleaded other Judgments in the same Court, all which amount to 500 l. and that he had not goods of the Intestate preterquam bona et catalla quæ non attingunt ad valentiam prædict. 500 l. The Plaintiff replyed, that the said J. S. accepted of 60 l. in satisfaction of the said Judgment in C. and would have acknowledged satisfaction upon Record in the Court of C. but the Defendant suffered the said Judgment by fraud to continue, and not to be released, to the intent to defraud him of his just debt. It was Resolved in that Case for the Plaintiff; for an Administrator ought to administer the goods of the Intestate lawfully, truly, and diligently, and then when he compounded with one who had a Judgment of 200 l. for 60 l. who offered to acknowledg satisfaction upon Record, and the other deferred it, with an intent to defraud a Creditor; were the same before the Recovery had in the Action of Debt, or after, the same was all one to the Creditor, who was a third person, and the agreement betwixt the other two should not prejudice him. Pasc. 8 Jac. in C. B. Cook 8. Part, Turner's Case. 132.

22. Note, it is agreed in Cook 5. Part, 31. in Coulters Case: That all lawful acts done by an Abator, Disseisor, &c. are good; and therefore if a Disseisor, or an Abator endoweth a Woman who hath title of Dower, it is good, and shall bind the Disseisee: But if a Woman who hath title of Dower, Disseiseth the Tenant of the Land, she cannot endow her self by way of Retainer. Also if a Woman who hath Title of Dower as Guardian in Socage, in her own right useth the Land, not as Guardian she shall not endow her self de la plus beal part. And so if a Woman who hath rightfull Title of Dower, be privy, or party, or consenting to a wrong; the assignment of Dower to her is void, as if she procureth one to Disseise the Tenant of the Land, to the intent to be endowed by him. Cook 5. Part, 31. in Coulters Case.

23. Note, it is said, That there are some Titles to which a Warranty shall not extend to be a bar, as in Case of a title of discharge, Condition upon a Mortgage, &c consent to a Ravisher, &c. for for these no Action lyeth, in which there may be Voucher or Rebuter; neither shall a Discent take away an Entry in such Cases, and they continue in the same plight and possession as they were by their Original Creation; and they by no act can be displaced or devested out of their Original essence: and see 34 E. 3. garr. 72. A collateral Warranty shall not bar a title of Dower, for the same continueth the beginning according to the Original creation, and yet for the same an Action is given. And therefore there is a difference between a Fine levyed and five years passed, and a collateral Warranty: For upon a Fine and five years, all rights are bound and the title of Dower also, if an Action be not brought within the time prescribed by the Statute. See Plow. Com. 373. Cook 10. Part, 99. in the end of Bewsages Case.

24. A Woman brought a Writ of Dower against her two Daughters, and another, and in truth the third was but a Termor, and the Wife had no cause of Dower, but this was only to make the Termor to lose his Term; and they all have made default at the Grand Cape, and now he prayed to be received, and shewed, that the Husband made a Lease for years, and after the Lessee levyed a Fine to the Lessor, and they granted and rendred the Land

Land back again to the Leſſee, rendring the ſame rent. It was the Opinion of Anderſon and Periam Juſtices, That a Termor might falſify at the Common Law. And in this Caſe, it was holden, That although his Leaſe was after the Title of Dower, yet if he hath matter to plead which goeth to the deſtruction of the Dower, he may falſify well enough, as if ſhe have Title to Dower, and five years paſs after a Fine levyed. And the Statute of Glouceſter was made, that a Termor ſhould not be put out of poſſeſſion, and falſify a Recovery. Paſc. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Goldesbr. 87. acc.

25. Note, Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 46. That the Statute of Glouceſter doth not extend to five Caſes. 1. If the Leaſe be by parol, and not by writing. 2. It doth not extend to a Recovery by default. 3. The Termor cannot be relieved by that Statute, if he have not knowledg of the Recovery, and be received. 4. That this Statute doth not extend to Tenants by Statute Merchant, Statute Staple, or by Elegit; nor doth this Statute extend to a Guardian. But ſee now the Statute of 21 H. 8. cap. 15. which doth give remedy in all the ſaid Caſes, and gives them power to falſify all manner of Recoveries had againſt the Tenant of the Freehold upon feined Titles.

26. Husband and Wife, and to the Heirs of the Husband, the Remainder in tail, the Remainder to the right Heirs of the Husband, levy a Fine, and a Recovery is had againſt the Conuſee with Voucher, in which the Husband only is vouched, which Recovery is to the uſe of the Husband for life, the Remainder to the Wife for life, the Remainder to the right Heirs of the Husband, the Husband dyeth without Iſſue. It was adjudged in that Caſe, the common Recovery ſhould bar the Remainder in tail, becauſe the Husband came in as vouched, and is lawful Tenant to the Precipe, and ſo comes in in privity of the Eſtate, and not of any other eſtate, and the Recovery in value, giveth recompence to the Eſtate tail which the Husband hath, and to the Remainders over; And in this Caſe, it was ſaid, That the Wife had not a joynt eſtate with her Huſband, becauſe ſhe did not come in as Vouchee, and alſo becauſe the Inheritance was in the Husband. Cook 3. Part, 6. Cuppledicks Caſe. And ſee Plow. Com. in Mounſell's Caſe, 8. That if there be Tenant in tail, the Reverſion and Remainder in tail; and a common Recovery is had againſt him in the Remainder or Reverſion, that the ſame ſhall not bar the eſtate in tail, becauſe there is not any Tenant to the Precipe, but only by admittance and concluſion, which ſhall not bar the eſtate in tail. And ſee 8 Eliz. Dyer, 252. Tenant for life, and he in the Remainder in tail ſuffer a Recovery in which both vouch the common Vouchee, the ſame ſhall not bind the eſtate tail, becauſe the Tenant for life was only Tenant to the Precipe, and becauſe that he in the Remainder was not ſeiſed by force of the tail. False Judgment.

1. A Writ of Falſe Judgment is, where falſe Judgment is given in the County, or in the Hundred Court, or in a Court Baron, which is not a Court of Record in a Plea Reall or Perſonal: and the Writ is a Writ which iſſueth out of the Chancery. Fitz. Na. Br. 18.

2. By the Common-Law, If falſe Judgment had been given in a Court-Baron, it ſhould have been redreſſed in the Court of the Lord next Paramount, which was an Occaſion of long delayes: and therefore by the Statute of Marlbridge, Cap. 20. Falſe Judgment were to be redreſſed in the Common-Pleas, or Kings-Bench: and the reaſon was, becauſe upon a Falſe Judgment, the King was to have a Fine; And a Court-Baron and Inferiour Courts, which were not Courts of Record, could not impoſe any Fine: And becauſe the Suitors were to be annexed to the King, which the Inferiour Courts could not do. See Britton. 59. Regiſter. 15. acc.

3. If falſe Judgment be given upon a Juſticies directed to the Sheriff, the party grieved ſhall have a Writ of Falſe Judgment, and not a Writ of Errour, 34 H. 6. 42. But if the Writ be removed into the Kings-Bench by a Pone, and Judgment be given here, there the party ſhall have Errour, and not Falſe Judgment, becauſe the nature of the Court doth change the nature of the Writ.

4. In a Writ of Falſe Judgment brought, the Tenant did aſſign the falſe Judgment, becauſe the Demandant brought a Writ of Right Cloſe in the Court of the Lord, and thereupon recovered, and had Execution; and ſaid, That the Land was holden by the rodd, and that the Freehold was in the Lord, in which Caſe he ought to have ſued by Bill, and not by Writ. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Writ of Falſe Judgment would not lye: For if the ſame ſhould be reverſed by Errour, the Tenant ſhould thereby be reſtored to the Freehold which he did not loſe, and ſo the Freehold ſhould be deveſted out of the Lord; whereas the Plaintiff himſelf in his Declaration hath ſhewed, that the Freehold was in the Lord.

And it was ſaid, That although he hath the Inheritance according to the Cuſtome of the Manor; yet the Freehold is in the Lord. See 1 H. 4. and 4 H. 4. 34. Comment on Original Writs, 203.

5. A Writ of Falſe Judgment was brought in the Common-Pleas, of a falſe Judgment given in the Court of Auncient Demeſne in a Writ of Droit Cloſe proſecuted there in the nature of a Writ of Aiel, one of the Plaintiff's was Non ſuit and ſevered, and the other Suitors would not ſend the Record to the Sheriff; whereupon a Diſtreſſe iſſued againſt them: upon which, they brought the Record into Court, and there aſſigned many Errours in the Record of the Judgment (which ſee Libr.) The Court afterwards proceeded to the Examination of the Errours, and awarded, That the party ſhould be reſtored; but the Court gave no Coſts nor damages to the party: but the Suitors were amerced. Trin. 9 Eliz. Dyer 262.

6. In a Writ of Droit Cloſe brought in Auncient Demeſne, or in other Court which is not a Court of Record; If the Demandant's Writ be abated, and thereupon he bringeth a Writ of Falſe Judgment in the Common-Pleas, and there the Judgment is reverſed, and the Writ awarded good; he ſhall then hold plea of it in the Common-Pleas, in the nature of a Proteſtation made in the firſt Writ: and if the proteſtation in the firſt Writ was in the nature of an Aſſiſe of Mortdaunceſter, the Juſtices of the Common-Pleas, ſhall direct a Writ to the Sheriff, to ſummon the Jurours to come out of Auncient Demeſne into the Common-Pleas, and all the matter ſhall be tryed and determined there; and yet in ſuch Caſe, although that the Judgment be given in the Common-Pleas, yet the Land ſhall remain Auncient Demeſne as it was before. Mich. 3 E. 3. Fitz. Tit. Falſe Judgment. Fitzh. Na. Br. 20. acc.

7. If a Writ of Right be directed to the Lord of a Manor in Auncient Demeſne, or unto the Bayliffs; or a Juſticies be directed to the Sheriff; In all ſuch Caſes, the Lord of the Manor, Bayliffs, or Sheriff, although that the Plea be holden before them by the Kings-Writ, yet they are not the Judges, but the Suitors are the Judges: And the reaſon why the Writs are directed to them is, becauſe the Courts do belong to them: and although ſuch Courts do hold plea by Writ of Record, yet they do retain the nature of their former Courts, and they are not Courts of Record: for that upon a Judgment given in ſuch Courts, a Writ of Falſe Judgment lyeth, and not a Writ of Errour. Cook 6. Part, Jenkman's Caſe.

8. Tenant in tail levied a Fine of Land which was Auncient Demeſne, with Proclamations; A Formdon was brought of that Land within the Court of Auncient Demeſne, and the Defendant pleaded the Fine in barr of the Eſtate tail by the Cuſtome, and Judgment was given there accordingly: Whereupon a Writ of Falſe Judgment was brought in the Common-Pleas. It was a Queſtion in that Caſe, If the averring of the Cuſtome for barring of eſtate tails there was good againſt the Statute of Donis Conditionalibus: It was ſaid by the Court, That if the Judgment ſhould be reverſed for that Errour; yet the Judgment given here can be no other, but that the party be reſtored to his Action; and then if he ſhall bring a new Action, they will judg again according to their Cuſtome. Mich. 23 Eliz. Dyer 373.

9. A Writ of Falſe Judgment was brought of a Judgment given in the County Court, upon a Plaint there affirmed in an Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit; which Writ was brought onely to delay Execution of the Coſts and Damages; and the Record was thereupon removed: and afterwards the Plaintiff was Nonſuit; and a Scire facias was prayed out of the Common-Pleas to have Execution of the ſaid Judgment: and it was granted by the Court. Afterwards, a new Writ of Falſe Judgment was directed to the Juſtices of the Common-Pleas, Quod coram vobis reſidit: and Errour was aſſigned for awarding of Execution in the Scire facias. Mich. 16 Eliz. Dyer 329. And ſee 21 H. 6. 34. where the party had a Scire facias to have Execution out of the Common-Pleas upon a Non-ſuit, in a Writ of Falſe Judgment brought to reverſe a Judgment given in a Juſticies.

10. A man ſhall not have a Writ of Falſe Judgment, but in a Court where there are Suitors; for if there be no Suitors there, the Record cannot be certified. See Fitzh. Na. Br. 23. acc. And if a man loſeth his Land by Falſe Judgment in a Writ of Right in a Court Baron, he ſhall not have a Writ of Falſe Judgment, upon Judgment given there before the Demandant hath entred upon him. Which ſee, Mich. 38 E. 3:

False Imprisonment: and Imprisonment.

What shall be a good Barr, or a good Justification in an Action of False Imprisonment brought; What not. And by whom; and by whom not.

1. IN an Appeal brought, the Defendant was found guilty of Manslaughter; and the King pardoned him his burning in the hand. It was a Question, If thereby he was discharged of his Imprisonment, it being in case of Appeal? It was Resolved, That the Statute of 18 Eliz. did as well extend to the Case of Appeal, as to the Case of Indictment; for otherwise the party might be discharged of his punishment, and yet remain perpetually in prison: which was not the intent of the Statute. Trin. 41 Eliz. B. R. Cook 9. Part, 50. Biggin's Case.

2. By the Statute of 1 H. 7. Cap. 4. Archbishops, Bishops, and other Ordinaries, having lawful Jurisdiction Episcopal, to punish and chastise Priests, Clarks, and Religious men within their Jurisdiction, as shall be convicted before them by lawful examination, of Adultery, Fornication, Incest, might commit them to ward and prison, there to abide for such time as should be thought to their discretions convenient; and if any False Imprisonment were brought against the said Bishops or Ordinaries for the same, they might well Justifie the said Imprisonments of the said parties. See the Statute, 1 H. 7. Cap. 4. See Cook 5. Part, in the Case, of the King's Ecclesiastical Law, 27, 28. acc.

3. If a Capias (against whom it doth not lye by the Common-Law) be by the Court awarded to the Sheriff or Officer, against a Countesse or Baron, a Peer of the Realm: He ought not to examine the Judicial Act of the Court: but he ought to execute his Writ or Warrant. And if in such case he doth arrest and Imprison such party; an Action of False Imprisonment will not lye against the Sheriff or Officer; but he may justifie the Arrest or Imprisonment: But if the Sheriff, or his Officer or Minister doth arrest and imprison a Baron, Earl, or Countesse, upon a fained Action entred by them against them; there for such Arrest and Imprisonment, an Action of False Imprisonment will lye against the Sheriff or other his Officer, or Ministers. Cook 6. Part, 56. The Countess of Rutland's Case.

4. It was Resolved, That if a man be arrested in the Night, at the Suit of a Common person, by the Sheriff, Baily, or other Officer, and the party upon such arrest be carried to prison, the said Arrest and Imprisonment is justifiable; for the Officer or Minister of Justice ought to arrest the party when he can find him: for if he doth not then arrest him, an Action upon the Case will lye against the Sheriff or Officer. But it was Resolved, That the Sheriff, or Officer of arresting and imprisoning of a man, ought to shew unto him at whose Suit the Arrest is made, and out of what Court the Process is; and whether it be for payment of money, or appearance only in Court: but all those Circumstances are intended, when the party submits himself unto the arrest of the Officer: and in all such Cases of lawful arrest and Imprisonment, the same are good causes of Justification, if an Action of false Imprisonment be brought against the Sheriff, or other Officer, Cook 9. Part, 66. in Mackalley's Case.

5. An Action upon the Case upon an Assumpsit, was brought in the Marshalsey; whereas none of the parties were of the Kings household: The Plaintiff recovered, and the Defendants, by vertue of a Precipe in the Nature of a Capias ad satisfaciendum, arrested and imprisoned him: whereupon he brought his Action of false Imprisonment. It was Resolved, That the Arrest and Imprisonment were not justifiable, but the Action did well lye against the Defendants; because the Court had not Jurisdiction of the Cause; and so their proceedings were Coram non judice: but when the Court hath Jurisdiction of the Cause, although they proceed inverso Ordine, there for the Arrest and Imprisonment done by the Officer, an Action of false Imprisonment will not lye. Cook 10. Part, 68. The Case of the Marshalsea.

6. In an Action of False Imprisonment, the Case was, King Henry the 8th granted to the Colledg of Physitians in London, That none should exercise the Art of Physick within 7. or 7. miles thereof, unless he were allowed by the President of the Colledg; and that there should be 4. Censors yearly, who should have the punishment of those who practised Physick within the City, pro delictis suis in non bene exequendo faciendo, et mendo facultate Medicinæ by Fines, Amerciaments, and Imprisonments of their bodies. The said Charter was confirmed by Act of Parliament, and thereby further enacted, That no person should be suffered to practise Physick through England, untill he be examined at London by the President, and 3. of the Censors, Except he be a Graduate of Oxford or Cambridg, who had accomplished his Term without grace. And 1 Ma. Enacted, That when the President, or such of the said Colledg should commit any Offender for any offence or disobedience contrary to any Article in the said Grant, the Gaoler or Keeper of the Prison, was to receive such person, and keep them in prison without bail or mainprise. Bonham, a Doctor of Physick, Graduate in the University of Oxford, practised Physick in London, was Convented before the President and Censors, for his practising Physick contrary to the said Letters Patents, who refused to appear before them; but afterwards came before them, and being asked, If he would satisfie the Colledg for his disobedience? He said, That he had practised Physick, and would practise Physick in London, nulla à Collegio petita venia: For which, the President and Censors, by a Warrant sent him to the Counter of London, to remain without bail or mainprise. And thereupon, Bonham brought False Imprisonment. And in this Case, these Points were resolved, amongst others, 1. That the Censors had not power to commit Bonham to prison for any of the Causes aforesaid. 2. Because they had not pursued their authority, because by the Act, the Censors have only a power to impose a Fine, or Amerciament; and here President and Censors impose the Amerciaments: and Fines and Amerciaments do belong unto the King, and therefore the Imprisonment of the Plaintiff for not paying it to them in proximis Comitiis, was unlawful: also the Imprisonment was by word only, which was unlawful. Also it was said, No imprisonment could be by any but by those who could make a Record of it, which the President and Censors could not, nor their Officer could do in this case. And for these and other Causes, the Imprisonment of Bonham was not justifiable: and the false Imprisonment brought, was adjudged to lye well against the Defendants. Cook 8. Part, Dr. Bonham's Case, 94. to 121.

7. In False Imprisonment; the Defendant justified, That the Queen appointed the Term at St. Albans, and that the Mayor and Burgesses with the assent of the Plaintiff, did assesse upon every Inhabitant a certain sum of money for the erecting of Courts there: and if any one refused to pay it, that he should be imprisoned: and because the Plaintiff being a Burgess, did refuse to pay a sum assessed upon him the Defendant as Mayor, justified the Imprisonment of the Plaintiff: In that Case, It was adjudged to be no good Plea, because the Ordinance was made against the Statute of Magna Charta, Quod nullus liber homo imprisonetur. But it was Resolved in that Case, That the Mayor and Corporation might have imposed and inflicted a reasonable penalty upon the person by a sum of money, which they might have limited to have been paid by the Plaintiff by way of distress of his goods, by action of Debt, but not by Imprisonment of his person. Trin. 38 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 5. Part, Clark's Case.

8. If a Burgesse of a Corporation be disfranchised; and a Writ be awarded to the Mayor, &c. of the Corporation to restore the party, or to shew upon the Return of the Writ a sufficient cause; and they return a sufficient cause of his disfranchisement, but the Causes in the return are false: If the party for any of the said Causes returned by them, be committed to prison, or his Shop is shut up, which puts him by his Trade, he may have an Action of False Imprisonment against the Mayor, &c. and the Imprisonment of the party is not Justifiable: but in such Cases, the Causes of the disfranchisement ought to be pleaded. 13 Jac. in B. R. Cook. 11. Part, 99. Boggs Case.

9. In an Action of Battery and false Imprisonment, the Defendant justified and set forth; That the Mayor of London is a Justice of Peace, and that the Defendants were Sergeants of the Mace according to the Custome of L; and that A. the Mayor commanded them to arrest the Plaintiff for causes to them unknown, but to him known and to imprison him: In this Case it was holden by the Court, 1. That it doth not appear, whether he gave the command as a Justice of Peace, or as Mayor. 2. That a Justice of Peace cannot command his servant to arrest one without a Warrant in writing, in his absence. And it was said, That the Servant is not an Officer to the Mayor, as he is a Justice of the Peace, but the Constable: and because it did not appear to the Court, by what authority the Command was; viz. Whether he did it as Mayor, or as a Justice of Peace; the Imprisonment of the party by the Defendants, was not justifiable: and so the Action of False Imprisonment did well lye against the Defendants. Mich. 3 Jac. in B. R. Woody's Case. Brown. 1. Part, 204.

10. A Watchman by the Law may arrest and Imprison a Night-walker: and if a Watch-man doth arrest such a one, and he killeth him, the same is Murder, 4 H. 72. Cook 9. Part, 68. in Mackalley's Case.

11. A. procured one to convey the daughter of a Gentleman, and to marry her to a Ploughman in the night, and he procured a Priest, and was there present; for which he was excommunicate by the Ordinary of the Dioceese: and after absolution, he was for the same cause committed again to prison, by the High-Commissioners. It was holden by the Court in this Case, That matters concerning Tythes, Marriages or Testaments, are not examinable before them: and therefore becauſe the party in this Caſe had ſuffered once Impriſonment for the Offences aforeſaid; the new Impriſonment of the parties by the High Commiſſioners was not juſtifiable, and eſpecially becauſe the Statute of 23 H. 8. nor the Canon did not extend to the High Commiſſioners; and therefore the Court awarded that the Plaintiff ſhould be diſcharged. And in this Caſe, it was ſaid by the the Court, That the party might have maintained Falſe Impriſonment againſt him who arreſted him and Impriſoned him. Hil'. 6 Jac. in C. B. Perepoints Caſe. Godbo't. 158.

are

12. A. was committed to the Fleet for diſobeying a Decree made in the Court of Requeſts. It was made upon a Bill there containing this matter, viz. the Plaintiff pretending title, which the Defendant held to certain Lands, which were conveyed to him by his Uncle, upon a Petition, the matter was referred to the King, and at the inſtance of the King, the Defendant did promiſe the Plaintiff in the Bill, that if he would not moleſt him for any of thoſe Lands, he would give him 200 l. per annum, and to have this promiſe performed, a Bill was preferred in the Court of Requeſts: where, upon the Kings Certificate of ſuch a promiſe, the Decree was grounded, and he was impriſoned, and no other cauſe appeared upon a Habeas Corpus brought and returned into the Common-Pleas; the Court would not deliver the party, becauſe there appeared nothing in the Return to warrant the delivery of him, but ſaid, if the Impriſonment was unlawful, the party might have Falſe Impriſonment; and although it appeared that the party had remedy in this Caſe upon the promiſe by Action upon the Caſe; yet becauſe this was a new Caſe never before heard of, they ſaid they would adviſe, and being preſſed to grant a Prohibition to the Court of Requeſts, in this Caſe they refuſed to Grant it. Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. Sir Henry Leas Caſe. Godbolt. 199.

13. In falſe Impriſonment, the Defendant juſtified the Impriſonment for ſix hours, by vertue of a Warrant to the Sheriffs Bayliff to arreſt the party, and required the Defendant to be aſſiſting to him, and to detain him, untill diſcharged by the Sheriff. The Defendant demurred upon the Plea, becauſe the Writ being executed, was not returned; and the Writ is Conditional, viz. Ita quod Habeas Corpus tali die. The Court diſallowed of the Exception: For although it be true that the Sheriff ought to have returned the Writ, otherwiſe his juſtification is not good. Yet it is not ſo with his Servant, for that he hath no means to enforce the Sheriff to return it, and therefore that which the Defendant did, was legally done. And whereas it was alledged, That his diſcharge by parol was not good, the ſame alſo was diſallowed by the Court: For the Sheriff may diſcharge his Servant by word, that he keep not his Priſoner longer: It was adjudged for the Defendant. H ll. 2 Car. in B. R. Girlings Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 322.

14. In Falſe Impriſonment, That within the Court of the Marſhalſea of the Verge, there were divers Officers called, Portatores Virgarum; and that all Precepts, time out of mind, &c. had uſed to be directed to the Marſhal by himſelf, or by ſuch Officers by word of mouth, and ſhewed that he himſelf affirmed a plaint in the Court of Marſhalſea againſt the Plaintiff, in Treſpaſs within the Verge, and a Precept was award to take the Plaintiff ad habendum his body at the next Court, and that the Marſhal commanded one J. S. being Portator Virgæ to take the Plaintiff Ita quod, &c. and that the Defendant ſhewed the Plaintiff unto him, and came in aid of him, and ſo juſtified: Exception was taken to the Plea. 1. Becauſe the Preſcription is to hold Plea of all cauſes within the Verge, and it is not uſed between what perſons, and therefore not good; and it is againſt the Statute of 27 E. 1. that they ſhould hold Pleas, unleſs betwixt parties of the Kings Houſhold. 2. For that the Capias is returnable at the next Court, and it is not upon any day certain, and ſo he might be detained in Priſon a long while, not knowing when the Court would be holden. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the awarding of the proceſs was ill, and that he who was ſo Arreſted might maintain, Falſe Impriſonment. Paſc. 9 Jac. in B. R. Johns and Smith's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 314.

15. Treſpaſs for Arreſting the Plaintiff, and Impriſoning him, and detaining him in Priſon for the ſpace of a Moneth. The Defendant juſtified, becauſe ſuch a Sheriff of S. iſſued out, to take the Plaintiff till he ſatisfied the Kings Debt. And that by vertue of a Latitat at the ſuit of J. D. he took the Plaintiff in exitu ab Officio, and left him in Priſon to J. N. his Succeſſor: The Plaintiff replyed, That Quoad the Execution out of the Exchequer, there was a ſuperſedeas delivered to the Defendant, quod cum deliberaret ſive de cauſa et non alia fuit impriſonatus, and quoad his impriſonment at the ſuit of J. D. the Plaintiff in that ſuit commanded him to diſcharge him of that Action before his impriſonment, and releaſed the Sheriff of the Suit, and notwithſtanding this, the Defendant detained him. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Superſedeas was a good cauſe to diſcharge him, and he ought to obey it at his peril: And whereas it was objected, That the Sheriff was not bound to obey the Plaintiffs diſcharge upon the Latitat, becauſe he did not know whether it be the ſame party who made the diſcharge, and brought the Writ. Yet the Court held the Replication to be good.

good. For as well as the Sheriff may take knowledg of the party to Arrest him at his suit, he is to take knowledg of the party to accept of his discharge; And although in this Case, the Arrest was before his time, viz. in the time of the former Sheriff, yet in the Laws intention it is all one, and he is bound to take knowledg of the Plaintiff. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 12 Jac. in B. R. Withers and Healeyes Case. Cro. 2. Part, 379.

16. In an Action of False Imprisonment brought, It was the Opinion of the Court, That if an Action be brought against a Widdow, who is found Guilty, and before Judgment takes a Husband; That the Capias shall be awarded against her, and not against her Husband: And in this Case of subsequent marriage, If the Sheriff had returned she was now married, he would have falsified all the proceedings; and therefore it was Resolved, That the False Imprisonment was not maintainable. Trin. 11 Jac. in B. R. Doyley and Whites Case. Cro. 2. Part, 323.

17. In False Imprisonment, the Defendant justified, because the Plaintiff brought a Child of the age of six years, and not above, to the Parish Church of W. et eundem ibidem reliquere voluisset et intendisset without keeping or nourishing to the danger and destruction of the Child, et contra pacem, for which the Defendant being Constable of the Parish, arrested and Imprisoned him untill he did promise to carry the child to the place from whence it came, upon which the Plaintiff demurred. It was holden by the Court to be a great offence of the Plaintiff, but the same ought to be punished according to Law; but the Constable cannot imprison a Subject at his pleasure, but according to Law, that is to bring him before a Justice of Peace, there to be examined: But if the Plaintiff had pleaded, That he stayed the Defendant upon that matter, to have brought him before a Justice of the Peace, it had bin a good Plea: The Justices, though they were of Opinion against the Plea, yet would not give Judgment by reason of the ill example. Trin. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Beal and Carters Case. Leon. 327. See Popham 13. the same Case.

18. In an Action of Assault, Battering, and Imprisoning him: The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff Communitur usus fuit the Trade of Cheaters, and to cozen the Kings Subjects with false Dice, playing at such Games, and that such a time he came to the house of J. S. being a Justice of Peace; and the Plaintiff playing with the Defendant with false Dice, falsly deceived him of his money; upon knowing of which, he moliter layed his hands upon the Plaintiff, to carry him before the said J. S. Justice of Peace to be examined, who there upon examined him; who bound him over by Recognizance to appear at the next Sessions for the County, which was the same Assault and Imprisonment. It was moved in the behalf of the Plaintiff, That the Plea was not good, for one can not without an Officer for any cause, and that upon his own suspition only Arrest or Imprison or stay any one, unless for Felony: But the Court held the Plea to be good; For it is shewed that he was a common Cheater, and that he cozened with false Dice, and therefore the Defendant led him to a Justice, being in the same house; and it appears by the Plea, there was good cause of staying him, for he is afterwards endicted and convicted for the same offence: whereupon Judgment was entred for the Defendant. Mich. 7 Car. in B. R. Hollyday and Oxenbridges Case. Cro. 1. Part, 170.

19. One who was a Prisoner in the Kings Bench for Debt, having agreed with his Creditors, was discharged by them; yet Sir John Lenthal, the Keeper of the Prisoner, did keep still the Prisoner in Prison, untill he should pay him Action-money. The Court said to the party who moved that he might be discharged, That he had two remedies against Sir John Lenthal, for he might either bring his Action of False Imprisonment against him, or he might endict him for Extortion. Trin. 1655. in B. R. Webberly and Sir John Lenthall's Case. Styles 455.

20. Upon the Retorn of a Habeas Corpus, and the Certificate of the Mayor of Listerre in the County of C. of the cause of Imprisonment of the Plaintiff, he certified the cause to be Quia se male gessit, and for using undecent speeches to him, as calling him Lyar, and that in his Hall with a spit Insultum fecit et conatus fuit eum vulnerare. It was holden, 1. That the Retorn was not good for the generality of it; for he ought to have expressed what manner of contempt it was, as Cook 5. Part, 58. in Specots Case. And Cook 8. Part, 68. Trilops Case. Also the Retorn of it was not good, for the incertainty of it. It was said by the Justices, That the speeches used by the Plaintiff to the Mayor, were very unseemly speeches, and unfit to be used to such a person in Authority; yet the Mayor ought not to use such a kind of malitious Imprisonment of the Plaintiff in a Dungeon, (as the Case was) there to be kept without any bed to lye upon, or any bread or meat to eat: And it was said in this Case, That if the Constable do Arrest one and put him in the Stocks, yet he ought not to keep him there in the Stocks the space of 1 Week; no more might the Mayor do the Plaintiff so long as he did in this Case. It was the Rule of the Court, That the Plaintiff be set at liberty, and discharged of his Imprisonment. Mich. 11 Jac. in B. R. Hodges and Hawkins Case. Bolstr. 2. Part, 139.

21. In False Imprisonment against four Justices of the Peace; they justified, That 7. August 9 Jac. one Tompson, a learned Minister, came into the Church of S. in the County of York, to Preach there; and then and there the Plaintiff, with another with him besides the Churchwardens, layed violent hands on the Minister, and hindered his Preaching violenter et de industria et sic malitiose et contemptuose they did against the form of the Statute in that Case made and provided: and one of the Defendants said this upon apprehension of the Plaintiff, for this he was brought before him, being a Justice of Peace, and being convicted of the Offence by sufficient Witnesses, they sent him to Prison, according to the Statute; and upon this Replication the Plaintiff demurred in Law: The Case was often debated, and argued by all the Justices Seretim (which see in the book at large); and it was afterwards Resolved by the whole Court, That the Plea and justification of the Defendants was good, and the Plaintiff had no cause to demur, and so upon the whole matter, Judgment ought to be given for the Defendants, and against the Plaintiff; and afterwards Judgment was entred accordingly Quod Querens nihil Capiat per Billam. Trin. 20 Jac. in B. R. rott. 1647. Cresswick and Rookshyes Case. Bolstr. 2. Part, 47, to 55.

22. In an Action of False Imprisonment, the Defendant justified, and said London hath a Court of Record by Prescription, which was confirmed by Act of Parliament, and that he was one of the Serjeants of the Mace of that Court, and had a Warrant directed to him out of the said Court to arrest the Plaintiff pro quodam contemptu, for not paying 20 s. to K. B. and in pursuance of the said command, and he did arrest the Plaintiff, and so Justified. It was objected, That the Court was holden per Consuetudinem, and the Minister ought to obey their commands, and it is hard he should be punished for it. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Plea was not good, because too general and incertain to imprison pro quodam contemptu. And it is true, That the Officer for doing an Act by the command of the Court, be it just, or unjust, is excused; but that is in Case where the Court hath Jurisdiction; but it doth not appear in this Case, That the Court had jurisdiction of the cause, and then he obeying of the Court by the Officer, when they have not jurisdiction of the Cause doth subject the Officer himself to a false Imprisonment. Mich. 17 Car. in B.R. Dye and Olives Case. Mo. fo. 117.

23. Upon a Habeas Corpus by Alderman Langham, who was committed to Newgate by the Court of Aldermen. It was returned, That in London there is a Custome, That if any Freeman be elected Alderman, he ought to take an Oath, to serve the King in the Office of Alderman of a Ward, and he shall not sell Bread, Ale, Wine, Fish, &c. by retail, and if he refuse to take the Oath, That he shall be committed untill he take the Oath, and shewed that Langham was a Freeman of the City, & had taken the Oath of a Freeman, and was debito modo electus Alderman of such a Ward, and being called to Court, and the said Oath tendred him, he refused to take it, in contemptum Curiæ, et contra consuetudinem; and divers Exceptions were taken to the Return; and also it was insufficient for the matter, for he is imprisoned generally, and not untill he takes the Oath, and he Oath is such as takes a way the liberty of a Subject; and it is unreasonable, that he should never sell his goods by Retail; and a Custome to Imprison, is not good, for it is contrary to Magna Charta, as is Co. 5. Part, Clarks Case. 15 Eliz. Marshalls Case, in Mayors Reports, 15 Eliz. and also here is no notice given him that he was chosen Alderman. But it was Resolved, and many Presidents shewed, That the Custome was good, and that many persons had bin Imprisoned for refusing to take that Oath, as 36 H. 8. Thomas Whites Case, 1 Jac. Sir Thomas Middletons Case. 3 Jac. Sir William Bonds Case, all which persons were Imprisoned by the said Court for the same cause of refusal to take the said Oath: And the Court held, That here being a contempt refusing to take the Oath; the Court might Imprison the body for it without any Custome, for it is incident to a Court of Record to Imprison, and the Court of the Mayor and Aldermen, is a Court of Record; and therefore may Imprison without a Custome: but à fortiori where they have a Custome to warrant it; and the Customes of London are confirmed by Act of Parliament: Wherefore for these causes, and for many other causes appearing in the book at large, the Prisoner was remaunded. Mic. 17 Car. 1. in the Kings Bench. Alderman Langhams Case. Mayor. 179.

24. Sir William Bronker was brought before a Justice of Peace, and upon Information made, that he had cheated one at play with false Dice, the Justice required him to find Sureties for his good behaviour, and upon his refusal, committed him to Prison: He brought his Habeas Corpus, and upon return, all this matter appeared. It was the Opinion of the Court, That a Justice of the Peace cannot bind one to the good Behaviour upon a general Information, or commit him to Prison for refusing to find Sureties for his good Behaviour, upon such a general Information. Pasc. 23 Car. in B. R. Sir William Bronkers Case. Styles 16.

25. Action of False Imprisonment against the Defendant, and two other Justices of the Peace of the County of E. the Defendants justified by reason of the Statute of 1 Mariæ, That it should not be lawful for any person malitiously and contumeliously liously to moleſt or diſquiet any perſon or perſons which are Preachers, or hereafter ſhould be, prout in the Statute. The Plaintiff demurred upon the bar generally, and two Exceptions were taken to the pleading. 1. Becauſe the words of the Statute were miſ-recited, for the words in the Act are in the Diſjunctive, maliciouſly, or contumaciouſly: It was holden by the Court, That when the words precedent, and the words ſubſequent in the Diſjunctive are all one in ſenſe, that the Diſjunctive (Or) is all one with the Copulative (And): but where they are of divers natures, as (by Word or Deed) it is otherwiſe. The ſecond Exception was, That where the words are, By the greater part of the Juſtices, the recital was, By the better part of the Juſtices: But notwithſtanding theſe Exceptions, Judgment was given againſt the Plaintiff. Mich. 11 Jac. in B. R. Coſs and Stanhops Caſe. See before to the ſame purpoſe.

26. A man was Arraigned upon an Indictment of Murther, and was found guilty of Man-ſlaughter, for which he pleaded the general Pardon of 35 Eliz. The Queens Attorney ſaid, That in the Pardon there is an Exception of all perſons being in Priſon by the commandment of one of the Privy Councel; and ſaid, That the ſaid party was committed by the Lord Chamberlain a Privy Counſellor for ſuſpition of the ſaid Felony, and for the ſame was in Priſon at the time of the Parliament: To which the Defendant ſaid, That before the Parliament, and before the ſaid commitment by the Lord Chamberlain, he was brought by Habeas Corpus into this Court, and for the ſaid Offence, was committed to the Court of the Marſhalſea, and there remained till the time of the Parliament. It was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That if a man be committed by a Privy Counſellor, and removed by Habeas Corpus, and committed by this Court, he ſhall now be ſaid to be Impriſoned by the commitment of this Court, and not by the Privy Counſellor; and ſo the party was out of the Exception in the general Pardon, and ſhould have advantage of it. Hill. 43 Eliz. in B.R. Goldesbr. 133. Arundells Caſe.

27. A. being Impriſoned in the Marſhalſea, brought a Habeas Corpus, upon which it was returned, that he was committed to Priſon, the 18 day of Sept. laſt, by command of the Lords of the Council: The Warrant was, That he was committed for inſolent ſpeeches and behaviour at the Councel Table, the which Warrant was ſubſcribed by the Lord Keeper, and twelve of the Councel; and becauſe it was not mentioned in the return what the words were, that the Court might judg of them, the return was holden to be not ſufficient, and the party was bailed. Mich. 5 Car. in B. R. Chambers Caſe.

28. A. having a ſuit in the Kings Bench, coming to London, to proſecute his Suit, was committed to Newgate. Upon a Habeas Corpus, it was returned, That he was committed to his Cuſtody by Warrant from the Lord Chancellor of England, for certain matters concerning the King, there to remain till the Lord Chancellor delivered him. It was ſaid, That the Return was too general, for it ſhews not for what cauſes he is committed, and it might be for a cauſe which would not hinder him of his Priviledg. And the Return is, That he ought to remain there till delivered by the Lord Chancellor, which is very incertain in time, for ſo he might remain in Priſon during his life. The Court did not diſcharge the party, but ſaid, They would adviſe of the Return. Hill. 6 Jac. in B. R. Addis Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 219.

Feoffments.

1. By Deed; and the effect of them: What good thus, where not. Of the Incidents to Feoffments, Livery and Seiſin: What good; and of what, of what not; and by whom: Where by Attorney; and where all the Land ſhall paſs, by the Feoffment, where part only.

1. A. Had a Leaſe for years, the Remainder to B. his Son in tail, with divers Remainders over; the Leſſee made a Feoffment to divers, and a Letter of Attorney to others, with Commiſſion to enter into the Land, and to Seal the Feoffment, and deliver it in his name to the uſe of B. his Son in the Remainder, and his Heirs, and another by the command or Letter of Attorney of B. entred in his name. It was holden by the Court, That this was a good Feoffment, notwithſtanding that both the Leſſee, and the Attorney were Diſſeiſors, for it is good between the Feoffer and the Feoffee, for they ſaid, that by the Feoffment to the uſe of him in the Remainder, and his Heirs, if he in the Remainder enter, he is remitted, and the Eſtate for years is gone implicatively, for in all Caſes where the Freehold commeth to the Term, the Term is extinguiſhed.

2. If a Feoffment be made of Land, upon Condition to the uſe of another, but no Livery is made upon the Feoffment, but the ſame is enrolled of Record in the Chancery. It was Reſolved by the Court, That the ſame was no good Feoffment to paſſe the Land; but the enrollment ſhall conclude the perſon to ſay, that it was not his Deed. Mich. 35 Eliz. in C. B. Gibbons and Maltycra's Caſe. Popham 6. acc.

3. If a man make a Feoffment in Fee to J. S. upon Condition, that he ſhall not alien, it is a void Condition, but the Feoffment ſhall ſtand good, if Livery be made. But a Covenant made, that he ſhall not alien, may be good. See 13 H. 7. acc. And ſee, Hill. 17 Jac. B.R. Broad and Joyliff's Caſe, acc. Cro. 2. Part, 596.

4. If the Father make a Feoffment of Lands to his ſon and heir for a valuable Conſideration, the ſame is a good Feoffment; and ſhall not be taken to be with the Statute of Colluſion: where a man enfeoffes his Son without a valuable Conſideration. Mich. 9 Jac. in C.B. Hamond Strange's Caſe. Brownlow 1. Part, 102.

5. Note: There is a difference between Feoffments made at the Common Law, and Feoffments made by Ceſtuy que uſe, by force of the Statute of 1 R. 3. In the Caſe of a Feoffment at the Common-Law, the Feoffor ought to be ſeiſed of the Land at the time of the Feoffment; but if a Feoffment be made according to the Statute of 1 R. 3. in ſuch caſe, the Feoffor needeth not be in poſſeſſion of the Land. 2. Feoffments at the Common-Law give away both eſtates and rights; but Feoffments by the Statute of 1 R. 3. give the eſtate, but not the rights. 3. In caſe of Feoffments at the Common Law, the Feoffees are in, in the Per; viz. by the Feoffor: but in caſes of Feoffments by the Statute of 1 R. 3. the Feoffees are in, in the Poſt; viz. by the firſt Feoffees. M. 21 Jac. in the Court of Exchequer, in the Lord Sheffeild and Ratcliff's Caſe: holden accordingly. Godbolt. 318, 319, 320.

6. He in the Reverſion enfeoffed Tenant for life without Deed. It was holden by the Court, That the ſame ſhall enure firſt as a ſurrender of the Leaſe for life, and then as a Feoffment, like the Caſe, where Tenant for life ſurrendreth to the Grantee of the Reverſion. It ſhall enure firſt as an Attornment, and then as a Surrender. Paſch. 19 Eliz. Dyer 358.

7. Land was deviſed to the Father for life, the remainder to his firſt heir male: The Tenant for life made a Feoffment in Fee, and dyed; the next heir male was barred of his remainder for ever; for by the Feoffment, the eſtate for life was bound, that the remainder could never riſe during that eſtate; and ſo it muſt needs fall: and a Feoffment is a bar of all rights and poſſibilities of right. See Cook 1. Part, 66. See Albanie's Caſe, and Digge Caſe, Cook 1. Part, acc. And ſee, Hob. 337, 338. acc.

8. If there be Lord and Tenant, and the Tenant by Deed enfeoffes the Lord and a Stranger, and makes Livery to a ſtranger in the name of both: In this Caſe, If the Lord by word doth diſagree to the eſtate, it is of no validity to deveſt the eſtate; or if he entreth into the Land, and diſtraineth for the Services of his Seignory, it ſhall amount to a diſagreement to the Feoffment, and ſhall not deveſt the Freehold out of him: but if he enter into the Land generally, and take the profits, this act ſhall amount to an agreement to the Feoffment. Cook 3. Part, 26. in Butler and Baker's Caſe. See 10 E. 4. 12.

9. If Tenant for life, and he in the remainder in tail make a Feoffment by Deed, it ſhall not deveſt the reverſion or the remainder depending, becauſe it ſhall amount but to a grant of both their eſtates, and ſo it ſhall be a Feoffment determinable upon both their eſtates, and no abſolute Fee from the one or both, whatſoever the words import, the one conſtruction working by right, the other by wrong, which the Law will not admit, if the other may by any means ſtand. See Cook 1. Part, in Bredon's Caſe. Hob. in the Earl of Clanrickard's Caſe. 278. acc.

10. A man made a Leaſe for years of a houſe, and of a Cloſe ſevered from the houſe, and of other Land; and afterwards the Leſſor made a Feoffment of the houſe, and of all the Land demiſed, and made Livery and Seiſin in the Cloſe; the Leſſee being in the houſe. It was adjudged, That the Livery was void as well for the Cloſe, as for the houſe and the other Land. For it was Reſolved, That when a Meſſuage and Land are demiſed together, the Meſſuage is the principal, for the Rent ſhall be there demanded, and the Land is but the acceſſory, ſo as the poſſeſſion of the houſe is the poſſeſſion of the whole Land demiſed with it. 2. Perhaps the Leſſee durſt not come upon the Land to preſerve his poſſeſſion; but the houſe is his Caſtle, and therefore the poſſeſſion of that, is the poſſeſſion of all his other Lands: But if the Leſſee had made a Leaſe to another of any part of the Land demiſed, and the Leſſor had made Livery in that part, it had been good to paſſe that part; otherwiſe, if he had made but a Leaſe at Will of the part of the Lands demiſed. And in this Caſe, It was Reſolved, That by a Feoffment of the houſe cum pertinentiis, that the Buildings, Curtilage and Gardens did paſſe. Cook 2. Part, 32. Bettiſworth's Caſe.

11. Leſſee for years rendring Rent; The Leſſor made a Feoffment of the Land, and Livery: The Termor being upon the Land, and the Termor occupied the Land; It was a Queſtion, If the Feoffee ſhould have the Freehold and the Rent? It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Livery was good, becauſe the Leſſor had the Freehold, and the Leſſee had but a Term; which were diſtinct things: and that the Feoffee ſhould have the Rent; but otherwiſe it is, in the caſe of a Leaſe for life. But Baldwin and Fitzherbert held, in ſuch caſe, That there muſt be an agreement of the Leſſee for years, becauſe the Leſſor had nothing to do with the poſſeſſion during the Term. Paſch. 29 Eliz. 8. Dyer 33. And in this Caſe it was holden, That if the Lord diſſeiſe the Tenant, and maketh a Feoffment in Fee, and the Tenant re-entreth; that the Feoffee ſhall have the Rent. See 46 Eliz. 3. 25.

12. Note: It was ſaid by Mounſon, Juſtice, That it was adjudged in the Lady Simpſon's Caſe, That if a Feoffment be made by him in the Reverſion, and Livery be made in the abſence of the Tenant for life, that the Fee will not paſſe. Hill. 17 Eliz. Dyer 340.

13. In a Replevin, the Defendant made Conuſans as Bayliff of J. S. for Damage feaſant, ſuppoſing a Leaſe to be made to his Maſter for years, by King Ed. the 6th: The Plaintiff ſaid, That long before the Leaſe, the Abbot of S. was ſeiſed in the right of his Church, and with the aſſent of his Covent by Indenture demiſed to him for life after the death of A. and B, and that they dyed; and the Leaſe was Teſtatur; That the Abbot and Covent demiſerant to the Plaintiff for life prout: the Defendant Demurred upon the Barr to the Avowry, becauſe there was neither Livery, or Attornment pleaded by the Plaintiff; and alſo becauſe the Plaintiff had not alledged, That the Abbot and Covent demiſerant, but the Indenture is onely Teſtatur: and for theſe defects for want of pleading Livery, and for not pleading the Demiſe, but only Teſtatur; Judgment was given for the Defendant, that he ſhould have Return of the Cattel irrepledgeable. Paſch. 3 Ma. Dyer 117. Sentlers Caſe.

14. A man delivers a Charter of Feoffment upon the Land; It is made a Quære, 38 Aſs. 2. 39 Aſſ. 12. Cook 9. Part, 137. if the ſame doth amount to a good Livery? But if he ſaith, Have and enjoy this Land according to the effect of the Deed, it ſeems to be a good Livery: And ſo it is, If after the delivery of the Deed upon the Land, he ſaith, Enter into this Land, God give you joy of it; It doth amount to a good Livery. See 41 E. 3. 17. 35 H. 6. Br. Feoffments, 74.

15. A man had Iſſue two Sons, and by Deed, in Conſideration of Marriage, gave the Land to his younger Son, and to his heirs after his death, but no Livery was made: the Father dyed; the eldeſt Son entred, and was ouſted by the younger Son. It was Objected, That the Eſtate paſſed to the younger Son by way of Covenant to raiſe an Uſe. But it was Reſolved, That it ſhould not enure by way of Covenant, to raiſe an uſe to the younger Son; but by the word [Give] it ſhould be taken to paſſe an Eſtate by way of tranſmutation of poſſeſſion; which is not good, if Livery be not made: But where the Caſe was, Stand forth Euſtace, Reſerving an Eſtate to my ſelf and my Wife, I do give thee my Lands: It was the better Opinion of the Court, That the ſame being done upon the Land, had amounted to a Livery, Mich. 26 Eliz. Callad and Callard's Caſe. And in the principal Caſe, It was adjudged, That if Livery had been made, it had been void, becauſe that an Eſtate of Freehold cannot begin at a day to come. 15 Car. in B. R. Pitfield and Percies Caſe, Mich 50.

16. Tenant in tail of Lands entred into the houſe which was built upon it, and ſaid; Brother, I here demiſe unto you my houſe as long as I live, paying 20 l. a year to me, and finding me my board, and waſhing, and keeping a horſe. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the ſame was not an Eſtate for life, becauſe there wanted Livery; and to every Livery, an act is requiſite, which the Law ſhall adjudge Livery, or apt words which do amount unto it: but if he had delivered a Twig or any thing which came of the Land, it had been a good Livery. Cook 6. Part, 26. Shef's Caſe.

17. If a Leaſe be made for years, the Remainder over, and the Leſſee entreth without Livery, the Reverſion is in the Leſſor; otherwiſe it is, when Livery is made: But if a Leaſe be made for years, to begin at Mich. following, the remainder in Fee, and Livery be made accordingly; yet it doth not paſſe, becauſe that is no Eſtate preſent upon which the Livery may enure, by Brown, Juſtice. Plo. Com. 156. a.

18. If Tenant for life maketh a Feoffment in Fee of an Acre of Land, whereof he is ſeiſed in Fee; and of another Acre, wherein he hath an Eſtate but for term of life, and he makes Livery on that of which he is ſeiſed in Fee in the name of both; there the ſame is a good Livery, and both the Acres ſhall paſſe; but if the Livery be made in that wherein he hath but an eſtate for Term of life, the Livery doth not paſſe that Acre. See 9 H. 7. 25. acc.

19. If a man make a Leaſe to another for 40 years to him and his heirs, and makes Livery; It was the Opinion of Clench, Juſtice, that the ſame is but a Leaſe for years; for that it is not properly a Livery.

a Livery, but a giving of the poſſeſſion. Mich. 28 Eliz. in B. R.

20. The delivery of the Deed of Feoffment upon the Land, doth not amount to a Livery and Seiſin of the Land, becauſe it hath operation to take effect as a Deed: But if a man delivers the Deed upon the Land, by name of Seiſin of the Lands contained in the Deed; the ſame is a good Livery and Seiſin of the Land: and the delivery of any thing upon the Land in the name of Seiſin of the Land, although it be a thing which doth not concern the Land, as a gold Ring, &c. yet it is a good Seiſin of the Land. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 48. 2.

21. If a man make a Feoffment to J. S. and J. D. and their heirs without Deed; And A. makes Livery to J. S. in the abſence of J. D. in the name of both, and to their heirs; It is a void Livery to J. D, becauſe a man being abſent, cannot take a Freehold by a Livery, but by his Attorney lawfully authorized by Deed to receive the Livery, unleſſe the Feoffment be made by Deed; and then the Livery to one in the name of both, is good, becauſe the Feoffment being made without Letter of Attorney, or Deed, it is uncertain whether or no he conſented thereunto: which is apparent, by ſealing the Letter of Attorney or Deed: and a Livery and Seiſin requires words to expreſſe it, and alſo ceremonies, to the end it may be certainly known what is intended by it. And a man abſent, can neither take nor make Livery without a Deed. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 49. and 359.

22. The poſſeſſions of the Abbot of Combe, came to King Hen. 8. divers parcels of them being in Leaſe for years; The King made a Leaſe for life of them all to the Dutcheſſe of Richmond, and dyed: King Ed. 6. granted the Reverſion, the Grantee made a Feoffment of the whole, and made a Letter of Attorney to make Livery; the Attorney made Livery in one parcel in Leaſe, in the name of the whole, without attornment or agreement. It was holden by ſome of the Juſtices, That the Attorney was a Diſſeiſor, and the Livery made by him was not good: But other Juſtices held the contrary: So it was not Reſolved, If a good Livery to paſſe the Land. Paſch. 3 Eliz. Dyer 130. But now that doubt is Reſolved. For, ſee Cook 2. Part, in Bettiſworth's Caſe, it is Reſolved, That in that Caſe the Livery was void for the whole.

23. Note. It was holden by Dyer and Wray, Juſtices, That if Leſſee for years makes a Deed of Feoffment by the words, Dedi conceſſi & Confirmavi, and maketh Livery by a Letter of Attorney, the Leſſor being upon the Land, That the Land ſhall paſſe by the Feoffment and by the Livery made by the Attorney: and it ſhall not paſſe as a grant only of the Term. Paſch. 23 Eliz. Dyer. 362. 18 Eliz. Dyer 354. See 30 Eliz. Dyer 272. and Perkins, 45. acc.

24. A man made a Feoffment by a Letter of Attorney and Livery of a Meſſuage in D; which was Robert Cottons, and in Deed the Meſſuage was Tho. Cottons; yet in reſpect Livery was made of it, the Feoffment was holden good; and the miſtake of the name of the perſon ſhall not make void the Feoffment and Livery. Paſch. 23 Eliz. Dyer 376. See to that purpoſe, Cook 2. Part, 32. Doddington's Caſe, and the Opinion of Hobert, Chief Juſtices. Hill 12. Jac. in C. B. in Stables and Butlers Caſe. Hob. 171.

25. A man who is diſſeiſed, makes a Feoffment in Fee, and makes a Letter of Attorney to enter and take poſſeſſion, and afterwards to make Livery ſecundum formam Charta; It was holden by the Court, That the ſame was a good Feoffment, although he was out of poſſeſſion at the time: for the Authority of the Attorney being executory, nothing paſſed untill the Livery and Seiſin was made, Hill. 37 Eliz. in C. B. Brown and Terrey's Caſe, vouch. in Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 48. b.

26. A. ſeiſed of Lands, made a Feoffment to the uſe of himſelf for life, the remainder to the uſe of J, father of the Plaintiff, in tail: A. dyed, J. entred, and by Indenture by words of Bargain and Sale, without any words of Dedi & Conceſſi, conveyed the Lands to the uſe of J. S. in Fee, and in the ſame Indenture was a Letter of Attorney to make Livery; which was made accordingly: and the ſaid J. S. by the Indenture Covenanted, That if J. ſhould dye before ſuch a day, then if J. ſhould pay before ſuch day to J. S. 40 s. that then the ſaid J. S. and his heirs ſhould ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of the ſaid J. and his heirs: and if the ſaid J. did not pay the ſaid &c. then if J. S. did not pay to the ſaid J. within 4. dayes after 10 l, then the ſaid J. S. and his heirs from thenceforth ſhould be ſeiſed to the uſe of the ſaid J. and his heirs. Each party failed of payment, J. levied a Fine to J. S. without any Conſideration. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, upon this matter, a good Feoffment well executed by Livery, notwithſtanding that the words of the Conveyance are only by Bargain and Sale; and that the Covenant to be ſeiſed to the uſes upon payment, and not payment being in one and the ſame Deed, ſhould raiſe the uſe upon the Contingency, according to the limitation of it. Trin. 26 Eliz. in B. R. Benecombe and Parker's Caſe. Leon. 25.

27. If an Idoot or non Compos mentis, make a Feoffment in Fee in perſon, and dyeth his heir within age, he ſhall not be in Ward; Or if he dyeth without heir, the Land ſhall not Eſcheat; but if the Feoffment be made by Letter of Attorney; although the Feoffor ſhall not avoid the ſame; yet after his death, as to all others in Judgment of Law, the Eſtate was void; and therefore in ſuch caſe, if his heir be within age, he ſhall be in Ward; or if he dyeth without heir, the Land ſhall eſcheat: and ſo it is in the caſe of an Enfant, If he maketh a Feoffment in perſon, if he dyeth without heir, the Land ſhall not eſcheat: but otherwiſe it were, if it were made by Letter of Attorney; but the Enfant himſelf ſhall not avoid it, but others ſhall. Cook 4. Part, 125. in Beverley's Caſe.

28. If a man make a Leaſe to A. and B. for years, the remainder to C. for life; In this Caſe, the Leſſor ought to make Livery to A. and B. before their Entry; and by the Livery to A. and B, C. ſhall take preſent eſtate by way of Remainder by force of the Livery made to the Leſſee for years. See Litt. 12. And it is there ſaid, That there is a difference betwixt two Joynt-Attorneys, who have an expreſſe authority to take Livery and Seiſin by Deed, and two Joynt-Leſſees, who have power to receive Livery for the benefit of another by warrant of Law: for Livery made to one Attorney in the name of both, is not good; for he doth not follow his expreſſe warrant, for he alone hath no warrant, and they both make but one Attorney: But in caſe of two Joynt-Leſſees, there the Livery made to one in the name of both, is good, for they have an Intereſt in the Land before their entry; and Livery to one in the name of both, maketh actual poſſeſſion in both; which is ſufficient to ſupport the remainder in C: and in the one Caſe, the Livery is made to the Leſſees who have Intereſt; and in the other, to him who maketh the warrant of Attorney by his Attorneys which have but a Law-authority. And although Livery cannot be made to one in the name of him that is abſent, whereby any eſtate of Freehold ſhall paſſe to him that is abſent without Deed, becauſe his eſtate is onely to begin by the Livery: yet when a Leaſe is made to two without Deed, the remainder for life, the Leſſees preſently have an Intereſt in the Land before Livery made; and therefore Livery made to one who hath an Intereſt in the name of him, and the other, is good and ſufficient to that purpoſe. Trin. 39 Eliz. in the Exchequer, Cook 5. Part, 95. Barwick's Caſe.

29. A Copyholder in Fee made a Letter of Attorney to two Tenants of the Manor, to ſurrender his Copyhold to the uſe of J. S. and his heirs, who at the next Court brought the Surrender in Court, and did accordingly; no Cuſtome being found to warrant ſuch Surrender: It was Reſolved, 1. That the Surrender was good, becauſe he might do ſo de Communi jure without alledging of any Cuſtome. 2. Reſolved, That the Attorney ought to purſue the manner and form of the Surrender. 3. Reſolved, That when any one hath an authority to do an Act, he ought to do the ſame in the name of him who gives the authority. And it was Reſolved, That in the principal Caſe, the Attorneys had purſued their authority: for when they had ſhewed their Surrender in Court, then authoritas eis per praedict. Literas attornat. they Surrendred; which is a good purſuit: for it is no more then if they had ſaid, We as Attorneys do ſurrender, &c. Cook 9. Part, 76, 77. Combes Caſe.

30. The Lord Dacres Caſe was this; William Lord Dacres made a Feoffment in Fee to Thomas and Leonard Dacres his Sons, upon Condition, to make a Feoffment over to Thomas Dacres, and to one Middleton: But it ſo happened, That before William had delivered his Deed of Feoffment to Thomas and Leonard, that they had delivered their Deed to Parſon Dacres and Middleton, with a Letter of Attorney to one to make Livery. Afterwards, William delivers his Deed, Livery was then by vertue of the Letter of Attorney. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the Livery was void, becauſe at the time of their Feoffment they had nothing to paſſe: For if a man makes a Feoffment in Fee, and a Letter of Attorney to one to make Livery, before himſelf hath any eſtate to paſſe, ſuch a Livery made is cleerly void. The Lord Dacres Caſe vouch. in Butler and Finches Caſe. Bulſt. 2. Part, 302, 303.

2. Where a man ſhall plead a Feoffment by the name Compriſed in the Deed, and the Land ſhall paſſe, although miſ-named; Where not. Where, of Acres by the name of a Manor; Where not.

1. IN a Writ of Entry in le quibus of 70. Acres of Lands in H, the Tenant pleaded, That J. S. was ſeiſed in Fee, and demiſed the Land to him for life: The Demandant entituled himſelf, abſq; hoc quod J. S. demiſit modo et forma. And it was found, That J. S. and 6. others were ſeiſed of the ſaid 70 Acres, and of a houſe in H. to the uſe of G; which houſe and Lands had been from time to time called by the name of W; and that the ſaid J. S. and the others, joyned in a Leaſe of the ſaid houſe, called W, with the appurtenances to the Tenant: It was holden by the Court, That the ſaid 70 Acres did paſſe with the ſaid houſe, by the per nomen of the houſe called W, with the appurtenances. Hill. 5 Ma. Dyer 158.

2. An Aſſiſe was brought of Lands in Middleſex; The Defendant pleaded a Leaſe for years to him him made by one F. by the name of a Meſſuage in Surrey, and of all the Land lately with that demiſed, and averred that to be the Land in the Plaint. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices upon the Leaſe for years, the Lands in both Counties ſhould paſs, but otherwiſe of an Eſtate for life, for that there muſt be ſeveral Liveries: But the Court agreed, It had bin a better form to have pleaded, That F. was ſeiſed aſwell of the Lands in view, as of the houſe and demiſed, &c. per nomen, &c. Hill. 8 Eliz. Dyer, 248. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 228. See Cook 10. Part, in Dr. Leyfields Caſe.

3. A Prior made a Leaſe for life of the Demeans of a Mannor rendring rent; the Priory came to the King by the Statute of Diſſolution: and the King after the Diſſolution, made a Leaſe of the Mannor. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That by the Leaſe of the Mannor, the Rent and the Reverſion of the Demeans did paſs. M. 7 Eliz. Dyer, 233.

4. In an Ejectione firmæ, a Leaſe was pleaded of a Mannor; and Iſſue was joyned, Quod non demiſit Manerium, and a ſpecial Verdict was given, ſcil. That there were not any Freeholders, but divers Copyholders of the ſaid Mannor; and that the ſame was known by the name of a Mannor. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That although the ſame was not a Mannor in Law for want of Freeholders, and although the ſame was in pleading in an Action adverſary, and not amicable: Yet becauſe the Iſſue was found, and that in truth the Lands did paſs by the Leaſe, it was adjudged for him who pleaded the Demiſe of the Mannor. 23 Eliz. in B. R. Vints and Durhams Caſe.

5. The Lady M. Tenant for life of the Mannor of B. the Remainder in Fee to the Lady Finch, ſhe, and S. her Husband, and D, levyed a Fine to one of the Demeſnes, who grants and renders to D. for 50 years, the Reverſion to S. and his Wife, and her Heirs, with Proviſo in the Deeds, which directed the Fine, That the Reverſioner ſhall enter and hold Court: And it was averred, That this was known by the name of the Mannor of B. D. maketh his Son of three years of age, his Executor, and Adminiſtration was committed to T. S. and his Wife levy a Fine of all the Lands of the Wife in K. except the Mannor of B. to the uſe of the Wife for life, the Remainder to Sir Moile Finch. R. T. demiſeth to P. L. for 10 years: The Lady M. dyeth, P. L. entereth by vertue of a power and Revocation of new Uſes. S. with the aſſent of the Lady Finch his Wife, limiteth the Uſes to one who ouſteth P. L. and maketh a Feoffment to the uſe of the Lady Finch for life, the Remainder to H. F. in tail. P. L. re-enters, the Lady Finch dyeth, and H. F. for Rent behind, diſtreyns. There were many points Reſolved in this Caſe, which ſee Librum: amongſt which, one was, That at the time of the making of the Indentures, there was a Mannor in truth in the Lady M. for Term of her life, which was ſufficient to ſupport the name of a Mannor, and to make the Demeans and Services to paſs by that name; and there was no impoſſibility or repugnancy in the averment, that it was known and reputed a Mannor, for the avowant might have preſcribed, that the Demeans and Services have paſſed time out of mind, and have bin known by the name of a Mannor, for before the Fine it was ſo in truth; and after the Fine in reputation, Cook 6. Part, 63. Sir Moile Finches Caſe.

6. In an Ejectione firmæ, the Plaintiff declared of a Demiſe of 300 Acres of Lands per nomen Manerii, Habendum Manerium, et cætera premiſſ. virtute cujus in Manerium et cætera premiſſ. intravit. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was well enough; but it had bin better if he had pleaded that intravit into the 300 Acres of Land. Mich. 14 Eliz. Dyer, 304.

7. The Mannors of A. and B. did lye in Dale and Sale: A Fine was levyed of the ſaid two Mannors inter alia, by the name of the Mannors of A. and B. 50 Meſſuages, 300 Acres of Land, 300 Acres of Meadow, cum pertinenciis in diſtis villis, with a render of a Rent of 50 l. per annum, with clauſe of diſtreſs in diſtis Maneriis, to the ſaid Husband and Wife for their lives, the Remainder to F. their Son in tail, the Remainder to the Wife and her Heirs: The Husband and Wife dyed: the Rent diſcended to F. as Son and Heir of the Wife. It was Objected, That the ſaid Rent was granted out of the ſaid Lands and Mannors, for the Fine is levyed of the two Mannors: And whether the Rent ſhould go out of the two Mannors only, or out of them and the other Lands, was the Queſtion. Fenner Juſtice held, That the Per nomen ſhould go to the Mannors only, and ſhould not extend to the inter alia. For if a man in pleading ſaith, That I. S. was ſeiſed of 20 Acres of Land, and thereof (inter alia, did enfeoff him per nomen of Green-mead) the ſame ſhall not have reference to the inter alia, but only to the 20 Acres. But Clench and Gawdy Juſtices were of Opinion, That the Per nomen ſhould go as well to the Inter alia, as to the two Mannors, and that the Per nomen by the Fine, doth refer to all, which ſhews that other Lands paſſed by the Fines, then the two Mannors; and ſo ſhould be charged with the Rent, as well as the ſaid two Mannors. Trin. 33 Eliz. in B. R. Weſton and Garsons Caſe. Lans. 254, 255.

3. Feoff-

3. Feoffments to Uſes; and to the uſe of his Will, how they ſhall operate, and be taken, and the conſtruction of them.

1. HE E who is ſeiſed of Land, hath not only the Eſtate of the Land in him, but he hath alſo the right to take the profits, which is in the nature of an uſe: and therefore when he makes a Feoffment in Fee, without valuable conſideration, to divers particular uſes, ſo much of the uſe as he diſpoſeth not of, is to him, as his ancient uſe in point of Reverter: As if a man be ſeiſed of two Acres, the one holden by Knight-Service in priority, and the other by the ſame Service in poſteriority; and maketh a Feoffment in Fee of both Acres, to uſe of himſelf and his Heirs, the old uſe continueth in him, and the priority and poſteriority doth remain. So it is of Lands of the part of the Mother: For if one maketh a Feoffment in Fee of them, to the uſe of him and his Heirs, the uſe ſhall go to the Heirs on the part of the Mother: And ſo it is of Lands of the Cuſtome of Gavelkind, Borough Engliſh, &c. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 23. acc.

2. In Debt b ought upon an Obligation, The Condition of which was, to make an aſſurance of ſuch Lands to ſuch uſes as were in the ſaid Condition expreſſed: the Defendant pleaded, That he had made a Feoffment of the ſame Lands to other uſes then were in the Condition expreſſed, which the Plaintiff had accepted of; upon which Plea, the Plaintiff did demur in Law. And it was holden by the Court to be no good Plea, for that he ought not to vary from the uſes limited in the Condition. H ll. 14 Jac. in C. B. Potter and Tompſons Caſe. Brownlow 1. Part, 60.

3. In the Caſe between the Earl of Bedford, and Eliz. and Ann, the Daughters of John late Lord Ruſſell, the Caſe was: Francis Earl of Bedford made a Feoffment in Fee of the Manor of D. to the Lord St. John, and others, to the uſe of himſelf for 40 years, and after to the uſe of John his ſecond Son, and the Heirs Males of his body, and for want of ſuch iſſue, to the uſe of the right Heirs of the Feoffor for ever. Afterward Edward Lord Ruſſell, Heir apparant of the Earl, dyed without Iſſue of his body, having iſſue the ſaid Eliz. and Ann. Afterwards the ſaid Francis by Indenture between him and the Earl of Cumberland, and others for the advancement of the Heirs Males of the body of the ſaid Earl, and eſtabliſhing of his Mannors in his bloud, Covenanted with the Covenanters, to ſtand ſeiſed of the ſaid Mannor, to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after his deceaſe, to the uſe of Francis Lord Ruſſell, and the Heirs Males of his body; and for default of ſuch iſſue, to the uſe of Sir William Ruſſell his youngeſt ſon, and the Heirs Males of his body, with divers Remainders over: Afterwards Francis Lord Ruſſell dyed, having iſſue Edward now Earl of Bedford, and after he dyed: and if the Daughters of the ſaid John Lord Ruſſell, or the now Earl of Bedford ſhould have the ſaid Mannor of D. was the Queſtion. This Caſe was long debated in the Court of Wards. It was at laſt Reſolved, That the Daughters ſhould not have the ſaid Mannor, but the now Earl, principally upon this reaſon, That there was no right Heir to take as purchaſor when the mean eſtate tail was determined, which was by the Lord John dying without Iſſue Male, for they agreed, that the Remainder to the right Heirs, if it be a Remainder, cannot be preſerved by the mean eſtate for years, for it ought to be a Freehold at the leaſt, which ought to preſerve ſuch a Remainder until there be one to take it by name of a Purchaſor as right Heir. Mich. 34 and 35 Eliz. in the Court of Wards. The Earl of Bedford and the Lady Eliz. and Ann Ruſſells Caſe. Popb. 3.

4. A. ſeiſed of Lands holden in Socage, made a Feoffment thereof to F. his Son, in this manner, viz. to him and the Heirs of his body, to the uſe and behoof of him and his Heirs for ever: In this Caſe, two points were Reſolved. 1. That this was but an Eſtate in tail, and no Feeſimple. If at the Common Law, If a Feoffment was made to one, and the Heirs Males of his body, it was a Feeſimple Conditional; and afterwards, when the limitation is to the uſe of him and his Heirs, theſe are ſuch Heirs as were named before: and it was ſaid, That if a man be ſeiſed of Land to him and his Wife, and to the Heirs of him; who levyes a Fine without conſideration, it ſhall be to the uſe of ſuch Heirs as the eſtate was before. 2. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That Tenant in Tail cannot ſtand ſeiſed to an uſe. See Plow. Com. 555. In Walſingham's Caſe. It is ſaid by Manwood, That if one be ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, and at this day makes a gift in tail to one, to the uſe of another in Fee, that the Ceſtuy que uſe hath a Feeſimple determinable upon the eſtate tail, and the Donor another. But note there by Plowden, that cannot be ſo by Law, for that an uſe cannot be limited upon an eſtate tail. See 24 H. 8. br. Feoffment to uſes. 40. See Cook 2. Part, 78. acc.

5. Note, by Cook Chief Juſtice, if a man make a Feoffment in Fee to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after his deceaſe, to every one of his Iſſues Females, and to the Heirs of their bodies, and after to the Issue of one Daughter for one time, of a second Daughter at another time, and of another Daughter at a third time; so that this doth vest severally in them; yet afterwards in them all, that in this Case, they are Joynt-Tenants, and yet they come in at several times. See in the Case of Blanford and Blanford. Mich. 13 Car. Bolstr. 3. Part, 101.

6. If a man seised of Lands in Fee, makes a Feoffment in Fee to the use of such person and persons, and for such estate and estates as he shall appoint by his Will: In that Case it was holden, That by operation of Law, the use vests in the Feoffor, and he is seised of a qualified Fee, viz. until declaration and limitation be made according to his power: and so when a man makes a Feoffment to the use of his last Will, he is in the mean time seised to the use of him and his Heirs. Cook 6. Part, 18. in Sir Edward Clere's Case.

7. Upon Evidence to a Jury upon an Issue, if a Will or no Will; the Case was, A Copyholder surrendred to the use of his last Will, and whether the Land did pass by the surrender, or by the Will, was the Question. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Will is only Declaratory, declaring the uses of the surrender, and nothing doth pass by the Will, but all by the surrender, like the Case where one Covenants to stand seised to the use of his last Will, or makes a Feoffment to the use of his last Will, nothing passeth by the Will, but by the Feoffment: the Issue in the principal Case was, Condidit Testamentum necne, and not Condidit Testamentum modo et forma, for si Condidit tunc declaravit, si non condidit, non declaravit, as was said by Williams Justice: And in the principal Case, the Jury found that he made the Will. Pasc. 10 Jac. in B. R. Semains Case. Bolstr. 1. Part, 200.

Feesimple. See more Title Estates.

What are sufficient words to create a Feesimple; What not. Of Base Fee, and Fee determinable; and where an Estate of Freehold shall be discendable; Where distinct Fees in one and the same Land: And where one Feesimple may depend upon another; where not.

1. A Man had Issue three Children, viz. A. B. and C. and by his Will Devised, That after his Debts paid, he giveth all his Goods, Lands, and Moveables, unto his three Children equally betwixt them. Two points in the Case. 1. What estate the Children had. 2. Whether they were Joynt-Tenants, or Tenants in Common. It was Resolved for the first point, That they have Estates but for their lives: for consideration of bloud is not so effectual consideration, as consideration of money. For if I Bargain and sell my Land for consideration of money, without expressing any estate, the Bargainee hath a Feesimple: but if in consideration of natural affection, I Covenant to stand seised to the use of my Son, and do not express any estate, the Son is but Tenant for life; and the Court doubted if any Land did pass, for the Will is, That after all his Debts paid, he giveth all his Lands; and therefore if any Lands should pass, they were only such as were lyable to debts, and no other should pass; and if the Devisor had a Term, then that no Land at all should pass. But for the second point, all the Court agreed, That they were Tenants in Common; but if the Lands had bin devised to two equally to be divided betwixt them, then they had bin Joynt-Tenants. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Dickons and Marshes Case. Goldesbr. 183.

2. Cestuy que use after the Statute of 27 H. 8. devised Land to his Wife for life, and after her decease, that his eldest Son should have the Land 10 l. under the price it cost, and if he dyed without Issue of his body, then his two Daughters should have the Land, paying the value thereof to the Executors of his Wife. The Question was, What Estate the Son had in the Land after the death of the Wife: It was objected, That he should h[ave] but an Eſtate in tail in the Land, and that ſubject to the Condition; and Frenchmans Caſe, 2 Eliz. Dyer, and 34 Eliz. one Atkins Caſe, were vouched to that purpoſe; but the Court inclined to be of Opinion, That he had a Feeſimple in the Land diſcharged of the Condition, for that if the Woman had died inteſtate, there was no perſon to whom the payment ought to be made. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C. B.

3. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Socage, having a Wife, 2 Son, and three Daughters, deviſed the ſame to his Son after the death of his Wife; And if my three Daughters do fortune to overlive their Mother, and my Son, then I deviſe the ſame Lands to them for their lives, and after their deaths, I do give them to my Nephews A. and B. and that they and their Succeſſors ſhall pay 3 l. rent yearly to the Company of Merchant Taylors London for ever, and if they fail of payment, then I deviſe that the ſaid Company ſhall have the ſaid Lands for ever: The firſt point was, Whether the Son by the Will had an Eſtate tail, or a Feeſimple. It was Reſolved for this point, That the Son had but an eſtate Tail, and not a Feeſimple: For here, when the Deviſe is to the Son after the death of the Wife, and if the three Daughters ſurvive the Wife and the Son, and his Heirs, then the Deviſe is to them for life, with the Remainder over, this had bin a Feeſimple in the Son if it had not bin for the limitation of the Remainder over; but by the limitation of the Remainder over, his intent appears, that it ſhould be an Eſtate in tail in the Son: The ſecond point was, What eſtate the two Nephews had, the deviſe being to them, that they and their Succeſſors ſhould pay ſo much yearly. It was agreed, That the word, Succeſſor, was a good word to make a Feeſimple in a private perſon, becauſe the Heir ſuccedit patri: And if a man deviſeth Lands to a private man and his Succeſſors, the ſame is a good Feeſimple, eſpecially in the Caſe of a Deviſe, and alſo they ſhall have a Feeſimple, by reaſon of the words, and annual payment. And of that Opinion was the whole Court, That the Nephews had an Eſtate in Feeſimple, and ſo it was adjudged. Hill. 13 Jac. in B. R. Web and Herains Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 194, 195.

4. Note, It was agreed by the Court, That if Lands be given to one and his Heir, the ſame is a Feeſimple, becauſe the word Heir, is Collectivum. Mich. 6 Jac. in B. R. Godbolt. 155.

5. Upon a ſpecial Verdict, the Caſe was; A man ſeiſed of Copyhold Lands in Fee, deviſeable by Cuſtome, deviſed them in this manner, I give and bequeath my Lands, &c. to my Son Ric. during his natural life, and after to the Heirs of his body for ever: the Queſtion was firſt: If it was a Feeſimple, being limitted in the ſingular number to the Heir for ever? It was objected, That he hath expreſſed no particular eſtate, but for life; and the word Heir in the Remainder, ſhall not be taken Collectivè, but ſingulariter: And to that purpoſe, Cook 1. Part, Archers Caſe was vouched, But it was Reſolved by the Court, That the Deviſe of the Copyhold, is a Deviſe to the Heirs of the Father, and ſo a Feeſimple, and that the party comes not in as a Purchaſor. Paſc. 1650. in B. R. Powſley and Lowdall's Caſe. Styles, 273.

6. In Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was, a man ſeiſed of Lands in Feeſimple, and of Goods and Chattels, to the value of 5 l. only in D. deviſed to his Wife totum ſtatum ſuum, viz. his whole Eſtate, paying his Debts and Legacies, and his Debts and Legacies did amount to the value of 40 l. the Queſtions were, 1. Whether the Lands paſſed to the Wife by the Will, or not. 2. What Eſtate paſſeth to her in the Lands. It was the Opinion of the Court. 1. That the Lands did paſs, for ſo he ſaid the common underſtanding imports, and the words do go to the value of the Eſtate. 2. It ſhall be an Eſtate in Feeſimple, and the words paying his Debts and Legacies, doth inforce this conſtruction, for they are to be paid preſently, which cannot be, if the Lands do not paſs in Fee: And the Court ſaid, That when we ſay, A man is a man of great Eſtate, we mean his Eſtate in Lands, as well as in goods. Paſc. 1650. in B.R. Kirman and Johnſons Caſe, Styles 293.

7. Upon a Special Verdict, the Caſe was, A man deviſeth his Lands to his Wife for life, the Remainder to A. B. and C. and their Heirs reſpectively for ever: Whether A. B. and C. were Joynt-Tenants, or Tenants in Common, was the Queſtion. It was objected, That they were Joynt-Tenants; for every Will muſt be clear and conſpicuous, but it is not ſo here; and the word Reſpectively, hath relation to the ſurvivorſhip, which may happen betwixt the parties; and a Deviſe to one and his Heir, is a Feeſimple. But it was the Opinion of the Court, That here is a Tenancy in Common, and that it ſhall go throughout, and ſhall not be divided, and the intent of the Deviſor appears in the Will, that every one ſhall have his part, and their Heirs, for here is a proviſion made for Children, and the word Reſpectively would be idle, if another Conſtruction ſhould be made, and would ſignify no more then what the Law ſayes without it. See 36 and 37 Eliz. Lewis and Dodds Caſe, which was affirmed, Paſc. 41 Eliz. in the Exchequer-Chamber, equally divided, maketh a Tenancy in Common, and not a Joynt-Tenancy. Trin. 1653. in B. R. Torret and Frampons Caſe. Styles, 434, 435.

8. Tenant

8. Tenant in tail, the Remainder in tail, the Reversion to the right Heirs of Tenant in Tail; Tenant in tail bargained and sold the Land to J. S. and his Heirs, and afterwards levyed a Fine with Proclamations unto the Bargainee with Warranty, the Conusee made a Feoffment in Fee, he in the Remainder had Issue, and dyed, Tenant in Tail dyed without Issue. In this Case, it was Resolved amongst other points, That by the Bargain and Sale, the Bargainee had an Estate in Fee, discendible to his Heirs, determinable upon the death of Tenant in Tail, and had the Reversion expectant upon the Remainder in Tail, and the Wife of the Bargainee should be endowed. Cook 10. Part, 98. Ed. Seymers Case.

9. Note, It was Resolved in Cook 8. Part, in Mannings Case, That a man by his Will may create an Interest, which by Grant or conveyance by the Common Law he could not creat in his life: As a man devised a Mannor to his Executors for the payment of his Debts, and untill his Debts were paid: And the Question was, What Estate the Executors had. It was Resolved in that Case, That the Executors had but a Chattel, and no Freehold in the Lands, for if they should have a Freehold in the Lands, then their Estates should be determined by their deaths, and should not go to the Executors of the Executors, and so the Debts should remain not paid, but the Law shall adjudg the same a particular Interest in the Land, which shall go to the Executors of the Executors for the payment of his Debts, but if such an Estate had bin by grant, or conveyance, the Law would have adjudged it a Freehold. 36 Eliz. in C. B. Sir William Cordells Case, vouched in Cook 8. Part, 96. in Matthew Mannings Case.

10. A. Granted a Rent to F. by Fine, Habendum to him and his Assigns during the life of C. the Wife of the Grantor; and if the Rent were behind, that it should be lawful for F. and his Heirs during the life of C. to distreyn: F. devised the Rent, and dyed; The Question was, If the Grantor should retain it as occupant, or the Grantee should have it. It was the Opinion of the Lord Dyer, That the Devisee should have it, by reason of the Clause of Distress, and that the Grantee had Freehold in the rent, determinable upon the death of C. Hill. 9 Eliz. Dyer, 253.

11. A. seised of Lands in Fee, having issue three Sons, viz. B. C. and D. devised his Lands to C. his second Son, and his Heirs in perpetuum, paying to his brother D. 20 l. at his age of 21 years; and if C. dyed without Issue living, B. his Brother, that then B. should have those Lands to him and his Heirs and Assigns for ever, paying the said sum as C. should have paid; C. entred, and suffered a common Recovery, to the use of himself and his Heirs, and after he devised the Lands to J. S. and his Heirs, and dyes without Issue, living B. who enters upon J. S. The Questions were these. 1. If C. had an Estate in Fee, or Fee-tail. 2. Admitting he had a Fee, Whether the limitation to B. were good to limit a Fee upon a Fee. 3. If C. hath a Fee, and B. a possibility only to have a Fee, whether the Recovery should bar B. It was Resolved for the first point, That C. had an Estate in Fee, for it is devised to him and his Heirs in perpetuum, and also paying D. 20 l. 2. They agreed that it was a good limitation of the Fee to B. by way of contingency, not by way of immediate Remainder, for they agreed it cannot be a Remainder; as if one devileth Lands to one and his Heirs and if he dye without Heir, that it shall remain to another, it is void and repugnant to the Estate; for one Fee cannot be in Remainder after another Fee, but by way of Contingency, or Executory Devise to another, to determine the one Estate, and limit it to another. 3. It was Resolved in this Case, That the Recovery should not bar his Executory Devise to B. Hill. 17 Jac. in B.R. Pell and Browns Case. Cro. 2. Part, 591.

12. A man made a Feoffment in Fee to two, to the use of himself and his Wife for their lives, the Remainder after their decease, to J. the son of the Husband for his life; and by the same Deed vasit et concedit, that after their three lives, J. S. and J. D. and other Feoffees should be seised of the same Land to them and their Heirs, to the use of the right Heirs of the body of the Son. It was holden in this Case, That the second Feoffees had not the Fee, because by the first part of the Deed, the Feesimple was given to the first Feoffees, and one Feesimple cannot depend upon another Feesimple; but that after the determination of the former uses for life, the Feesimple should be vested again in the Heirs of the Feoffer, and that the words, That the second Feoffees should be seised, should be void. Pasc. 23 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt. 7.

Fines levied.

Upon what Writs a Fine may be levied; What not. Where, of another thing then the Original makes mention of: Where, by a ſtranger to the Original, and to the party, ſhall be good: Where not conſtrued to other Lands, then are mentioned in the Deed: and to what Towns or Pariſhes a Fine ſhall extend; To what not.

1. BY the Statute De modo levandi finis, It appeareth, That a Fine cannot be levied without an Original Writ. And the Law will not ſuffer that a Fine be levied in any of the Kings Court, without an Original Writ. And upon every Original Writ by which the Land is to be charged or bound, or which in any ſort doth concern Land, a Fine may be levied: as in a Precipe, in a Warrantia Chartæ; in a Writ of Meſne, in a Quid juris Clamat; in a Per Que Servitia; in a Writ de rationabilibus diviſis, Covenant, and the like, a Fine may be levied. Cook 5. Part, 39. Ty's Caſe.

2. A Fine may be levied upon a Writ of Right Patent, and a Rent which was not in eſſe granted thereby; and ſo it may be upon a Writ of Cuſtomes and Services. 19 E. 4. 5. 21 E. 3. 18. Fitz. Droit. 10. See Comment, on Originall Writs, 99.

3. Note. It was ſaid by Knivet, in caſe of a Record removed out of Cheſter; That a Fine levied in Auncient Demeſne, is not good; for that it is no Court of Record: Or if the men of the Town preſcribe to hold Plea, or to make proteſtation in the nature of any Writ they will; yet they cannot levy a Fine in a Writ of Right upon Covenant, &c. for the Action is real, and the Proteſtation is perſonal, and therefore if it be not expreſly to levy a Fine, it is a great Queſtion, if it be good: and yet the Grant there in the principall Caſe, was by Charter, Quod habeant Executionem prædictorum et quod in omnibus actionibus placitari poſſent, by Writ of Right Patent, and made proteſtation in the nature of any Writ: And yet the Opinion of the Court was, That they could not levy a Fine there in a Writ of Right, without expreſſe words ſo to do. 44 E. 3. 38. 50 Aſſ. 29. Fitz. tit. Fines, 104.

4. A Fine was levied in a Writ of Covenant, of an Advowſon, ſur Conuſans de Droit tantum, with a grant and a rendor of the next Preſentation to the Conuſor; and of the ſecond Preſentation to the Conuſee, and ſo to preſent by Turns: and the Fine and Render were holden good. 44 E. 3. 35. in a Quare Impedit. See 9 Eliz. Dyer. 259. acc.

5. A Fine was levied upon a Writ of Cuſtoms and Services, Where it is repeated, That there was a contention for Mariage and Caſtle gard: the Lord Conceſſit, quod ſit quietus de prædict. Servitiis ſalvis omnibus aliis ſervitiis, &c. Paſch. 2 Eliz. Dyer 179, 180.

6. A Writ of Right Cloſe was brought, by the Iſſue in tail in Auncient Demeſne, and he made Proteſtation to ſue in the nature of a Writ of Formedon: The Defendant pleaded in barr a Fine there upon a Writ of Covenant ſecundum Conſuetudinem Manerii: and Judgment was there for the Fine, againſt the Iſſue in tail: Whereupon he brought a Writ of Falſe Judgment in the Common-Pleas: for that ſuch Fine levied there by Cuſtome, was no barr, being againſt the Statute De donis Conditionalibus. It was the Opinion of the Court, That if they ſhould reverſe the Judgment, the Iſſue could be reſtored but to his Action there: and if ſo, they would then adjudg again there according to their Cuſtome. Note: In this Caſe, I obſerve, That a Fine there was levied upon a Writ of Covenant brought there in Auncient Demeſne. Mich. 23 Eliz. Dyer 373.

7. Tenant for life, the remainder in tail; the remainder in tail Tenant for life levied a Fine with him in the remainder ſur Conuſans de droit come ceo of the land to another in Fee, who rendred a Rent of 40 l. unto the Tenant for life, which was another thing then the land, and it was good. And it is there holden, That if Tenant in tail, and one A. levy a Fine of land to a Stranger, who granteth and rendreth the Land to A. for years, rendring Rent, and by the ſame Fine grants the Reverſion to Tenant in tail, and his heirs, it is good, although that all be by one Fine, and at one inſtance. Cook 1. Part, 76. in Bredon's Caſe.

8. It is agreed by Indenture betwixt the parties, That a Fine be levied of certain Lands by the name of certain numbers of Acres to divers perſons, and that they ſhall grant and render the land again in Fee-ſimple, which ſhall be to certain uſes: the Fine is levied of the land, but ſome variance is in the number of Acres comprized in the Fine, or the Fine is levied to one of the parties onely who granteth and rendreth the land, ſo as there is variance betwixt the Covenant and the Fine in number and perſon; yet that fine ſhall be good, and ſhall be averred to be to the uſes comprized in the Indenture; for the Original Grant and Bargain of the parties was declared: and although ſome variance be in Quantity, time, perſon, or the like, yet the Law will ſuffer an Averment to be to agree the Fine and the Indentures, notwithſtanding there be ſome ſmall differences in Circumſtances, times, perſons, and the like. Cook 2. Part, 76, 77. in the Lord Cromwell's Caſe.

9. A. and B. ſeiſed for the life of the Wife as her Right, the remainder unto E. in tail, the remainder to the ſaid E. in Fee: A. and B. his Wife levied a Fine ſur Conuſans de droit come ceo to E. with Proclamations, who granted and rendred a Rent of 27 l. to the Conuſors for the Term of their lives, with clauſe of diſtreſſe; afterwards E. dyed, & the Lands diſcended to D. her Son and heir in tail, who leaſed the Land to B. for years; and afterwards A. dyed. In this Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That againſt ſuch Fine accepted by Tenant in tail, the Iſſue might aver continuance of Seiſin by force of the taile; and the Iſſue in tail is not eſtopped by the admittance and acceptance of his Auncеſtor. 2. That the grant and render of the Rent was not within the Statute of 4 H. 7. or 32 H. 8. becauſe the Fine was not levied of the Land it ſelf, but of a Rent created out of the Land. See 3 & 4 Eliz. Cranſhyes Caſe, vouch. in Cook 5. Part, 98. in the Caſe of Fines.

10. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, levied a Fine to B. and C. and to the heirs of B; who granted and rendred the ſame unto A. and his Wife, who was not party to the Writ or Conuſans, and to the heirs of the body of A: A. ſuffered a Recovery with vouchers in the life of his Wife, and afterwards dyes; the wife dyed: he in the Remainder brought a Scire facias to have Execution of the Remainder. In this Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That the grant and render to the wife was not void, but voidable, although ſhe was not party to the Conuſans, or to the Writ. 2. That this Recovery, had againſt the husband alone, did not barr the remainder, and the Joynture was not ſevered by the Recovery againſt the husband alone. 27 Eliz. in C. B. Owen and Morgan's Caſe, vouch. in Cook 3. Part, 6. in the Marqueſſe of Winchеſter's Caſe.

11. Note, It is ſaid, That the Law ſuppoſeth the Vouchee is Tenant of the Land, where in truth he is not; but the ſame is to be intended as unto the Demandant himſelf, and to enable him to do all things as to the Demandant; which the Demandant may do to him: and therefore a Fine levied by the Vouchee to the Demandant, Or a Fine or Releaſe from the Demandant to the Vouchee, is good; but a Fine levied by the Vouchee to a ſtranger, is void. 7 E. 4. 13. Cook 3. Part, in Butler and Bakers Caſe, 29. acc.

12. A. and his Wife levied a Fine to J. S. of a Rectory, who granted and rendred a Rent Charge of 30 l. iſſuing out of the ſame to A. for life, to begin after the death of his wife. Proviſo, That it ſhould not extend to charge the perſons of the Conuſees, but to charge the ſaid Rectory only during the life of A, and rendred the Rectory to A. and his wife, during the life of his wife, the remainder to J. D. and his Wife in tail; the remainder to the right heirs of J. D: A. acknowledged a Statute to B: the wife of A. dyed: In this caſe it was Reſolved amongſt other things, 1. That this Fine levied of another thing then was originally mentioned in the Writ, was good. 2. That the Rent extinct ſhould be in eſſe as to a ſtranger. Cook 7. Part, 38. Lillingſton's Caſe.

13. A man was Tenant in tail of certain Lands called Eſtons: and a Fine was levied of Lands in Eſtlington, Eſton, and Chilford: whereas, Eſton lay in another Pariſh called D: It was ſaid in this Caſe, That the Lands in Eſton did paſſe by the Fine, although the Pariſh was not named; for that the Writ of Covenant is a perſonal Action, and will lye of Lands in a Hamlet, or place known, And it was ſaid, That that Plea was only to the abatement of the Writ: but when a Concord is upon it, which admits it good, it ſhall not be avoided afterwards: And 17 Jac. in B. R. it was adjudged in Monk and Butler's Caſe, That a Fine being but an Arbitrary Aſſurance, would paſſe Lands in a View Conuſ. And it was ſaid, That if a Scire Facias be brought to execute a Recovery in ſuch a Caſe, Nul tiel Ville or Hamlet, is no good Plea. And of that Opinion was the whole Court. Mich. 8 Car. in B. R. Eveley and Eſton's Caſe, Godbolt 440.

14. In Eſſoine Firme, the Caſe was, There were two Towns, viz. A. and B. in the Pariſh of B; and a Fine was levied of ſuch Lands in B: and whether the Lands in Walton in A. did paſſe by that Fine, was the Queſtion? the Action being for them only. It was Reſolved, That they ſhould not paſſe: for B. being a diſtinct Town by it ſelf, and A. being a diſtinct Town by it ſelf, and ſo found by verdict: although B. the Pariſh comprehends both; yet in the Fine, the Lands in A. ſhall not be ſaid to be compriſed, unleſſe A. had been a Hamlet of B, and that the Fine had been levied of Lands in the Pariſh of B; then all had paſſed. Trin. 4 Jac. in B. R. Stark and Fox's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 120.

15. In Treſpaſs: For that in a Cloſe called Arſcomb in Barwick St. John, he chaſed his Cattel: The Defendant juſtified for Damage Feaſant: The Plaintiff replyed, That the Cloſe contained 100. Acres, and time whereof, &c. was known by the name of Arſcomb; and that the Lord de la Ware, ſeiſed thereof, granted Common of Paſture to

B.S. and his heirs, for 20 Beasts in Arscomb. The Defendant pleaded, That there was no such Vill or Hamlet, or place known out of any Vill or Hamlet, called Arscomb. The Question was, Whether a Fine might be levied of a Close by a known name in a Town, without mentioning the Town or Hamlet where it lyes? It was Resolved, The Fine is good enough; for it is but the agreement of the parties, although there be neither Town or Hamlet mentioned where it lyes. Pasch. 17 Jac. in B.R. Monk and Butler's Case, Cro. 2. Part, 574. See Sect. before.

16. A. and his wife were seised of Lands in St. Edith, in the County of C, called K. by the gift of W. D. to them and the heirs of their two bodies begotten between them. Afterwards a Fine sur Conusans de droit, &c. was levied by the Son and heir of W. D. to A. of the Manor of Sale, and of 100. Acres of Lands, 300 Acres of Pasture in D, and St. Edith, and divers other Towns, who granted and rendred the same back to the said Son of D. in tail, with divers remainders over: After which, the possession of K. continued in the heirs of A, according to the first Entail: and the Manor of D, and the Lands in those Towns, to the Son of D, and to his heirs. And upon the Opinion of Manwood Chief Baron, by Nisi Prius, in the County of C; the Lands in K. were recovered by virtue of the said Fine against the heir of A, because all the Lands which the said Son of D, and the said A. had in the said Towns named in the Fine, were not sufficient to supply the Acres contained in the said Fine. It was agreed by the Chief Justices, and others to whom this Case was referred, That nothing should be said to be rendred, but that which indeed was given by the Fine; and that K. did not passe to the said A: for as to it, the Fine is but as a Release of the Son of D, and therefore shall not be said to be rendred to the said Son by the Fine, where no matter appeareth. Whereby it may appear, that it was the intent of the parties, that this should be rendred. And in this Case it was agreed, That if a man be to passe the Manor of D. to another by Fine executory, and he levy a Fine to him by the name of the Manor of D, and of so many Acres of Land in D. and S, being the Towns in which the Manor lyeth; after which, the Conusor purchaseth other Lands in these Towns, The Fine shall not be executed of those Lands purchased after the Conusans; and the Fine shall work only to those which he had power and intent to passe, and no further. Hill. 38 Eliz. Kelly's Case. Popham, 104, 105.

17. A Writ of Covenant to levy a Fine, was prosecuted Jan. 23. returnable Octab. Purif. The Dedimus Potestatem bore date the 23. of Jan. The Judge certified the Concord taken 14. Feb. which was two dayes after the Term; at which time the Writ of Covenant was not depending: And the Fine was thus; viz. Hac est Concordia facta in Octab. Purif. And afterwards it is recorded in Pasc. 15; Yet the Opinion of the Court was, That it was a good Fine, Mich. 3 Car. C.B. Sir Richard Champion's Case. Hutton, 135.

2. Of the perfecting of Fines: and when they shall be ingrossed; When not. And when a Fine shall not be said perfect for want of Proclamations made upon it: and how imperfect. And when and where Fines shall be well executed; Where not: And what shall be a good Execution of them; What not.

A Fine Sur Conusans de Droit was levied between A. and B, 2 & 3 Ma. of certain Lands in W. C. and E: upon which Fine, 4. Proclamations were made every Term; but the 13th Proclamation appeared to be made 7. Junii in Trinity Term, 2 & 3 Ma. which in truth was not Dies juridicus. And that matter was assigned for Error to reverse the Fine: And, If the whole Fine should be reversed, or the Proclamations only, was the Question? It was the Opinion of all the Justices, That the Fine should stand, and that the Proclamations should onely be reversed: for the Statute of 4 H. 7. doth not ordain any new form of Fine, but the old form doth continue; so as the Fine doth remain as it was before the said Act in form and substance: and when the Statute gives to the party (if he will) Proclamations upon the Fine, the same is to give Notice unto strangers: and the Fine of it self is a matter of Record perfect and full before the Proclamations be passed, and shall bind the parties, and the right of the Land betwixt them. Mich. 5 Eliz. Fish and Brabt's Case. Plow. Com. 265. See Dyer. 181. acc.

2. A Fine was levied by Tenant in tail, with 15 Proclamations only; and one of the Proclamations was made out of Term. In that Case it was adjudged, That the Proclamations only should be reversed, and that the Fine should stand in force, and that it should be a Discontinuance. Trinit. 4 Eliz. Dyer, 216.

3. Part of Trinity Term was adjourned: scil. Octabis 15. & Tres Trinitatis: so as there was but two dies juridicus in that Term. It was a Question, If Fines levied and ingrossed that part of the Term, Term, ſhould be allowed, as if Proclamations had been made according to the Statute of 4 H. 7. It was Reſolved, That they ſhould, by the Equity of the Statute of 1 Ma. Cap. 1. Mich. 3 Eliz. Dyer 186.

4. In a Formedon in the Diſcender, a Fine with Proclamations, levied 30 H. 8. was pleaded in Bar: the parties were at Iſſue upon Nul tiel Record, and day given to bring in the Record: and at the day the Tenant had the Record; but in the 5, 6, 7, 8. Proclamations which were made in Trinity Term, the year of the King was omitted. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the ſame was no failer of the Record; for it cannot be intended, that the 5, 6, 7, 8. Proclamations could be made in any other year, then in the 30. year of H. 8. For the year of Eaſter Term is expreſſly declared, which did precede the 4 Proclamations of Trinity Term: and the later 8. Proclamations in Michaelmas, and Hillary Term after, are expreſſed to be in Anno 30 H. 8. wherefore it followeth neceſſarily, that the ſaid Proclamations were made in the 30 H. 8. and ſo the party hath not failed of his Record. Mich. 7 Eliz. Dyer 234.

5. A Writ of Covenant to levy a Fine, was returnable in Craſtino Purificat. one of the middle returns of the Term, and the Concord was made and recorded the ſame Craſtino, as it ought to be, and the third day after, viz. before the 4th day after the firſt proclamation was made. It was holden to be well; for die Craſtino is the return-day; and the 4th day after is but a day of grace: But if it had been returned Octab. Hill. then the Court doubted of it, becauſe the Juſtices ſit not, being the firſt return of the Term, till the 4th day: and the Statute of 4 H. 7. is, that the Fine ſhall be levied, and proclamations made in full Court. Hill. 10 Eliz. Dyer 269.

6. Note, in the Caſe of Fines, Cook 3. Part, 87. It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, and Barons of the Exchequer; If Tenant in tail levieth a Fine, although by the death of Tenant in tail, a right of the Eſtate tail doth diſcend to the Iſſue; if the Tenant in tail dyed before the Proclamations were paſt; yet when the Proclamations paſſe without any claim made by the Iſſue in tail upon the Land, the right which diſcendeth to the Iſſue is barred by the Statute of 4 H. 7. & 32 H 8. For, although the Fine without the Proclamations, nor the Proclamations without the Fine, can barr an Eſtate tail; and although that after the Fine levied, and before all the Proclamations be paſſed, a right is diſcended to the Iſſue in tail per formam Doni, which is paramount the Fines; and there is no Fine with Proclamation levied after the death of Tenant in tail, to barr the right ſo diſcended to the Iſſue in tail: Yet foraſmuch as it is provided by the Statute of 32 H. 8. That all Fines levied with Proclamations of any Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments ſo entailed to the perſons ſo levying the ſame, or to any of his Auncеſtors in Poſſeſſion, Reverſion, or Remainder, or in Uſe, ſhall be immediately after the Fine levied, ingroſſed, & Proclamations made, adjudged a ſufficient barr againſt the ſaid perſons and their heirs, claiming the ſame only by force of ſuch entail: therfore by the expreſs letter of the ſaid Act of 32 H. 8. the Iſſue in tail ſhall be barred. Cook 3. Part, in the Caſe of Fines, 87. acc.

7. Tenant in tail, the remainder in tail, the reverſion in fee; Tenant in tail in remainder, levied a Fine to one and his heirs: the Conuſee before the Ingroſſing of the Fine, brought a Quid juris Clamat againſt Tenant for life, who pleaded, That the Conuſor was but Tenant in tail in remainder. It was holden in that Caſe, That albeit before the Statute of 4 H. 7. & 32 H. 8. the ſame was a good Plea; yet after the ſaid Statutes, which made a Fine a barr to an Eſtate in tail. It was adjudged to be no Plea: and therefore the Tenant for life was forced to attorn. See 28 Eliz. Juſtice Windham's Caſe, vouch. in Cook 3. Part, 86. in the Caſe of Fines.

8. A Fine was levied of divers Manors, Lands, and Tenements, with divers Renders; and in the third render, all the Tenements were given to one, and in the 4th render, the ſame thing was given to ſeveral Perſons, and for ſeveral Eſtates. The Queſtion was, If the Fine were erronious? It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the 4th render, as to that which was conveyed in the third render, ſhould be of the ſame Quality, as a Charter, or other Conveyance between party and party, and need not have ſuch a preciſe form as a Writ or a Judgment. And in that Caſe it was ſaid, That there were 5. parts conſiderable in every Fine: 1. The Original Writ; for that upon every Fine there ought to be an Original Writ. 2. There ought to be a Licence to agree; which is a Fine due to the King, and is called the Kings Silver, which he is to [redacted] in when the Land repoſeth. 3. The Concord, which is the Foundation of the Fine: and if upon that, the Kings Silver be entred, although the party dyeth who is the Conuſor, yet the Fine is good, and well levied. 4. There is the Note of the Fine, which is but an Abſtract out of the Original and Concord; and ſom times, the Note is taken for the Concord. And laſtly, there is the foote of the Fine, and that includes the whole Fine; as the day, place, and before whom the Fine was acknowledged. Trin. 34 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, Tey's Caſe.

9. A. made a Feoffment in Fee to the uſe of himſelf, and D. his Wife, and the heirs of their two bodies, the remainder to the right heirs of the husband; husband; they had Iſſue M; and A. dyed: M. and R. her husband joyned in a Fine in Confirmation of the Eſtate of M, and dyed without Iſſue. Now R. and D. and one J. S. Coſen and heir of M, brought Errour to reverſe the Fine; and aſſigned for Errour, that after the Conuſans, and before that, Certified and Engroſſed, viz. the 25th of March, which was before the Teſte of the Dedimus Poteſtatem, M. dyed: It was holden by the Juſtices, That they ſhould not be ſuffered to alledg that for Errour, being contrary to the Record and Certificate of the Juſtices, before whom the Fine was levied. Mich. 1 Ma. Dyer 89. Verney's Caſe.

10. In a Quid Juris Clamat brought, the Tenant appeared, and claimed Fee in 10 Acres, being part of the Land of which the Fine was levied; and as to the reſidue he attorned: and notwithſtanding that a Preſident was ſhewed, That in a Per Que Servitia, Where it was found, That one of the Tenants named in the Writ, did not hold any of the Land, and therefore the Fine was engroſſed only as to the Reſidue: Yet in the principal Caſe it was awarded by the Court, That the whole Fine ſhould be ingroſſed without any forſprize of any of the Land. Paſch. 4 Eliz. Dyer, 212.

11. After the Teſte of a Writ of Covenant, to levy a Fine and Dedimus Poteſtatem to take Conuſans of a Fine of a Feme Sole, and before the day in Bank, to record and engroſſe the Fine, the woman took husband: Notwithſtanding which, It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Fine ſhould be recorded as the Fine of a Feme Sole; for ſhe had done all that which was in her to do. And it was holden, That the ſaid Fine ſhould bind her and her heirs: but if ſhe had dyed in that Caſe, It was holden, That the Writ of Covenant ſhould have abated, it being done by the Act of God; but not in this caſe, it being the Act of the party her ſelf. Mich. 8 Eliz. Dyer 246.

12. Grandfather, Father, and two Daughters: the Grandfather levied a Fine come ceo, with Proclamations in Cheſter, with a Render to himſelf for life, the remainder to the Father, and his heirs males, the remainder to the eldeſt daughter in tail, the Grandfather dyed, and the Father dyed without Iſſue male, the eldeſt daughter entred; the youngeſt daughter in her own name, and in the name of her eldeſt ſiſter, as Coſens and heires of the Grandfather brought a Writ of Errour to reverſe the Fine, which was retto ned with the Record; but the eldeſt daughter appeared not; upon which ſhe was ſummoned and ſevered, and a Scire facias iſſued forth againſt the heir of the Conuſee. Divers Errours were aſſigned, 1. For default of Entry, and not payment of the Kings Silver in the Roll: But it appeared, that it was aſſeſſed. 2. Becauſe the Concord was not ſigned by the Juſtices, who took the Conuſans as the Courſe is in the Common-Pleas. 3. For default of Entry of the Note of the Fine: as is uſual in C. B. and remains with the Chirographer. In the principal Caſe there was no Scire facias againſt the Tenant of the Land. It was holden, That the Plaintiff ought to have had a Scire facias againſt the Terr-Tenant; for that if the Tenant be ouſted, without being warned, he might have an Aſſiſe; and perhaps he might have a Releaſe to plead. But nothing was then Anſwered to thoſe Errours aſſigned: But afterwards a Mandamus was awarded Cancellario de Ceſtria, to warn the Terr-Tenant ad audiendum Errors. And afterwards, notwithſtanding the Errors before alledged, the Fine was awarded to be good. Hill. 15 Eliz. Dyer, 321.

3. Where, and what right in Lands a Fine ſhall bar; what not: And where, and in what Caſe a Fine levyed by Tenant in Tail, with Proclamations, ſhall bar the Iſſue in Tail; what not. Where by Huſband and Wife, ſhall bind the Wife. And where it ſhall bind a Stranger if he make not his claim within five years: Where not.

1. A. Seiſed of Lands, deviſed them to his Wife for life; and when J. his Son ſhould come to the age of 25 years, then he ſhould have thoſe Lands to him, and the Heirs of his body, and dyed, the Son before he came to the age of 25 years, levyed a Fine thereof in Fee, and after he came to the age of 25 years, and had iſſue a Daughter, the Daughter entred: the Queſtion was, Whether this Fine levyed by the Father, before any thing was in him, ſhould bind the Daughter. It was objected, That this matter being found by Verdict, ſhould not, but otherwiſe if it had bin in pleading. But it was the Opinion of Anderſon and the whole Court, though it was found ſo by Verdict, and not in pleading, yet the Fine ſhould bar the Daughter, and ſhe cannot plead, that partes finis nihil habuerunt. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Johnſon and Carliles Caſe. Goldesbr. 107.

2. If the Husband ſell his Land by Fine with Proclamations, and live five years, and after dyes, his Wife being ſole, and of full age, and of ſound memory, memory, out of Prison, and within the four Seas, and do not make any demand or claim of her Dower within five years after the death of her Husband; It was Resolved by the whole Court, That she shall be barred of her Dower. M. 40 Eliz. in C. B. Goldesbr. 148.

3. This Question was demanded of the Court by Cook; If there be Disseisor and Disseisee, and during the Disseisin, when the Disseisee hath nothing in the Land but a right, he levies a Fine thereof to a stranger: If by this Fine the Right of the Disseisee be gon, and if the Disseisor shall take advantage of it. It was the Opinion of Gawdy and Popham, That it should not bind his Right, and the Disseisor should not take advantage of it. Hill. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Goldesbr. 162.

4. A Lease was made of Lands 20 H. 8. for 80 years; afterwards the Lessee dyed intestate, and 4 Ma. a Fine was levyed of the Land with Proclamations, the Conusee held the Land untill 37 Eliz. and then Letters of Administration were granted of the goods of the Lessee. It was said in this Case, That the right of a Term is not within the Statute of 4 H. 7. but a Right of Freehold and Inheritance, and so it was said, it was agreed in Stamfords Case, 21 Eliz. Gawdy and Fenner Justices at first held, That a Lease for years should never be bound by the Statute of 4 H. 7. and therefore that the Administrator might lawfully enter. But Fenner afterwards demanding the Opinion of the Lord Anderson in this Case, he was clear of Opinion, That the Statute of 4 H. 7. did extend to bind a right of a Term, if the Lessee were or might have ever bin in possession before the Fine was levyed. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C. B. Coots and Atkinson's Case. Goldesbr. 171.

5. Husband and Wife, the Wife being within age, levyed a Fine of the Land of the Wife; A Precipe quod reddat was brought against the Conusee, who vouched the Husband and Wife, and they appeared in person, and vouched over the Common Vouchee, and after made default. One Writ of Error was brought to reverse the Fine, and another Writ of Error to reverse the Recovery by reason of the nonage of the Woman. The Court was of Opinion to reverse the Fine, but doubted of the Recovery, because they appeared in person and vouched. But afterwards upon Examination, it was found, That the Recovery was before the Fine; and so the Court held, That the Recovery did not give away the Error in the Fine, and afterwards it was reversed. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C. B. Sir Henry Jones Case. Goldesbr. 181.

6. A Copyhold estate was granted to one for life, the Remainder to another for life, the first Copyholder accepted a Bargain and Sale of the Freehold from the Lord, and after that, levyed a Fine with Proclamations, and five years passed; and if this Fine should be a bar to him which had the Copyhold estate for life in Remainder, was the Question. And it was Resolved by all the Justices, That the Fine should not be a bar to the Copyhold Estate in Remainder, for the acceptance of the Bargain and Sale, doth not determine the first Copyhold Estate for life, as to him in the Remainder, but only as to the first Tenant and the Lord; and here is nothing done to turn the Copyhold Estate in Remainder into a Right, for then it should be barred, otherwise not; and here the first Estate for life shall be said to be in esse, notwithstanding the acceptance of the Bargain and Sale as to all strangers, and here the Custome preserves the Copyhold Estate in Remainder, and no act made by the particular Tenant can prejudice that: As if a Copyhold Estate be granted to one for life by one Copy; and after the Lord grants another estate to another for life by another Copy, and then the first Copyholder commits a forfeiture, he that hath the second estate, cannot take advantage of that, but the Lord shall hold it during the life of the first Tenant, for no act of the particular Tenant shall prejudice him in the Remainder. Pasc. 10 Jac. in C. B. Bicknell and Tuckers Case. Brownlow, 2. Part, 153.

7. A seised of Lands in Fee, conveyed them to the use of B. his son, and E. his Wife, and the Heirs of their two bodies for the Joynture of the Wife; A. dyed, B. and E. his Wife enter, and have issue P. their eldest Son, and F. their younger Son. B. dyes, E. takes a second Husband J. S. they for money allien, Bargain and sell all their right to P. and his Heirs, but no Livery is made: P. by Indenture bargains and sells the Lands for money to J. D. and levyes a Fine with Proclamations to the said J. D. to the use of him and his Heirs: The sole Question in the Case was, Whether this Fine by P. the eldest Son, in the life of his Mother, Tenant in tail, and he dying without Issue in the life of his Mother, should bar T. the second Son or not. It was Resolved by the whole Court, and so after confirmed in a Writ of Error brought in the Exchequer-Chamber, That this Fine levyed by the eldest Son, who was never seised by force of the intail, should not bar the entail, for that such Fine is not within the Star. of 32 H. 8 or 4 H. 7. For although he be inheritable to the tail, and if he had survived, his Fine, had bin a bar to his brother; yet forasmuch as he dyed in the life of his Auncestor, and never had the estate tail, the younger brother shall never mention him in a Formedon in the Discender; he never being any Auncestor to whom the Land was entailed. Trin. 11 Car. in B. R. Braidock and Stowells Case. Cro. 1. Part, 314.

8. Note,

8. Note, It was agreed, where one is Leſſee for years, and aſſigns over his Leaſe in truſt for himſelf, and afterwards purchaſeth the Inheritance, and occupyeth the Land, and then levyes a Fine with Proclamations, and the Leſſee doth not claim his Leaſe within the five years, this Fine and Non-claim ſhall bar the Intereſt of the Leſſee, although he who levyeth the Fine, hath the Poſſeſſion by reaſon of the Truſt; but this Truſt is incloſed in the Fine, and the Truſtee not making claim, his intereſt is barred thereby. Paſc. 4 Car. in C. B. Iſcham and Morrices Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 77.

9. A man made a Leaſe for years to begin after the end of another Term for years then in being, the firſt years ended, the ſecond Leſſee did not enter, but he in the Reverſion entred, and made a Feoffment, and levyed a Fine with Proclamations, and five years paſſed after the Proclamations without entry or claim by the ſecond Leſſee for years. In this Caſe it was Reſolved. 1. That the ſecond Leſſee was barred of his Term by the Statute of 4 H. 7. of Fines, for although that Leſſee for years, hath not an eſtate that he may levy a Fine; yet becauſe the words of the Statute are general, and extend to all, and the words of the ſaving are (ſuch right claim and intereſt), and he who hath a Term for years, hath an Intereſt, and alſo becauſe he is within the miſchear. It was Reſolved, That his Intereſt, and the Intereſts of all Tenants by Statute-Merchants, Staple, Guardian, or Executors, are bound by the ſaid Act of 5 H. 7. and bound by the Fine, for all have Intereſts in the Land. 2. Reſolved, That by the ſaid Feoffment, the ſecond Leſſee had but a right, and when his future Intereſt did commence in the Land, then he had a preſent eſtate in the Land, which might be deveſted, and which he might reveſt by his entry. Paſc. 3 Jac. in C. B. Croke 5. Part, 123. Saffins Caſe.

10. Tenant for life, the Reverſion to W. R. in Fee, an Ideot: A. R. his Uncle levyes a Fine with Proclamations to J. S. and had Iſſue J. who had Iſſue W. R. and dyed: W. R. the Ideot dyed without Iſſue, William the Defendant entred as Heir to him, viz. Son and Heir of J. Son and Heir of A. R. and whether he might claim againſt this Fine of his Grandfather, was the Queſtion. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That this Fine by A. R. the Uncle of William the Ideot, who was ſeiſed of the Inheritance, ſhould not bar William the Defendant, who was Grandchild of the ſaid A. R. becauſe he claims nothing by or from him, but only from William the Nephew of A. (who ſurvived the ſaid Andrew), and he makes his title as Heir to the ſaid William the Nephew who was laſt ſeiſed, not making mention of A. as one from whom he claims, but only as drawing his diſcent from him by way of Pedigree, and not by way of Title. Trin. 14 Car. in B. R. Edwards and Rogers Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 377. 390.

11. A. Tenant for life, to him and the Heirs Males of his body, the Reverſion to B. his eldeſt Brother: A. makes a Leaſe for three lives, warranted by the Statute of 32 H. 8. with Warranty againſt all perſons. Afterwards A. levyes a Fine of thoſe Lands with Warranty againſt all perſons to J. S. and afterwards dyes without Iſſue Male, having iſſue E. a daughter. After the death of A. B. dyed without iſſue, the ſaid E. being his Neece and Heir, the Leaſe for three years expired, the Leſſee of J. S. entred. The Queſtions in the Caſe were, 1. Whether this Warranty in the Fine (admitting that it was not with any Proclamations, and no non-claim) ſhould make a Diſcontinuance in Fee, and be a bar to E. or whether the Warranty were determined by the death of A. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the Warranty continued, and was a bar unto her, for by the Eſtate for life, it was diſcontinued, and A. had a new Fee; and then when he by Fine grants that Reverſion with warranty, it is annexed to the Fee, and binds him who hath right, for the Reverſion being deveſted and diſplaced, the Fine & Warranty ennures thereupon, and by conſequence, although the Warranty did not diſcend upon B. who had the right of Reverſion, but upon E. yet when B. was dead without Iſſue, the right diſcended to E. and ſhe is barred by the Fine. 2. Reſolved, That this Fine and Non claim for five years, ſhould bar E. the Daughter. For when B. who had right at the time of the death of A. without Iſſue Male, did not proſecute that title, it is a bar, and he ſhall not have the advantage of entry after the death of the Tenant for life, becauſe he hath then no other Title then he had before, for his Title was by the death of Tenant in tail, without Iſſue Male, and then he might have brought his Formedon. Hill. 20 Jac. in B. R. Salvin and Clarks Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 111.

12. A. ſeiſed of Land, deviſed the ſame to J. an Enfant, of the age of three years in Fee, by the name of his Tenement, called the white Swan, and dyed, J. S. enters, and levyes a Fine thereof, 16 Jac. with Proclamations in the life of J. being within age, who afterwards dyed, being within age, the Wife of B. being his Siſter and Heir: It was ſaid, That this Fine, although five years paſſed without claim, ſhould not hurt the Wife of B. eſpecially ſhe being a Feme-Covert, becauſe ſhe claimed by a Deviſe and before entry, the Fine is levyed: But the Court conceived, Though a Diſcent in that Caſe ſhall not bind, yet a Fine and Non-claim, which is a binding Law, ſhall bar the Husband who ſuffered the five years to paſs, and all claiming under him, and the Wife during the Coverture. But the Wife ſhall ſhall have new five years after the death of the Huſband. Mich. 16 Car. in R.R. Hulin and Heylocks Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 91, and 145.

13. Husband and Wife ſeiſed of Land in the right of the Wife, the Husband and Wife both joyned in an Exchange of the Lands with a ſtranger for other Lands, which Exchange was executed, the Husband and the Wife ſeiſed of the Land taken in Exchange, alliened the ſame by Fine. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the Wife after the death of her Husband, might enter into her own Lands, notwithſtanding the Exchange and the Fine. And it was compared to the Caſe 19 Eliz. Dyer, 358. The Husband after Marriage, aſſured to his Wife a Joynture, they both levyed a Fine ſur Conuſans de droit come ceo, &c. of the gift of the Husband: Where it was holden, the ſame was not any Bar of her Dower, for that Election is not given to the Wife to claim her Joynture or Dower, until after the death of her Husband. Hill. 28 El. in C. B. Leon. 285.

14. Tenant in tail, the Remainder in tail; Tenant in tail in poſſeſſion, made a Leaſe for three lives, according to the Statute of 32 H. 8. and afterwards dyed without Iſſue, he in the Remainder before any entry, levyed a Fine of the Land with Proclamations: It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the ſame was good: for, by the death of Tenant in tail without Iſſue, the Freehold was veſted in him in the Remainder in tail. Mich. 20 El. in C. B. Leon. 268.

15. An Enfant of the age of 20 years, and three Quarters, and who wanted but 9 Weeks of full age; Commiſſioners appointed for the taking of a Fine, took a Fine of him, not having notice that he was within age, and by Inſpection they could not perceive whether he was within age, or not, he being alſo in Ward to the King. In the Exchequer they took a Recognizance of him of a great ſum, that he ſhould not convey his Lands to any one unleſs by aſſent and order of that Court. In this Caſe, it was ſaid, That this was a fault in the Commiſſioners, but not a crime: And as for the Recognizance, it was ſaid, That if he bring an Audita Querela upon this, they will redreſs it, for that the Law hath made a kind of perpetuity for the preſerving of the Lands of an Enfant during his Minority, ſo as he cannot during this time convey away his Lands by Fine or otherwiſe. The Fine was reverſed. Hill. 12 Jac. in Cam. Stellat. Requeſts and Regiſters Caſe. Tolſtr. 2. Part, 320.

16. A. and B. his Brother, being Tenants for life, the one in Remainder after the other, the Remainder to T. their Nephew in tail, to bar this entail, 1. Oct. 25 Eliz. made a Leaſe for years, with agreement, that the Leſſee ſhould make a Feoffment of this Land, who accordingly made the Feoffment. Afterwards A. releaſed to the Feoffee with Warranty; and afterwards B. releaſed to the Feoffee with Warranty, both which Warranties diſcended upon T. in the Remainder. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That both the ſaid Warranties did commence by diſſeiſin, the Feoffment being made by Covin. But then it was moved, That if T. in the Remainder after this Diſſeiſin, not knowing of the Diſſeiſin, had levyed a Fine to a ſtranger; Whether that ſhould bar his right, and ennure to the benefit of the Diſſeiſor. It was conceived by the Court, That it ſhould not bar his right, nor ſhould ennure to the benefit of the Diſſeiſor; but it ſhould ennure to the benefit of the Conuſor, for otherwiſe a Diſſeiſin, being ſecret, might be a courſe of Diſinheriſin of any one, who intends to levy a Fine for his own benefit for aſſurance of his Lands upon his Wife and Children, or otherwiſe. Mich. 13 Car. in B. R. Sir John Fitzherbert and Sir Ed. Fitzherberts Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 347.

17. A. and his Wife acknowledged a Fine, 26. Martii 1611. before Commiſſioners by Dedimus poteſtatem, and the Wife dyed the next day after in the ſame Moneth, and the 28th day of the ſame Moneth, a compoſition was made in the Alienation Office, upon a Writ of Covenant made in Hill. Term before, and the Kings Silver was entred in the Office of the Kings Silver, as of the ſame Hill. Term, ſo as the Fine was paſſed and engroſſed. It was moved by the Heir of the Wife to avoid his Fine, as not duly acknowledged and levyed; but upon debate of the Court, it was Reſolved, That the Fine ſhould ſtand, and that it ſhould bar the Heir of the Wife. Mich. 18 Jac. in C. B. Farmers Caſe. Hob. 330.

18. A Fine was levyed by Tenant in tail after the Statute of 4 H. 7. and Proclamations paſſed, and five years incurred after Tenant in tail dyed: The Queſtion was, Whether the Iſſue ſhould be barred as privy, becauſe he is to make his conveyance by his Father, or that he ſhall not be reputed per formam doni; and then his right is ſaved by the ſecond ſaving in the Statute, becauſe he is the firſt to whom the right diſcended after the Fine was engroſſed. It was agreed in this Caſe, That if he to whom the Remainder in tail, or other title firſt accrued ſuffered five years to paſs without claim, that this Lacheſs of the Anceſtor ſhould bar the Iſſue. Paſc. 19 H. 8. Dyer, 3.

19. Tenant for life of Land leaſed parcel thereof to hold at Will, and being in poſſeſſion of the reſidue, levyed a Fine of the whole, the Leſſor entred into the Land which was let at Will in point of forfeiture in the name of the whole: In that Caſe it was holden a good entry for the whole. But if the Diſſeiſor leaſeth for years part of the Land whereof the Diſſeiſin was committed, and the Diſſeiſee afterwards entreth into the Land, which continueth in the poſſeſſion of the Diſſeiſor in the name of the whole, the ſame entry ſhall not extend to the Land leaſed, for here the Leſſee is in by Title, but in the other Caſe not: For when Tenant for life leaſeth it at Will, and afterwards levyes a Fine, the ſame is a determination of the Will. And in that Caſe, it was holden, That if there be Leſſee for life, the Remainder for life, the Remainder in Fee, and Leſſee for life in poſſeſſion levyeth a Fine ſur Conuſans de droit, &c. to his own uſe; upon that Fine, a Feeſimple accrues. Paſc. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Potter and Steddalls Caſe. Leon. 51.

20. Tenant in tail, and one A. levyed a Fine to a ſtranger, who granted and rendred unto A. for years, and by the ſame Fine, granted the Reverſion to Tenant in tail and his Heirs. It was adjudged, That the Leaſe was good, and ſhould bind the eſtate tail, for in Judgment of Law, the Leaſe did precede the grant of the Reverſion, although it was by one and the ſame Fine. Cook 1. Part, 76. in Bredons Caſe.

21. Land is given to the Grandfather and his Wife in ſpecial tail, the Grandfather dyeth, the Father Diſſeiſeth the Grandmother, and levyeth a Fine with Proclamations, the Grandmother dyeth, the Father dyeth: It was adjudged, That the Son was barred, and yet the Father at the time of the Fine levyed, had but a poſſibility to the eſtate tail. 20 Eliz. Arthers Caſe, acc.

22. Note, it was Reſolved, That the King, Tenant in tail by the gift of any of his Auncеſtors, being ſubjects, might by Fine levyed upon Grant and Render, bar the Eſtate tail: But in ſuch Caſe, it is good that the Conuſee have Letters Patents to Grant by expreſs words, that he may enter into the Land, for the Fine being Executory upon a Grant and Render, it may be doubted if the Conuſee without ſuch a Grant, might enter upon the King. See Cook 7. Part, 32. acc.

23. If one pretending title unto Land, entreth, and diſſeiſeth another, and afterwards to the intent to bind the Diſſeiſee, levyeth a Fine with Proclamations, this Fine ſhall bind the Diſſeiſee if he doth not enter, nor bring his Action within five years, and the ſame cannot be ſaid a Fine levyed by Covin, becauſe the levying of the Fine is lawfull, and the Diſſeiſee may re-enter, or bring his Action within the five years.

24. A Diſſeiſor levyes a Fine with Proclamations, a ſtranger within the five years, enters in the right of the Diſſeiſee, without the privity or conſent of the Diſſeiſee. It was adjudged, That that entry made by the ſtranger, ſhould not avoid the Fine, becauſe it is not a purſuing according to the Statute of 4 H. 7. of Fines. Mich. 38 Eliz. in B. R. Pollard and Lutterells Caſe. See Poph. 108.

25. In a Formedon brought by the Iſſue in tail, the Defendant pleaded in Bar, and confeſſed the Eſtate tail, but ſaid, That before the death of Tenant in tail, J. S. was ſeiſed in Fee, and levyed a Fine to him, and five years paſſed. It was adjudged, That upon this general Plea, it ſhall be intended, That J. S. was in by Diſſeiſin, and ſo the Fine a good bar to the Iſſue. 18 Car. in B. R. Taylers Caſe, Marſh.

26. A man Bargains and Sells a Reverſion, and afterwards levyes a Fine thereof to the Bargainee and his Heirs, and afterwards the Deed is enrolled. Yet in that Caſe, it was adjudged, That the Bargainee ſhould be in by the Fine, and not by the Bargain and Sale, and the enrollment of the Deed, although the ſame ſhall avoid mean Charges upon the Land, yet it ſhall not deveſt the Eſtate which was ſetled before by the Fine. Cook 4. Part, 71. Hinds Caſe.

27. Note, It was Reſolved in the Court of Wards, Where there is Tenant for life, the Remainder in tail, and he in the Remainder levyes a Fine to the Tenant for life and her Husband upon a Conceſſit Tenementa, &c. to the Husband and Wife, for the life of the Wife, and dyes after Proclamations, That it was not any Diſcontinuance or bar of the tail, but during the life of the Tenant for life, nor is it any bar or alteration of the entail after that eſtate determined. Mich. 1 Jac. in the Court of Wards. The Earl of Rutlands Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 40.

28. A. granted a Rent of 20 l. per annum out of Lands to B. his Heirs, and Aſſigns, to be paid at two dayes, with clauſe of diſtreſs, and for further aſſurance, covenanted to levy a Fine to J. S. and J. D. which ſhould be to the uſes in certain Indentures: And further Covenanted, That then, and from thenceforth, if the Rent ſhould be behind in part, or in all, and no diſtreſs upon the Land, that then it ſhould be lawful for the Grantee, his Heirs, and Aſſigns, to enter into the Land, and retain the ſame until he ſhould be ſatisfied the Rent; J. S. dyed before the Fine levyed, the Grantee aſſigned the Rent over to W. his Heirs, and Aſſigns, who ſold the ſame to F. afterwards 10 l. of the Rent was behind; and afterwards the Fine was levyed to the ſaid uſes; the Aſſignee of the Rent for the Rent arrear, before the Fine levyed, came to diſtrein. There were many points in this Caſe Reſolved; ſee Librum at large: One Queſtion was, Whether the Aſſignee ſhould have benefit of ſuch contingencies as happened in the interim before the Fine levyed; and whether the Aſſignee ſhall now come to have the uſe of the Land to ariſe to him by reaſon of a thing which happened before the Fine was levyed, which was 10 l. Rent behind; And whether he ſhould have ſuch an eſtate in the Land of which he might make a Leaſe for years. In all which, the Court was divided in Opinion, and the Point was not Reſolved. Mich. 14 Jac. in B.R. Magrtill and Hores Caſe. Intratur. Hill. 13 Jac. B.R. rott. 968. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 251, 252. See Cook 2. Part, 510. p. 22. the ſame Caſe.

4. Of what a Fine may be levied, and of what not; and by whom, and by whom not: And where a Fine levied, ſhall be void; Where not: And for what Cauſes, or defects it may or ſhall be reverſed; What not.

1. A Fine may be levied of an Advowſon: And this appeareth by the Book, of 6 E. 3. 54, 55. Where Controverſie being betwixt the Abbot of S. and Theobald C. concerning the Advowſon of the Church of Preſton; In 6 R. 1. a Fine was levied before the Biſhop of Canterbury and Biſhop of Rotcheſter, then Juſtices of the Court of Common-Pleas, betwixt the ſaid Abbot and the ſaid Theoband; by which the ſaid Abbot did grant the ſaid Advowſon to the ſaid Theoband and his heirs for ever; ſo as upon every Preſentation by Theoband or his heirs, they ſhould pay to the Abbot and his Succeſſors, an annuity of 10 l. per annum. Upon which Fine afterwards, the Succeſſors of the Abbot brought a Writ of Annuity againſt Thurſtan de Holland, Parſon of Preſton. See 6 E. 3. 54. vouch. in Cook 8. Part, 145. in Davenports Caſe.

2. Note: A Fine may be levied of a Rent, and a grant and render made by the Fine of a Rent. Cook 2. Part, in the Lord Cromwell's Caſe. And it is there ſaid, That at the Common-Law before the Statute of 27 H. 8. of uſes, If a man had made a Feoffment in Fee to another, by Deed indented rendring a Rent, and with Condition to re-enter: And farther it were Covenanted and agreed between the parties, That notwithſtanding any Fine or other Conveyances made by the Feoffor to the Feoffee, by which the Rent and Condition ſhould be extinct, that the Feoffee and his heirs ſhould be ſeiſed, to the intent that they ſhould pay the like rent, and to be ſeiſed of the Land upon the like Condition as they were before, in this Caſe, If the Feoffor had levied a Fine, or releaſed his right, or made any other Conveyance unto the Feoffee, by which the Rent or Condition were extinct: yet by original agreement of the parties a new rent, and a new Condition ſhould riſe, and the Feoffor ſhould have remedy in equity preſently for the Rent. See Cook 2. Part, 78. in the Lord cromwell's Caſe.

3. A Fine was levied of 40 Meſſuages, 20. Tofts, 1000. Acres of Lands, and 40 s. of Free Rent, with the appurtenances in Kinſbury, Holt, Walcot, and Swindon, Cook 3. Part, 45. in Sir George Brown's Caſe.

4. A Fine was levied of the Advowſon of the Church of Capel, and of 4 l. Rent, with the appurtenances in Stow, Capell, Brockerton, &c. Cook 1. Part, 54. in Sir Hugh Capell's Caſe. See 1 Jac. Arundell and Arundell's Caſe, acc.

5. A Fine was levied of a Dove-houſe, 2. Gardens, 1 l. 6 s. 4 d. rent, and of the rent of 4. Capons, and one pound of Wax, with the Appurtenances in Stow Market, Newton, Gipping, &c. 7. Part, 38. Cook 4. Part, 67. in Bedons Caſe.

6. A Reverſion ſhall paſſe in a Fine by the word, Right; for that is all the right which he hath to it, 27 H. 6. 5.

7. A Fine was levied of a Rectory, out of which a Rent of 30 l. per annum was rendred, Cook Lillington's Caſe.

8. A Fine was levied of a Reverſion: and ſee there, how that it muſt mention the particular Eſtates. Cook 6. Part, 68. in Sir Moile Finches Caſe.

9. If a Fine be levied by an Enfant, if it be not reverſed during his minority, it is unavoidable in Law, and the heirs of the Enfant have not any remedy to reverſe it: and the reaſon of it is, for that the age of an Enfant is not to be tryed, but by Inſpection of his perſon: for if it ſhould be otherwiſe tryed then by Inſpection, no man ſhould be ſure of his Inheritance; for after the death of the Conuſor, averment may be made many years after that the Conuſor was within age at the time of the Fine levied; and ſo Records ſhall be made void by meer averments: But if an Enfant do levy a Fine within age, he may have a Writ of Errour during his Non-age; and reverſe the ſame for the ſaid Cauſe: and it ſhall be tryed by the Inſpection of the Enfant by the Judges of the Law. Mich. 12 Jac. in Cam. Stellat. Anne Haugates Caſe. Cook 12. Part, 122.

10. Robert Worſley and Katherine his Wife, his Wife being within age, acknowledged a Note of a Fine before Commiſſioners by Dedimus Poteſtatem. It was averred, that the Commiſſioners did know, that the ſaid Katherine was within age. Every one of the Commiſſioners was fined: but the Fine ſtood effectuall in Law, Mich. 25 Eliz. Chandiſh and Worſley's Caſe.

11. One Alexander Gilderbrand being ſeiſed of Lands in Windham in the County of Norfolk: one A. procured one B, who was in his Cuſtody in his house, to take upon him the name of the said Alexander Gildebrand, who was then beyond Sea; and to acknowledg a Fine of the said Lands to the said A: the Parties were fined for that unlawfull Act in the Star-Chamber, in a very great fine to the Queen: but there was no sentence given to draw off the said Fine from the File, or damages awarded to the said Alexander, who was the party grieved, Mich. 39 Eliz. in Cam. Stellat. See Cook 12 Part, 123.

12. A. seised of Lands in Fee, devised the same to B. his son in tail, the remainder to C, and because his Son was within age, he devised the Education of him to J. S, whom he made his Executor: The Son afterwards became a deformed Cripple, and became an Idiot à Nativitate: The Infant was taken out of the Custody of his Guardian, and kept in Secret, untill before Justice Southcote he acknowledged a Fine to the use of the Conusee and his heirs. This matter was tryed before the Justices of the Common-Pleas, in an Action brought against one Mansfield, who claimed the Lands under this Fine. And the deformed Ideot was brought into Court upon mens shoulders to be shewed to the Jurours there. The Lord Dyer and the Court by Consent of the parties, caused a Jurour to be withdrawn: but notwithstanding all this, and although the monstrous deformity and Ideocy of B. was apparent; yet the Fine stood good. Mic. 12 Jac. Cook 12. Part, 123, 124. Mansfield's Case.

13. A. brought a Writ of Errour to reverse a Fine levied by his Auncestor, of 20. Acres of Lands: The Defendant in abatement of the Writ did plead, That the Plaintiff after the death of his Auncestor, did disseise the Defendants of the Land, and made a Feoffment to a stranger, and demanded Judgment of the Writ. The Plaintiff replyed, That they did re-enter upon him, without that, that he did enfeoffe a stranger modo et forma. And the Jury souud, That there was a Fine of 20. Acres, and that the Plaintiff being Disseisor of all, made a Feoffment of 6. Acres of it to a stranger. It was Resolved by the Court, That the Feoffment did not destroy the title of the Writ of Errour, for more then so much as the Feoffment was made of; and therefore gave Judgment, That the Fine should be reversed for that part of the Land onely whereof no Feoffment was made, and should stand good for the rest. 37 Eliz. in B. R. Wright, and the Mayor and Comminalty of Wickombs Case. Owen, 21.

14. If a woman who is an Inheretrix, Covenants by Indenture, without the knowledg or consent of the husband, to levy a Fine to certain Conusees and uses in the Indenture mentioned; and afterwards the husband Covenants by another Indenture, without the knowledg and consent of his wife, to levy a Fine to another Conusees and uses in that Indenture mentioned. And afterwards, the husband and wife joyn in a Fine to the Conusees in the Indenture of the Wife mentioned. In this Case, the limitations and declarations of the uses in both the Indentures are void, and the Fine shall be by Construction of Law to the use of the woman and her heirs, as if no use had been declared: For the Wife alone, although she be owner of the Land, yet being sub potestate viri, cannot limit the use on the one side: and the husband who hath not any thing in his own right, cannot, without the good liking of the Wife, limit the use of the Wifes Land; so the one is not sui juris, and hath an Estate; and the other is sui juris, and hath not the Estate; and therefore when they differ in the limitation of the uses, all which they do must be void. Cook 2. Part, 57. Beckwith's Case.

15. Chenty levied a Fine, and afterwards brought a Writ of Errour to reverse it, and assigned Nonage, and had a Scire facias against the Conusee; and upon two Nihils, the Court proceeded, and by Witnesses and Inspection reversed the Fine, 3 Eliz. Dyer 201.

16. Errour brought to reverse a Fine; The Errour assigned was, That the Writ of Covenant, and the Dedimus Potestatem were, That a Fine shall be de Manerio de P, and of 20 Acres of Land, and 40 s. Rent in P: and the Concord and the Fine is, Quod Cognovit manerium et Tenementa predict. cum pertinentiis esse jus, &c. leaving out the Rent; and so it varies from the Writ and Warrant of Dedimus. But the Court held it to be no Errour to reverse the Fine; For that the usual course of the Fine-Office is, That where a Fine is levied of a Manor and Rent, if it be under the value of 5 l. they never use to make any mention thereof in the Fine; but if the Rent do amount to 5 l. and more, then they use to mention it in the Concord of the Fine. Another Errour assigned, was, Because the Dedimus Potestatem was made per Rogerum Manwood militem; and Roger Manwood, who took the Fine, was not then a Knight. But this was Resolved to be no Errour, because it is directly against the Record which is not receiveable; for it is recorded as a Fine taken by him: And see in 1 Ma. Dyer, in Venners Case, An Errour was not suffered to be assigned, That the Conusor was dead before the time that the Conusans was certified to be taken, because it was expresly against the Judges Certificate, Mich. 1 Jac. in B. R. Arundell and Arundell's Case, Cro. 2. Part, 11.

17. Errour, to reverse a Fine levied by Charls Earl of Devon; the Writ was brought, as Cosen and heir of the Earl, and a Scire facias ad audiendum dum Errores, and doth not ſhew in either of the ſaid Writs, how he was Coſen to the Earl, and for that cauſe the Defendant pleaded alatement of the Writ. But the Opinion of the Court was, That it was good enough, without ſhewing, How Coſen, in the Writ of Errour, or in the Scire facias: for the one is but a Commiſſion to hear the Errors, and needs not ſuch Certainty; and the other is but a Writ founded thereupon; nor is it requiſite, that the title be ſhewed therein, unleſſe it be in a ſpecial Caſe varying from the common courſe: And although in ſome Caſes and Writs, it is ſhewen, How Coſen, as in Vernon's Caſe, and it is good; yet the Court held, That it is not of neceſſity. Mich. 4 Jac. in B.R. Sir Rich. Champernon and Sir William Godolphins Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 160, 161.

18. Errour brought by a Woman, to reverſe a Fine levied by her and her husband in the County of Mountgomery. The Errour aſſigned, was, That the Writ of Dedimus Poteſtatem bore date before the Writ of Covenant, and had a Scire facias to warn the heir and Terr-Tenant, and T. B. was returned to be warned as heir and Terr-Tenant, who appeared, and pleaded, That W. B. the Conuſee his Father dyed ſeiſed, which diſcended to him as heir, and that he is Terr-Tenant, and within age, and prayed that the Paroll might demur. The Plaintiff counterpleaded the age, ſhewing, that ſhe was entituled to have Dower before the Fine levied, and is now barred of her Dower: and thereupon it was demurred. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was no Counter-plea for her, to out him of his age: for it is a Rule in Law, That the heir being within age, and in by diſcent, ſhall have his age in a Writ of Errour. And although it was Objected, That in Dower age is not allowable; as it was adjudged in Williams and Williams's Caſe, for the Miſchief that the Demandant claiming but an Eſtate for life may dye, and loſe her Eſtate: yet becauſe it is alſo a Rule in Law, That an Enfant by Intendment hath no knowledg to plead and defend his Title: and he might have divers cauſes to plead to avoid the Writ of Errour. It was Reſolved, It was no good Counter-plea. Trin. 10 Jac. B.R. Herbert and Binions Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 392.

19. Husband and Wife levied a Fine of the Wifes Land, the Wife being within age: both of them brought a Writ of Errour to reverſe the Fine; The Queſtion was, If it ſhould be reverſed as to the Wife only, or againſt both, or againſt the husband only? And after a long debate, it was adjudged, That it ſhould be reverſed as againſt them both: for that it is an entire thing, and cannot be affirmed in part, and diſſolved in part. Trin. 30 Eliz. in B. R. rott. 832. Charnock and Worſleys Caſe. Leon. 115.

20. In an Aſſiſe againſt 3. Coparceners, They pleaded, That there was no Tenant of the Freehold named in the Writ. It was found, That two of them were Diſſeiſors, and that the third had nothing: and afterwards, the three Coparceners brought an Attaint; and after, the third Siſter, who was acquit, was Nonſuit: and by the Rule of the Court, the Writ did abate. And in that Caſe, It was ſaid, That in a Writ of Errour brought to reverſe a Fine by an Enfant, the Caſe was, Huſband and Wife were Tenants for life, the remainder to an Enfant in Fee, they levied a Fine, and the Enfant only brought a Writ of Errour to reverſe the Fine. And it was Objected, That they all three ought to have joyned in the Writ of Errour. But in that Caſe, It was holden, That the Writ was well brought, becauſe the Enfant onely was grieved by the Fine, and the husband and wife had no cauſe of Action. Mich. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Pigott and Harrington's Caſe. Leon. 317.

More of Fines levied.

1. THe Father Covenanted with A, That in Conſideration of a Marriage he had betwixt his Son and G, daughter of A, that before ſuch a day he would levy a Fine of Lands, which ſhould be to the uſes of the ſaid Son and daughter in tail, for the Joynture of the daughter. The Fine is levied according to the uſes: The Father dyeth; but no mention is made of the marriage had. It was the clear Opinion of the Court, That notwithſtanding that the marriage was not accompliſhed, yet the Eſtate tail was well enough executed in the Son and daughter; for the Fine without any Conſideration doth carry the uſes: but without a Fine, ſuch a Conſideration would not raiſe an uſe, without accompliſhment of the marriage; for the Conſideration executed, ought to produce the uſe. But in this caſe they are perfected by the Fine. Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Stephens Caſe. Leon. 138.

2. Lands were conveyed to Sir Tho. Cotton for life, the remainder to William Cotton et primogenito filio ſuo, et hæredi maſculo et ſic. de primogenito ad primogenitum dict. Willielmi, the remainder to the right heirs of the body of Sir Tho. Cotton and William lawfully iſſuing, the remainder to the right heirs of Sir Tho. Cotton. William had Iſſue a ſon here born in England, and went beyond yond Sea to Antwerp: there continuing, his Son and heir being within age, Sir Tho. Cotton levied a Fine sur Conuſans de droit of all the Lands; and afterwards Covenanted, to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of Robert Cotton his Son in Fee; William dyed at Antwerp; his Son within age in England; Sir Tho. Cotton dyed, Robert entred. In this Caſe, it was holden by the Court, That Sir Tho. Cotton was Tenant for life, the remainder to William for life, the remainder to the heirs of both their bodies iſſuing: ſo as to one moyty Sir Tho. Cotton had an Eſtate tail dependant upon the Eſtates for life, and ſo the Fine levied by him was a Barr to the Iſſue of William for a moyty: And as to the other moyty, the Court held, That the ſame was no Barr, but that the party intereſſed at the time, might at any time avoid the ſame during his Non-age, and 5. years after; for William his Father was not bound by the Statute of 4 H. 7. becauſe at the time of the Fine levied, he was beyond the Seas: and although he never returned, but dyed there: yet by equity of the Statute, his Iſſue ſhould have 5. years after his death to avoid the Fine, if he were of full age; and if he were within age then during his non-age, and 5. years after. Mich. 33 Eliz. in C. B. Cotton's Caſe. Leon. 211.

3. In a Writ of Errour brought to reverſe a Fine, the Caſe was; Waterhouſe levied a Fine in barr, in an Action brought; The Earl of Oxford pleaded, That he was beyond Sea at the time of the Fine levied. Waterhouſe Replyed, That he came into England in Auguſt, within 5. years after the Fine levied: And upon that, they were at Iſſue. And the Jury found, That he came over in July: and notwithſtanding, the Court was clear of Opinion, That the Writ of Errour did not lye: For although the Jury found, that he came over in July, yet the ſubſtance of the matter is, He was in England; ſo that he might have made his claim: So as the Fine ſhould barr him. And ſo adjudged, That he ſhould be barred, for not making his claim within the 5. years after the Fine levied. Paſc. 15 Car. in B. R. Waterhouſe and the Earl of Oxford's Caſe. Mayſh 8.

4. Tenant in tail of a Rent iſſuing out of a Manor, levies a Fine of the Manor out of which the Rent is iſſuing, to J. S. and his heirs; And the Queſtion was, Whether this Fine levied of the Manor, ſhall barr the Iſſue in tail of the Rent? It was the better Opinion of the Court, That the Fine being levied with Proclamations per nomen Manerii, ſhould bar him of the Rent: for the Fine being levied of the Manors incluſive, gives the Rent, and a Fine is a bar to it, as well as if the Fine had been levied of the Rent it ſelf. Hill. 22 Jac. B. R. Heliot and Saunders Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 699.

5. Note, If one hath right to a Writ of Error, to reverſe a Fine for Errour; and he ſuffereth 5. years to paſſe without bringing his Writ of Errour. It was adjudged, That he ſhall be barred by that Fine, and 5. years paſſed by the word [Alienavit] which is in the Statute of 4 H. 7. And ſo it was ſaid, It was adjudged in Mandeville's Caſe, 27 Eliz. upon ſolemn Argument in the Exchequer-Chamber: and ſo was it alſo adjudged, 28 Eliz. in Barton and Harvies Caſe. See Cook 3. Part, the Marqueſſe of Winchester's Caſe, Cook 10. Part, 91, 99. Seymor's Caſe. And ſee Trin. 11 Jac. B. R. Bartholomew and Belfield's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 332. acc.

6. In a Replevin, the Caſe was; A. was ſeiſed of Land, and 18 Eliz. by Deed, granted a Rent of 13 l. 6 s. 8 d. thereof to J. S. in Fee, payable at the Feaſt of St. Peter, or within 20. dayes after, with a Nomine pœnæ, and clauſe of Diſtreſs: J. S. ſeiſed of the rent, dyed, and the ſame diſcended to his daughter, who had a husband, and they being ſeiſed in the right of the wife, levied a Fine of the ſaid Rent to J. D. and J. G. and the heirs of the ſaid J. D. to the uſe of the ſaid J. D. and J. G. and their heirs for ever. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, by all the Judges, That by this Fine granted to J. D. and J. G. and the heirs of J. D. to the uſe of them and their heirs, that they were Joynt-Tenants of the Rent; for otherwiſe, there ſhould be a fraction of the Eſtate, that one ſhould be in by the Common-Law, and the other by the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes, which was not according to the Statute. Hill. 6 Car. in C. B. Parnell and Bridges Caſe, Hutton 112.

7. A. poſſeſſed of divers parcels of Land within the Manor of S. for years at Will, and by Copy, and of others in Fee, there demiſed the whole to B. for life, and then levied a Fine to him and his heirs of ſo many Acres, as amounted to the whole Land, and continued poſſeſſion, and paid the Rents to the Lord as if nothing had been done. In this Caſe, It was adjudged, That although the 5. years paſſed, yet the Lord was not barred: and yet in the Statute of 4 H. 7. the ſaving is of ſuch right as ſhall firſt grow, remain, and be; and there the right firſt accrued to the Leſſor after the Fine: Yet in this caſe, the Lord ſhall not be barred, becauſe A. having Lands within the ſame Manor, and ſtill continuing poſſeſſion, and paying the Rents, the Lord could not poſſibly take notice of the Covin. Cook 3. Part, 78. in Farmar's Caſe.

Forcible Entry; and Indictment upon it.

1. A Writ of Forcible Entry, lyeth upon the Statute of 8 H. 6. where a man is diſſeiſed, or put out of his Lands or Tenements, with force whereof he is ſeiſed of an Eſtate of Freehold, in tail, in Fee, or for life: Or if he be diſſeiſed or put out of his Lands or Tenements peaceably, and afterwards, the Diſſeiſor, or he who ouſteth him, doth detain and keep the Lands or Tenements with force; then he who is ſo put out, may ſue forth this Writ, and he ſhall recover his Damages and his treble Coſts: and none can maintain an Action of Forcible Entry upon this Statute, but he that hath a Freehold, becauſe the words are, Expulit et diſſeiſivit. See Fitzh. Na. Br. And the Writ lyeth as well of a Rent, as of Lands: But if a man hath been three years in peaceable poſſeſſion without interruption, there he may hold the Lands and Tenements with force, and ſhall not be puniſhed for that force. And as a man may have a Writ of Forcible Entry upon the ſaid Statute of 8 H. 6; ſo a man may be Indicted upon a Forcible Entry, upon the ſame Statute.

2. One was Leſſee for years, and the Reverſion did belong to the Company of Goldſmiths, London, and one was Indicted for a Forcible Entry; and the words of the Indictment were Expulit et diſſeiſivit the Company of Goldſmiths Et quendam J. S. Tenentem expulit: Exception was taken to the Indictment, for it was ſaid, that a Diſſeiſin might be to one, although not in poſſeſſion, as to a Reverſioner upon a Term for years, but it could not be Expulit, unleſs he were in poſſeſſion, for privatio præſupponit habitum, and two cannot be expulſi, where one only is in poſſeſſion: and therefore the Indictment ſhould have bin, That the Tenant of the Freehold was Diſſeiſed, and the Termor expelled; but in this Caſe, the word Expulit is applyed to both. But to that it was ſaid by the Court, That the Indictment was well enough, for that the poſſeſſion of the Termor, is the poſſeſſion of him in the Reverſion: and as to the other point, ſcil. that quendam J. S. Tenentem expulit, the ſame was but ſurpluſage, as the Juſtices ſaid, and ſo the Indictment was holden good. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Godbolt. 45.

3. A man was Indicted upon the Statute of 8 H. 6. for forcible Entry into a Rectory, and thereof diſſeiſing the Biſhop of C. It was before a general Pardon: and a traverſe was to the Indictment, and a venire facias awarded and returned, and then the General Pardon came. It was ſhewed to the Court, That the party Indicted, was ouſted from his poſſeſſion by colour of this Indictment, it being falſe. The Writ of Reſtitution being awarded upon it; wherefore he prayed he might proceed upon it, and he would relinquiſh any benefit of the Pardon, for he had not any other means to be reſtored to his Poſſeſſion. But the Opinion of the Court was, That there ought not to be any proceedings upon this Indictment, the offence being Pardoned by the general Pardon, of which the Court is to take notice, and the party cannot proceed to have reſtitution; when, if it ſhould paſs againſt him, the King ſhould not have any benefit of any Fine. Hill. 4 Jac. in B. R. Fawcets Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 149.

4. A man was Endicted of forcible Entry into Tythes; where the party ouſted, prayed Reſtitution: It was ſaid and agreed, That an Aſſiſe did lye for Tythes. It was ſaid, That Endictments ſhould be aſwell allowed for Tythes as for Rent; and for a Rent, forcible Entry lyes, 20 H. 6. 11. Fitzh. Nat. Br. And afterwards a Writ of Reſtitution was granted. Mich. 6 Jac. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 146.

5. A. Tenant for years, the Reverſion to B, paid his Rent to him in the Reverſion for 15 years. Before the end of the Term, J. S. came to A. and told him, that J. D. had title to the Land, and adviſed him to take a Leaſe from him; who took a Leaſe for 10 years, rendring rent, the Rent being at an undervalue, and willed him to hold the poſſeſſion againſt all perſons; he at the end of the Term, kept the poſſeſſion with Guns and other weapons. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved, 1. That this was a forcible detainer, although no perſon offered to enter, for it was holden, That the poſſeſſion of the Termor, was the poſſeſſion of the Reverſioner, or the Leſſor: and when he kept the poſſeſſion againſt him to whom he had ſo long paid the Rent, it was a Detainer with force; and where the Statute is, That whereas one hath the poſſeſſion for three years quietly, he might hold the poſſeſſion with force, it is intended where the Eſtate is continued. Mich. 5 Jac. in Cam. Stellat. Bacon Snigg and Shirtons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 199.

6. A. was Endicted upon the Statute of 8 H. 6. That he entred with force, and Diſſeiſed H. and held him out with force: The Bill was found Quoad the Detainment, and thereupon reſtitution awarded. The Indictment being removed into B. R. It was ſaid, That the Indictment was ill, becauſe it was not found, That he entred peaceably; and thereupon it was prayed, to have re-reſtitution; and and although F. who had bin 30 years in poſſeſſion ſhould be thereby delayed, and kept out of poſſeſſion, yet becauſe it was but to make re-reſtitution after a reſtitution, the Court awarded re-reſtitution. Hill. 4 Car. in B. R. Fords Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 151.

7. Indictment upon the Statute of 8 H. 6. was, ſuppoſing that the party ſuch a day entred with force and arms into ſuch Lands exiſtent Liberum Tenementum, J. B. and with force expelled and amoved him; and becauſe it was not alledged to be ad tunc exiſtens, the Freehold of J. B. viz. at the time of the Entry: It was reverſed. Mich. 6 Jac. in B. R. Sir Nicholas Points Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 214. See 20 Jac. in B. R. Bridges Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 639. acc.

8. Note, It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That one may not be indicted nor committed for entering into his own Land with force, or holding his own Land with force againſt a Condition upon the Statute of 15 R. 2. for it ought to be ubi ingreſſus non datur per legem, and one in his own land may enter lawfully, and may detain with force againſt any who pretend to have Common there; and the ſaid Statute doth not extend againſt any but him who enters unlawfully, and ouſts another of his lawful poſſeſſion. Mich. 13 Car. in B. R. Sydnam and Parrs Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 349.

9. Note, It was holden in the Star-Chamber, That he who hath had quiet poſſeſſion three years upon a good Title, if after he be put out with force and reſtored again, yet he may not juſtify to detain with force by the Proviſo in the Statute, becauſe that his poſſeſſion was interrupted, nor may he come with a multitude to put himſelf in poſſeſſion again: And in that Caſe, it was ſaid, That if Termor be expulſed by force, he in the Reverſion may not have an Action upon the Statute of 8 H. 6. for although he be diſſeiſed, yet he is not expelled. Paſc. 4 Ma. Dyer, 141.

10. If the Diſſeiſee after that the Diſſeiſor hath peaceably holden the Lands three years, entreth upon the Diſſeiſor, upon whom the Diſſeiſor entreth again, he cannot then hold with force. But if a man be ſeiſed by juſt title three years, and is Diſſeiſed, and afterwards he entreth upon the Diſſeiſor; ſome were of Opinion, That he might hold the Land with force. 23 H. 8. Br. Forcible Entry. 22.

11. The Statute of 8 H. 6. of Forcible Entry, giveth power to Juſtices of Peace to make reſtitution, and by that Statute, Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, or Goal-delivery, &c. ſhall not make reſtitution as it hath bin adjudged. But yet if an Indictment of Forcible Entry upon that Statute be removed into the Kings Bench coram rege, they may thereupon award reſtitution; and ſo it was holden and agreed, 4 H. 7. 18. and 7 E. 4. 18. And ſee accordingly, Cook 11. Part, 65. in Dr. Foſters Caſe.

Forreſts, Chaſes, Parks, and Warrens.

1. The Definition of a Forreſt, Chace; What they are, what not: Of the Incidents to them; and who may have them, who not.

1. A Forreſt is a certain Territory of ground priviledged for wild Beaſts, and Fowl of the Forreſt to reſt and abide in the ſafe protection of the King, for his Princely delight and pleaſure, and doth conſiſt of four things. 1. Vert. 2. Veniſon. 3. Particular Laws and Priviledges. 4. Certain Offices. Manwood Forreſt Laws, fol. The King and Sir John Byrons Caſe. Bridg. 26. acc.

2. In a Quo Warranto brought by the King againſt Briſt, of the Forreſt of Cleve. The Defendant ſhewed, That King Henry the ſecond was ſeiſed of Cleeve, which extended into 21 Towns; and by his Letters Pattents 30 Hen. 2. did grant this Forreſt unto Richard Clifford, and afterwards the ſame came to the Earl of Shrewsbury; and by mean Conveyances the ſame came to the Defendants Father, who thereof dyed ſeiſed, and from him the ſame came to the Defendant in the Quo Warranto, and pleaded, That the Kings Attorney General had confeſſed all this matter to be true. It was Reſolved in this Caſe. 1. That no Subject can have a Forreſt, becauſe that a Juſtice ſeat is incident to a Forreſt, and none can make a Juſtice ſeat but the King; and to make a Juſtice ſeat, and the like, are Jura Regalia. And therefore whereas Prince Henry had a Forreſt granted unto him, there was a power given to him by the King to make a Juſtice in Eyer, and a License to keep Courts. 2. It was Reſolved, That this Grant was void, and not to be pleaded, it being time out of mind, in the time of King Henry the ſecond, if no allowance hath bin thereof in Eyre; and it doth not appear that there hath bin any allowance in Eyre of this Charter. 3. It was holden, That if the King hath a Forreſt and grants the ſame to a Subject, this grant is not merely meerly void, but by this Grant, he shall have a Chace, but no Swanny Moats. Mich. 12 Jac. The King and Brigs Case. Bolstr. 2. Part, 295, 296, 297. See Poph. 150. the same Case.

3. Note, these points were Resolved by all the Justices, upon a Reference to them, concerning misdemeaners done in the Forrest of Leicest. and the Forrest of Bowland, in the County of Warwick. That the appellation of Lands by the name of a Forrest, in Grants, Offices, and Conveyances, is not any proof that the same is a Forrest in Law; but if they are Forrests, it must appear by matter of Record, as by Eyers of Justices; Swanny-Moats, Officers of Forrests, as Regarders, Agisters, Verderors, and if these are not, they are only free Chases, and no Forrests, and he who hath any Freehold in them, may cut his Timber and Wood upon it, or License any, leaving sufficient for Covert, and to maintain the Game of the King. 2. That in a Chase, the owner of the Soil may have Common for his Sheep, and Warren for his Conyes by grant or Prescription, but cannot surcharge them, nor can he erect a new Warren without Charter. 3. That a man may prescribe to cut his Wood upon his own Inheritance within a Forrest, notwithstanding the Statute of 41 E. 1. Pasc. 5 Jac. Cro. 32. Part, 22. See Cro. 155. in the Case of Leicester Forrest, acc.

4. A man was Amerced and Imprisoned, for putting his Sheep in a Forrest to depasture there; whereupon he brought his Habeas Corpus. It was agreed in this Case, That by the Forrest-Law, a man cannot have Common of Pasture for his sheep in a Forrest by which the Vert is destroyed, for that Sheep bite very low; and for the justifying of such wrong by Law, he ought to have punishment, but whether he might be Imprisoned for refusing to pay an Amercement imposed upon him, in the Justice-seat there was not Resolved. Trin. 14 Jac. Webs Case. Bolstr. 3. Part, 213.

5. No man ever made a Park, Chase, or Warren without the Kings License, for that were quodam modo to appropriate those which were feræ naturæ, et nullius in bonis to himself, and to restrain them of their natural liberty, which he cannot do without the Kings License; but for Hawking, Hunting, &c. which are matters of Pastime and recreation, there needeth not any License, but every one may in his own Land use them without restraint to be made, if it be not by Parliament. Cook 11. Part, 87. in the Case of Monopolies.

6. It was agreed by the Court, That a Subject may have a Forrest, but not a Justice-Seat. But he may have a Swanmote-Court, and the other Courts belonging to a Forrest, and Commission to execute them: And it was agreed in this Case, That a Forrest in the hands of the King shall be discharged of Tythes, but if a Forrest be in the hands of a Subject, he shall pay Tythes: for it is only a personal priviledg which extendeth to the person of the King. Mich. 3 Car. in C. B. Commins Case. Hethey 60. See Cro. 1. Part, 67. the same Case.

2. What shall pass by the Grant, or Lease of the King of a Forrest: Whether the Grantee may enclose; and what shall be good causes of forfeiture of the Offices of Keeper of a Forrest, Park, &c.

1. KIng Henry 8. made a Lease unto Sir Richard Cromwell of the Forrests of Wayland and Saplay: And the Lessee Covenanted to keep 100 Deer there continually during the Term: and to leave such a number at the end of the Term. And afterwards the King granted the Reversion to the Lord North. In this Case, it was Resolved: first, That by the grant of the Forrests, the Deer passed. 2. That the Grantee of the Reversion could not kill the Deer there, for then it is not possible that the Lessee should perform his Covenant, which is for the maintenance of the Game of the Forrest. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 149.

2. Note, It was moved to the Justices, That if the King be seised of a Park, and he grant the Herbage, agistment and pawnage of the Park; and the Grantee surchargeth the Park so with Cattel, that the Deer have not Pasture and feeding there; what remedy the grantee hath, because he reserved no Pasture for the Deer there. It seemed to the Justices, that the Grant was void as to that intent, and that appeareth to be so, for that the Grantee was enforced to compound with the King, and gave him 600 l. pro omnibus dimissis et concessis. See Hill. 7 E. 6. Dyer, 80. in the Lord Willoughby and Fosters Case.

3. If the King grant the Herbage Forresta sua, If a stranger putteth in Cattel, and destroyes the grass; It was the Opinion of the Justices, That the Pattentee might maintain an Action of Trespass Quare clausum fregit against the party, or he might distreyn the Cattel there damage feasant: And some of the Justices were of Opinion, That by force of such a grant, the Pattentee might enclose, but by such a Grant, the Pattentee could not take or cut down the Trees, nor the fruit of them. Trin. 11 Eliz. Dyer, 287.

4. If a Forrester, or Keeper of a Forrest or Park, fell and cut down the Wood, if not for necessary

 bowse,

browſe, it is a forfeiture of their Office, for the deſtruction of the Vert, is a deſtruction of the Veniſon. Cook 9. Part, 50. in the Earl of Shrewsburyes Caſe.

5. The Earl of Pembroke, ſeiſed of the Mannor of D. to which Mannor the Office of Keeper of the Forreſt of S. was belonging, granted the Office of Lieutenantſhip and Deputyſhip, and the Keepership of the ſaid Forreſt to Sir Maurice Berkly and the Heirs Males of his body. Provided, and the ſaid Maurice Covenanted for him, and the Heirs of his body, to preſerve the Game as fair as formerly had bin uſed, and that neither he nor the Heirs of his body ſhould cut down any manner of Wood growing upon any part of the premiſes, but for neceſſary browſe, and ſuch as they might lawfully cut, and was accuſtomed. Sir Maurice dyed, and Sir Henry Berkly his Son cut down four Oaks, which were Timber, and converted them to his own uſe: And whether this act of his was a forfeiture of the ſaid Office, was a point in this Caſe. It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices and Barons of the Exchequer, That at the Common-Law, aſwell in the Caſe of a Forreſter, as in the Caſe of a Park-keeper, to cut down Trees, was a forfeiture of their Offices; For the Forreſter hath not only the Charge of the Game, but of all that is within the Forreſt, by which the Game is fed, preſerved, or ſucceoured, and they are to feed by the browſe, and ſucceoured by the ſhade: And by the Statute of Charta Forreſta, none may cut his Wood within the Forreſt niſi per viſum Forreſtarii: and therefore every voluntary Act done by an Officer contrary to that which belongs to his Office, is a forfeiture of his Office; as the voluntary killing the Deer, cutting down the Wood, or the like, and although the cutting of the Trees in the principal Caſe were not many: yet it cannot be intended, but it is ſo much impaired by it, as it ſhould be by the killing of one Buck in the Forreſt; but he hath done a voluntary act contrary to his Office: and therefore the Juſtices held, That it was a forfeiture of his Office. Hill. 38 Eliz. The Earl of Pembroke and Sir Henry Barkleyes Caſe. Poph. 116, 117, 118.

6. Thomas Earl of Lancaſter, Lord of a Forreſt, did grant leave to one Harrington to make a Park within the ſaid Forreſt. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That if the Grantee doth ſo ſlightly encloſe the Park, ſo as the Forreſt-Beaſts may get in there, that it is a forfeiture, and the Lord of the Forreſt may enter and take the Deer. 15 E. 3. vouch. in the King and Sir John Byrons Caſe. Bridgman, 27.

Forfeiture.

1. Where, and by what act Tenant for life or years ſhall forfeit their Eſtates by making a Leaſe for years, of a greater Eſtate or other act done by them, and who ſhall take advantage of ſuch forfeiture; where not.

1. SIR Wolſtan Dixſey brought Debt in London againſt Alderman Spencer for Rent upon a Leaſe for years made to Spencer by one Bacchus, who afterwards granted the Reverſion to Dixſey, and the Tenant attorned, and the Rent was unpaid, &c. Spencer pleaded in Bar, That before the grant of the Reverſion, Bacchus was ſeiſed, and ſhewed the Cuſtome of London to make enrolments of Deeds in London, and that before the Bargain and Sale to Dixſey, he bargained the Reverſion to him by paroll, and demanded Judgment: This Plea was entred upon Record, and, pendente the ſuit, Dixſey entred into the Lands for a forfeiture of the Term, becauſe he claimed a Feeſimple. In this Caſe, upon many other points in the Caſe, It was agreed, this claim of the Feeſimple was a forfeiture of the Term. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Sir Wolſtan Dixſey and Spencers Caſe. Goldsbr. 40.

2. In Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was, A. made a Leaſe to B. and his Aſſigns for his own life, and for the lives of C. D. and E. and afterwards A. granted the Reverſion to J. S. for 21 years. B. made a Leaſe to J. D. to hold at will, and dyed; and if the eſtate of J. D. was determined by the death of A. was the Queſtion. It was the Opinion of the Court, That if a Leaſe be made to one and his Aſſigns for his own life, and the lives of two others that they might well ſtand together in him ſimul & ſemel, for that although the Leſſee may not have that during his own life, yet he may diſpoſe of it and by that means have the benefit of it: And it was adjudged in Chambers and Goſtocks Caſe, in C. B. where a Leaſe was made to two for their lives, and the life of a ſtranger, and one of the Leſſees dyed: and the ſurvivor granted the Land for his life, and the life of the ſtranger; and it was held in to be no forfeiture: It was the Opinion of the Court, it was a good Leaſe, and if he had granted it over for any of the other three lives, it had been a forfeiture of his eſtate. Hill. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Roſs and Ardwicks Caſe. Goldsbr. 157, 158.

3. Tenant

3. Tenant for life, the Remainder in Fee; Tenant for life made a Leaſe for years, the Leſſee entred: Tenant for life granted Tenement. predict. to C. Habendum from Mich. next for life; Leſſee for years attorned, C. entred and made a Leaſe at will, to whom Tenant for life levyed a Fine ſur Conuſans de droit, &c. and he in the Remainder entred. In this Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved (amongſt other). 1. That when C. entred by colour of the Grant, that he was a Diſſeiſor. 2. That if the Fine had bin levyed to the Diſſeiſor, that he who had the right unto the Remainder, might have entred for the forfeiture: for a right of a particular eſtate might be forfeited, and entry thereby given to him who hath but a right in Remainder. 3. Agreed, That the Fine levyed to the Tenant at will, was a forfeiture of the eſtate of Tenant for life. Cook 2. Part, 56. Buckler's Caſe.

4. The Father was Tenant for life, the Remainder to his Son and Heir apparent in tail, the Father by Covin made a Leaſe for years to A. to make a Feoffment to B. in Fee, to whom the Father releaſed with Warranty, and dyed; the Warranty diſcended upon the Son: It was Reſolved, That this was a Warranty which did commence by Diſſeiſin, and ſhould not bar the Son; and the Father by his agreement to the ſame, was particeps Criminis; and it was a forfeiture of his eſtate, of which the Son being iſſue in tail, might take advantage, and ſhou'd not be barred by the Warranty of his Father. Cook 5. Part, Fitzherberts Caſe.

5. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, made his Will, and thereby deviſed his Land to R. his younger Son in perpetuum, and after his deceaſe, the Remainder to his Heir Male in perpetuum, with diverſe Remainders over, limitted proximo filio ſeniori et hæredi maſculo in perpetuum. A. dyed, R. his younger Son entred, and made a Leaſe to J. S. for three lives: The doubt in this Caſe was, If Robert had an eſtate for life, or in tail; if but for life, then it was ſaid that he had forfeited his eſtate by making this Leaſe for three lives, but otherwiſe if he had an eſtate tail by the Deviſe, then it was no forfeiture. After a long debate, and many Arguments in this Caſe; It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That in this Caſe by the words and meaning of the Teſtator by his Will, R. his Son had a good eſtate tail, and ſo the Leaſe by him made to J. S. for three lives, was a good Leaſe, and no forfeiture; and therefore the Plaintiff claiming under J. S. had a good Title. It was in an Ejectione firme brought upon a Leaſe made to the Plaintiff by J. D. the Leſſee for three lives againſt the Defendant. Hill. 9 Iac. in B. R. Whiting and Wilkins Caſe. Bulſtr. 1. Part, 119.

6. Tenant for life, the Remainder in tail, the Remainder in Fee, bargained and ſold the Land to one, who before the Statute of 14 Eliz. ſuffered a common Recovery, in which Tenant for life was vouched, and he vouched over the common Vouchee, he in the Remainder entred, and his entry was adjudged lawful: For it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the entry of him in the Remainder was lawful, becauſe that the ſaid Recovery ſuffered by Tenant for life, was a forfeiture of his eſtate, and it was to the diſinheritance of him in the Remainder in tail, and it was as much in Law, as if Tenant for life had levyed a Fine, or made a Feoffment. Cook 1. Part, 15. Sir William Pelhams Caſe. See Cook 6. Part, 1. and 60. acc.

7. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, having a Son by one Woman, and a Son and a Daughter by another, Deviſed his Land to his Wife for life, the Remainder to his younger Son in tail, the Reverſion to his right Heirs: A common Recovery was had againſt Tenant for life, in which he in the Remainder in tail was vouched, and that was to the uſe of him in the Remainder in tail, and his Heirs, who dyed without Iſſue. In this Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved. 1. That a common recovery had againſt Tenant for life upon a true Warrant and Recovery in value, ſhould bind him in the Remainder, becauſe that the particular eſtate, and the Remainder was but one eſtate, and the recompence did extend to both eſtates: But a common Recovery had againſt Tenant for life only, is a forfeiture of his eſtate. 2. Reſolved, That the Statute of 14 Eliz. of fained Recoveries, did not extend to preſerve any Reverſion or Remainder expectant upon an Eſtate in tail, where Tenant for life is impleaded, and Tenant in tail is vouched; and there this Caſe was put and agreed; Tenant in tail, the Remainder or Reverſion over, bargaineth and ſelleth the Land by Deed Indented and Inrolled, againſt whom a Recovery is had, and he voucheth Tenant in tail, the ſame is a good Recovery; and yet the Bargainee upon the matter had but an Eſtate for the Term of life of the Tenant in tail: And in that Caſe, it was ſaid, That if Tenant for life be impleaded, and makes default after default, and he in the Remainder in tail is received, and voucheth the common Vouchee, that the eſtate tail, with the Remainder, or Reverſion over is barred. Part, Sir William Pelhams Caſe. Cook 3. Part, 3. the Marqueſs of Wincheſters Caſe, acc.

8. The Caſe was; Land was given to A. for life; the remainder to B. for life, the Remainder to J. S. in Fee: A. and B. being in poſſeſſion, levied a Fine of the Land to a ſtranger Sur Conuſans de droit, &c. A. dyed. If J. S. might now enter, was the Doubt. It was agreed by the whole Court, That by the Fine levied, the remainder in Fee was not touched nor diſcontinued. But becauſe B. in the remainder for life had done as much as in him lay, for the diſpoſing of the Fee-ſimple by the Fine, and had taken upon him to do that; It was holden, That the ſame was a forfeiture of his Eſtate; of which J. S. in remainder might take advantage. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C.B. Braybrooks Caſe, Leon. 40.

9. Tenant for life of Land, leaſed parcel thereof to hold at Will, and being in poſſeſſion of the reſidue, he levied a Fine of the whole, the Leſſor entred into the Land which was let at Will for forfeiture in the name of the whole. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the ſame was a good Entry into the whole for the forfeiture. But it was holden, That if a Diſſeiſor leaſeth for years part of the Land of which the Diſſeiſin was committed, and the Diſſeiſee afterwards entreth into the Land which continueth in the poſſeſſion of the Diſſeiſor in the name of the whole, the ſame ſhall not extend to the Lands leaſed, for that here the Leſſee is in by title; but not in the other caſe: for when Tenant for life leaſeth at Will, and afterwards levieth a Fine, the ſame is a determination of his Will, and a forfeiture. And in this Caſe, It was holden, That if there be Leſſee for life, the remainder for life, the remainder in Fee: and Leſſee for life in poſſeſſion levieth a Fine ſur Conuſans de droit come ceo, &c. to his own uſe, that the Feeſimple thereby accrues to him, and ſuch Fine levied by him, is a forfeiture, of which he in the remainder may take advantage. Paſch. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Potter and Stedal's Caſe. Leon. 51.

10. A. ſeiſed of Land in the right of his Wife, being her Joynture by a former husband; He and his Wife both made a Feoffment in Fee to a ſtranger and his heirs; Habendum to him and his heirs, for the uſe of the Wife only: The Queſtion was, If it were a forfeiture, it being in one ſentence? It was ſaid, It was no forfeiture; for that theſe words, [For the life only] were put into the Deed, to expreſſe the intent of the Parties, and therefore ſhall not be void; but ſhould be taken to exclude the forfeiture. But it was Reſolved by the Court, That it was a forfeiture; for by the Feoffment the Fee-ſimple paſſeth, and that to the uſe of the Feoffor; and the Eſtate and the uſe are ſeverall things, and the limitation to the uſe of the Wife, cannot extend to both. Trin. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Piers and Hors Caſe, Leon. 125. See 31 Eliz. in B. R. Sir Ralph Egerton's Caſe, Godbolt. 141. acc.

11. The Caſe was, A man gave Lands in tail to B, upon condition, That if the Donee, or any of his heirs alien or diſcontinue the Land, or any part of it, the Donor to re-enter: The Donee had Iſſue two Daughters, and dyed: One of the Daughters levied a Fine ſur Conuſans de droit come ceo to her Siſter. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the ſame was a forfeiture, and that the Donor might enter for the forfeiture: for although they are Siſters to many intents, yet they are both but one heir; and each of them ſhall ſue Livery and if the Siſters be one heir to divers reſpects, then the Fine levied by the one ſiſter is a forfeiture. And ſo it was adjudged, Mich. 27 Eliz. in B.R. Leon. 192.

12. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, enfeoffed divers, upon Condition, that they ſhould give back the Lands to himſelf and his Wife in tail, the remainder to his right heirs; they have Iſſue a ſon, the husband dyeth; the ſon and wife levy a Fine with Proclamations to A. in Fee; The Wife enters, and makes a Leaſe for 3. lives, not warranted by the Statute of 32 H. 8; the Conuſee re enters. It was in this Caſe Reſolved, 1. That the Leaſe made by the Wife, although it was without Warranty, was within the Statute of 11 H. 7. for that a Diſcontinuance ſtood in equall Degree with a Warranty or a Recovery. 2. That if he in the remainder had granted over his remainder in Fee only, that he might have entred for the forfeiture by the words of the Statute, and not the grantee of the Remainder. 3. Reſolved, That the Conuſee might enter for the forfeiture, becauſe that by the Fine the Eſtate tail was barred, and now he is that perſon to whom the Intereſt, Title, and Inheritance, after the death of the Wife, doth appertain. And it was agreed in this Caſe, That if a Woman Tenant in tail, doth accept a Fine ſur Conuſans de droit, and thereby grants and renders the Lands for 1000 years, that the ſame is an Alienation, and a forfeiture within the ſaid Statute of 11 H. 7. Cook 3. Part, 51. Sir George Browns Caſe.

2. Forfeiture of Copyholds: and where, and for what act, and by whom done, a Copyholder ſhall forfeit his Eſtate: and for what; and where not.

1. A Woman Copyholder in Fee takes a husband, who makes a Leaſe for years, which by the Cuſtome of the Manor is a forfeiture; the husband dyeth: The Point was, Whether this forfeiture ſhould bind the Wife and her heirs, after the the death of her husband? It was adjudged, That it should not bind the Wife, but she should have it after the death of her husband. Pasch. 1 Car. in the Exchequer-Chamber. Severne and Smith's Case. Cro. 1. Part, 4. acc.

2. If a man seised of Copyhold Land in the right of his Wife, surrendreth the same to the use of another, and dyeth; Resolved, it is no discontinuance to the Wife, but that the Wife may enter, and shall not be put to a Cui in vita, nor her heir to sue a sur Cui in vita. Pasch. 35 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 4. Part, 23. Bullock and Dobleys Case.

3. If the Fine of Copyholders of a Manor be uncertain to be paid upon admittance, the Lord cannot demand excessive Fines; and if he do, the Copyholder may deny to pay them, without forfeiture; and if the Lord in case of incertainty of Fines, assesse a reasonable Fine, and require the Copyholder to pay it, he is not tyed to pay it presently, but he shall have convenient time to pay it; and the Fine is not due before admittance: but if after admittance, the Copyholder refuseth to pay the Fine, it is a forfeiture. Mich. 43 Eliz. B. R. Hubbard and Hammonds Case, Cook 4. Part, 28.

4. If the Estate of the Lord of the Manor doth cease by Limitation of an Use, and the Use and Estate thereof be transferred to another, who demandeth Rent of a Copyholder, who refuseth to pay the same; the same is no forfeiture of the Copyhold, without notice given to the Copyholder of the alteration of the Use, and Estate. Hill. 1 Jac. Berrishaw and Southcotes Case. And so if the Lord bargaineth and selleth the Manor by Deed Indented and enrolled, the bargainee shall not take advantage of a forfeiture of a Copyhold, for denyal of payment of Rent unto him, without Notice given him of the Bargain and Sale. Cook 8. Part. 92. in Fraunces Case.

5. The Custome of a Manor is, That if a Copyholder in Fee of the said Manor dyeth seised, and the heir doth not come in at the next Court to claim his Lands, and to be admitted, and pay his Fine; that then Proclamations shall be made at 3. Courts holden for the said Manor: and if the heir at any of the said Courts in which the Proclamations shall be made, doth not come and make Claim to the Lands, and pray to be admitted; that then the Lord might seise the Copyhold as forfeit. A Copyholder in Fee dyed seised, his heir being beyond Sea, Proclamations at the three next Courts are made, the heir doth not come to make his Claime to the Lands; upon which the Lord seiseth the Copyhold, and grants the same over to another: the heir returns, and when he hath Notice of the death of his Father, comes to the Lord, and claims his Lands, and prayes to be admitted; and the Lord doth refuse to admit him. It was Resolved in this Case, That this Custome of Non-Claim, shall not bar him who was beyond Sea at the time of the Proclamations made, because by intendment of Law, he who was beyond Sea, could not have Notice of the death of his Father, nor of the Proclamations for him to come in, and make his claim to the Lands. And it was Resolved, That because the Heir was out of the Realm, at the time of the death of his Father, that he should not be barred by the said Custome and Proclamations, nor forfeit his Copyhold thereby. Cook 8. Part, 99, 100. Sir Richard Leathfords Case.

6. The Summons of a Copyholder to appear at the Lord's Court, was at the Church; and thereupon, the Copyholder did not appear. And it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the same was no cause of forfeiture of the Copyhold, because it was not specially shewed to be the Custome, and it shall be hard to make it a forfeiture: for perhaps the Copyholder had not Notice of it; and so it was said, It was adjudged in the Lord Dacres and Hurlestons Case. And in the principal Case it was said, That Notice must be given to the person, and the refusal must be wilful. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Sir John Braunches Case. Leon. 140.

7. A Woman Copyholder took husband; the husband made a Lease to one, 25. Martii, 3 Car. by Indenture for one year, and by another Indenture of the same date, made a Lease to the same party for a year, to begin 27 Martii, after the end of the first Lease; And by a third Indenture of the same date, makes to him a Lease for a year, to begin 29. Martii, after the end of the second Lease, so betwixt each Lease, two dayes, betwixt the beginning of the new, and the end of the former. And after, the husband surrendred his Copyhold to the Lord, who entred, and lets to another for 40 years; and after during the second Lease, the first Lessee enters, and the Lords Lessee ousts him. The first Question was, Whether the first Leafe be a forfeiture? 2. Admitting it be a forfeiture, yet the Lord taking a Surrender, and not entring for the forfeiture, but making a Lease for years, his Lessee shall not enter for the forfeiture. The Opinion of the Court was, That it was a forfeiture, for the 3. Leases being made all at one time, shall be intended one entire Contract, and not warranted by the Custome. 2. Admitting it is a forfeiture, the Lord's acceptance of the Surrender, not knowing of the forfeiture, is no dispensation therewith; and consequently the Lord's Lessee hath a good Estate and right in him: for which cause, his Entry

was the Doubt. It was agreed by the whole Court, That by the Fine levied, the remainder in Fee was not touched nor diſcontinued. But becauſe B. in the remainder for life had done as much as in him lay, for the diſpoſing of the Fee-ſimple by the Fine, and had taken upon him to do that; It was holden, That the ſame was a forfeiture of his Eſtate; of which J. S. in remainder might take advantage. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C.B. Braybrooks Caſe, Leon. 40.

9. Tenant for life of Land, leaſed parcel thereof to hold at Will, and being in poſſeſſion of the reſidue, he levied a Fine of the whole, the Leſſor entred into the Land which was let at Will for forfeiture in the name of the whole. 10. Part. 92. in Frances Case.

5. The Custome of a Manor is, That if a Copyholder in Fee of the said Manor dyeth seised, and the heir doth not come in at the next Court to claim his Lands, and to be admitted, and pay his Fine; that then Proclamations shall be made at 3 Courts holden for the said Manor: and if the heir at any of the said Courts in which the Proclamations shall be made, doth not come and make Claim to the Lands, and pray to be admitted; that then the Lord might seise the Copyhold as forfeit. A Copyholder in Fee dyed seised, his heir being beyond Sea, Proclamations at the three next Courts are made, the heir doth not come to make his Claime to the Lands; upon which the Lord seiseth the Copyhold, and grants the same over to another: the heir returns, and when he hath Notice of the death of his Father, comes to the Lord, and claims his Lands, and prayes to be admitted; and the Lord doth refuse to admit him. It was Resolved in this Case, That this Custome of Non-Claim, shall not bar him who was beyond Sea at the time of the Proclamations made, because by intendment of Law, he who was beyond Sea, could not have Notice of the death of his Father, nor of the Proclamations for him to come in, and make his claim to the Lands. And it was Resolved, That because the Heir was out of the Realm, at the time of the death of his Father, that he should not be barred by the said Custome and Proclamations, nor forfeit his Copyhold thereby. Cook 8. Part, 99, 100. Sir Richard Leathfora's Case.

6. The Summons of a Copyholder to appear at the Lord's Court, was at the Church; and thereupon, the Copyholder did not appear. And it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the same was no cause of forfeiture of the Copyhold, because it was not specially shewed to be the Custome, and it shall be hard to make it a forfeiture: for perhaps the Copyholder had not Notice of it; and so it was said, It was adjudged in the Lord Dacres and Hurleston's Case. And in the principal Case it was said, That Notice must be given to the person, and the refusal must be wilful. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Sir John Braunches Case. Leon. 140.

7. A Woman Copyholder took husband; the husband made a Lease to one, 25. Martii, 3 Car. by Indenture for one year, and by another Indenture of the same date, made a Lease to the same party for a year, to begin 27 Martii, after the end of the first Lease; And by a third Indenture of the same date, makes to him a Lease for a year, to begin 29. Martii, after the end of the second Lease, so betwixt each Lease, two dayes, betwixt the beginning of the new, and the end of the former. And after, the husband surrendred his Copyhold to the Lord, who entred, and lets to another for 40 years; and after during the second Lease, the first Lessee enters, and the Lords Lessee ousts him. The first Question was, Whether the first Lease be a forfeiture? 2. Admitting it be a forfeiture, yet the Lord taking a Surrender, and not entring for the forfeiture, but making a Lease for years, his Lessee shall not enter for the forfeiture. The Opinion of the Court was, That it was a forfeiture, for the 3. Leases being made all at one time, shall be intended one entire Contract, and not warranted by the Custome. 2. Admitting it is a forfeiture, the Lord's acceptance of the Surrender, not knowing of the forfeiture, is no dispensation therewith; and consequently the Lord's Lessee hath a good Estate and right in him: for which cause, his Entry was lawful. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Hill. 4 Car. in B. R. Matthews and Whettons Case. Cro. 1. Part, 169.

8. In Treſpaſſe: The Queſtion was, Whether the Lord of a Manor may aſſeſſe two years and a half value of the Land, according to a Rack Rent for a Fine upon a Copyhold Eſtate; and for not payment thereof, enter for a forfeiture. The Court conceived, That one years Rent and a half according to the improved value, is high enough: and the aſſeſſing of two years and a half Rent, is unreaſonable; and conſequently, the Tenant might refuſe payment thereof; and ſo the Entry of the Lord for a forfeiture, not juſtifiable. Hill. 5 Car. B. R. Dow and Golding's Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 142.

9. The Lady Mountagu ſued for a forfeiture of a Copyhold of a Manor, being part of her Joynture; the Caſe was, A. Copyholder of the Manor, made a Leaſe of his Freehold Lands for 10 year, and to avoid a forfeiture, made a Leaſe of his Copyhold for one year, but Covenanted with his Leſſee, That he ſhould enjoy the Copyhold Lands de anno in annum during the 10 years. It was the Opinion of the Court, That if a Copyholder makes a Leaſe for a year, warranted by the Cuſtome, and ſo de anno in annum during 10. years, this is clearly a Leaſe for 10 years, and ſhall be a forfeiture. But in this caſe, the Copyhold is not demiſed to hold for a year et ſic de anno in annum for 10 years, but onely for a year according to the Cuſtome, and a Covenant to hold it for a longer time at the Will of the Leſſor. 2. Admitting it to be a forfeiture; yet in this Caſe, the Lady cannot take advantage thereof. For if a Copyholder makes a Leaſe of his Copyhold, contrary to the Cuſtome, and the Lord dyes before Entry or Seizure for the forfeiture, he in the reverſion or remainder ſhall never take advantage of the forfeiture done or committed before his or their time. Paſch. 10 Jac. in B. R. The Lady Mountague's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 301.

10. A Copyholder makes a Leaſe of his Copyhold for a year, excepting the laſt day of the year; and ſo from year to year, excepting the laſt day of the years, as long as he lived: It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was a forfeiture; for it was but a ſhift to avoid a forfeiture: for it is a certain Leaſe for two years, excepting two dayes; and although there be intermiſſion of a day, yet that is not material: for by ſuch means as he may make a Leaſe for two years, he may make a Leaſe for 20 years; which the Law will not permit. Mich. 10 Jac. B. R. Lutterell, and Weſton's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 308.

11. The Lord aſſeſſed a Fine of 12 l. to be paid by a Copyholder, and appointed it to be paid at the Capital Meſſuage of his Manor 3 moneths after; and the Copyholder pretending the Fine to be certain, (viz. two years quit Rent) offered at the day of aſſeſſing of the ſaid Fine, to pay the ſaid two years Fine, but at the day at the appointed place cometh not to excuſe his non payment, nor makes any other refuſal. It was holden by the Juſtices, That this was a Cauſe of forfeiture of his Copyhold: but if he had come at the day aſſigned, and had tendered the two years Quit-Rent, being the Fine certain according to the Cuſtome, though not aſſeſſed nor demanded by the Lord, it had been no forfeiture. Mich. 19 Jac. B. R. Gardiner and Norman's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 617.

12. Note. It was Reſolved by the Court, That if the Fine of a Copyholder be aſſeſſed by the Lord, be the Fine reaſonable or unreaſonable, the Lord muſt demand the Fine of the Copyholder, before he can enter upon the Copyhold, as forfeit for not payment thereof: and the reaſonableneſſe, or unreaſonableneſſe, ſhall be adjudged by the Court, Hill. 13 Jac. in C. B. Downy and Lamons Caſe, Hob. 135.

13. In Treſpaſſe, for breaking of his Cloſe; It was aſſigned in an Acre of Paſture, The Defendant ſaid, That it was his Freehold: The Plaintiff ſaid, That it was parcel of the Manor of F. dem ſeable by Copy in Fee-ſimple, and that the Lords of the Manor granted the Tenements to J. S. and his heirs; who ſurrendred them into the hands of the Lord, to the uſe of the Plaintiff and his heirs. The Defendant rejoyned, and ſaid, That at the time of the Admiſſion of the Plaintiff, the Tenements were of the clear yearly value of 53 s. 4 d. and that within the Manor there is a Cuſtome, That upon every Admiſſion of any perſon, a reaſonable Fine ſhould be aſſeſſed by the Lord of the Manor or his Steward: and ſhewed, That the Steward of the Manor at a Court admitted the Plaintiff, and ſet a reaſonable ſum of money, ſcil. 5 l. 6 s. 8 d. the value of the Tenements for two years, for a Fine to be paid; and that the Lord afterwards requeſted the Plaintiff to pay the Fine; which he refuſed: for which the Lord entred into the Tenements for a forfeiture. In this Caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. If the Fine aſſeſſed had been reaſonable, yet the Lord ought to ſet a time certain when the ſame ſhould be paid, becauſe it ſtands upon a Point of forfeiture. 2. That the Fine in this caſe was unreaſonable; ſcil. to demand for a Cottage and one Acre of Paſture, 5 l. 6 s. 8 d. for the admittance of a Copyholder in Fee-ſimple upon a Surrender. And it was ſaid, It is not like a voluntary grant, for there a fine

Dumi

Domini vel æſtimari debet; but when the Lord is compellable to admit him, to whoſe uſe the Surrender is made, there the value of two years is unreaſonable, eſpecially when a Cottage and an Acre of Land at the Reck is 53*s.* per annum. Mich. 6 Jac. in C. B. Willowes and Willowes Caſe. Cook Select Caſes, 1.

14. A Copyholder was ſummoned to appear at the Court of the Lord, and to do and perform his Services as a Copyhold Tenant, he made default. It was laid in the Declaration, Quod ſectam voluntariè & contemptuoſè ſubtraxit, & illam facere recuſavit; and it was alſo laid in the Declaration, That ſuch a day Notice was given him by the Baily of the Court; but it was not ſaid to be by the Commandment of the Lord. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Defendants wilfully withdrawing of his Suit and Service which he owes to the Lord at his Court, is a breach of the Cuſtom, and a forfeiture of his Copyhold Eſtate; for he holds his Lands, per Redditus, Servitia, & Conſuetudines, which if he break, it is a forfeiture of his Copy Eſtate. Mich. 14 Jac. in B. R. Hamond and Wimbaſhet Caſe. Bulſtr. 3. Part, 268.

3. Forfeiture of Offices; and What ſhall be a good Cauſe of forfeiture of an Office What not: and who ſhall take advantage of it; Who not.

1. UPon a Fine, the firſt Proclamation was made in Trinity Term, 5 Jac. and the ſecond in Mich. Term, 5 Jac. The 3d. in Hillary Term, 6 Jac. whereas it ſhould have been 5 Jac. and 4. and 5th in Eaſter Term, 6 Jac. This was agreed to be Errour; for the 4th Proclamation was not entred at all; and the 5th was entred in Hill. 6 Jac. where it ſhould have been in Hillary Term, 5 Jac. The Court was of Opinion, That it could not be amended, being of another Term: and the Court conceived, That this was a forfeiture of the Office of Chirographer, and the abuſing of it. Hill. 7 Jac. in C. B. Brownlow, 2. Part, 300.

2. The Queen recitings That ſhe had granted to J. S. the Office of the Cuſtody of the Caſtle of Donnington, with the profits thereto belonging and a yearly Fee for the exerciſing thereof, Habendum to him for his life, had granted to her the Reverſion of that Office after the Death, Surrender, or Forfeiture, &c. and ſhewed, that J. S. dyed ſuch a day, and that ſhe exerciſed the ſaid Offices, and that the Defendant did with force, expell and diſſeiſe her of that Office: and ſhe brought an Action upon the Statute of 8 H. 6. againſt the Servants of the Lord Admiral: and the truth of the Caſe was, The Lord Arundel having the Inheritance of the houſe granted to him by the Queen, intending to uſe the houſe; and the Lady Ruſſell having the Office granted unto her, of Cuſtody of the ſaid Caſtle, with all profits, the Lord Admiral ſent his ſervants with ſtuff to the ſaid houſe, intending to uſe the houſe; and the Lady Ruſſels Servants denyed them to enter, pretending, that the Lady was to have the uſe and the diſpoſing of it during her life. In this Caſe, It was ſaid, That a Woman could not have the Office of the Cuſtody of a Caſtle, becauſe it appertains to War: and therefore the grant to the Lady was void. But to this it was Anſwered and Reſolved, That the Grant was good, it being granted to her to be exerciſed, per ſe vel Deputatum ſuum; and it doth not appear, that it was a Caſtle of War, but a private houſe. But, 2. The Court Reſolved, That if this diſturbance of the Lady Ruſſels Servants of the Lord of Arundels Servants, to bring his Stuff into the ſaid Caſtle, had been by the Command of the Lady Ruſſell, it had been a forfeiture of her Office; but if the Servants did it of their own heads, it was no forfeiture. Mich. 1 Jac. in B. R. The Lady Ruſſells Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 17.

3. It was holden by the Court, That a negligent eſcape ſuffered by the Marſhal of the King's Bench, was not a forfeiture of his Office: for that is but a matter finable by the Court, as the Court ſhall ſee cauſe: but otherwiſe it is, of a voluntary eſcape: for, for ſuch an Eſcape, he ſhall loſe his Office. 39 H. 6. 32. in the Duke of Norfolk's Caſe. See Mich. 10 Jac. in B. R. Sir Tho. Mead, and Sir George Reynells Caſe, acc. Bulſtr. 2. Part, 58, 59.

4. See the Caſe between the King and Brigge, Tit. Forreſts. Sect. 1. C. 2. What ſhall be a Cauſe of the forfeiture of the Office of the Lieutenantſhip, or Cuſtody of a Forreſt, Park, &c. Popham, 117.

5. Note. It was holden by the Juſtices, That if the Dignity of an Earldom had been entailed to one, and the heirs males of his body, It might have been forfeited for Treaſon before the Statute of 26 H. 8. Cap. 13. by reaſon of a ſecret Condition in Law annexed to it. For Earls are created for two purpoſes; viz. Ad conſulendum Regi tempore pacis, et ad defendendum Regem et Patriam tempore Belli; and therefore they wore a Capp and a Robe in token of Counſel; and are girded with a Sword, to repreſent them Champions and Cavaliers. Now then, when ſuch a perſon, perſon, againſt his duty, and the end of his Dignity, committeth Treaſon againſt the King; his Dignity (although it were entailed) was forfeited by a Condition in Law tacite annexed to his Eſtate. Cook 7. Part, 34. in Nevill's Caſe.

6. Note: There are three Cauſes of forfeiture of Offices by matter in fact; viz. Abuſer, Non-uſer, Refuſer: Abuſer, as if the Marſhall or Gaoler, ſuffer voluntary Eſcapes. Non-uſer of the Office of Stewardſhip of a Manor, is no cauſe of forfeiture of ſuch Office, becauſe that the Office is not to be exerciſed, but upon demand or requeſt made by him to whom he is Officer. But Non-uſer of Offices which do concern the Adminiſtration of Juſtice, and which require continual attendance; as Chamberlain of the Exchequer, Preignothories, Clark of the Market, &c. there the Non-uſer of ſuch Offices, is a cauſe of forfeiture of them: but the not exerciſing of ſome Office, is not a forfeiture of it, if his non-attendance be not any damage to him to whom he is Officer; as the Keeper of a Park, if he doth not attend his Office for two or three dayes, the ſame is no cauſe of forfeiture of it: but if by reaſon of his long abſence, perſons unknown, kill and deſtroy the Deer in the Park, there his non-attendance is a cauſe of forfeiture of his Office. Cook 9. Part, 48, 49. in the Earl of Shrewsburies Caſe.

7. If the King granteth the Office of Serjeant at Arms, (to attend upon the Lord Keeper for life) the King may by word licence him, that he ſhall abſent himſelf from the execution of that Office for a time; becauſe he is the immediate Officer to the King, and but an attendant upon the Lord Keeper, and the King doth not depart with any Intereſt, but ſuſpends the ſervice of the Sergeant at Arms for a time; and therefore ſuch Licence of the King by word to abſent himſelf, is good. But it was agreed in that Caſe, That Not attendance upon ſuch an Office, is a forfeiture of it, but then it ought to be a voluntary negligence; and not when it is done by the aſſent of the King. Paſch. 21 Eliz. Stewards Caſe, vouch. in Cook 9. Part, Sir George Reynells Caſe.

4. Where, and What, ſhall be forfeited to the King by Outlawry; What not: and from what time the forfeiture ſhall relate; What not.

1. A Man had Title to preſent to an Advowſon, the Church being void; and he was Outlawed in a perſonal Action: the Queen brought a Scire facias, to ſhew Cauſe, why She ſhould not preſent to the Avoidance, the preſentment being forfeited to her by the Outlawry. It was agreed in that Caſe, That the Scire facias did lye for the Queen, and that ſhe had good title to preſent in reſpect of the Outlawry: But then it was ſaid, That the Scire facias muſt mention the Exigent, and all the proceedings upon it, and the Judgment of the Coroners. And ſee Book Entries, 485. where, in a Quare Impedit for the King upon ſuch a Title, the King ſhewed in his Count, That A. was ſeiſed of ſuch an Advowſon, and granted the next Avoidance to B; and afterwards, one C. impleaded B. in a Writ of Accompt, and proceeded ſo far, that at the Exigent appeared not: and afterwards was Outlawed, and that after the Church became void, and by reaſon thereof it did belong to the King to preſent. And it was in that Caſe, the Opinion of all the Judges, That the Scire facias did well lye for the King. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Beverly and Cornwalls Caſe. Leon. 63. But ſee in that Caſe, It was holden, That if afterwards the Outlawry be reverſed, before the King doth preſent, there the Patron, or he who had the Preſentation, might preſent. Goldesbr. 104. in the ſame Caſe.

2. Note. It was ſaid by the Juſtices, That it was clear, That if Tenant for life ſoweth the Land, and afterwards commits a forfeiture, and the Leſſor entreth, That he ſhall have the Corn: And ſo if the Leſſee after the ſowing, ſurrendreth his Term, the Leſſor, or he to whom the Surrender was made, ſhall have the Corn. But if the Tenant for life maketh a Leaſe for years, and afterwards commits a Forfeiture, and the Leſſor doth enter, in that caſe the Leſſee ſhall have the Corn. Mich. 40 Eliz. in C. B. Goldesbr. 189. in Oland and Bardwick's Caſe.

3. The Father, who hath the Wardſhip of his Son and heir apparent, cannot forfeit the ſame by Outlawry; nor ſhall his Executors or Adminiſtrators have ſuch Wardſhip. 33 H. 6. 55. Cook 3. Part, 3[illegible].

33. in Ratcliffs Case, acc. Cook 7. Part, 12. acc.

4. A. being Endicted for Recusancy, and not coming to Divine Service, and having an intent to fly beyond the Sea, made a Gift of all his Leases and Goods of great value, coloured with feigned Considerations. And afterwards he fled beyond Sea, and afterwards he was Outlawed upon the same Endictment: It was Resolved, That this Guift was void to defeat the Queen of the Forfeiture of his Goods, by the Statute of 13 Eliz. Cap. 5. And that the Queen should have his Goods and Leases by reason of the Outlawry. Mic. 36 Eliz. in the Exchequer-Chamber. Paunceſoot and Blunts Case, vouch. in Cook 3. Part, 82. in Treyars Case.

5. Note. It was said, in Cook 93. & 95. That Debts or Duties by simple Contract, shall be forfeited to the King by Outlawry, although the party for them might wage his Law: And that in every Quo minus brought in the Exchequer by the King's Debtor, against one who is endebted upon a simple Contract, the Defendant shall not have his Law, for the benefit of the King à fortiori, when such a debt is forfeit to the King by Outlawry or otherwise, and the King is sole and immediate part. Cook 4. Part, 95. in Slades Case.

6. Two were bounden in a Recognizance to J. S. of 500 l; afterwards the Conusee was Outlawed; and after the general pardon 39 Eliz. was made: And if the said Debt were pardoned, or not, was the Question? Which consisted upon two Exceptions in the said pardon. 1. Except out of the pardon all Debts which were or be due to the Queen, or to any other to her use by any Condemnation, Recognizance, or otherwise. 2. Except also all Goods, Chattels, Debts, Actions, &c. already forfeited by reason of any Outlawry, whereof her Majesty by her Letters Patents hath before the last day of this present Session made any Grant, Covenant, or Promise to any person or persons. It was in this Case Resolved, That by the later Exception it is proved, That the intent of the Queen was not to include Debts which accrued to her by Outlawry within the first Exception; for that there is a special saving for them in the second Exception. Hill. 41 Eliz. in Scaccario. Cook 5. Part, 50. Wyrrall's [illegible]

7. If a man maketh a Lease at Will, and the Lessee is Outlawed, by which the Lease at Will is determined; the King shall have the profits, yet the Lessee at Will shall have the Corn which was sowed. But if the Lessee at Will be Outlawed, by which the Lease at Will is determined; yet the King shall have the Corn which was sowed. Cook 5. Part, 116. Olands Case.

8. A man was Outlawed after Judgment before the general Pardon, 43 Eliz. and after the Pardon dyed: Although by the Outlawry the Goods were in the King; yet it was Resolved, That the Executors of the person Outlawed, might come in without proces and plead the General Pardon, with averment, That they are not persons excepted; and the Executors may satisfie the King for the Goods, and have benefit of the Pardon. Cook 6. Part, 79. Sir Ed. Phitton's Case.

9. In Debt, the Case was, A Woman Executrix took a husband, and then they brought an Action of Debt as Executrix, and recovered, and had Judgment. The Defendant pleaded the Outlawry of the husband. It was adjudged in this Case, That by the Outlawry of the husband, he did not forfeit any of the goods of the Wife which she had as Executrix. Trin. 14 Jac. B. R. Hix and Harrison's Case. Bollſt. 3. Part, 210.

5. Where, and in What Cases, a man shall forfeit his Lands, Goods and Chattels for Treason, Felony: and from what time the forfeiture shall be accompted. And where a man shall forfeit his Goods or Lands without Attainder or processe of Law.

1. IF a Felon or a Traytor committeth Felony or Treason; before his Conviction, he may sell his goods Bona fide, be they Chattels real or personal, for his maintenance, and the King shall not be enstated before Conviction to them. See Cook 8. Part, in Sir Gilbert Fleetwoods Case.

2. If a man at this day be ayding to the King's Enemies, or be killed in open rebell on against the King, he shall not forfeit his Lands or Goods: But if the Chief Justice of the King's Bench in person upon the view of the body of him killed in Rebellion, make a Record thereof, and returneth the same into the Kings-Bench, he shall forfeit his Lands and his Goods; as it was done and Resolved in the time of King Henry the 4th, by Fineux Chief Justice, Cook 4. Part, 57. in the Case of the Warden and Commonalty of Sadlers.

3. The Archbishop of Canterbury had Catalla Felonium de infra manerium de D, he committed Treason; afterwards the King made a generall Grant in the usual form to the Almoner of Felons goods de se, to dispose in Alms. The Bishop is Attainted: H. who had a Lease for years, is there Felo de se. The King grants the Term to another: It was the Opinion of the Justices, That the Grantee ſhould have the Term, and not the Almoner: for the Almoner had not any Intereſt but as a Miniſter; And it appears there, That the Queen ſhall not have the forfeiture for the Archbiſhop's Treaſon, but during his life: Yet it was holden clearly, That the Queen might grant the ſame at Will; for it is a leſſe Eſtate then ſhe hath: And if the Queen do grant the Goods and Chattels of Felons de ſe, ſhe need not write the Grant of them made to the Almoner, 2 Ma. Dyer 107.

4. A. was Endicted of the death of J. S. before the Juſtices of the Peace in the County of L; upon which, a Capias was awarded, and upon that an Exigent; after which A. dyed before any Attainder: upon Award of the Exigent, his Adminſtrators brought a Writ of Error. It was adjudged, That the Writ of Errour did lye; and the reaſon was, becauſe by the awarding of the Exigent, his Goods and Chattels were forfeited. Trin. 18 H. 7. B. R. vouch. in Cook 11. Part, 41. in Metcalf's Caſe.

5. In a Monſtrans de Droit, the Caſe was, John de Malo Lacu gave to Peter de Malo Lacu, and the heirs of his body, the Manor of Mulgrave, which came to Sir Ralph Bigod: who, 6 H. 8. made a Feoffment in Fee to W. and others, to the uſe of his laſt Will, and dyed; the right of the Land, together with the Entail, diſcended to Sir Francis Bigod, who, 21 H. 8. made a Feoffment to the uſe of himſelf, and K. his Wife, and the heirs of their two bodies, and had Iſſue Ralph Bigod, and Dorothy: 26 H. 8. Sir Francis was attainted of Treaſon, and executed; and 31 H. 8. a ſpeciall Act of Parliament was made of his Attainder and Forfeiture: 6 Eliz. Ralph Bigod, Son and Heir of Sir Francis and K. was reſtored in blood by Parliament, and dyed without Iſſue; Dorothy married Roger Ratcliff, and they had Iſſue Francis Ratcliff: 8 Eliz. K. dyed; 33 Eliz. all this was found by Office: 34 Eliz. The Queen granted the Manor of Mulgrave to the Lord Sheffield, and the heirs of his body. There were 3. Points Reſolved in this Caſe, 1. That the Feoffment gave away all the Eſtate the Tenant in tail had concerning himſelf; but concerning his Iſſue in tail, there remained a right in him by force of the Statute of Weſt. 2. 2. Reſolved, That this old right of Entail was forfeited by the Statute of 26 H. 8; for that there was an actual entail in the perſon attainted, at the time of his Attainder. 3. Reſolved, That their rights were bound by the expreſſe words of the Statute, there being no Saving therein for them. Then, 4. When the Office was found, the Iſſue in tail was barred, notwithſtanding any pretended Remitter. Mich. 13 Jac. in the Exchequer Chamber. The Lord Sheffeild and Ratcliff's Caſe. Hobart, 334. See Godbolt 314. acc.

More Forfeiture.

1. A Woman was Tenant for life; the Reverſion in Fee to an Enfant and Ward to the King: The Woman took Husband, they made a Leaſe for 15. years; and afterwards the Husband and Wife levied a Fine of the Land: and by the ſaid Fine, the Lands were rendred to the Leſſee for 15. years, and after to the husband and wife, and to the heirs of the wife. It was a Quere, If this acceptance and render, was a forfeiture of the Eſtate of the Woman? But it was the clear Opinion of Dyer, That if the Woman had been Tenant in tail within the Statute of 11 H. 7, and had accepted a Fine, it had been no Forfeiture. Trinit. 4 Ma. Dyer, 148. Penycocks Caſe. But ſee now, 18 Eliz. in C. B. and Cook 3. Part, 51. in Sr George Brown's Caſe, That ſuch acceptance by way of Fine of a Woman, is a Forfeiture; againſt the Opinion of Dyer, in the ſaid Caſe of Penycock.

2. Tenant for life, the remainder in tail; Tenant for life levied a Fine, ſur Conuſans de Droit come ceo of the Land to the uſe of himſelf in Fee: Reſolved, That it was a Forfeiture. Afterwards, Tenant for life and he in the Remainder joyned in a Feoffment, and made a Letter of Attorney to make Livery. It was holden a Diſcontinuance; for it was holden, That it was firſt an Entry for the Forfeiture, and then it was the Feoffment of him in the Remainder, and the Confirmation of the Tenant for life. Paſch. 16 Eliz. Dyer, 314. See before, Cook 1. Part, in Sir William Pelham's Caſe. Cook 2. Part, Bredons Caſe. And Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 251. acc.

3. If a Feme Covert doth Convey her Land which is holden in Capite, unto the uſe of her ſelf for life, the remainder in tail to her husband; the ſame ſhall not be taken to be an Advancement within the Statute of 32 H. 8; for they ſhall not be intended to advance their husbands, but the Husbands their Wives and Children: and if he make an Alienation of thoſe Lands, the ſame is no Forfeiture, but is out of the Statute of 11 H. 7. 19 Eliz. Dyer 354.

4. In a Special Verdict, the Caſe was this in effect; Tenant for life in the right of his Wife made a Feoffment, Habendum to the Feoffee and his heirs, to the only uſe and behoof of the Feoffee and his heirs for the life of the Wife; It was adjudged in that that Case, That it was a Forfeiture; for the Habendum is absolute: and the use is another Clause: and although he doth not limit the use but for life; yet the Law limits the remainder of the use to the party who made the Feoffment. Mic. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Sir Ralph Egerton's Case. See before.

5. A Copyholder was Attainted of Heresie in the time of Queen Mary, when the Statute of 2 H. 5. was in force: It was made a Question by the Lord Dyer and Welsh, Justices, If for that cause he should forfeit his Copyhold? And they were of Opinion, That he should not; because Heresie is a Spiritual Crime, of which the Common-Law doth not take notice. Yet Britton saith, That by the Common Law, that offence was Capital, for which a man might lose his life: but yet he was of Opinion, That for the same Offence, he did not forfeit any of his Lands; and therefore they are of Opinion, That for Heresie, a Copyholder, although he was burnt for the Heresie, yet it was no Corruption of his Blood, nor Forfeiture of his Lands. Mich. 24 Eliz. in C. B. adjudged.

6. Tenant by the Curtesie makes a Lease for years, upon Condition to have Fee: It hath been made a doubt, If it were a Forfeiture? But the better Opinion hath always been, That it is a Forfeiture, if Livery be made; for that when the Condition is performed, the Fee passeth ab initio. But if Tenant in tail makes a Lease, with Condition to have Fee, and dyeth; if the Condition be performed: Yet it is no Discontinuance, because the discent doth prevent the performance of the Condition, because it is not executed in the time of the Tenant in tail. See 32 E. 3. Garr. 31. Cook 8. Part, in the Lord Stafford's Case, acc.

7. If Tenant in tail makes a Lease for life, and afterwards grants the Reversion to J. S, unto the use of the Tenant for life with Warranty. It was made a Quære, If it was a present Forfeiture or Discontinuance? It was conceived, That it was not a Discontinuance, because the Warranty did not go to the Cestuy Que use. Mich. 21 Eliz. in C. B.

Forgery of false Deeds, and Forgery.

1. FOrgery of False Deeds, is the fraudulent making and publishing of False writings, to the prejudice and damage of another mans Right: And if a man do forge a Statute in my name, and thereupon sueth forth a Capias against me, I may have a Writ of Deceit against him who forged it, if I be thereupon sued and taken. See Fitzh. Na. Br. 96. acc. But if a man maketh an Obligation in my name, in that Case I cannot have a Writ of Forger of false Deeds, or an Action of Deceit against him, because I may plead to it, that it is not any Deed, as the Book is, in 19 H. 6. 44.

2. If a Notary publique, or any other persons by Covin betwixt them, counterfeit the seal of any Parson or Vicar, and forge Letters of Resignation of his Parsonage, or Vicarage, in the name of the Parson or Vicar of his Benefice, he may have a Writ of Deceit against them. And so it is, If two men come before the Mayor of the Staple, or before any other; and one will acknowledg a Statute unto another, of the sum of 100 l. in the name of another: and affirm, that he is such a person, whereas in truth he is not that person, but another; and he in whose name the Statute is acknowledged, is afterwards taken in Execution by force of such Statute, the party who is so taken in Execution, may have an Action of Deceit, against the said other persons, and therein shall recover his damages. Fitzh. Na. Br. 100. acc.

3. In an Action upon the Case; for slandering of his Title, the Plaintiff declared, That there was a Communication betwixt him and R. E. for a Demise to be made unto him of the Manor of D; and that the Defendant knowing thereof, said, I have a Lease for 90 years of the said Manor, and shewed and published a Demise, made by J. S, from whom the Plaintiff claimed; whereas in truth the Defendant knew the same to be a Counterfeit Deed: by reason of which publication, R. E. did not proceed with the Plaintiff, in taking the Lease of the said Manor. The Defendant pleaded, That such an Indenture (as is mentioned in the Declaration) came to his hands by Trover; and traversed, That he knew of the Forgery of it. In this Case it was Reſolved, That the bar of the Defendant was inſufficient; for when it layed in the Declaration, that the Defendant knew of the communication concerning the taking of the Leaſe; and alſo the Defendant knew that it was forged, as is ſet forth in his bar? and yet publiſhed the Leaſe or Demiſe made by J. S. by which the Plaintiff loſt his Bargain, that the Forgery was not traverſable. Cook 4. Part, Sir Gilbert Gerard and Dickenſons Caſe. 18.

4. Grandfather, Father, and Daughter; Land diſcended from the Grandfather to the Father, who made a Leaſe for 100 years; the Father dyed, the Daughter forged a Will of the Grandfather by which he gave the Land to the Father for Life, the Remainder to the Daughter in Fee, and the ſaid Will was forged to have avoided an Execution of a Statute Staple. And if it were within the Statute of 5 Eliz. was the Queſtion. It was ſaid, That it was within the Statute, within the firſt branch of it, viz. If any ſhall forge any Deed, to the intent that the Eſtate of Freehold or Inheritance of any perſon, in or to any Lands or Hereditaments, Freehold, or Copyhold, or right title or Intereſt of any, of, in, or to the ſame, or any of them, may be moleſted, &c. And it was ſaid, That Leſſee for years hath a title, and hath an Intereſt, and a Right, and therefore it was within the Statute: alſo it was ſaid, That it was within another branch of the Statute, viz. If any perſon plead, publiſh, or ſhew forth, &c. to the intent to have or claim any eſtate of Inheritance, Freehold, or Leaſe for years. And it was ſaid, That a Statute ſtaple was an eſtate for years, although it was not a Leaſe for years. But to all that it was anſwered, That the words of the Statute are, whereby any Eſtate for years ſhall be claimed, but in the principal Caſe, the Defendant doth not claim, but would defeat an Eſtate for years: And it was anſwered, That a Statute Staple is not a Leaſe for years: and the Statute being a penal Law, ſhall not be taken by Equity: The Caſe was not Reſolved. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Sturgies Caſe. Godbolt. 62.

5. A. brought a Writ of Forgery of falſe Deeds againſt H. of Glouceſter, and declared upon the forging of an Indenture, in quo continetur, quod quidam Abbas Monaſterii de Glouceſter, demiſit ſcitum mantrii de R. et terras Dominicales, &c. the Defendant pleaded, Not Guilty. It was given in Evidence on the Plaintiffs part; a Leaſe ſuppoſed to be made and forged, containing that the ſaid Abbot leaſed the ſaid Scite, and all the Demeſne Lands of the ſaid Mannor exceptis duobus ſeparalibus clauſuris inde, &c. vocat, &c. It was holden by the Court, That this was good evidence, for it is not neceſſary to conſtrue terras dominicales, omnes terras dominicales, for the Lands not excepted, are Terra Dominicales: and ſo the Declaration was good. Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Aſkins and Holes Caſe. Leon. 139.

6. In an Action of Forgery of falſe Deeds, the Defendant demanded Judgment of the Writ, becauſe the Plaintiff had the like Writ of Forgery of falſe Deeds, to which the Defendant had appeared, and that this Writ was brought depending the other. It was ſaid, That the Writ of Forgery of falſe Deeds was general, Quare diverſa falſa fecit fabricavit, vel quoddam falſum factum fabricavit: The Defendant had not pleaded, That the Plaintiff had declared in the firſt Action; and for that cauſe it was adjudged, That the Writ ſhould not abate, but that the Defendant ſhou'd anſwer; for if Writs be brought of Treſpaſs, or other ſuch like Writs, if it doth not appear upon Record, that the Plaintiff hath declared in them, the former Writ brought notwithſtanding the Writ ſhall not abate; otherwiſe, if they be brought after declaration appearing upon Record. See Cook 5. Part, 61. in Sparies Caſe.

7. Note, It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That if one be convicted of Forgery, or publication of any writing concerning Freehold, &c. within the firſt branch of the Act of 5 Eliz. or concerning intereſt for Term of years within the ſecond branch of the Act, and be convicted. If afterwards he offend either againſt the firſt branch of the Act, or the ſecond, and be convicted. And afterwards he forgeth a Charter of Feoffment within the firſt branch, or è converſo, that that is Felony by the expreſs words of the Act, viz. That if any perſon or perſons being hereafter convicted or condemned of any the ſaid Offences, which extends to all Offences in the firſt or ſecond branch. But if one forge a writing in Anno 37 Eliz. and afterwards he forge another in 38 Eliz. yet it is not Felony, although he forgeth many writings one after the other, for by the expreſs words of the Act, it is not Felony. Paſc. 7 Jac. Sir William Read and Boothes Caſe. Cook Select Caſe, 34.

8. Note, It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That if one writeth the Will of a man who lyeth ſick, and after the ſick perſon is ſpeechleſs, he inſerts a clauſe in the Will without any Warrant, that the ſame is not forgery of a Will, within the Statute of 5 Eliz. Paſc. 12 Eliz. Dyer, 288.

9. F. was ſued in the Star-Chamber for forging of a Cuſtomary for uſage of Copyholds, which extended to the diſinheritance of the Lord, and put divers Seals to it. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That the ſame was a forgery within the Statute of 5 Eliz. by the word writing, within the Statute. And in that Caſe, it was Reſolved That in ſuch Caſe, the King may pardon the corporal puniſhment. Paſc. 15 Eliz. Dyer, 322. Tavernor's Caſe.

10. A man cut off a dead mans hand, and put a Pen and a Seal in it, and ſo ſigned and delivered a Deed with the dead hand, and ſwore that he ſaw the Deed ſealed and delivered; this was holden by the Court to be forging of a Deed: wherefore the party was fined 100 l. and to ſtand in the Pillory with a Paper on his head, ſhewing the nature of the offence. Hill. 1652. in B. R. Howell and Groves Caſe. Style 362.

11. A. exhibited a Bill in the Star-Chamber againſt L. for forgery. The Caſe was, A. delivered to L. a Taverner, 1000 l. to be imployed for him for Intereſt; L. ſpent the money, and delivered to A. divers ſeveral Obligations, every one of them containing three ſeveral perſons, well known to be men of great eſtates, and ſufficient, bound in 200 l. for the payment of 160 l. to A. at a day within ſix Moneths then next comming, and delivered them ſealed, and the names of the parties mentioned to be bounden ſubſcribed, and his own name being ſubſcribed as a Witneſs to the ſealing and delivery thereof, as a publick Notary: whereas in Deed the parties mentioned in the Bonds had not any notice of them: but L. had forged and counterfeited them. It was moved to the Juſtices upon this matter, If L. ſhould loſe both his Ears by the Statute of 5 Eliz. or but one Ear, and ſhould pay damages to the party grieved. It was the Opinion of both the Chief Juſtices in the Star-Chamber, That L. ſhould loſe but one Ear, for that it ſhall be taken but as one Forgery, for that it was made all at one time: And it was alſo holden by the ſaid Juſtices, That A. was the party grieved, and that upon that Bill, he ſhould recover his damages. Hill. 8 Jac. in Cam. Stellat. Andrews and Ledſams Caſe. Brownlow. 2. Part, 50.

Formedon in Diſcender; Remainder and Reverter.

1. Of what, and where it lyeth; and upon what, and for whom it lyeth: And where he who makes Title by a Formedon muſt make himſelf Heir to him who was laſt ſeiſed; where not.

1. A Man may have a Formedon in the Diſcender of a profit apprender in any Lands or Tenements, or iſſuing out of any Lands or Tenements: As if a man grant 20 l. iſſuing out of any Lands or Tenements to a man, and the Heirs of his body begotten, or to a man in Frankmarriage with his Daughter: If the Donee alien that Rent, or be diſſeiſed of that Rent, and dyeth, his Heir, who is a Son, or Daughter, ſhall and may have a Writ of Formedon in the Diſcender of that Rent. And ſo it is, if a man granteth the profits ariſing out of his Mill unto another, and the Heirs of his body, and the Donee dyeth, and his Heir is put by the profits of the ſame; he may have and maintain a Formedon in the Diſcender of ſuch profits apprender. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 112.

2. If a man granteth to one, and the Heirs of his body, Paſture for 20 Oxen, or for 100 ſheep, and the Donee dyeth, and his Son who is his Heir, is Diſſeiſed or deforced of his Paſture, he may have a Formedon in the Diſcender thereof, viz. That he render to him Paſture for 20 Oxen, 100 ſheep, &c. But if a man granteth Common of Paſture to one and the Heirs of his body begotten, who hath Cattel, and the Donee dyeth, and his Heir is put by his Common: In that Caſe the Heir ſhall not have a Formedon in the Diſcender for that Condition, but a Quod permittat in the nature of a Formedon, and therein ſhall count upon the gift, and the ſpecial matter. Fitzh. Nat. Br. ibid.

3. Error was brought to reverſe a Judgment given in a Formedon, which was brought of a Croft and other parcells, &c. The Error aſſigned was, That a Formedon lyeth not of a Croft: and whether if it be reverſed for the Croft, if it ſhall be reverſed for the other parcells. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That a Formedon lyeth not of a Croft, but an Aſſiſe: And then this Writ being Brevi Adverſarium, It is not to be reverſed as to part only Quoad the Croft, but the Judgment ſhall be reverſed for the whole. Paſc. 12 Jac. in B. R. Ellis and Wallis's Caſe. Bolſt. 2. Part, 214. See Trin. 23 Car. in B. R. Stylet 32. acc.

on

4. Se: 15 C. 8. Br. Title. Tenant by Copy of Court Roll, Copyhold Lands may be entailed, and a Formedon may well lye of that in Diſcender by Proteſtation to ſue in the nature of a Formedon at the Common Law: And ſo it was holden by all the Juſtices, for although Formedon in the Diſcender was not given by the Statute of Donis Conditionalibus, yet now this Writ lyeth, and it ſhall be intended, that it hath bin a Cuſtome time out of mind, that Copyholds might be entailed.

5. It was holden by the Juſtices, That a Copyhold might be entailed, and that it is within the Equity of the Statute de donis Conditionalibus; and then a Formedon in the Diſcender might well lye of it. Mich. 35 Eliz. Grovener and Brookes's Caſe. Poph. See Hill. 6 Jac. in C. B. Rayner and Powells Caſe. Brownlow, 2. Part, 43, 44. acc. See Cook 3. Part, 9. in Heydons Caſe, acc.

6. A Formedon, the Diſcender lyeth of a Stream: but it is there ſaid, that it doth not lye of an Advowſon. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 217. B.

7. No Tenant ſhall have a Formedon in the Diſcender, or in the Remainder where he is once in poſſeſſion by force of the tail, or by force of that Remainder, for after that he hath poſſeſſion of that tail, or of that Remainder, if he be put out, he ſhall have an Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin, or a Writ of Entry in the Quibus in the nature of an Aſſiſe. And if a Remainder be given to two and their Heirs, and one of them dyeth, and the other ſurviveth, and afterwards dyes, his Heir ſhall have a Formedon in the Remainder, without making mention in the Writ, that he ſurvived the other Joynt-Tenant. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 219. B.

8. If a man deviſeth Lands or Tenements to one in tail, the Remainder over in Fee to a ſtranger, if he who is Tenant in tail entreth, and is ſeiſed by force of the entail, and afterwards dyeth without Iſſue, he in the Remainder ſhall have a Writ de Ex gravi Querela, to execute the ſaid Deviſe: And ſo it is, if a man deviſeth Lands or Tenements to one in tail, and afterwards the Tenant in tail dyeth without Iſſue of his body, in ſuch Caſe, the Heir of the Donor, or he who hath the Reverſion of the Land, ſhall have a Writ de Ex gravi Querela, in the nature of a Formedon in the Reverter, to re-continue the poſſeſſion of the Land to him who hath the Reverſion. See ſuch Writ. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 199.

9. If the Husband alieneth the Land of his Wife in Fee, and afterwards the Husband and Wife are Divorced; the Wife ſhall have a Writ of Cui ante divortium againſt the Alienee. But if the Lands be to the Wife of an Eſtate, and not in Fee, and after they are divorced, and the Wife dyeth; the Heir of the Wife ſhall not have a Writ de ſur Cui ante Divortium againſt the Alienee, but in ſuch Caſe the Heir ſhall be put to his Writ of Formedon in the Diſcender. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 204. acc.

10. In a Formedon in the Diſcender, the Demandant in the Writ made the Conveyance by J. S. who gave it to J. D. et heredibus de corpore ſuo legitime procreat. and ſhewed in the Writ, that he was Heir to the Son and Heir of J. D. Son and Heir of W. D. the Donee. And for that cauſe, it was demanded Judgment of the Writ: The Court was of Opinion, That the Writ was not good, for that he ought not to make mention of the Writ of every Heir, as here he doth, but he ought to make himſelf Heir to him who laſt dyed ſeiſed of the Eſtate tail, as of his Father or other Anceſtor. Hill. 3 Car. in C. B. Jenkins and Dawſon Caſe. Hetly 78.

11. J. and M. his Wife brought a Formedon in the Remainder againſt E. B. of three Meſſuages in D. which J. S. did give to E. C. and the Heirs of her body, the Remainder to J. P. and his Heirs, quæ poſt mortum prædict. E. & J. P. prefat. J. & M. filium et hæred. R. P. brother and Heir, H.P. Son and Heir of the ſaid J. P. remanere debent in formam Donationis prædict. eo quod prædict. E. obiit ſine hered. de corpore ſuo. The Tenant pleaded in abatement of the Writ, that the Demandant ſhould have ſuppoſed that the Meſſuages poſt mortem prædict. E. et J. P. prefat. J. et M. ut Conſanguin. et hæred. prædict. J. P. remanere debet per formam donationis prædict. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Writ was good enough, inaſmuch as it appears to the Court by the Pedigree as it is ſet down, That ſhe is and muſt needs be Couſin and Heir unto J. P. And it was ſaid in that Caſe, That in a Formedon in the Diſcender, the Demandant made himſelf Heir to every one that had bin inheritable to the tail, though by the Regiſter he ſhould make himſelf Heir only to them that were laſt ſeiſed by force of the intail; but yet the Writ was holden good. 11 H. 6. 20. Hill. 11 Jac. in C. B. Freak and Binſova's Caſe. Hob. 51.

12. Note, It was ſaid by Hobart Chief Juſtice, That the collateral Iſſue claiming by an intail, muſt make mention of every collateral Iſſue inheritable before him, as he is to do in Caſe of lineal Anceſtors: And therefore if the Father being Tenant in tail to him, and the Heirs Males of his body, hath iſſue three Sons, and the ſecond Son levyeth a Fine of the Land in the life of the Father, and then

then the Father dyeth without diſpoſing of the eſtate. It is clear, the eldeſt Son is not barred, becauſe he is not privy to his ſecond brother, though he be within the rigour of the words, for he is Heir to him that levyed the Fine in the life of the Father, and doth claim only by the entail, and above him, and not as Heir, which is the meaning of the Law. Then again, if the ſecond brother dyeth without Iſſue in the life of the elder, or of his Iſſue, the third brother ſhall claim this in tail after the death of the elder Brother, notwithſtanding the Fine of the middle brother, becauſe he doth claim immediatly from his elder brother, and need not convey himſelf by, nor make mention of his middle brother, no not in the Pedigree: But if the elder brother dyeth without Iſſue in the life of the middle Brother, or his Iſſue, without diſpoſing the Eſtate, and then they all dye, now the third brother and his Iſſue ſhall be barred; for although he bring his Formedon in the Diſcender, and lay down the entail, and then bring it to his eldeſt brother that was laſt ſeiſed, and make him immediate Heir to him, without mention of the ſecond Brother: Yet the Tenant in the Formedon may plead the Fine of the middle brother, and that he and his Iſſue did ſurvive the elder and his Iſſue, for by that it appears, that the middle or his Iſſue were the perſons inheritable to the entail before the younger brother in whom the title of the entail had bin totally, but for the Fine which bars him and the whole tail, aſwell againſt the younger brother as againſt his own Iſſue. Mich. 19 Jac. in C. B. Mackwilliams Caſe. Hob. 333.

13. Land was given to Husband and Wife, and to the Heirs of their two bodies begotten, the Huſband made a Feoffment in Fee, and dyed, having Iſſue, and after the Wife dyed before any entry made. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That it was a Diſcontinuance to the Iſſue at the Common Law, for the Iſſue ought to claim as Heir of their two bodies individually, and as Heir to one he cannot inherite, and by conſequence cannot enter, for his entry ought to enſue his title and his Action; and the Formedon in the Diſcender in ſuch Caſe is, Quod C. dedit D. et E. uxori ejus et hæredibus de Corporibus ipſorum D. et E. exeuntibus: Et quod poſt mortem prædict. D. et E. prefato K. filio et hæredi ipſorum D. et E. diſcendere debet per formam doni, &c. Cook 7. Part, 72. Gretley's Caſe.

14. In a Formedon in the Reverter, the Donor needeth not ſhew the Pedigrees of the Iſſues of the Donee, nor who was laſt ſeiſed, becauſe he is a ſtranger to the Pedigree, and by intendment, cannot come to the knowledg of it, but it is otherwiſe in a Formedon in the Diſcender. 4 Eliz. Dyer 216. Quere if he ſhall ſhew it in a Formedon in the Remainder.

15. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Gavelkind, had Iſſue three Daughters, A. B. and C. and deviſed all his Lands to A. in tail, the Remainder of the one half to B. in tail, the Remainder of the other half to C. in tail: And if B. dyed without Iſſue, the Remainder of her moyety to C. and her Heirs; and if C. dyed without Iſſue, the Remainder of her moyety to B. and her Heirs; the Deviſor dyed, A. and B. both dyed: Now if C. in the Remainder ſhould have one Formedon for this Land, or ſeveral Formedons, was the Queſtion: It was the Opinion of the Court, That one Formedon lyeth well for all the Land, for that it was by one ſelfſame conveyance, though that the Eſtate come by ſeveral deaths; the Action was brought by the Heir of C. after the death of C. Mich. 7 Jac. in C. B. Buckner and Sawyer's Caſe. Cook 8. Part.

2. Where the Writ of Formedon ſhall abate; and what ſhall be ſufficient to abate it, What not: And whether a Recovery in a Formedon be a bar in another Writ; and in what Writ, what not: And Pleas in Formedon.

1. NOte theſe Rules concerning bringing of Writs of Formedon, and the Abatement of them. 1. If a Remainder be executed in a Writ of Formedon in the Diſcender, he ſhall never ſpeak of this Remainder, but the general Writ of Formedon in the Diſcender ſhall ſerve, and he ſhall count of an immediate gift, for he cannot have a Formedon in the Remainder, when the Remainder is once executed. 2. If a man bringeth a Formedon in Reverter or Remainder, the omiſſion of the eldeſt Son who ſurvived his Father, or the like in Pedigree on the part of the Donee, or of him in the Remainder, ſhall abate the Writ. But of the part of the Donee, although that the Donee had many Iſſues in lineal diſcent inheritable to the Eſtate tail, and which extend the Eſtate, the Demandant needeth not to name any of the Iſſues in the clauſe Et quæ poſt mortem, but ſhall ſay, Quæ poſt mortem of the Donee ad ipſum reverti debet eo quod the Donee dyed without Iſſue. 3. In a Formedon in the Diſcender, the Demandant ought to make mention of every one to whom any right did deſcend; as after a Diſcontinuance made by the Father.

But if the Lands be to the Wife of an Eſtate, and not in Fee, and after they are divorced, and the Wife dyeth; the Heir of the Wife ſhall not have a Writ de ſur Cui ante Divortium againſt the Alienee, but in ſuch Caſe the Heir ſhall be put to his Writ of Formedon in the Diſcender. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 204. acc.

10. In a Formedon in the Diſcender, the Demandant in the Writ made the Conveyance by J. S. who gave it to J. D. et heredibus de corpore ſuo legitime procreat. and ſhewed in the Writ, that he was Heir to the Son and Heir of J. D. Son and Heir of W. D. the Donee. And for that cauſe, it was demanded Judgment of the Writ: The Court was of Opinion, That the Writ was not good, for that he ought not to make mention of the Writ of every Heir, as here he doth, but he ought to make himſelf Heir to him who laſt dyed ſeiſed of the Eſtate tail, as of his Father or other Anceſtor. Hill. 3 Car. in C. B. Jenkins and Dawſon Caſe. Hetly 78.

11. J. and M. his Wife brought a Formedon in the Remainder againſt E. B. of three Meſſuages in D. which J. S. did give to E. C. and the Heirs of her body, the Remainder to J. P. and his Heirs, quæ poſt mortum prædict. E. & J. P. prefat. J. & M. filium et hæred. R. P. brother and Heir, H.P. Son and Heir of the ſaid J. P. remanere debent in formam Donationis prædict. eo quod prædict. E. obiit ſine hered. de corpore ſuo. The Tenant pleaded in abatement of the Writ, that the Demandant ſhould have ſuppoſed that the Meſſuages poſt mortem prædict. E. et J. P. prefat. J. et M. ut conſanguin. et hæred. prædict. J. P. remanere debet per formam donationis prædict. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Writ was good enough, inaſmuch as it appears to the Court by the Pedigree as it is ſet down, That ſhe is and muſt needs be Couſin and Heir unto J. P. And it was ſaid in that Caſe, That in a Formedon in the Diſcender, the Demandant made himſelf Heir to every one that had bin inheritable to the tail, though by the Regiſter he ſhould make himſelf Heir only to them that were laſt ſeiſed by force of the intail; but yet the Writ was holden good. 11 H. 6. 20. Hill. 11 Jac. in C. B. Freak and Binford's Caſe. Hob. 51.

12. Note, It was ſaid by Hobart Chief Juſtice, That the collateral Iſſue claiming by an intail, muſt make mention of every collateral Iſſue inheritable before him, as he is to do in Caſe of lineal Anceſtors: And therefore if the Father being Tenant in tail to him, and the Heirs Males of his body, hath iſſue three Sons, and the ſecond Son levyeth a Fine of the Land in the life of the Father, and then

then the Father dyeth without diſpoſing of the eſtate. It is clear, the eldeſt Son is not barred, becauſe he is not privy to his ſecond brother, though he be within the rigour of the words, for he is Heir to him that levyed the Fine in the life of the Father, and doth claim only by the entail, and above him, and not as Heir, which is the meaning of the Law. Then again, if the ſecond brother dyeth without Iſſue in the life of the elder, or of his Iſſue, the third brother ſhall claim this in tail after the death of the elder Brother, notwithſtanding the Fine of the middle brother, becauſe he doth claim immediatly from his elder brother, and need not convey himſelf by, nor make mention of his middle brother, no not in the Pedigree: But if the elder brother dyeth without Iſſue in the life of the middle Brother, or his Iſſue, without diſpoſing the Eſtate, and then they all dye, now the third brother and his Iſſue ſhall be barred; for although he bring his Formedon in the Diſcender, and lay down the entail, and then bring it to his eldeſt brother that was laſt ſeiſed, and make him immediate Heir to him, without mention of the ſecond Brother: Yet the Tenant in the Formedon may plead the Fine of the middle brother, and that he and his Iſſue did ſurvive the elder and his Iſſue, for by that it appears, that the middle or his Iſſue were the perſons inheritable to the entail before the younger brother in whom the title of the entail had bin totally, but for the Fine which bars him and the whole tail, aſwell againſt the younger brother as againſt his own Iſſue. Mich. 19 Jac. in C.B. Mathwilliams Caſe. Hob. 333.

13. Land was given to Husband and Wife, and to the Heirs of their two bodies begotten, the Huſband made a Feoffment in Fee, and dyed, having Iſſue, and after the Wife dyed before any entry made. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That it was a Diſcontinuance to the Iſſue at the Common Law, for the Iſſue ought to claim as Heir of their two bodies individually, and as Heir to one he cannot inherite, and by conſequence cannot enter, for his entry ought to enſue his title and his Action; and the Formedon in the Diſcender in ſuch Caſe is, Quod C. dedit D. et E. uxori ejus et hæredibus de Corporibus ipſorum D. et E. exeuntibus: Et quod poſt mortem prædict. D. et E. prefato K. filio et hæredi ipſorum D. et E. diſcendere debet per formam doni, &c. Cook 7. Part, 72. Gretley's Caſe.

14. In a Formedon in the Reverter, the Donor needeth not ſhew the Pedigrees of the Iſſues of the Donee, nor who was laſt ſeiſed, becauſe he is a ſtranger to the Pedigree, and by intendment, cannot come to the knowledg of it, but it is otherwiſe in a Formedon in the Diſcender. 4 Eliz. Dyer 216. Quere if he ſhall ſhew it in a Formedon in the Remainder.

15. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Gavelkind, had Iſſue three Daughters, A. B. and C. and deviſed all his Lands to A. in tail, the Remainder of the one half to B. in tail, the Remainder of the other half to C. in tail: And if B. dyed without Iſſue, the Remainder of her moyety to C. and her Heirs; and if C. dyed without Iſſue, the Remainder of her moyety to B. and her Heirs; the Deviſor dyed, A. and B. both dyed: Now if C. in the Remainder ſhould have one Formedon for this Land, or ſeveral Formedons, was the Queſtion: It was the Opinion of the Court, That one Formedon lyeth well for all the Land, for that it was by one ſelfſame conveyance, though that the Eſtate come by ſeveral deaths; the Action was brought by the Heir of C. after the death of C. Mich. 7 Jac. in C. B. Buckner and Sawyer's Caſe. Cook 8. Part.

2. Where the Writ of Formedon ſhall abate; and what ſhall be ſufficient to abate it, What not: And whether a Recovery in a Formedon be a bar in another Writ; and in what Writ, what not: And Pleas in Formedon.

1. NOte theſe Rules concerning bringing of Writs of Formedon, and the Abatement of them. 1. If a Remainder be executed in a Writ of Formedon in the Diſcender, he ſhall never ſpeak of this Remainder, but the general Writ of Formedon in the Diſcender ſhall ſerve, and he ſhall count of an immediate gift, for he cannot have a Formedon in the Remainder, when the Remainder is once executed. 2. If a man bringeth a Formedon in Reverter or Remainder, the omiſſion of the eldeſt Son who ſurvived his Father, or the like in Pedigree on the part of the Donee, or of him in the Remainder, ſhall abate the Writ. But of the part of the Donee, although that the Donee had many Iſſues in lineal diſcent inheritable to the Eſtate tail, and which extend the Eſtate, the Demandant needeth not to name any of the Iſſues in the clauſe Et quæ poſt mortem, but ſhall ſay, Quæ poſt mortem of the Donee ad ipſum reverti debet eo quod the Donee dyed without Iſſue. 3. In a Formedon in the Diſcender, the Demandant ought to make mention of every one to whom any right did deſcend; as after a Diſcontinuance made by the Father.

Father, if the eldeſt Son ſurviveth his Father, and dyeth without Iſſue, yet the younger brother ought to make mention of him in a Formedon in the Diſcender: otherwiſe, if the elder brother dyeth without Iſſue in the life of the Father. 4. In a Formedon in the Diſcender, it behoveth always the Demandant to make himſelf Son and Heir, or Coſen and Heir to him who was laſt actually ſeiſed by force of the ſale, for a later Seiſin in any heir in tail after, ſhall abate the Writ. Cook 8. Part, 86, 87. Buckmer's Caſe.

2. Note. If the Demandant in a Formedon in the Reverter be barred of a third part of the Land upon her own ſhewing; as where the Demandant ſheweth, That a Fine was levied of a Third part of the Land; In ſuch Caſe, the whole Writ of Formedon brought for the whole Land, ſhall abate; for that the Writ is teſtified by the Demandant's own ſhewing; and that in a ſubſtantial Point. Like as if a man demand a Debt of 20 l. and confeſſeth, that he hath no right to 10 l. of it; or demands 100 Acres of Land, and confeſſeth, he hath no right to 50 Acres of them; the Court ex Officio, or the party either by Plea in abatement, or as amicus Curiæ, may take knowledg of it, and abate the Writ. Mich. 13 Jac. in the Earl of Clanrickard's Caſe. Hobart, 279.

3. If the Iſſue in taile in a Formedon be barred by Warranty and Aſſetts, and then he alieneth the Aſſetts: yet againſt his Iſſues the barr ſtands good. Hob. 40. acc.

4. In a Formedon in the Diſcender brought by A. B. and C. of Lands in Gavel-kind, the Warranty of their Auncеſtor was pleaded in barr againſt them; upon which they were at Iſſue, If Aſſetts by diſcent? It was found by Verdict, That the Father of the Demandants was ſeiſed in Fee, being of the nature of Gavelkind, and deviſed the ſame to the Demandants, being his heir by the Cuſtome, and to their heirs equally to be divided amongſt them: And if the Demandants ſhall be accounted in of the Lands by diſcent, or deviſe, was the Queſtion? It was the Opinion of the Court, That they ſhould be in by the Deviſe, for they are now Joynt-Tenants, and the Survivor ſhall have the whole: Whereas if the Lands ſhall be holden in Law to have Diſcended, they ſhould be Parceners, and ſo as it were Tenants in Common: And ſo the Opinion of the Court, That Warranty pleaded with Aſſetts, was no barre. Paſch. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Bear's Caſe. Leon. 113.

5. In a Formedon in the Diſcender, if the Demandant be barred by Verdict or Demurrer; yet the Iſſue in tail ſhall have a new Formedon in the Diſcender: So if he be barred in a Writ of Errour upon a Releaſe of his Auncеſtor, his Iſſue ſhall have a new Writ of Errour; for he claims not only as heir, but per formam Doni, and by the Statute of weſt. 2. ſhall not be barred by ſe ent, or falſe pleading of his Auncеſtors. Cook 6. Part, in Ferrers Caſe.

6. In a Formedon in the Remainder brought, the Tenant pleaded, That the day of the Writ brought, and yet he the Demandant is ſeiſed of the moyty of the Land in demand, and ſo pleaded in abatement of the Writ. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was no good Plea: but if he had ſaid, That he was ſeiſed in his Demeſne as of Fee, or as of Freehold, it had been good. Mich. 19 Jac. C. B. Gratwick and Cratwick's Caſe. Winch. 23.

7. A Formedon in the Reverter was brought by the Earl of Clanrickard, and the Lady F. his Lady, againſt Robert Viſcount Liſle, of divers Meſſuages and Land in E: which Lands, Robert Earl of Eſſex, and the ſaid F. then his Wife, did give to B. and C. to the uſe of Eliz. Sidney, daughter and heir of Sir Philip Sidney Knight, and the heirs of her body; et quæ poſt mortem prædict. Eliz. ad præfatam F. revertere debent. &c. The Defendant pleaded in abatement of the Writ, That the ſaid F. at the time of the death of the ſaid Eliz. was married to the Plaintiff; ſo that the right of the ſaid Lands ſi quod, &c. to her husband and her did revert, and ſo by the Writ it ought to have been ſuppoſed; upon which, the Demandant did demur in Law. It was adjudged, That the Writ was good: and this difference taken, If it were a Formedon in the Diſcender, upon a Diſcent to the Wife, there the diſcent muſt be made in the Writ to the Wife alone; for the diſcent followeth the blood, and to that the husband is a ſtranger; but in a Formedon in the Reverter, where nothing is already veſted, but the right only returns, there this right may be layed to return either to the Wife alone, or to the Husband and Wife: 33 H. 6. 54. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. The Earl of Clanrickard, and the Lord Viſcount Sidney's Caſe, Hob. 1. and 2.

8. If a Guift be made in tail to D. and his heirs males, the Remainder to A. in tail: D. diſcontinues in the life of A. and dyeth without Iſſue, and the heir of A. brought a Formedon, as the immediate guift to A. his Auncеſtor, who never was ſeiſed in his life; and for that cauſe, the Writ was not good, but abated; but if A. had been ſeiſed of the Land, then it had not been neceſſary to ſhew the firſt guift to D. was the Opinion of the whole Court. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. Brownlow 1. Part, 155.

9. Land

9. Land was given by Feoffment, to the uſe of the Feoffor for life, the Remainder in tail; Tenant for life dyed: Tenant in tail had Iſſue a Son and two daughters: and the Father and the Son joyned in a Feoffment in Fee with Warranty; and after the Father and the Son dyed without Iſſue, and the Daughters brought a Formedon; and the Defendant pleaded the Warranty, and pretended the ſame was a Collaterall Warranty: But the Court held the ſame to be a Lineal Warranty; and ſo the Plea not good, nor a bar. Trin. 16 Jac. C. B. Biſhop and Coſſens Caſe, in a Formedon, Brownlow, 153.

10. In a Formedon, the Caſe was; Husband and Wife were Tenants for life, the Remainder to a ſtranger in Fee, and a Formedon was brought againſt the Husband only, who made default after default; the Wife came and prayed to be received to defend her right. But it was denyed her by the Court, for that the Recovery did not bind her, and it was to no purpoſe for her to defend her right in that Action, which cannot be impeached: And thereupon, he in the Remainder prayed to be received. The Court doubted of it at the firſt, becauſe he might falſifie the Recovery, becauſe his eſtate did not depend upon the Eſtates impleaded, as a ſole eſtate; but his Remaind.r did depend upon a joynt-eſtate in the Husband and Wife not named in the Writ: But yet at laſt, the Reſceit was granted. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Keys and Steds Caſe, Leon. 86.

Founder and Foundations.

Where the Grant of the King to found, erect, or incorporate, a Religious Houſe, Colledg, Hoſpital, ſhall be good; Where not. Where the King ſhall be ſaid the Founder; And where a common perſon: And what are ſufficient words to make a Foundation of a Colledg or Hoſpitall: What not.

King Henry the 8th tranſlated the Abbot and Prior of Norwich by his Letters Patents, and created them by the name of Dean and Chapter, who ſurrendred their poſſeſſion to King Ed. 6: and afterwards King Ed. 6. Incorporated them by the name of Decani et Capitali ex fundatione Edi. 6ti. And afterwards he granted their poſſeſſions to them by the name of Dean and Chapter, Sanctæ individuæ Trinitat. Norſ. (omitting theſe words) ex fundatione Ed.6. It was adjudged in this Caſe, 1. That all Tranſlations made by King Henry 8. of Prior and Covent, unto Dean and Chapters, were good by the Statute of 25 H. 8. 2. Reſolved, That by the Surrender made to Ed. 6. That the Corporation of Dean and Chapter was not gone: for although they departed with their poſſeſſions, yet for neceſſity the Corporation did remain, for their aſſiſtance of the Biſhop. 3. Admitting their ancient Corporation was ſurrendred, and the new Corporation made by King Ed.6. was good, and that the words omitted, viz. ex fundatione E. 6. were material; Yet the Grant made to them was good, notwithſtanding this Miſnoſmer, by the Statute of 1 E. 6. Cap. 8. of Confirmations. The Caſe of the Dean and Chapter of Norwich, Cook 3. Part, 74.

2. Pope Urban, at the requeſt of the Baron of Greyſtock founded a Colledg of a Maſter and 6. Prieſts, and aſſigned to each of them 5. Marks a year, and to the Maſter 10 l. It was holden in this Caſe, That that Colledg was not given to the King by the Statute of E. 6. of Chauntries, becauſe it wanted a lawfull foundation at the beginning; and the Pope could not be a Founder of a Colledg, but the King only. 7 E.6. Dyer, 81, But ſee 10 Eliz. Dyer, 267. The Colledg of Lawdwybreme, which continued a Colledg in reputation, was given to the King by the ſaid Statute.

3. King Henry 8. by his Letters Patents erected a Colledg of Phyſitians in London; and by the ſame Letters Patents granted to them, That none ſhould exerciſe the Art of Phyſick within the City of London, or within 7. miles of it, unleſſe they were allowed by the Preſident of the ſaid Colledg: And by the ſaid Letters Patents granted to them, That there ſhould be 4. Cenſors or Governours yearly, who ſhould have the tryal and examination of all Phyſitians which practiſed Phyſick within the City, or 7. miles Liberties thereof; with divers other Priviledges recited in the Charter. See Cook 8. Part, 107, 108. Dr. Bonham's Caſe.

4. In the Caſe of Sutton's Hoſpitall, theſe Points were Reſolved, 1. That the King might Found and Erect an Hoſpital, and give a Name to the Houſe, though it were upon the Inheritance of another man. 2. That the King may give Licence to another, to do that which lyeth in his own power to do: and therefore, the King may Licence another to Found or Erect an Hoſpitatal in his own Lands: and when the King hath given ſuch Licence under his Seal, he cannot afterwards countermand ſuch Licence. 3. A Name known, is ſufficient to Found an Hoſpital: and therefore in that caſe, the name of the Charter-Houſe, was in it ſelf ſufficient, without preſcribing of it by metes and bounds; and the King by his Letters Patents may create a Manor unto an Hoſpitall. 4. It is not requiſite, that in every Foundation made by the King of a Colledg or Hoſpital, that there be the preciſe words of Fundo, Creo; but if there be words which are equivalent, it is ſufficient to make a Foundation. 5. When a Corporation is created by the King's Letters Patents; and by the ſame Letters Patents, power is given to them to chooſe a Mayor, Bayliffs, or Governours; yet they are a Corporation preſently by the Letters Patents, before any Governour is choſen: and it is a Corporation in abſtracto and intendment of Law, but not in Concreto untill the Governours be choſen. 6. That as to the Foundation, or Creation of a Corporation: a Colledg, or Hoſpital Poteſtate, Potentia, ſive nomine, is ſufficient; as one by Letters Patents may be Governour of an Army, before the Army be raiſed. And the Hoſpitals of St. John of Jeruſalem, and the Temples, were incorporated long before the Houſes of them were built. 7. Reſolved, That Quatenus ad Capacitatem et habilitatem, the Incorporation of a Colledg or Hoſpital, is the Foundation; but Quatenus ad Donationem, he who gives the Land, is ſaid to be the Founder of it: and therefore in the ſaid Caſe, Sutton needed not to make any Inſtrument of the Foundation; for his giving of the Land being the firſt guift, had made him Founder: And to the Erection of an Hoſpital, there is not any thing requiſite, but the Incorporation and the Foundation. Cook 10. Part, the Caſe of Sutton's Hoſpital.

5. In a Writ of Intruſion, ſuppoſing that the Defendants had intruded into the Parſonage of E; It was ſet forth, That the Colledg of St. Peter of Ethelborough was in the time of Ed. 4th, Founded at Weſtminſter, by the name of Decani et Capituli: and that the Parſonage of E. was appropriate to the ſaid Colledg; and by the Statute of 1 E. 6. the ſaid Colledg was diſſolved, and the ſaid Parſonage, amongſt many other things, came to the King's hands, and that the Defendants, 1 Eliz. intruded into the ſaid Parſonage, and took 1000. Sheep et bona et Catalla provenient. de Decimis prædict. apud Weſtm. The Defendants pleaded, That the ſaid Colledg of E. was Founded in P. by the name of Decani Canicorum et Fratrum, &c. who Leaſed the ſaid Rectory to J. S. for 40. years, who aſſigned the ſame to the Defendants, and juſtified the taking at E. abſq; hoc, That the Colledg of St. Peter in Ethelborough, was Founded by the name Decani et Capituli Sancti Petri de Ethelborough at Weſtm. and abſq; hoc, that they took the Sheep at Weſtm: upon which, the Queens Attorney did Demur in Law. It was Objected againſt the Information, becauſe mention is made in it of a Colledg, and it is not ſhewed what perſon was the Founder; alſo of an Appropriation, and it is not ſhewed who was the Patron. But notwithſtanding, Judgment was given for the Queen: For it was ſufficient to ſhew, That the Colledg was ſeiſed of the Rectory; and to ſhew the Statute of 1 E. 6, and the ſame ſhall make a ſufficient Title for the Queen, for Non refert quis ſit Fundor. For whoſoever be Founder, either the King, or a Subject, all is one, the Statute in both caſes gives the poſſeſſions to the King: And as to the pleading of the Appropriation, the ſame is well enough, if it be ſhewed conveniently, that the Plaintiff claims by ſuch Appropriation made, Concurrentibus hu quæ in jure. &c. And alſo, It was holden, That the Traverſe in this caſe was not good; but the moſt proper traverſe that the Defendants could have taken, had been, abſq; hoc, that Decanus et Capituli Eccleſiæ Collegiatæ de Ethelborough, was Leaſed, for the Corporation mentioned in the Bill of Intruſion, and that in the barr, are not all one. It was adjudged for the Queen. Mich. 29 Eliz. in the Exchequer. The Queen and the Lord Vaux Caſe, and others. Leon. 37. 38, 39.

6. Where the King is Founder in the Right of his Crown of any Abby, Priory, or other Religious Houſe, the King ought of Common Right to have a Corodie for any of his Vadelets; and ſo he ought to have out of every Biſhoprick a Penſion for his Chaplain, untill his Chaplain be promoted by the Biſhop to a Competent Benefice: and ſo it is in caſe of every Common perſon who is Founder, if it be not upon a Guift or Frankalmoigne. 44 E. 1. and 50 Aſſ. acc. Fitzh. Na. Br. acc. And if an Abby which is of the Foundation, cometh to the King by Eſcheat, in ſuch Caſe, the King ſhall not have the Corodie which the Common perſon had, becauſe the Abby was not of his Foundation; L. 5. E. 4. 15. Br. Corodie. 16. And yet the King may have a Corody where he is not Founder: but that is, it ſeems, by ſpecial Grant, 1 E. 4. 10. See Cook 10. Part, in the Caſe of Sutton's Hoſpital, acc.

Frank-

Frankalmoigne.

1. FRankalmoigne, as Mr. Littleton ſaith, is, Where Lands are given to an Abbot, Prior, or other Religious perſons, to hold to them and their Succeſſors in Liberam Elemoſynam. Litt. 30. But ſee, 39 H. 6. 30. by Priſott, the guift muſt be by Deed; otherwiſe it is not good.

2. It was holden by the Lord Dyer, If Lands were given to a Parſon, Habendum ſibi in puram Elemoſynam, That it was a Feeſimple and Frankalmoigne. See Dyer in his Reading. See 7 E. 4. 12. acc. And though it be not given to him and his Succeſſors; yet he hath a Fee, which proves a Parſon to be a Corporation. See 39 H. 6. by Danby, acc. And ſee, 8 H. 6. 18. & 19. In Treſpaſſe, ſeveral Grants were pleaded to have been made, to the Chancellor and his Succeſſors of Oxford: which was conceived to be given in Frankalmoigne, and that he had a Fee-ſimple in them by vertue of ſuch Grants.

3. If an Abbot, Prior, &c. holds of the Lord to do Divine Service; as to ſay Maſſe, or other Service in his Chappel every day in the Week; the ſame is not Frankalmoigne, but a Tenure by Divine Service: for which Service, he may diſtrain. But if a man doth preſcribe to have certain Divine Service done in his Chappel; there for not doing ſuch Service, he cannot diſtrain, becauſe he doth not claim it by way of Tenure, but by Uſage; and therefore for not doing ſuch Service, he ſhall have his Action upon the Caſe, 22 H. 6. 46. and for ſuch Service, a Ceſſavit doth lye at this day; viz. If a man giveth Lands to a Religious houſe, or other, to find a Chaplain to ſing Divine Service, if he ceaſeth for two years, the Lord ſhall have Ceſſavit pro Cantaria. Cook 4 Part, 108. in Adams and Lambert's Caſe. But if Lands be given to an Abbot or Prior in Frankalmoigne, if he doth not his Services, but ceaſeth, a Ceſſavit doth not lye againſt him. Fitzh. Na. Br. 209. L. 7 H. 4. 20.

4. A man at this day may give Lands to a Biſhop, or a Parſon, and their Succeſſors in Frankalmoigne, by Conſent of the King and the Lords mediate and immediate, of whom the Lands are holden, quia Quilibet poteſt renunciare juri pro ſe introducto. And at this day a Confirmation may be made to an Eccleſiaſtical perſon, to hold to him and his Succeſſors in Frankalmoigne, becauſe no new Service is reſerved. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 98. acc.

5. If a Biſhop or other man of the Church holdeth certain Land of the King in Frankalmoigne, and he maketh a Feoffment to another, and his heirs; the Feoffee ſhall hold by Fealty only; for that is as near the Tenure of Frankalmoigne as may be. Cook 9. Part, 123. And ſee, That the Tenure in Frankalmoigne is ſo inſeparable, that it cannot be transferred over, or forfeited: but yet by Releaſe the Service may be extinct.

6. The Templers held divers of their poſſeſſions in Frankalmoigne; And afterwards they were diſſolved, and by Parliament, 17 E. 2. their poſſeſſions were given to the Hoſpitallers, to hold to them in the ſame manner as the Templers held them. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That by thoſe general words, they did not hold in Frankalmoigne, becauſe the privity of the Termor on the part of the Tenure did not Continue, and that Privity being perſonal and inſeparable by thoſe general words, could not be transferred to the Hoſpitallers. 35 H. 6. 56. Cook 7. Part, 13. acc. in Engleſield's Caſe.

7. If there be Lord Meſne and Tenant, If the Lord doth releaſe to the Tenant being Abbot, or Confirms in Frankalmoigne, the Meanalty is extinct. 4 E. 3. Br. Tenures, 60. But ſee, 15 E. 3. Fitz. Confirmation. 8. by Thorp, That if the Services of Frankalmoigne be regardant to a Manor; he who is Lord of the Manor ſhall have them.

8. A man ſeiſed of a Manor, doth enfeoffe an Abbot of parcel of it, the ſame is now parcel of the Manor: and if the Manor be recovered, he who recovereth, ſhall have the Frankalmoigne; ſo of the Lord by Eſchear, by Thorpe. But Scroop held the contrary; for that the Frankalmoigne is and remains in the blood of the Donor; and if he dyeth without heir, yet the Frankalmoigne remains for the ſoul of the Donor. 14 E. 3. Fitz. Tit. Meſne, 71.

Frankmarriage.

1. FRankmarriage is, when a man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, giveth the ſame Lands to another man and his Wife, or to the Siſter or Coſen of the Donor in Frankmariage; by vertue of which Guiſt, they have an Eſtate in the ſaid Lands to them and the heirs of their two bodies to hold of the Donor, quit of all manner of Services, untill the 4th Degree be paſt, (Fealty except) themſelves being accounted in the firſt Degree.

2. There are 6. things requiſite in a Guiſt, in Frankmarriage; 1. That the Woman be of the whole blood; as Siſter or Coſen Collateral within the 4th Degree, ſo as they may not entermarry by the Law. 2. That the Reverſion of the thing given do remain in the Donor, or his heires. 3. That the thing which is ſo given, be ſuch a thing as lyeth in Tenure at the time of the Guiſt. 4. That the Donee and their heirs holds the Lands diſcharged and acquitted from all manner of Services (Fealty excepted.) 5. Acquittal from all Lords Paramount of all things which are of Common right; but of things which are againſt Common Right, as a Rent-Charge, Common, and the like, that there be no acquittal of them, becauſe the Reverſion is charged with the ſame. 6. That in caſe they be impleaded, that they may vouch the Donor and his heirs, and recover in value againſt them, if they be impleaded.

3. John Harris gave Lands in Frankmarriage to one White; The Guiſt was by theſe words; viz. Dedi et Conceſsi at John White in Liberum maritagium Johannæ filiæ ſuæ. Habendum dict. Johanni White et hæredibus ſuis in perpetuum, Tenendum de Capitalibus Domini feodi, with Warranty to the Baron and his heirs. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the ſame was not Frankmarriage, nor a Guiſt in tail, but that the ſame was a Fee-ſimple. And it was ſaid in that Caſe, That the uſual words of Frankmarriage are, cum Johanna filia, in the ablative caſe. Paſch. 25 Eliz. in C. B. Webb and Potter's Caſe, Owen 26, 27.

4. Note. It was adjudged, That where Lands were given in Frankmarriage, and the Donees had Iſſue, and dyed; and afterwards the Iſſue dyed without Iſſue, that his collaterall heir ſhould not inherit: for the Donor ſhall recover the Land in a Formedon in the Reverter. And in that Caſe, it was ſaid, That if the Donee hath Iſſue two Sons and dyeth, and the eldeſt Son hath Iſſue a daughter, and dyeth without Iſſue male, the younger ſon ſhall enherit the Land per formam Doni, 5 H. 3. Fitz. tit. Formedon, 64. Cook 7. Part, 35. in Nevils Caſe.

5. In a Formedon, the Plaintiff Counted, of a Guiſt made to J. S. in Frankmarriage with Jane the Siſter of the Donor; The Defendant pleaded, That the Tenements were given in Fee-ſimple, and traverſed, That he gave them not as the Writ ſuppoſed: and afterwards by Niſi Prius, a Deed was ſhewed in Evidence, That the Donor gave to J. C. in Liberum maritagium Tenementa prædict. cum Johanna ſorore ſua. To have and to hold Tenementa prædict Johanni, et Johannæ et hæredibus ſuis in perpetuum. And becauſe ſome words in the ſaid Deed were in Liberum Maritagium, and ſome were in feodo ſimplici, the Jurours prayed the Judgment of the Court: And there upon Advice of the Juſtices, Judgment was given againſt the Defendant, becauſe a Fee-ſimple, and not an Eſtate in Frankmarriage, doth paſſe by the words, 45 E. 3. 20. Cook 9. Part, 14. in Dowmans Caſe. See Cook 10. Part, 118. in Pilſords Caſe, It is ſaid, That in the ſaid Caſe of 45 E. 3. Statham in abridging the Caſe, ſaith, That it was an Eſtate in Frankmarriage. And Brook, tit. Frankmariage, 1. makes a Quære of it, becauſe he ſaith, That the Caſe was not adjudged.

6. Note. If Lands be given in Frankmarriage, and the party is impleaded, the Tenant in ſuch caſe ſhall not have Aide againſt the other Parcener: but if ſhe to whom the Land was given in Frankmariage, will put the Lands in Hotchpott, in ſuch caſe ſhe ſhall have aide of the other Coparcener; for that then the Lands are become as other Lands which diſcended from the Common Auncеſtor, Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 177. And the Lands which are put in Hotchpott, and the Lands which are given in Frankmarriage, ought to diſcend from one and the ſame Auncеſtor; for if they moved from ſeveral Auncеſtors, the Lands cannot be put in Hotchpott.

7. An Aſſiſe was brought by a Woman, and it was found by Verdict, That the Father of the Woman gave the Land to the Defendant with his daughter the Plaintiff in Frankmarriage, when they were infra annos nubiles both the one and the other: after at their full age, the Husband ſued a Divorce, and at his ſuit they were divorced; and after the Divorce, the Husband kept the poſſeſſion of the whole Land, and put out the Woman; for which cauſe, ſhe brought an Aſſiſe: and becauſe the Cauſe of the Guift, and the form of it was taken away by the Divorce at the Suit of the Husband, It was adjudged, That the Woman the Plaintiff ſhould recover the whole Land: for that the Frankmarriage was deſtroyed by the Divorce, and the title of the Husband was gone, 19 E. 3. Fitz. tit. Aſſiſe, 83. vouch. in Marſam and Hunter's Caſe, Baſſt. Trin. 7 Jac. in B. R. 2. And ſee, That upon a Divorce, the Woman ſhall have her goods again which were given with her in Marriage, which are not ſpent, becauſe they were given for the advancement of the Wife. See 26 H. 8. 7. 10 H. 7. 20. and Trin. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 13. acc. 4 Ma. Dyer. 147.

8. A Guift in Frankmarriage was, rendring Rent, the Donor granted the Services to a ſtranger; the Donee attorned, and dyed their Iſſue within age: It was awarded by Wilby, Juſtice, 26 Aſs. that he ſhould be in Ward to the Grantee. And ſee, 13 H. 4. Fitz. tit. Meſne, 74. That a Rent may be reſerved upon a Guift in Frankmarriage: But ſee, 4 H. 6. 22. by Martin, Such a Reſervation is void; for there the Caſe was, That a man gave Lands with his daughter in Frankmarriage, rendring 20 s. Rent, and the Reſervation was holden void, becauſe it was contrary to the nature of the Tenure, which is, to hold the Land free and quit from all Services, untill the 4th degree be paſt.

9. A Deviſe of Lands in Frankmarriage is not good, becauſe the Deviſee cannot hold of the Deviſor. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 20.

10. Note: It was ſaid by Cook, 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 174. A guift in Frankmarriage was before the Statute of Weſt. 2. a Feeſimple; and ſince that Statute, a Fee-tail; ſo that it is true, that the Guifts do continue, but not the Eſtates; for the Eſtates are changed: and although Mr. Littleton, Sect. 271. ſaith, That ſuch Guifts have been alwayes ſince uſed and accuſtomed; Yet now they are almoſt grown out of uſe, and ſerve now principally for moot Caſes, and Queſtions in Law, that thereupon were wont to ariſe.

Fraud, Colluſion, and Covin.

1. What ſhall be Feoffments within the Statutes of Marlbridg, and 32 H. 8. made to deceive the Lord of his Wardſhip; What not. Where the Lord cannot enter upon the Feoffee, but is put to his Writ of Ward to try the Colluſion: Where not.

1. IF there be Lord and Tenant, and the Tenant aliens in Fee by Colluſion; the Feoffee reinfeoffs the Feffor for life, the Remainder in tail to the Son; Leſſee for life dyeth; the Heir entreth; a ſtranger by Licenſe of the Heir, puts in his Cattel: the Lord diſtrains them Damage Feaſant; the ſtranger brings an Aſſiſe, and recovered; becauſe he did not aver, that the Feoffment was made by Covin, as well as the firſt: but if he had averred, then the heir ſhould be in Ward; notwithſtanding the particular eſtate for life. But it was ſaid, That if the Tenant Leaſeth for life to a ſtranger, the Remainder in Fee to the Son; or had enfeoffed a ſtranger, to the intent, to let it for life, the remainder to the Son, That that was not within the Statute; becauſe that the ſtranger might live longer than the Son. 33 H. 6. 14. And alſo for another reaſon, becauſe the Colluſion was not alledged in all the Eſtates; and therefore if a man makes a Feoffment by Colluſion, and the Feoffee makes a Feoffment over bona fide, the Colluſion ceaſeth. Alſo, if the Tenant alieneth to a Stranger in tail, the Remainder in Fee to the Son, and afterwards the Tenant in tail alieneth to the Son, the ſame is no Colluſion. Alſo, if a Feoffment be made to a ſtranger, to the intent to marry his daughter, and afterwards to reinfeoffe his Son; the ſame is not Colluſion: but contrary, if it were to enfeoffe his heir immediately. Alſo, if a Feoffment be made to enfeoffe the Heir and a Stranger, and to the heirs of the ſon; the ſame is no Colluſion, for the benefit of the ſtranger. Cook 1. Part, 122. Shelley's Caſe.

2. If the Tenant enfeoffeth a ſtranger, to enfeoffe his Son when he cometh to the age of 21. years, the ſame is no Colluſion, becauſe his Father may live untill he cometh of full age; and alſo alſo the Feoffee hath an Intereſt for a time, if the Father dyeth before the ſon cometh to the age of 21. yers: But if the Feoffment had been to enfeoffe the Son after the death of his Father, the ſame is Colluſion. See 10 H. 4. 2. 33 H. 6. by Priſot.

3. If a man makes a Feoffment and Livery upon Condition, That he ſhall reinfeoffe his Heir when he cometh to his full age; although that the Feoffment be made ſimply, yet the ſame is a Feoffment by Colluſion. 45 E. 3. 22. acc.

4. If the Tenant levieth a Fine with Releaſe, the Lord may aver the ſame to be by Colluſion, 7 H. 4. 15. 12 H. 4. 16. where ſuch a Fine was pleaded, and the Lord averred the ſame to be by Colluſion, to the intent to enfeoffe his Heir at full age. But ſee, 38 E. 3. Pr. Gard. 74. that againſt a Fine Sur Conuſans de Droit come ceo, no Colluſion ſhall be averred, becauſe the ſame is executed.

5. A Deviſe is not within the Compaſſe of the Statute; for it ſhall not be intended that the ſame is made by Covin; as it was adjudged in the Lord Dacres Caſe. But if a Feoffment be made by the Tenant of his Land, rendring a very ſmall Rent during the time that his Heir ſhall be within age; and when he cometh of full age, then rendring the double Rent; the ſame may be averred to be by Colluſion. See Old. Ma. Br. 96.

6. If the Father enfeoffeth his Son and Heir apparant by Colluſion, and dyeth the Son within age; the Lord may enter and ſeiſe the Ward, becauſe there is Colluſion apparant; and it is not within the meaning of the Statute of Marlbridge: But if the Father enfeoffeth a Stranger to enfeoffe his heir, there the Lord cannot enter, but is put to his Writ of Ward. The ſame Law is, Where the Feoffees make a Feoffment over; but if the Heir be one of the two Feoffees; and it is averred, That the ſecond Feoffment was by Covin as well as the firſt; in ſuch caſe, the Lord may enter upon the heir who is in by the Feoffment of his Father, or by the Feoffment of the Feoffees, and there the Covin ſhall be tryed, 33 H. 6. 14. acc.

7. If the Father had enfeoffed his ſon, yet if the ſon in his Father's life-time had aliened the Land bona fide, it was out of the remedy of the Statute of Marlbridge, and in ſuch caſe, the Lord ſhall not have the Wardſhip; ſo if the Son had died in the life of the Father: but if the Conveyance made by the Son, be after the death of the Tenant, then it is otherwiſe, for then the Lord had once cauſe of Wardſhip, and therefore the alienation after, ſhall not take away the benefit of it from him. Cook 2. Part, 94. in the Lord Cromwell's Caſe.

8. A man ſeiſed in Fee of a Reverſion expectant upon an Eſtate tail by Indenture, in Conſideration of blood, Covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed of the ſaid Reverſion, to the uſe of his Neece; and afterwards Tenant in tail in poſſeſſion dyed: In this Caſe, It was Reſolved, That the King ſhould not have Primer Seiſin, by the Statutes of 32 and 34 H. 8. And in this Caſe, theſe Points were Reſolved; 1. That by the Statute of Marlbridg, It was Colluſion apparent for the Tenant to enfeoffe his eldeſt Son: and ſo it had been, if he had enfeoffed his Collateral heir apparant. But it was holden, That no Colluſion might have been averred, when upon an Eſtate for life, or a Guift in tail, the Remainder was limited, or left in another. 2. Reſolved, That if the Father enfeoffeth another for the advancement of his daughters, or of his younger ſons, or for payment of his debts; and afterwards to enfeoffe his heir, the ſame was no Colluſion within the Statute of Marlbridge, becauſe the Father was in Law bound to make proviſion for them. 3. Reſolved, If there be Grandfather, Father, and two Sons, and the Grandfather in the life of the Father, Conveyeth his Lands to any of the Sons, the ſame is out of the Statute of 32 H. 8. for that is not vulgar nor uſual; and the Father ought to have the immediate care of his Sons and Iſſues: but if the Father be dead, then the care of them belongeth to the Grandfather; and then, if he doth convey any of his Lands to any of his ſaid Sons, the ſame is within the ſaid Statute. 4. In that Caſe, It was Reſolved, That a voluntary Conveyance to the uſe of any of his Collateral blood, which is not his heir apparent, is not within the ſaid Act; for that none will intend that he would diſ-inherit his heir to take away the Wardſhip of the King. Paſch. 5 Jac. in the Court of Wards, Cook 6. Part, 76. Sir George Curſon's Caſe.

9. A. with his own money purchaſed Lands to him and to an Enfant, and to their heirs. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, 1. That this purchaſe cannot be averred to be by Colluſion, to take away the Wardſhip which might accrue after his death, becauſe he never was ſole Tenant, nor in reſpect of the ſurvivorſhip, any Wardſhip could accrue to the Son. 2. That no Feoffment which A. could make of his moyty, could be averred to be by Colluſion to take away Wardſhip or Primer Seiſin after his death, becauſe if no Feoffment were made, no benefit could accrue to the King. 3. That when the Father maketh a Feoffment for the advancement of his Wife, preferment of his Children, or payment of his debts, It cannot be averred to be made by Covin or Colluſion, to give cauſe to the King to ſeiſe the whole Land. 4. That upon the Statute of 32 & 34 H. 8. That in all Caſes when the King's Tenant Conveys his Lands for years, life or, or in tail to his Children, or when a ſtranger was joyned with the heir in tail, or when the Remainder was limited in Fee, or when an Eſtate was declared by Will, that in all ſuch Caſes by the Statute of 34 H. 8. Covin might be averred by the King, but only for a third part, and not for the two parts, becauſe the Statutes have enabled the party to convey two parts at his Will or pleaſure. Trin. 7 Jac. in the Court of Wards. Cook 8. Part, 165. Mighs Caſe.

10. Tenant in Capite made a Feoffment by Colluſion, to defraud the Executions of his Creditors, with Condition, That when the ſums ſhould be diſcharged, That then the Feoffees ſhould convey the Lands to ſuch uſes as he or his heirs ſhould appoint; which is found by Mandamus, et quod nulla alia Cauſa aut intentio fuit. It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That the Queen ſhould not have the Wardſhip of the Heir; for that it was not found to defraud her of her Wardſhip. Mich. 10 El. z. Dyer, 268.

11. The Kings Tenant by Knight-Service enfeoffed his brother, to the intent to enfeoffe his heir male at full age; whereas at that time he had no male, but his Wife was with Child; the Father dyed, a Son was born; This was found by Office. It was a Quære, If all the Land, or a third part of the Land ſhould be only in Ward, upon the Statute of 32 & 34 H.8. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 78. It is ſaid, It was Reſolved, That he ſhould in ſuch caſe be in Ward for his body, and but for the third part of the Land.

12. By the Statute of Marlbridg, Cap. 6. it is provided, That the Lord by Knights-Service ſhall not loſe the Wardſhip by Feoffment made by Colluſion; tamen non licet eis hujuſmodi feofat. ſine Judicio deſeiſire, ſed Brevia habeant de hujuſmodi Cuſtodia ſibi reddenda, as the Statute is: Yet if the Tenant enfeoffeth the Villein of the Lord upon Colluſion, the Lord in ſuch caſe may enter, and expell him, and ſhall not be put to his Action: for the general words of the Act, ſhall not enable the Villein to keep out the Lord: And if the Lord ſhould bring an Action againſt him, the Villein ſhould be thereby enfranchized; which would be a prejudice to the Lord: and therefore in ſuch caſe, the Lord may enter upon the Villein, notwithſtanding the words of the ſaid Statute, and ſhall not be put to his remedy by Action. See Cook 11. Part, 77. in Magdalen Colledg Caſe, acc. Cook 9. Part, 73. in Dr. Huſſey's Caſe, acc.

2. Where a Recovery againſt Tenant for life or years, had by Fraud and Colluſion, ſhall not bind the Termor or he in the Reverſion, but ſhall be falſified and avoided by reaſon of ſuch Covin, Fraud, or Colluſion; Where not. And where Covin not apparent, muſt be averred, and the cauſe of the Covin ſhewed.

1. A. Poſſeſſed of divers Lands, ſome for years, ſome at Will, and ſome by Copy of Court-Roll, demiſed all of them to another for Life, and then levied a Fine to the Leſſee for life and his heirs, of ſo many Acres as amounted to the whole Land, and yet continued poſſeſſion, and paid the Rent to the Lord, and 5. years paſſed: It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Lord was not barred by the Fine, and 5. years paſt: for the Statute of 4 H. 7. never intended, That ſuch a Fine levied by Fraud, and practice of the Tenant for years at Will, &c. who pretend no Title to the Inheritance, ſhould be a barr to them that had the Inheritance: for this were not to avoid ſtrife, to which end the Statute was made, that Fines levied ſhould be a barr, but to ſtir up ſtrife, which the makers of the Statute never intended. Cook 3. Part, 77. Farmor's Caſe.

2. Seiſin of a Rent given by the hands of a Diſſeiſor, or by one who hath a defeaſible Title, is good, and is ſufficient to bind him that hath right, becauſe he is Tenant of the Land, and the Act is a lawful thing; but if there be any Covin betwixt the Diſſeiſor, or he who hath the defeaſible title, and him who hath the Rent; and to that purpoſe the Diſſeiſin was, that the Diſſeiſor ſhould give him ſeiſin of the Rent, there ſuch ſeiſin given ſhall not bind the Diſſeiſee, or him who hath right, for that the Covin maketh it unlawful. Cook 6. Part, 58. in Bredimans Caſe.

3. If a Woman who hath rightfull Title of Dower, be party, privy, or conſenting to a wrong, the aſſignment of Dower to her is void, as if ſhe procureth one to Diſſeiſe the Tenant of the Land, to the intent to be endowed by him; in ſuch Caſe, the endowment of her is void: Cook 5. Part, 30. in Coulters Caſe: And there it is ſaid, That he who is in by wrong, may recoup and retain: As if he who hath a Rent out of Land, diſſeiſeth the Tenant of the Land. In an Aſſiſe brought by the Diſſeiſee, the Diſſeiſor ſhall recoup the Rent which he hath, hath paid out of the damages; and the reason of that is to avoid circuit of Action; but if there were covin in that Case betwixt the Disseisor and him to whom the Rent was paid for the payment of the Rent to him: in such Case, in an Assise brought against the Disseisor for the Land, he shall not recoup or retain the Rent. Cook 5. Part, 31. in Coulters Case. acc.

4. A Discent, and the dying seised of a Bastard Eigne doth bind the right: and the discent shall not take away the entry only, but the right also; but in such Case, it shall not take away the entry in Case of Disseisin: As a Discent, of Services, Rent, Reversion expectant upon an Estate tail, shall in Case of Bastardy bind the right of the Mulier, but such a Discent shall not take away the entry or claim of the Disseisee. Cook 8. Part, 101. in Sir Rich. Lechfords Case.

5. Debt was brought upon an Obligation of 100 l. against an Administrator; who pleaded a Recovery of a Debt of 100 l. against him by J. S. in Chester, and other Judgments in other Courts; amounting to 500 l. and that he had not goods of the Intestate preterquam bona et catalla que non attingunt ad valentiam predict. 500 l. The Defendant replyed, That J. S. accepted of 60 l. in satisfaction of his 100 l. and would have acknowledged satisfaction upon Record of his Judgment; but the Defendant would not suffer it to be done, but continued the said Judgment on foot to deceive the Plaintiff and other Creditors. It was adjudged in this Case for the Plaintiff, for that an Administrator ought to execute his Office, and Administer the goods of the Intestate faithfully, lawfully, truly, and diligently; and then when he compounds with a Creditor who hath a Judgment of 100 l. for 60 l. and satisfaction is offered to be made upon Record; and the Administrator refuseth to accept it; but continues the Judgment on foot, by Covin to deceive other Creditors, whether it be before the Recovery or after, that the fraudulent intent be, yet the same shall not bind other Creditors as to their Debts, nor shall they be prejudiced by such fraud of the Administrator. Cook 8. Part, 132, 133. Turners Case.

6. Note, It was Resolved upon the Statute of 14 Eliz. of Feined Recoveries, that they did not extend to preserve any Reversion or Remainder which was expectant upon an estate tail, where Tenant for life is impleaded, and Tenant in tail is vouched, for where the Tenant in tail is party to the Recovery, it cannot be said that it is by collusion, quia jus et fraus nunquam cohabitant. Cook 10. Part, 45. in Jennings Case.

7. A man was endebted to A. and B. in 100 l. and afterwards he became Bankrupt; A Commission was awarded to C. and D. to make off the goods to the Creditors: Afterwards the Bankrupt gave all his goods to another Creditor for the payment of his Debt; and afterwards the Commissioners by vertue of the Commission sold the goods. It was Resolved, That the sale of the Commissioners was good, and that the Bankrupt after the Condition awarded, had not any power to make a sale or distribution of his goods to any one of his Creditors, and therefore although he delivered his goods to one of his Creditors for the payment of his particular Debts, the same was not good: and notwithstanding such delivery of them, the Commissioners might make sale of the goods, and divide them amongst his other Creditors. Cook 2. Part, 31. in the Case of Bankrupts.

8. A. seised of Lands in Fee holden of T. L. of his Mannor of H. by fealty Rent, and rendring the best Beast after the death of every Tenant in Feesimple, by Deed, in consideration of love and affection to his Son and Heir apparent, and in consideration of a Marriage betwixt his Son, and B. and for the advancement of his said Son, enfeoffed his Son and Heir apparent of the said Land; and afterwards the Son, to the intent that B. should not be endowed of the said Lands during the life of the Father, re-demised the Land to the Father for 40 years, if he should so long live; the Marriage took effect, the Son did his suit at the Court of the Lord: and after the Feoffment, the Father paid the Rent to the Lord, and after the Father dyed, and the Lord took a Beast for a Herriot after the death of the Father; and the Jury found the Statute of 13 Eliz. of fraudulent Conveyances. It was Resolved in this Case, 1. Because no fraud was found by the Jury, the Court shall not intend the said Feoffment was made by fraud. 2. In regard the Jury have not found that the said Feoffment was made by fraud, with intent to deceive the Lord of his Herriot, it shall not be intended it was fraudulent. 3. The said Feoffment being found to be made in consideration of marriage, and to that particular intent concerning the Dower of the Wife of the Son, shall not by any construction of Law be taken to extend to any other intent, nor to be fraudulent, Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. Tyrer and Littleton's Case, vouched in the Chancellor, Masters, and Schollers of Oxfords Case. Cook 10. Part, 56.

9. A. Tenant in Capite, made a Lease for years of the Land to C. for 1000 years, and Covenanted with C. and his Heirs, that upon payment of 5 s. that he and his Heirs would stand seised of the Lands, to the use of C. and his Heirs, and in the Deed were ordinary clauses of Conveyances inter se, viz. that the Lessee should enjoy the Lands discharged of incumbrances, and that he would make further assurance, C. assigned this Lease to J. S. who who dyed in poſſeſſion, his Heir within age. It was the Opinion of the two Chief Juſtices, and of the Chief Baron, called to Aſſiſtance to the Maſters of the Wards in this Caſe, that the Heir of the Leſſee who dyed in poſſeſſion ſhould be in Ward; for if a Leaſe for 100 years ſhall be taken for Mortmain, à fortiori this Leaſe for 1000 years ſhall be taken to be made by fraud and colluſion as againſt the King; and à fortiori in this Caſe, becauſe the Heir had power of the Inheritance upon the payment of 5 l. and although the Leaſe for years be found by Office, and proved by Witneſſes: Yet it was agreed by them, That all Offices that are found to deceive the King of ſuch an Ancient flower of the Crown as Wardſhip, ſhall be taken to be void. Tr. 10 Jac. in the Court of Wards, Cottons Caſe. Godbol. 191, 192.

10. A man made a Feoffment in Fee of Land upon Condition, That if the Feoffor within a year after the death of the Feoffee, payed to his Heirs, Executors, or Adminiſtrators 100 l. that then the Feoffment ſhould be void; the Feoffee made a Feoffment over, and dyed: Afterwards within the year, it was agreed betw xt the Feoffer and the heir of the Feoffee, that the Feoffer pay the 100 l. and that the Heir repay it all to the Feoffer but 30 l. which is done accordingly. The Feoffer enters into the Lands, pretending the Condition to be perfomed. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That that payment was not any performance of the Condition, becauſe an eſtate of Inheritance was by the payment of the ſaid money to the Heir, to be deveſted out of the Aſſignee of the Land; and therefore the condition ought to have bin performed in truth and verity, by a true and an effectual payment, and not by a ſhadow or colourable payment; and Eſtates of Lands ſhall not be deveſted by colourable payments, but by true and effectual payments, and Conditions ought to be performed truly and effectually. Cook 5. Part, Goodals Caſe.

11. Debt upon an Obligation againſt the Heir; the Defendant pleads, That he hath nothing by Diſcent; The Plaintiff ſaith, he hath Aſſets in the County of S. The Defendant ſaith, that before the Action brought, he had enfeoffed A. of thoſe Lands, againſt which the Plaintiff alledged and proved, that the Feoffment was made by fraud; and it was urged, That the fraud ought to have bin ſpecially pleaded, and not given in Evidence. It was agreed by the whole Court, that in that Caſe, the fraud might be given in Evidence, and needed not ſpecially be pleaded, becauſe the Statute of 13 Eliz. provides generally, that the Eſtate as to Creditors ſhould be void, and Acts of Parliament made for the preſervation and ſuppreſſion of fraud, ought to have a benigne interpretation. Cook 5. Part, 60. Couches Caſe.

12. The Maſter and Fellows of Magdalen Colledg in Cambridge, made a grant to the Queen of a houſe in London, rendring 15 l. per annum upon Condition that ſhe ſhould regrant it to Benedict Spinola a Merchant Denizen and his Heirs. It was holden by the Juſtices, That this Grant was void, becauſe they made uſe of the Queens Prerogative to alliein the Lands of a Colledg which was prohibited by the Statute of 13 Eliz. within which Statute the Queen was included. Cook 11. Part, 73, 74. Magdalen Colledg Caſe.

13. If one Diſſeiſeth the Diſcontinuee of Tenant in tail by Covin, to the intent to enfeoff the Iſſue in tail within age, who hath no knowledg of the Covin, and he enfeoffeth him accordingly: It was holden by the better Opinion in this Caſe, That the Iſſue in tail ſhould not be remitted, notwithſtanding his good title; and the cauſe was becauſe of the Covinous intent, for Covin may alter the matter where the title was good, as it was ſaid in that Caſe. Plow. Com. in Wimbiſh and Talbois Caſe, 51.

14. Upon a Communication of a Marriage betwixt A. and the Lady Stowell: A. before Marriage promiſed to aſſure unto her 1000 l. per annum for her Joynture, he being ſeiſed of Lands of 1200 l. p.r annum, the Lady married him before any aſſurance made. But afterwards he by Deed conveyed Lands of great yearly value to the Ladyes friends, to the uſe of the Lady for 100 years if ſhe ſhould ſo long live, to begin after his death; upon the back of the Deed it was endorſed, that the intent thereof was, that when there ſhould be a Joynture of 1000 l. per annum ſetled upon her, that then the Leaſe ſhould be void; and if this was a fraudulent Leaſe or not, was the Queſtion, becauſe it was with a Proviſo to determine at the Will of the Husband. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That this Leaſe being made in purſuance of the firſt promiſe, although there was not any mention of any Leaſe to be made, yet it was grounded upon a good conſideration, and not fraudulent: and although the Lady concealed this Leaſe during her Husbands life time: Yet it was holden, That the Leaſe being good at the firſt, the concealment could not make it ill: Then it was objected, That this was the Land of King Hen. the 3d. who gave it to Eleanor with his eldeſt Son in tail, the Reverſion in the Crown; ſo as A. had not any Title to make this Leaſe: To which it was anſwered, That if there were a gift in tail, the Reverſion in the Crown before the Statute of Donis, and the poſſeſſion had bin time whereof in purchaſors. It ſhall be intended to be made poſt prolem ſuſcitatam, and before the Statute of Donis. The Caſe was ended by compoſition. And in this Caſe it was agreed, That a Leaſe may be determined by a Condition en-dorſed on the back ſide of a Deed, if it was endorſed before the Sealing and delivery thereof. Mich. 15 Jac. in B. R. The Lady Griffin and Stanhops Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 544.

Franchiſes and Liberties.

1. Where a man cannot have Franchiſes or Liberties, but by the Grant of the King, or Preſcription; What and by what words in the Kings Grants they will paſs: Where and by what, and whoſe Act they may be determined, ſeiſed upon, or extinct; by what not.

1. A Man held a Mannor of the King, to which Mannor regal Franchiſes were appendant, ſcil. to have Eſcheats of all Treaſons of thoſe which held of the Mannor: One held another Mannor of the ſame Mannor, to which an Advowſon was appendant: And he who held the Mannor of the King, was Attainted of Treaſon, wherefore the King ſeiſed it, and afterwards he who held the other Mannor to which the Advowſon was appendant, was Attainted of Treaſon; wherefore the King ſeiſed it, and afterwards granted the Mannor which was holden of him cum advocationibus ei idem pertinentibus. It was the Opinion, That the Advowſon did not paſs with that Mannor, but was appendant as it was before: But in the Caſe it was holden, That the Franchiſes Regal were extinct by the Eſcheat, and reunited to the Crown, from whence they firſt proceeded: For it was holden, That none could grant Franchiſes reall, but the King only. 6 E. 3. Mich. 30 H. 8. Dyer, 47.

2. If the King grant to one and his Heirs bona et catalla felonum et fugitivorum, or utlagatorum, finet, amerciamenta within ſuch a Town or Mannor; in this Caſe, the Grantee cannot Deviſe them to another, nor leave them to deſcend for a third part, upon the Statute of 32 H. 8. becauſe they are not of an annual value: But if a man be ſeiſed of a Mannor to which a Leet, or Waife, or Eſtray, or any other Hereditament, which is not of any annual value is appendant, or appurtenant; there, by the Deviſe of the Mannor with the appurtenances, theſe ſhall paſs as incidents to the Mannor: for inaſmuch as the Statute enableth him to deviſe the Mannor, by conſequence it doth enable him to deviſe all incidents and appurtenances to the Mannor. Cook 3. Part, 32. in Butler and Baker's Caſe.

3. Bona fugitivorum, are goods of a Felon, which are not forfeited untill it be found upon Indictment by matter of Record, that the party fled for the Felony: and therefore they cannot be claimed by Preſcription: But Waife, Eſtray, Treaſure Trove, Wreck of the Sea, which may be gained by uſage without matter of Record, there a man may preſcribe in them. Cook 5. Part, in Foxleyes Caſe, 109.

4. When the King grants any Priviledges, Liberties, or Franchiſes, which were Priviledges, Liberties or Franchiſes in his own hands, as parcel of the floaters of his Crown, as bona felonum, fugitivorum, utlagatorum, Waife, Stray, Deodand, Wreck of the Sea; there if they come again to the King, they are drowned in the Crown: And if the Wreck, Waites, Eſtrayes, were before appendant to Poſſeſſion, now the appendancy is extinct, and the King is ſeiſed of them in the Right of his Crown: But when a Liberty, Priviledg, or Franchiſe, or a Juriſdiction was erect or created by the King, they are not extinct, nor the appendancy ſevered from the poſſeſſions, as Market, Fair, Park, Warren, &c. Cook 9. Part, in the Caſe of the Abbot of Strat Marcella.

5. If the King purchaſeth a Mannor to which Franchiſes are regardant, and afterwards gives the Mannor simul cum libertatibus ad illud ſpectantibus, if he doth not make mention in the Charter of grant, cum libertatibus ad illud ſpectantibus, at the time when the Mannor was in the hands of the Feoffee of the King, the Franchiſes do not paſs by the general grant, becauſe that the Freehold of them of Common right was annexed to the Crown; but if ſuch ſpecial mention of them be made in the Charter of Grant, then the Franchiſes paſs as appendants. 43 Aſſ. p. 10.

6. If the King grant to J. S. and his Heirs catalla felonum within his Mannor of D. and afterwards the ſaid J. S. grants to the King and his Succeſſors, the Mannor, with the Franchiſes: And the King by his Letters Patents grants to J. N. and his Heirs, the ſaid Mannor, and further grants to him tot talia tanta, eadem, et conſimilia priviligia, Libertates & Franchiſias quot qualia, quanta et qua. the ſaid J. S. had: It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That in a Quo Warranto brought againſt J. N. he cannot plead the Grant in ſuch ſort manner, but he ought ſpecially to alledg the firſt Charter made of the Felons goods, & the Re-grant. Cook 9. Part, in the Caſe of Strata Marcella.

7. If the King grant the Manner of D. to J. S. and his Heirs, and within the ſaid Manner to have Waife, Strayes, bona felonum, &c. dicto manerio ſpectantibus et pertinent. Theſe words (dicto manerio ſpectant et pertinent.) in the ſaid Grant, do not refer to Felons goods, which do lye in Charter, and cannot by no uſage, nor time, be appendant to the Manner: But yet they ſhall paſs, although they never were demſed or uſed with the Manner. Ibid.

8. When the King grants bona et catalla felonum, and divers other Franchiſes to one for life; and afterwards the King grants tota, talia, tanta, eadem hujuſmodi privilegia to J.S. and his Heirs, quod qualia, quanta vel que, aliqui vel aliquis, habuerunt vel habuit. It was adjudged, That ſuch a grant with ſuch reference is good, and J. S. ſhall have ſuch Privileges as the Tenant for life had, for when a general grant hath reference to other Charters, the ſame is as much in Law, as if all the Charters had bin recited, becauſe they are upon Record. See 40 Eliz. adjudged acc. in Amerdiths Caſe, vouch. in Cook 9. Part, in the Earl of Shrewsburyes Caſe, 52.

9. The King granted to the Earl of Rutland, the Stewardſhip of the Mannors of A. B. and C. and it was not expreſſed in the grant in what Counties the Mannors lay; and alſo the grant of the ſaid Office, was to begin at a day to come, viz. à Temporalene ætatis of the ſaid Earl: and it was not granted in the Letters Patents, That the ſaid Earl might make a Deputy. Yet it was Reſolved, That the Grant was good. 1. Becauſe in the Letters Patents there might be divers circumſtances which might ſufficiently deſcribe what Mannors the King intended in his Grant as in the Tenure, occupation, poſſeſſion, or value. And 2. Reſolved, That although without ſpecial words a Steward cannot make a Deputy, becauſe it is an Office of Truſt and Science: Yet it was Reſolved, when the King Grants to an Earl the Office and Stewardſhip of his Mannors, he ſhall have this Privileg to make a Deputy, though no power to make a Deputy be in the grant, in reſpect of the baſeneſs of the Office, and the great reſpect which the Law hath of the perſon of an Earl who is Præfectus, or Præpoſitus Comitatus. Cook 9. Part, 52. the Earl of Shrewsburyes Caſe.

10. Note, It was Reſolved in the Caſe of the Abbot of Strata Marcella, Cook 9. Part, That Grants of Franchiſes made before time of memory, be they by general, obſcure, and ambiguous words, or by ſpecial words certain, ought to be allowed within time of memory by Juſtices in Eyre, or in the Kings Bench, or before the Barons of the Exchequer, or by confirmation upon Record within time of memory; and ſuch Franchiſes ſhall not be allowed, but for ſuch part as have bin ſo allowed or confirmed, although they be all in one Patent. But ſuch ancient, obſcure, and ambiguous Grants ſhall be conſtrued as the Law was when the Charter was made, and according to the ancient allowance upon Record. Alſo Uſage which is matter of fact, will not ſupport a Record before time of memory: But Franchiſes granted within time of memory, are pleadable without allowance or confirmation: And a man may preſcribe in Franchiſes granted by Charter before time of memory, if he hath an allowance of them within time of memory: for a Charter may be before the Conqueſt, and of ſuch Antiquity, that the Charter it ſelf, and every Enrolment of it is loſt, and therefore upon allowance, it is but reaſonable that a man may preſcribe, in Franchiſes granted by ſuch ancient Charters.

11. King E. 1. made a Charter to the Town and Burgeſſes of Yarmouth in theſe words, viz. Conceſſimus pro nobis et hæredibus noſtris, Burgenſibus et probis hominibus de Magna Jernemutha quod omnes illi de villa prædict. oriundi licet ipſi terram et tenementa extra libertatem villæ tenuerint per tale ſervitium per quod manitegia terum ratione minoris ætatis ipſorum ad nos vel hæredes noſtros pertinere deberent ſecundum legem et conſuetudinem Regni noſtri; Nihilominus juxta Libertates villæ prædict. ſe maritare poſſint ſine occaſione, vel impedimento noſtro, vel hæredum noſtrorum in perpetuum. It was found before the Eſcheator 41 Eliz. That Roger Drury was ſeiſed of a houſe in Yarmouth, parcel of the diſſolved Monaſtery of Black Fryars in Yarmouth, and dyed ſeiſed, his Son and Heir of the age of 14 years and ſeven Moneths, and the ſaid houſe was holden of the King by Knight-Service in Capite; and alſo that the ſaid Roger was ſeiſed of the Mannor of B. holden of the King by Knight-Service, and not in Capite, and that the Queen granted the Cuſtody and Ward of the body of the Defendant to the Plaintiff, and that the Plaintiff tendred to the Defendant a marriage, being within age; and that afterwards he married himſelf elſwhere within age. In this Caſe, it was a Queſtion if the ſaid Charter had diſcharged the Defendant from Wardſhip. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That it had not. 1. Becauſe the Charter is not an abſolute diſcharge in it ſelf, but hath reference, ſcil. juxta Libertates villæ, which ought to be ſhewed. 2. It is not ſet forth, that the ſaid Roger was born at Yarmouth, for the Charter is, de villa prædict. oriundi. 3. Becauſe the Term was created upon a Grant made of the houſe after the diſſolution, and the ſaid grant cannot extend to create a Term:

But in that Caſe, It was holden, That ſuch a Charter made to the ſaid Town, to diſcharge them of Wardſhip, was good. Cook 6. Part, 73. Sir Drue Drwries Caſe.

12. If a man, or Town have Liberties or Franchiſes, yet if they abuſe ſuch Liberties and Franchiſes, theſe Liberties may be ſeiſed upon and forfeited: As 21 E. 3. Rott. 46. In the Common-Pleas a Prohibition was awarded to the Biſhop of Norwich, and he excommunicated the party who brought the Writ, and thereupon the party brought an Action upon the Caſe, and ſet forth the whole matter: and it being found againſt the Biſhop, It was adjudged, That his Temporalties ſhould be ſeiſed, untill he abſolved the party, and ſatisfied the King for the Contempt: and 33 E 1. The Biſhop of Durham pretending, That he had ſuch Priviledges, That the Kings Writ ought not to run there, becauſe one brought the Kings Writ thither, he Impriſoned him: & this Offence being proved upon an Information exhibited againſt him, It was adjudged, That he ſhould pay to the King a Fine, and that he ſhould loſe his Liberties; for it was ſaid, That juſtum, eſt in eo, quod peccat. in eo puniatur. And ſee, Where the Mayor and Jurates of Hithe, being one of the Members of the Cinque-Ports, pretending the Liberties were broken by delivering a Writ of Certiorari unto them, for the removing an Endictment taken before them, They ſpeaking contemptuouſly of the Writ, ſaying, It was no time for Green Plums: they were for ſuch Contempt, in danger of loſing their Franchiſes and Liberties. Paſch. 8 Car. in B.R. Tindall's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 183.

13. It was holden by the Court, That no man can claim to hold a Court of Equity, viz. of Chancery by Preſcription, becauſe every Preſcription is againſt Common Right; and a Chancery is founded upon Common Right. 2. It was holden, That the King by his Charter cannot grant to another any of the Cuſtoms or Franchiſes of London, becauſe they are confirmed unto them by Acts of Parliament. But the like Liberties, Franchiſes, and Cuſtoms as London holdeth, or uſeth, the King by his Letters Patents may grant. Mich. 13 Jac. in B.R. The Mayor of York's Caſe. Godb. 262.

14. The King cannot grant to any ſtranger or other perſons, to make of Strangers born, Denizens, it is by the Law ſo inſeparably and individually annexed to his Royal Perſon: for the Law eſteemeth it a Point of high Prerogative, Jus Majeſtatis, et inter inſignia ſummæ poteſtatis, to make Alien born, Subjects of the Realm, and Capable of the Lands and Inheritances of England: And therefore by the Statute of 27 H. 8. Cap. 24. many of the moſt ancient Prerogatives and Flowers of the Crown, as authority to pardon Treaſon, Murther, Manſlaughter and Felony; Power to make Juſtices in Eyre, Juſtices of Aſſiſe, Juſtices of the Peace and of Gaol-delivery, having been ſevered and divided from the Crown, were reſumed, and were re-uuited to the ſame; but authority to make Letters of Denization, were never mentioned therein to be reſumed; for that never any claimed the ſame by any pretext whatſoever, being a matter of ſo high a Point of Prerogative. See Cook 7. Part, 25. in Calvin's Caſe.

2. A Quo Warranto brought; Of Franchiſes and Liberties: And what ſhall be good Pleas in barr to them; What not.

1. IN a Quo Warranto; The Information was, That whereas the Defendant was ſeiſed of a Manor and a houſe within it, that he claimed to have a Court, or View of Frank-pledg infra Meſſuagium prædict: and the Writ further was, That ſint aliqua Conceſſionet ſive authoritate, ut-pavit Libertates prædict: The Defendant pleaded, That non uſurpavit Libertates prædict. infra Meſſuagium prædict. modo et forma, &c. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Plea was not good, for many reaſons: For the natural Anſwer to a Quo Warranto, is either to claim, or diſclaim, and here he doth neither. 2. He ſaith, Non uſurpavit infra Meſſuagium prædict. Whereas it ought to be infra Manerium prædict. 3. He ought to ſay, Non uſurpavit Libertates prædictas, aut earum aliquam, which he hath not done. 4. He doth not ſhew that he hath theſe words, Libertatem Conceſſionet, or authoritate regia: for if he hath them not by a Royal Authority, then he hath uſurped them. It was the Opinion of the Court, That non uſurpavit modo et forma, was no ſufficient Anſwer. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B.R. Sir Jervis Clifton Caſe. Godbolt, 91, 92.

2. In an Information Quo Warranto, the Defendants claimed certain Liberties; the Defendants diſclaimed in all the Liberties but in one, and that was to hold a Court Baron: and for the maintenance of that they pleaded, That I. S. was ſeiſed of a Mannor; of which Manor, the Manor of N. was parcel: and from I. S. conveyed to himſelf an admittance to the Manor of N. in 4 Eliz. ſo likewiſe of two others; ſcil. of A. and B. by the name of ſo many Acres; and ſhewing that a Meſſuage and 7. Acres of Cuſtomary Lands did to be demiſed, were conveyed to him by I. S. tenendum ſecundum conſuetudinem Manerii: &c.

ſole Queſtion upon this Quo Warranto, was, Whether the Defendant by his Plea, hath ſo well entitled himſelf to the Manor of N, as that he may juſtifie the keeping of a Court-Baron? It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That Sir Henry Nevill's Caſe, in Cook 11. Part, 18. was good Law, Where it is Reſolved, That there may be a Cuſtomary Manor held by Coppy, and that ſuch a Cuſtomary Lord may hold Courts, and grant Coppies, and that ſuch a Cuſtomary Manor may paſſe by Surrender and Admittance, and that Fines may be paid upon Admittance, as well as upon diſcent. But, 2. It was Reſolved in the principal Caſe, That the Defendant had not a Manor, and therefore could not have ſuch a Court-Baron. Mich. 8 Jac. The King and Stafferton's Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. Part, 54, 55, 56, & 57.

3. In a Quo Warranto brought againſt the Mayor, Bayliffs, and Jurats of Maidſtone, It was Ordered by the Court, That they ſhould have day to plead, untill a fortnight after Trin. Term; and the truth was, that they had not pleaded accordingly: Whereupon Judgment was entred in the Roll, and the Writ of Seiſin awarded. And afterwards by a private Order in the Vacation, It was Ordered by ſome of the Juſtices of the Court, That the Judgment might be ſtayed: and the truth was, it was never entred amongſt the Rolls of the Court; and therefore it was prayed, That the Judgment might not be filed, but that the laſt Order might ſtand, and that the Defendants might mend their Plea. It was a Queſtion, What the Court ſhould do in this Caſe? It was ſaid, and 15 E. 4. vouched, to prove it, that after Judgment entred in a Quo Warranto, the Defendant ſhall forfeit the Franchiſes for ever. And it was ſaid in this Caſe, That all Franchiſes in England are againſt Common right and execution of Juſtice; and Wells Caſe was vouched, Where in a Quo Warranto the Defendant had day to plead, or otherwiſe, that Judgment ſhould be entred to ſeiſe, and he failed at the day: and the Judgment was not filed, and yet he could not be releived. It was afterwards Ordered, That the Plea ſhould be received. Trin. 2 Car. in B. R. The Caſe of the Mayor and Bayliffs of Maidſtone. Popham, 181.

Franktenement, or Freehold.

1. TEnant in tail, the Remainder in Fee; Tenant in tail made a Leaſe for life, not warranted by the Statute of 32 H. 8. and afterwards dyed without Iſſue: and before Entry, he in the Remainder granted the Remainder by Fine: And whether the Conuſee of the Fine might enter upon the Tenant for life, and avoid his Leaſe, was the Queſtion? It was ſaid by Wyndham, and Periam, Juſtices, That it was a Rule in Law, That when a Freehold is given by Livery, it cannot be defeated without an Entry; and therefore in this Caſe, when the Tenant in tail made a Leaſe for life, and afterwards dyed without Iſſue, living the Tenant for life, his Eſtate was not defeated before the Entry of him in the Remainder: and then, when before Entry he in the Remainder grants his Eſtate, the Grantee ſhall have it as a Remainder; for ſo is his grant, and ſo the Eſtate for life, which was but voidable, was made good. But Meade and Dyer did conceive, That becauſe by the death of Tenant in tail, his Eſtate was determined, the Eſtate of the Tenant for life, out of which Eſtate tail it was derived, was ipſo facto determined; et ceſſante Cauſa, ceſſat effectus. Paſch. 23 Eliz. C. B. Godbolt. 9.

2. In an Ejectione Firme, upon a Leaſe made by the Vicars Chorals in Lichfield, of parcel of a Meadow in C: upon Not guilty pleaded, the Defendant upon Evidence pretended, That the Leſſors had not the Intereſt of the ſoyl, but that the Freehold was in J. S; and that the Leſſors had onely primam tonſuram of the Land, from the Hay inning untill the Crop was mowed and carried away: and that J. S. had all the profit thereof for the reſidue of the year; and then an Ejectione brought of it would not lye. It was the Opinion of all the Court, That properly, unleſſe other matter be ſhewed to the contrary, the Freehold is in him who hath the firſt Tonſure, for that is the moſt beneficial part of the year, and thoſe who have the after-Paſture, have but the profits in the Nature of Common: And as the principal Caſe was, the Court conceived, the intire Land for all the year did belong to the Vicars Chorals, and therefore the Ejectione Firme brought would well lye, lye. Pasch. 10 Car. in B. R. Ward and Petifer's Case, Cro. 1. Part, 163.

3. Tho. Callard seised of Lands in Fee, called the Barton of Southcote; and having two sons, the eldest called Eustace, and the other Richard; his eldest son being to be married, the said Thomas in Consideration of the said Marriage, being upon the said Barton, said these words, Stand forth Eustace, I do here, reserving an Estate for my life and my Wifes, give unto thee and thy heirs for ever, my Barton of Southcote: after which, the said Thomas entreoffied his younger son of the said Barton, with warranty from him and his heirs; the eldest Son entred, and let to the Plaintiff; upon whom the Defendant entred. It was moved, That the Plaintiff should be barred, because the Land did not passe by way of Estate, in respect a man could not passe a Freehold from himself to begin at a day to come, and by it to make a particular Estate to himself. And so it was adjudged, Hill. 35 Eliz. in the Kings-Bench: But afterwards upon a Writ of Errour brought in the Exchequer-Chamber, the Judgment was reversed; for the same being done upon the Land, did amount to a Livery; and the intent of the Father was apparant. Callard and Callards Case, Popham, 47, 48, 49.

4. One made a Feoffment of Lands in London, Habendum to the Feoffee and his heirs after the death of the Feoffor: It was adjudged a void Feoffment. And the reason was, Because an estate of Freehold in Lands, cannot begin at a day to come: as it is Resolved in Cook 2. Part, in Buckers Case. Mich. 34 Eliz. in B. R. Warrin's Case. But in the Kings Bench, the Case was, That one having Leased his Lands to 3. for their lives, granted the Reversion; Habendum to the Grauntee for his life, and then added these words, Which said Estate for life to begin after the death of the three first Lessees; And it was adjudged a good Estate in Reversion for life. Hill. 34 Eliz. in B. R. underbey and underboy's Case. Hobart, 171. acc.

Fugitives.

1. A Bill of Intrusion was in the Exchequer Chamber against Cater, who pleaded a grant of the Queen: The Plaintiff replicando said, That Sir Fr. Englefield was seised of the Manor of, &c. and being beyond the Seas; The Queen sent her Letters under the Privy Seal, Quod ipsum fide et Legiantia quæ dict. Domino tenebatur indevicte redire in Angliam: prædict. tamen Franciscus (spretis Mandatis dict. Reginæ,) venire recusavit; for which a Certificate was made by the Queen into the Chancery, Quod dictus Franciscus in partibus transmarin. sine Licentia dict. Regina remansit. And thereupon a Commission was awarded to seise the Land of the said Sir Fr. which was entred in the Replication in hæc verba, reciting also the Queens Privy Seal, and that Sir Fr. did stay there (spretis Mandatis, for which the Queen seised the Land, and granted it to the Plaintiff: after which, the Statutes of 13 & 14 Eliz. were made: Upon which matter, there was a Demurrer in Law, and Judgment given for the Plaintiff. And upon this, Cater brought a Writ of Errour in the Exchequer Chamber; and assigned for Errour, 1. That the Record is Inter Johannem Carter præsent. hic in Curia, & Joh. S. attornatum suum, which is oppositum in Objecto, that one should be present in Court, and also by his Attorney, simul et semel. But that was Resolved to be no Errour: for there were many Presidents shewed in the Exchequer, of such Entries. And it was said, If one hath an Attorney in the Kings-Bench of Record, and he himself is in the Marshalsea; there in an Action against him, he is present in person, as also by his Attorney, and good. 2. Errour was, That it is not alledged of what date the Privy Seal was, or that any Notice of it was given to Sir Francis. To that it was Resolved, That it needed not any date, because matters under the Privy Seal are not Issuable, nor retornable into any Court, but the Queen her self from whom the Original came, shall receive it and keep it; and thereupon she makes a Warrant to the Chancellor, to award a Commission to seise the Lands. And it was Resolved, That in case of Fugitives, the Queen might seize the Lands, and grant them over to others. Mich. 26 Eliz. in the Exchequer. Caters Case. Leon. 9.

2. 18 of Ed. 2. Edmund of Woodstock Earl of Kent

Kent went beyond Sea without Licenſe of the King, with Robert de Mortimer, and the King did certify the ſame into the Chancery, reciting that he had ſent his priry Seal, but that the ſaid Edmond, Spretis mandatis noſtris redire recuſavit, upon which iſſued a Commiſſion to ſeize his Lands, ibid.

3. See Cook 2. Part, 22. in Lenet Caſe, That the Kings Privy Signet is ſufficient to prohibite one to go beyond the Sea, or to command a Fugitive who is beyond the Sea, to return.

4. Queen Mary gave Licenſe to Bartue to go beyond Sea, to recover certain Debts: Proviſo, That if he reſorted to the Fugitives, then his Licenſe to be void. One was ſent with a Privy Seal to command Bartue to return, who being miſ-uſed, came back, and certified his reſort to the Fugitives into the Chancery, which by Mittimus was ſent into the Exchequer; and from thence iſſued forth a Commiſſion, to ſeize omnia bona, Terras et Tenementa of Bartue. Afterwards Bartue returned, and would have traverſed the Certificate, but the Court held, That that could not be done, becauſe it could not be tryed. It was holden in that Caſe, That the reſorting to the Fugitives did not make the Queens Licenſe void, ab initio, but from the time of the reſort only to the Fugitives. Hill. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 177.

Gard or Ward, and Wardſhip.

1. Where, and in what Caſe, an Heir ſhall be in Ward; or Wardſhip ſhall be due, and for what Land, and where, and for what not.

1. IT was holden by the Juſtices, That if Lands be holden of a Subject, and the Tenant ſells the Land by Fine and Proclamation to J. S. in tail, the Remainder to the King in Fee, and the Tenant in tail dyes, his Iſſue within age, That the Iſſue ſhall not be in Ward to the Subject, if the King do not aſſent to the Remainder; for that the Tenure and Services are gone and extinct by the Feeſimple coming to the King, who may hold of no perſon: And ſo in ſuch Caſe, the Iſſue in tail ſhall be in Ward to none. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C. B. Goldsbr. 149. See 5 Ma. Dyer, 154. acc.

2. A. was ſeiſed of Lands in Fee holden by Copy of Court Roll of the Manner of D. of which Manner J. S. was ſeiſed in Fee, J. S. for a conſideration of a ſum of Money to him paid by A. by Deed, Bargained, Sold, enfeoffed, releaſed, and confirmed the ſaid Lands to A, To have and to hold to the ſaid A. and B. his Son and their Heirs; and by the ſaid Deed, Covenanted with the ſaid A. and B. and their Heirs, to make further aſſurance by Fine, Feoffment, Recovery with voucher, Releaſe, Deed, or Deeds enrolled; and that all ſuch aſſurance ſhould be and ennure, to the only uſe of the ſaid A. and B. and their Heirs; and Livery and Seiſin was executed to the uſes aforeſaid upon the back of the Deed: Afterwards A. dyed, B. his Son and Heir being within age; Whether B. ſhould be in Ward for that Land, or any part of it, was referred to the Juſtices. In that Caſe it was Reſolved, That there ought to be no Wardſhip, for that Livery being made ſecundum formam chartæ, it ſhall ennure by way of Feoffment, and not by Releaſe or confirmation; yet if it ſhould do ſo, it would be all one, becauſe a Releaſe or confirmation which ennures by way of enlarging an Eſtate, may be aſwell to an uſe, as a Feoffment: And it was further Reſolved in that Caſe, That the ſaid B. by the limitation of the uſe in the Habendum did take jointly with the ſaid A. and the Statute of 27 H. 8. made them Joynt-Tenants of the Intereſt, and poſſeſſion; and therefore by the death of A. B. ſhould hold the Land per jus accreſcendi, and ſo ſhould not be in Ward. Trin. 7 Jac. in Curia Ward. Samms Caſe, Leon. 12.

3. A. having a Wife, purchaſed Land holden in Capite by Fine and Indenture, to the uſe of the ſaid A. and the Heirs Males of his body which he ſhould beget on the body of any Wife which he ſhould after marry, and for default of ſuch Iſſue, then to the uſe of B. the Son and Heir apparent of the ſaid A. and the Heirs of the body of the ſaid B. lawfully begotten; and for default of ſuch Iſſue, to the uſe of the right Heirs of A. for ever. Afterwards A. dyed, and the Wife which he had at the time of the purchaſe ſurvived him. It was Reſolved, That in this Caſe, no Wardſhip was due, and and that B. the Son of A. although within age, ſhould not be in Ward. Hill. 7 Jac. in Curia Ward. Coles Caſe. Lea 20.

4. J. D. Tenant in Fee of Lands holden in Capite, in conſideration of marriage of his third Son M. with A. S. conveyed part of his ſaid Land; being of the value of 10 l. per annum, to the uſe of the ſaid A. S. the Wife of his Son for life, the Remainder to the Heirs of the body of the ſaid M. the Remainder to the right Heirs of the ſaid M. his Son. Afterwards J. D. the Father dyed ſeiſed of the reſidue: His Son ſued his Livery, and afterwards M. the Son dyed, A. S. his Wife ſurvived him, his Son being within age. The Queſtion was, If he ſhould be in Ward, living the Mother, Tenant for life. It was Reſolved, That he ſhould be in Ward by the equity of the Statute of 32 H. 8. For where two purchaſe Lands to them, and the Heirs of one, and he who hath the Fee dyes, his Heirs ſhall be in Ward. So where the limitation is to one for life, and the Remainder to another in Fee, he ſhall be in Ward by the Equity of the ſaid Statute. Mich. 2 Jac. in Cur. Ward, Southbies Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 40.

5. A. ſeiſed in Fee of the Mannor of W. and holden of C. an Enfant in Ward, as of his Manner of Y. levyed a Fine of the Mannor of W. to J. S. ſur Conuſans de droit come ceo, with a render to himſelf for life, the Remainder to his Wife for life, the Remainder to the right Heirs of the Huſband: After which, A. dyed, having Iſſue two Sons, both within age, the Wife ſurviving, entred into the Manner of W. and afterwards the eldeſt Son dyed, the younger Son being within age: and if the Queen ſhould have the Wardſhip, and the third part of the Mannor of W. from the Wife, was the Queſtion. It was objected, That the Queen ſhould not have them, becauſe the Statute of 32 H. 8. ſpeaks only of Joynt-Tenancy of Lands holden of the King, and the Feeſimple in one of them, who being dead, that his Heir ſhould be in Ward notwithſtanding the ſurvivorſhip; but ſo it is not in this Caſe, the Lands being holden of C. and not of the King: But it was Reſolved by the Court, That notwithſtanding that, that the King ſhould have the Wardſhip of the Heir, and of the third part of the Land by the Equity of the ſaid Statute. Mich. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 172. Lanes Caſe.

6. A Tenant in Capite by act executed in his life time, ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, conveyed them to the uſe of himſelf, and the Heirs of his body, and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to E. his Siſter, Wife of Sir Valentine Knightly, and the Heirs Males of his body, and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to C. the Wife of J. D. and the Heirs Males of his body, the Remainder to the right Heirs of A. E. dyed in the life of A. without Heir Male, having Iſſue three Daughters, F. L. and M. Sir Valentine Knightly then living, and having no other Iſſue then the ſaid three Daughters, being his co-heirs apparent. A. dyed without Iſſue, C. F. and L. being of full age, and M. within age, all which was found by Office. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices in this Caſe, That M. ought not to be in Ward for her body during the life of Sir Valentine her Father, nor be chargeable to the King for the value of her Marriage; but ſhe might ſue her Livery without compounding for her Marriage, or the value thereof. Paſc. 7 Jac. in Curia Warder. Mason's Caſe. Lea, 1. and 2.

7. A. Tenant in tail, the Remainder in Fee to B. of Lands holden of the King in Capite: B. dyed, his Heir being of full age. A. Tenant in tail, made a Leaſe to W. who being ouſted, brought an Ejectione firmæ. It was prayed, That the proceedings might be ſtayed Regina inconſulta, becauſe primer ſeiſin was due to the Queen: the Court doubted what to do in the Caſe, but yet ſeemed to ſay, That for ſuch a Reverſion, Wardſhip was due: And it was ſaid in that Caſe, That it had bin adjudged, That Wardſhip ſhould be for a Leaſe for years. See Warburtons Caſe. Noy 2.

8. It was Reſolved by the two Lord Chief Juſtices, and the Chief Baron, That whereas Sir W. Lewſon made a Leaſe for 100 years for the payment of his Debts, and performance of his Will; and afterwards conveyed the Inheritance of his Lands to ſtrangers, and dyed, his Heir within age. It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That the Lands being holden in Capite, that the King ſhould have the Wardſhip or Livery as the uſe required by reaſon of that particular eſtate ſo created: It being an Act executed for the payment of his Debts: And although the Heir had nothing in that Caſe, yet it was Reſolved, That the King ſhould not be prejudiced of that which was due unto him. Paſc. 5 Jac. in Cur. Wardorum. The Lord Buckhurſt and Sir John Lewſons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 157.

9 R. S. ſeiſed in Fee of the Mannor of D. holden of the King in Capite. 13 Eliz. levyed a Fine thereof to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after, to the uſe of his younger Son E. S. and A. his Wife, and the Heirs of the body of the ſaid E. lawfully begotten upon the body of A. and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to the Heirs of the body of the ſaid E. the Remainder to R. S. and his Heirs for ever: E. dyed, having Iſſue by A. his Wife L. S. his Son and Heir. L. S. dyed, A. entred for the Remainder. L. S. dyed, having T. S. his Son and Heir within age, A. living. It was a Queſtion, Whether T. S. dying in the life time of A. his Grandmother ought to be in Ward. It was decreed by the Court, by the advice of the Juſtices Aſſiſtants to the Court, That he ought not to be in Ward during the life of

of his Grandmother, in regard ſhe lived till the ſaid T. S. attained to his full age. Trin. 8 Jac. Sadlers Caſe, Lea, 25.

10. A. B. and C. ſeiſed of certain Lands, ſometimes the Inheritance of the Earl of Derby, which Lands were holden of the King by Knight-Service in chief for the conſideration of 700 l. being the money of Tho. Earl of Dorſet, but to them paid by J. S; did bargain and ſell the ſaid Lands to the ſaid J. S. and his Heirs. It was found by Office, That the ſaid Lands were conveyed to the ſaid J. S. upon truſt and confidence that the ſaid Earl of Dorſet, and his Heirs, ſhould take the profits thereof, and that J. S. and his Heirs ſhould aſſure the premiſes to the ſaid Earl and his Heirs at all times upon requeſt; and that J. S. dyed ſeiſed of the ſaid Lands, M. his daughter being within age, and that he dyed ſeiſed of no other Lands. It was Reſolved in this Caſe by the Lord Chief Juſtices, and the Chief Baron in the Court of Wards, That M. the Heir of the ſaid J. S. ought to be in Ward, and to ſue Livery, and that there was no remedy for it. Mich. 10 Jac. in Cur. Ward. Gawlers Caſe. Lea, 40.

2. Where the King ſhall have the Wardſhip of the Heir of the Donee of the Tenant in tail, of the gift of his Tenant: and where the King by his Prerogative ſhall have the Wardſhip of the Heir, and of the Lands holden of other Lords; where not.

1. A. Seiſed of Lands in Fee holden in Capite by act executed in his life time, conveyes the ſame to the uſe of himſelf for life, the Remainder to his Wife for life, the Remainder to his ſecond Son in tail, the Remainder to his third Son in tail, the Remainder over to the Heirs of the body of his eldeſt Son; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, the Remainder to the right Heirs of his eldeſt Son for ever; his eldeſt Son at that time being within age: The eldeſt Son dyed without Iſſue, the Wife dyed, the third Son alſo dyed without Iſſue, the ſecond Son being within age; and if he ſhould be in Ward for his body or Lands, or for no part of it, was the Queſtion. It was Reſolved, That in this Caſe, he ſhould be in Ward for his body, and a third part of the Land, and that by the Statute of 32 H. 8. But at the Common-Law, the Juſtices made a Quere of it. Paſc. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 181. Moodys Caſe. But ſee that Query now Reſolved in Cook 6. Part, 77. in Sir George Curſons Caſe.

2. Tenant in Capite levyeth a Fine, which by Indenture is declared to be to the uſe of himſelf in tail, the Remainder for want of ſuch Iſſue to the uſe of the Conuſee, and his Heirs; the Conuſor dyeth, his Iſſue within age, he ſhall be in Ward to the King, and not to the Conuſee, although he hath the Feeſimple: for by the limitation, the uſe is as a Remainder, not as a Reverſion in the Conuſee, although by the Fine the Fee paſſed to the Conuſee, and the Conuſee in the Caſe is Donor. Paſc. 20 Eliz. Dyer, 362.

3. If Tenant by Knight-Service makes a gift in tail; and the Donee makes a Feoffment, and dyeth, his Heir within age, the Donor ſhall have the Wardſhip, becauſe he is Tenant in Droit: But if the Feoffee dyeth, his Heir within age, the Donor ſhall not have the Wardſhip of him, but the Lord Paramount, becauſe he is his Tenant in fact; And ſo it was Reſolved. Trin. 18 Eliz. in C. B. in Sir Tho. Wyats Caſe, vouch. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 77. See Cook 2. Part, 92, 93. in Bingham's Caſe.

4. Tenant in Capite ſuffered a Recovery to the uſe of his Son, and his Wife, and the Heirs of the body of his Son, without limitting any Remainder over; the Son dyed, having Iſſue within age. And notwithſtanding the Statute of 32 H. 8. it was adjudged, That the Iſſue ſhould not be in Ward during the life of his Mother, for that the ancient Reverſion remained, and the Father who was the Donor, held of the King, and not the Son. Paſc. 35 H. 8. Dyer, 55. the Lord Broughs Caſe.

5. A. and B. his Wife, ſeiſed of the fourth part of the Mannor of D. holden in Capite, levyed a Fine to C. and E. and the Heirs of C. who rendred a fourth part to A. and B. and to the Heirs of A. on the body of B. lawfully begotten; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, unto the right Heirs of A. Afterwards A. and B. levyed a Fine to F. and G. to the uſe of A. and B. for their lives, and afterwards to the uſe of H. their eldeſt Son in tail, and afterwards to the uſe of the right Heirs of A. and B. and for default of ſuch Iſſue, to the uſe of the right Heirs of B. A. dyed, H. his Son being within age, B. being alive. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved (amongſt other points), That the advancement of the Son in Remainder, when the Eſtate for life is out of the Statute of 32 H. 8. ſhould not give to the King Wardſhip, either of the body, or of the Land, becauſe that the Tenant for life was Tenant to the King. But if there be Tenant for life, and the Reverſion be granted to his Wife, or Iſſues, and he dyeth, his Heir within age, there he ſhall be in Ward for body and Land, becauſe he in the Reverſion holdeth of the King. 2. It was ſaid, That if one holdeth of the King, and makes a Leaſe for life, the Remainder to two, and to the Heirs of one of them, and he who hath the Fee, dyeth, living the Tenant for life, the ſame is within the Statute of 32 H. 8. becauſe a Remainder is an Hereditament, and holden of the King, but it is not immediately holden of the King; and therefore the Heir ſhall not be in Ward during the life of the Tenant for life: But if the Heir of him who hath the Fee be of full age, and dyeth, living the Tenant for life, his Heir within age, he ſhall not be in Ward for his body, for the Heir ought to be immediate Heir, and within age at the time of the death of his Anceſtor. Cook 9. Part, 126. Floyers Caſe.

6. A man ſeiſed of Lands holden of the King in Knight-Service, to him and his Wife, and to the Heirs of the Husband, on the body of the Wife begotten, the Remainder unto the right Heirs of the Husband: and of other Lands holden in Socage, enfeoffed divers perſons to the uſe of himſelf for life, the Remainder to his younger Son in tail, the Remainder to his own right Heirs, and dyed, his eldeſt Son within age. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That his eldeſt Son ſhould be in Ward for his body, by the Statute of 32 H. 8. And it was ſaid, That where two have an Eſtate, and to the Heirs of one, and afterwards the Son came of full age, and then the Wife dyed, that he ſhould not ſue an Ouſter le maine for the Knight-Service Land, becauſe it never was in the hand of the King, but was a bare Remainder during the life of the Wife; and for the Socage-Land, he was not bound to ſue Livery, becauſe the younger Son was alive and had Iſſue. Hill. 7 Eliz. Dyer, 237. Mackwilliam's Caſe. See before, 2 Eliz. Dyer, 172. Lanes Caſe.

7. Tenant in Capite, hath Iſſue a Daughter within age, who is married to a man of full age, the Tenant maketh a Feoffment to his uſe, and dyeth; in this Caſe, the Feoffees ſhall ſue Livery, for although that the Daughter was not in Ward for her body, yet her Land ſhall be in Ward; and therefore Livery ought to be ſued; but if the Daughter had bin of full age, then no Livery ſhould be ſued. 26 H. 8. 3. Br. Gard. 1.

8. Marqueſs Dorſet, Tenant in Capite, levyed a Fine of Land, with a render of the ſame to him, and the Heirs of his body, the Remainder over to King H. 7. and the Heirs Males of his body, the Remainder for want of ſuch Iſſue, unto the right Heirs of the Marqueſs; the Marqueſs entred, and dyed without Iſſue: King Hen. the 7th entred, and dyed ſeiſed, and the Land by mean diſcents came to King E. 6. who dyed without Iſſue; So as the Remainder came to the Lord Berkley, as couſin and Heir of the Marqueſs, being within age; and whether he ſhould be in Ward for the Land or not, was a Queſtion, becauſe the Seignory was ſuſpended at the death of King E. the 6th. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That he ſhould be in Ward for that Land, becauſe now the ſeignory was revived. Tr. 1 Ma. Dyer, 102. Marqueſs Barkleyes Caſe.

9. A. held Land in Socage, and other Lands of F. in Knight-Service, as of his Mannor of B. F. held over of the King in Capite; F. dyed, his Heir within age, and in Ward to the King. Afterwards A. dyed alſo, and his Heir within age, the Heir of F. ſued his Livery: And it was found by Office, That the Heir of A. was of full age. It was holden in this Caſe, That he ſhould not be in Ward for the Socage-Land, becauſe the Tenant held not immediately of the King, but for the Knight-Service Land he ſhould ſue Livery; and if he had bin within age, he ſhould have bin in Ward to the King. Mich. 3 Mi. Dyer, 123. acc.

10. Tenant in tail, the Reverſion to the King, the King doth Licenſe his Tenant to allien in Fee, and to take back an Eſtate to himſelf and his Wife in tail, the Remainder to his right Heirs, and he maketh a Feoffment, and taketh back an eſtate according to the Licenſe, and then he dyeth. It was holden, That notwithſtanding this Licenſe of the King, yet the King during the life of the Wife, ſhould have the Wardſhip of his Heir that is within age, for that the Licenſe doth not give him power to allien the Kings Reverſion; and when the Reverſion cannot be diſcontinued, the Eſtate tail is not diſcontinued, but by his death, the Heir may enter; and then he being within age, ſhall be in Ward. See Cook 2. Part, 92, 93. Fitzh. Nat. Br. acc.

11. If the Kings Tenant in Capite giveth Lands in tail without the Kings Licenſe, and the King accepteth of the Ancient Tenant for his Tenant, and accepteth his Services of the other; and afterwards the Donee in tail dyeth, his Heir within age, yet it was ſaid, That the King ſhall have the Wardſhip of him; and this acceptance of Services of the other, ſhall not conclude the King. But Quere of that Caſe, for it is holden in 4 H. 6. 19. to the contrary. See Fitzh. Nat. Br. and ſee 27 H. 8. 26. per Fitzherbert. And ſee 35 H. 8. Dyer 54 for the Reſolution of this Caſe.

12. Grandfather, Father, and Son, the Grandfather held the Mannor of D. of B. as of his Mannor of S. by Knight-Service, and levyed a Fine to the uſe of himſelf for life, the Remainder to the uſe of the Father in tail, and afterwards to the uſe of the right Heir of the Father, and dyed, his Heir within age. B. the Lord ſuffered a Recovery of the Mannor of S. to the uſe of himſelf and his Wife in tail, the Remainder to the uſe of C. and his Wife in tail, the Remainder to the right Heirs of B. B. and his Wife dyed without Iſſue, C. entred, the Grandfather dyed, his Wife dyed, the Son entred, and made a Leaſe for years; C. re-entred,

It was Reſolved in this Caſe, 1. That the Grandfather had an eſtate in Fee expectant upon an eſtate tail, as a Reverſion, not as a Remainder. 2. That C. ſhould not have the Wardſhip of the Land, becauſe a Reverſion in Fee was expectant upon it, and the Reverſioner is the immediate tenant to the Lord, and not the Eſtate tail. Cook 2. Part, 92. Bingham's Caſe.

13. Note, in the Caſe of Bingham, this Caſe was put; Tenant by Knight-Service, makes a gift in tail, and afterwards releaſeth to the Donee and his Heirs; now the Donee hath an Eſtate in tail with the Reverſion expectant; and if he dyeth, his Heir within age, that the Lord ſhall have the Wardſhip of the Land: That Caſe was agreed for Law, becauſe that there the Releaſe doth enure by way of extinguiſhment of his eſtate, and the Lord ſhall have the Wardſhip of the Heir, and Land of the Donee, becauſe the Heir claims both Eſtates by Diſcent from the ſame Anceſtor. But it was ſaid, that in Bingham's Caſe, the Donee had two diſtinct eſtates deſcend d to him, from two ſeveral Anceſtors, ſcil. the Eſtate tail by diſcent from his Father, and the Reverſion as Heir to his Grandfather. But it was agreed, That if Tenant in tail be with a Reverſion expectant to him and his Heirs of Lands holden in Knight-Service of a common perſon, and dyeth, his Heir within age, he ſhall be in Ward for his body, but the Lord ſhall not have the Wardſhip of the Land, becauſe the Reverſion is holden immediately of him, and not the eſtate tail, ibid.

14. It was holden, If the Kings Tenant dyeth ſeiſed of Lands holden of the King in Socage in Capite, and alſo of other Lands holden in Socage of a cõmon perſon, his Heir of full age, that in ſuch Caſe he ſhall not pay primer ſeiſin of the Lands holden of other perſons, nor of other Lands holden of the King, if they be not holden in Capite. Paſc. 4 Eliz. Dyer, 213. See 20 Eliz. Dyer, 362. 35 H. 6. 52. 32 H. 8. Br. Gard. 97. acc.

3. Where the Lord ſhall have the Wardſhip of the Land, notwithſtanding a Feoffment be made of it by Colluſion; Where not: And where the Lord ſhall not enter upon the Feoffee ſuppoſed by Colluſion; but ſhall be put to his Writ to recover the Land; Where not.

1. TEnant of the King, of Lands holden by Knight-Service, did enfeoff his brother, to the intent to enfeoff his Heir Male at full age, whereas he at the time of the Feoffment, had not Iſſue Male, but his Wife was then with child; the Father dyed, a Son was born; all this was found by Office: The Queſtion was, the Heir being within age, If he ſhould be in Ward for the whole Land, or for any part of it. It was conceived that he ſhould be in Ward for the whole Land in regard of the Colluſion. 20 Eliz. Dyer, 361.

2. Tenant of Lands holden by Knight-ſervice in Capite, to defraud an Execution of 300 l. recovered againſt him, made a Feoffment in Fee, upon Condition, that if he or his Heirs payed 20 l. then the ſame to be void, and afterwards he dyed, his Heir within age. It was holden in this Caſe, That the Heir ſhould not be in Ward, becauſe it was not made to avoid the Wardſhip of the King, but only to avoid an Execution of a common perſon, and ſo it was not within the Statute of 32 H. 8. Mich. 3 Eliz. Dyer, 193. Se: Cook 6. Part, Sir George Curſons Caſe. And ſee 10 Eliz. Dyer, 268. acc. Se: before, in title Colluſion and Covin, more to this Caſe.

3. If the Father maketh a Feoffment unto his eldeſt Son upon Colluſion; the Lord by the Statute of Marlbridg had a poſſibility to have had the Wardſhip of the Son if the Father had dyed, his Heir within age. But in that Caſe, if the Feoffee had made a Feoffment bona fide over to another; and after the Father had dyed, his Heir within age, the poſſibility which the Lord had to have the Wardſhip, was deſtroyed, becauſe the ſtranger who had no notice of the Colluſion, came to the Land bona fide by purchaſe. Cook 1. Part, 122. in Chudleyes Caſe.

4. If there be Lord and Tenant by Knight-Service, and the Tenant enfeoffeth his Son and Heir apparent by colluſion, if the Lord accept of the Services by the hands of the Feoffee, he ſhall loſe his Wardſhip: For the Statute of Marlbridg, cap. 6. hath

6. hath made the Feoffment in Fee as void, and of no effect, as against the Lord; and therefore if the Lord will affirm the Feoffment, and waive the benefit of the Act, by accepting of the Feoffee for his Tenant, he hath thereby purged the Collusion; and so the Lord shall lose his Wardship. Cook 3. Part, 70. in the end of Pennant's Case.

5. If the Father Tenant in Knight-Service enfeoffeth his Son and heir apparant within age; the same is Covin and Collusion apparant, and needs not to be averred; and in such case, if the Tenant dyeth the Son within age, the Lord shall have the Wardship of him. Cook 7. Part, 40. in Bedell's Case.

6. If the Son and Heir purchaseth Lands holden by his Father in Capite for money bona fide paid to the Father; this shall not be taken to be a Conveyance by Collusion, either within the Statute of Marlbridg, or within the Statute of 32. H. 8. so as any Wardship shall accrue either to the King, or unto any other Lord. Cook 10. Part, 83. Sir Nicholas Strange's Case, vouch. in Lowes Case.

4. Where the Heir of Cestuy Que Use, shall be in Ward; Where not. And where one who hath an Estate of Inheritance jointly with one, who hath but an Estate for life shall be in Ward; Where not.

1. A Man before the Statute of 27 H. 8. had Feoffees in use in Fee, and the Feoffees did execute an Estate to the Wife of A. for life, the Remainder to B. and his Heirs: and B. dyed his heir within age. In that case it was holden, That the heir of B. should be in Ward during the life of his Mother, because the Use limited as a Remainder, was void as a Remainder, and the Land discended in the nature of a Reversion, and not a Remainder. Trin. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 10, 11, 12. But see, where a man seised in Fee before the Statute, made a Feoffment to the use of himself and his wife, and to the heirs of their two bodies begotten; and for the want of such Issue, to the use of the Feoffor and his heirs: and after the Statute they had Issue, and the husband dyed the Issue within age. Dyer conceived, in that case he should not be in Ward, because the use in Fee-simple was created and raised de novo upon a Feoffment of the Land in Fee, which use was never in esse before: and if he had limited the use only to the Wife for her life, the remainder to the use of the right heirs of the Feoffor, the Feoffor himself should not have any thing of the use, but his right heir after his death should be in, as a purchase. Mich. 4 Ma. Dyer, 134.

2. The King's Tenant in Capite being Cestuy que use, dyed seised of the Land, and also seised of Lands holden of other Lands in Socage, his heir within age; and no Will was declared by him: It was holden in that Case, That the King should have the Wardship of all the Lands; both of the Lands in use, and of the other Lands: the same being before the Statute of 27 H. 8. Mich. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 174. And so it was said, it was adjudged by all the Justices of England, in Trin. 8 H. 8. as appeareth by Kellaways Reports, in Conisby and Throgmorton's Case.

3. Note. It is said, That the Statute of Marlbridg, which was made, 52 H. 3. gave the Wardship of the heir of the Tenant who held by Knight-Service, notwithstanding a Feoffment made by Collusion: yet till the Statute of 4 H. 7. Cap. 17. which gave the Wardship of the heir of Cestuy que use, the Heir of Cestuy que use was not in Ward. But yet it is holden in 27 H. 8. 9. That if Cestuy que use, after the Statute of 4 H. 7. had made a Feoffment in Fee by Collusion to defraud the Lord of his Ward, such a Feoffment is within the Equity of the said Statute of Marlbridg. See Cook 4 Part, 4. in Vernon's Case.

4. A. seised of Lands holden in Capite, made a Feoffment of them to the use of his brother for life, the Remainder to his eldest son in tail, the remainder to his youngest son in tail, with divers Remainders over; and this was by Collusion to deceive the King of his Wardship, and dyed: The Covin was found by Office; the eldest Son before Livery dyed without Issue, the youngest son within age. It was Resolved in this Case, 1. Although that the Collusion was found by Office, yet the King should have the Wardship but of the third part of the profits. 2. That the younger Son within age should not be in Ward, because the Covin could not extend to the younger Son, and the King had once advantage of the Statute after the death of A. the Father; and the youngest Son claims in by force of a Remainder. 3. Resolved, That if the King's Tenant leave a third part for the King, there can be no Collusion averred as to the other two parts. Cook 8. Part, 164. Mich's Case. See before, Division 2. Sect. 7. Flinn's Case, &c.

5. Where

5. Where the Heir ſhall be in Ward, notwithſtanding he be made a Knight within age; And where not. And where after the death of the Tenant, the Lord is preſently in poſſeſſion of the body of the Ward: Where not.

1. WHen the Heir apparant is made a Knight being within age in the life of his Anceſtor, and afterwards the ſaid Anceſtor dyeth, his heir within age: Reſolved, he ſhall be out of Ward, and ſhall pay no value of the Marriage; nor ſhall the Lord have the Wardſhip of his Land; for by the making of him Knight in the life of his Anceſtor, he is made as it were of full age, ſo as when his Anceſtor dyeth, no Intereſt either in the body or in the Land, veſts in the Lord: And the Statute of Magna Charta, for the Wardſhip of the Land doth not extend to that caſe, for the purview thereof extends only when the heir is made a Knight infra ætatem; which ſhall be intended after the death of his Anceſtor. See Plow. Com. 268. Ratcliff's Caſe.

2. King Ed. the firſt, granted to the Town of Yarmouth, Quod omnes de villa oriundi licet terras, &c. extra libertatem villæ tenuerint in Capite, ſe maritare poſſint juxta Libertates prædict. R. Drury dyed ſeiſed of a houſe parcel of a Monaſtery diſſolved in the time of King Henry the 8th, holden in Capite; the King grants the Wardſhip of him to the Plaintiff, and makes the Ward a Knight: and afterwards the Plaintiffs bring a Writ de valore Maritagii. As to the Charter, this was Reſolved, That it did not extend to the Defendant, becauſe it was not ſhewed, that he was born within the ſaid Town. As to the Points in Law, Reſolved, 1. If the heir in Ward be made a Knight, he is out of Ward for his body, becauſe by intendment of Law, he is able to do Knights Service. 2. That by the death of the Tenant, the value of the Marriage is preſently veſted in the Lord, and afterwards cannot be deveſted by making the heir Knight. 3. If he be Knighted in the life of his Anceſtor, he ſhall not be in Ward at all. 4. If after a Tender and refuſall, if the heir be made a Knight, and he doth marry, he ſhall not forfeit the double value of the Marriage, becauſe he is out of Ward: but yet preſently the Lord may have a Writ de Valore Maritagii, for the ſingle value, Cook 6. Part, 73. Sir Drue Drurie's Caſe. See Cro. 2. Part, 156. the ſame Caſe.

3. Tenant in Capite dyed ſeiſed, his ſon and heir within age was made a Knight in the life-time of his Father; the Son tendered his Livery after the death of his Father, before his age of 21. years, and continued the ſame tender. Two Queſtions were moved in this Caſe, 1. Whether the profits of the Land are ſaved to the King by the ſaid tender of Livery and continuance? 2. If the King ſhould have the mean Rates which fell during the 21. years. Both which were Reſolved againſt the King: and the King ſhould have Primer Seiſin only, as if he had been of full age at the time of the death of his father; becauſe the King, by making him a Knight, adjudged him to be of full age, to do Knights-Service. Cook 8. Part, 173. Sir Henry Conſtable's Caſe.

4. It was found by Office after the death of A, that he and E. his Wife purchaſed the Manor of D, holden of the King in Capite to them and the heirs of A, and that A. dyed ſeiſed thereof, and of two other Manors holden in Socage; and that B. his Son was within age of 21. years, and that E. ſurvived him. Afterwards, 30 May 9 Jac. E. dyed: and 30 Jan. 10 Jac. B. being within age, was made Knight, and tendered his Livery, and ſued a ſpecial Livery, wherein was a pardon of all Intruſions, Actions, Accompts, and Demands: and notwithſtanding the Auditor rated a Charge upon him for the mean Rates after the death of E, untill his age of 21 years, and proces iſſued againſt him ad Computandum pro meliori valore: B. appeared, and ſhewed the day when he was made Knight, and the ſpecial Livery in diſcharge of the mean Rates: The firſt Queſtion was, If he ſhould be charged for mean Rates after he was made Knight, and the death of E? 2. If diſcharged of them, till his attaining his full age? 3. Whether this Charge ad Computandum pro meliori valore, were allowable, there being no Office to warrant it? For the laſt Point, it was Reſolved, It was not allowable, becauſe the King cannot impoſe a greater value then is found in the Office; but in his compoſition for committing the Land, he may impoſe what value he pleaſe. 2. Reſolved, he is not chargeable with the mean rates betwixt his being made Knight, and his age of 21. years. 3. That he ſhould be charged with the mean Rates, untill the time that he was made Knight; although there was not any Office found after the death of E: and the reaſon was, becauſe there was Office before finding the Eſtate, by reaſon whereof, he was in Ward for his body, and for the Reverſion. Hill. 13 Jac. Sir Tho. Pickerings Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 388, 389. See Hobart, 91. the ſame Caſe.

5. Tenant of the King by Knights Service, bargained and ſold his Land to J. S. and his heirs, the bargainee dyed his heir of full age, and then the Deed was enrolled: the Queſtion was in this caſe, caſe, If the King ſhould have Primer Seiſin? It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, If the Heir were within age in this caſe, he ſhould be in Ward; and if he were of full age, that he ſhould pay Primer Seiſin: for when the Deed is enrolled, the Land doth paſſe ab initio, and then the bargainee ſhall be Tenant ab initio. But in that Caſe, all the Juſtices agreed, That in ſuch caſe, the Wife of the Bargainee ſhould not be endowed, and that the Rent paid to the Bargainor after the day encurred, was good; and the Bargainee had no remedy for it, becauſe it was a thing executed. Paſch. 5 Jac. in the Court of Wards, Sir Henry Dimocks Caſ. Owen 149. Quære, if the Caſe in Paſch. 15 Jac. referred out of the Court of Wards, to the Juſtices, Dimocks Caſe, were one and the ſame Caſe. For this the Caſe was, That 13 Jac. A. and B. did by Indenture, 3 July, 13 Jac. bargain and ſell the Manor of D. to Sir Henry Dimock and his heirs for money; and it was found by Office, that he dyed 4. October, 13 Jac. and after his death, and not before; viz. 23. October 13. Jac. the Deed was enrolled, and that A. D. was his Coſen and heir, and of full age; and that the Manor was holden in Chief: For in that Caſe, It was holden by the Juſtices, to whom the Caſe was referred, he was to ſue Livery. For they agreed, That this Caſe differed from all the Caſes which are put in Shellyes Caſe; Of Recovery by Fine executory, Covenants to raiſe Uſes, as in Wood's Caſe there vouched, where the Eſtate veſts in the heir, though Quaſi heir, which never was in the Anceſtor: For this upon the Inrollment ſettles in Law, as between the Bargainor and the Bargainee ab initio, upon the Statute of 37 H. 8. of Uſes, which doth joyn all the Eſtates to the Uſes ipſo facto; onely the Statute of Inrollments ſayes, That in that caſe it ſhall not veſt, except the Deed be inrolled: So that, if it be enrolled, it doth veſt, not by the Statute of Inrollments, but preſently by the Statute of Uſes. Yet in that Caſe it was agreed, That the Bargainee cannot ſell unto another before the Deed be enrolled; as it was adjudged in Billingbams Caſe. Paſch. 15 Jac. Dimocks Caſe in the Court of Wards. Hob. 136.

6. Note. It is ſaid by Hobart, Chief Juſtice, That if any Tenant by Knight-ſervice dyeth his heir within age, I am preſently in poſſeſſion of the body without ſeiſure; and the bringing of an Action of Treſpaſſe, or a Writ of Raviſhment of Ward doth not as in other Actions, renounce the property or poſſeſſion of the Ward, but doth only puniſh the Temeraria Occupatio, and gives the Plaintiff damages according to his hurt by abuſe or marriage of the Ward: and in that caſe, if another taketh away the Ward from the Raviſher, and marry him, the firſt Raviſher can have no Action againſt the ſecond, but the very Guardian may have an Action againſt them both, and ſhall recover againſt them both for their ſeveral Raviſhments, 8 E. 3. 52. See the Opinion of Hobart, Trin. 7 Jac. in C. B. in Moor and Huſſies Caſe, Hob. 98, 99.

6. Where a man ſhall have Wardſhip, by cauſe of Priority or Poſteriority: And what ſhall be ſaid Priority, What Poſteriority; What not.

1. IF a man purchaſeth Lands by Feoffment, which are holden ſeverally of divers Lords by Knights-ſervice, and afterwards dyeth his Heir within age, the Lord who firſt getteth the Ward, ſhall have him, becauſe there is no Priority: But if he purchaſeth Lands which are holden by Knights ſervice of one Lord, and afterwards purchaſeth Knight-ſervice of another, and dyeth his heir within age; that Lord ſhall have the Wardſhip of the Heir of whom the Land firſt purchaſed was holden: for he holdeth of him by the moſt ancient Feoffment and Priority then he holdeth of the other Lord. See 21 H. 8. Br. Prerogative, 92. Fitzh. Na. Br. 142. acc.

2. In a Writ of Ward brought by the Lord Roſſe againſt Conſtable; the Defendant pleaded by Proteſtation, That the Anceſtor of the Enfant did not hold by Knights-ſervice of the Plaintiff; but ſaid, That the Anceſtor of the Enfant held certain Lands by Knights-ſervice of the Lord Dacres by Priority, and that he enfeoffed certain perſons to his uſe, as well of the Land which the Plaintiff ſuppoſeth he held of him, as of the Land holden of the Lord Dacres; for which cauſe, the Defendant becauſe of Priority, ſeiſed the Ward of the body of the Enfant as ſervant to the Lord Dacres, and by his Commandment: Upon which, there was a Demurrer. It was argued, If the Lord which firſt happened on the Wards body, ſhould have the Cuſtody of it, becauſe of the equal antiquity of the Tenures; becauſe the Feoffment was made at one time. In that caſe it was ruled, That the Priority of ſeizure ſhould take place, and ſhould be preferred, as well in the caſe of an Uſe, as in caſe of Land. Trin. 28 H. 8. 11. in Bukenhams Caſe; and 12. acc.

3. If a man hold Land of the King by Poſteriority, and of another Lord by Priority, and the King granteth the Seignory to the Queen for life, and afterwards the Tenant dyeth his Heir within age; age; the Queen in ſuch caſe ſhall participate of the Prerogative of the King, and ſhall have the Wardſhip of the body of the Heir of the Tenant within age, not having regard to the Poſteriority, becauſe the Reverſion of the Seignory doth remain in the King: but if the King hath granted the Remainder of the Seignory in Fee to a ſtranger, there the Queen ſhall not have the Wardſhip of the body, for the Seignory of Poſteriority: and the Priority is gone by a Feoffment made of the Land.

4. If a man maketh a Feoffment in Fee of Land which he holdeth by Priority, and takes back an Eſtate again of the ſame; now he holdeth the ſame Land of the ſame Lord by Poſteriority, whereas he held it before of him by Priority: But if the Lord of whom the Tenant holdeth by Priority, grants his Seignory in Fee to another, and takes back an Eſtate in the Seignory to him in Fee, yet the Tenant holdeth of him by Priority as he held before. See 2 E. 2. Fitz. Garde. Quære, If at this day he make a Feoffment to his Uſe, if the Priority be gone.

5. If a man holdeth of two; of one by Priority, and of the other by Poſteriority, and dyeth his daughter within the age of 14. years, he of whom he holdeth the Land by Poſteriority ſeizeth, the Wardſhip of the body and Land; and the other ſeiſeth the Land holden of him when the heir cometh of 14 years of age: In ſuch caſe, the daughter Heir may enter into the Land; becauſe in that caſe, none of them ſhall have the Lands till 16. years of the Heir; but ſuch only which may tender a Marriage to the Daughter and Heir. 39 H. 6. 4. acc.

7. Where an Enfant ſhall be in Ward, either for Lands which by diſcent come to him; or by purchaſe. And where the King ſhall have the Cuſtody of the Lands of Idiotts and Lunatiques: Where not.

1. IF a man make a Feoffment in Fee upon Condition, That the Feoffor or his heirs pay the ſum of 20 l. or do any act before ſuch a day they ſhall enter; in that caſe, if the Father dyeth before the day of payment, and the daughter to ſave the Inheritance pay the money, or perform the Condition; peradventure the Son may not deveſt the ſame; for if the daughter had not performed the Condition, the Land had been loſt. But if the Condition was to be performed on the part of the Feoffee, or broken in the life of the Auncеſtor, then it is clear, the Land ſhall go to the Son, and not to the daughter; and the Son if he be within age, in ſuch caſe ſhall be in Ward for the Lands; and ſhall have his age. Cook 1. Part, 99. in Shelly's Caſe.

2. Tenant in tail had Iſſue two Sons; the eldeſt had Iſſue a daughter, and dyed, his Wife with Child in the life of the Father: Tenant in tail ſuffered a Common Recovery to the uſe of himſelf for life; and after his deceaſe, to the uſe of J. S. for 21. years; and after to the Heirs males of his body begotten, and to the Heirs males of ſuch Heirs males; and preſently after Judgment, and before Execution, Tenant in tail dyed, and afterwards the Recovery was executed: and afterwards a Son was born, the younger Son entred. Many Points were Reſolved in this Caſe; this amongſt the reſt as the chief, That the Uncle was in, in the Courſe of a diſcent; although he ſhould not have his age, nor be in Ward, if he had dyed within age, becauſe the Original Act; ſcil. the Recovery out of which the Uſes had their eſſence, was had in the life of the Father, to which the Execution might have a retroſpect. Co. l. 1. Part, 110. Shelleys Caſe.

3. The Lord Clifford held the Sheriffwick of Weſtmerland of the King by Grand Serjeanty in Capite; the King gave him a Licence, that he might thereof enfeoffe two Chaplains in Fee, ſo as they rendred the ſame to the Lord Clifford, and the Heirs males of his body, the Remainder over: the Lord did accordingly enfeoffe the Chaplains; and before they had rendred back the Land, the Lord Clifford dyed his Son within age, and in Ward to the King by reaſon of other Lands: and thereupon a Scire facias iſſued out to the Chaplain, If they could ſhew any thing why the ſaid Lands ſhould not be ſeiſed into the Kings hands; who appeared, and pleaded the Kings Licence, and the Feoffment of the Lord Clifford, and ſo they were the Kings Tenants by his Licence. Afterwards Judgment was given in that caſe, That the Lands ſhould be ſeiſed into the Kings hand, and that he ſhould have the profits thereof from the death of the Lord Clifford. 18 Aſs. ult. vouch. in Cook 2. Part, 80. in the Lord Cromwell's Caſe.

4. If a man holdeth an Acre of Land holden by Knight-Service in Capite, and 1000. Acres in Socage, and he is diſſeiſed of the Acre holden in Capite, and then maketh his laſt Will of all his Socage Lands, and dyeth: It was holden in that caſe, That he was a man not holding Lands in Chief within the Statute: for the Disseisee in Judgment of Law, hath the Land to many purposes, as to forfeit; and if he dyeth without Livery, the Land shall escheat: and if he dyeth within age, the Lord shall have the Wardship, and the Lord shall have a Writ of Right of Ward, and the Writ shall say, terram illam tenuit. Cook 3. Part, 35. in Butler and Baker's Case.

Chief

5. A. an Idiot à Nativitate, by force of a Remainder after the death of his Father, was seised with his elder brother for Term of their lives; one did purchase the Estate of the elder b other, and seised the body of the Enfant, and all the profits of his Land: and then the Idiocy à nativitate was found by Inquisition. It was holden in this Case, That the King should not have the profits of the Idiots Lands, but from the time of the Inquisition: but to avoid all alienation, incumbrances, and mean acts, done by the Idiot, the Office shall have relation from the time of the Nativity; and there it is said, That the King hath the Custody of Idiots not in respect of any Seignory, but in the right of his Royal Protection, because his Subject is not able to govern himself, nor the Lands and Tenements which he hath. And the Statute of Prerogativa Regis, Cap. 9. is, That the King shall have Ward of the Lands of natural Fools, taking the profits, &c. to find them necessaries, &c. Cook 8. Part, 170. in Townsons Case.

6. If an Idiot or Non Compos mentis, maketh a Feoffment in Fee in person, and maketh Livery, and dyeth his Heir within age, he shall not be in Ward; or if he dyeth without Heir, the Land shall not escheat: But if the Feoffment be made by Letter of Attorney, who maketh Livery; although that the Feoffor shall not avoid the same, yet after h's death, as in all others in Judgment of Law, the Estate was void: and therefore in such case, if his Heir be within age, he shall be in Ward; or if he dyeth without Heir, his Land shall escheat. Cook 4. Part, 125. in Beverley's Case.

See more concerning this last part of this Division, concerning the Wardship of Idiots and Lunatiques; in Lib. 1.

8. Writ of Right of Ward, of what it lyeth; and where, and against whom: And what shall be said sufficient matter to abate it; What not.

1. THere are divers Writs of Ward: As, 1. A Writ of Right of Ward. 2. A Writ de Ejectione Custodiæ. 3. A Writ of Ravishment of Ward. The Writ of Right, of the Custody of the Land, and of the Heir, lyeth, Where, the Tenant holdeth of his Lord by Knight-Service, and dyeth in his Homage, and a stranger entreth into the Land, and taketh the body of the Heir: in such case, the Lord of whom the Land is holden, shall have that Writ; which is a Precipe, that he render to him the Land and Heir of C. because the said C. holdeth of him by Knight-Service. See Fitzh. Na. Br. 139. And this Writ of Right of the Land, must be brought in the County where the Land lyeth: As also must all Writs of Ward where the Land is demanded; as a Writ of Forfeiture of Marriage, and the Writ de valore Maritagii, 38 H. 6. 14. Cook 7. Part, 3. in Bulwers Case. See 40 E. 3. 6. A Writ of Wardship of the body, was brought in the County where the Body was, and not where the Land was: But see, Cook 7. Part, 2. Bulwers Case, Where it is said, That a Writ of Right of Ward of the body, must be brought in the County where the Land is, for that it is in the right and favour of the Land.

2. If the Lord accepteth a Lease for years from the Tenant of his Tenancy; and then the Tenant dyeth his Heir within age. It hath been a Question, Whether the Seignory being suspended by the Act of the Lord himself, it he shall have the Wardship of the Heir of the Tenant within age: It hath been alwayes holden for the better Opinion, That if the Lease for years doth expire during the Non-age of the Heir, That the Lord shall have the Wardship of him: And so it was holden in Mowt and Hussyes Case, in the Common-Pleas. Mich. 7 Jac. Which, see Hobart's Reports.

3. If a Woman Tenant hath Issue, and afterwards entermarrieth with the Lord and dyeth her Issue within age, the Lord shall have the Wardship of the Issue within age: But if the Tenant enfeoffeth his Son, and the son maketh a Lease for life to the Lord, and afterwards the Father dyeth the son within age; Quære, If the Lord shall have the Wardship of the Heir: But if the Lord doth doth ſurrender, then he ſhall have the Wardſhip of the Heir, and of his Land. If the Tenant doth enfeoffe his Son during his Non-age, who doth Homage to the Lord, and afterwards the Tenant dyeth his Heir within age: The Lord ſhall not have the Wardſhip of him, becauſe he hath accepted him for his Tenant in the life of his Father, 33 H. 6. 16. by Priſoit: yet the Lord may take Homage of the Heir before he have the Wardſhip of him; but that is to be intended after the death of the Anceſtor, and not in the life of the Anceſtor. See 31 E. 1. Fitz. tit. Gard. 155. 14 Aſs. Br. Aſſiſe, 192. Plow. Com. 133. and 36 E. 3. Fitz. Gard. 11.

4. Lord and Tenant by Knights-Service; the Tenant takes the Siſter of the Lord to Wife; the Tenant being within age hath Iſſue; the Lord dyeth without Iſſue, ſo as the Seignorie diſcendeth to the Heir of the Tenant as Son of the Siſter of the Lord, the Tenant being within age. Quære, If he ſhall be in Ward of his Son? It was conceived, That he ſhould be; in the Argument of Moor and Huſſyes Caſe, 7 Jac. in C. B.

5. In 22 E. 3. 10. A Writ of Right of Ward of Land and Rent was brought, and the Writ was excepted unto, becauſe it was brought of Rent, which did not lye in Tenure: but the Exception was diſallowed by the Court, for that a Writ of Right of Ward doth lye as well of Rent, and Services; as of the Land, and of the body of the heir: and there the Writ was general, Præcipe quod reddat A. Cuſtodiam: Terræ et hæredis, notwithſtanding that the Demandant Counted of Rent. See 21 H. 7. 39. acc. And ſee Fitzh. Na. Br. 140. Where, the Præcipe was, Quod reddat Cuſtoſtiam 20 ſolidorum Redditus, et Cuſtodiam hæredis de C. becauſe C. held the Tenements out of which the Rent was iſſuing.

6. If a man at this day doth make a Feoffment in Fee to his uſe, and the Lord accepteth the Services of his Feoffees; yet if the Feoffor who hath the uſe, dyeth, his Heir within age, the Lord ſhall have the Wardſhip of his Heir, though he had but an Uſe, by the Statute of 4 H. 7. But Ceſtuy que uſe of a Seignory ſhall not have the Wardſhip of the Heir, becauſe the Feoffees before the Statute of 27 H. 8. were the Lords. Cook 1. Part, in Chudleigh's Caſe, acc. See ibid. Shelleys Caſe, acc.

7. If the Tenant of the King gives Lands in tail without Licence of the King where he holdeth Land in Capite, and the King accepteth the Ancient Tenant for his Tenant, and accepteth the Services of him, and afterwards the Tenant in tail dyeth his Iſſue within age, there by the Statute of 34 H. 8. the King ſhall have the Wardſhip: and this acceptance of the Services ſhall not conclude the King. See 35 H. 8. Dyer, 54. See 27 H. 8. 26. by Fitzherbert, contr. And ſee 4 H. 6. 19.

8. The Lady Bardolph by Deed granted a Ward to a Woman, who took to Husband J. S: againſt whom the Queen brought a Writ of Right of Ward: the Husband and Wife vouched the Lady Bardolph; and afterwards the wife dyed; ſo as the Wardſhip being a Chattel real, did ſurvive to the Husband: The Vouchee appeared, and demanded what he had to Warranty: The Huſband ſhewed, That the Lady had granted to his wife the Ward before Marriage. The Vouchee demanded Judgment of the Writ, for two cauſes: 1. Becauſe the word [Warrant] was not in the Deed. 2. Becauſe the Husband was not Aſſignee to the wife nor Privy. But it was Anſwered, That theſe were no cauſes to abate the Writ; Firſt, Becauſe the word, Grant, in the Caſe of Grant of a Ward being a Chattel real, did import a Warranty. And as to the ſecond, It was adjudged, That he ſhould vouch; for that this Warrant implyed in this word Grant, is ſo annexed to the Land, that the Husband who cometh to it by act in Law, ſhall take advantage of it: and ſo the Writ did not abate. 30 E. 3. 14. Simkin Simeons Caſe, vouch. in the end of Spencer's Caſe, Cook 5. Part, 18.

9. A Writ of Right of Ward, is an Action real, founded upon a title in the Writ; and therefore one ſhall not have one Writ of Ward of Land founded upon ſeveral Tenures; but in ſuch caſe there ought to be ſeverall Writs, otherwiſe the Writ ſhall abate, as it is holden in 6 E. 3. 48. But a Writ of Ward of Land was founded upon ſeveral Tenures, in 46. E. 3. Br. 619. But there it is holden, That if he had demanded the body, the Writ ſhould have abated. Cook 8. Part, 86. in Buckners Caſe, acc.

10. Ejectment of Gard, or Ejectione Cuſtodiæ, lyeth, where a man is ejected or put out of poſſeſſion of the Land of his Ward, and of the Heir together: If it be brought of the Land onely, the certainty of the Land muſt appear; but if it be of the Body and Land together, then the Writ is general; viz. de terris et hæredis, 11 H. 4. 15. 14 E. 3. tit. Brt. Fitz. is, that it lyeth of the body and the Land. But ſee, 22 Eliz. Dyer. 399. Ejectione Cuſtodiæ lyeth of the Land onely. See Cook 11. Part, 46. in Godfreys Caſe, acc.

11. In this Writ, If the Defendant claimeth Freehold, the Writ ſhall abate, 29 E. 3. 56. by Wilby.

12. If one Ejects another, and after aliens; yet this Writ de Ejectione Cuſtodiæ will lye againſt him who Ejected him firſt; and yet the party ſhall recover the Land in this Writ, as is ſaid by Hawkford, in 12 H. 4. 10. But if one Eject the Ejector, he who was firſt Ejected, ſhall not have a Writ of Ejectione Cuſtodie againſt the ſecond Ejector, no more then one ſhall have Treſpaſſe againſt the ſecond Treſpaſſer, as it is holden, 29 Aſſ. 9.

13. If the Husband be ſeiſed of a Ward in the Right of his Wife, and they be ejected of the Land, or of the Ward, the Husband alone may have and maintain the Writ of Ejectione Cuſtodie, although it be the Right of the wife, for the wrong done to the Husband: By the whole Court, in 22 R. 2. Fitz. tit. Breife 937.

14. If a Writ of Right of Ward, or an Ejectment of Ward be brought of Land, it muſt not be brought of a Cloſe by a certain name; but it ought to be brought of the certainty of the Acres, containing the Quality of the Land, as Meadow, Paſture, Wood, &c. and the Order of precedency muſt be obſerved in the Writ. Cook 11. Part, 55. Edward Savill's Caſe.

15. Raviſhment of Ward, is a Writ which lyeth as well for Guardian in Socage, as for Guardian in Knights-Service; and it is properly when one hath the Wardſhip of the body of the Heir within age, becauſe his Anceſtor held of him by Knight-Service, and a ſtranger taketh the Ward out of his poſſeſſion, then this Writ of Raviſhment of Ward lyeth.

16. In a Raviſhment of Ward, the Plaintiff declared, That one A, Anceſtor of the Enfant, whoſe Heir he is, was ſeiſed of certain Lands in Fee, and held the ſame of the Biſhop of Wincheſter in Socage, and dyed, his Heir within the age of 14. years, and that the Cuſtody of the Enfant did belong unto him as Prochin Amy; by force of which he was poſſeſſed, &c. The Defendant ſaid, That the Land was holden of him by Knights-Service abſq; hoc, that it was holden of the Biſhop prout. It was moved, that the truth was, That all the Land was holden in Socage, and no part of it by Knights-Service, but part of it is holden of another in Socage. It was the Opinion of the Court, That that did not reach to the Iſſue; for if all be holden in Socage, it is not material, if part of it be holden of another. Paſch. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Samford and Ward's Caſe, Leon. 111.

17. An Executor ſhall have a Writ of Raviſhment of Ward, for the taking of a Ward in the time of the Teſtator, 7 H. 4. 2, & 3. See Fitzh. Na. Br. 142. acc.

18. See 31 E. 3. Fitz. tit. Breife, 319. The Mother who had not any Land, brought a Writ of Raviſhment of Ward of J. her eldeſt Son and Heir, againſt the Grandfather of J, who had Land which might diſcend to J. her ſon. And ſee 30 E. 3. Garr. 33. Treſpaſſe was brought Quare Conſanguineum et heredem of the Plaintiff cujus maritagium ad ipſum pertinet tali loco rapuit et abduxit. See Cook 3. Part, 37. b.

19. A Writ of Raviſhment of Ward was brought upon the Statute of Weſt. 2. Cap. 35. againſt Husband and Wife, and others, the Jury found, That the Wife was guilty of the Raviſhment, but not the Husband, and aſſeſſed Coſts and Damages; and found alſo, That the Heir maritus exiſtet, and that he was of the age of 16. years at the time of the Marriage, and found the value of the Marriage 800 l: In this Caſe, it was Reſolved, 1. That by the Common Law, for Raviſhment of the Ward, an Action of Treſpaſſe did lye againſt the parties; in which Action, the Plaintiff was to recover his Coſts and Damages: and it lay alſo as well againſt a Feme Covert, as againſt the Husband alone: But no Writ of Raviſhment lay at the Common-Law, before the Statute of Weſt. 2. 2. It was holden in this Caſe, by Walmeſley and Cook, Chief Juſtice, That a Feme Covert was not within the Stat. of Weſt. 2. becauſe ſhe is diſabled to ſatisfie, and the Lands and Goods of the Husband, are not lyable by the Statute to anſwer for a Raviſhment done by the Wife, and the Plaintiff in the Action might have an Action of Treſpaſſe at the Common-Law, againſt thoſe that Raviſhed him; Or a Writ de valore Maritagii againſt the Heir it ſelf. 3. It was holden, That the Verdict in this Caſe found, was inſufficient for the incertainty; becauſe it doth not declare, who procured him to be married, ſcil. either the Raviſher, or a Stranger; nor when he was married, if before the Raviſhment, or after. 4. Reſolved, That in Raviſhment of Ward brought upon this Statute of Weſt. 2. a man ſhould recover Damages. Cook 9. Part, 72, 73. Dr. Huſſey's Caſe. See Hob. 83. to 100, the ſame Caſe.

20. Note. It was holden by the Court, That if the Son be of full age, and he is Raviſhed, the Father ſhall not recover damages, becauſe the ſon being of full age, might marry himſelf. And it was holden in that Caſe, That in a Writ of Raviſhment of Ward, the Jury are to enquire of the value of the Marriage, according to the Quantity of the Land as well Socage, as of the Knight-Service Land, although he doth not hold the 40th part of the Land by Knight-Service. Paſch. 15 Car. in C. B. in Sir Francis Lee's Caſe, adjudged. See 15 Eliz. in C. B, adjudged accordingly.

21. If the Lord hath the Cuſtody of the Heir within age, and he tendreth him a Convenient Marriage, and he refuſeth it, and intrudeth upon the poſſeſſion of the Lord, then the Lord ſhall recover againſt him the value of the marriage. See 40 E. 3. 6. 31 Aſſ. Br. Aſſiſe, 321.

22. For the Heir female, the Lord ſhall not have the forfeiture of the Marriage, nor the Guardian: for at the Common Law, there was not any forfeiture of marriage, but the ſingle value only; and the full age of ſuch an Heir female, was 14. years: ſo as if ſhe was of ſuch years at the time of the death of her Anceſtor, ſhe was to be out of Ward. But forfeiture of marriage was given by the Statute of Merton; which act did not extend to the Heir female; for that extended where the Heir was of 14. years of age vel ultra: and an Heir female at ſuch age was out of Ward: Alſo the Statute is, ultra ætatem 21. annorum, and that is the full age of an Heir male, as to Wardſhip, and not of an Heir female: but before 14. years, the Lord ſhould recover the ſingle value, for that de mero jure pertinet. Co. 6. Part, Sir Drue Druries Caſe.

23. Note. That the Guardian in Knight-Service, ſhall have the ſingle value without a tender. And at the Common-Law, it was in the Election of the Lord, to have the marriage of the Heir, or to permit the Heir to marry himſelf, and to have recompence for it; ſcil. the value of the Marriage: And at the Common-Law not only a Writ de valore Maritagii did lye; but alſo the Writ Quare ſi intraſt maritagio non ſatisfacto. And at the Common-Law, if the Heir within age had been wiſhed, and married, the Guardian ſhould have recovered in Treſpaſſe the value of the Marriage: which is a proof that the value of the marriage did belong unto the Lord without tender. Cook 5. Part, 116. Palmer's Caſe.

24. In a Writ de valore Maritagii, Iſſue was joyned upon the Tenure; and it was found for the Plaintiff, and the Jury aſſeſſed Damages to 40 s; and Coſts 20 s; but did not find the value of the marriage: And for that cauſe, It was Reſolved, 1. That the Verdict was inſufficient, and a new Venire facias awarded. 2. It was Reſolved, That although the Iſſue was joyned upon the Tenure, yet the Jury ought to enquire of the Damages and of the Coſts: and if the Jury do aſſeſſe an exceſſive value, or exceſſive damages, an Attaint lyeth. 3. It was Reſolved, That the omiſſion of the value in the Verdict, ſhould not be ſupplyed by a Writ of Enquiry of Damages; for that ſhould prevent the Plaintiff of his Remedy by Attaint. But it was Reſolved in that Caſe, That when the Court ex Officio ought to enquire of any thing upon which no Attaint lyeth, there the omiſſion of it may be ſupplyed by a Writ of Enquiry. As in a Quare Impedit, to enquire of the 4. Points. Cook 10. Part, 119. Cheneys Caſe.

25. A man gave Lands in tail to hold by Knight-Service, the Donee dyed his heir within age, the Donor tendred the Heir a marriage, and he refuſed it, and married himſelf without the will of the Donor within age, and after dyed. In that Caſe the Donor held the Land for the double value forfeited according to the Statute; and the next Heir in tail had no remedy againſt him. 1 H. 4. 6. pl. 10. acc.

26. Two Coparceners were within age, and in Ward, the Lord purchaſed the part of her who was of full age; and afterwards he tendred a marriage to her who was within age; who refuſed it: and afterwards the Lord and the Enfant within age, by their friends made partition of the Lands; and afterwards the Enfant did diſagree: yet it was the clear Opinion of the Court, That the Lord ſhould not loſe the value of the marriage, becauſe the ſame was due unto him without tender. 31 Aſs. 26. acc.

27. If the King marries the Daughter which he hath within age, infra annos nubiles; and before the age of Conſent, the Husband dyeth; the King ſhall have the marriage again of the Heir, becauſe that the firſt marriage was not compleat. Cook 9. Garranty, or Warranty; and Warrantia Charta.

1. What it is: By what words; and whom they ſhall bind. The ſeveral ſorts of Warranty; viz. Lineal, Collateral, and which Commence by Diſſeiſin: and which ſhall barr, and what not, without Aſſets diſcended; and where not. And of Warranties in Fact, and in Law.

1. A Warranty, is a real Covenant, which ſhall bind a man and his Heirs, to make a Recompence in value; if they have Aſſetts by diſcent, to make recompence withall: and ſuch a Reall Covenant executory, may extend to an Eſtate in futuro, having an Eſtate upon which it may operate in the beginning, as well as to an Eſtate in præſenti: As if a man makes a Leaſe for life, upon Condition to have Fee, and Warrants the Land in forma prædict. The Leſſee performs the Condi-ion, and hath Fee, the Warranty ſhall extend and encreaſe according to the Eſtate. But if a man granteth a Seignory for years, upon Condition to have Fee, with Warranty in forma prædict. there although the Condition be performed, the Warranty ſhall not extend to the Eſtate & Fee; becauſe the Eſtate for years was not capable of the Warranty. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 378. And Note, That a Warranty ſhall not extend to any Eſtate for years, Eſtate by Elegit, Statute-Staple, or any other Chattel, but only to Freeholds and Inheritances: and therefore in all Actions which a Leſſee for years may have, a Warranty cannot be pleaded in barr; but in all Actions where the Freehold comes in Queſtion, there a Warranty may be pleaded in barr. See 21 E 4. 18. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 389. and Cook 10. Part, 97. in Symor's Caſe, &c.

2. There is a difference between a Covenant to warrant Land, and a Covenant to ſave harmleſſe: For if a man Covenant only to warrant the Land, to a Leſſee for years, there he ſhall not have an Action of Covenant, if he be wrongfully cuſted: but if the Caſe be to ſave harmleſs, which is of greater force then to warrant; for to warrant Land, is only upon the Title; but to ſave harmleſſe, extends farther: for that comes as well to wrongs by title, or without title. And therefore where a man made a Leaſe for years by Indenture of a Parſonage: and Covenanted to ſave the Leſſee harmleſſe againſt J. S: And in an Action of Covenant brought againſt the Leſſor; Exception was taken to it, becauſe it was not alledged, That J. S. entred by Title; ſo the Covenant was not broken. It was in that caſe adjudged, That the ſame ought not to be ſhewed by the Plaintiff in the Action: For be the Entry of J. S. by title, or without title; the Covenant being to ſave harmleſs, was broken by his entry, and ſo the Action maintainable. Mich. 32 Eliz. in B. R. Foſter and Wilſon's Caſe. Owen, 100.

3. If a man make a Feoffment in Fee by the word Dedi, and by an expreſſe Warranty in the Deed: It is in the Election of the Feoffee, to uſe the one or the other: And by Intendment of the Statute of Bigamis, the Word Dedi, importeth a Warranty; although no clauſe of warranty be expreſſed in the Deed: the words of which Statute are, viz. In Chartis ubi continetur. Dedi et Conceſſi, &c. ſine clauſula Warrantiæ, ipſe feofator in vita ſua, &c. ſine Warrantia, nequamvis nullam Continet Clauſulam Warrantiæ tenetur Warrantizare. Ex quo Nota, that the word Dedi, is an expreſſe Warranty during the life of the Feoffor. See Cook 4. Part, 81. Noyes Caſe.

4. If A. enfeoffeth B. of Land with Warranty; and afterwards B. doth enfeaſe C. of the ſame Lands by the word Dedi; That in that caſe it was adjudged, That B. during his life, ſhall have all the Deeds which do comprehend the Warranty; becauſe they are neceſſary for the defence of his Title during his life: and the word Dedi, implyes a Warranty during the life of the Feoffee and Feoffor. See Cook 1. Part, 2. in the Lord Buckhurſt Caſe.

5. If a man maketh a Feoffment by the word Dedi, which implyeth a Warranty; the Aſſignee of the Feoffee ſhall not vouch by reaſon of that Dedi: and the reaſon is, becauſe it is a Warranty for the Feoffee only for life. But if one maketh a Warranty to one, his Heirs and Aſſignes; the Aſſignee of the Aſſignee ſhall vouch, and ſo ſhall every Aſſignee; and every one of them ſhall have Warrantia Chartæ: for the Right which was in the Auncеſtor, ſhall diſcend to the Heir in ſuch caſe; without the expreſſe words of Heirs and Aſſigns, But the words, Conceſſi or Demiſi, in caſe of Freehold and Inheritance, doth not impart a Warranty. Cook 5. Part, 17. & 18. Spencer's Caſe.

6. If Leſſee for years, Tenant by Elegit or Diſſeſor, make a Feoffment in Fee with warranty: if the Feoffee be impleaded, he ſhall vouch the Feoffor, and after him his heir alſo; becauſe it is a Covenant reall, and ſhall bind him and his Heirs to recompence in value, if they have Aſſets by diſcent: For a Feoffment de facto made by him who hath an Intereſt or poſſeſſion, is a good barr between the parties againſt all but him who hath right. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 367. pl. Litt. placito, 698. But if the Tenant makes a Leaſe for years to the Lord; Or if the Lord be Tenant by Statute Merchant Staple, or by Elegit of the Tenancy, and he maketh a Feoffment in Fee thereof with warrant; by ſuch Feoffment he extinguiſheth his Seignory; although having reſpect to the Leſſor, it is a Diſſeiſin.

7. If a man enfeoffeth A. and B. to have and to hold to them and their Aſſigns with Warranty, prædict. A. et B. et eorum hæredibus et aſſignatis If A. dyeth, and B. ſurviveth and dyeth, and the Heir of B. enfeoffeth C, he ſhall vouch as Aſſignee, and yet he is aſſignee but of the Heir of one of them; and the Aſſigns of Heirs are comprehended within the word Aſſigns, in reſpect of the privity which are comprehended within the words (His Aſſigns). If a man at this Caſe be enfeoffed to him, his Heirs and Aſſignes, and he make a guift in tail, the Remainder in Fee, and the Donee makes a Feoffment in Fee; In this caſe, the Feoffee ſhall not vouch as Aſſignee, becauſe no man ſhall vouch as Aſſignee, but he that cometh in of Privity of Eſtate, but he muſt vouch his Feoffor, and that Feoffor ſhall vouch as Aſſignee. If a man doth warrant Lands to another, without this word

[Heirs,]

[Heirs,] his Heirs shall not vouch. For regularly, if a man warraant Land to one, and his Heirs, without naming Assigns, his Assignee shall not vouch: But if the Father be enfeoffed to him and his Heirs, and the Father enfeoffeth his eldest Son, and dyeth Heir, in respect of the Privity, the Law giveth the son the advantage of the Warranty made to his Father; and the rather, because by act in Law, the warranty betwixt the Father and Son, is extinct. See for these differences, Cook 1. Part, Institutes, 384, 385.

8. In Debt upon an Obligation: the Condition was, That whereas W. had sold to G. certain Lands, That the said W. should warrant the said G. against the Lord, King, and all others: and that he should enjoy the said Lands peaceably to him and his Heirs. The Defendant pleaded in barr, That the Land was Copyhold, parcel of the Manor of M; and the Custome of the Mannor was, That if the Rent were behind, Waste done, &c. that the Lord might enter for the forfeiture; and pleaded, That the said G. had and peaceably enjoyed the Lands, and dyed seised thereof, and that the same discended to his son; and that his son of his own wrong entred contrary to the Custome; and also that the Rent was behind; and for that, the Lord entred for the Forfeiture: upon which, the Plaintiff did demur in Law. In this Case, it was holden, That if a man make a Feoffment in Fee, with a Warranty to the Feoffee only, without speaking of his Heirs, that the Warranty shall endure but for life, because it shall be taken strictly; and yet if the Feoffee recover in value, he shall recover a Feesimple, because he loseth a Fee. 2. That in the principal Case, the Obligor was not bound to warrant the Heir of G, because it did not stretch to his Heirs. 3. They all agreed, That when a man binds him and his Heirs to Warranty, they are not bound to warrant new titles of Actions accrued by the Feoffee or any after the Warranty made, but only such Titles as were in esse at the time of the Warranty made: and therefore because that the Title to enter of the Lord by the Custome for not payment of the Rent did begin after the Warranty made; the Defendant was not bound to warranty against that. Mich. 30 H. 8. Dyer, 42, 43. Greatiffs Case.

9. A Lineal Warranty is, where a man seised in Fee, makes a Feoffment by his Deed, to another, and binds him and his Heirs to warranty, and the Warranty discendeth to his Issue, the same is a Lineal Warranty; and the cause wherefore it is called Lineal, is not because the Warranty discends from the Father to the Son; but the cause is, that if no such Warranty had been made by the Father, then the right of the Tenements should discend to the Heir, and the Heir should enjoy the discent from his Father. Litt. 158. Sect. 703.

10. If a man hath Issue two sons, and is disseised, and the eldest son releaseth to the Disseisor by his Deed with Warranty, and dyes without Issue, and after the Father dyes, this is a Lineal Warranty to the younger son, because the Land by possibility might have discended from the eldest son to the younger: but in that case, If the younger son release to the Disseisor with Warranty, and dyeth without Issue, that is a Collateral Warranty to the eldest son, and also the Issue of his body, because the eldest son could by no possibility convey the Title of the Land to himself by means of the younger: But in the same case, If the eldest son dye without Issue of his body, then the Warranty is Lineal to the Issues of the body of the younger; and so the Warranty which was Collateral to some persons, may become Lineal to others. And if Tenant in tail hath Issue 3. sons, and discontinueth the tail in Fee, and the second Sons releaseth by his Deed to the Discontinuee with Warranty; and after Tenant in tail dye, and the second Son dye without Issue, this is Collateral warranty to the eldest son: but in case the eldest son dye without Issue, it becomes a Lineal Warranty to the youngest. See Cook 1. Part, Institutes, 371. acc.

11. A Lineal Warranty with Assetts, is a good barr in a Formedon in the Discender; but if the Issue in tail alieneth the Assetts, his Issue shall have the Land again, because the Warranty discended to him without the Assetts: But if the Issue in tail to whom the Warranty and Assetts discended, had brought a Formedon, and had been barred by Judgment by reason of the Warranty and Assets; in that case, although that he alened the Assetts, yet the Estate tail should be barred for ever. Cook 1. Part, Institutes, 393. b.

12. Note. If a man be barred in a Formedon upon Warranty and Assetts pleaded, It is a perpetual barr, although the Assetts are after evicted. 4 Ma. Dyer, 139. in the Comments of Surreys Case.

13. If a Recovery were had against Tenant in tail, with Voucher and Recovery in value, the same did bind the Estate tail, notwithstanding the Statute of 13 E. 1. of Donis Conditionalibus; And see, 13 E. 3. Bre. 324. by Recovery in value by Tenant in tail, the Estate tail is barred, and he shall have a Formedon of the Land so recovered in value: And if Tenant in tail alieneth with Warranty, and leaveth Assetts to discend, it is a Barr to the Issue by reason of the Warranty and Assetts discended: but neither the Warranty without Assetts, nor the Warranty and Assetts without Judgment in the Formedon, shall barr the Issue in tail: For if the Issue without Judgment given, alieneth the Assets, his Issue shall recover the Land in tail, but after Judgment given, that he shall be barred in a Formedon, the Issue in tail shall be barred. See Cook 10. Part, 38. in Mary Portington's Case.

14. King E. 3. gave a Mannor to Edmund Earl of Cornwall, and to the Heirs of his body, saving the Reversion to him, and dyed, the Earl before the Statute of Donis, 13 E. 1. gave the said Mannor in Fee to another, with Warranty, in Exchange for another Mannor, and dyed after the Statute without Issue, the Warranty and Assets discended upon E. 1. as Cousin and Heir to the Earl, viz. Son and Heir of Hen. 3. Son of Richard Earl of Cornwall, Son of the said Edmond. It was adjudged in that Case, That the King by the Warranty and Assets, was barred of his possibility of reverter, although that the King claimed the said Mannor in the right of his Crown, and in his Politick capacity; but of which Case, I do observe, That the King shall not be barred by force of a lineal Warranty, without Assets discended, as a common person shall be. See 45 Ass. p. 6.

15. A Devise was made to A. for life, and afterwards to his next Heir Male, he had Issue, and afterwards made a Feoffment with Warranty: It was the better Opinion in that Case, That the Warranty should bind the Remainder, although the Warranty was made before the Remainder vested, because the Remainder had its beginning; by the Devise which was before the Warranty. Coo. 2. Part, 67. Archers Case.

16. In many Cases, a man shallbe bound by a Warranty, and his right shall be bound, so as by no means he shall defeat it after. As if Lessee for life be Disseised, to whom a collateral Auncestor of the Lessor releaseth with Warranty, and dyeth, he shall be barred. Cook 1. Part, 67. 45 E. 3. Ass. p. 35.

17. If Tenant in tail suffereth a common Recovery, and a collateral Auncestor of the Tenant in tail, releaseth to the Reversioner with Warranty, and afterwards the Reversioner maketh a Feoffment to uses, which are executed by the Statute of 27 H. 8. and afterwards the collateral Auncestor dyeth. In this Case, although that the Estate in the Land be transferred in the Post before the Discent of the Warranty, yet this Warranty shall bind; and the Ter-tenants may take advantage of it by way of Rebutter. Cook 3. Part, 62. in Lincoln-Colledges Case.

18. If the Husband doth discontinue the right of his Wife, and an Auncestor collateral of the Wife doth release with Warranty, and dyeth, the Wife shall be barred in a Cui in vita by this Warranty, notwithstanding the Coverture, because she is put to her Action by the Discontinuance, for Coverture cannot avoid a Warranty, but where the entry of the Wife is lawful, which is not upon a Discontinuance. 33 H. 8. Br. Tit. Warrant, 84.

19. Tenant in Dower enfeoffeth a Villain with Warranty, the Lord of the Villain enters into the Land before the Discent of the Warranty, and then the Wife dyeth, this Warranty shall not bind the right of the Heir, 22. Ass. p. 37. So a collateral Warranty is made to a Bastard and his Heirs, and living the Auncestor, the Bastard dyeth without issue, the Lord by Escheat enters, and afterwards the Auncestor dyeth, the Warranty shall not bind. 23 Ass. 34.

20. A. hath Issue B. and C. Enfants within age: A Lease is made to A. for life, the Remainder to B. in tail, the Remainder to C. in tail: A. Tenant for life is Disseised, and afterwards releaseth to the Disseisor with Warranty, and dyeth, and the same Warranty discendeth upon B. being within age. Afterwards B. dyeth within age, C. being his brother and Heir within age, upon whom the Warranty doth discend, and afterwards C. commeth of age, and three years after his full age entreth. In this Case, it was adjudged, That his entry was lawful: For it was Resolved, That if the entry of an Enfant be lawful, and he cannot enter in the life time of his Auncestor, and doth not enter, the Warranty shall not bind in such Case, à fortiori when the Warranty discendeth upon him, his entry being lawful, and no Lacheſs to be attributed to him; but if his entry were not lawful, so as he was put to his Action, there the Warranty shall bind him. And if a Warranty do discend upon an Enfant, he may enter when he will at his full age, and need not hastily enter, or within convenient time after his full age, but let him take heed that he suffer not a Discent after his full age before his entry, for there the Warranty shall bind him. Cook 1. Part, 140. Chudleighs Case.

21. The Father, Tenant for life, the Remainder to his Son and Heir apparent in tail, the Father by Covin makes a Lease for years to A. who makes a Feoffment to B. in Fee, to whom the Father doth release with Warranty, and dyeth, and the Warranty discendeth upon the Son. It was adjudged, That in this Case the Son should not be bound by the Warranty: For the Feoffment by the Lessee for years, was a Disseisin, and the Father was particeps Criminis; and it was adjudged, That although the Disseisin was made to the Father himself, who made the Release; yet because the Father did agree by consent to the Disseisin, the same shall not hinder, but that it shall be a Warranty commencing by Disseisin. And in this Case, it was said, That a Release made by Tenant for life to a

Disseisor,

Diſſeiſor, or other without Covin, ſhould bar him, for an intent without Covin and Diſſeiſin, ſhall not avoid a Warranty. And it was ſaid, That if the Father in the principal Caſe had made a Feoffment with Warranty, the ſame ſhould bind the Heir, becauſe there no Covin appeared: and a Warranty which begins by wrong, ſhall not be avoid, but otherwiſe of a Warranty which commenceth by Diſſeiſin. Cook 5. Part, 81. Fitzherberts Caſe.

22. Tenant in tail, the Remainder in tail, the Reverſion to the right Heirs of Tenant in Tail; Tenant in tail by Deed bargained and ſold the Land to J. S. and his Heirs, and afterwards levyed a Fine with Proclamations to the Bargainee with Warranty; the Conuſee made a Feoffment in Fee, he in the Remainder had Iſſue, and dyed, Tenant in tail dyed without Iſſue. It was in this Caſe Reſolved amongſt other points, That the Warranty did not bar the Remainder, becauſe the Warranty was annexed to an eſtate tail, and the eſtate in the Remainder was not deveſted by the Fine, and therefore when the Eſtate to which the Warranty is annexed is determined, the Warranty was alſo determined. But if a man make a gift in tail, and warrant the Land to him, his Heirs and Aſſigns; and afterwards Tenant in tail makes a Feoffment, and dyes, the Feoffee ſhall rebut the Donor by force of that Warranty, which is Law, if it be meant of an eſtate tail, made before the Statute of Donis, for then the Warranty was annexed to an eſtate in Feeſimple, and the Donor had but a poſſibility of Reverter, which might be barred by a collateral Warranty. And in this Caſe it was holden, That if a collateral Anceſtor releaſe to my Tenant for life, and dyeth, the ſame ſhall not bind me becauſe the Reverſion did continue in me, but if my Tenant for life had Diſſeiſed me, and my Anceſtor collateral had releaſed to the Diſſeiſor with Warranty, that Warranty had bound me, becauſe aſwell the eſtate of my Tenant for life, as my Reverſion, was deveſted at the time of the Warranty. Cook 10. Part, 57, 58. Seymors Caſe.

23. Tenant for life of Lands, leaſed the ſame for years by Indenture, with theſe words, I give, grant, bargain, and ſell my Intereſt in ſuch Lands for 20 years, to have and hold in ſuch manner as I did hold the ſame, and no otherwiſe. Tenant for life dyed within the Term, he in the Reverſion entred, and the Leſſee brought Covenant. It was adjudged, That the Action would not lye, for here is not any Warranty, for the Plaintiff is not Leſſee, but Aſſignee, to whom this Warranty in Law cannot extend; but admit the Warranty did extend to the Plaintiff, yet it is determinable with the Eſtate of Tenant for life, and ſo the Covenant ended with the Eſtate. Trin. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Cheiny and Langleys Caſe. Leon. 179.

24. A Warranty which commenceth by Diſſeiſin, is properly when the Diſſeiſin is done immediately to the Heir that is to be bound by it; Yet if the Father be Tenant for life, the Remainder to the Son in Fee, the Father by Covin and conſent maketh a Leaſe for years, to the end the Leſſee ſhall make a Feoffment in Fee, to whom the Father ſhall releaſe with Warranty, who releaſeth accordingly, the ſame is a Warranty commencing by Diſſeiſin. See before Fitzherberts Caſe. And ſo it is if one brother makes a gift in tail to another, and the Uncle Diſſeiſeth the Donee, and enfeoffeth another with Warranty; the Uncle dyeth, and the Warranty deſcendeth upon the Donor, and then the Donee dyeth without Iſſue: Here although the Diſſeiſin was done to the Donee, and not to the Donor, yet this Warranty ſhall bind the Donor. So if the Father and Son, and a third perſon be Joynttenants in Fee, and the Father makes a Feoffment of the whole with Warranty, and dyeth, the Son dyeth, the third perſon ſhall not only avoid the Feoffment for his own part, but alſo for the part of the Son, and he ſhall take advantage thereof. Co. 1. Part, Inſtitutes 366.

25. If the Son purchaſeth Lands, and lets the ſame to his Father for years, the Father enfeoffs another in Fee, and binds him and his Heirs to Warranty, the Father dyes, by which the Warranty deſcends to the Son, this ſhall not bar the Son from his entry or Recovery by Aſſiſe: So if the Father, or other Anceſtor be Tenant by Statute Merchant, or Statute-Staple, and maketh a Feoffment with Warranty as aforeſaid, ſuch Warranty ſhall not bar, becauſe it begins by Diſſeiſin. Co. 4. Part, 37. in Terringhams Caſe.

2. Where, and by what, and whoſe Act, a Warranty ſhall be loſt and extinct in Law, and where it ſhall determine with the eſtate; Where not.

1. BEfore the Statute of 11 H. 7. cap. 20. If a Woman had bin Tenant for life, the Remainder or Reverſion to the next Heir; and the Woman had alliened in Fee with Warranty, and dyed, this Warranty being collateral, had barred the Heir in Remainder, or Reverſion. But in that Caſe, If the Heir that had the Reverſion or Remainder, mainder, had by entry in the life avoided the eſtate ſo alliened, the Warranty being annexed to that eſtate, had bin avoided alſo. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 365.

2. If a man at this day makes a gift in tail, and warrants the Land to the Donee, his Heirs, and Aſſigns; and after the Donee makes a Feoffment, and dyes without Iſſue: now the Warranty is expired as to Voucher or Rebutter, for that the eſtate tail, to which the Warranty is knit, is determined; but if ſuch a Feoffment had bin made before the Statute of Donis Conditionalibus, it had bin otherwiſe, for that then the Donee or Feoffee had a Feeſimple. See before Cook 3. Part, 63. in Lincoln Colledg Caſe. And Cook 10. Part, 96. in Seymours Caſe.

3. If Tenant in tail diſcontinue the tail in Fee, and the Diſcontinuee is diſſeiſed, and the brother of the Tenant in tail, by his Deed releaſeth to the Diſſeiſor all his right with Warranty in Fee, and dyeth without Iſſue, and the Tenant in tail hath Iſſue, and dyeth; the Iſſue in tail is barred of his Action by force of the collateral Warranty diſcended upon him; but if afterwards the Diſcontinuee doth enter upon the Diſſeiſor, then may the Heir in tail have his Action of Formedon, becauſe the Warranty is determined. So if the Diſcontinuee make a Feoffment reſerving Rent, and for default of payment, a re-entry, and a collateral Warranty of an Anceſtor is made unto the Feoffee upon Condition, and then the Anceſtor dyes without Iſſue. If the Diſcontinuee by entry for the Condition broken, doth defeat the eſtate of the Feoffee, the Warranty is alſo defeated, and the Iſſue in tail may bring his Formedon, ibid. See Finch. 14. acc.

4. If there be Father and Son, and the Son hath a Rent-Service, Rent-charge, Rent-Seck, or common of Paſture iſſuing out of Land, and the Father releaſeth to the Tenant of the Land with Warranty, and dyeth, it ſhall not bar the Son, for of the Rent, or Common, the Son was actually ſeiſed at the time of the Warranty made, and he that is in poſſeſſion needeth not put in his claim: and in that Caſe: although the Son after the Warranty made, be Diſſeiſed of the Rent or Common, and after the Father dyeth, it ſhall not bar him, becauſe the Warranty at the time of the creation of it, did not extend to any eſtate of Freehold, or Inheritance in eſſe at the time of the creation of the ſame; but if the Son be Diſſeiſed of the Rent or Common, and affirm himſelf to be Diſſeiſed by bringing an Aſſiſe, and afterwards the Father releaſeth with Warranty, and dyes, there the collateral Warranty ſhall bar the Son of his Rent, or Common, becauſe he had but a bare right at the time of the Warranty made. See Cook 10. Part, 97. in Seymur's Caſe.

5. Two Joynt-tenants are with Warranty; Partition is made between them by Judgment in a Writ de partitione faciendâ. In that Caſe, it was adjudged, That the Warranty remains by force of the Statute of 31 H. 8, becauſe they are compellable by the Statute to make partition; but if they had made Partition by Deed, by conſent, after the Statute; in ſuch Caſe, the Warranty had bin gone: And there it is ſaid, If there be two Joynt-tenants with Warranty, and the one Diſſeiſeth the other, and the Diſſeiſee brings an Aſſiſe, and upon his prayer, hath Judgment to recover in ſeverally that in ſuch Caſe, the Warranty is extinct and gon. Cook 6. Part, 13. Merricks Caſe.

6. If a Leaſe be made for life upon Condition, That if he do ſuch a thing, that he ſhall have Fee, and he warrants the Land in forma prædict. now the Warranty extends to the Fee: But if the Leſſor dyeth, and after the Condition is performed, then if the Warranty be available, is the Queſtion, becauſe the Leſſor was not bound to Warranty, otherwiſe then during his life; and then the Warranty which is annexed to the Freehold, is gon. As if a man deviſeth Land with Warranty, the ſame is void, becauſe the Deviſor is not bound to it. Alſo in the principal Caſe, If the Condition had bin performed in the life of the Leſſor, the Warranty ſhould not extend unto it, for it can be annexed to nothing but to that which is in poſſeſſion: And note, there is a difference where a Leaſe is made for life, and where it is made for years: For if a Leaſe be made for years upon Condition, that if he do ſuch a thing, that he ſhall have Fee, and Warrants the Land in forma prædict. the Warranty ſhall not extend to the Fee when the Condition is performed, becauſe that the firſt eſtate was but for years, and of another nature then the Freehold. See Cook 8. Part, in the Lord Staffords Caſe. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 378.

3. Of Warranties expreſſed and implyed; and where, and in what Caſes they ſhall bind, in what not: And of divers Rules touching Warranties; and of Deraigne of Warranties

1. IT is holden to be a Maxime in Law, That the Heir ſhall never be bound to any expreſs Warranty; but where the Anceſtor was bound by the ſame Warranty. And therefore if Tenant in tail alieneth his Land to his brother in Fee, and hath Iſſue, and dyeth; and afterwards his brother deviſeth the ſame Land to another in Fee, and binds him and his Heirs to Warranty, and dyes without Iſſue, this Warranty ſhall not bind the Iſſue in tail, becauſe the Warranty did not diſcend to the Iſſue in tail in regard the Uncle of the Iſſue was not bound to the Warranty in his life time, nor chargeable with it; for that the Deviſe takes not effect till after his death: And if a man bind himſelf to Warranty, and his Heirs are not named, Yet a Warranty in Law may bind the Heir, although the Anceſtor was never bound: As if a man deviſe Lands to another for life, or in tail, reſerving a Rent, the Deviſee for life or in tail ſhall take advantage of this Warranty in Law, although the Anceſtor was not bound, and ſuch a Deviſe ſhall bind his Heirs to Warranty, although they were not named. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 386, upon Litt. Sect. 734.

2. Note, touching Warranty, theſe Rules and Concluſions. 1. That a lineal Warranty ſhall bind the right of a Feeſimple. 2. That a lineal Warranty doth not bind the right of an Eſtate tail, becauſe it is reſtreyned by the Statute of Donis. 3. That a lineal Warranty with Aſſets, ſhall bind the right of an entail, and the ſame is not reſtreyned by the Statute of Donis. 4. That a Collateral Warranty made by a collateral Anceſtor of the Donee, ſhall bind the right of an eſtate tail without Aſſets, becauſe the ſame is not done by the Tenant in tail, as the lineal Warranty is. 5. That the Warranty of the Donee in tail which is collateral to the Donor, or to him in the Remainder, being Heir unto him, ſhall bind without Aſſets, becauſe the ſame is not reſtreyned by the Statute of Donis. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 374. 15 E. 3. Gar. 27. 41 E. 3. Gar. 16. Plow. Com. 554. acc.

3 Note further, That Aſſets to make a lineal Warranty a bar, ought to have theſe qualities. 1. It ought to be Aſſetts of equall value or more at the time of the Diſcent. 2. It ought to be by diſcent, and not by purchaſe. 3. It ought to be Aſſets in Feeſimple, and not in tail. 4. It ought to Diſcend to him as Heir to the ſame Anceſtor who made the Warranty. 5. It ought to be of Lands, Tenements, Rents, Services valuable, or of profits going out of Lands, Tenements, and not out of Inheritances perſonals, as Annuities. 6. It ought to be an Eſtate or Intereſt, and not in uſe, or a right of Action or entry. 7. A Seignory in Frank-almoigne, or by Homage and Fealty, is no Aſſets, but an Advowſon which diſcends, is Aſſets. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 374. acc.

4. It is againſt a Rule in Law, that one ſhould vouch himſelf: Yet if a man be enfeoffed to him and his Heirs, of W. Acre, and he is alſo ſeiſed of Bl. Acre in Borough-Engliſh, and having Iſſue two ſons, enfeoffeth his eldeſt Son of W. Acre. If the eldeſt Son in this Caſe be impleaded, he ſhall vouch himſelf, and his younger brother, being Heir in Borough-Engliſh, otherwiſe the eldeſt Son ſhould be without remedy, becauſe the act in Law, ſcil. the Diſcent hath determined the Warranty between the Father and the eldeſt Son. So if a man enfeoffeth a Woman with Warranty, and they entermarry, and are impleaded, and upon default of the Husband, the Wife is received, the Wife ſhall vouch her Husband, notwithſtanding that the Warranty was put in ſuſpence by the entermarriage, and notwithſtanding it be againſt a Rule in Law that they ſhould vouch one another. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 290.

More Warranty.

1. IN a Formedon, the Caſe was, A Feoffment was made of Land to the uſe of the Feoffer for life, the Remainder in tail; Tenant for life entred, and had Iſſue a Son and two Daughters; and the Father and the Son joyned in a Feoffment with Warranty, and after the Father and Son dyed; and the Daughters brought a Formedon. In this Caſe, it was holden, That the Warranty was a lineal Warranty. Trin. 16 Jac. in C. B. Biſhop and Coſſins Caſe. Brownl. 1. Part, 153.

2. A. exchanged Lands with B. B. afterwards alliened to C. who was evicted by a title paramount. In this Caſe it was adjudged, That a Warranty is implyed in every Exchange, but it runs only in privity, and none ſhall vouch by force thereof, but ſuch only as are parties to the Exchange, or their Heirs, and no Aſſignee: and as an Exchange implies a Warranty, which runs in privity, ſoit implies alſo a Condition, which alſo runs in privity, ſo as none can take advantage of ſuch Condition, but only privies and their Heirs, and therefore in this Caſe, it was Reſolved, That C. in this Caſe ſhould not enter upon the other. Cook 4. Part, 121. Baſtards Caſe.

3. Note, It was Reſolved in Dillon and Frains Caſe; which was Cook 1. Part, Chudleighs Caſe; That a Warranty deſcending upon an Enfant, ſhall not bind him, in caſe that the entry of the Enfant be lawful into the Land to which the Warranty is united; but the Enfant in ſuch Caſe muſt look that he do not ſuffer a diſcent of the Land after his full age, before he hath made his re-entry, for then the Warranty ſhall bind him. Popb. 71. in Dillon and Frains Caſe.

4. A. and B. his Wife, purchaſed Lands joyntly during the Coverture, to themſelves for their lives, the Remainder to C. their eldeſt ſon in tail, the Remainder to D. their ſecond Son in tail, the Remainder to the right Heirs of A. After A. by Deed, with a Letter of Attorney, enfeoffed the ſaid D. and his Wife, and the Heirs of the body of D. the Remainder to the right Heirs of A. with Warranty againſt all perſons, and afterwards levyes a Fine to two ſtrangers of the ſame Land, and their Heirs, with Warranty againſt all perſons, who render it back to D. and the Heirs of the body of D. the Remainder to the right Heirs of A. A. dyes, his Wife B. enters, and dyes; C. the eldeſt Son enters, D. and his Wife enters, and made a Leaſe to the Plaintiff. The Queſtion was, Whether this Warranty made by A. upon the Feoffment, being a collateral Warranty, and diſcending upon C. be totally avoided by the entry of B. and whether the remitter of B. the Wife, be a remitter to C. and the Warranty diſcharged. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was not, for the Warranty being diſcended and attached before the entry of B. the Wife, although ſhe be free and not bound by the Warranty; yet he in the Remainder being bound, the ſame Eſtops the remitter: Wherefore it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 4 Car. in B. R. Kendall and Foxes Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 193.

5. A man having Iſſue two Sons, and A. and B. two Daughters, gave his Land to his eldeſt Son in tail, the Remainder to his youngeſt in tail, the Remainder to A. his eldeſt Daughter, and her Heirs. Tenant in tail in poſſeſſion levyed a Fine with Warranty, he in the Remainder in tail dyed without Iſſue; Tenant in tail in poſſeſſion, dyed without Iſſue, the Warranty diſcended upon both Daughters, as Siſters and Heirs to Tenant in tail; And if this Warranty was a bar to the eldeſt Daughter A. for the whole, or but for the moyety, was the Queſtion. It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That the Heir of A. ſhould be barred for the whole, for the Warranty is entire, and extends to the whole Land, and it is a bar to every perſon upon whom it deſcends of the whole right which ſhe hath in the ſaid Land: And it was holden, If they have a joynt right, or ſeveral rights, each is bounden, and if one hath right, and the other nothing, ſhe which hath right, ſhall be barred of the whole. Cook 8. Part, 51. 52. Sims Caſe. See Cook 2. Part, 218. the ſame Caſe.

6. A collateral Warranty doth not give right: For if Lands be given to one, and the Heirs Male of his body, and he hath two Sons, and doth alien, and the collateral Anceſtor of the Son doth Releaſe with Warranty to the Alienee, and dyes, and the Donee dyes, now is the eldeſt Son barred, but if he dye without Iſſue Male, leaving Iſſue a daughter, the younger Son ſhall not be barred by the Warranty. 19 H. 6. 59. If Tenant in tail hath Iſſue two Sons by ſeveral Venters, and the Anceſtor collateral of the eldeſt Son doth releaſe with Warranty, and dyes without Iſſue, and the elder Son dyes without Iſſue, the younger Son ſhall recover by a Formedon, becauſe he is not Heir to the Warranty. 28 H. 8. Br. Formedon 18. See vouch. in Holland and Jackſons Caſe. Bridgm. 77.

7. The Father, Tenant in tail, had Iſſue two Sons, the Father with the eldeſt Son made a Feoffment in Fee with Warranty; the elder Son dyed, and after the Father dyed, and the younger Son brought a Formedon, and this Feoffment with Warranty was pleaded in bar: and upon demurrer, it was adjudged for the Demandant, for that it was but a lineal Warranty, and then without Aſſets, it was no bar; for although the eldeſt Son dye in the life of the Father; yet the younger Son by poſſibility might have the Land as Heir to him. Mich. 16 Jac. in C. B. Biſhops Caſe. Bulſtr. 22.

4. Warranty upon Contracts: Where neceſſary, where not; and when it is made.

1. IN an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That for 201. whereof the moyety was paid, and the reſt agreed to be paid at a certain time, the Defendant promiſed to deliver to the Plaintiff 400 l. of Wax at ſuch a day, and that at the day, he delivered to him 200 pound of ill wax. The Defendant pleaded an Accord between them for the the ſaid 200 pound of Wax which was inſufficient, which accord he had performed: upon which plea, the Plaintiff demurred, becauſe the Deceit was not anſwered; but the Plea was holden to be good; and it was holden, That the Deceit (ut ſupra) was not material to be anſwered; becauſe the Warranty of the ſufficiency was after the contract, and ſo no confidence. 6 E. 6. Dyer, 76. Andrews Caſe.

2. The Defendant being a Goldſmith, and having skill in Jewells and Precious Stones, had a Stone which he affirmed to be a Bezar-ſtone, and ſold it to the Plaintiff for 100 l. whereas in truth it was not a Bezar ſtone; for which Deceit, the Plaintiff brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt the Defendant. It was holden in this Caſe in the Exchequer-Chamber by all the Juſtices of England, That the bare affirmation of it to be a Bezar ſtone, without Warranting it to be ſo, was no cauſe of Action: And although he knew it to be no Bezar ſtone, it is not material. For every one in ſelling of his Commodities, will affirm them that they are good; yet if he Warranted them not to be ſo, it is no cauſe of Action: And it was holden, That the Warranty ought to be made at the ſame time of the ſale: Wherefore becauſe no Warranty was alledged, the Court held the Declaration not to be good. Paſc. 1 Jac. in B. R. Chandler and Lopus Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 4.

3. A man pretended that he was Vicar of N. and had right unto the Tythes there, and upon communication thereof with J. S. ſold the Tythes to J. S. for 30 l. whereas he in truth was never Vicar or Parſon there, never having bin Inſtituted nor Inducted, but the Tythes did belong to J. D. who was Parſon. For which cauſe the Plaintiff brought an Action upon the Caſe in the nature of a Deceit againſt him, and alledged in facto, that the Defendant for 30 l. falſo et deceptive, ſold him the Tythes, pretending he was lawfull Vicar, whereas he was never Inſtituted nor Inducted. The Defendant pleaded, Not Guilty, which was found againſt him: It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, that the Action did not lye. For an Action in the nature of a Deceit lyes not; where one ſells a thing in which he hath no property, and although he took upon him in diſcourſe, that he was the owner, and had the right to ſell; yet unleſs he warrants that the other ſhall enjoy them, which Warranty ought to be at the time of the Sale, elſe it is not good: and in this Caſe, here is not any Warranty nor affirmance at the time of the ſale, that he had any right or title to ſell: And for this cauſe, it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Action would not lye. But if a man ſells Victuals which is corrupt, without Warranty. It was holden, an Action lyes, becauſe it is againſt the Common-Wealth. Mich. 4 Jac. in the Exchequer Chamber. Roſwell and Vaughans Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 196.

5. Warrantia Chartæ, When, where, and by whom, it lyes: And what ſhall be ſufficient matter to abate it; What not.

1. Warrantia Chartæ, is a Writ, that lyes for him that is enfeoffed with Warranty, and afterwards he is impleaded in an Aſſiſe, or other Action in which he cannot vouch; then he may have this Writ againſt the Feoffor or his Heir, to compell them to warrant the Land to him. Fitz. Na. Br.

2. The Writ of Warrantia Chartæ doth ſuppoſe that the Plaintiff holdeth of the Defendant; for that the Writ is, ſcil. Præcip. A. quod juſte, &c. Warrantizet B. unum Meſſuagium cum pertinentiis in D. quod tenet, et de tenere clamat. And yet if he held the Land of the Lord Paramount, the Writ doth lye. So if the Plaintiff holdeth by Homage Auncestrel of the Defendant any Lands, and he is impleaded for them, and he hath no Charter thereof; yet he may maintain Warrantia Chartæ againſt him, and the Writ ſhall ſay, unde Chartam habet, although he hath no Charter.

3. A Writ of Warrantia Chartæ was brought by A. againſt B. of two Meſſuages, and of the moyty of an Acre of Land, unde Chartam habet: And the Plaintiff Counted, That he and B. and one C. was ſeiſed of, &c. and of a piece of Land adjoyning to the ſaid Meſſuages: and that B. and C. did releaſe all their right in, &c. to the ſaid A. and his Heirs, and that B. for him and his Heirs did warrant Tenementa prædict. to the ſaid A. and his Heirs? And upon Oyer of the Deed, that every of the ſaid B. and C. for them and their Heirs did warrant Tenementa prædict. to the ſaid A. and his Heirs: upon which there was a Demurrer. And in this Caſe, theſe Points were Reſolved: 1. That upon ſuch a Releaſe with Warranty, contra omnes gentes, a Writ of Warrantia Chartæ did lye. 2. Although every one did paſſe his part; viz. a third part; yet the Warranty of each doth go to the whole, the words being general, Tenementa prædict. without reſtraint: and it needed not to be ſhewed how they held in Joynture. 3. That the Writ was well brought againſt one of them, becauſe the Warranties are ſeverall. 4. That a Warrantia Chartæ doth not lye of a piece of Land, no more then a Præcipe. Mich. 5 Jac. C. B. Briſtt and Ballet Caſe. Godbolt, 152.

4. A Warrantia Chartæ was brought in the County of Hertford; and the Land which was warrantable, did lye in the Counties of Hertford and Bedford: And the Plaintiff did suppose in his Writ, that he was impleaded by Assise before Rolt, Catlyn, and Anth. Brown. who were Justices of Assise in the County of Bedford, but not in the County of Hertford. And for that cause, it was holden by the Court, That his Count was not good; and also the Warranty was but against the Grantor and his Heirs. And it was holden, That it lyeth not upon severall Warranties, except there be the words Dedi & Concessi, in the Deed. Pasc. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 221.

5. If a Warranty be made to one, his Heirs and Assigns, by expresse words, the Assignee shall take benefit of it, and shall have a Warrantia Chartæ. See Cook 5. Part, 16. in Spencers Case.

6. In a Warrantia Chartæ brought against the Heir, the Defendant pleaded, he hath nothing by Discent, &c. the Plaintiff shall thereupon recover pro loco et tempore; and shall have Judgment presently, and a Scire facias upon it, when Assets doth discend. See 21 E. 3. Br. Warrantia Chartæ. 30. and Cook 5. Part, 134. in Mary Shipley's Case.

7. If a Fine or a Feoffment be made of Lands in two Counties with Warranty, the Warrantia Chartæ may be brought in any of the Counties. 29 E. 3. 3. Cook 7. Part, 3. in Bulwer's Case. See 2 Eliz. Dyer, 221. before, seemes contrary.

8. A man may have a Warrantia Chartæ before he is impleaded, quia timet implacitari, and shall recover pro loco et tempore, but yet the Writ doth suppose, that he is impleaded: and if the Defendant doth appear, and plead, that he is not impleaded by such Plea, he confesseth the Warranty, and the Plaintiff shall have Judgment to recover his Warranty; so as if the Defendant be after impleaded, and vouch him to Warranty, and he entreth into the Warranty, and pleadeth and loseth, and the Defendant recover in value Lands against the Vouchee; the Demandant upon the bringing of his Warrantia Chartæ, shall have in value of the Lands which the Vouchee had at the first time of the first Judgment: And therefore, it is good policy for him to bring his Warrantia Chartæ before he be impleaded, to bind the Lands of the Vouchee which he had at that time. See 21 H. 6 41. 2 H. 4. 14. the Land shall be bound by the Judgment. But if a man do recover his Warranty by Warrantia Chartæ, and hath bound the Land which the Vouchee had at the time; yet if it be afterwards sued for that Land for which he recovered his Warranty, he ought to vouch him again, against whom he recovered his Warranty; otherwise he shall not have advantage of his recovery in the Warrantia Chartæ.

9. If a man recover his Warranty in a Warrantia Chartæ, and after he is impleaded in an Action in which he cannot vouch, he must give Notice to him against whom he hath recovered his Warranty, and pray him to shew him what he shall plead to defend the Land, 8 E. 4. 11. 24 E. 3. Br. Warrantia Chartæ, 35. And if the Defendant in the Warrantia Chartæ doth tender a Plea to the Plaintiff for freedom of the Land, and the Plaintiff will not enter the Plea, nor cause it to be entred, he shall not have advantage thereof in his Writ of Warrantia Chartæ. 16 H. 7. 6. & 7. acc.

10. Sir Henry Rolls brought a Writ of Warrantia Chartæ against Sir Robert Osborn and his wife, and Declared, That the Defendants ought to warrant him a Messuage, and 700 Acres of Pasture in K; and shewed, That a Fine was levied to him by the said Sir Robert Osborn and his wife of the said Messuage and Lands with warranty to him and his Heirs, and shewed, That afterwards a Writ of Entry Sur Disseisin, was brought against the Plaintiff of the said Messuage and Lands; and shewed, that he demanded his Warranty against the Defendant, and that he would administre to him a Plea; which the Defendants refused to do, to his damage of 100 l: The Defendants confessed the Fine and the Warranty; but said, That the said Recovery was had with Vouchers, to other Uses then was in the Fine; viz. to the use of the said Sir Henry Rolls for life: and if he did marry with A. S, then to the use of the said A. S. for her life for her Joynture, with divers Remainders over. It was on the part of the Plaintiff argued, That although the Recovery was with voucher, yet the uses upon it, being contingent uses, the first warranty upon the Fine was not destroyed, but did remain. and so the Writ may well be maintainable. But the better Opinion of the Court was, That the Warranty was destroyed, for divers causes: 1. Because Sir Henry Rolls came in to the Estate in the Post: and he who comes in by the Post, and not in Privity, shall not have Warrantia Chartæ: and although perhaps he may have benefit of a Rent, or a Condition, as is agreed in Lincoln Colledg Case, Cook 3. Part, yet not of a Warranty. 2. Here the old Estate did not continue, but the Estate was altered, and so the warranty destroyed. And 41 Eliz. it was adjudged in Bainton and Chesto's Case, If a Feoffment be made with Warranty, and the Feoffee enfeoffe the first Feoffor, because the Estate is altered, the warranty is gone. 3. Every Warranty is a Covenant reall; and if the first Privity be destroyed (as is in this Case), the Warranty is gone; 4. No War-

Warranty shall have but one recompence; and in this Case, there was a recompence by the voucher, and recovery in value; and therefore the Warranty was gone and extinct. Quære, What Judgment was in the Case: It is long argued in Hobart, from fol. 20, to fol. 28. But no Judgment is there given in the Case. Intratur. Trin. 9 Jac. in C. B. Rott. 2205. S r Henry Rolls and S r Robert Osborn's Case.

Gardian in Knights-Service, and Gardian in Socage.

1. IF the Lord after he hath the Custody of Body and Land of the Heir as Guardian in Knights-Service, doth release to the Enfant his Ward, all the right which he hath in the Seignory; Or that the Seignory doth discend to the Enfant, he shall in such case be out of Ward, both for his Body and his Land; for he was in his Custody, in respect he was not able to do those Services which he ought to do to the Lord, which now by these Acts are extinct: and then Cessante causa, cessat effectus.

2. By the Statute of west. 2. Cap. 22. If an Heir female be within the age of 14. years, and not married at the time of the death of her Auncestor, the Lord shall have the Wardship of her as Guardian, untill her age of 16. years, to the end he may within those two last years, tender her a convenient marriage; yet in that case, if the Lord before the age 14. years, granteth over the Wardship of the Body, the Grantee cannot enjoy the benefit of the two years, because he cannot hold the Land over; and the Lord who hath the Wardship of the Land only, shall lose the benefit of the two years, because he hath the Lands onely, and cannot tender any marriage; and therefore in such case, the Heir female shall enter into her Land at 14 years, and ouste the Guardian, Cook 1. Part, Institutes, 78.

3. A Writ of Dower lyeth against Guardian in Knights Service, although he hath but a Chattel; and it doth not lye against the Heir who hath the Freehold, because the Law hath Trusted the Guardian to plead for the Heir within age: But in such case, the Writ doth not lye against the Guardian before he doth enter. See 44 E. 3. 11. 4 H. 6. 11. Cook. Institutes, 37. And if Dower be brought against Guardian in Knights-Service, he may plead in barr the Detainment of the Heir, but he cannot plead the Detainment of the Charters, because they do belong to the Heir himself, and not to the Guardian. See 6 Eliz. Dyer, 230. acc.

4. If the Guardian doth assign more in Dower, then the Woman endowed ought to have; the heir in such case shall have a Writ of Admeasurement of Dower: and if the Heir within age, before the entry of the Guardian do assign Overplus in Dower, the Guardian shall have the Writ of Measurement. Quære, If the Heir himself upon his Assignment shall have it. See Fitzh. Na. Br. 149. See 2 R. 2. Admeasurement, 13.

5. If the Guardian in Knights-Service, doth commit Waste upon the Lands of the Heir; and the Heir brings a Writ of Waste, the Guardian shall lose the Guardianship of the Land, if the Heir be within age at the time of the Writ brought, and Waste committed. But if the Waste be done when the Heir is of full age; there in Waste brought against him by the Heir, he shall recover Damages: but if the Waste be done by a Stranger when the Heir was within age, in such case, the Guardian for such Waste done, shall not lose the Guardianship of the Land. See 44 E. 3. 27. But for Waste done by Guardian in Socage, an Action of Waste doth not lye, but only an Accompt; and he shall recover what is lost in damages. Cook 1. Part, Institutes, 53, 54.

6. If there be 3. Brothers, and the youngest holdeth Lands in Socage, and hath Issue, and dyeth, his Issue within the age of 14. years; In this case, both the Uncles are in equal degree, and yet the Eldest shall be Guardian, because being in equal degree, the Law preferreth him as the more worthy, Cook 1. Part, Institutes, 88. But if a man purchaseth at one time several parcels of Lands, which are holden of several Lords by Knight Service, and dyeth his Heir within age, he who can first happen on the body of the Heir, shall have the Guardianship of it.

7. If a man be seised of Lands holden in Socage, of the part of his Father, and of other Lands holden in Socage, of the part of his Mother, and dyeth, his Issue being within the age of 14. years; In this Case, such of the Kin of either side as first happeneth of the body of the heir, shall have the Cuardianship of him: But yet the next of the blood of the part of the Father, shall enter into the Lands of the part of the Father, and the next of Kin of the part of the Mother, shall enter into the Lands of the part of the Father. See 8 Eliz. Dyer, 296. And see Plow. Comment. in Carrell's Case.

8. Where the Father is Guardian of his Son for for Lands holden in Knight-Service, this is in reſpect of his Paternal natural Guardianſhip: and in ſuch caſe, he ſhall not be accomptable for his Marriage, or for the profits of his Lands received: But where the Father is Guardian of his Son, by reaſon of a Tenure in Socage, there he muſt be accomptable to his ſon both for his marriage, and alſo for the Profits received of his Lands; which he ſhould not be, if he had the Cuſtody of him as his Father in reſpect of Nature. If a Stranger entreth into the Lands of an Enfant within the age of 14. years, and taketh the Profits of the Lands; the Enfant in ſuch caſe may charge him as Guardian in Socage: And this agreeth well with the Writ of Accompt againſt Guardian in Socage; for the words of the Writ are, ſcil. Idem B. præfato A. rationabilem Compotum ſuum de exitibus proveuientibus de terris et Tenementis ſuis in N. quæ tenuit in Socagio; Et quorum Cuſtodiam Idem B. habuit, dum prædict. A. infra ætatem fuit; for in Judgment of Law, he is Tutor alienus, and hath the Cuſtody of the Lands: Whereas the right of Guardian in Socage, is Tutor proprius. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 98. b.

9. In a Replevin; the Caſe was, Guardian in Socage kept Courts in his own name, and granted Coppies; the Queſtion was, If the Grants were good to bind the Heir? It was Objected, That a Guardian in Socage is but a Servant, and as a Bayly, and not Dominus; and he can neither grant nor forfeit the Eſtate, and hath nothing to do with the Manor, but to receive the profits for the uſe of the Heir, and to Accompt for them. But it was Reſolved, That he is Dominus pro tempore, and hath Intereſt in the Land; for he may make a Leaſe for years of it. Plo. Com. 299. He may avow in his own name and right: He ſhall have Treſpaſſe or Raviſhment of Ward. 15 H. 7. 13. He ſhall have Guard per cauſa de Guard: and a Copyholder admitted, is in by the Cuſtome, and not by the Guardian; and he hath an Intereſt ex proviſione Legis, although he ſhall not forfeit it, and he ſhall accompt for the Fines which he takes: and it would be inconvenient, if he might not let by Copy; for the Heir cannot: And the Court ought not to be kept in the name of the Heir, but in the name of the Guardian: and if he make a Leaſe for years, his Leſſee ſhall maintain Ejectione Firmæ. And a Guardian in Socage hath Intereſt in his own right, although his Executors cannot have it, becauſe it is annexed to his perſons. And for theſe cauſes, the Court held the Grants to be good. Mich. 3 Jac. in C. B. Sapelane and Roydlers Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 55, 99. See Owen, 115. the ſame Caſe.

10. A Guardian in Socage cannot preſent to a Benefice in the right of the Heir, becauſe he cannot be accomptable therefore, for that he cannot make any benefit of it, for that would be Symony, which the Law doth abhor: and therefore the Enfant ſhall preſent himſelf. See 8 E. 2. Preſent. 10. acc. But yet ſee the Opinion of Daniel, Juſtice, Cro. 2. Part, 99. in Sapelane's Caſe, That if the Heir be within the age of Diſcretion, there ſuch a Guardian in Socage may preſent.

Gavelkind.

1. IF a man make a gulft in tail of Lands in Gavelkind, to a man and the Heirs males of his body lawfully begotten, and he hath Iſſue 4. ſons: in this caſe, all the ſons ſhall inherit: But if a Leaſe for life be made of Lands in Gavelkind, the Remainder to the right Heirs of J. S; and J. S. hath Iſſue 4. ſons, in this caſe the eldeſt ſon ſhall inherit the Remainder; for there can be but one right heir in caſe of purchaſe. Cook 1. Part, 103. in Shelleys Caſe.

2. Of Lands in Gavelkind, the ſon cannot endow his wife ex aſſenſu Patris, becauſe by poſſibility he ſhall not continue heir. Cook 6. Part, 21. in Ambroſia Gorges Caſe.

3. Every Preſcription by common intendment, ought to have a lawfull beginning; but otherwiſe it is of a Cuſtome; for that ought to be reaſonable, et ex certa cauſa rationabili uſitata, but needeth not have Intendment of a lawfull beginning, as Cuſtome to have Land of the nature of Gavelkind. Cook 6. Part, 60. in Cauſin's Caſe.

4. A man ſeiſed of a houſe Gavelkind in Kent, having Iſſue 3. daughters: A. B. and C. gave the houſe to A, and the heirs of her body, the Remainder of the moyty of that to B. in tail, the remainder of the moyty to C. in tail: and if B. dye without Iſſue, the Remainder of her moity to C, with the like Remainder for want of Iſſue of C, to B: A. Tenant in tail diſcontinued and died without Iſſue; B. dyed without Iſſue, by which the right of her moyty came to C: Afterwards C. died, and her right diſcended to divers heirs in Gavelkind, who brought one Formedon in Remainder, and by one Writ demanded ſeveral Remainders. And it was adjudged in this Caſe, When all was given to A. in tail, although that the Donor divided the Remainders by moyties, yet when all the Land did remain unto C, and all the Remainders depend upon one Eſtate, and are derived out of one Root, and commence by gulft at one time; that in ſuch caſe, the heirs of C. might have one Formedon; and were not driven to ſue forth ſeveral Writs of Formedon. Cook 8. Part, 86. in Beckmers Caſe.

5. In a Formedon in the Diſcender brought by A. B. and C. of Lands in Gavelkind, the Warranty of their Anceſtors was pleaded in bar againſt them; and they were at Iſſue, If Aſſetts by diſcent? And it was found by Special Verdict, That the Father of the Demandants was ſeiſed in Fee, of the Lands to be ſuppoſed to be diſcended to the Demandants being Gavelkind, and deviſed the ſame to the Demandants, being his Heirs, by Cuſtome, and to their Heirs equally to be divided amongſt them: and if they ſhould be accompted to be in of the Lands by Diſcent, or by the Deviſe, was the Queſtion? It was the Opinion of Anderſon, Chief Juſtice, That they ſhould be in by the Deviſe, and that they are now Joynt-Tenant, and that the Survivor ſhould have the whole: whereas, if the Lands had diſcended, they ſhould have been as Tenants in Common: and the words in this Caſe equally to be divided amongſt them, doth not make them to be Tenants in Common. Paſch. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Beares Caſe, Leon. 112.

6. The Cuſtome of Land in Gavelkind, is not changed, though a Fine be levied thereof at the Common-Law; for it is a Cuſtome by reaſon of Land, and runneth alwayes with the Land; but it is otherwiſe of Land in Auncien Demeſne. 6 E. 6. Dyer, 72.

7. Gavelkind Land was deviſed to the husband and wife for life, the Remainder proximo hæred. maſculo de C. viroribus ſuis legitimè procreatis in perpetuum; the Husband and Wife had Iſſue 3. ſons; If the eldeſt ſon ſhould have the whole, was the Queſtion? It was holden, He ſhould not, but ſhould be divided according to the Cuſtome. 4 Ma. Dyer, 133.

8. A man ſeiſed of Gavelkind land in Fee holden in Socage, and of other Land holden in Capite by his laſt Will in writing, deviſed his Copyhold Land to his baſe ſon, and the heirs of his body: the only Queſtion was, Whether Lands in Gavelkind holden in Socage, was deviſeable by the Cuſtome, or not? It was Reſolved by the Court, That ſuch Lands holden in Socage, were deviſeable there by the Cuſtome: but then the Court held, That this Cuſtome muſt be pleaded, and that the Lands ſo deviſed, were holden in Socage: For although the Court ſhall take conuſans of the Cuſtome of Gavelkind in Kent, without pleading it; yet of this ſpecial Cuſtome to deviſe. Or that the Lands are holden in Socage; Or that the Wife ſhall have the moyty for her Dower, they ought not to take cognizance of them, without ſpecial pleading of the Cuſtome. Mich. 15 Car. in B.R. Launder and Brooks Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 405.

9. A Cuſtome time out of mind continued, cannot be interrupted by the bare alienation of the Tenure; and therefore if Land auncient Socage and Gavelkind in Kent, cometh unto the Crown, and the ſame be delivered out of the Crown again tenendum in Capite, or by Knight-Service, yet the Land ſhall Diſcend to all the Heirs males as Gavelkind. 4 & 5 Ma. Dalſon's Reports. Lambert perambulation of Kent, 535. 2.

10. Unity of poſſeſſion in the Lord of the Manor, cannot alter the nature of the Land in Gavelkind, but that it ſhall be partible; and if Gavelkind Land come to the King by purchaſe, If the King granteth the ſame to another and his heirs; yet the Land ſhall be partible amongſt the heirs males, 7 Eliz. Dyer, by Brown, Juſtice.

Grand Serjeanty.

1. GRand Seajeanty, is the moſt honourable Service that a Tenant may do to his Lord; and it is a Service to be done to the King only, as to be his Carver, or Butler at his Coronation, or Leader of the King's Hoaſt in the time of War. Litt. 34.

2. It was auncienty holden, That if the King's Tenant by Grand Serjeanty did alien his Lands without Licence, that it was a forfeiture of them, becauſe it was the ſervice to be done by the body of a man, which could not be transferred over. And ſo was it holden, 14 E. 3. Tit. Quare Impedit, 54. by Willy. But Note: It is now holden by all the Juſtices, That Grand Serjeanty ſhall not be forfeited by an alienation without Licence: and that by the Statute of 1 E. 3. Cap. 12. See Cook 2. Part, 81. in the Lord Cromwell's Caſe, See 29 Eliz. adjudged acc.

3. Humphrey de Hobum, who was Earl of Eſſex, held divers Mannors to the King, to be Conſtable of England. It was Reſolved, That it was a Tenure by Grand Service, 21 Eliz. Dyer, 285.

4. A man holds Land of the King, to find a man by 40. dayes, to ſerve the King in his Wars at his own proper Coſts and Charges: It is holden, The ſame is Grand Serjeanty, becauſe it is ſervice:

ſervice to be done for the King by the body of a man. 24 E. 3. Br. Tenures, 19. See Plow. Comment. 321. acc. And ſee 30 H. 8. Dyer, 44. Every Grand Serjeanty is a Tenure in Chief.

5. Note, It is vouched out of a Record of 5 R. 2. Rott. Clauſa. in 45. That a Citizen, or a Burgeſſe cannot do Grand Serjeanty to the King in perſon; but he muſt do it by his Deputy; And ſo it is of a Woman, or an Enfant, they muſt do the Service by Deputy. But a Knight is ſuch a Dignified perſon, that he may do ſuch Service to the King in his perſon. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 107.

6. Note, It is ſaid in Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 105. That the Tenure of Grand Serjeanty hath ſeven properties. 1. It ought to be of the King only. 2. It ought to be done when the perſon is able, in proper perſon. 3. This Service is certain and partieular. 4. The Reliefe payable for this Service, differs from the Releaſe payable or due for Knights-Service. 5. The Service is to be done within the Realm. 6. That he who held by this Service, ſhall not pay aid, either to make the Kings Son a Knight, or for the marriage of his Daughter, as it is holden in 11 H. 4. and Fitzh. Nat. Br. 83. 7. It ſhall not pay Eſcuage.

7. Officium Hoſtiarii de Scaccario cum diverſis Officiis eidem ſpectantibus; is holden of the King by Grand Serjeanty. See 4 Eliz. Dyer, 213. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 106. and 7. Aſſ. pl. 12. acc. But if a man hold Land ad inveniendum unum hominem in Turri London cum arcubus et ſagittis, per 40 dies tempore guerræ in boriali angulo Turris prædict. pro omni ſervitio, the ſame is not Grand Serjeanty, though it be to be done by the body of a man, and in time of War; but it is but a Tenure by Knight-Service, *per minorem Serjantiam. Grants of the King.

1. Where the Grant of the King ſhall be ſaid by the words Ex ſpeciali gratia certa Scientia et mero motu: Where not.

1. THe Rectory of Weſt Bodin to which the Advowſon of the Viccarage was appendant, which was concealed, came to the Queen by the Attainder of J. S. which being found by Office, the Queen for money and other conſiderations by her Letters Pattents ex certa Scientia ſpeciali gratia et mero motu, granted the ſaid Rectory, and all the poſſeſſions, et omnia hæreditamenta ſua quæcunque parcel ſpectan. vel pertinend. dict. Rectorie (without mentioning the Advowſon) adeo plenè, et in tam amplis, modo et forma quibus, et conditione as the ſaid J. S. had it. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That by thoſe words the Advowſon of the Viccarage did paſs, and that the Queen was not deceived in her Grant. Paſc. 18 Eliz. Dyer, 350.

2. The Office of Aulnageor, or Collector of the Cuſtomes, or Subſidy of Aulnage, was not to be Granted by divers Acts of Parliament, without the Warrant of the Treaſuror certified into the Chancery. Queen Mary by her Letters Pattents de ſpeciali gratia certa ſcientia et mero motu, granted the Office aforeſaid to J. S. and conſtituted him Collector of the Subſidy of the Aulnage for 21 years, and this was without Warrant of the Treaſurer, who granted and aſſigned it over to J. D. and Covenanted that he was lawfully poſſeſſed of the ſaid Office, by the ſaid Letters Pattents. It was Reſolved, that the ſaid Grant made by Queen Mary by the ſpecial words aforeſaid, to the ſaid J. S. was void, and alſo it had bin void, notwithſtanding there had bin a Non obſtante aliquo Statuto in the Letters Pattents; and eſpecially becauſe ſuch a clauſe was not ſhewed to the Court to be in the Letters Pattents. Mich. 14 Eliz. Dyer, 303.

3. Queen Mary; for her, her Heirs, and Succeſſors, by her Letters Pattents ex ſpeciali gratia certa ſcientia, et mero motu, granted to J. S. and his Aſſigns, that they might ſell Wines by retail, notwithſtanding the Statute of 7 E. 6. which was made againſt the exceſs, and great prizes of Wines; but in the Letters Pattents it was not limited for how long time the grant ſhould continue, but there was a clauſe in the Letters Patents to permit him for life. It was holden in this Caſe by the Juſtices, That the Grant ſhould be conſtrued only to be durante beneplacito; and that both the Letters Patents, and the Commandment, determined by her death. Hill. 10 Eliz. Dyer, 270.

4. Queen Mary being ſeiſed in the right of her Crown, of the Manner of B. to which the Advowſon of the Hoſpital of St. Kat. of B. was appendant by her Letters Patents ex certa ſcientia et mero motu, &c. the Hoſpital being void, tempore vacationis, granted the ſaid Manner et omnes advocationes eidem Manerio pertinent. ſive incurrent. in as ample manner as E. and N. held the ſame: but there was no mention made of the preſent avoidance in the Grant, but the Queen afterwards preſented her Clerk to the ſaid Hoſpital, who was admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted. It was holden, notwithſtanding the ſaid words in the Grant, That the Preſentation did not paſs by the ſaid Letters Patents. Paſc. 13 Eliz. Dyer, 300.

5. An Abbot made a Leaſe for 60 years unto another Abbot, the Abbot who was Leſſee, with the conſent of his Covent, made a Leaſe for 80 years, the Reverſion came to the Queen; the firſt Term for 60 years expired: the Aſſignee of the Term for 80 years did ſurrender to the Queen, ea intentione that the Queen ſhould make a new Leaſe to him for 20 years, the Queen reciting the Demiſe for 80 years, and the ſurrender in conſideration thereof by her Letters Patents ex certa ſcientia et mero motu, did make the Demiſe for 20 years. It was holden by the Juſtices in that Caſe, That the Demiſe was void, becauſe in truth nothing was ſurrendred, but only in ſhew and appearance. Tr. 18 Eliz. Dyer, 352.

6. King Henry the 8th, Tenant in tail, to him and the Heirs Males of his body, of the Manner of A. by force of a Fine levyed, 3 H. 7. the Reverſion to him, his Heirs and Succeſſors by force of an Attainder and Office by his Letters Patents ex gratia ſpeciali, certa ſcientia et mero motu, reciting (that whereas W. W. had ſurrendred up former Letters Patents of the ſaid Manner to be cancelled, of the ſaid Manner of A.), granted the ſaid Manner of A. unto the ſaid W. W. and E. his Wife, and the Heirs of the body of the ſaid W. W. lawfully begotten; and in truth the ſaid Letters Patents were not ſurrendred, but in ſhew only. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved, That the Grant of the King ex certa ſcientia et mero motu, ſhall be taken ſtrongly againſt the King; but that muſt always be intended, when the King is not deceived in his Grant, for if the King be deceived in his Grant, although that the Patent be ex certa ſcientia et mero motu, yet the Grant is void; and the Kings Grant ſhall not ennure upon a violent conſtruction: And the Kings Patents ſhall be conſtrued ſecundum intentionem Domi i Regis, et non in deceptionem Domini Regis. Cook 1. Part, 43. the Caſe of Alton Woods.

7. The King was ſeiſed of the Manner of Torrington, and of a Market within the ſaid Manner every Week, and of a Fair holden in vigilio Feſto' et Craſtino St. Michaelis. by his Letters Patents incorporated the ſaid Town of Torrington, and granted to them de gratia ſpeciali, ex certa ſcientia et mero motu, quod ipſi et ſucceſſores ſui poſſint habere et tenere, unum Mercatum quolibet die Sabbat. et duas Nundinas ibid. annuatim, viz. una in vigilio Feſto, et Craſtino Sancti Michaelis, et alia in Feſto Sancti Georgii Martiri niſi Mercatum et Nundinæ illæ eſſent ad nocumentum vicinorum Mercatorum, et vicinarum nundinarum: And it was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Grant was void, becauſe the King was not aviſed of his own Grant; for his intent was to Grant and create the Fair in vigil Feſto, et Craſtino Michaelis, niſi ſit ad nocumentum: and there the Patent being ex ſpeciali gratia certa ſcientia et mero motu, did not paſs the Auncient Fair, for that was againſt the intent and purpoſe of the King, which was to create a new Fair, and not to grant the Fair which was in eſſe. 15 Eliz. adjudged in the Exchequer. The Caſe of Torrington. See Dyer.

8. King Henry the 8th by his Letters Patents, ex certa ſcientia et mero motu ſuis, for valuable conſideration of mony granted to J. S. and J. D. all thoſe his Meſſuages, Lands, Tenements with appurtenances in the ſeveral tenures or occupations of A. and B. ſcituate, lying, and being in the City of Wells, or in the Suburbs of the ſaid City, or within the Juriſdiction of the ſaid City, to the late Priory or Hoſpital of Wells belonging or appertaining, lying in the Pariſh of D. and it was found, That the ſaid Lands, &c. were in the Tenures of the ſaid A. and B. but they did lye in S. and not in D. It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That becauſe the ſaid Grant was reſtreined to a certain Town, in which they did not lye; that although the ſaid Grant was general, and the ſaid Lands were in the Tenures of the ſaid A. and B. and that the Grant was ex certa ſcientia, et mero motu of the King, and made upon a valuable conſideration; yet the ſaid grant was void, and did not paſs the ſaid Lands and Tenements; and alſo notwithſtanding they were of ſuch value as was mentioned in the particular; for the particular is but prima intentio Regis, and the Letters Patents are ultima intentio Regis, and the Judges are not to ground their Judgment upon the particular, but upon the Letters Patents. Cook 2. Part, 33. Doddington's Caſe. See 16 Eliz. Dyer, 33. acc.

9. The King gave Lands to the Lord Lovell, to have and to hold, to him, and to his Heirs Males, and the Grant was ex certa ſcientia, et mero motu: Yet it was adjudged, That the grant was void, for that the King could not grant ſuch an Inheritance in Fee-ſimple, to make the Heirs inheritable, and to exclude the Females. 18 H. 8. br. Tit. Patents, 104.

10. The Queen ſeiſed of the Rectory of L. had a portion of Tythes out of it, and by her Letters Patents ex certa ſcientia et mero motu granted to A. and B. totam illam portionem decimarum in L. in Com. noſtro N. cum omnibus aliis decimis in L. in dict. Com. N. tunc in occupatione, J. S. And further granted by her Letters Patents, that the ſaid Letters Patents ſhould be in force againſt the Queen, and her Succeſſors, notwithſtanding male nominando vel recitando dict. portionē decimarum: et non obſtante aliquis aliis defectis in non nominando, vel male recitando ali cujus tenentis ſive occupatoris: And it was found, That there were not any Tythes in L. in the occupation of J. S. and in this Caſe, it was adjudged, That the Letters Patents were void. Firſt, It was Reſolved, That theſe words illam portionem were not ſatisfied untill it came to the end of the ſentence, and that refers to the occupation of J. S. for that is uſed only to reduce the Grant of the King to a certainty. 2. That this word (portio) ſignifies a part or portion in groſs, and not parcel of the Rectory of L. And the Grant of the Queen ſhall not extend againſt her intention and expreſs meaning in her grant, although it be ex certa ſcientia et mero motu. And in the Caſe, the intent of the Queen was to paſs the Tythes in groſs in L. and not to paſs the Tythes parcel of the Rectory of L. Cook 4. Part, 35. Bozoms Caſe.

11. The King ex certa ſcientia, et mero motu, Grants Lands in Fee Tenendum de nobis et heredibus noſtris per ſervitium unius roſe rubee, annuatim ad Feſt. Nativitat. St. Johan. Baptiſt ſolamodo pro omnibus, et omnimodis ſervitiis et demandis. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the ſame was a Tenure in Socage in chief: and becauſe Fealty is incident to every Rent-Service, the Law ſhall annex Fealty to the ſaid Rent, ſo as the Tenure ſhall be by a Roſe and Fealty, and then theſe words pro omnibus aliis ſervitiis ſhall be intended other Services which the Law doth not imply or add to it, and ſuch conſideration is benigne, and according to the intention of the King. Cook 6. Part, 7. Wheeler's Caſe.

12. King Henry the 7th, Anno 19 of his Reign by his Letters Patents granted the Mannor of D. to A. and B. in tail, and afterwards reciting the former Letters Patents, and that they were delivered and ſurrendred to be canceled; the King by other Letters Patents ex certa ſcientia, et mero motu, granted to the ſaid A and B. and E. his Wife, Manerium predict. and to their Heirs. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved, That the grant was good: and the Reverſion of the Mannor which the King had paſſed, paſſed by the grant, for inaſmuch as the party had truly enformed the King of the eſtate tail, and of the delivery of the Letters Patents to be cancelled, although that the King had miſtaken the Law in a matter in fact, yet the ſame ſhould not avoid the Grant, eſpecially the ſame being ex certa ſcientia, et mero motu, which ſhall be taken in the moſt favourable and liberal ſenſe, according to the limitation of the King expreſſed in his Grant, and no default being in the party. Cook 6. Part, 55. the Lord Chandois Caſe.

13. King James, Anno 5. of his Reign, by his Letters Patents, of his certain knowledg and mere motion, did Grant unto Jehu Webb the Office of the Maſter of the Tennis Playes, aſwell within the Pallace of Weſtminſter, as of the Lord the King elſwhere, To have and to hold to him during the life of the ſaid Jehu. It was holden in this Caſe, That in that Caſe the ſaid Letters Patents ſhould have a reaſonable conſtruction, not only to extend when the King himſelf Playes, but when any of his houſhould ſhould Play. Cook 8. Part, 45. Jehu webbs Caſe.

14. Queen Mary was ſeiſed of a Park called Eaſtwood-Park, and by her Letters Patents granted the ſaid Park to Henry Lord Stafford, and his Wife, and to the Heirs of the body of the ſaid Henry, the Reverſion to the Queen. Afterwards Queen Eliz. Anno 7. of her Reign, reciting the former Eſtate, and the Reverſion to Her expectant, for the ſum of 53 l. did grant to J. S. the Reverſion of the ſaid Park, to have and hold, to him and the Heirs of his body: And further by the ſaid Letters Patents, declared, That if the ſaid J. S. his Heirs, or Aſſigns, ſhould pay, or cauſe to be paid at the Receipt of the Exchequer, to the ſaid Queen, her Heirs, or Succeſſors, 20 s. beſides the ſaid 53 l. then the ſaid Queen ex gratia ſpeciali certa ſcientia et mero motu; granted, That the ſaid J. S. and his Heirs ſhould have and hold, to him and his Heirs for ever, by vertue of the ſaid Letters Patents, the Reverſion of the ſaid Park, with the appurtenances, to have, hold, and enjoy all the premiſes, to him, his Heirs, and Aſſigns for ever. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved (amongſt other points), That when the King ſaith, That he ſhall have predict. reverſionem, the ſame ſhall be intended, that he ſhall have ſuch a Reverſion as the King might Grant, and that was the Reverſion in Fee which was in him, and not the Reverſion in tail, for that he had before, for it ſhould be a diſhonourable conſtruction for the King, and a diſadvantage to the party.

party. Cook 8. Part, 74. the Lord Stafford's Caſe.

15. Queen Eliz. ſeiſed of the Mannor of D. to which the Advowſon of the Church of D. was appendant, granted the ſaid Mannor to J. S. for 21 years, excepting the Advowſon; and afterwards reciting the ſaid Leaſe, made another Leaſe of the ſaid Mannor to J. S. with the like exception of the Advowſon: Afterwards King James by his Letters Patents, in conſideration of Service, Ex certa ſcientia, et mero motu granted to J. D. totum illud Maneriam de D. cum pertinenciis, exceptis quæ in eiſdem Litteris Patt. accipiuntur, reciting the Letters Patents before granted for years, et ulterius de ulteriori gratia ſpeciali, et ex certa ſcientia, et mero motu, granted to the ſaid J. D. his Heirs and Aſſigns for ever, Maneriam prædict. et omnia et ſingula premiſſa cum pertinenciis adeo plenè et integrè, et in tam amplis modo et forma prout omnia ac ſingula premiſſa aut aliqua inde parcella, ad manus noſtras devenerunt, ac in manibus noſtris jam exiſtant. The Queſtion was, Whether the Advowſon appendant to the Mannor did paſs by the ſaid Letters Patents. It was Reſolved, That the Advowſon did paſs: and in this, 1. That the Advowſon did paſs, for when the Kings Charter in general terms refers to a certainty, the ſame contains as expreſs mention, as if the certainty had bin expreſſed in the Charter, although that the certainty to which the reference is, be not of Record, but lyes in averment by matter in pais in fait. 2. That at the Common-Law, if the Queen grant a Mannor to which an Advowſon is appendant, without making mention of the Advowſon or appurtenances, thit the Advowſon doth paſs. 3. Reſolved, That if the ſaid clauſe adeo plenè et integrè, had bin omitted, although that the Patent was ex gratia ſpeciali certa ſcientia et mero motu, that the Advowſon had not paſſed by the firſt clauſe, but by the addition of it in the latter clauſe, it made the Advowſon to paſs, for by that the Kings intent appeared. Cook 10. Part, 63, 64. Whiſtlers Caſe.

16. The King ſeiſed of the Mannor of W. in the right of his Crown, by his Letters Patents under the Great Seal, Ex ſpeciali gratia certa ſcientia et mero motu, granted to J. S. illos duas ſpecies terræ vocat. N. et M. jacent in W. modo vel nuper in tenura J. C. ac nuper Monaſterio de W. ſpectant que quidem omnia à nobis, &c. concelata et detenta fuerant: And it was found by Verdict, That the Mannor of W. was not concealed, nor detained, but was in onere et compoto, but that the Rents of the ſaid two parcels of Lands in N. and M. were not anſwered to the King. In this Caſe (amongſt other things) Reſolved, That although the Grant was, Ex certa ſcientia, &c. yet becauſe it was made upon the falſe ſuggeſtion of the party, the Grant was void. And in that Caſe, it was ſaid, That the words Ex certa ſcientia importeth, That the King hath knowledg of the thing he granteth, but that muſt be intended of the truth which is the proper object of knowledg, and not of falſity which is non ens. 2. The words ex mero motu, importeth the honour and bounty of the King; Ex gratia ſpeciali, is in reſpect of grace and favour, which the King conceiveth of the Pattentee: all which are of no effect, when the Letters Pattents are obtained upon a falſe ſuggeſtion of the party in diſceit of the King. Cook 10. Part, 109. Arthur Legats Caſe.

17. The Prior of Mountague was Patron of the Church of F. In 20 H. 8. the King by his Letters Pattents Ex ſpeciali gratia certa ſcientia, et mero motu ſuis gave Licenſe to the ſaid Prior, quod ipſi et ſucceſſores ſui dictam Eccleſiam de T. impropriare conſolidare, amovere et unire, et ſic appropriatam conſolidatam et unitam in proprios uſus poſſint retinere: The Biſhop of W. with the Dean and Chapter, aſſenſu Regis Henrici 8. Authoritate, &c. united and appropriated the ſaid Church, Ita quod ſtatim, vel decedente Rectore qui nunc eſt ſeu aliter contigerit ipſam Eccleſiam, retinere poſſint, which endowment of a Viccarage, &c. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Licenſe ſhall be taken to this intent, viz. to take effect after the death of the preſent Incumbent, and ſo much the rather, becauſe the Letters Pattents were Ex certa ſcientia et mero motu, and not to extend to an Impropriation in the life of the preſent Incumbent. Cook 11. Part, 12. Pridle and Nappors Caſe.

2. Where the Grants of the King ſhall be void for want of recital, falſe recitall, miſ-recitall, falſe ſuggeſtion of the part, and for Miſnomer of the thing, or party, and where not: Where helped by Non obſtante.

1. THe King Leaſed Richmond Fee, with all Deodands which ſhould fall within it, to C. for years: Afterwards the King granted all Deodands to Dr. Cox, the Almoner; the Leaſe of C. expired, and the King made a new Leaſe to C. as before. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That Dr. Cox the Almoner ſhould not have the Deodands againſt C. the Pattentee, for that his Grant was void, becauſe the Leaſe for years of C. was not recited in the Letters Pattents. Mic. 6 E. 6. Dyer, 77.

2. The Prior of B. demiſed the Scite, and the Demeans of the Mannor of D. for life, rendring Rent: Afterwards the Reverſion of the Scite, Demeans and reſidue of the Mannor came to the King by the Statute of Diſſolutions: And afterwards the King by his Letters Patents under the Seal of the Augmentation, demiſed and granted the Mannor aforeſaid, with the appurtenances, to J. S. for years. And in the Letters Patents, all Services, Rents, and profits, and Hereditaments of the ſaid Mannor, were expreſly mentioned, but there was no mention made of the Reverſion: Notwithſtanding it was the Opinion of the Court, That by nomen Manerii in the Caſe of the King, the Reverſion did paſs, and that the Grantee ſhould have the Rent reſerved. Mich. 7 Eliz. Dyer, 238.

3. Queen Mary reciting a Grant of the Cuſtody of the Caſtle of C. by King Henry the 8th, to the Lord Darcy (miſ-reciting the date), which premiſes were in her hands by the forfeiture or ſurrender of the Lord Darcy, granted the Cuſtome to K. and did not ſay the Office of Cuſtody. Afterwards the Lord Darcy and Queen Mary being dead; Queen Elizabith by her Letters Patents, Ex ſpeciali gratia, &c. granted the ſaid Office to J. S. who entred upon K. In that Caſe, K. was Nonſuit; there 32 H. 8. was miſtaken for 33. And there the ſurrender was of a Patent bearing date 32, whereas in truth it bore date 33 H. 8. and therefore it was holden and adjudged, That the Letters Patents made to K. were void, notwithſtanding the Act of 34 H. 8. and other Acts of Miſ-recital. H. 3 Eliz. Dyer, 195. Kemp and Mackwilliams Caſe.

4. Queen Eliz. ſeiſed of the Mannor of Sutton Galtres in the County of York, demiſed the ſame to H. B. for 21 years, who demiſed divers parcells of it for years. Afterwards the Queen reciting the ſaid Letters Patents, for, and in conſideration of the ſurrender, totius ſtatus et terminum annorum, de et in præmiſſis per prædict. Literas Patentes eidem H. B. conceſſ. did grant the ſaid Mannor to the ſaid H. B. for 21 years. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the ſaid ſecond Leaſe made to the ſaid H. B. was void, for all the eſtate and Term demiſed to the ſaid H. B. were not ſurrendred according to the effect of the conſideration, and it was but a ſurrender in ſhew only, and not in ſubſtance. Cook 5. Part, Barwicks Caſe.

5. See Cook 1. Part, in the Caſe of Alton woods; where the Grant of the King was void, for a miſ-recital, and not a recital of an eſtate before granted.

6. King Henry the 8th, Tranſlated the Abbot and Prior of Norwich by his Letters Patents, and created them by the name of Dean and Chapter, who ſurrendred their poſſeſſion to King E. 6. and afterwards King E. 6. encorporated them by the name of Dean and Chapter ex fundatione E. 6. and afterwards re-granted their poſſeſſions to them by the name of Dean and Chapter, Sanctæ et individuæ Trinitat. Norwich, leaving out the words (ex fundatione E. 6.) yet notwithſtanding, it was adjudged a good foundation and Tranſlation; and the re-grant of the poſſeſſion to them was good. 2. It was Reſolved, That admitting that the ancient Corporation was ſurrendred, and the new Corporation made by King E. 6. and that the words Ex fundatione Ed. 6. had bin material, were omitted: Yet it was Reſolved, That the ſaid Grant made to them, was good, notwithſtanding the Miſnomer by the Statute of 1 E. 6. of Confirmations. Cook 3. Part, 73. The Caſe of the Dean and Chapter of Norwich.

7. See Diviſion before, Sect. 10. Bozouns Caſe, Where it was Reſolved, That the Letters Patents and Grant there made, was void; and ſee there the difference in Caſes of Non obſtante in the Kings Grant: For, note there, When the King by the Common Law cannot make any grant, there a Non obſtante of the Common Law, will not againſt the reaſon of the Common Law make the Grant good: But when he may lawfully by the Common Law make a Grant, the Common Law requires that he be inſtructed, and not deceived; there a Non obſtante ſupplying it, being with the reaſon of the Common Law, makes the Grant good. 2. When the words of a Grant are not ſufficient ex ſi termini to paſs the thing granted, but the thing is utterly void, there an Non obſtante cannot make the void grant good, and therefore in that principal Caſe of Bozonne, becauſe J. S. never had any parcel of the Tythes, the Grant ex ſi termini was void. Cook 4. Part, Bozouns Caſe.

8. The King granted Licenſe to tranſport Bellmettle Non obſtante any Statute made, or to be made. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That for the Statutes to be after made, it was void; but the King may diſpenſe in things to come wherein he hath an Inheritance by a ſpecial Non obſtante. P. 34 H. 8. Dyer, 52.

9. A man held a Menalty of the King by Knight-Service in Capite, and the Tenant held certain Lands of the Meſne in Knight-Service, and alſo held other Lands of the Dutchy of Cornwall in Knight-Service; The King granted the Dutchy to his eldeſt Son ſimul cum Wardis et maritagiis Non obſtante the Statute of Prerogativa Regis, the Meſne dyed, and his Heir in Ward to the King; the Tenant alſo dyed, his Heir within age. It was holden in that Caſe, That the King ſhould have the Prerogative of the Ward of the body and Marriage becauſe of the Ward, for that general words in the Kings Patents ſhall not extend to ſpecial Caſes, ſet, notwithſtanding words of Non obſtante be in the Letters Patents. Mich. 10 Eliz. Dyer, 269.

10. If A. giveth the Mannor of D. to B. in tail, and afterwards the Donor is Attainted of Treaſon, by which the King is ſeiſed of the Reverſion; and afterwards by his Patent granteth Manerium de D. to another and his Heirs; in that Caſe, although the King granteth the Mannor of D. as in poſſeſſion, yet the Reverſion ſhall paſs, for the King had an eſtate (the Reverſion in Fee in him) grantable. And in ſuch Caſe, the eſtate tail by a common perſon, needed not to be recited. Cook 6. Part, 56. in the Lord Chandois Caſe. And it is not like the Caſe of Alton woods, for there the King was not Conuſant, nor enformed of the true eſtate, ſcil. that he was ſeiſed in tail with the Reverſion expectant to his Heirs and Succeſſors; and his grant in that Caſe cannot take effect by fractions of eſtates or wrong done. See the Caſe there.

11. King E. 6. was ſeiſed of the Mannor of C. of which a Wood containing 300 Acres was parcel: King E. 6. by his Letters Patents granted the ſaid Wood in Fee, and afterwards the ſaid wood eſcheated to him for Treaſon: Afterwards the Queen granted the ſaid Wood in Fee, and by her Letters Patents granted the ſaid Mannor et omnes boſcos, modo vel ante hac cognit vel reputat. ut pars, membr. vel parcel ejuſdem Manerii to the Earl of Leiceſter in Fee; although in truth before the ſeverance made of the Wood by King E. 6. It was alwayes parcel of the Mannor, yet in good propriety of ſpeech it was there cognit ut pars et membrum dict. Manerii; for although that (ut) is a word of ſimilitude, and not of identity; yet truth is the more ſure foundation; and therefore it was adjudged, That the Wood did paſs. 20 Eliz. Dyer, 361.

12. See Sect. 16. before, Legats Caſe. That when the King grants any thing upon a falſe inſinuation or ſuggeſtion, ſuch a grant of the King is void; and there it is ſaid, That this is a high Prerogative of the King, that when he makes any ſuch Grants upon falſe ſuggeſtions or informations, they are void, jure regio. So when upon falſe inſinuations or pretexts, he makes any grant, as of any Monopoly, which in truth is to the prejudice of the King and Commonwealth, the King ſhall avoid ſuch Grant. And note, It is there obſerved, That Grants of Perpetuities, Monopolies, Grants of Concealment, and the like, were born under an unfortunate conſtellation, becauſe ſo ſoon as ever they were drawn in queſtion, Judgment was alwayes given againſt them, and never for them, they having two inſeparable qualities incident to them, viz. to be troubleſome and fruitleſs. Cook 10. Part, 109.

13. King E. 2. by his Letters Patents granted the Caſtle and Mannor of Skipton to Robert de Clifford in tail; and afterwards King H. 6. granted Th. Domino Clifford, who was Heir of the body of Robert de Clifford, reverſionem Caſtri et Manerii pradict. necnon Caſtrum et Manerium pradict. Reſolved in this Caſe, That admitting that the Grant to Robert de Clifford was void; yet the ſaid Caſtle and Mannor did paſs by the ſaid laſt grant made to the ſaid Tho. Lord Cliffo d in Feeſimple, for that the intent of King Henry the 6th was, That be the Mannor in poſſeſſion or Reverſion, that the Mannor ſhould paſs, and with that his intent, the words do agree; for firſt, he grants the Reverſion, if the firſt eſtate tail was good; and if it was not good, then he Grants the Caſtle and Mannor in poſſeſſion; and ſo in that Caſe the words in the Letters Patents agree with the Kings intention, and both agree with the Law. Cook 8. Part, 166. The Earl of Cumberlands Caſe.

14. Queen Eliz. Anno 19 of her Reign, granted to F. G. the Office of Clark of the Councel of the Marches of Wales for his life; And by another Patent Anno 25. Granted to him the Office of Secretary there. The King, 1 Jac. without recital of theſe Patents, Granted the ſaid Offices to Sir F. G. for life. And after 9 Jac. the King reciting the ſaid Grant 1 Jac. Grants thoſe Offices to J. S. for life, when after the death, ſurrender or forfeiture of the ſaid Sir F. G. they ſhould become void. After by other Letters Patents 14 Jac. reciting the Patent of 1 and 9 Jac. and omitting the Grants of 19 and 25 Eliz. the King granted the ſaid Offices to B. and C. habendum for their lives cum poſt mortem of the ſaid Sir F. G. or J. S. ſurrender, forfeiture, vel alio quocunque modo the ſaid Offices ſhould be void, or come to the Kings hands, Non obſtante male nominando, or malerecitando, or à male nominando Offic. pradict. and notwithſtanding any gift or Grant before made of the Offices aforeſaid, It was Reſolved in this Caſe by all the Juſtices and Barons. 1. That the Patent 1 Jac. was void, and that the Patents 19 and 25 Eliz. were good. Then Sir F. G. being Patentee, and he being alive, and he accepting a new Patent in 1 Jac. and not reciting the former, nor any Non obſtante being therein, it was clearly void. 2. Reſolved, That the Patent of 9 Jac. reciting the Patent of 1 Jac. is a good Grant, which is void, no Non obſtante being therein, was void. 3. Reſolved, That the Patent 14 Jac. was void, becauſe it recites the two Patents which were void, and omits the two Patents of 19 and 25 Eliz. which were good; ſo as the King was deceived in his Grant, and miſinformed; for they were falſe recitals, or falſe ſuggeſtions, and were not made good by the Non obſtante in the Letters Patents mentioned. 3. Where the Kings Grant shall be void to all intents, because he was deceived in his Grant, and not appriſed of the Law, or of his Grant: And if the Kings Grant may enure to two intents, to what intent it shall be conſtrued. And where the Kings Grant ſhall be void for incertainty; Where not.

1. THe King being Tenant in tail of the Manor of A; with the Reverſion in Fee to him and his heirs, by force of an Attainder, by his Letters Patents granted the ſaid Mannor to W. W, and the heirs males of his body: In this Caſe, It was holden, That the Grant was void; for that the intent of the King in his Grant could not take effect: for he intended to grant an Eſtate tail; and that he could not do, becauſe he had but an Eſtate tail himſelf: and the largeſt Eſtate that Tenant in tail may grant, is but for his own life. Cook 1. Part, 44. in the Caſe of Alton Woods.

2. If the King hath the Cuſtody of Land, or a Leaſe for yeats of Land; and by his Letters Patents grants the Land to another and his heirs, the Grant is void, and by conſtruction ſhall not amount to a grant of his Eſtate or Intereſt. The King licenced his Tenant to alien to two Chaplains, and their heirs; and he who aliened, had but an Eſtate in tail, the Reverſion to the King: and becauſe the King was deceived when he gave the Licence to alien to them and their heirs, in as much as he was not conuſant of his Eſtate, his Licence was utterly void, and the Land was ſeiſed into the Kings hands; and it did not enure to ſo much, as to alien what he might lawfully alien; 21 Aſs. 15.

3. The Kings Grants ſhall be conſtrued ſecundum intentionem Domini Regis, et non in deceptione Domini Regis; ſo as if the King be deceived, that his Grant cannot take effect as he intended it, by his expreſſe Grant, it ſhall be void. And therefore it was adjudged, That whereas King Henry the 7th was ſeiſed of the Manors of Ryton and Coudor in the County of Salop: and he by his Letters Patents granted totum illud Manerium de Ryton et Coudor in Com. Salopiæ, That the Grant was void; becauſe the King was deceived in his Grant. Trin. 29 Eliz. in the Exchequer, adjudged. So 39 Eliz. it was; Where the Queen was ſeiſed of the Mannors of Milborne and Sapperton in the County of Lincoln, and the Queen did grant totum illud Manerium de Milborn cum Sapperton in Com. Lincoln, that nothing did paſſe by the Grant; although both the ſaid Grants were made ex certa Scientia et mero motu: And yet in the caſe of a Common perſon, ſuch Grants had been good.

See Cook 5. Part, 94. Barwick's Caſe, Diviſion 2. Sect. 4. before.

4. A Tenant for life of the Mannor of D, to which a Rectory, to which a Benefice with Cure, is appendant, the Remainder to the Queen in Fee: A. preſents D, who is Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted, and doth not read the Articles: for which Cauſe, at the Suit of A, he was deprived before the Archbiſhop: and he appealed to the Court of Arches, no Notice being given by the Ordinary, to the Patron, of the ſaid deprivation: A. dyed, The Queen by Title of Lapps preſented E, who was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted: D. dyed; B. preſented, who was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted; B. entred into the Rectory, and took the profits; G. brought Treſpaſſe: In this Caſe (amongſt other Points) it was Reſolved, That if the King be deceived in his Preſentation, or miſtake his Preſentation, that the Preſentation is void: and therefore a Preſentment obtained from the King, depending a Quare Impedit, is void, à fortiori, when the King hath not Title to preſent by any means: and he preſents ratione Laſûs, the Preſentation is void. 2. It was Reſolved, In ſuch Caſes, although the Biſhop Admit, Inſtitute, and Induct the Incumbent, yet the Church remains void. and the lawful Patron is not put to his Quare Impedit, to remove ſuch Incumbent. 3. Reſolved, That if a Common perſon uſurp upon the King, and his Clerk is Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted; the King in ſuch caſe is put to his Quare Impedit, and cannot preſent, untill the Incumbent be removed: but yet in ſuch caſe, the Common perſon doth not gain by his uſurpation the Inheritance of the Advowſon out of the King; for that remains permanent in him; but as to the Preſentment only, the King is put out of poſſeſſion. Cook 6. Part, 29, 30. Greens Caſe.

5. The Queen, Tenant for the life of another, made a Leaſe for 40. years; It was Reſolved, That although in that caſe, that the Queen having but a Leaſe for the life of another, cannot abſolutely contract for a Leaſe for 40. years; yet without recital or mentioning the Eſtate for life, the Leaſe is good: for the Leaſe for years is in Judgment of Law, leſſe then the Leaſe for the life of another, and the Queen hath not done any wrong or prejudice to any by the demiſe, and is not deceived in her Grant; for in judgment of the Law, it is a Leaſe Leaſe for 40. years, if Ceſtuy Que vye, ſo long live: but if the Queen had granted a greater Eſtate then ſhe lawfully might; as an Eſtate tail, or a Fee; then, becauſe ſhe could not do it, ſhe was deceived, and by conſequence her Grant void. Cook 7. Part, 12. in Englefield's Caſe.

6. The King by his Letters Patents granted the Office of his Park, called Clipſon Park, to A. for life; and by the ſame Letters Patents granted the Herbage and Pawnage of the ſaid Park to A. for his life; and afterwards the King by other Letters Patents reciting the Eſtate of the ſaid A, granted to B. prædict. Officium Cuſtodis Parci prædict. vocat. Clipſon Park for his life, quam cito per mortem, ſurſum reddit. forisfact. aut aliquo modo vacaverit with all Fees; and by the ſame Letters Patents granted to B. the Herbage and Pawnage for his life (without ſhewing when the Eſtate of the Herbage and Pawnage ſhould begin), adeo plenè et integrè prout prad ict. A. habuit, tenuit, five poſſeſſus fuit: In this Caſe, (amongſt other Points) it was Reſolved, That the King was not deceived in his Grant; for, in as much as he recited the Eſtate of the Tenant for life, the Grant ſhould take effect as it could by Law, and therefore it ſhould take effect in Reverſion: and the King miſtook nothing, nor took a greater Eſtate upon him then he might grant; and when the King's Grant may be taken to two Intents, it ſhall be taken to ſuch intent as may make the Grant good: and there was no incertainty in the ſaid Grant of the Herbage and Pawnage, when it ſhould take effect in poſſeſſion; for it ſhall begin, when the firſt Grant ſhall be ended or determined: and although the ſame may happen after death, ſurrender or forfeiture; yet it ſhall determine but once, and when the firſt of them ſhall happen, the Grant ſhall begin. Cook 8. Part, 55, 56. The Earl of Rutland's Caſe.

See Diviſion 1. Sect. 14. the Lord Stafford's Caſe, for this Diviſion.

7. The King, Lord, Abbot, Meſne, and C. Tenant of the Manor of D; the Tenant is attainted of Treaſon, and after Office found, the King by his Letters Patents grants over the Manor to B, and his Heirs, Tenendum de Nobis et ſucceſſoribus noſtris et aliis Capitalibus Dominis feodi illius per Servitia inde debita, et de jure conſueta, It was Objected in this caſe, That the Tenure ſhould be of the King, becauſe by the Attainder the Meanalty was extinct, and therefore nulla ſervitia, were debita, aut de jure Conſueta. And, 2. There is an expreſſe Tenure of the King, and Land cannot be immediately holden of divers perſons. But it was Reſolved in this caſe, 1. That the words were ſufficient to create a Tenure in the Meſne; for ſuch was the intent of the King, that the Meſne who did not offend, ſhould not loſe his Services, and the Grant of the King ſhall be taken moſt beneficially for the honour of the King, and for the relief of the Meſne. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Tenure ſhould be immediately of the Meſne, and of the King as Lord Paramount, as it was before the Attainder. Cook 6. Part, 5. Sir John Molins Caſe.

See Diviſion 2. Sect. 13. the Earl of Cumberland's Caſe, for this Diviſion.

8. In an Information of Intruſion, the Caſe was; The King was ſeiſed of a Rectory, and by his Letters Patents demiſed it to the Wardens of the Church of S. for 21. years; and afterwards the King by other Letters Patents reciting the ſaid Leaſe; which Letters Patents, and all their Eſtate, Intereſt, and Term of years Gardiani prædict. modo habentes et ea ad præſens poſſidentes nobis ſurſum reddiderant et reſtituerant cancellanda, quam quidem ſurſum redditionem acceptamus, in Conſideratione ſurſum redditionis prædict. and for the Fine of 20 l. ad recept. Scaccarii per præfat. Gardianos at the time of the making thereof, demiſed the ſaid Rectory to the ſaid Guardians of the ſaid Church for 50 years: And it was found, that the Guardians of the ſaid Church at the time of the making of the ſaid Leaſe for 50. years, did ſurrender and yield up the ſaid Letters Patents to be cancelled, and paid the Fees in the Chancery for the Cancelling of them; but no vacat. was made of the enrollment of them, and becauſe the Defendants entred into the Rectory by force of the ſecond Leaſe, was the Information: In this caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. That there needed not any actual Surrender, becauſe that theſe words [modo habentes ut ad præſens poſſidentes,] proved, that at the making of the ſaid Letters Patents, the Wardens had the Leaſe for years in their hands, and by the accepting of the new Leaſe, their Eſtate for years was ſurrendred; and in Judgment of Law, the Surrender did precede the new Grant, and the King in this caſe was not prejudiced in Eſtate, intereſt, value, or remedy; And a Corporation may by act in Law ſurrender their Term without Writing. 2. Reſolved, That the Delivery made by the Guardians of the Letters Patents in Chancery, to be cancelled by their own hands, without writing, was good, and all they ought to do; and the Lord Chancellor or his Officers, ought to have cancelled the ſame. 3. Reſolved, That the Conſideration of the payment of 20 l. need not to be found; for it is but a thing in the perſonalty, and the King hath affirmed by his Letters Patents to be ſatisfied.

ſatisfied thereof: And ſo it was adjudged, That there was not Intruſion upon the King; nor could the King make void the ſaid Leaſe for 50 years. Cook 10. Part, 67. The Caſe of the Wardens of the Church of St. Saviours in Southwark.

9. The King by his Letters Patents, 9 Jac. granted and aſſigned to J.S. ſuch and ſo many of the debts, duties, arrearages, and ſums of money being upon Record in his Exchequer, Court of Wards, Dutchy, or other Court of Record, in any year, or ſeveral years, from the laſt year of Henry the 8th, to the 13th year of Queen Elizabeth, as ſhall amount to 1000 l: To have, receive, and recover the ſaid debts, duties, arrearages, and ſums of money to the ſaid J. S. his Executors and Adminiſtrators and Aſſigns. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Grant was void for the incertainty: for, by Grant, no debt incertain may paſſe, if it cannot paſſe by the grant at the beginning: As if the King hath 100. Acres of Land in D, and he granteth a man 20. Acres of the Land in D, without deſcribing of them by the Rent, Occupation, or Name, &c. this Grant is void: and in caſe of the King, the Patentee ſhall not have Election, as he ſhall have in the caſe of a Common perſon; but in the caſe of the King, if the 20 Acres are deſcribed, or by abuttals, or by name certain in the Particular, it is a good demonſtration, which 20. Acres ſhall paſſe. It was Reſolved, 2. That in this caſe by force of the words, Arrearages, he ſhall not have Arrearages of Rents, Reliefs, and mean rates of Lands in the Court of Wards. 3. If there be words in the Letters Patents which do explain what arrearages the King intends; as if he ſay particularly, Arrearages of Rents, Reliefs, Tenths, or annual payments whatſoever, untill 1000 l. be paid; the ſame hath well explained the Kings meaning, and they ſhall paſſe by ſuch Letters Patents. Trin. 9 Jac. in the Court of Wards, Stockdales Caſe. Cook 12. Part, 86.

4. What things the King may grant by his Letters Patents; and what not: And where things in action or poſſibility; Where not: And what, and where they ſhall paſſe by general words in the Letters Patents: or muſt have expreſſe words to paſſe there; Where not.

1. THe King by his Letters Patents, granted gubernationem et Cuſtodiam of the Lands of a Lunatique, without an accompt to be rendred for the ſame; but the certainty of the Lands were not found by the Commiſſion: The Grantee was impleaded. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Patentee ſhould not have Aide of the King. Hill. 28 H.8. Dyer, 25.

2. A man held a Mannor of the King, to which there were Royal Franchiſes belonging, as to have Eſcheat of Treaſons of all thoſe who held of the ſaid Mannor; and one held another Manor of the ſame Manor, to which an Advowſon was appendant; and he who held the Mannor of the King, was attainted of Treaſon; for which cauſe, the King ſeiſed the ſaid Manor; and afterwards he who held the other Manor to which the Advowſon was appendant, was attainted of Treaſon, and the King ſeiſed that Manor; and afterwards the King granted the Manor which was holden of him cum Advocationibus eidem pertinent. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Advowſon did not paſſe with that Mannor, but was appendant as it was before. See 6 E. 3. vouch. Mich. 30 H. 8. Dyer, 44.

3. The King made a Leaſe of the Scite of an Abby, by theſe words, ſcil. Necnon omnia terras, prata, paſtura, et ſubſcript. cum pertinentiis nuper Monaſterio pertinent. viz. ſuch a Cloſe, ſuch a Cloſe, ſuch a Cloſe; and ſo naming divers Cloſes: and whether the word (viz.) ſhould have reference to the word ſubſcript, or to the whole ſentence, viz. to omnia, was the Queſtion? It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That it ſhould have relation but to the ſubſcript, which was the particular Cloſes; and if any other Lands were belonging to the ſaid Monaſtery, that the Grantee ſhould not have them. Mich. 6 E. 6. Dyer, 77.

4. Note. It was holden by the Juſtices, That the King by no Grant or means can ſever a Tenure in Chief from the Crown, for that no Subject can take it with ſuch Prerogative. And therefore, if the the King doth releaſe to his Tenant in Capite, to hold by a Grant, and not in Capite, it is a void Releaſe, becauſe it is a thing meerly incident to the Perſon and Crown of the King: And if at this day, the King makes a guift in tail, to hold of him in Capite, and afterwards grants the Reverſion of that Land to another in Fee, the Tenure nor Service ſhall not paſſe to the Grantee, but ſhall remain to the King, becauſe they are not incident to the Reverſion, but to the perſon of the King. Mich. 30 H. 8. Dyer, 45.

5. If a man be in Execution, ſub ſalva Cuſtodia; he cannot be diſcharged out of Execution by any Writ of Protection granted by the King. Trin. 5 Ma. Dyer, 162.

6. The King, after Inſtitution, and before his Induction of the Clark, may revoke his preſentation, but ſo cannot a common perſon. Cook 6. Part, Greens Caſe, 18 Eliz. Dyer, 348. and 16 Eliz. Dyer, 327. acc.

7. A. Tenant of Prince Arthur as Earl of Cheſter in Knights-Service in Capite, dyed; B. his eldeſt Son in Ward; B. dyed without Iſſue: Afterwards upon a Devenerant, C. was found brother and heir to B, and within age; C. at full age purſued his Livery, by a Writ to the Eſcheator, by the name of C, ſon and heir of A: It was a Queſtion, If the Lands continued in the Queen, or not; or that the Livery ſued was good? It was adjudged, That they did not; but that it was a good Livery, although he had not been named Heir to any of them: and now in truth he is heir to his Father, his brother being dead without Iſſue: and by making Livery, the King doth not part with any thing which is his own, but doth that thing only which in Juſtice he is bounden to do. And therefore if an Advowſon be appendant to a Manor, and the King makes Livery of the Manor, the Advowſon ſhall paſſe by the Livery, although it ſhall not be expreſly named: which would be otherwiſe in the Caſe of a Grant made by the King. Mich. 20 Eliz. Dyer, 360.

8. Before the Statute of Prærogativa Regis, by general Grant of the King, Knights Fees, Dowers, and Advowſons, have paſſed: but by the ſaid Statute of Prærogativa Regis, Cap. 15. they are reſtrained, if they be not granted by expreſſe words. Cook 1. Part, in the Caſe of Alton Woods, 50.

9. King Ed. 6. by his Letters Patents granted the Mannor of C. to Owen in Socage, rendring 9 l. Rent: Queen Mary granted parcel of the ſaid Rent to Husband and Wife in tail, the Reverſion in Fee being in the Crown: and afterwards the ſaid Queen reciting the ſaid Grant, granted the Reverſion of the ſaid Rent, to the ſaid husband and wife Tenendum in Capite: Owen purchaſed the ſaid Rent, by which it was extinct, and dyed ſeiſed of the Manor; his Son by his Will deviſed the ſame for payment of his debts, and dyed, his heir of full age: It was Objected in this Caſe, That although the Rent was extinct betwixt the parties, yet it ſhould be in eſſe as to the King for the benefit of his Tenure. Yet it was Reſolved, That the Deviſe was good for the whole Land; For Owen was not a perſon having the Rent at the time of the making of the Will; but was a perſon having the Mannor, and that being holden in Socage, the Deviſe was good for the whole. 29 Eliz. in Cur. Wardorum. Carr's Caſe, vouch. in Cook 3. Part, 31. in Butler and Bakers Caſe.

10. The King ſeiſed of a Mannor to which an Advowſon was appendant, Leaſed the ſaid Mannor (without ſpeaking of the Advowſon) for life; And afterwards granted the Reverſion Habendum una cum Advocatione: It was holden in that Caſe, That the Advowſon did not paſſe; for that during the life of the Leſſee, it was not appendant. Out of which Note, That if a man granteth an Advowſon appendant for life, the Reverſion is appendant to the Manor: But when a man Leaſeth the Mannor for life, excepting the Advowſon, the Advowſon in poſſeſſion cannot be appendant to the Mannor expectant upon an Eſtate for life. 38 H. 6. 33. Cook 5. Part, 11. in Ives Caſe.

11. A Right to certain Lands eſcheats to the King by the Attainder of the Diſſeiſee; the King after the death of the Diſſeiſor, grants by his Letters Patents, ex gratia ſpeciali certa ſcientia et mero motu, all the Lands, Tenements, Rights, and Hereditaments, which he hath by the Attainder of the Diſſeiſee. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That a bare right did not paſſe by the general words, but there ought to have been a ſpecial recital of them by expreſſe words. Cook 3. Part, 2. in the Marqueſſe of Winchester's Caſe. See H. 8. Br. Chief in Action, 14. and 8 Eliz. Dyer, Cromers Caſe.

12. King Ed. 6. by his Letters Patents ex certa Scientia, et mero motu, did grant to Crouch, Omnes terras Dominicales Manerii de Willow. It was adjudged, That the Cuſtomary Lands held by Coppy, being parcel of the ſaid Manor, did not paſſe; and yet they are in Law parcel of the Demeans of the Mannor. Bridgman, 14. acc.

13. The King ſeiſed of a Mannor to which an Advowſon was appendant, a ſtranger preſented, and his Clark was in by 6. moneths, the King not knowing of it: Afterwards the King by his Letters Patents granted the Manor with the Advowſon to a ſtranger, the Incumbent dyed; If the Grantee might preſent, was the Queſtion? It was holden by the Court, That he might; for the Advowſon was alwayes appendant to the Inheritance, and with that ſhall paſſe to the Grantee: For if a Common perſon be ſeiſed of a Mannor to which an Advowſon is appendant, and a ſtranger preſents, and his Clark is in by 6. moneths; now the Advowſon is diſcontinued untill the other hath recontinued by a Writ of Right of Advowſon; but it is not ſo in the Kings Caſe: for a man cannot put the King out of poſſeſſion by preſentment or uſurpation; but the Patentee ſhall not have a Quare Impedit of the firſt diſturbance, for that remains in the King, becauſe the King hath not given it, being a thing in action, unleſſe he make mention of it in his Grant. And it was agreed in this Caſe, That the Patentee ſhould have the next avoidance, and in a Quare Impedit ſhould make his Title by the laſt preſentment of the King, without making mention of the preſentment of the ſtranger. Mich. 14 Eliz. Hob. 140.

14. Note. It was holden by the Juſtices, That the King cannot grant, no not to the Queen, to hold a Court in Equity, nor can ſuch Court be holden by preſcription; For the King cannot grant any thing in derogation of the Common-Law, but tenere placitum, according to the courſe of Law, may be granted and preſcribed in; and the Chancery of Cheſter, and Durham, are incidents to a County Palatine, which had Jura Regalia. See 13 Jac. in C.B. Martin and Marſhall's Caſe. Hob. 63.

15. The Eſtates and perſons of Idiots and Lunatiques, are by Law entruſted to the King; and therefore, If the King ſhould grant to one that intrudeth upon the poſſeſſions of an Idiot or Lunatique, or taketh their perſons unlawfully, that he would not meddle with them, but ſuffer them to do their pleaſure; theſe were void Grants. See Hob. 155. in Colt and Glovers Caſe, acc. So if the King having a Lapps, ſhould grant to an Intruder, that he would not preſent to the Church; Or if one ſhould uſurp upon the Kings Lapps, and the King ſhould grant to the Uſurper, that he would not remove his Clark; this were a breach of the truſt repoſed in him as well for the benefit of the true Patron, as for the good of the Church: for by this means the Patron ſhould loſe his Patronage. Hob. ibid.

16. A Lapſe cannot be granted over as a grant of the next Lapps of ſuch a Church, before it fall, or after: If the Lapſe Incur, and then the Ordinary dye, the King ſhall preſent, and not the Executors of the Ordinary: for it is rather an adminiſtration then intereſt; and if the Patron preſent, and his Clerk be Inſtituted, and remain without Induction 18. moneths, the King ſhall not preſent him upon Lapps, as he may do upon a direct Patronage accruing to him by guard of Temporalties, or of his Tenants heirs after Inſtitution, and before Induction: and a Lapps is an Act and Office of Truſt repoſed in the King, who is cuſtumg ſtabilimentum Juſtitiæ, the end of which Truſt, is to provide the Church of a Rector in default of the Patron: and therefore as the King cannot transfer this Truſt to another, ſo he cannot divert the thing with which he is truſted to any other purpoſe; and therefore although he may ſuffer the Church to ſtand void, which is culpa; yet the King cannot grant, or bind himſelf that he will not fill the Church: for that were Injuria, et malum in ſe. See in Colt and the Biſhop of Coventry and Lichfield's Caſe, Hob. 154.

17. The Queen granted to Sir William Cordall, the Cuſtody of the Heir of one K, et omnium terrarum to him diſcending or appertaining as Son and Heir of the ſaid K; if the ſaid K. happen to dye his ſon and heir being within age: Afterwards K. conveyed his Lands to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after his deceaſe, to the uſe of his Wife in tail, the remainder to the right heirs of him and his Wife. Afterwardt K. and his Wife made a Leaſe for 40. years, and ſuffered a Common Recovery for the Aſſurance of the Leaſe: The Husband having Iſſue a Son within age, dyed; after the Wife dyed: all which was found by Office. It was holden in this Caſe, That the Grantee ſhould have the Wardſhip of the body, and Marriage of the Heir, which was veſted immediately after the death of K, by the Saving of the Acts of 32 & 34 H. 8. of title of Ward, to the King; but he ſhall not have the third part of the Lands by the Grant: for he had the tail and Fee expectant now by diſcent from the wife: And it was holden in that caſe, That the Heir muſt avoid the Leaſe, for that the wife had nothing in the Freehold at the time of the Recovery. Trin. 8 Eliz. Dyer, 252. Kniſton's Caſe.

18. The Archbiſhop of Canterbury had catalla Felonum within his Mannor of D; he committed Treaſon; and afterwards the Queen made a Grant to the Almnor of all goods of Felo de ſe: after, the Biſhop was Attainted: Hales, who had a Leaſe for years, became Felo de ſe; the Queen granted the Leaſe: the Queſtion was, Whether the Patentee ſhould have the Leaſe or the Almner? It is left a Quære, in Dyer, 308. But ſee that Quære now Reſolved: for it is ſaid in Cook 1. Part, 50. that the Patentee ſhall have it, and not the Almner. And in that caſe, it was ſaid, That the King might grant that which was not in him at the time; as the King may grant the Wardſhip of an Heir when it ſhall happen; or the Temporalties of a Biſhop when they ſhall fall. But other Juſtices held, That it was otherwiſe of other Eſcheats. Quære. 2 Ma. Dyer, 108. Hales Caſe.

19. The Queen under the great Seal of the Court of Wards, granted the Lands of T. her Ward.

Ward to Willoughby, To have during the Minority of T, or any other his heir male: It was decreed in that case in the Court of Wards, That the Statute of 32 H. 8. of Erection of the Court of Wards, did not give any authority to grant Wards, which might after happen; but onely Wardships in possession during their minorities, and after untill Livery be sued; Or if the Ward dyeth, untill Office found of the next Ward. Quere; for by the Case next before, It seems that such a grant of a Ward is good, being made by the King. Hill. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 178.

20. The King granted by his Charter, That all manner of Ships coming to such a Haven laden with Merchandizes, should be unladen at such a certain place, and not elsewhere, to the intent that the King might be answered his Customes, and the Grant holden good. 2 E. 3. John de Britains Case, vouch. in Cook 5. Part, 63. in the Case of the Chamberlain of London.

21. The King cannot grant to any other to make of Strangers born, Denizens: For the Law esteems it a point of high Prerogative, Jus Majestatis, et inter insignia summæ potestatis, to make Aliens born, Subjects and Denizens of the Realm; and it is a thing inseparably and individably annexed to his Royal Person. And therefore, by the Statute of 27 H. 8. Cap. 24. many ancient Prerogatives as Flowers of the Crown, as authority to pardon Treasons, Murder, Manslaughter and Felony; Power to make Justices in Eyre, Justices of Assise, Justices of Peace, Oyer and Terminer, and of Gaol-Delivery, which had been severed from the Crown, were thereby again re-united to the Crown; but, authority to grant Letters of Denization, was never mentioned therein to be resumed; for that it never had been claimed by any, by any pretext whatsoever. Cook 7. Part, 25. in Calvin's Case.

5. Of Graunts of the King of Offices; and to give Lands in Mortmain, where they shall be good; Where not: And how, and by what words they may be granted; and where for life, lives, or years: And where in Fee; Where not.

1. IN the time of the vacancy of the Chief Justice of the Court of Common-Pleas: Queen Mary granted the Office of Exigenter of London: It was holden by the Justices, That the Grant was void, for the said Office was incident to the Office and place of the Chief Justice of the said Court of Common-Pleas, and the Queen her self might not use it, nor grant it. Mich. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 175. Scrogges Case.

2. The Queen by her Letters Patents granted the Office of the Forrest of W. to A. and B. for their lives; which Letters Patents were enrolled in the Exchequer: A. surrendred the Letters Patents, B. being beyond the Sea, in the Chancery, which was cancelled there, and a remembrance made thereof in dorso: but it was not cancelled there. Afterwards, the Queen granted the said Office to J. S, reciting the former Surrender to have been in the names of A. and B: B. returns, and prayed a Conſtat, and required the Keeper of the Great Seal to grant a Certiorari to remove the Record of the Enrolment out of the Exchequer into the Chancery. And the Opinion of the Court was, That he might have it: by the purview of the Statute of 4 E. 6. Cap 4.

3. If the Patentee of the King be removed, and put out of an Office granted him by the King, by reason of later Letters Patents; the first Patentee shall have a Scire facias, to shew cause, why the later Letters Patents should not be revoked: and if upon the Return of the Scire facias, he cannot shew any cause why the latter Letters Patents should not be revoked and made void; Judgment shall be given for the forfeiture of his said Office, and that the Letters Patents, and the Enrolment thereof shall be void. Pasch. 3 Eliz. Dyer, 197. And see, Cook 1. Part, 51. If Letters Patents granted by the King, are void; although that in our Books it appears, that Scire facias is brought to have the Letters Patents repealed of Record, and to be cancelled; yet in Law, the Letters Patents and Grants are void ab initio.

4. The Queen by her Letters Patents, granted the Office of Clerk of the County Court to Mitton, with all Fees for the Term of his life, and afterwards Constituted A. Sheriff of the said County; who claiming the said Clerkship to be incident to his Office, appointed another man to be Clerk there: It was adjudged in that Case, That the Grant of the Queen by Patent was void: For it was Resolved, 1. That the Sheriff is an Ancient Officer of the Realm; and when the King hath made such an Officer, he cannot abridg the Sheriff of any thing which is incident unto or belonging to his Office: Also, the Office of Sheriff is an entire thing, and it cannot be determined in part; for it ought to continue entire without fraction or diminution; unlesse it be divided by Act of Parliament. 2. Resolved, That the County Court is incident to the Office of Sheriff. 3. Resolved, If such grant of the Queen should be good, many Inconveniences would arise, for then the Records might be imbezelled; and yet the Sheriff, to whom the entry of them doth belong, ſhould be put to anſwer for them: and the Certificate of all Records out of the County-Court doth belong to the Sheriff. Cook 4. Part, 33. Mitton's Caſe.

5. The King granted the Office of Keeper of his Park of A. to J. S. for his life; and by other Letters Patents granted him the Herbage and Pawnage of the ſaid Park for his life: and after reciting the ſaid Letters Patents, granted the ſaid Office of Keeper to J. D. after the death, ſurrender, or forfeiture, in as ample manner as J. S. enjoyed it. It was adjudged a good Grant, in reverſion of the Park to J. D: And in that Caſe, it was Reſolved, That the King cannot grant the Reverſion of an Office which another hath for his life: But the King reciting the Eſtate which ſuch a one hath for life, may grant the ſaid Office Habendum poſt mortem, &c. And when one is Officer for life, if the King without recital grant the ſame to another, the Grant is void: otherwiſe, if the King do recite the particular Eſtate for life. Cook 8. Part, 55. The Earl of Rutland's Caſe.

6. The King granted the Office of Marſhall of the Marſhalſey of the Kings-Bench to one for life; and afterwards the King granted the Reverſion of the ſaid Office to J. S. for 21. years. The Grantee aſſigned his Intereſt to A: Tenant for life deputed J. D. his Deputy at Will, and dyed: A. by Deed aſſigned the ſaid Office to J. S: It was found by Office, that J. S. committed divers forfeitures, by ſuffering Priſoners to eſcape. In this Caſe, theſe Points were Reſolved. 1. That the King might ſeize the Office for the forfeitures, without ſuing a Scire facias. 2. Reſolved, That the ſaid Office being an Office of Truſt, could not be transferred over to another, but ought alwayes to be granted for life, and to be executed by none but by the Grantee: and therefore a Leaſe for years made of that Office is void; for then it might fall into the hands of Executors or Adminiſtrators; and in matters concerning the Adminiſtration of Juſtice, the Law will not repoſe confidence in perſons unknown. Cook 9. Part, 96. Sir George Reynell's Caſe.

7. Note. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That where, the King granted the Office of a Serjeant at Arms (to attend upon the Lord Keeper) to J. S. for life, That the King might by paroll Licence the ſaid J. S, that he might abſent himſelf from the Execution of the ſaid Office for a time; becauſe he is immediately Officer to the King himſelf, and but attendant upon the Lord Keeper: and in ſuch caſe, the King doth not depart with any Intereſt, but ſuſpends the Service of a Serjeant at Arms only for a time; And therefore it was holden, That ſuch a Licence, though but by word only, is good. But it was agreed in that caſe, That the non-attendance upon ſuch an Office, is cauſe of forfeiture of it; but then it ought to be a voluntary negligence, and not when it is with the aſſent of the King. Paſch. 21 Eliz. in Canc. Rot. 1. Mark Steward's Caſe, Cook 9. Part, 99, 100.

8. King Henry 8. granted to A. and B. Officium unius Auditorum Curiæ ſuæ Wardorum, Habendum to the ſaid A. and B. conjunctim et diviſim pro termino vitarum ſuarum, et eorum alte ius diutius viventis: A. dyed; Afterwards B. dyed; Queen Eliz. granted to C. and D. Officium unius Auditorum Curiæ ſuæ Wardorum; in ſuch manner, and in ſuch words, as the firſt Grant was made to A. and B: Afterwards King James granted to E. and F, Officium unius Auditorum; Habendum poſt mortem dict. C. et D. vel eorum alterius diutius viventis, vel à tempore quo Officium illud per foriſfact. ſurſum reddit. vel quomcunq; alium modo vacuerit, reciting the Grant made to C. and D: E. dyed; And afterwards the King reciting both the ſaid Grants, granted the ſaid Office to G, Habend. poſt mortem prædict. C. D. et F. vel aliquem eorum eorum qui citius mori contigerit. C. dyed, living D. F. and G: In this Caſe, theſe Points were Reſolved, 1. That the Letters Patents to A. and B, de Officio unius Auditorum Curiæ ſuæ Wardorum, were good: For, although the Statute of 32 H. 8. Cap. 46. enacts, That there ſhall be two perſons which ſhall be called Auditors of the Lands, &c. yet it is but one Office, and both are but unus Officiarius. 2. That although that two perſons Auditors, are but one Office, yet the words in the Grant, conjunctim et diviſim, et alterius eorum diutius viventis, are material: For if an Office be granted to two for the Term of their lives, without more ſaying, the Grant is void; for being an Office of Truſt, there ſhall be no Survivor of it, and therefore the words in the Grant, conjunctim, &c. ſerves to this purpoſe, That the Survivor ſhall be one of the perſons, to whom another ſhall be added. 3. Reſolved, That the ſaid Grant made to E. and F, in Reverſion, was void, becauſe an Auditor is a Judicial Officer, for they are Judges of the Court; and a Judicial Office cannot be granted in futuro. 4. Reſolved, That the Grant made to G. was void; becauſe a Judicial Office cannot be granted in Reverſion; and becauſe the ſame recites the Grant made to E. and F. as a good Grant: whereas it was void, and ſo the King was deceived in his Grant. Cook 11. Part, 3. & 4. Auditor Carles Caſe.

9. If an Office either of the grant of the King, or of a Subject, which concerns the Adminiſtration of Juſtice, or execution of Juſtice, or the Kings Revenue, or the Commonwealth, or the la-tereſt, benefit, or ſafety of the Subject; be granted to any man that is unexpert, and hath no skill or ſcience, to exerciſe or execute the ſervice, the Grant is meerly void, and the party diſabled by Law, and incapable to take the ſame. So an Enfant is not capable of the Office of the Stewardſhip of the Court of a Manor either in Poſſeſſion or Reverſion; Nor is a man though never ſo skilfull and expert, capable of a Judicial Office in Reverſion, but muſt expect untill it fall in poſſeſſion. Likewiſe hargaining or giving money, or any manner of Reward for Offices, ſhall make ſuch a Purchaſor incapable thereof; becauſe it is preſumed he will by bribery, extortion, or other indirect means, make up his purchaſe, though it be to the prejudice of the Commonwealth. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 31. See 15 Car. in B. R Young and Fowlers Caſe. Marſh, 40. Mich. 41 Eliz. Scamblers Caſe, adjudged acc. Crook 1. Part, 401.

10. The Creation, and alſo the Grant of the Office of Garter, King of Arms, belongs to the King onely, and is granted by the Kings Letters Patents: and he receives the ſaid Office and Dignity of King of Arms, with ſeverall Enſigns of Honour and Dignity: and the King in his Patent doth give him the name of Garter, King of Arms: for the words in his Patent are, Nomen tibi imponimus (viz. Garter); and further, the words in his Letters Patents of Creation and Grant, are, Creamus, Coronamus, et nomen imponimus: And therefore if he be ſued without theſe additions, of his Office of Dignity, he ſhall be diſcharged. Mich. 33 Eliz. in B. R. Dethick King of Arms Caſe, Leon. 248, 249.

6. Graunts made by the King, under what Seal they may paſſe; and under what not: And where in ſuch caſe they ſhall be good; Where not.

1. THE Statute of 27 H. 8. which eſtabliſheth the Court of Augmentations, requires, That all Grants for life or years, of all Offices concerning the Land, ſhould be ſealed with the Seal of the ſaid Court: And a Leaſe was made of Lands which was within the Survey of the Court of Augmentations, under the Great Seal, & not under the Seal of the Augmentation Court: It was doubted, 30 H.8. Dyer, if the ſaid Statute was not in the Negative, 50. But ſee that Quære more Reſolved, Cook 11. Part, 64. in Dr. Foſter's Caſe, where it is Reſolved, That the Leaſe under the Great Seal was not void. And there it is ſaid, That if it be enacted, That the younger Son ſhould have an Appeal of the death of his Father, the ſame ſhould not exclude the elder Son: becauſe there are no words of reſtraint. And ſo in the principal Caſe, their being no words of reſtraint, a Leaſe under the Great Seal, was good.

2. If Leaſes be made of Lands and poſſeſſions which are annexed to the Dutchy of Lancaſter; and lying within the County Palatine of Lancaſter, be made under the Seal of the Dutchy Court at Weſtminſter; ſuch Leaſes are void: Becauſe by the Statute of 37 H. 8. Caſe 40. ſuch Lands and poſſeſſions ought to paſſe under the Seal of the County Palatine, and not under any other Seal. Mich. 7 Eliz. Dyer, 232.

3. The King ſeiſed of a Mannor in Fee in the Right of his Crown, granted a Copyhold parcel of the ſaid Mannor to one in Fee; and after by his Letters Patents under the Exchequer Seal, made a Leaſe of thoſe Lands for 21. years: The Leſſee for years granted his Eſtate to the Copyholder: The King reciting the Leaſe for years, granted the Reverſion in Fee; the Grantee entred upon the Copyholder. In this caſe (amongſt other things) it was Reſolved, That the Leaſe under the Exchequer Seal, was good by common uſage: For the Cuſtomes of the Kings Courts are a Law, and the Common-Law takes notice of them: And a Leaſe by Order of the Exchequer by the word Committimus. Habendum tenendum et reddendum, ſuch a Rent is there good by ancient uſage. And the Law takes Notice of divers of the Kings Seals. The King Licenſeth one to make Attorney under the Privy Seal, it is good. The King may command one, Quod Ne exeat Regnum under the Privy Seal, or his Privy Signet: But a Protection is not good under the Privy Seal: The King diſcharged a Debt due to him, under the Privy Seal, and it was not good; but it ought to be under the Great Seal. See Cook 2. Part, Lanes Caſe.

4. Robert Everden Knight, brought a Writ of Privy Seal to the Juſtices, reciting, That he was a Baron, Commanding them to diſcharge him of ſwearing in Jurat. Aſſiſ. ſeu recognitionibus Quibuſcunque jur. becauſe the Barons ought not to be of any Enqueſt, or Aſſiſe, without their Will: and upon this Writ under the Privy Seal, upon good advice had, he was by the Juſtices diſcharged: 48 E. 3. 30. Cook 6. Part, 53. acc.

5. The King may ſend his Privy Seal to any Subject, to retorn into England, and to be under his ſubjection: and if it be certified, that he was ſerved with the Privy Seal, and, ſpretis mandatis Domini Regis, refuſes to Retorn, his Lands upon ſuch Retorn may be ſeiſed upon as forfeit for ſuch his contempt; 2 Eliz. Dyer, Barnes Caſe; and no

no traverſe can be taken upon it, becauſe the Privy Seal it ſelf is not upon Record; but the Queen her ſelf ſhall receive it from whoſe hands it firſt came, as alſo the Meſſage upon it; and the King or Queen her ſelf ſhall be Judge of the Contempt. See 25 Eliz. in the Exchequer-Chamber, Cater's Caſe, Leon. 9. acc.

6. Edmond de Wooſtock, 18 E. 2. went beyond Sea without the Kings Licence, with Roger de Mortimer. The King did certifie the ſame into the Chancery, reciting, That he had ſent his Privy Seal, and that the ſaid Edmond, ſpretis Mandatis noſtris redire recuſavit; whereupon a Commiſſion iſſued forth to ſeize his Lands into the Kings hands. Leon. ibid.

7. In 11 Jac. It was a Queſtion, Whether a Preſentation made by the King to an Advowſon appendant to a Manor parcell of the Dutchy under the Great Seal, were good, or not? And whether it ought not to be under the Seal of the Dutchy? It was Reſolved, That the Preſentation was good: For that the Preſentation was but the Kings Commendation of his Clerk to the Ordinary, and was not any Intereſt of the Inheritance of the Advowſon, but a thing concerning the Advowſon onely, and as a fruit fallen from the Tree; and the King might have preſented by word only: and therefore à fortiori, a preſentment under any of the Kings Seals, the Great Seal, Privy Seal, or Privy Signet, was good enough. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. the King and the Biſhop of Lincoln's Caſe. And where the King had an Advowſon in the right of his Ward, and preſented to the Advowſon under the Great Seal, and not under the Seal of the Court of Wards; ſuch Preſentation was likewiſe adjudged to be good. Mich. 8 Car. in C. B. The King and the Biſhop of Chicheſter's Caſe. See Godbolt, acc. and Hughes Parſons Law, 51. See Mich. 3 Car. in C. B. Stephens and Potters Caſe, adjudged accordingly, Cro. 1. Part, 70, 71.

8. A man Covenanted to build 3. new houſes upon ſuch Lands as were demiſed unto him, unleſſe he was reſtrained by the Kings Proclamation: In an Action of Covenant brought, the Defendant pleaded, That ſuch a day the King made a Proclamation to reſtrain buildings. The Plaintiff Demurred, Becauſe the Proclamation was not pleaded to be made ſub magno ſigillo Angliæ. The Court was of Opinion, That the Proclamation binds not, unleſſe it be under the great Seal; and if it be denyed, there can be no Iſſue upon it, but only Nul tiel Record; which cannot be, unleſſe he plead it to be ſub magno Sigillo. Hill. 5 Car. in B. R. Kyſley and Manning's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 130.

9. Upon a Special Verdict, The Queſtion was, Whether a Leaſe by the King under the Exchequer Seal, of Lands uſually demiſed to one for life, the Remainder for life, the Remainder to a third for life, reſerving the uſual Rent, was good or not? It was much inſiſted upon, That it could not be good, but under the Great Seal; for that a Freehold cannot paſſe from the King, but by a Patent under the Great Seal. But it was holden by all the Juſtices, That Leaſes for life under the Exchequer Seal, reſerving the ancient Rent, are allowable and good for the Kings benefit, that his Lands ſhall not lye unletten. And Lane's Caſe, Cook 2. Part, was vouched, That ſuch was the Courſe of that Court. Quære; For in Lane's Caſe, it was but a Leaſe made for years. Hill. 13 Car. B. R. Kemp and Barnards Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 369.

More Grants of the King.

1. THE Lord Sturton was ſeiſed of the Manor of Quincamore, and was alſo ſeiſed of the Mannor of Charleton, which was holden of the ſaid Mannor of Quincamore. The Lord Sturton was attainted of Felony; Afterwards, Queen Mary gave the ſaid Mannor of Quincamore to Sir Walter Mildmay cum omnibus ſuis juribus & parcellis. It was adjudged, That in this Caſe, the Mannor of Charleton did paſſe, becauſe it was now become parcel of the Mannor of Quincamore. Sir Walter Mildmay's Caſe, Leon. 26. vouched in March and Smith's Caſe. Paſch. 27 Eliz. in C. B.

2. The Queen ſeiſed of a great Waiſt called Ruddlesdown, in the Pariſh of Chipnam, granted to the Mayor and Burgeſſes of Chipnam, the moyty of a Yard-land within the ſaid Waiſt, without certainty in what part of the Waiſt they ſhould have the ſame, or how it was bounded, or without any certain deſcription of it. After, the Queen granted to Sir Walter Hungerford the ſaid Waiſt; Afterwards, the Mayor and Burgeſſes by Warrant of Attorney under the Common Seal, authorized H. to enter into the ſaid Waiſt, and in behalf of them to make Election of the ſaid moyty; who did ſo accordingly. In this Caſe, It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the ſaid Grant to the Mayor, &c. was utterly void, for the incertainty of the thing granted. But if a Common perſon do make ſuch a Grant, it is good enough, and there the Grantee may make his choyce; and by ſuch choice executed, the thing ſhall be reduced to a Certainty. 2. It was holden, That this Grant was not void only againſt the Queen her ſelf, but alſo alſo againſt Sir Walter Hungerford her Patentee. Trin. 27 Eliz. in B.R. Sir Walter Hungerford's Caſe, Leon. 30.

3. J. S. by Indenture between the Queen of the one part, and himſelf of the other part, reciting, That whereas he is indebted to the Queen in 800 l. to be paid as followeth; viz. 20 l. at every Feaſt of St. Michael, till the whole ſum be paid; Covenanted with the Queen, &c. to convey unto the Lord Treaſurer and Barons of the Exchequer, and their Heirs, certain Lands to the Uſes following; viz. to the uſe of the ſaid J. S. and his heirs, untill ſuch a time as J. S. his Heirs, Executors, &c. ſhould make default in payment of any of the ſaid ſums; and after ſuch default, to the uſe of the Queen, her Heirs, and Succeſſours, untill her Heirs and Succeſſors ſhould have received of the profits of the ſaid Lands ſuch ſums of money as ſhould be behind; and after the Debt ſo paid, then to the uſe of the ſaid J. S. and his heirs for ever: and J. S. levied a Fine to the ſaid Uſes; and afterwards he bargained and ſold the Lands to a ſtranger: default of payment was made; the Queen ſeiſed the Land, and granted it over to J. D. quoſuq, the money be paid; and afterwards the money is paid. Upon Conference amongſt the Judges, It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That now J. S. againſt his Indenture of Bargain and Sale, ſhould have his Lands again: for at the time of the Bargain and Sale, he had an Eſtate in Fee determinable upon default of payment ut ſupra: which Eſtate only paſſed by the Indenture of Bargain and Sale, and not the new Eſtate, which is accrued unto him by the latter limitation after the debt paid; for that was not in eſſe at the time of the Bargain and Sale: but if the Conveyance which was by Bargain and Sale, had been by Feoffment or Fine, it had been otherwiſe; for by ſuch conveyance, all poſſibilities had been carried for the forcible operation of them. Mich. 28 Eliz. at Serjants-Inne. Leon. 33.

4. King Ed. 6. was ſeiſed of the Manor of Hackney and Stepneth in Com. Middleſex; within which, was a great Marſh, called Stepneth Marſh, parcel of the Manor of Stepneth, which the King had by exchange of the Biſhop of London; and there were alſo 20. Acres of Lands lying in Stepneth Marſh, which were known by the name of Stepneth Muſh, late parcel of the poſſeſſions of the Priory of Grace; The ſaid King granted to the Lord Wentworth, Dominia ſive Maneria ſua de Hackney et Stepney, necnon omnes Mariſcos ſuos de Stepney in Stepneth prædict. necnon omnia terras et Tenementa et Mariſcos diſtis Maneriis aut certis præmiſſis pertinent. It was ſaid in this Caſe, That the 20. Acres did not paſſe, becauſe the King here hath theſe two Marſhes by ſeveral Titles; and that Muſh only ſhall paſſe, which was intended to paſſe; viz. the great Marſh, and not the 20. Acres which the King had by a ſpeciall Title, although ex vi termini the Grant may extend unto it. But it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the 20. Acres did paſſe, becauſe they are granted by a ſpecial Name; and it is not material what the value is; for who can reſtrain the bounty of the King? If the King granteth the Manor of D. to A, and further ſaith, Domus et Concedimus, ſo freely as J. S. had it; and J. S. never had it; yet the Grant is good: And in this caſe the Jury have found, That the 20. Acres are parcel of Stepney Marſh: and againſt expreſſe words, no favour ſhall be given to the King. It was adjudged againſt the Queen; An Information being brought, and Lewis and Green, the Owners and Occupiers of the ſaid 20 Acres. Hill. 30 Eliz. in B. R. rott. 10, The Queen againſt Lewis and Greens Caſe. Leon. 119, 120, 121.

5. The Queen by her Letters Patents granted the Scite of the Manor of B, lying in W; and all Lands, Paſtures, Woods, Underwoods, and Hereditaments, parcell or appertaining to the ſaid Scite, Exceptis omnibus groſſis arboribus, boſcis, et moremio: And further in the ſaid Letters Patents, there was a Proviſo, That the Leſſee ſhould have ſufficient Houſeboote and Hedgboote; and If notwithſtanding the ſaid Exception, the Leſſee ſhould have the Underwoods, was the Queſtion? It was ſaid, That the Leſſee ſhould have the Underwoods; for that is granted by expreſſe words: and the Exception extends only to groſſis arboribus: for this word [groſſis] in the Exception, extends to all that which followes; and if it was in the caſe of a Common perſon, it's clear, the Underwoods are not excepted. But the Court was of Opinion, That the Underwoods ſhould not paſſe to the Leſſee; for the Proviſo is, That the Leſſee ſhall have Houſeboot: which ſhews the Queens intent, that the Underwoods ſhould not paſſe: and if the word [boſcis] in the Exception, ſhould not extend to Underwoods, it ſhould be vain, and ſignifie nothing; which were hard, in the Caſe of the Queen. Trin. 33 Eliz. B.R. Kenſam and Rithings Caſe. Leon. 247.

6. Queen Eliz. Anno 15 of her Reign, granted to the Earl of Shrewsbury the Office of Earl Marſhal of England, and now the Earl prayed, that J. S. one of his Servants, to whom he had granted the Office of Marſhall of the Kings-Bench, might be admitted to it, becauſe the ſame is an Office incident to it, and in his power to grant; and that J. S. to whom the Queen had granted the ſaid Office of Marſhal of the Kings-Bench, by the Attainder of J. B, might be removed: And Preſidents were ſhewed, That the ſaid Office was a ſeveral Office from the Great Office. On the other ſide, Preſidents were ſhewed; firſt, in the time of E. 2. that Marſhall of the Office of the Kings Bench, was appendant to the ſaid Office of Marſhal of England. 8 R. 3. when the ſaid great Office was in the King, he granted the ſaid Office. to the Marſhall of the Kings Bench. But 20 R. 2. both Offices were re-injoyed as they were before And divers Letters Pattents of 4 E. 4. and 19 H. 8. were ſhewed, that the Inferiour Office had bin made part of the great Office. It was moved in this Caſe, That when the ſaid great Office is in the Kings hands, and the King grants the under-Office, if now the ſaid inferiour Office be ſevered from the great Office for ever. Wray, It is no ſeverance, for the chief Office is an Office of Dignity, which may remain in the King; but the under-Office is an Office of neceſſity, and the King himſelf cannot execute it, by which of neceſſity he ought to grant it. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Earl ſhould have this Office of Marſhall of the Kings Bench in his power to grant, and ſo much the rather, becauſe it was to be granted but for life. Mich. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Leon. 320, 321.

Grants: and Graunts of a Common perſon.

1. What is a ſufficient Deſcription of a Graunter, or a Grantee. Of Graunts; What good, what not; and the extent of it: And what things lye in Graunt; What not: And how Graunts ſhall be conſtrued.

1. THere are many deſcriptions of Grantors, and Grantees. 1. Names, and nominations of perſons, or Bodies Politick or Corporate, whereof there are divers ſorts, as the proper Names, or Sirnames. 2. There are deſcriptions of Grantors, or Grantees, by names of Dignity, Office, and the like: And this will admit a deſcription made good by reputation; as Land will paſs to one by the name of Son, who is a Baſtard; or by the name of Wife, which is not lawful, if they be ſo reputed or known by that name. 3. There are names that have an equivocal anuphibology in them, as the name Puer, which may go for Male or Female; and yet if it be no way cleared to the contrary, it will prima facie, be taken for a Son. Hob. 32. in Counden and Clerk Caſe. H. 10 Jac. in C. B.

2. A man made a Feoffment in Fee to two, to the uſe of himſelf and his Wife for the Term of their lives, without impeachment of Waſte, during the life of the Husband, the Remainder after their deceaſe, to the uſe of J. his Son, for the term of his life. And further vult et concedit by the ſame Deed, that the Husband, Wife, Son, and the other Feoffees ſhould be ſeiſed of the ſame Land to them and their Heirs, to the uſe of the right Heirs of the body of the Son begotten. It was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That there wanted apt words to raiſe the latter uſe. As if a man Bargain and ſell his Reverſion of Tenant for life, by words of Bargain and Sale only, the Reverſion ſhall not paſs, becauſe Bargain and Sell are not apt words to make a Grant. Paſc. 23 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt, 7.

3. Two Joynt-Tenants for years of a Mill, the one grants all his eſtate, and dyes, the other reciting the Leaſe and death of his companion, and that he had all by ſurvivor-ſhip, grants Molendinum prædict. to the Plaintiff, and all his eſtate therein, and Covenants, that the Defendant ſhall quietly enjoy it, without any act by him: and bound himſelf in an Obligation to perform the Articles, &c. In debt brought upon the Articles, it was aſſigned for a breach, that the other had not granted the moyety, whereupon it was demurred, and adjudged for the then Plaintiff. Error was brought, and that Aſſigned for Error; for although the word (Grant) implies a general Warranty, yet the laſt clauſe of the Covenant being to enjoy, &c. without any act by him, &c. expounds the firſt. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the breach was well aſſigned; For he reciting that he had the whole, and granting Molendinum prædict. it muſt be underſtood and intended the intire Mill, which is the ground and agreement to which the Obligation refers; and the laſt clauſe cannot qualify it. Hill. 7 Jac. in B. R. Proffer and Johnſons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 233.

4. In Treſpaſs for cutting down of Trees, and carrying them away; The Defendant juſtified, and ſhewed, That A. was ſeiſed in Fee of the Cloſe where, &c. and by Indenture 21 Eliz. demiſed the ſame to J. S. and others the ſaid Cloſe inter alia excepting the Wood, and under-wood thereupon growing, Habendum for the life of one E. and Covenanted with them; quod licetum foret, for the Leſſees and their Aſſigns, to take upon the premiſes neceſſary Fire-boar, &c. to be expended upon the premiſes, or for the reparation of them. A. dyed,

E. ſurvived him, and took J. D. to Husband; J. S. and the other Leſſees, aſſigned their eſtate to E. and that the Defendants as Servants to J. D. and E. cut down four Trees, and carried them away, and expended them upon the premiſes. It was moved in this Caſe, That this Covenant being without the word Grant (being only quod licitum foret) was not good; but the Court was of Opinion, That the Plea was good enough, being in the ſame Deed of Leaſe. Hill. 8 Jac. in B. R. Pinſtrey and Grimes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 291.

5. A. 39 Eliz. did make a Leaſe and Grant of his Mannor, Farm, and Capital Meſſuage to B. with all the profits and appurtenances, together with all the Woods and under-woods there growing, and all the Trees, excepting ſix of the great Trees, Habendum for 40 years, rendring rent, with liberty to ſell, and cut down at any time during the Term, with a Covenant on the part of the Leſſee, to leave Wood on the Land at the end of the Term; this Leaſe by mean Aſſignments, came to the Plaintiff, who aſſigned it over to the Defendant, with an exception of the liberty of felling and cutting down; the Defendant the Aſſignee cut down, and takes away Timber Trees, for which the Action was brought. It was adjudged in this Caſe for the Defendant againſt the Plaintiff. The ſole point reſts upon the conſtruing of the words in the Grant; and how far they ſhall be expounded in point of Intereſt; and whether in this Caſe there be only a liberty or an Intereſt. It was holden by the Court in this Caſe, That by this Leaſe, and the words in the ſame, nothing doth paſſe ſevered from the Land; and the exception of the Trees in this Aſſignment is meerly void; and therefore after ſuch aſſignment made of the whole, he could not make ſuch exception of the Trees, as in this Caſe was made, and the exception being void, the liberty ſhall go with the privity of the Land. Trin. 1 Jac. in B. R. the Lady Billingſley and Herleyes Caſe. Baſſ. 2. Part, 5, 6, 7.

6. A man Demiſed, Granted, and to Farm let, &c. toget er with all manner of Timber-Trees and Under-woods, and Hedg-rowes thereupon appertaining, except all great Oaks growing in a certain Cloſe about t e Farm-houſe, to have and to hold the Farm for 21 years, rendring Rent: the Queſtion was, Whether the Leſſee might cut down and ſell the Timber-Trees not excepted, without being impeached for Waſte. The Lord Dyer conceived that he might, by force of this word (Grant), and by the meaning of the exception of great Oaks. But it was the Opinion of three other of the Juſtices, That he could not cut down the Timber, for that they were not ſevered from the Inheritance, nor paſſed by the Grant. Hill. 23 Eliz. Dyer, 374. See Cook 11. Part, 48. Liſords Caſe, acc. And ſee there the word Grant did not alter the Demiſe.

7. If a man doth Demiſe, Give, and Grant to another, and to Farm let, a houſe, and a ſtock of Cattel, and the Houſhold-ſtuff, theſe ſhall not paſſe, nor ſhall the Grant ennure to make the ſame a grant of the Houſhold-ſtuff; he ſhall only have and enjoy the ſame by way of Demiſe, and not otherwiſe. See 35 H. 8. Dyer, 56.

8. A. Leaſes for life to B. and afterwards levyes a Fine to the uſe of R. for life, the Remainder to A. in Fee, with a Proviſo or power to make Leaſes for 21 years, or three lives; and that the Conuſees ſhall ſtand ſeiſed to ſuch uſes. And afterwards A. Covenants to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of P. in tail, with divers Remainders over. And afterwards A. grants the Reverſion aforeſaid to L. for life, who diſtreynes and avows. In this Caſe, Judgment was given againſt the Avowant. 1. Becauſe by the Covenant, A. had deſtroyed his power to make Leaſes. 2. In this Caſe it was holden, That the pleading was nought, becauſe that he pleaded, That by Grant of reverſionem prædict. which was limited to A. himſelf in Fee upon the Fine, for he ought to have pleaded, as by limitation of the Indenture. So if the Reverſion be by Bargain and Sal, or if it be by way of Releaſe: if that be pleaded as a Grant, it is nought. Paſc. 39 Eliz. in C. B. Cook and Bamhill's Caſe. Noy 66.

9. A. Leſſee for life, the Remainder to B. in Fee. A. ſurrenders upon Condition to B. and enters for the Condition broken: B. dyes, and his Wife brought Dower againſt A. and the Iſſue was joyned upon Ne unque ſeiſi que Dower. It was found againſt A. And it was holden by the Court, That if a man Bargain and ſells his Lands in Fee by thoſe words only, and makes Livery, that yet the Bargainee, although that the Indenture was never enrolled, may plead that: For a Bargain includes a Grant. Paſc. 37 Eliz. in C. B. Oſmands Caſe. Noy 66. acc.

10. If a man grant an Annuity out of Land, and he hath nothing in the Land, yet the grant is good to charge the perſon of the Grantor in a Writ of Annuity. And if a man grants an Annuity to a Woman who takes Husband; and afterwards Arrerages d ennure, and the Wife dyes, ſo as the Annuity is determined, yet the Husband ſhall have an Action of Debt for the Arrerages. And in that Caſe, it was ſaid, That an Annuity is more then a thing in Action, for it may be granted over, by the Opinion of the whole Court. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Sollergers Caſe. Goldsbr. 30, 31.

11. There were four Joint-Tenants of an Advowſon, and one of them granted over his Inteceſt. It was adjudged a good grant, and that the urvivor ſhould not hold place. Quære, becauſe t is a thing entire. Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Kemp and the Biſhop of Wincheſters Caſe. Goldesbr. 81.

12. In Treſpaſs, the Defendant juſtified, That it was uſed within the Manor of D. that every Farmer of ſuch a houſe, had Common in the Lords Waiſt: The houſe came into the hands and poſſeſſion of the Lord, and he granted the houſe and Waiſt to J. S. in Fee. J. S. Bargains and ſells the houſe to J. N. with all Commons, Profits, and Commodities, uſed, occupyed, and appertaining to the ſame; and afterward, grants the Waiſt to another: And if the Grantee of the houſe ſhall have Common in the Waſt, was the Queſtion. It was objected, That he ſhould not, for then it ſhould enure as a new grant, which it cannot do here; and if it be a new grant, yet this hath reference to the uſage; and here the uſage is interrupted, and then the grant having reference to the uſage, and that is a void uſage; for a Leſſee for years cannot alledg an uſage, when nothing doth paſſe by the grant. But it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Grantee of the Meſſuage ſhould have Common, for this uſage is not a thing in ſtrictneſſe of Law appertaining to the Land, but this hath gained his reputation, that that ſhall paſs very well in a conveyance by apt words. For if a man make a Leaſe for years to one, and grants him Gommon for all his Kine, &c. and after this Leaſe expires, and he makes a new Leaſe, and grants ſuch Common as the firſt Leſſee had, this ſhall be a good grant of the Common to the Leſſee. So in this Caſe, this grant of the houſe with all profits and Commodities, to the ſame appertaining, ſhall be ſaid a grant of ſuch Common as other Leſſees of this Manor have uſed to have. Hill. 7 Jac. in B. R. Grymes and Peacocks Caſe. Brownl. 2 Part, 222.

13. If a man deviſeth Lands to his Son T. to hold to him, and the Heirs Males of his body for 500 years; his Heir ſhall not have the Lands, but his Executors, for this Term is but a Chattel, and cannot be entailed, and ſuch a Deviſee may alien the Term if he pleaſeth; and ſuch a Deviſe is but an eſtate for years, becauſe it is ſo in expreſs words deviſed, and againſt expreſſe words, no Inference or Interpretation ſhall be admitted. Cook 10. Part, 87. in Leonard Lovets Caſe.

14. The Earl of Cumberland demiſed Land to Ana, and one Anthony Baldwine her ſon, and to the Heirs of the ſaid Anthony, Habendum to them, from the date for 99 years. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That here, although that Heirs were mentioned in the premiſes of the Deed of grant, yet the Habendum in it was not repugnant, but that they have a joynt eſtate for years, for it cannot be repugnant as to Anthony, and yet good to Ana. Cook 2. Part, 24. Baldwins Caſe.

15. Upon a ſpecial Verdict, the Caſe was, A man was ſeiſed of the Manor of D. and of a houſe called W. in D. and alſo of a Leaſe for years in D. and he did Bargain and ſell to another, the Manor of D. and all other his Lands and Tenements in D. and in the Indenture did Covenant, That he was ſeiſed of the premiſes in Fee. And if the Leaſe for years ſhould paſſe by the general words, was the Queſtion. Quære, the Court was divided in Opinion; two Juſtices held, That it ſhould paſs, two other Juſtices held the contrary. Mich. 9 Jac. in B. R. Edwards and Dentons Caſe. Godbolt. 183.

16. A Feoffment was made of an Acre of Land parcel of a Manor, to which a Villain was regardant by theſe words, viz. dedi unam acram; And further Dedi et Conceſſi Villanum meum. It was holden in that Caſe, That the Villain ſhould paſſe as in groſſe, and that they were ſeveral gifts, although there was but one Deed. 33 H. 8. Dyer, 48.

17. The Caſe was, In an Ejectione firmæ, this; A. was ſeiſed of a Manor, wherein were Copyholders for life; and Leaſed a Copyhold called Harris-Farm, parcel of the Land in Queſtion to B. and C. for eight years, to begin after the death of A. and his Wife, and by their Indenture, leaſed the ſame Manor to them, as before; the Copyholder did ſurrender, and A. granted a Copyhold, to hold according to the Cuſtome of the Manor: A. and his Wife dyed, ſo as the Leaſe to B. and C. was to begin: B. entred, and granted all his Intereſt to a ſtranger, and dyed. C. entred into the whole as ſurvivor, and made the Leaſe to the Plaintiff, and the Copyholder entred, and C. brought his Action. The Queſtion was, Whether C. the Plaintiff ſhould have Harris-Farm as in groſſe, or as parcel of the Manor. It was the Opinion of the Court, That he ſhould have it as in groſſe, and ſo he ſhould avoid the eſtate of the Copyholder. Mich. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Green and Harris's Caſe. Godbolt. 127.

18. Husband and Wife were Joynt-Tenants in Fee of a Manor, out of which the Queen had a Rent of 20 l. per annum, and ſhe by her Letters Pattents in conſideration of money paid by the Husband; did give, grant, releaſe, and remiſe to the Husband and his Heirs the ſaid Rent of 20 l. Habendum et percipiend. to him and his Heirs; The Husband did deviſe the Rent to another and his Heirs, and dyed. It was debated, Whether the Wife ſhould pay the Rent or not. It was holden by by the Court, That ſhe ſhould pay it: For the Deed having words of Grant and Releaſe, it ſhall be referred to the Election of the Husband, and for his beſt advantage how he will take it, and there is no neceſſity that the Rent be extinguiſhed in his poſſeſſion, for every grant ſhall be taken beneficially for the Grantee; and if it contains words of two intents, he ſhall take that which is beſt for him. Mich. 15 Eliz. Dyer, 319.

19. A. had two houſes adjoyning, viz. the Swan, and the red Lyen; A. had the Swan in his own poſſeſſion, and occupied a Parlour, or a Hall (which in truth belonged to the Red Lyen), with the houſe called the Swan; and then Leaſed the Red Lyon houſe; and afterwards by his Will, deviſed his houſe called the Swan. In that Caſe, it was holden, That the rooms in the Red Lyon which A. occupied with the Swan, ſhould paſſe, although of right thoſe rooms did belong to the Red Lyon-houſe. And in the argument of that Caſe, this Caſe, Paſc. 36 Eliz. betwixt Ewer and Hayden was put. A man hath a houſe and divers Lands in W. alſo a houſe and Land in D. And by his Will he deviſeth all his houſe and Land in W. and D. and there the houſe which is in D. doth not paſſe. But if he had deviſed all his Lands in W. and had not ſpoken of the houſe, the houſe had paſſed. And ſee where the Deviſor had two Farms, and occupyed parcel of one Farm with the other Farm; and deviſed the Farm which he had in his poſſeſſion; the part of the other Farm which he had occupyed with it, did paſſe, as it was adjudged in one Lyon and Bakers Caſe. See Tr. 21 Jac. in B. R. Knights Caſe. Godbolt. 352.

2. By a Grant of all Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments; What ſhall paſſe, and where things Appendants ſhall paſſe by the Graunt of the Principall: Where not.

1. NOte, it was ſaid, That when a man hath any thing apperdant to a houſe, or Mill, the moſt durable thing is the Land, which is the Foundation, and upon which the whole Fabrick doth conſiſt: And in reſpect of that, by the grant of all Lands, houſes, Mills and Woods paſſe. For in a Precipe where a houſe or a Mill is demanded, the Warrant of Attorney is in placito terræ; and in ſome ſpecial Caſes by a Recovery of Lands, a man ſhall recover houſes. And therefore it was Reſolved in this Caſe, That although the houſe or Mill falleth down by the act or default of the Donor, or by the wrong of another; yet becauſe that the moſt perdurable thing which includes the whole remains, he may re-build it in caſe it fall without loſing of any appendant or appurtenant to it, but then it ought to be upon the ſame place which was the old foundation. Cook 4. Part, 86, 8. in Lutterells Caſe.

2. In Nevills Caſe, there were three Queſtions. 1. Whether a Dignity, as an Earldome, might be entailed. 2. Admitting that it might, if it might be forfeited; by Attainder of Treaſon, by a condition in Law tacitè annexed to the Eſtate of the Dignity. 3. If it was forfeited by the Statute of 26 H. 8. of Treaſon. It was objected, That it was not within the Statute of Donis, becauſe the Statute ſpeaks of Lands and Tenements. And a Dignity cannot be within the word Tenement; and the grant of a thing which doth not concern Lands and Tenements, nor exerciſable in Lands and Tenements, is not within that Statute as an Annuity. But it was Reſolved. 1. That the name of Dignity, as of an Earl, or Viſcount, might be entailed within the ſaid Statute, becauſe it concerns Land, and every Baron or Earl is created of ſome place. 2. That it might be forfeited by Attainder by a Condition in Law annexed to the Eſtate of the Dignity. 3. Admitting that it could not be forfeited for Treaſon at the Common Law; yet it was forfeitable by the Statute of 26 H. 8. of Treaſon, which gives a forfeiture of all Inheritances: And a Dignity is an Inheritance, and an Hereditament, and ſo within the expreſſe words of the Statute. Cook 7. Part, 33. Nevills Caſe.

3. A man ſeiſed of a houſe and Land in Fee, made a Leaſe of the houſe and Land for years, if the Leſſee ſhould ſo long live: And afterwards by Deed Indented, granted the houſe and Land to another, to have and to hold, the Reverſion to the Grantee for life, cum per mortem ſuæ ſum reddit. vel forisfacturam of the Leſſee, or otherwiſe it ſhould happen; Reddendo inde annuatim to the Grantor, and his Heirs cum reverſio accideret 10 s. per annum; the Leſſee dyed, the Grantor diſtreyned for the Arrerages, aſwell before the death of the Leſſee as after. In this Caſe, amongſt other points, it was Reſolved, That by the demiſe of the houſe and Land for life, the Reverſion did paſſe; but by grant of a Reverſion, the Land would not paſſe. 2. In that Caſe Reſolved, That by the Reſervation, the Rent ſhould not begin before that the Reverſion did fall in poſſeſſion, and theſe words cum reverſio prædict. accideret, ſhall be expounded according to the intention of the parties, which was not that the Grantee for life ſhould pay the Rent reſerved before that he might take the profits to raiſe the Rent out of it. Hill. 23 Eliz. in C. B. Paſmore and Prowſes Caſe. vouch. in Cook 10. Part, 107. in Loſelds Caſe.

4. A man by Indenture demiſed a houſe and Land exceptis omnibus arboribus ad tunc creſcend. ultra creſcentiam 21 annorum, Habend. tenenta prædict. cum pertinenciis for life: And afterwards by the ſame Indenture Covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed de tenementis prædict. cum pertinenciis, to the uſe of J. S. in tail, with divers Remainder over. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved amongſt other things. 1. That it is true, that a thing appendant in poſſeſſion, cannot be parcel of a Reverſion expectant upon an eſtate for life; but in this Caſe, the Trees growing out of the Land, did paſſe with the Inheritance of the Land, as Charters and Evidences ſhall paſſe attendants upon the Inheritance, becauſe they are the ſinews of the Inheritance; and in all Leaſes made by the King, the Trees are excepted, and yet they ſhall paſſe in the Reverſion as parcel of the Inheritance: As a Milſtone, although it be actually ſevered from the Mill, yet it remains parcel of the Mill, and ſhall paſſe by Demiſe or conveyance of the Mill. 2. Reſolved, When he Covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed de tenementis prædict. cum pertinenciis ſuperius dimiſſis, the Inheritance of all the Land did paſſe, and by conſequence the Trees parcel of the Inheritance did paſſe with it as things annexed. Cook 11. Part, 50, 51. Richard Lyſords Caſe.

5. Note, That before the Act of 33 H. 8. by the general words of any Act of Attainder of all Hereditaments, a Condition was not given to the King; and therefore by the ſame Act, by expreſſe words, Conditions are given to the King, and yet a Condition is an Hereditament: and although that an uſe was an Hereditament (for there ſhall be a poſſeſſio fratris of it), yet by the Grant of all Hereditaments, or words of all Inheritances, an Uſe was not given to the King by any Act of Attainder. And note, there is a difference betwixt Inheritances and Chattells. For a Right of Action concerning Inheritance, is not forfeit by Attainder, but Obligations, Statutes, Recognizances, and ſuch other things in Action, are forfeit by Attainder. Cook 3. Part, 2. in the Marqueſſe of Winchellers Caſe.

6. If a man be ſeiſed of a Mannor to which a Leet, Waife, or Stray, or any other Hereditament which is no of any annual value, is appendant, or appurtenant, there by the Deviſe of the Mannor with the appurtenances, thoſe ſhall paſſe as incidents to the ſaid Mannor; for inaſmuch as the Statute of 32 H. 8. enableth to Deviſe the Mannor by expreſſe words; by conſequence it ſhall enable to deviſe the Mannor with all its incidents and appurtenances: For it never was the intent and meaning of the Parliament, That when the Deviſor had power to deviſe the principal, that he ſhould not have power to Deviſe that which was incident or appendant to it. Cook 3. Part, 33. in Baſter and Bakers Caſe.

7. A man had Common appendant by Preſcription to a houſe, and 40 Acres of Land. He made a Feoffment in Fee of parcel of the Land. It was adjudged, That the Feoffee ſhould have Common for that parcel; for that the Common being appendant, extends to all and every parcel of the Land: As if a man maketh a Leaſe of three Acres each of equall value, rendring Rent: If the Leſſor grant the Reverſion of one Acre, the grantee ſhall have 12 d. of the Rent, for although it be one Leaſe, one Reſervation, and one Rent, yet becauſe the Reverſion to which the Rent is incident, was ſeveral, the Rent ſhall attend upon the Reverſion and every part of it, and ſhall be alſo ſeverable; ſo in the other Caſe, becauſe the Common is a tendant upon the Tenancy which is ſeverable, the alienee of part ſhall have Common. Cook 8. Part, 79. Wyet Wilds Caſe.

8. In a Writ of Entry in the Quibus againſt Marrow of 70 Acres of Lands in H. the Tenant pleaded, That C. was ſeiſed in Fee, and demiſed the Land to him for life. The Demandant counted himſelf by the ſaid C. abſque hoc quod demiſit modo et forma: And it was found, That C. and ſix others were ſeiſed to the uſe of C. of the ſaid 70 Acres, and of a houſe in H. which houſe and Lands had bin time out of mind, called W. and that the ſaid C. and ſix others did joyn in the Leaſe of the ſaid houſe called W. with the appurtenances, to the Tenant. It was found for the Tenant, and moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That it was not expreſly found, that the ſaid 70 Acres were not appertaining to the ſaid houſe called W. Yet the Opinion of the Court was, That it was good, and that by the Grant of the one, the Grantee ſhould have the other as a thing implyed in the Grant. Hill. 5 Eliz. Dyer, 158.

9. Where

3. Where the Grant of a Rent, &c. out of a Reversion, or such thing which doth not lye in Demesne, shall be good; and when begin, where not: And where a Grant of a Rent to begin at a day to come shall be good; Where not.

1. A Man seised of a Mannor in Fee, made a Feoffment to the use of himself, and the Heirs Males of his body, and for want of such Issue, the Remainder over to another in tail, the Reversion to the Feoffer and his Heirs, the Feoffer had Issue and dyed: He in the Remainder grants a Rent-charge out of the Land; the Issue in tail levyed a Fine, and suffered a Recovery, and afterwards dyed without Issue. It was Resolved in this Case, That the Recoverers, nor any which came under them, should be subject to the Charge of him in the Remainder; for it was Resolved, That a common Recovery had against Tenant in tail, barred not only the Remainder, and all Leases and Charges made by him in the Remainder, but also the Reversion, and all Charges made by him in the Reversion; and another reason was added, viz. The cause why the charge of him in the Remainder might be good in Law, is by reason of the possibility that the Land might come into possession: For a Remainder in it self is not a thing mayntenable, out of which a Rent may be, nor can a distresse be taken for it; and therefore there is a Condition tacitly annexed to the charge of him in the Remainder, to take effect when the same shall come into possession: which Condition, by the Common Recovery suffered, is utterly destroyed: And the Grantee of him in the Remainder cannot falsifie the said Recovery, and therefore the Recovery shall barr and make void all charges made by him in the Remainder. Cook 1. Part, 62. Capell's Case.

2. If Lessee of a house for 20. years, Leaseth part for two years, and afterwards demiseth the whole unto another for 10. years, rendring Rent; so as this doth enure as a Lease in Reversion, for the part in Lease, and a Lease in possession of the residue. It was Resolved, That the Rent shall issue out of the whole, and the interest of the Term, although it be not any Estate which can be surrendred; and although it be joyned with the Lord in possession, yet the Rent shall go out of the whole. Cook 4. Part, 73. Rawlins Case.

3. A Bishop after the Statute of 1 Eliz. made a Lease of a Fair parcel of his Bishoprick for three lives, rendring the auncient and accustomed Rent; which was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter: It was adjudged, That in this Case, the Successour should avoid the Lease, because that a Fair is not a Franchize, or Liberty, not Mayntenable, out of which a Rent cannot be reserved; and all Leases of such Inheritances out of which the ancient Rent cannot be reserved, are voidable by the Statute: So if the Lease had been made for 21. years, the Successour should avoid it; for although the Rent was good by way of Contract, yet it is not incident to the Reversion, Cook 5. Part, 3. Jewel's Case. And see, That a Rent ought to be reserved out of a thing which is Mayntenable, and out of that it shall only go. And therefore, if a Lease be of Land and of Multure rendring Rent, or of Land and a Hundred, or Advowson; the Rent shall issue out of the Land, and not out of the Multure, Hundred, or Advowson. But the King may reserve a Rent out of a Fair. Cook 5. Part, 4. The Lord Mountjoyes Case.

4. A man seised of Black Acre in Fee, and of White Acre for years, granted a Rent out of both to J. S. for life, with clause of distresse in both Acres; the Rent was behind, J. S. distrained and avowed in White Acre. In this Case, these Points were Resolved, 1. That if Lessee for years grant a Rent out of Land during the life of the Grantee, the same is good during the Term, if the Grantee shall so long live: and if Lessee for years grant the Land to another for life, he hath the whole Term, if he so long live. 2. When a man grants a Rent out of Land in Fee, and a Term for years to have for life, the Freehold of the Rent shall issue out of the Land in Fee, and not out of the Term which is but a Chattel; and the agreement of the parties cannot change such a thing with a Rent, which is not chargeable by the Law; as out of an Advowson, Hundred, Fair, because in an Assise of the Rent they cannot be put in View, nor any distresse taken out of them; and in an Assise, the Acre in Fee shall be only put in view. And if the Grantee of the Rent doth accept a Lease of the Acre for years, by that the Rent is not suspended. 3. Resolved, That White Acre during the Term, shall be subject to the Distresse, although that the Rent did not issue out of it. And it was Resolved, That when Land is charged with a Rent, Goods and Chattels may be charged to the Distresse; and if the Grantee doth take a Lease of part of the Land, the same doth not suspend the Distresse: and a man may distrain in his own possession; but a man cannot have a Rent out of his own Land. Cook 7. Part, 23. Bate's Case.

5. The Father granted a Rent-Charge out of his his Land, to his Son in Fee; the Rent was behind, the Father dyed, and the Land diſcended to the Son, by which the Rent by act in Law was extinct. The Son brought an Action of Debt againſt the Executors of the Father, for the Arrearages which did encurre in the life of his Father. In that caſe it was adjudged, That it did not lye as for arrearages of Rent; but as arrearages of an Annuity, an Action was maintainable: for that there the Election, which the heir had now determined, by bringing of his Action. 45 E. 3. Executors, 71. Cook 4. Part, in Ogaell's Caſe.

6. J. S. Parſon of a Rectory, demiſed the ſame to E. for 80. years, if ſhe ſhould ſo long live; or if ſhe ſhould dye within the ſaid Term of 80. years, or alien, that her Eſtate ſhould ceaſe, and then it ſhould remain to R. pro et durante, reſiduo termini prædict. 80. annorum, if he ſhould ſo long live, and if he, &c. ut ſupra, &c. that then his Eſtate ſhould ceaſe, and that then it ſhould remain to W. pro et durante tot annis prædict. termini 80. annorum ſi, &c and if he alien, then his Eſtate to ceaſe: and then the ſaid J. S. conceſſit præmia durante tot annis de prædict. 80. annorum quot ex tunc continuerent et remanerent in exipirat. to F. his Executors and Aſſigns: J. dyed; T. dyed, and R. dyed; the Adminiſtrator of T. entred. In this caſe it was Reſolved, That the Demiſe to R. and W. were void, Becauſe that the Eſtate which E. had, was not for 80. years abſolutely, but ſub modo; and then, the Demiſe to them, pro tot annis quot remanerent poſt mortem dict. E. pro et durante reſiduo Termini 80. annorum, was void; for that there cannot be a Reſidue of the ſaid Term, becauſe the ſame determined by the death of E. 2. Reſolved, That the Leaſe and Limitation to T. was void for the incertainty; for it was uncertain at the time of the making of the Leaſe, how many of the years ſhould be behind at the time of the death of E; and alſo it was not good, becauſe R. and W. did over-live T; which was againſt the expreſſe limitation; for his Eſtate was limited upon two Contingents, and therefore the Leaſe to him was void. Cook 1. Part, 154. The Rector of Chedington's Caſe.

7. A man poſſeſſed of a Term for 90. years, In conſideration of Marriage, demiſed the Land to his Son for 70. years, to begin after his death; and afterwards the Leſſor dyed; and it was adjudged a good Leaſe; and not void for any incertainty when it ſhould begin, becauſe here it was a Deviſe of the Land it ſelf, and not of the Term. Mich. 35. Eliz. in B.R. Locroft's Caſe.

8. Tenant for life, the Remainder in Fee; Tenant for life made a Leaſe for years, the Leſſee entred: Tenant for life granted Tenementa prædict. to C, Habendum Tenementa prædict. from the Feaſt of Mich. next following; the Leſſee for years attorned; C. entred, and made a Leaſe at Will, to whom the Tenant for life levied a Fine come ceo. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Grant to C. was void, becauſe an Eſtate of Freehold cannot begin in futuro. 2. Reſolved, That the Grant being void at the beginning, the Attornment afterwards could not make it good; and therefore in this Caſe when C. afterwards entred, that he was a Diſſeiſor. Cook 2. Part, 55. Buckley's Caſe.

9. The Queen made a Leaſe of the Manor of S. to H. B. for 21. years; who demiſed parcel of the ſame to others for years; and afterwards the Queen in conſideration of a Surrender of all his Eſtate, Term, and Intereſt, granted the ſaid Manor to the ſaid H. B. Habendum à die Conſeſſionis prædict. Literarum Patt. for 3 lives: In this caſe, (amongſt other Points) it was Reſolved, That an Eſtate of Freehold cannot begin at a day to come, and therefore becauſe that the Leaſe granted by the Letters Patents which amount to a Livery, could not begin at a day to come: for if the Freehold ſhould paſſe preſently by the Letters Patents, then the Queen ſhould have a particular Intereſt, againſt the Rules of the Common-Law in the mean time. And therefore it was adjudged, That the Letters Patents were void. Cook 5. Part, 94. Barwick's Caſe.

10. A Leſſee for years of a Term for 1000. years, granted his Term and Intereſt therein to H. his daughter, Habendum to the Leſſor and his Wife for their lives; and after their deceaſe, to the ſaid H; and if ſhe hath heir of her body, then to her Executors and Aſſigns. Provided, That ſhe pay to D. her Siſter, after the death of A. the Leſſor and his Wife, 10 l. per annum during her life. Provided alſo, That if H. dye unmarried, having no Iſſue of her body lawfully begotten, that then this Grant to H. ſhould be void, and then D. ſhould have the Term. It was Reſolved by the Court in this caſe, That the Grant was good, and the Habendum to the Grantor and his Wife for their Lives, and after to H, is void, and becauſe it is repugnant to the Grant: but the Habendum ſhews the intent of the parties, That the Executors of H. ſhall not have it, unleſſe ſhe be married, and hath heirs of her body: And the Proviſo (That if ſhe dye unmarried, having no Iſſue of her body lawfully begotten, that it ſhall be void) ſhall have this Conſtruction, That if ſhe dye unmarried or married, having no Iſſue of her body, (for ſhe may not have lawful Iſſue, unleſſe ſhe be married) then it ſhall be void. Paſch. 5 Car. in B. R. Goſwick and Chigwell's Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 110.

11. A. poſſeſſed of a Leaſe for 100. years, he and his Wife by Indenture, ſealed by the husband, but but not by the wife, aſſigned all their Eſtate in the Leaſe to J. S. reddend. et ſolvendo to A. and his wife durante termino prædict. to them and the Survivor of them if they ſhould ſo long live, 10 l. at the Feaſts of Michael. and the Annunciation; and if the Rent be behind for 40. dayes after, and not paid to him or his Wife, or the Survivor of them, then it ſhould be lawful for the ſaid A. and his Wife, and to the Survivor of them, their Aſſigns to re-enter: J. B. entred; A. dyed, and his Wife ſurvived him; the Rent is behind, and not paid, and the Wife at the laſt day demands it; the Adminiſtrator of A. alſo demands it; the Queſtions were, 1. If the Reſervation were good to the wife, becauſe ſhe never ſealed the Deed? 2. If it be not good to the wife, becauſe ſhe is a ſtranger to the Deed? If it be good to the husband, and his Executors and Adminiſtrators during his wife's life-time? 3. Whether the Adminiſtrator for the benefit of the wife, ſhall not enter into the Land? The Opinion of the Juſtices was, That although the Reddendo & Solvendo durante termino, if there had been no more ſaid, had been a good reſervation during the Term; yet when he doth limit the reſt upon the expoſition of the Law, but it is Reddendo to him and his Wife, and the Survivor of them, if they ſo long live, that is an expreſſe Reſervation, that it ſhall not be during all the Term, but to him and his wife, and the Survivor of them. 2. That the Reſervation to the Wife is void, becauſe ſhe is no party in intereſt, or to the Deed; and to the ſurviver of them is alſo void to give the wife any privilege thereof: And therefore this Rent endures no longer then during the life of the Husband. Hill. 7 Jac. in B.R. rott. 550. Bland and Inmans Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 210.

4. By a Grant, of omnia bona et catalla, What things will paſſe; What not. And of what things a Grant made ſhall be good: and by what words, paſſe; What not: And where by Deed; Where without Deed.

1. NOte, by Fitzherbert, by the Grant of omnia bona et Catalla, Obligations will paſſe. Mich. 25 H. 8. 5. Quære; for, 11 Jac. in C.B. it was adjudged to the contrary.

2. The Lord Latimer deviſed to his Wife the third part of all his Goods and Chattels; It is a Quæ, in 38 Eliz. Dyer, 59. If it ſhall be intended, as they are after his Debts and Legacies paid; or the third part of his Goods, as they then were? See that Quære Reſolved, 5 Ma. Dyer, 164. For there a man deviſed the moyty of his Goods to his Wife, Where it was holden, That ſhe ſhould have a moyty of the goods which he had at the time of his death, if his Executors had ſufficient Aſſetts to pay his Debts; otherwiſe not.

2. Bona et Catalla, extend not to Charters or Evidences, concerning Freehold, or Inheritance, or Obligations or Deeds, or Specialties, being things in Action: yet in ſpecial Caſes, they ſhall extend unto them: and therefore if one bringeth a Bagg or a Cheſt of Evidences into an Inne, or Obligations, or Deeds, or other Specialties, and by default of the Inn-keeper they be taken away; the Inne-keeper ſhall Anſwer for them: and the Writ ſhall be bona et catalla generally, and the Declaration ſhall be ſpecial. Cook 8. Part, 33. Calyes Caſe.

4. In Evidence given to a Jury in an Action of Debt; It was ſaid by the Lord Dyer and Manwood, Juſtices, That if Executors grant omnia bona ſua, that the goods which they have as Executors, do not paſſe. Which ſee, 10 E. 4. 1. by Danby. But the contrary to that was holden by Wray, Chief Juſtice of the Kings-Bench, and by Plowden, in Brachridges Caſe, 18 Eliz. And they denyed the Opinion of 10 E. 4. to be Law; for that by ſuch Grant made by Executors, the goods of the Teſtator do paſſe. Mich. 19 Eliz. in C.B. The Lord St. John, and the Counteſſe of Kent's Caſe. Leon. 263.

5. It was Reſolved, That if an Executor grant omnia bona ſua, that the goods which the Grantor hath as Executor to J. S. ſhall paſſe. See 19 H. 6. 4. Plow. Com. 289. Hill. 34 Eliz. in C.B. Bally and Spooners Caſe. Noy, 106.

6. If a man makes a Leaſe for years, or a Grant of a Villein, it cannot be done without Deed, nor can the Leſſee aſſign it over without Deed, becauſe it is derived out of a Freehold which lyeth in Grant, which (indeed) is the materiall cauſe of the Grant: But a Wardſhip, is an Original Chattel (during the minority) derived out of no Freehold, and therefore as the Law createth it without Deed, ſo it may be aſſigned over without Deed. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 85. acc.

7. Rents, Advowſons, Conditions, Reverſions, Remainders, and other things which lye in grant, as they cannot be granted without Deed; ſo they may not be ſurrendred without Deed. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 338.

8. If the Heir apparant of the Diſſeiſee doth diſſeiſe the Diſſeiſor, and grants a Rent Charge, and then the Diſſeiſee dyeth, the Grantor ſhall hold it diſcharged; for there a new right of entry diſcendeth cendeth unto him: and there it is re-united, and ſhall hold it diſcharged. So if the Father diſſeiſeth the Grandfather, and granteth a Rent-Charge, and dyeth, the Entry of the Grandfather is taken away; and if the Grandfather dyeth, the Son is remitted, and ſhall avoid the Charge.

9. It was moved, That if a man grants Veſturam terræ, what ſhall paſſe: It was ſaid, That one man might have the Veſture, and another the Soile; and that he who hath but veſturam terræ, that he cannot dig the Soile. If many have a Meadow together; viz. to be divided between them every year by Lots, how much every one ſhall have of graſſe in ſuch a place, how many in ſuch a place, and ſo change every year according to Lots: It was ſaid, That in that caſe they have not the Freehold, but only veſturam terræ. Trin. 30. Eliz. in C. B. Owen, 37. See Dyer, 375. acc.

10. A man granted Scitum Rectoriæ cum decimis eidem pertinent. Habendum Scitum prædict. cum pertinentiis for 20. years; the firſt Grantee dyed within the Term: And becauſe the Tythes are not expreſſly named in the Habendum, if the Grantee ſhould have them for life only, was the Queſtion? It was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That the Tythes are parcel of the Rectory: and therefore for the nearneſſe betwixt them, ſcil. the Rectory and the Tythes, the Tythes upon the matter do paſſe together with the Scite of the Rectory for the Term of the 21. years. Paſch. 28 Eliz. in the Exchequer. Cary's Caſe, Leon. 281.

11. A man made a Leaſe for years, reſerving the Wood and Under-Woods; The Leſſee cut down trees. It was holden, That Waſte did not lye againſt him, becauſe the Statute is in terris boſcis. ſibi dimiſſis. And it was holden by Shelley, The Land paſſed. See 28 H. 8. Dyer, 19. 14 H. 8. 1. And Bacon, Maxim. 11. If I demiſe omnes boſcos meos in D. for years, this paſſeth the Soile: but if I demiſe all my Lands in Dale, exceptis boſcis, this extendeth to the Trees only, and not to the Soil. See Cook 5. Part, 11. Ives Caſe. Cook 11. Part, Liford's Caſe. And ſee 46 E. 3. 22. 43 E. 3. 34. That by the grant of Wood, the Land it ſelf paſſeth, becauſe every mans Deed ſhall be taken ſtrongeſt againſt him that granteth.

12. A man made a Leaſe to A. of White Acre for 10. years, and of Black Acre to B. for 20. years; and afterwards by Deed reciting the ſaid Leaſes, he made a Leaſe to J. S. of both Acres for 40. years, to begin after the end or determination of the ſeveral Leaſes made to A. and B: the Leaſe of White-Acre ended; the Leaſe of Black-Acre continued. It was adjudged, That the Leaſe to J. S. ſhould begin after the ending of the Leaſe of White-Acre; for that every mans Grant ſhall be taken ſtrongeſt againſt the Grantor, and moſt beneficially for the Grantee; and in this caſe it is more benefic ali to J. S. to have the Leaſe begin after the end of the Leaſe of White-Acre, and not to ſtay untill the Leaſe of Black-Acre be ended. See Cook 5. Part, 7. Juſtice Wrabam's Caſe. And ſee there the Caſe, Where a man ſeiſed of 3. Acres, maſe a Leaſe to one for life, and of another to B. for life, and of the third to C. in tail; and afterwards Covenanted with his Brother, that after all the ſaid Eſtates ended, that he ſhould ſtand ſeiſed of the ſaid 3. Acres to the Uſe of his brother in tail, that in that caſe, it was adjudged, That preſently by the death of B, one of the Tenants for life, the brother ſhould have that Acre which B. had, and ſhould not ſtay untill all the Eſtates were ended. 32 Eliz. in the Court of Wards, Pollard and Alcock's Caſe.

13. A man hath Eſtovers either by Grant or Preſcription to his houſe, although in alteration the Rooms or Chambers of his houſe; as to make a Parlour of a Stable where it was a Hall, and the like alterations of qualities, and not of the houſe it ſelf, and without making new Chimneys, by which no prejudice doth accrue to the Owner of the Wood, it is not any deſtroying of the Preſcription, nor doth it make the Grant void; and the building or addition of new ſtories or Chimneys to the houſe, will not make the Grant or Preſcription void; but he cannot ſpend or imploy his Eſtovers in the new Chimneys, but in the new Additions: for that will make his Grant or Preſcription to be void. Cook 4. Part, 87. in Lutterell's Caſe.

5. Of Grants made of the next Avoidance of the Church, how they ſhall be taken and conſtrued: And where Grants made, and by whom to charge the Church, ſhall be good; Where not.

1. IF a man be ſeiſed of an Advowſon, and the Church becomes void, And then the Patron grants proximam nominationem preſentationem & inſtitutionem cum primò et prompè vacaverit: It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the Grantee ſhould not preſent to that avoidance, becauſe the Patronage remained in the Grantor; but he ſhall have the next after that which is the firſt which can be granted: and the reaſon given, becauſe this Avoidance is a thing in Action. Hill. 28 H. 8. Dyer.

Dyer. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 120. The next Avoydance is not a thing meerly in Action; For if a Woman hath an Advowſon, and the Church void, and ſhe being married, dyeth; the husband ſhall preſent to the Advowſon: but otherwiſe it is, of an Obligation made to a Woman, becauſe the ſame is a thing meerly in Action.

2. The Patron of a Church granted proximam advocationem to one, and afterwards he granted proximam advocationem to another; It was the Opinion of Fitzherbert, That the Grant was void, for a man cannot grant that which he hath not: Shelly, Juſtice, conceived, That it ſhall be intended the next Avoidance which he could grant; and ſaid, There was no difference betwixt proximam præſentationem, et proximam advocationem: which Fitz. denyed; but ſaid, Perhaps if he had ſaid, That he had granted proximam advocationem ſuam, that the Grant might be good for the ſecond Avoidance. But ſee Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 378. it is holden, That in this caſe the ſecond grant is meerly void, being the act of the party.

3. If a man be ſeiſed of an Advowſon, and taketh a Wife, and the Husband grants the third Avoidance to a ſtranger, the husband dyeth; the wife ſhall have the third Avoidance, and the grantee ſhall have the fourth Avoidance. So note a difference betwixt a Title by act of Law, and the act of the party; for the act of Law will not work a prejudice to a third perſon. 19 E. 3. Quare Imp. 154. acc.

4. In a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop and the Incumbent; the Plaintiff declared, That the Earl of Oxford was ſeiſed of the Advowſon of the Church of O, as of an Advowſon in groſſe; and preſented the Defendant Incumbent to the Church; who was Inſtituted: and afterwards, that the Church became void by the Statute of 21 H 8. of Pluralities; the ſaid perſon being Inſtituted and Inducted to another Church, of the value of 8 l; not being a perſon qualified within the Statute; and that the Patron granted to the Plaintiff primam et proximam Advocationem dict. Eccleſiæ cum primo et proximam vacare contigerit. It was holden in that Caſe, That the preſent Avoidance, which was then by reaſon of the Statute of Pluralities, did not paſſe unto the Plaintiff by that Grant. Paſch. 3 Ma. Dyer, 130. Agards Caſe.

5. The Church being void, the Patron by Deed made a Grant in this form; viz. Dedi et Conceſſi to A; B. primam et proximam præſentationem et advocationem Eccleſiæ de C. et jus præſentandi ad eandem jam vacantem: Ita quod Licebit to the ſaid grantee ad eandem Eccleſiam ideoneam perſonam loci Ordinario hâc unica vice tantum nominare, et preſentare; and afterwards the Church remained void by 6. moneths: for which the Biſhop collated for Lapſe; and afterwards the Church became void: and if the grantee ſhould have the ſecond Avoidance, or not, was the Queſtion? It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That the grant of the preſent Avoidance was void, becauſe it was a meer perſonal thing in expectancy, and a thing in Action; and ſuch a grant in the caſe of a Common perſon, is not good. But they all agreed, That the King might make ſuch a Grant, although it was a thing in Action, and the Grant ſhould be good. Paſch. 11 Eliz. Dyer, 283.

6. Leſſee for years of an Advowſon of a Rectory to which an Advowſon of a Viccarage was appendant, granted the next Avoydance of the Viccarage to J. S, if it did happen to be void during the Term in being; the Leſſee dyed inteſtate; his Adminiſtrator ſurrendred the Term of the Rectory to the Leſſor: and afterwards the Advowſon of the Viccarage became void. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That notwithſtanding the ſurrender, that J. S. ſhould have the next Avoidance, becauſe the ſaid limitation was no more then the Law ſaid: For if Tenant for years grants an Avoidance, the Law implyes this Limitation, if the Church do void during the Term. 2. Becauſe the grantor ſhall not derogate from his own grant, and the grant of every one ſhall be taken ſtrongeſt againſt him, and beneficial for the grantee. 3. Becauſe for the benefit of the grantee, the Term ſhall be ſaid to have continuance. Cook 8. Part, 145. Davenport's Caſe.

7. In a Quare Impedit, The Defendant ſaid That A. was ſeiſed of an Advowſon of the Church of D; and by her Deed, 19 Jac. granted to J. S. the next Avoydance, and that J. S. dyed, and made his Executor, who preſented the Defendant to the Church being void. Upon Iſſue Non conceſſit, It was found, That A. granted to J. S. durante vitâ ipſius J. S. primam et proximam advocationem, and that he dyed before the Church became void: and whether this was an abſolute grant of the next Avoidance, as it was pleaded, was the Queſtion? It was Reſolved by the Court, That it was not; for it is not an abſolute Grant of the next Avoydance to J. S; but it is limited to him to preſent to the Advowſon, if it becomes void during his life; and not that otherwiſe it ſhould go to his Executors: And therefore it was adjudged againſt the Defendant. Paſch. 14 Car. upon a Writ of Errour, in B. R. Mann and the Biſhop of Exeter and Hides Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 363.

8. In a Quare Impedit, the Caſe was, A. ſeiſed of an Advowſon in Fee, the Church being full, grants to B. præſentationem quandocunq; et quomodo Cunq; Eccleſia vacare contigerit pro unica vice tantum, with this Clauſe in it, Ac inſuper voluit et conceſſit, that this grant ſhall remain in his force quouſque Clericus habilem et idoneus, by his Preſentation ſhall be Inſtituted and Inducted, and afterwards he grants away the Inheritance of the Advowſon in Feeſimple, the Church becomes void, the Patron Preſents, the Church becomes void the ſecond time; the Patron preſents again, and upon diſturbance of J. S. a Quare Impedit is brought. And in this Caſe, the Queſtions were, 1. Whether the ſaid J. S. not preſenting upon the firſt Avoydance, had not loſt and ſurceſſed his time. 2. Whether the clauſe in the grant Ac inſuper voluit, &c. ſhall enlarge the Grant or not. It was Reſolved by the Court, That the Grantee ought to take the firſt Avoydance which ſhall happen, or none. 2. That the clauſe Et inſuper, &c. ſhall not enlarge the grant, neither by the intent of the Grantor, nor yet by the Law. Tr. 8 Jac. in B.R. upon a Writ of Error of a Judgment in the Common-Pleas. Stankey and Pools Caſe. Bolſt. 1. Part, 26, 27.

9. Tenant in tail of a Mannor, to which an Advowſon was appendant, grants the next avoidance to J. S. and after dyes, before the Church becomes void: Afterwards the Iſſue in tail grants the next Avoydance of the ſame Church to the ſame Grantee: The firſt Queſtion was, Whether the firſt Grant was void by the death of the Tenant in tail, and the firſt Grant determined, if not, if the ſecond Grant be not a ſurrender of the firſt. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That if Tenant in tail be of an Advowſon, and the Church become void, and then he dyes; that by his death, the grant is meerly determined; and then in ſuch Caſe, If the King have title to the Mannor, to which the Advowſon is Appendant; and the Iſſue in tail during the poſſeſſion of the King, doth grant the next avoydance, the ſame is an uſurpation upon the Kings poſſeſſion; and if ſix Moneths do paſs, the King hath no remedy for ſuch an uſurpation upon him, but by bringing his Quare Impedit, Trin. 5 Jac. in B. R. upon a Judgment given in C. B. Whereupon Error was brought in B. R. Walter and Boulds Caſe. Bolſt. 1. Part, 31, 32, 33. And ſee Paſc. 25 Eliz. in C. B. where it was adjudged, That by two Uſurpations the King might be put out of poſſeſſion of his Advowſon, and put to his Writ of Right; and a grant made by him afterwards of the Advowſon, was adjudged void. See 47 E. 3, 4. and Mich. 27 Jac. in C. B. adjudged accordingly.

10. Parſon, Patron, and Ordinary, before 13 Eliz. made a Leaſe for 99 years, there being a Grant of the next Avoydance before this Leaſe; After the Parſon who made the Leaſe, dyed, the Grantee of the next Avoydance preſents another, who being Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted, entred, and avoided this Leaſe during his time, and afterwards dyed, the Patron who joyned in the Leaſe for years, preſents a new Incumbent, who was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted. It was the Opinion of the Court, That he ſhould hold it diſcharged of the Leaſe for years; and the reaſon was, becauſe the Parſon hath the entire Fee as a Parſon may have of a Rectory Preſentative: And when he is in, and hath evicted the Leſſee, it is an abſolute eviction of the entire Term, without expectation of Reviver, and it is not only an Eviction for himſelf, but alſo for all his Succeſſors. Mich. 15 Car. in B.R. Plowden and Oldfords Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 420.

11. The Incumbent may charge the Gleab, if the Patron and Ordinary joyn with him in the Grant, or conſent thereunto afterwards by a Licenſe precedent, or ſubſequent confirmation: Yet in that Caſe, If the Patron be but Tenant in tail, or for life; or the Ordinary but Patron, the Charge ſhall not be perpetual. For in the firſt Caſe, the Iſſue in tail, or he in the Reverſion or Remainder ſhall avoid, it and in the other, the Licenſe or confirmation of the Ordinary is not available to charge the Land without the conſent of the Dean and Chapter, but ſhall be avoided by the Succeſſor of the Ordinary. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 300.

12. A Biſhop who is ſeiſed in the right of his Biſhoprick; or a Parſon who is ſeiſed in the right of his Church, they cannot diſclaim, becauſe they cannot avoid, or make void a thing which is veſted in their Church, unleſſe it be in Caſe of Franchiſes and Liberties, but there in a Quo warranto brought againſt them for ſuch Franchiſes or Liberties by the King, they may diſclaim in the Franchiſes and Liberties. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 102.

13. It is a Rule in Law, That Prælatus Eccleſiæ ſuæ conditionem meliorare poteſt, deteriorare non poteſt. And therefore if a Biſhop, Parſon, &c. purchaſeth Lands to him and his Succeſſors, he cannot waive the purchaſe after himſelf, but his Succeſſor upon juſt cauſe ſhewed, viz. that the Rent payable upon the purchaſe is of greater value then the Land purchaſed, he may waive ſuch purchaſe made by his Predeceſſor. See 43 E. 3. 23. acc.

14. By the Common Law, Every Biſhop, Dean, Parſon, Vicear, &c. or Corporation Spiritual, might have charged their poſſeſſions, or made Leaſes of their Lands, for lives or years, without number or ſtint of time Concurrentibus his qui in lege requiruntur. But now by ſeveral Acts of Parliament, as by the Statute of 32 H. 8. 1 & 13 Eliz. they are reſtreyned to make Leaſes or Grants, but under certain limitations and Proviſos. As, 1. Their Grants or Leaſes muſt be made in Writing by Deed Indented, and not by word only. Cook 1. Part,

1. Part, Inſtitutes 44. 2. They muſt begin from the day of the date, or a Confectione inde. Cook 5. Part, the Lord Mountjoyes Caſe, 6. 3. The Antient Leaſe muſt be ſurrendred or yielded up, or expired, or ended within a year after the making of the ſecond Leaſe. Cook 5. Part, 2. Elmors Caſe. 4. There muſt not be a double Leaſe in being at one time. 5. The Leaſe muſt not exceed 21 years or three lives. 6. The Leaſe muſt be of Lands and Tenements maynorable, out of which a Rent may be reſerved, Cook 5. Part, 3. Jewells Caſe. 7. It muſt be of Lands and Tenements which have uſually been let to Farm 20 years before the Leaſe made, Cook 6. Part, 37. the Dean and Chapter of Worceſters Caſe. 8. There muſt be reſerved to them and their Succeſſors ſo much yearly Rent, or more, as hath bin accuſtomably uſed to be paid for the ſaid Lands, Cook 5. Part, 6. 9. The Leaſe muſt not be made without impeachment of Waſte. Cook 6. Part, 37.

15. If a Biſhop make any Leaſe, grant any Rent-charge, enter into Warranty, or doth any other act which tendeth to the diminution of the Revenues, which ought to continue for the maintenance of his Succeſſor, the Succeſſor ſhall avoid ſuch Leaſe, Charge, Grant, or Warranty, &c. But if a Biſhop being Patron and Ordinary, do confirm a Leaſe made by the Parſon, without the Dean and Chapter, and afterwards the Parſon dyeth, and the Biſhop collateth another to the Benefice, and afterwards is depoſed, tranſlated, or dyeth: yet the confirmation of the Leaſe remains good, becauſe there the Revenues which are to maintain the Succeſſor, are not diminiſhed. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 301.

16. If a Parſon bring a Juris utrum for any thing concerning the Church, and the Defendant pleadeth in bar, the Warranty of his Predeceſſor, or Anceſtor; the Plaintiff ſhall not be barred by ſuch Warranty, 27 H. 6. garr. 48. for that the Parſon demandeth the thing in the right of his Church: and ſo it is if the Parſon bring an Aſſiſe, although that thereby he recover the Lands, and himſelf is to take the profits to his own uſe, yet becauſe after the Recovery he is ſeiſed of the Freehold, wherein the Aſſiſe was brought in the right of the Church, a Warranty of his Predeceſſor or Anceſtor pleaded in bar, ſhall not bar him: And ſo it is in Caſe of an Arch-Deacon, Prebend, Vicar, &c. they ſhall not be barred by any Warranty of their Predeceſſors or Anceſtors in any Action brought concerning their poſſeſſion. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 370. acc.

17. Note all Lands in Feeſimple may be charged with a Rent, or otherwiſe, when all they who have Intereſt in the Land, do joyn in the Grant of it, ſo it be made Concurrentibus bis, &c. And therefore if the Patron and Ordinary charge the Gleab in the time of Vacation, it ſhall bind the ſucceeding Parſon, becauſe no other hath Intereſt during the Vacation, but they only. Cook 1. Part, 147. in Meyowes Caſe.

18. A Prebend made a Leaſe for 70 years, the Biſhop and Dean and Chapter reciting the ſaid Leaſe, confirmed dimiſſionem prædict. in forma prædict. factam pro termino 51 years, et non ultra: And afterwards the Prebend made another Leaſe to begin after the determination of the firſt Leaſe. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the ſaid confirmation extended to the whole Term of 70 years, and that the words pro termino 51 years, came too late, but if he had confirmed the Land for 51 years, it had bin good, and then there had bin no repugnancy in the confirmation: And it was holden in that Caſe, That the Biſhop who was the Patron, and the Dean and Chapter, have ſuch an aſſent as is apparelled with an Intereſt; and therefore they may confirm a Leaſe or a Grant in part, or in all. And a Releaſe made to them in the time of Vacation, is good, 21 H. 7. and they may charge the Gleab in the time of the Vacation. 31 E. 3. Grants 9. Cook 5. Part, 81. Fords Caſe.

19. A man being Patron of a Benefice in the right of his Wife, granted proximam advocationem to another; after which grant, the Incumbent made a Leaſe of the Benefice for 60 years, reſerving rent to him and his Succeſſors under the value in the Kings Books. After the Patron, Grantor, and his Wife, together with the Ordinary, confirmed the Leaſe; and then the Incumbent was deprived, and the Grantee preſented his Clerk, who entred upon the Leſſee to avoid the Leaſe. It was holden in this Caſe, That his entry was lawfull, becauſe the Grant preceded the Leaſe. 3 Ma. Dyer, 133.

6. Where recitalls in the Caſe of a common perſon in their Grants, ſhall be materiall; and where not: where good without recitall, Where not: and where falſe recitall, or miſrecitall ſhall make them void; where not.

1. A Man was condemned in Debt by a Verdict which paſſed by Niſi Prius, he paid part of the money to the Plaintiff, who made an acquittance of the ſum received in theſe words, Received 10 l. in part of payment of a more ſum, wherein I am condemned before the Juſtices of Niſi Prius; whereas in truth the Judgment was in Banco. It was holden by the Court in that Caſe, That the ſame miſrecital of the Judgment was not good, to have him have any relief upon an Audita Querela, if Execution were ſued forth for the whole Debt: But it was there ſaid, That if I do releaſe all my right in White Acre, which I purchaſed of J. S. and I had it by Diſcent, ſuch Releaſe is good, becauſe White Acre is certainly named, and the reſt is Surpluſage. Mich. 33 H. 8. Dyer, 50.

2. A man by Indenture reciting a former Leaſe to be made, 6. Aug. 30 H. 8. Habendum from the Feaſt of St. Mich. then next following for 21 years, demiſed the ſaid Land to J. S. Habendum for 21 years, from the expiration of the former Leaſe: And in truth, the firſt Leaſe was miſrecited in the date, for it was 30 Aug. Iſſue was joyned, upon if demiſit modo et forma. The Jury found the ſpecial matter. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the modo et forma was not material, but only ſi demiſit; which being found, the Court held it a good Leaſe notwithſtanding the miſrecital. Trin. 3 Ma. Dyer, 116. Pas ſee Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 46. If the Husband recites a Leaſe which is not, or which is void, and miſrecites the ſame in a point material, Habendum from the expiration of a former Leaſe; in that Caſe the Leaſe ſhall begin from the time of the delivery. See 1 Ma. Dyer, 93.

3. A man of late having purchaſed a houſe in D. of T. C. not having any other houſe in D. but only that, made a Deed of Feoffment of it by theſe words; The Meſſuage late of R. C. in D. which was falſe. for there was never any R. C. that had poſſeſſion of it. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Feoffment was good, notwithſtanding the falſe naming of R. C. for T. C. For if the names of R. or T. had bin omitted, yet the grant by the words Meſſuagium cum pertinenciis in D. had bin good enough. Paſc. 23 Eliz. Dyer, 376.

4. In an Information upon Intruſion in the Exchequer. It was found, That A. held divers Meſſuages, &c. and by Deed Indented and Inrolled, bargained and ſold all the ſaid Meſſuages, &c. lying in the Pariſh of St. Andrews in the Tenure and occupation of J. S. for life, the Remainder to C. in Fee. And it was found that the Meſſuages lay in the Pariſh of St. Sepulchres, and that they were in the Tenure and occupation of J. S. It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That nothing paſſed by the ſaid Bargain and Sale, becauſe that the firſt certainty was falſe, ſcil. in the Pariſh of St. Andrew in Holborn was falſe; but if the firſt certainty had bin true, although that the ſecond certainty had bin falſe, the grant had bin good, notwithſtanding the ſaid miſrecital. Cook 3. Part, 10. Dowties Caſe.

5. The Queen by her Letters Patents granted to B. totam illam portionem decimand. &c. nuper in occupation. J. Corbet in L. and John Corbet had not any Tythes there. It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That nothing paſſed by this miſrecital, although it was in the Caſe of the Queen; and the Grant was ex ſpeciali gratia, certa ſcientia, & mero motu; à fortiori if ſuch a Grant be made, by a falſe recital, or a miſrecital of the perſon in the Caſe of a common perſon. Cook 4. Part, 35. in Bozouns Caſe.

6. If a Fieri facias comes to the Sheriff to levy monies of the goods of J. S. and the Sheriff by reciting that he hath a Term for years, which began 2 Ma. whereas in truth it began 3 Ma. ſelleth the ſame Term. It was Reſolved in that Caſe by the whole Court, That the ſale is void, becauſe there is not any ſuch Term, but if the Sheriff ſell alſo all the Intereſt which J. S. had in the Land, then the ſale is good. Cook 4. Part, 74. in Palmers Caſe. The Sheriff reciting that a man had a Term of a Perſonage for the Term of divers years then to come, ſold the ſame by force of a Fieri facias unto another. It was adjudged, That the ſale was good, for perhaps the Sheriff could not come to know the certainty of the beginning, or of the end of the Term. But if he take upon him to recite the Term, and miſrecite it, and ſelleth the Term, there the ſale is void. 26 Eliz. Sir George Sydnams Caſe. ibid.

7. A Biſhop made a Leaſe of a Manor to A. and B. for 60 years rendring Rent; Provided, That if the ſaid A. and B. dyed within the Term, that preſently after the deceaſe of the ſaid A. and B. and the longer liver of them, that it ſhould be lawful for the Biſhop and his Succeſſors to re-enter: A. dyed, B. ſurvives, the Biſhop dyed, the Succeſſor demiſed the Manor to C. Habendum cum poſt mortem ſurſumreddit. or forfeiture of the ſaid B. it ſhould be void, for 60 years, which was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter. It was Reſolved in this Caſe (amongſt other points), That the ſecond Leaſe veſted preſently in intereſt, and did not depend upon contingency to take effect in poſſeſſion: And therefore it was Reſolved in that Caſe, That if a man makes a Leaſe for years to begin after the ſurrender, determination, forfeiture, or end of a former Leaſe, the Leſſee hath not election to have the ſecond Leaſe upon ſurrender, forfeiture, or end, which he pleaſeth; but when any of them ſhall firſt happen, then the ſecond Leaſe ſhall begin in poſſeſſion. Cook 6. Part, the Biſhop of Bathe Caſe.

8. A Woman Leſſee for years of Lands, took a Husband, he in the Reverſion leaſed the Land for years to begin after the Term demiſed to the Husband (which was a recital); whereas in truth the ſaſt Term was demiſed to the Wife, and by Act of Law transferred to the Husband. Yet it was Reſolved in that Caſe, That the Lands was by the Woman to have the Leaſe, to have a good beginning. See Plow. Com. Wrottesly and Adams Caſe. 192. acc.

9. King E. 3. granted to William Earl of Saliſbury the Son, Omnes advocationes Eccleſiarum quæ pertinent. ad Prioratum de Mountagu, &c. quas nuper Conceſſimus to William the Earl of Saliſbury, Father of the aforeſaid William. And in truth the Advowſon of the Church of S. then in Queſtion was not granted to the Father, and notwithſtanding the ſame miſrecital, yet the grant there was holden to be good. 29 E. 3. 9. vouch. in Cook 10. Part, 110. in Legat's Caſe.

7. Where Grants made by common perſons; and of what, ſhall be void; where not, and for what cauſe they ſhall be ſaid void; what not.

1. KING E. 6. granted to the Biſhop of Coventry and his Succeſſors the Advowſon of the Church of D. and that after the death of the Incumbent, it ſhould be in propios uſus; the Biſhop by Indenture made a Leaſe to begin after the death of the Incumbent, which was confirmed, and the Incumbent dyed. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Leaſe was void, and that the ſame ſhould not take effect by eſtoppel, becauſe it appeared by the Indenture it ſelf, that the Leſſor had nothing at the time of the making of the Leaſe. 7 Eliz. Dyer, 244.

2. A man poſſeſſed of a Leaſe for 40 years, granted to B. as many of the years as ſhould be behind at the time of his death. 7 E. 6. br. Grants, 154. It was holden a void grant for the Incertainty. See 4 and 5 Ma. Dyer, 150. Cranmers Caſe, acc. But where the Caſe was, That one was poſſeſſed of a Leaſe for 90 years, and in conſideration of the marriage of his Son with the daughter of J. S. did demiſe the Land to his Son for 70 years, to begin after his death, and then the Leſſee dyed. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Leaſe was good, and the difference between this Caſe, and the Caſe of 7 E. 6. was, becauſe in this Caſe, he demiſed the Land Habendum after the death of the Leſſor for 70 years, in which there was ſufficient certainty, and no apparent certainty in the Deed; but in the Caſe of 7 E. 6. he granted ſo much of his Term which was behind at the time of his death, which was incertain in the grant it ſelf. Mich. 35 Eliz. Lacroſts Caſe. See Cook 2. Part, 155. the Rector of Cheddingtons Caſe. See before.

3. The Queen by her Letters Patents granted to Darcy the making of playing Cards, and the ſole Importation of all playing Cards into England for 21 years; and by the ſaid Letters Patent prohibited, That none ſhould buy, bring in, or ſell any playing Cards within the Realm during the ſaid Term. It was Reſolved, That the grant of ſole making of playing Cards within the Realm was void. 1. Becauſe it was a Monopoly againſt the benefit and Liberty of the Subject. 2. Becauſe the ſole Trade of any Mechanical Artifice is a prejudice to all the Subjects, and a grant made by the King himſelf in the grievance of his Subjects, is void. Co. 11. Part, the Caſe of Monopolies, 87. Darcyes Caſe.

4. A Right or Title which any man hath to any Lands or Tenements of Inheritance, cannot be barred by acceptance of any manner of collateral ſatisfaction, or recompence: As if A. diſſeiſe B. Tenant for life, or in Fee of the Manor of S. and after gives the Manor of D. to B. and his Heirs in full ſatisfaction of all his right in the Manor of S. though B. accept of it; yet may B. enter into the Manor of S. and recover it in any real Action, for the Right of Inheritance or Freehold which is ſuppoſed originally to begin by Livery, cannot be transferred or extinct without ſome Ceremony, as by re-entry upon the Diſſeiſor, and then by giving Livery, or that which doth amount to as much, viz. by releaſe or confirmation to him. Cook 4. Part, 11. in Vernons Caſe.

5. A. was ſeiſed of a Manor to which an Advowſon was appendant, and dyed, the Manor diſcended to E an Enfant, the Church became void, D. preſented during the Non-age of E. who at his full age enfeoffed F. of the Manor; and afterwards the Church became void again, and F. preſented, whereupon the Aſſignee of D. brought a Quare Impedit. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That by the Feoffment of E. when he had attained his full age, the Manor paſſed to the Feoffee, but not the Advowſon, becauſe by the uſurpation, the Enfant was out of poſſeſſion of the Advowſon, and he had but a right to it, the uſurpation being only voidable by Action, which could not be transferred to a ſtranger, and the Advowſon not being at all granted to F. he ſhall not gain it by an uſurpation. Cook 6. Part, 52. Boſwells Caſe.

6. The Biſhop of S. granted the Office of Surveyor of the Manor of S. to A. and B. for their lives, with the Fee of 6 l. 13 s. per annum, whereas the Office was formerly uſed to be granted to one. A. dyed, and alſo the Biſhop, the Fee was behind, hind: B. diſtreyned for it. It was holden, That the diſtreſs was not good, becauſe the Grant was void by an Act of 1 Eliz. not printed, which reſtreyned Biſhops and other Eccleſiaſtical perſons from making of unuſual Grants. And in that Caſe, it was holden, That although A. was dead, and B. alone had the Office when he diſtreyned; yet becauſe the Grant was void at the firſt, it was not to be made good by any ſubſequent Act that ſhould after happen to bind the Succeſſor. Cook 10. Part, 61. the Biſhop of Saliſbury's Caſe. See Cook 11. Part, 4. And for Carles Caſe, &c.

7. A grant was made by the Maſter and Fellows of Magdalen Colledg in Cambridg to Queen Eliz. which was void by the Statute of 13 Eliz. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That ſuch a grant was not made good by the Statute of 18 Eliz. for confirmation of Grants made to the Queen, becauſe that can by no means be made good which was void ab initio: And further it was in that Caſe holden, That the general words of the ſaid Statute of 18 Eliz. could not enable any perſon to make any Conveyance, who was diſabled to do it by the Common-Law: And therefore, if an Enfant had conveyed Land to the Queen by Deed enrolled, or had levyed a Fine to her of the Land before the ſaid Act; and then the ſaid Act had bin made, the Eſtate granted had not bin confirmed by the ſaid Act, becauſe the Enfant during his Minority was diſabled to make ſuch a Grant, and he might have reverſed the Fine by a Writ of Error, as it was adjudged. Mich. 33 Eliz. in B. R. in Vaughans Caſe. Cook 11. Part, 77. Magdalen Colledg Caſe.

8. Tenant for life, the Remainder in tail, the Remainder in Fee: Tenant for life bargains and ſells the Land to B. in Fee; who after 14 Eliz. ſuffered a Recovery, wherein Tenant for life was vouched, and he vouched over: and after Judgment was entred, and execution ſued upon the ſame Recovery. In that Caſe it was adjudged, That the entry of him in the Remainder in tail was lawfull; for although the Recovery was not immediately had againſt the Tenant for life; yet it was a forfeiture within the Statute of 32 H. 8. and then being once a forfeiture, it could not be afterwards ſalved, by entring of the Judgment, or ſuing forth Execution thereupon. Cook 1. Part, 15. Sir William Pelhams Caſe.

9. In Replevin, The Biſhop of C. ſeiſed of a Park in the right of his Biſhoprick, 44 Eliz. made a Grant of the keeping of the Park to J. S. for life, ut ulterius granted pro executione Officii prædict. five Marks, with clauſe of diſtreſs una cum a Livery, and 13 s. 4 d. necnon Paſturam pro duobus ejus. which was confirmed in the life time of the Biſhop by the Dean and Chapter: And the Defendant in his Avowry ſhewed, that the ſaid Park had bin antiently granted with the Fee of five Marks; and for the Arrerages of the Fee, the Defendant did avow the taking of the Cattel: The Plaintiff ſet forth the Statute of 1 Eliz. cap. 2f. and ſaid, That this Paſturage was a larger Fee then was ever granted before, upon which the Avowant did demur. The Queſtion was, if this new addition of the Paſturage to the Grant of the Office, made the Grant void. The Court was divided in Opinion, but the better Opinion ſeemed to be, That this Augmentation of Paſturage did not make the Grant void in all, but for the Augmentation only, and that it was ſeveral in ſpecie from the five Marks, And that this was out of the Statute of 1 Eliz. and the things are ſeveral, and may be ſeverally recovered as diſtinct things in their natures in the intent of the Grantor: And therefore that the Grant was void quoad the Paſturage, but not to make the grant of the Office with the Fee of 5 Marks void. Paſc. 1 Car. in C. B. The Biſhop of Chicheſter and Freelands Caſe. Lea 71, 72.

10. The Queen ſeiſed of the Mannor of Goſcoigne, and of the Grange called Goſcoigne-Grand in D. did grant all her Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments in D. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Mannor did not paſs: And Anderſon Chief Juſtice ſaid, So it is if it were in the Caſe of a common perſon: But he ſaid, That an Advoſon ſhall paſs by the Feeffment of the Mannor without Deed, without the words cum pertinentiis, for that is parcel of the Mannor which the whole Court agreed. Paſc. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Gilts and Newtons Caſe. Goolbolt. 136.

11. A. had Iſſue B. his Son, who had Iſſue C. A. was ſeiſed in Fee of divers Lands, aſwell by purchaſe, as by diſcent, in D. and S. in the Tenures of E. F. and G. A. dyed, B. his Son made a conveyance of divers Lands to C. being the Grandchild of A. in theſe words, Omnia mea Meſſuagia terras et tenementa in D. S. &c. modo in tenura E. F. & G. quæ pater meus A. perquiſivit from divers men; and alſo conveyed a houſe called the Hart, in the ſaid C. which came to him by Diſcent, which was in the occupation of one J. S. and not in the Tenures of E. F. G. the Queſtion was, Whether all the Lands which he had by diſcent in the ſaid Towns, in the Tenures of the ſaid E. F. and G. did paſs, or only the purchaſed Lands. It was Reſolved, That the Conveyance did paſs only the Lands which he had by purchaſe, except only the ſaid houſe called the Hart, which was preciſely named; and did not paſs the Lands which he had by diſcent. For they ſaid there were three ſeveral reſtrictions in this Caſe: 1. All his Lands in D. S. &c. 2. All his Lands in the Tenures of E. F. G. 3. All his Lands which he had by purchaſe; and the words in the Conveyance, all my Lands, are to be he intended: All my Lands within the ſaid Reſtrictions. And general words in a Grant may be overthrown by words reſtrictive. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. Clay and Barnet's Caſe. Godbolt, 236.

12. A man ſeiſed in Fee of the Mannor of D, and of a houſe called W. in D; and alſo of a Leaſe for years in D; did by Deed, grant bargain and ſell his Mannor of D, and all his Lands and Tenements in D, and did Covenant in the Indenture, That he was ſeiſed of the Premiſſes in Fee: It was a Queſtion, If by this grant of bargain and ſale, the Leaſe for years did paſſe? It was not Reſolved, the Court being divided in Opinion. Mich. 9 Jac. in B. R. Edwards and Deaton's Caſe. Godbolt, 183.

13. One who was impleaded in the King's Courts, viz. in the Kings-Bench, ſaid, That the King granted to the Burgeſſes of F, that they ſhould not be impleaded out of the Walls of the ſame Borough, but before the Mayor, &c. and of things within the Borough; and that he was Bayliff at the time. It was moved, That the Grant was void, if not granted by Parliament, becauſe it is the Subjects Inheritance to ſue by Original, and not in any other Court by Bill or Plaint, where the Defendant hath nothing, and that the ſame was not granted but for the eaſe of the Plaintiff; ſo that if the Grant ſhould not be void, yet he ſhould not be compelled to ſue there, but at his Will. On the other ſide it was ſaid, That the Grant was good, and that Conuſans might be granted out of the Court of the King; and an Exemption might be granted to a Jurour, &c. But it was the better Opinion of the Book, That the principal Caſe was not like to the Caſes of Exemption; for Exemption did not extend but to one; but this ſhould extend to all the Burgeſſes, or people within the Borough; and therefore the Grant was void, in regard of the ſpecial prejudice that the Subject might have thereby, 12 E. 4. 17. See Cook 11 Part, in the Caſe of Monopolies, acc. See 8 H. 6. 20. acc.

14. The Father ſeiſed of Land in Fee; he and his ſon and heir Leaſed Lands for years, to begin after the death of the Father, rendring Rent to the Son; the Father dyed, the Leſſee entred; the Rent was behind, and the Son diſtrained for it. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Reſervation was void: for although the ſon did prove heir, it bettered not the caſe, but the Reſervation muſt have been to the heir or heirs of the Leſſor by that name; for that is the only word of privity in Law requiſite in Reſervation of Rents. And a difference was taken in this caſe, where a Rent is reſerved upon a Leaſe of the Auncеſtor to the heir firſt; and where the Auncеſtor grants an Annuity, or makes a Warranty againſt his heirs, firſt omitting himſelf; all ſuch Grants are utterly void: for no man can charge his heir but as a part of himſelf, and therefore beginning with himſelf; and ſuch charges ſtand naked, and have nothing that was firſt in the Father, and comes from him to them whereunto they may cleave; as a Rent to the Reverſion, in the Caſes aforeſaid. Trinit. 12 Jac. in C. B. Oats and Frith's Caſe, Hobart, 130.

More Grants.

1. A Man poſſeſſed of divers Mannors, and of divers Lands, part in Leaſe for years with Rent reſerved, part Copyhold, for valuable conſideration granted, demiſed, bargained, and ſold the ſaid Mannors with all Rents reſerved upon any demiſe to have after the death of the bargainor for 17. years, rendring a Roſe to his Heir; the Deed was acknowledged to be enrolled: Afterwards, he covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed of the ſaid Manor to the uſe of himſelf and the heirs of his body, no Attornment was had; and afterwards the Bargainor dyed, his heir within age. It was Reſolved in this caſe, That the Leſſees had Election to take the ſame as a demiſe, or as a Bargain and Sale; for when a man for money grants, demiſes, bargains and ſells his Lands, the owner gives Election to the Leſſee, to take it by the one way or the other; for if the Law ſhould enforce the Leſſees to take by demiſe, then they ſhould loſe their Rents reſerved upon Leaſes for years; but if the Intereſt paſſeth by bargain and ſale, then there needs no Attornment, becauſe the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes, doth execute the poſſeſſion to the Uſes. 2. Reſolved, That this Election did remain, notwithſtanding the alteration by the ſecond Indenture, and notwithſtanding the death of the Leſſor; and that the King was entituled to Wardſhip, becauſe they had an Intereſt preſent in them, which they might aſſign over. Cook 2. Part, 35, 36. Sir Rowland Hayward's Caſe.

2. Errour was brought to reverſe a Recovery in a Writ of Entry in the Poſt; and the Errour aſſigned was, Becauſe the Writ of Entry was de uno annuali reddito, ſive penſione quatuor marcarum exeunt. de Eccleſia ſive Reſtoria; and a Penſion is properly demandable in the Spiritual Court, and a Rent is a thing demandable at the Common-Law; and every Præcipe ought to be of a thing certain. But it was Reſolved, That the Writ was good enough, for there was not any incertainty in it; for one of two things is not demanded, but one thing only: for the demand is of Rent, or Penſion of quatuor marks; ſo as there is but one 4. marks: And Reddit us and Penſio are all one; and the words exeunt. de Reſſoria, prove it to be a Rent: for if it were an Annuity, the Rectory ſhould not be charged with it; but the perſon of the Parſon in reſpect of the Rectory. Cook 5. Part, 40. Dormers Caſe.

3. Two Joynt Leſſees for life were; the Reverſion, or Remainder in Fee being in another perſon. He in the Reverſion grants his Reverſion, Habendum the aforeſaid Reverſion after the death, ſurrender, or forfeiture of Tenant for life: It happeneth, that the Leaſe determines for the life of the grantee, and remains to another for life. It was Reſolved, That this ſhould be a good grant of the Reverſion, to take effect in poſſeſſion after the death of the Tenant for life, and that it ſhall not be intended to paſſe a future Intereſt. Paſch. 1 Jac. in C. B. More and Dennis Caſe. Brown. 2. Part, 299. See 23 Eliz. Dyer, 327.

4. If a man grant a Rent in Manerio de D. percipiendum in 100. Acres of Lands parcel of the ſaid Mannor, with Clauſe of Diſtreſſe in the 100. Acres, the Rent ſhall iſſue only out of the 100. Acres, and the general words ſhall be conſtrued according to the ſpecial words; according to the Rule, Quando Charta continet generalem Clauſulam, poſteaq; diſcendit ad verba ſpecialia, quæ clauſulæ generali ſunt Conſentanea; Interpretanda eſt Charta ſecundum verba ſpecialia. Cook 8. Part, 154. in Althams Caſe.

5. If the Donee hold of the Donor by Fealty and certain Rent, and the Donor grant the Services to another; ſome have ſaid, That the Rent ſhall not paſſe, becauſe it cannot paſſe as a Rent ſervice, being granted by the name of Services, and the Fealty cannot paſſe, becauſe it is an Intereſt inſeparable to the Reverſion. But it ſeemeth the Rent ſhall paſſe as a Rent-ſeck, becauſe at the time of the grant it was a Rent-Service in the grantor; and therefore there being words ſufficient to paſſe it to the grantee, it is not of neceſſity, that it ſhall be a Rent-ſervice on the hands of the Grantee. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 150.

6. There is the King Lord Paramount, the Meſne who holds by Knights-Service in Capite, and Tenant paravail in Socage; the Meſne grants the Menalty to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of the Tenant paravail in tail: It was Reſolved in this caſe, That the Menalty is not ſuſpended during the life of the Meſne by force of that Remainder in tail: For a Remainder in tail, or for life expectant upon an Eſtate for life or tail, ſhall never ſuſpend a Menalty. Seignory, Rent, &c. becauſe although the Remainder veſts preſently, yet that cannot ſuſpend the future Freehold; tenement of the Rent during the life of the firſt Tenant for life, who is indeed true Tenant to the Lord, or to the Reverſioner, upon whom Avowry ſhall be made, &c. And as a Seignory, Rent, &c. cannot be ſuſpended in part, and in eſſe for part in reſpect of the Land out of which it is iſſuing; So neither can a Seignory, Rent, &c. be ſuſpended in Remainder, and yet in eſſe for a particular Eſtate in poſſeſſion: But if the Meſne grant his Menalty to one for life, or in tail, the Remainder to the Tenant paravail in Fee; the Menalty in that caſe is wholly extinct. Cook 9. Part, 134. Aſcough's Caſe.

7. In Treſpaſſe, the Defendant juſtified, becauſe it was the Freehold of J. S. and he entred by his command. The Plaintiff entitled himſelf, becauſe the place where was Cuſtomary Land parcel of the Mannor of D, whereof J. S. was ſeiſed in Fee, and demiſeable by Copy at Will in Fee, and that J. N. was thereof ſeiſed in Fee by Copy at the Will of the Lord, according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor, and dyed ſeiſed, ſo as it deſcended to two daughters as heirs of the ſaid J. N. And that at ſuch a Court Dominus Conceſſit eis tam manus ſuas, Habendum et tenend. Tenementa prædict. to the ſaid two daughters and their heirs, whereby they were ſeiſed in Fee, and demiſed the Land to the Plaintiff for years. It being found for the Plaintiff, It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That the Plaintiff had not made a good title; for none can entitle himſelf to Copyhold, but he ought to ſhew a grant thereof: and therefore he ſhewing ſuch a thing, that ſuch a one was ſeiſed in Fee, without ſhewing the grant thereof, it was not good. And of that Opinion was the whole Court: and that the pleading was not good. Paſch. 7 Car. in B.R. Shepheards Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 137.

8. Tenant in tail of an Advowſon, and his ſon and heir, joyned in a grant of the next Avoydance; Tenant in tail dyed: It was adjudged, That the Grant was utterly void againſt the ſon and heir that joyned in the Grant, becauſe he had nothing in the Advowſon, neither in poſſeſſion, or right, nor in actual poſſeſſion at the time of the grant. Mich. 10 Jac. in C. B. Sir Marmaduke Wivills Caſe, Hob. 45.

9. One granted a Rent out of Land to one and his heirs, without ſaying, pro ſe et hæredibus; and then the grantor dyed; the grantee brought a Writ of Annuity againſt the heir of the grantor, who appeared and imparled till the next Term; and then the Plaintiff diſcontinued his Suit, and diſtrained and made Avowry: and then the Plaintiff apart impleaded the Writ of Annuity in bar: Whereupon it was demurred. And it was adjudged for the grantee; for the perſon of the heir was not chargeable; chargeable; and therefore, the Court was of Opinion, That if they proceeded to Judgment in the Writ of Annuity, yet the Land had been ſtill chargeable with the Rent. Mich. 18 Eliz. Dyer, 344. But in that caſe, If the Writ of Annuity had been brought againſt the grantor himſelf, it would have bound for ever, and ſo it would have turned the Rent-Charge in fee-ſimple, into an Annuity only for the life of the grantor. See Hob. 58. acc.

10. Waſte was brought againſt A. and B. upon a Leaſe made J. S. by J. D. 34 H. 8. of the Manner of S. which had the general words, boſcis, ſubboſcis, boſcorum venditionibus, magno maremio, minerit Carbonum, in as ample manner, &c. as th. Leſſor vel habuit vel habere potuit, for the Term of 80. years, and conveyed the Reverſion to the Plaintiff, and the Leaſe to the Defendant; and then the Plaintiff aſſigned the Waſte in felling of Oaks. The Defendant pleaded, That he felled thoſe Oaks for the making of Puncheons, Roo's, and Roll-Scoops and other utenſils in and about the Coal-Mines, parcel of the Demiſe; and without which they could not digg nor get the Coals out of the Pits, and did beſtow the ſaid Trees accordingly. The Queſtion was, Whether by Implication of Law, by Leaſing the Coal-Mines, the Leſſor hath power to fell Trees for the uſe of the Coal-Mines? It was agreed in this caſe, That the grant of a thing did carry all things which were included, without which, the thing granted could not be had. But in this caſe, it was adjudged againſt the Defendants: For it was agreed, That this ſhall be taken for a Mine opened ſince the Leaſe, becauſe it ſhall be ſtrongeſt againſt the Defendants that plead it. Now if the Mines had not been granted by ſpecial words, it had been Waſte to open a Mine anew; for the Leſſee had not power to change the nature of the Land: A Leſſee may build a new houſe where none was before, but that muſt be every way at his own charge, for he muſt not take either Timber or other things Waſtable, though it be never ſo needful; and yet if he keepeth it not in repair, Waſte lyeth, though the Writ be in domibus diminſis. Now in this caſe, it were no Waſte to open a Mine, as it would have been, if the demiſe had not been of Mines by ſpecial name; yet it is like a houſe new built, for the maintenance of which the Leſſee can fell no Timber; and ſo much the worſe, as a new houſe betters the Inheritance: whereas the digging of Mines decayes the Inheritance; and therefore it is againſt reaſon to do one Waſte, to maintain another. Hill. 15 Jac. in C. B. The Lord Darcy and Aſtwicks Caſe. Hob, 234.

11. In a Quare Impedit, the Caſe was; A. was ſeiſed of the Prebend of N. in the Collegiate Church of St. Mary of S. to which the Advowſon of the Vicarage of S. was appendant: A. made a Leaſe of ſeveral parts of the Prebend, in the end of which Leaſe, were theſe words, cum omnibus Commoditatibus emolumentis, pertinentiis et advantagiis cum pertinent. eidem Prebend. ſpectant, ſive aliquo modo pertinent. The Queſtion was, Whether the Advowſon of the Vicarage did paſſe by this Leaſe? It was adjudged, That it did not paſſe, for all the words do imply things gainfull, which is contrary to the nature of an Advowſon; and the words in Grants ſhall not be conſtrued to a ſtrained and unuſual and unreaſonable Conſtruction: As an Appropriation will not paſſe by the name of an Advowſon; So where the King grants the Monks ſhall have all their poſſeſſions of the Abbey in the time of Vacation for their ſuſtinance, they ſhall not have an Advowſon, becauſe no ſuſtentation did ariſe from thence. Note in that Caſe, two Points Reſolved; 1. That the Advowſon of a Vicarage may be appendant to a Prebend. 2. That if an Advowſon be once appendant, it will not paſſe without ſpecial words of grant of it. Mich. 16 Jac. in C. B. rot. 1877. John London, and the Collegiate Church of St. Mary Southwell's Caſe, Hob. 303, 304.

11. Upon a Special Verdict in an Ejectione Firmæ, the Caſe was; A man being ſeiſed of a Manner, and of a Tenement in Feeſimple, and poſſeſſed alſo of a Leaſe for years in the Town of D. by Deed of Bargain and Sale, he doth give, grant, bargain, ſell, enfeoffe, and confirm unto another, the Mannors, Tenements, and all other the Lands and Tenements which he hath in the Town of D; The Queſtion was, Whether by this Deed of Grant, Bargain and Sale, the Term of years paſſed, or not? It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That by theſe general words of grant, bargain and ſell, the Leaſe for years did not paſſe. See 37 H. 8. Brooks Caſe, 67 pl. 301. If a man grant omnia Terras ac Tenementa ſua in D; by this a Leaſe for years doth not paſſe: otherwiſe, if he had granted omnes firmas ſuas. The Predeceſſor of the Biſhop of Ely had made a Leaſe of his Mannor houſe, of the Scite thereof, and of certain particular Cloſes and Demeans by particular name, and all other his Lands and Demeans. Upon this, a Queſtion was, Whether an Ancient Park, and Copyhold Land there ſhould paſſe. And it was the Opinion of the Court, That neither of them did paſſe by thoſe latter general words; for neither the Park, nor the Copyhold could be intended for the Demeans: and in ſuch caſes, a Grant ſhall not be conſtrued by any violent Con-ſtruction, but according to the Intention of the Law. Mich. 18 Eliz. The Lord North, and the Biſhop of Ely's Caſe. Trin. 8 Jac. in B. R. Sir William Turpine and Forreyners Caſe. Bulſt. 1 Part, 99, 100.

Habèas Corpus. See Lib. 1. Title, Corpus cum Cauſa.

Habere facias ſeiſinam; and, Habere facias poſſeſſionem.

Habere facias ſeiſinam, and Habere facias poſſeſſionem, are Writs Judicial, and lye where one hath recovered certain Lands in any of the Kings Courts, in Actions real, or poſſeſſorie; then he may have this Writ directed to the Sheriff, commanding him thereby to go to the Land, and there to give him Seiſin or poſſeſſion of the Lands recovered.

2. It was holden by the Juſtices, That if the Writ of Habere facias poſſeſſionem, doth contain more Acres of Lands then are contained in the Declaration, That it is Errour. And if the Sheriff doth give poſſeſſion of more Land then is contained in the Writ of Habere facias poſſeſſionem, an Action upon the Caſe will lye againſt the Sheriff, or an Aſſiſe will lye for the Lands. And in this Caſe, it was agreed, That if a Judgment given in the Kings-Bench, be affirmed in a Writ of Errour brought of it in the Exchequer-Chamber; yet they cannot grant out Execution there; but it muſt be ſued out in the Kings-Bench. Mich. 1650. in B. R. Lumley and Nevill's Caſe. Styles, 238.

3. In an Ejectione Firme, the Plaintiff recovered, and had Judgment: And a Writ of Habere facias poſſeſſionem to the Sheriff of C, who returned, That he offered the Plaintiff the poſſeſſion, and he refuſed it, and to accept of it. It was the Opinion of the Court, That in that caſe, the Plaintiff cannot have another Writ of Habere facias poſſeſſionem; forasmuch as it appears by the Record, that he hath refuſed to have the poſſeſſion. Paſch. 12 Jac. in C. B. Fetherſton's Caſe. Brownlow, 2. Part, 168.

4. A. had Judgment in an Ejectione Firme, and was put in poſſeſſion by a Writ of Habere facias poſſeſſionem, and after the Defendant entred again within two weeks after Execution, and the Writ was returned, but not filed. It was moved, That he might have another Writ of Execution. It was the Opinion of the Court, That he could not have a new Writ, but he was put to his new Action, and the filing of the Writ is not material; for it is in the Election of the Sheriff if he will file, or Return it or not. But it was ſaid, That if the Execution had not been fully made; as the Caſe late was, Where the Sheriff made Execution by an Habere facias poſſeſſionem of a houſe, and there were ſome perſons who hid themſelves in the upper Lofts of the houſe, and after the Sheriff was gone, they came down, and ouſted thoſe that the Sheriff had put in poſſeſſion before; in that caſe, a new Writ of Execution was awarded, becauſe there a full execution was not made. Hill. 7 Jac. in B. R. Styles Caſe. Brownlow, 2. Part, 216.

5. Tenant in tail had Iſſue two ſons, the eldeſt had Iſſue a daughter, and dyed, his Wife with Child in the life of his Father; Tenant in tail ſuffered a Recovery to the uſe of himſelf for life, and afterwards to the uſe of J. S. for years, and after to the uſe of the heirs males of his body begotten, and the heirs males of ſuch heirs males; and preſently after the Judgment, an Habere facias ſeiſinam was awarded; and before Execution executed the ſame day in which the Recovery was ſuffered, Tenant in tail dyed, and afterwards the Recovery was executed. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices in this caſe, 1. That Execution might be ſued againſt the Iſſue in tail, becauſe that the right right of the tail was bound by the Judgment had againſt the Tenant in tail. 2. That the Reverſion was not executed preſently in the Recovery by the Judgment, untill the Execution was ſued forth. Cook 1. Part, 93. Shellys Caſe.

6. Note. It was Reſolved, That when a houſe is recovered by real Action, or by Ejectione Firmæ, that the Sheriff in ſuch caſe may break the houſe, to deliver poſſeſſion to the Demandant or Plaintiff; for the words of the Writ are, Habere facias ſeiſinam, or poſſeſſionem; and after Judgment, it is not the houſe, in right and Judgment of Law, of the Defendant or Tenant. Cook 5. Part, 90. Semaynes Caſe.

7. If a Writ of Habere facias ſeiſinam be directed to the Sheriff, the Sheriff cannot retorn upon it, that another is Tenant of the Land by right; for that cannot come in Iſſue betwixt the Demandant and him: but he muſt execute the Writ, and leave the right to be determined by the Law. Cook 6. Part, 52. in Boſwell's Caſe.

8. Errour was brought in the Kings-Bench, of a Judgment in Ireland, in an Ejectione Firmæ, of a Leaſe made by the Earl of Thomond there, of 40. Meſſuages, 500. Acres of Land, 20 Acres of Paſture, 500 Acres of Bogg, 100 Acres of Heath, in villis et territoriis de A. B. et C: And the Plaintiff declared accordingly. Exception here was taken to the Declaration, becauſe it was of 100 Acres of Bogg: for that there is not any ſuch word as Bogg known. It was ſaid, It was an uſual word there, and well known; and if it were not, then the Plaintiff might releaſe his demand as to that Land, and have his Judgment for the Reſidue. Another Exception was, becauſe it was in villis et territoriis, but that was holden good enough, for that they have but one ſenſe. And Judgment being given, Quod recuperet: It was moved, How Execution ſhould be? and how Habere facias poſſeſſionem ſhould be awarded? To which it was anſwered and Reſolved, That there ſhould be a Writ awarded to the Chief Juſtice of Ireland, to reverſe that Judgment, commanding them to award Execution. Mich. 13 Car. in B. R. Mulcary and Eyres Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 368.

Habendum. See Lib. 1. title Deeds; Diviſion 3.

More Habendum.

1. IF a man give Lands to two, Habendum to them; ſcil. the one moyty to the one, and the other moyty to the other, it is good; and the Habendum good, and the Eſtate granted good. See Litt. 66. Hob. 172. acc.

2. If a grant be made to the King of the Mannor of Dale; or by the King Habendum to him cum Sale, the Habendum is void: And ſo likewiſe is the Grant. Cook 1. Part, in Shelley's Caſe. Hob. 231. in Nettler and the Biſhop of Wincheſter's Caſe, acc.

3. In an Ejectione Firmæ, upon a Special Verdict, it was found, That the Lord Sturton was ſeiſed in Fee; and 24. Maii, 28 H. 8. by quoddam ſcriptum ſuum Indentatum, ſigillo ſuo ſigillat. demiſit certain Lands to T. H. Habendum eidem T. H. et N. H. ac quibuſdam J. H. et H. H. filiis præfat. T. H. pro termino vitæ eorum, et alterius eorum ſucceſſive viventis. The Lord Sturton granted the Reverſion to J. S. and his heirs, who ceviſed the ſame to J. D. and his heirs: T. H. and H. H. dyed; N. H. and J. H. ſurvived: J. S. entred, and made the Leaſe to W. the Plaintiff; and N. H. entred. In this Caſe, Judgment was given for the Plaintiff; for that none could take by the Deed immediately but T. H, becauſe he was only party to the Deed, and the reſt not named but by the Habendum, and then they cannot take by way of Remainder, which cannot be joynt, becauſe of the word, ſucceſſivè; and in ſucceſſion, they cannot take for the uncertainty who ſhall begin, and who ſhall follow. Trin. 27 Eliz. in C. B. Windſmore and Hobart's Caſe. Hob. 313. See Godbolt, 51. the ſame Caſe.

4. A. was poſſeſſed of a Leaſe for 1000 years, and granted all his Term, Eſtate, and Intereſt therein to H, his daughter, Habendum to the ſaid A. and his Wife for their lives; and after their deceaſe, to the ſaid H: and if ſhe hath heir of her body, then to her Executors and Aſſigns. Provided, That ſhe ſhall pay to D. her ſiſter, after the death of A. and his Wife, 100. l. per annum during ring her life: Provided, That if H. dye unmarried, having no Iſſue of her body lawfully begotten; then D. ſhould have the Term. It was adjudged, That the Grant in this caſe was good, and the Habendum to the grantor and his wife after the death of H. was void, becauſe it was repugnant to the grant. Paſch. 5 Car. B. R. Goſhawke and Chiggell's Caſe. See before, in title, Grants. Cro. 1. Part, 110.

5. See Hil. 10 Car. in the Exchequer-Chamber. Miller and Manwaring's Caſe. Cro 1. Part, 289, 290. in Lib. 1. Title, Deeds. Diviſ. 7. Sect. 4. to this Diviſion.

6. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, demiſed the ſame to one, and B. his ſon, and to the heirs of B. Habendum for 99. years, and ſo from 99. years, to 99 years, untill 300 years were paſſed. The Queſtion was, foraſmuch as the Fee-ſimple was expreſſed in the premiſſes of the Deed, if the Limitation in the Habendum was repugnant? It was Reſolved, It was not; And there theſe differences were agreed: When things takes their eſſence and effect by delivery of the Deed, without any other ceremony, there ſuch a limitation to one and his heirs, Habendum for life, or years, is void: But when to an Eſtate limited in the premiſſes of the Deed, a ceremony is requiſite to the perfection of it, and to the Eſtate limited by the Habendum, nothing is requiſite, but only the delivery of the Deed, there although the Habendum be of a leſſer Eſtate then is limited by the premiſſes, yet the Habendum ſhall ſtand: and therefore in that caſe, viz. the principal Caſe, It was holden to be a good Leaſe. See Cook 2. Part, 23. Baldwin's Caſe.

7. A man gave Land to J. S. in the premiſſes of the Deed; Habendum to him and 3. others for their lives et eorum diutius viventium ſucceſſive: It was Reſolved in that caſe, That J. S. had but an Eſtate for his own life, for that he cannot have an Eſtate for his own life, and for anothers life, where the intereſt of both began at one inſtant, and the Habendum by no means can make a Remainder: And it was holden, That they in the Remainder took no thing, for that they were not named in the premiſſes of the Deed. Paſch. 27 Eliz. in C.B. Owen, 38, 39.

8. A. was ſeiſed of a Rectory, and Leaſed a Barn and Tythe parcel of the ſaid Rectory to B. his Wife, and ſon, Habendum to B. for his life, the Remainder to the Wife for the Term of her life, the remainder to the ſon for life: B. Covenanted to render to the Vicar of L. and his Succeſſor, 4. Quarters of Wheat; which not being paid, the Vicar Libelled for them in the Spirituall Court againſt D. only. In this caſe, it was Objected, That he ſhould have Libelled there againſt them all; viz. B, his Wife, and the ſon, for that they were joynt Farmers of the Tythes in poſſeſſion, and not againſt B. only, for that the Habendum had not ſevered their Eſtates which were joynt before. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Habendum had ſevered the joynt Eſtates limited by the premiſſes, and had diſtinguiſhed it into Remainders, But the Court agreed, That if the Habendum had been ſucceſſive, the Eſtate had remained joynt. Trin. 26 Eliz. in C.B. Sutton and Dowſes Caſe. Leon. 10.

9. A man ſeiſed of Lands, made his Will in manner; viz. I bequeath to my Wife Black Acre for her life, the Remainder to my ſon T. in tail: Item, I Will to my ſon T. all my Lands in D; alſo my Lands in S; and alſo my Lands in V: alſo I give to the ſaid T. my ſon, all my Iſland, or Land incloſed with water, which I purchaſed of J. S; To have and to hold all the ſaid laſt before deviſed premiſſes to the ſaid T. my ſon, and the heirs of his body; The Queſtion was, If the Habendum ſhould extend to the Iſland only, in which caſe T. ſhall have but for life the Lands in D. S. and V? or unto the Iſland, and alſo the Lands in D. S. and V? It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That the laſt thing deviſed by the Will, was an Iſland, in the ſingular number, which cannot ſatisfie the Habendum, which is in the plural Number: and therefore to verifie the plural number, the Habendum by fit conſtruction ſhall extend to all the Lands in D. S. and V; and that the Habendum ſhould not ſtraiten the Deviſe only to the Iſland. Trin. 28 Eliz. C. B. Wiſeman and Wiſeman's Caſe, Leon. 57.

10. In Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was; A. ſeiſed of Lands, made a Leaſe to B. C. and D. Habendum to them for their lives, and for the life of the ſurvivor of them. Provided, and it was Covenanted betwixt the parties, That the ſa'd C. and D. ſhould not take any benefit or commodity of the Land during the life of B. And further, That the ſaid D. ſhould not take any benefit during the life of C. &c. B. dyed, C. entred, afterwards D. entred, and made the Leaſe to the Plaintiff; and if the entry of B. was lawfull, it was the Queſtion. It was agreed in this Caſe, That the Office of an Habendum is to limit and explain the eſtate in the premiſes: And in this Caſe, the Habendum hath done its Office, and made it a joynt eſtate; and therefore the ſubſequent clauſe comes too late, and is repugnant and utterly void: And in this Caſe, it is not that any ſhall take in Remainder, but that any of them ſhall not take the profits during the life of the other. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 31 Eliz. in B.R. Stowel and Cavell's Caſe, Leon. 317.

Herit.

Herriot.

1. IN Treſpaſs for taking of an Ox, the Defendant juſtified the taking of it, and alledged the Cuſtome of the Mannor to be, That the Lord was to have the beſt Beaſt of every Tenant who dyed ſeiſed of any Meſſuage holden of the ſaid Mannor after the death of ſuch Tenant: and further alledged the Cuſtome of the ſaid Mannor to be, That if the Beaſt was eſloyned before the Lord or his ſervant could ſeize it, that then the Lord had uſed to take the Beaſt of any other Levant and Couchant upon the ſame Land; and ſaid, that the Tenant dyed ſeiſed, and that before the Lord could ſeize the Herriot, it was eſloyned off the Land; wherefore he juſtified the taking of the Plaintiffs Ox, being Levant and Couchant upon the Land, but did not ſay, That he ſeiſed it nomine Herrioti: It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the Cuſtome was not good in that Caſe, neither for the matter, nor the form as it was laid; for it was ſaid to be an unreaſonable Cuſtome. Paſc. 3 Eliz. Dyer, 199. And ſee Sir John Davis Reports, in the Caſe of Taveſtry. That ſuch a Cuſtome to take the Cattel of a ſtranger, Levant, or Couchant, for a Herriot is a void Cuſtome. See Hill. 17 Car. in B. R. in Thurt and Tylers Caſe, Maſſ. 165. It was the Opinion of Brampton Chief Juſtice, That a Cuſtome that the Lord may diſtreyn the Cattle of a ſtranger, which are Levant upon the Land; for a Herriot is a good Cuſtome, becauſe the diſtreſs is only as a pledg and means to gain the Herriot.

2. In Treſpaſs for taking of an Ox in Dale in Black Acre: upon the new aſſignment, the Defendant juſtified the taking there for Herriot-Service. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the Lord might ſeize for Herriot-ſervice, and that when the Lord had once ſeiſed, that it is a ſufficient ſeiſin by the hands of his Tenant. M. 40 Eliz. in C. B. Goldsbr. 189.

3. In the County of Lancaſter, there is a Cuſtome there, upon the death of every Tenant at Will, to pay a Herriot, and ſuch a Cuſtome was adjudged a good Cuſtome, and ſo it was alledged to be, to pay a Herriot upon the death of a Tenant for years. See Hill. 11 Jac. in B. R. in Hix and Gardiners Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 196.

4. A man held a houſe, and a half yard Land of Meadow Paſture of the Lord by Fealty ſuit of Court, and a Herriot to be paid upon the death of every Tenant thereof dying ſeiſed: the Lord purchaſed parcel of the Land; and afterwards the Tenant enfeoffed J. S. of another part of it. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That by the purchaſe of parcel of the Land by the Lord, the Herriot-Service was extinct. But there it was Reſolved, That if the Cuſtome of a Mannor be, That upon the death of every Tenant of the Mannor who dyeth ſeiſed of Lands holden of the Mannor, that the Lord ſhall have a Herriot there, although the Lord purchaſeth parcel of the Tenancy, yet the Lord ſhall have a Herriot by the Cuſtome. Cook 8. Part, 105. Talbots Caſe.

5. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee holden of T. L. as of his Mannor of H. by Fealty rent, and rendring the beſt Beaſt after the death of every Tenant in Feeſimple by Deed, in conſideration of paternal love to his Son and Heir apparent; and in conſideration of a Marriage betwixt his Son and B. and for the advancement of his Son, did enfeoff his Son and Heir apparent of the Land. Afterwards the Son, to the intent that B. ſhould not be endowed of the ſaid Lands during the life of the Father, redemiſed the Lands to the Father for 40 years, if he ſhould ſo long live; and afterwards the Marriage took effect: the Son did ſuit at the Court of the Lord, and after the Feoffment, the Father paid the Rent to the Lord; and afterwards the Father dyed, and the Lord took a beaſt for a Herriot after the death of the Father; and the Jury found the Statute of 13 Eliz. of Fraudulent Conveyances. In this Caſe, amongſt other points, it was Reſolved, That if the Son had dyed in the life of the Father, that upon his death the Lord ſhould have had a Herriot. And 2. Becauſe the Jury have not found any fraud, the Court ſhall not adjudg the ſaid Feoffment by the Father to the Son to be fraudulent. Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. Tyrer and Littletons Caſe, vouched in the Chancellor of Oxfords Caſe. Cook 10. Part, 55, 56.

6. In a Replevin, the Defendant made Conuſans as Bayliff of J. S. and ſhewed, that the ſaid J. S. was ſeiſed of the Mannor of D. and that one B. was ſeiſed of a Tenement holden of the ſaid Mannor by Rent, and Herriot-Service payable after the death of the Tenant, and that B. dyed poſſeſſed de animalibus et cattallis, and becauſe the Herriot was not paid, he by the command of J. S. diſtreyned. Exception was taken to the Avowry, becauſe he did not ſhew what was the beſt Beaſt, nor the kind thereof, nor the price of it, nor can the Plaintiff know what to offer to have his Cattel again. But it was Reſolved by the Court, That the Avowry was good, for perhaps he doth not know what was the beſt Beaſt, and the Plaintiff having eſloyned it at his perill, ought to tender ſufficient recompence; and ſo it was ſaid it was adjudged. Trin.

38 Eliz. in Dicker and Higgons Case. Hill. 5 Car. in B. R. Mayor and Brandwoods Case. Cro. 1. Part, 189.

7. In a Replevin, the Defendant made Avowry for the Herriot-Service, the Plaintiff pleaded in bar, That the Tenant at the time of his death nulla habuit animalia, upon which the Defendant did demur. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff, because the Avowry was insufficient, for that it did not set down in certain what the Herriot should be, scil. Beast, or other thing Mich. 14 Jac. in C. B. Shaw and Taylor's Case. Hob. 176. See Hutton 4. the same Case.

8. In a Replevin for taking a Colt, and a Cow, the Defendant as Servant avowed the taking of them nomine Heriotorum; and shewed, That J. S. was Lord of the Mannor, and the Father of the Plaintiff was a Free Tenant, and held several parcells of Land of the Lord by Fealty and Herriot, and set forth the Custome of the Mannor to be, That the Lord of the Mannor for the time being, used to have a Herriot for each parcel of Land thus held, and that the Father dyed seised of several parcells of Land, and that by his death, a Herriot was due to the Lord, in whose right he did take the Colt and Cow, nomine Heriotorum. Divers exceptions were taken to the Avowry, because it being for several Services, he doth not shew in particular what he took for one, and what for the other; and also he doth not shew of what estate he dyed seised; for in one Case, a Herriot Custome may be due, and in another it may be a Herriot-Service. But it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Avowry was good, for that it is sufficient to say generally, That of every Tenant dying Dominus Manerii is to have a Herriot. See Fitz. Title Avowry. 177. Trin. 8 Jac. in B. R. Sylliards Case. Bolstr. 1. Part, 101.

9. In Trover and Conversion, the Case was, The Bishop of Gloucester was seised of the Mannor of D. and let 20 Acres thereof to A. and B. during the lives of three of their Children, rendring 27 s. rent per annum, and also paying and delivering to the Bishop and his Successors, two of the best Beasts upon the death of every one of the Cestuy que vies: and afterwards, the Bishop let all the Mannor to J. S. rendring the auncient Rent, and after one of the Cestuy que vies dyed. It was Resolved in this Case. 1. That when the Bishop let parcel, as 20 Acres for life, and after he lets the Mannor to another rendring Rent: that in this Case, the Rent issues out of the intire Mannor. 2. They held that the Herriot reserved should go with the Reversion: And if this do not go with the Reversion of the Mannor to the Lessee, yet the Plaintiff should not have the Herriot. And if the Herriot did appertain to the Bishop, Plaintiff; yet he should not have Trover and Conversion for it, because the Defendant had the first possession of it. Mich. 20 Jac. in C. B. The Bishop of Gloucester and Woods Case. Winch. 57.

Heir and Heirs.

1. The force of the word Heirs; and how it shall be expounded, in Deeds, Grants, and Wills. And where a Fee-simple will passe without the word (Heirs); and where it will not passe, although it hath the word (Heirs) in the Deed.

1. THE word [Heir] is sometimes taken absolutely, or simpliciter; sometimes secundum quid, or by Accident; sometimes in abstracto standing naked by it self, sometimes in concreto, cloathed with Land, or Rent, in respect of which, he may be Heir who is not right Heir. As for example, The younger brother in Borough-English is Heir, and all the Sons in Gavelkind, whereof the reason is, because the Custome is, and so must be pleaded, that they must discend to the younger Son, or all the Sons. So they are Heirs secundum quid of those Lands in point of discent, or when they discend, for then they are within the Custome that gives the Inheritance. But make the limitation even of Land of that nature to Heirs not in point of discent, and it will be otherwise. And therefore if I give Land in Gavelkind, or Borough English to one for life, the Remainder to the right Heirs of J. S. the true Heirs shall take it, for it is out of the Custome, and so must run to the Heir at the Common Law. See 10 Jac. in C. B. in Camden and Clarks Case. Hob. 31.

2. Haeres est alter ipse et filius est pars Patris, and it is said, Mortuus est Pater, et quasi non mortuus, quia reliquit similem sibi filium. Coke 3. Part, 12. in Sir William Herberts Case.

3. A gift made to one and his Heir in the singular number, is but an estate for life; and so is it of a gift to one, Habendum to him and his Heirs, he hath but an estate for life, for the reason of the incertainty. So it is of a gift to two et haeredibus, without saying suis, is a good estate in Fee. Coke 1. Part, Institutes, 8.

4. A. seised of Lands in Fee, devised the Land to the Father for his life, the Remainder to the next Heir Male of the Father, the Father having Issue a Son at the time. It was Resolved, That the the Remainder limitted to the right Heir of the Father, was good, although he could not have right Heir during his life. Cook 1. Part, Archers Case.

5. Note, there is a difference, where a Reservation is to an Abbot in the disjunctive to him in the disjunctive: As where a Lease is made for years by an Abbot and Covent, rendring Rent to the Abbot and Covent, or his Successors; and where a Feoffment is made to one or his Heirs in the disjunctive, in the first Case; his Successors shall have the Rent; but in the other Case of Feoffment, the Heir shall not have the Fee, but an estate shall passe only for life: And so it is where a Reservation is to one or his Heirs, the Reservation is void as to the Heirs. See Cook 5. Part, in Mallories Case. And Plow. Com. 248. in Chapmans Case.

6. If Land be given by Deed to two, to have and to hold, to them et hæredibus. It is void for the insensibility and incertainty; and although he add a clause of Warranty to them and their Heirs, the same will not make the first words which are incertain to be of force and effect in Law, although his intent appeareth, but his intent ought to be declared by words certain and consonant to the Law. But if a man deviseth Lands to one for ever, there he hath a Feesimple, and his Heir shall take, although he be not certainly mentioned Heir, for that such an estate might be conveyed by act executed. But if he further Devise, That if the Devisee do not such an Act, that another shall have the Land to him and his Heirs, the same is void, for that such a limitation, if it were by Act executed, were void. Cook 1. Part, 85, and 86. in Corbets Case.

7. See Littleton, where he saith, That a man by a Feoffment or grant, shall not have a Feesimple without the word Heirs: yet the Law is clear, That if a man before the Statute of 27 H. 8. had bargained and sold his Land for money without the word (Heirs) the Bargainee hath a Feesimple, the reason is, because by the Common Law, nothing passeth from the Bargainor, but an use, which is guided by the intent of the parties, which was to convey the Land wholly to the Bargainee, and forasmuch as the Law intends, That the Bargainee dash pay the very value of the Land, therefore in equity, and according to the meaning of the parties, the Bargainee had the Feesimple without the word Heirs. See 27 H. 8. 5. Cook 1. Part, 100. in Shelleyes Case.
